12 And they ſaid, It is falſe, tell us now. And he ſaid, Thus and thus ſpake he to me, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, I have anointed thee king over Iſrael.

13 Then they haſted, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the ſtairs, and blew with trumpets, ſaying, Jehu is king.

14 So Jehu the ſon of Jehoſhaphat, the ſon of Nimſhi, conſpired againſt Joram: Now Joram had kept Ramoth-gilead, he and all Iſrael, becauſe of Hazael king of Syria:

15 But king Joram was returned to be healed in Jezreel, of the wounds which the Syrians had given him, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria. And Jehu ſaid, if it be your minds, then let none go forth, nor eſcape out of the city, to go to tell it in Jezreel.

16 So Jehu rode in a chariot, and went to Jezreel (for Joram lay there) and Ahaziah king of Judah was come down to ſee Joram.

17 And there ſtood a watchman on the tower in Jezreel, and he ſpied the company of Jehu as he came, and ſaid, I ſee a company. And Joram ſaid, Take an horſeman, and ſend to meet them, and let him ſay, Is it peace?

18 So there went one on horſeback to meet him, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the king, Is it peace? And Jehu ſaid, What haſt thou to do with peace? turn thee behind me. And the watchman told, ſaying, The meſſenger came to them, but he cometh not again.

19 Then he ſent out a ſecond on horſeback, which came to them, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the king, Is it peace? And Jehu anſwered, What haſt thou to do with peace? turn thee behind me.

20 And the watchman told, ſaying, He came even unto them, and cometh not again: and the driving is like the driving of Jehu the ſon of Nimſhi; for he driveth furiouſly.

CHAP. VIII.] 1 A famine ſhall come upon the land ſeven years.] Hence we ſee that the wonderful deliverance had no effect upon the lives of the people; they continued deaf to all the prophet's admonitions, and ſhut their eyes againſt his miracles; and therefore God puniſhed them with a more grievous famine than that which happened in the days of Ahab, which continued only three years.

26 Athaliah daughter of Omri.] Athaliah was the daughter of Ahab, but brought up and educated by Omri her grandfather, and thence called his daughter.

CHAP IX.] 1 And Eliſha the prophet called one of the children of the prophets.] Elijah was commanded to anoint Jehu; but by Ahab's repentance, God deferred the judgment pronounced upon him and his family, ſo that the execution of it was left to Eliſha.

17 And there ſtood a watchman on the tower of Jezreel.] It was cuſtomary, both in peace and war, to place watchmen on high and eminent places wherever the king was, to prevent his being ſurprized: and it is natural to think that Joram would keep a watchful eye upon every company that appeared, eſpecially as coming from the quarter of Ramoth-gilead, where his army lay to watch the Syrians.

21 And Joram said, Make ready. And his chariot was made ready. And Joram king of Israel, and Ahaziah king of Judah went out, each in his chariot, and they went out against Jehu, and met him in the portion of Naboth the Jezreelite.

22 And it came to pass when Joram saw Jehu, that he said, Is it peace, Jehu? And he answered, What peace, so long as the whoredoms of thy mother Jezebel, and her witchcrafts are so many?

23 And Joram turned his hands, and fled, and said to Ahaziah, There is treachery, O Ahaziah.

24 And Jehu drew a bow with his full strength, and smote Jehoram between his arms, and the arrow went out at his heart, and he sunk down in his chariot.

25 Then said Jehu to Bidkar his captain, Take up, and cast him in the portion of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite: for remember, how that when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the Lord laid this burden upon him.

26 Surely, I have seen yesterday the blood of Naboth, and the blood of his sons, saith the Lord, and I will requite thee in this plat, saith the Lord. Now therefore take and cast him into the plat of ground, according to the word of the Lord.

27 ¶ But when Ahaziah the king of Judah saw this, he fled by the way of the garden-house: and Jehu followed after him, and said, Smite him also in the chariot: And they did so, at the going up to Gur, which is by Ibleam: and he fled to Megiddo, and died there.

28 And his servants carried him in a chariot to Jerusalem, and buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in the city of David.

29 And in the eleventh year of Joram the son of Ahab, began Ahaziah to reign over Judah.

30 ¶ And when Jehu was come to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it, and she painted her face, and tired her head, and looked out at a window.

31 And as Jehu entered in at the gate, she said, Had Zimri peace, who slew his master?

32 And he lifted up his face to the window, and said, Who is on my side, who? And there looked out to him two or three eunuchs.

33 And he said, Throw her down, So they threw her down; and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses: and he trode her under foot.

34 And when he was come in, he did eat and drink, and said, Oh! see now this cursed woman, and bury her: for she is a king's daughter.

35 And they went to bury her, but they found no more of her the skull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came again, and told him: and he said, This is the word of the Lord, which he spake by his servant Elijah the Tishbite, saying, In the portion of Jezreel shall dogs eat the flesh of Jezebel:

37 And the carcase of Jezebel shall be as dung upon the face of the field, in the portion of Jezreel, so that they shall not say, This is Jezebel.

CHAP. X.

AND Ahab had seventy sons in Samaria: and Jehu wrote letters, and sent to Samaria, unto the rulers of Jezreel, to the elders, and to them that brought up Ahab's children, saying,

2 Now as soon as this letter cometh to you, seeing your master's sons are with you, and there are with you chariots and horses, a fenced city also, and armour:

3 Look even out the best and meetest of your master's sons, and set him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's house.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and said, Behold, two kings stood not before him: how then shall we stand?

5 And he that was over the house, and he that was over the city, the elders also, and the bringers up of the children, sent to Jehu, saying, We are thy servants, and will do all that thou shalt bid us; we will not make any king: do thou that which is good in thine eyes.

6 Then he wrote a letter the second time to them, saying, If ye be mine, and if ye will hearken unto my voice, take ye the the heads of the men your master's sons, and come to me to Jezreel by to-morrow this time; (now the king's sons being seventy persons, were with the great men of the city, which brought them up)

7 And it came to pass when the letter came to them, that they took the king's sons, and slew seventy persons, and put their heads in baskets, and sent him them to Jezreel.

8 ¶ And there came a messenger, and told him, saying, They have brought the heads of the king's sons. And he said, Lay ye them in two heaps at the entering in of the gate, until the morning.

9 And it came to pass in the morning, that he went out, and stood, and said to all the people, Ye be righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him: but who slew all these?

10 Know now, that there shall fall unto the earth nothing of the word of the Lord, which the Lord spake concerning the house of Ahab: for the Lord hath done that which he spake by his servant Elijah.

11 So Jehu slew all that remained of the house of Ahab in Jezreel, and all his great men, and his kinsfolks, and his priests, until he left him none remaining.

12 ¶ And he arose and departed, and came to Samaria. And as he was at the shearing-house in the way,

13 Jehu met with the brethren of Ahaziah king of Judah and said, Who are ye? And they answered, We are the brethren of Ahaziah, and we go down to salute the children of the king, and the children of the queen.

14 And he said, Take them alive. And they took them alive, and slew them at the pit of the shearing-house, even two and forty men; neither left he any of them.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he lighted on Jehonadab the son of Rechab, coming to meet him, and he saluted him, and said to him, Is thine heart right, as my heart is with thy heart? and Jehonadab answered, It is. If it be, give me thine hand: And he gave him his hand, and he took him up to him into the chariot.

16 And he said, Come with me, and see my zeal for the Lord. So they made him ride in his chariot.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slew all that remained unto Ahab in Samaria, till he had destroyed him, according to the saying of the Lord, which he spake to Elijah.

18 ¶ And Jehu gathered all the people together, and said unto them, Ahab served Baal a little, but Jehu shall serve him much.

19 Now therefore call unto me all the prophets of Baal, all his servants, and all his priests, let none be wanting: for I have a great sacrifice to do to Baal; whosoever shall be wanting, he shall not live. But Jehu did it in subtilty, to the intent that he might destroy the worshippers of Baal.

20 And Jehu said, Proclaim a solemn assembly for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 And Jehu sent through all Israel, and all the worshippers of Baal came, so that there was not a man left that came not: and they came into the house of Baal; and the house of Baal was full from one end to another.

22 And he said unto him that was over the vestry, Bring forth vestments for all the worshippers of Baal. And he brought them forth vestments.

23 And Jehu went, and Jehonadab the son of Rechab into the house of Baal, and said unto the worshippers of Baal, Search and look that there be here with you none of the servants of the Lord, but the worshippers of Baal only.

24 And when they went in to offer sacrifices, and burnt-offerings, Jehu appointed fourscore men without, and said, If any of the men whom I have brought into your hands, escape, he that letteth him go, his life shall be for the life of him.

25 And it came to pass as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt-offering, that Jehu said to the guard, and to the captains, Go in, and slay them, let none come forth. And they smote them with the edge of the sword, and the guard and the captains cast them out, and went to the city of the house of Baal.

26 And they brought forth the images out of the house of Baal, and burned them.

27 And they brake down the image of Baal, and brake down the house of Baal, and made it a draught-house unto this day.

28 Thus Jehu destroyed Baal out of Israel.

29 ¶ Howbeit, from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, Jehu departed not from after them, to wit, the golden calves that were in Beth-el, and that were in Dan.

30 And the Lord said unto Jehu, Because thou hast done well in executing that which is right in mine eyes, and hast done unto the house of Ahab according to all that was in mine heart, thy children of the fourth generation shall sit on the throne of Israel.

31 But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the Lord God of Israel, with all his heart: for he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sin.

32 ¶ In those days the Lord began to cut Israel short, and Hazael smote them in all the coasts of Israel:

33 From Jordan eastward, all the land of Gilead, the Gadites, and 32 And there looked out to him two or three eunuchs.] These persons, in the eastern countries, attended upon the queens in their chambers; and, by their great care and diligence, were often promoted to places of great trust and profit.

Chap. X.] 1. Jehu wrote letters, and sent to Samaria, unto the rulers of Jezreel.] This passage is something obscure; for how came the rulers of Jezreel to be at Samaria? Some have imagined that there is an error in the Hebrew text, and that instead of Jezreel, it should be Israel, which is no great variation: but why may we not suppose, that, upon hearing that Jehoram was slain, the great men of his court might take the children, and for fear of their falling into the hands of Jehu, flee with them to Samaria, as being the capital, and strongest place in the kingdom, where they might intend to defend themselves against his usurpation, and, as his letter seems to import, of filling, with one of Ahab's family, the vacant throne.

25 And went to the city of the house of Baal.] The large buildings adjoining to the temple of that idol, where the prophets and the priests, with the servants resided, and called a city from their being so very spacious.

and the Reubenites, and the Manaſſites, from Aroer (which is by the river Arnon) even Gilead and Baſhan.

34 Now the reſt of the acts of Jehu, and all that he did, and all his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

35 And Jehu ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Jehoahaz his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

36 And the time that Jehu reigned over Iſrael in Samaria, was twenty and eight years.

CHAP. XI.

AND when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah ſaw that her ſon was dead, ſhe aroſe, and deſtroyed all the ſeed royal.

2 But Jehoſheba the daughter of king Joram, ſiſter of Ahaziah, took Joaſh the ſon of Ahaziah, and ſtole him from among the king's ſons which were ſlain; and they hid him, even him and his nurſe in the bed-chamber from Athaliah, ſo that he was not ſlain.

3 And he was with her hid in the houſe of the Lord ſix years: and Athaliah did reign over the land.

4 ¶ And the ſeventh year Jehoiada ſent and fetched the rulers over hundreds, with the captains and the guard, and brought them to him into the houſe of the Lord, and made a covenant with them, and took an oath of them in the houſe of the Lord, and ſhewed them the king's ſon.

5 And he commanded them, ſaying, This is the thing that ye ſhall do; a third part of you that enter in on the ſabbath, ſhall even be keepers of the watch of the king's houſe:

6 And a third part ſhall be at the gate of Sur: and a third part at the gate behind the guard: ſo ſhall ye keep the watch of the houſe, that it be not broken down.

7 And two parts of all you that go forth on the ſabbath, even they ſhall keep the watch of the houſe of the Lord about the king.

8 And ye ſhall compaſs the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand: and he that cometh within the ranges, let him be ſlain; and be ye with the king as he goeth out, and as he cometh in.

9 And the captains over the hundreds did according to all things that Jehoiada the prieſt commanded: and they took every man his men that were to come in on the ſabbath, with them that ſhould go out on the ſabbath, and came to Jehoiada the prieſt.

10 And to the captains over hundreds did the prieſt give king David's ſpears and ſhields that were in the temple of the Lord.

11 And the guard ſtood, every man with his weapons in his hand round about the king, from the right corner of the temple, to the left corner of the temple, along by the altar and the temple.

12 And he brought forth the king's ſon, and put the crown upon him, and gave him the teſtimony, and they made him king, and anointed him, and they clapt their hands, and ſaid, God ſave the king.

13 ¶ And when Athaliah heard the noiſe of the guard, and of the people, ſhe came to the people, into the temple of the Lord.

14 And when ſhe looked, behold, the king ſtood by a pillar, as the manner was, and the princes, and the trumpeters by the king, and all the people of the land rejoiced, and blew with trumpets: and Athaliah rent her clothes, and cried, Treaſon, treaſon.

15 But Jehoiada the prieſt commanded the captains of the hundreds, the officers of the hoſt, and ſaid unto them, Have her forth without the ranges; and him that followeth her kill with the ſword. For the prieſt had ſaid, Let her not be ſlain in the houſe of the Lord.

16 And they laid hands on her, and ſhe went by the way by the which the horſes came into the king's houſe, and there was ſhe ſlain.

17 ¶ And Jehoiada made a covenant between the Lord and the king and the people, that they ſhould be the Lord's people; between the king alſo and the people.

18 And all the people of the land went into the houſe of Baal, and brake it down, his altars and his images brake they in pieces thoroughly, and ſlew Mattan the prieſt of Baal before the altars: and the prieſt appointed officers over the houſe of the Lord.

19 And he took the rulers over hundreds, and the captains, and the guard, and all the people of the land, and they brought down the king from the houſe of the Lord, and came by the way of the gate of the guard to the king's houſe, and he ſat on the throne of the kings.

20 And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was in quiet: and they ſlew Athaliah with the ſword beſide the king's houſe.

21 Seven years old was Jehoaſh when he began to reign.

CHAP. XII.

IN the ſeventh year of Jehu, Jehoaſh began to reign; and forty years reigned he in Jeruſalem; and his mother's name was Zibiah of Beer-ſheba.

2 And Jehoaſh did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord all his days, wherein Jehoiada the prieſt inſtructed him.

3 But the high places were not taken away: the people ſtill ſacrificed, and burnt incenſe in the high places.

4 ¶ And Jehoaſh ſaid to the prieſts, All the money of the dedicated things that is brought into the houſe of the Lord, even the money of every one that paſſeth the account, the money that every man is ſet at, and all the money that cometh into any man's heart to bring into the houſe of the Lord,

5 Let the prieſts take it to them, every man of his acquaintance, and let them repair the breaches of the houſe, whereſoever any breach ſhall be found.

6 But it was ſo, that in the three and twentieth year of king Jehoaſh, the prieſts had not repaired the breaches of the houſe.

7 Then king Jehoaſh called for Jehoiada the prieſt, and the other prieſts, and ſaid unto them, Why repair ye not the breaches of the houſe? now therefore receive no more money of your acquaintance, but deliver it for the breaches of the houſe.

8 And the prieſts conſented to receive no more money of the people, neither to repair the breaches of the houſe.

9 But Jehoiada the prieſt took a cheſt, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and ſet it beſide the altar, on the right ſide, as one cometh into the houſe of the Lord: and the prieſts that kept the door put therein all the money that was brought into the houſe of the Lord.

10 And it was ſo, when they ſaw that there was much money in the cheſt, that the king's ſcribe, and the high prieſt came up, and they put up in bags, and told the money that was found in the houſe of the Lord.

11 And they gave the money, being told, into the hands of them that did the work, that had the overſight of the houſe of the Lord, and they laid it out to the carpenters and builders that wrought upon the houſe of the Lord.

12 And to maſons, and hewers of ſtone, and to buy timber, and hewed ſtone to repair the breaches of the houſe of the Lord, and for all that was laid out for the houſe to repair it.

13 Howbeit, there were not made for the houſe of the Lord, bowls of ſilver, ſnuffers, baſons, trumpets, any veſſels of gold, or veſſels of ſilver, of the money that was brought into the houſe of the Lord.

14 But they gave that to the workmen, and repaired therewith the houſe of the Lord.

15 Moreover, they reckoned not with the men into whoſe hand they delivered the money to be beſtowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The treſpaſs-money, and ſin-money was not brought into the houſe of the Lord: it was the prieſts.

17 ¶ Then Hazael king of Syria went up, and fought againſt Gath, and took it: and Hazael ſet his face to go up to Jeruſalem.

18 And Jehoaſh king of Judah took all the hallowed things that Jehoſhaphat, and Jehoram, and Ahaziah his fathers, kings of Judah, had dedicated, and his own hallowed things, and all the gold that was found in the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and in the king's houſe, and ſent it to Hazael king of Syria, and he went away from Jeruſalem.

19 ¶ And the reſt of the acts of Joaſh, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

20 And his ſervants aroſe, and made a conſpiracy, and ſlew Joaſh in the houſe of Millo, which goeth down to Silla.

21 For Jozachar the ſon of Shimeath, and Jehozabad the ſon of Shomer, his ſervants, ſmote him, and he died; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David, And Amaziah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XIII.

IN the three and twentieth year of Joaſh the ſon of Ahaziah king of Judah, Jehoahaz the ſon of Jehu began to reign over Iſrael in Samaria, and reigned ſeventeen years.

2 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, and followed

CHAP. XI.] 1. And when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah ſaw that her ſon was dead, ſhe aroſe, and deſtroyed all the ſeed royal.] The terrible fate of theſe royal families cannot be read without horror. The whole offſpring of Jeroboam, Baaſha and Ahab, kings of Iſrael, were cut off for their idolatry, ſo that there was not one left; and the kings of Judah having contracted an affinity with the houſe of Ahab, and being by them ſeduced into the ſame crime, were ſo deſtroyed by three ſucceſſive maſſacres, that there was but one left.

10 And to the captains over hundreds did the prieſts give king David's ſpears and ſhields, &c.] The captains and other officers, who were admitted to a knowledge of Jehoiada's deſigns, came into the temple unarmed, for fear of giving ſuſpicion. But as David had erected a kind of ſacred armoury in one of the apartments of the temple, wherein the weapons and other trophies, taken by himſelf and other generals from their enemies, and, as monuments of their victories, had dedicated them to the Lord, were depoſited; Jehoiada took care, upon this occaſion, to have this magazine of military ſtores opened, ſo that there was no want of any ſort of arms on this occaſion.

CHAP. XII.] 2 And Jehoaſh did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord all his days, wherein Jehoiada the prieſt inſtructed him.] Of ſuch great uſe is a worthy counſellor, and pious inſtructor, about the perſon of a king: for we find that, after the death of this good man, the king fell into idolatry, and even ſlew the ſon of the good Jehoiada, only for reproving him for it, 2 Chron. xxiv. 17, 21.

4 The money that every man is ſet at.] Or, the money every man, who had vowed to God, was to pay, by the eſtimation the prieſt ſhould make for his redemption.

5 And followed the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, which made Iſrael to ſin, he departed not therefrom.

3 ¶ And the anger of the Lord was kindled againſt Iſrael, and he delivered them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hand of Ben-hadad the ſon of Hazael, all their days.

4 And Jehoahaz beſought the Lord, and the Lord hearkened unto him: for he ſaw the oppreſſion of Iſrael, becauſe the king of Syria oppreſſed them.

5 (And the Lord gave Iſrael a ſaviour, ſo that they went out from under the hand of the Syrians: and the children of Iſrael dwelt in their tents as beforetime.

6 Nevertheleſs, they departed not from the ſins of the houſe of Jeroboam, who made Iſrael ſin, but walked therein: and there remained the grove alſo in Samaria.)

7 Neither did he leave of the people to Jehoahaz, but fifty horſemen, and ten chariots, and ten thouſand footmen; for the king of Syria had deſtroyed them, and had made them like the duſt by threſhing.

8 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoahaz, and all that he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

9 And Jehoahaz ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Joaſh his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

10 ¶ In the thirty and ſeventh year of Joaſh king of Judah, began Jehoaſh the ſon of Jehoahaz to reign over Iſrael in Samaria, and reigned ſixteen years.

11 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord; he departed not from all the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who made Iſrael ſin: but he walked therein.

12 And the reſt of the acts of Joaſh, and all that he did, and his might wherewith he fought againſt Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

13 And Joaſh ſlept with his fathers, and Jeroboam ſat upon his throne: and Joaſh was buried in Samaria with the kings of Iſrael.

14 ¶ Now Eliſha was fallen ſick, of his ſickneſs whereof he died, and Joaſh the king of Iſrael came down unto him, and wept over his face, and ſaid, O my father, my father, the chariot of Iſrael, and the horſemen thereof.

15 And Eliſha ſaid unto him, Take bow and arrows: and he took unto him bow and arrows.

16 And he ſaid to the king of Iſrael, Put thine hand upon the bow: and he put his hand upon it: and Eliſha put his hands upon the king's hands.

17 And he ſaid, Open the window eaſtward: and he opened it. Then Eliſha ſaid, Shoot: and he ſhot. And he ſaid, The arrow of the Lord's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria: for thou ſhalt ſmite the Syrians in Aphek, till thou have conſumed them.

18 And he ſaid, Take the arrows: and he took them. And he ſaid unto the king of Iſrael, Smite upon the ground: and he ſmote thrice, and ſtayed.

19 And the man of God was wroth with him, and ſaid, Thou ſhouldeſt have ſmitten five or ſix times, then hadſt thou ſmitten Syria till thou hadſt conſumed it: whereas now thou ſhalt ſmite Syria but thrice.

20 ¶ And Eliſha died, and they buried him: and the bands of the Moabites invaded the land at the coming in of the year.

21 And it came to paſs as they were burying a man, that behold, they ſpied a band of men, and they caſt the man into the ſepulchre of Eliſha: and when the man was let down, and touched the bones of Eliſha, he revived, and ſtood up on his feet.

22 ¶ But Hazael king of Syria oppreſſed Iſrael all the days of Jehoahaz.

23 And the Lord was gracious unto them, and had compaſſion on them, and had reſpect unto them, becauſe of his covenant with Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, and would not deſtroy them, neither caſt he them from his preſence as yet.

24 So Hazael king of Syria died, and Ben-hadad his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

25 And Jehoaſh the ſon of Jehoahaz took again out of the hand of Ben-hadad the ſon of Hazael, the cities which he had taken out of the hand of Jehoahaz his father by war: three times did Joaſh beat him, and recovered the cities of Iſrael.

CHAP. XIV.

IN the ſecond year of Joaſh ſon of Jehoahaz king of Iſrael, reigned Amaziah the ſon of Joaſh king of Judah.

2 He was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and reigned twenty and nine years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jeruſalem.

3 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, yet not like David his father: he did according to all things as Joaſh his father did.

4 Howbeit, the high places were not taken away: as yet the people did ſacrifice, and burnt incenſe on the high places.

5 ¶ And it came to paſs as ſoon as the kingdom was confirmed in his hand, that he ſlew his ſervants which had ſlain the king his father.

6 But the children of the murderers he ſlew not: according unto that which is written in the book of the law of Moſes, wherein the Lord commanded, ſaying, The fathers ſhall not be put to death for the children, nor the children be put to death for the fathers; but every man ſhall be put to death for his own ſin.

7 He ſlew of Edom in the valley of ſalt, ten thouſand, and took Selah by war, and called the name of it Joktheel unto this day.

8 ¶ Then Amaziah ſent meſſengers to Jehoaſh the ſon of Jehoahaz, ſon of Jehu king of Iſrael, ſaying, come let us look one another in the face.

9 And Jehoaſh the king of Iſrael ſent to Amaziah king of Judah, ſaying, The thiſtle that was in Lebanon, ſent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, ſaying, Give thy daughter to my ſon to wife: and there paſſed by a wild beaſt that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thiſtle.

10 Thou haſt indeed ſmitten Edom, and thine heart hath lifted thee up: glory of this, and tarry at home: for why ſhouldeſt thou meddle to thy hurt, that thou ſhouldeſt fall, even thou and Judah with thee?

11 But Amaziah would not hear: therefore Jehoaſh king of Iſrael went up, and he and Amaziah king of Judah looked one another in the face at Beth-ſhemeſh, which belongeth to Judah.

12 And Judah was put to the worſe before Iſrael, and they fled every man to their tents.

13 And Jehoaſh king of Iſrael took Amaziah king of Judah, the ſon of Jehoaſh the ſon of Ahaziah, at Beth-ſhemeſh, and came to Jeruſalem, and brake down the wall of Jeruſalem, from the gate of Ephraim, unto the corner-gate, four hundred cubits.

14 And he took all the gold and ſilver, and all the veſſels that were found in the houſe of the Lord, and in the treaſures of the king's houſe, and hoſtages, and returned to Samaria.

15 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoaſh, which he did, and his might, and how he fought with Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Iſrael?

16 And Jehoaſh ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Iſrael, and Jeroboam his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

17 ¶ And Amaziah the ſon of Joaſh king of Judah, lived after the death of Jehoaſh ſon of Jehoahaz king of Iſrael fifteen years.

18 And the reſt of the acts of Amaziah, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

19 Now they made a conſpiracy againſt him in Jeruſalem: and he fled to Lachiſh, but they ſent after him to Lachiſh, and ſlew him there.

20 And they brought him on horſes; and he was buried at Jeruſalem with his fathers in the city of David.

21 ¶ And all the people of Judah took Azariah (which was ſixteen years old) and made him king inſtead of his father Amaziah.

22 He built Elath, and reſtored it to Judah, after that the king ſlept with his fathers.

23 ¶ In the fifteenth year of Amaziah, the ſon of Joaſh king of Judah, Jeroboam the ſon of Joaſh king of Iſrael began to reign in Samaria, and reigned forty and one years.

24 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord: he departed not from all the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, who made Iſrael to ſin.

25 He reſtored the coaſt of Iſrael from the entering of Hamath, unto the ſea of the plain, according to the word of the Lord God of Iſrael, which he ſpake by the hand of his ſervant Jonah, the ſon of Amittai, the prophet, which was of Gath-hepher.

26 For the Lord ſaw the affliction of Iſrael, that it was very bitter: for there was not any ſhut up, nor any left, nor any helper for Iſrael.

27 And

CHAP. XIII.] 5 And the Lord gave Iſrael a Saviour, ſo that they went out from under the hand of the Syrians.] This ſeems to be the ſon of Jehoahaz who was probably joint ſovereign with his father; for we read that when Hazael was dead, he delivered them from their bondage.

14 Now Eliſha was fallen ſick, whereof he died.] The Jews tell us that this happened in the tenth year of Joaſh; and therefore, as Eliſha began his miſſion in the nineteenth year of Jehoſhaphat, he had continued ſixty-five years a prophet in Iſrael.

21 He revived and ſtood up on his feet.] This ſtupendous miracle, ſufficiently confirmed both the ſucceſs he had promiſed the king, and the belief of a future life.

CHAP. XIV.] 6 But the children of the murderers he ſlew not.] In this he acted like a good man, and contrary to the wicked cuſtom of many kingdoms, where, if any one be guilty of high treaſon, not only he, but his children likewiſe, though neither conſcious nor partakers of any of his traiterous practices, are equally devoted to deſtruction, leſt they ſhould form any faction againſt the prince, or ſeek revenge for their father's death.

8 Come let us look one another in the face.] Amaziah, being encouraged by his late victory over the Edomites, was determined to be revenged for the ſlaughter of his anceſtors by Jehu, and therefore ſent this open declaration of war drawn up in the ſofteſt terms poſſible.

25 By the hand of his ſervant Jonah, &c.] The only mention we have of this prophet is in this paſſage, and the account of his famous miſſion to Nineveh.

27 And the Lord said not that he would blot out the name of Israel from under heaven: but he saved them by the hand of Jeroboam the son of Joash.

28 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, and all that he did, and his might, how he warred, and how he recovered Damascus, and Hamath, which belonged to Judah, for Israel, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

29 And Jeroboam slept with his fathers, even with the kings of Israel; and Zachariah his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XV.

IN the twenty and seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel, began Azariah the son of Amaziah king of Judah to reign.

2 Sixteen years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned two and fifty years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Jecholiah of Jerusalem.

3 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah had done;

4 Save that the high places were not removed: the people sacrificed and burnt incense still on the high places.

5 ¶ And the Lord smote the king, so that he was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a several house: and Jotham the king's son was over the house, judging the people of the land.

6 And the rest of the acts of Azariah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

7 So Azariah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David; and Jotham his son reigned in his stead.

8 ¶ In the thirty and eighth year of Azariah king of Judah, did Zachariah the son of Jeroboam reign over Israel in Samaria six months.

9 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, as his fathers had done: he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat who made Israel to sin.

10 And Shallum the son of Jabesh conspired against him, and smote him before the people, and slew him, and reigned in his stead.

11 And the rest of the acts of Zachariah, behold they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

12 This was the word of the Lord which he spake unto Jehu, saying, Thy sons shall sit on the throne of Israel, unto the fourth generation. And so it came to pass.

13 ¶ Shallum the son of Jabesh began to reign in the nine and thirtieth year of Uzziah king of Judah, and he reigned a full month in Samaria.

14 For Menahem the son of Gadi went up from Tirzah, and came to Samaria, and smote Shallum the son of Jabesh in Samaria, and slew him, and reigned in his stead.

15 And the rest of the acts of Shallum, and his conspiracy which he made, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

16 ¶ Then Menahem smote Tiphsah, and all that were therein, and the coasts thereof from Tirzah; because they opened not to him, therefore he smote it, and all the women therein that were with child, he ripped up.

17 In the nine and thirtieth year of Azariah king of Judah began Menahem the son of Gadi to reign over Israel, and reigned ten years in Samaria.

18 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord: he departed not all his days from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin.

19 And Pul the king of Assyria came against the land: and Menahem gave Pul a thousand talents of silver, that his hand might be with him, to confirm the kingdom in his hand.

20 And Menahem exacted the money of Israel, even of all the mighty men of wealth, of each man fifty shekels of silver, to give to the king of Assyria: so the king of Assyria turned back, and stayed not there in the land.

21 ¶ And the rest of the acts of Menahem, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

22 And Menahem slept with his fathers, and Pekahiah his son reigned in his stead.

23 ¶ In the fiftieth year of Azariah king of Judah, Pekahiah the son of Menahem began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and reigned two years.

24 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin.

25 But Pekah the son of Remaliah, a captain of his, conspired against him, and smote him in Samaria, in the palace of the king's house, with Argob, and Arieh, and with him fifty men of the Gileadites: and he killed him, and reigned in his room.

26 And the rest of the acts of Pekahiah, and all that he did, behold they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

27 ¶ In the two and fiftieth year of Azariah king of Judah, Pekah the son of Remaliah began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and reigned twenty years.

28 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin.

29 In the days of Pekah king of Israel, came Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, took Ijon, and Abel-beth-maachah, and Janoah, and Kedesh, and Hazor, and Gilead, and Galilee, all the land of Naphtali, and carried them captive to Assyria.

30 And Hoshea the son of Elah made a conspiracy against Pekah the son of Remaliah, and smote him, and slew him, and reigned in his stead in the twentieth year of Jotham the son of Uzziah.

31 And the rest of the acts of Pekah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

32 ¶ In the second year of Pekah the son of Remaliah king of Israel, began Jotham the son of Uzziah king of Judah to reign.

33 Five and twenty years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jerusha, the daughter of Zadok.

34 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord: he did according to all that his father Uzziah had done.

35 ¶ Howbeit, the high-places were not removed: the people sacrificed and burnt incense still in the high-places: he built the higher gate of the house of the Lord.

36 ¶ Now the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

37 (In those days the Lord began to send against Judah, Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah.)

38 And Jotham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father, and Ahaz his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XVI.

IN the seventeenth year of Pekah the son of Remaliah, Ahaz the son of Jotham king of Judah began to reign.

2 Twenty years old was Ahaz when he began to reign, and reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem, and did not that which was right in the sight of the Lord his God, like David his father.

3 But he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea, and made his son to pass through the fire, according to the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord cast out from before the children of Israel.

4 And he sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 ¶ Then Rezin king of Syria, and Pekah son of Remaliah king of Israel, came up to Jerusalem to war: and they besieged Ahaz, but could not overcome him.

6 At that time Rezin king of Syria recovered Elath to Syria, and drave the Jews from Elath: and the Syrians came to Elath, and dwelt there unto this day.

7 So Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, saying, I am thy servant and thy son: come up, and save me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Israel, which rise up against me.

8 And Ahaz took the silver and gold that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the king's house, and sent it for a present to the king of Assyria.

9 And the king of Assyria hearkened unto him: for the king of Assyria went up against Damascus, and took it and carried the people of it captive to Kir, and slew Rezin.

10 ¶ And king Ahaz went to Damascus to meet Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, and saw an altar that was at Damascus: and king Ahaz sent to Urijah the priest the fashion of the altar, and the pattern of it, according to all the workmanship thereof.

CHAP. XV.] 12 Thy sons shall sit on the throne of Israel, to the fourth generation.] God had promised Jehu, that for executing his will upon the house of Ahab, he would continue the crown of Israel in his family for four generations; and accordingly Jehoahaz, Jehoash, Jehoram, and Zachariah succeeded him: but because he did it, not so much in obedience to the divine command, as to satisfy his private and ambitious views, and in a method of cruelty abhorred by the divine nature, God cut his family short as soon as he had fulfilled his promise to him, and thereby accomplished the prophecy of Hosea, I will revenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel, ch. i. 4.

29 And carried them captive to Assyria.] This was the second deportation of the Israelites, the first being made by Pul, who carried away the two tribes and a half, situated beyond Jordan. The king of Assyria also carried away, among other rich plunder, the golden calf, which Jeroboam had set up at Beth-el, and which had been constantly worshipped by the ten tribes; and the other which was in Dan, was taken away by Pul, when he invaded Galilee, in which province that city stood.

CHAP. XVI.] 3 He walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea, and made his son to pass through the fire, &c.] He excelled all that went before him in wickedness; for he even imitated the abominable idolaters whom God cast out before the children of Israel, by burning his children in the fire to his idols.

11 And Urijah the prieſt built an altar according to all that king Ahaz had ſent from Damaſcus: ſo Urijah the prieſt made it againſt king Ahaz came from Damaſcus.

12 And when the king was come from Damaſcus, the king ſaw the altar: and the king approached to the altar, and offered thereon.

13 And he burnt his burnt-offering, and his meat-offering, and poured his drink-offering, and ſprinkled the blood of his peace-offerings upon the altar.

14 And he brought alſo the braſen altar which was before the Lord, from the forefront of the houſe, from between the altar and the houſe of the Lord, and put it on the north ſide of the altar.

15 And king Ahaz commanded Urijah the prieſt, ſaying, Upon the great altar burn the morning burnt-offering, and the evening meat offering, and the king's burnt-ſacrifice, and his meat offering, with the burnt-offering of all the people of the land, and their meat-offering, and their drink-offerings, and ſprinkle upon it all the blood of the burnt-offering, and all the blood of the ſacrifice: and the braſen altar ſhall be for me to enquire by.

16 Thus did Urijah the prieſt, according to all that king Ahaz commanded.

17 ¶ And king Ahaz cut off the borders of the baſes, and removed the laver from off them, and took down the ſea from off the braſen oxen that were under it, and put it upon a pavement of ſtones.

18 And the covert for the ſabbath that they had built in the houſe, and the king's entry without, turned he from the houſe of the Lord, for the king of Aſſyria.

19 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Ahaz, which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

20 And Ahaz ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David, and Hezekiah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XVII.

IN the twelfth year of Ahaz king of Judah, began Hoſhea the ſon of Elah to reign in Samaria, over Iſrael nine years.

2 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, but not as the kings of Iſrael that were before him.

3 ¶ Againſt him came up Shalmaneſer king of Aſſyria, and Hoſhea became his ſervant, and gave him preſents.

4 And the king of Aſſyria found conſpiracy in Hoſhea: for he had ſent meſſengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no preſent to the king of Aſſyria, as he had done year by year: therefore the king of Aſſyria ſhut him up, and bound him in priſon.

5 ¶ Then the king of Aſſyria came up throughout all the land, and went up to Samaria and beſieged it three years.

6 ¶ In the ninth year of Hoſhea, the king of Aſſyria took Samaria, and carried Iſrael away into Aſſyria, and placed them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

7 For ſo it was, that the children of Iſrael had ſinned againſt the Lord their God, which had brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from under the hand of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and had feared other gods,

8 And walked in the ſtatutes of the heathen (whom the Lord caſt out from before the children of Iſrael) and of the kings of Iſrael which they had made.

9 And the children of Iſrael did ſecretly thoſe things that were not right againſt the Lord their God, and they built them high places in all their cities, from the tower of the watchmen to the fenced city.

10 And they ſet them up images and groves in every high hill, and under every green tree:

11 And there they burnt incenſe in all the high places, as did the heathen whom the Lord carried away before them; and wrought wicked things to provoke the Lord to anger.

12 For they ſerved idols, whereof the Lord had ſaid unto them, Ye ſhall not do this thing.

13 Yet the Lord teſtified againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, by all the prophets, and by all the ſeers, ſaying, Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments, and my ſtatutes, according to all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I ſent to you by my ſervants the prophets.

14 Notwithſtanding they would not hear, but hardened their necks, like to the neck of their fathers, that did not believe in the Lord their God.

15 And they rejected his ſtatutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his teſtimonies which he teſtified againſt them; and they followed vanity, and became vain, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the Lord had charged them, that they ſhould not do like them.

16 And they left all the commandments of the Lord their God, and made them molten images, even two calves, and made a grove, and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved Baal.

17 And they cauſed their ſons and their daughters to paſs through the fire, and uſed divination and inchantments, and ſold themſelves to do evil in the ſight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger.

18 Therefore the Lord was very angry with Iſrael, and removed them out of his ſight: there was none left but the tribe of Judah only.

19 Alſo Judah kept not the commandments of the Lord their God, but walked in the ſtatutes of Iſrael which they made.

20 And the Lord rejected all the ſeed of Iſrael, and afflicted them, and delivered them into the hand of ſpoilers, until he had caſt them out of his ſight.

21 For he rent Iſrael from the houſe of David, and they made Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat king, and Jeroboam drave Iſrael from following the Lord, and made them ſin a great ſin.

22 For the children of Iſrael walked in all the ſins of Jeroboam which he did, they departed not from them:

23 Until the Lord removed Iſrael out of his ſight, as he had ſaid by all his ſervants the prophets. So was Iſrael carried away out of their own land to Aſſyria, unto this day.

24 ¶ And the king of Aſſyria brought men from Babylon, and from Cuthah, and from Ava, and from Hamath, and from Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria, inſtead of the children of Iſrael; and they poſſeſſed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 And ſo it was at the beginning of their dwelling there, that they feared not the Lord; therefore the Lord ſent lions among them, which ſlew ſome of them.

26 Wherefore they ſpake to the king of Aſſyria, ſaying, The nations which thou haſt removed, and placed in the cities of Samaria, know not the manner of the God of the land: therefore he hath ſent lions among them, and behold, they ſlay them, becauſe they know not the manner of the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Aſſyria commanded, ſaying, Carry thither one of the prieſts whom ye brought from thence, and let them go and dwell there, and let him teach them the manner of the God of the land.

28 Then one of the prieſts whom they had carried away from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they ſhould fear the Lord.

29 Howbeit, every nation made gods of their own, and put them in the houſes of the high places, which the Samaritans had made, every nation in their cities wherein they dwelt.

30 And the men of Babylon made Succoth-benoth, and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Aſhima, 31 And the Avites made Nibhaz and Tartak, and the Sepharvites burnt their children in fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech the gods of Sepharvaim.

32 So they feared the Lord, and made unto themſelves of the loweſt of them prieſts of the high places, which ſacrificed for them in the houſes of the high places.

33 They feared the Lord, and ſerved their own gods, after the manner of the nations whom they carried away from thence.

34 Unto this day they do after the former manners: they fear not the Lord, neither do they after their ſtatutes, or after their ordinances, or after the law and commandment which the Lord commanded the children of Jacob, whom he named Iſrael;

35 With whom the Lord had made a covenant, and charged them, ſaying, Ye ſhall not fear other gods, nor bow yourſelves to them, nor ſerve them, nor ſacrifice to them:

36 But the Lord, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt, with great power, and a ſtretched out arm, him ſhall ye fear, and him ſhall ye worſhip, and to him ſhall ye do ſacrifice.

37 And the ſtatutes, and the ordinances, and the law, and the commandment which he wrote for you, ye ſhall obſerve to do for evermore, and ye ſhall not fear other gods.

38 And the covenant that I have made with you, ye ſhall not forget, neither ſhall ye fear other gods.

CHAP. XVII.] 2 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, but not as the kings of Iſrael that were before him.] Though he did not himſelf keep the law of Moſes yet he ſuffer d others to do it; and even to go up to Jeruſalem, at the ſolemn feaſts, to worſhip the Lord.

4 Hoſhea ſent meſſengers to So king of Egypt, &c.] This So, with whom Hoſhea entered into confederacy, is, in prophane authors called Sabacon, the famous Ethiopian mentioned by Herodotus and Diodorus Siculus, who in the beginning of Hezekiah's reign, invaded Egypt; and having taken Boccaris, the king thereof, priſoner, cauſed him to be burnt alive, and then ſeized on his kingdom.

28 Then one of the prieſts---came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they ſhould fear the Lord.] That is the manner how they ſhould worſhip and ſerve him, according to the law of Moſes.

30 The men of Babylon made Succoth-benoth.] It is not eaſy to tell what is meant by the words Succoth-benoth. But as the words literally ſignify the tabernacle of the daughters, they probably refer to thoſe infamous places where all young women were obliged, once in their lives, to proſtitute themſelves in honour of the goddeſs Mylete, or Venus.

31 Burnt their children in fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech.] Moloch, Milcom, and Melech, in the language of different nations, all ſignify a king, and imply the ſun, which was called the king of heaven: and therefore the addition of Adra, which ſignifies powerful, to the one, and of Anam, which implies to anſwer, to the other, means no more than the mighty or the oracular Moloch.

39 But the Lord your God ye ſhall fear, and he ſhall deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit, they did not hearken, but they did after their former manner.

41 So theſe nations feared the Lord, and ſerved their graven images, both their children, and their children's children: as did their fathers, ſo do they unto this day.

CHAP. XVIII.

NOW it came to paſs in the third year of Hoſhea ſon of Elah king of Iſrael, that Hezekiah the ſon of Ahaz king of Judah began to reign.

2 Twenty and five years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Abi, the daughter of Zachariah.

3 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that David his father did.

4 ¶ He removed the high-places, and brake the images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces the brazen ſerpent that Moſes had made: for unto thoſe days the children of Iſrael did burn incenſe to it: and he called it Nehuſhtan.

5 He truſted in the Lord God of Iſrael, ſo that after him was none like him among all the kings of Judah, nor any that were before him.

6 For he clave to the Lord, and departed not from following him, but kept his commandments, which the Lord commanded Moſes.

7 And the Lord was with him, and he proſpered whitherſoever he went forth: and he rebelled againſt the king of Aſſyria, and ſerved him not.

8 He ſmote the Philiſtines, even unto Gaza, and the borders thereof, from the tower of the watchmen to the fenced city.

9 ¶ And it came to paſs in the fourth year of king Hezekiah (which was the ſeventh year of Hoſhea, ſon of Elah king of Iſrael) that Shalmaneſer king of Aſſyria came up againſt Samaria, and beſieged it.

10 And at the end of three years they took it, even in the ſixth year of Hezekiah (that is the ninth year of Hoſhea king of Iſrael) Samaria was taken.

11 And the king of Aſſyria did carry away Iſrael unto Aſſyria, and put them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes:

12 Becauſe they obeyed not the voice of the Lord their God, but tranſgreſſed his covenant, and all that Moſes the ſervant of the Lord commanded, and would not hear them, nor do them.

13 ¶ Now in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, did Sennacherib king of Aſſyria come up againſt all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them.

14 And Hezekiah king of Judah ſent to the king of Aſſyria to Lachiſh, ſaying, I have offended, return from me: that which thou putteſt on me, I will bear. And the king of Aſſyria appointed unto Hezekiah king of Judah, three hundred talents of ſilver, and thirty talents of gold.

15 And Hezekiah gave him all the ſilver that was found in the houſe of the Lord, and in the treaſures of the king's houſe.

16 At that time did Hezekiah cut off the gold from the doors of the temple of the Lord, and from the pillars which Hezekiah king of Judah had overlaid, and gave it to the king of Aſſyria.

17 ¶ And the king of Aſſyria ſent Tartan, and Rabſaris, and Rab-ſhakeh from Lachiſh, to king Hezekiah, with a great hoſt againſt Jeruſalem: and they went up and came to Jeruſalem: and when they were come up, they came and ſtood by the conduit of the upper pool, which is in the high-way of the fuller's field.

18 And when they had called to the king, there came out to them Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and Joah the ſon of Aſaph the recorder.

19 And Rab-ſhakeh ſaid unto them, Speak ye now to Hezekiah, Thus ſaith the great king, the king of Aſſyria, What confidence is this wherein thou truſteſt?

20 Thou ſayeſt (but they are but vain words) I have counſel and ſtrength for the war: now on whom doſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

21 Now, behold, thou truſteſt upon the ſtaff of this bruiſed reed, even upon Egypt, on which if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: ſo is Pharaoh king of Egypt unto all that truſt on him.

22 But if ye ſay unto me, We truſt in the Lord our God: is not that he whoſe high-places, and whoſe altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath ſaid to Judah and Jeruſalem, Ye ſhall worſhip before this altar in Jeruſalem?

23 Now therefore, I pray thee, give pledges to my lord the king of Aſſyria, and I will deliver thee two thouſand horſes, if thou be able on thy part to ſet riders upon them.

24 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the leaſt of my maſter's ſervants, and put thy truſt on Egypt for chariots and for horſemen?

25 Am I now come up without the Lord againſt this place to deſtroy it? The Lord ſaid to me, Go up againſt this land, and deſtroy it.

26 Then ſaid Eliakim, the ſon of Hilkiah, and Shebna, and Joah, unto Rab-ſhakeh, Speak, I pray thee, to thy ſervants in the Syrian language (for we underſtand it) and talk not with us in the Jews language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rab-ſhakeh ſaid unto them, Hath my maſter ſent me to thy maſter, and to thee, to ſpeak theſe words? hath he not ſent me to the men which ſit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piſs with you?

28 Then Rab-ſhakeh ſtood and cried with a loud voice in the Jews language, and ſpake, ſaying, Hear the word of the great king, the king of Aſſyria.

29 Thus ſaith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he ſhall not be able to deliver you out of his hand:

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you truſt in the Lord, ſaying, The Lord will ſurely deliver us, and this city ſhall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

31 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus ſaith the king of Aſſyria, Make an agreement with me by a preſent, and come out to me, and then eat ye every man of his own vine, and every one of his fig-tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his ciſtern:

32 Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oil-olive, and of honey, that ye may live, and not die: and hearken not unto Hezekiah when he perſuadeth you, ſaying, the Lord will deliver us.

33 Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered at all his land out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

34 Where are the gods of Hamath, and of Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah? have they delivered Samaria out of mine hand?

35 Who are they among all the gods of the countries, that have delivered their country out of mine hand, that the Lord ſhould deliver Jeruſalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people held their peace, and anſwered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, ſaying, anſwer him not.

37 Then came Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and Joah the ſon of Aſaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rab-ſhakeh.

CHAP. XIX.

AND it came to paſs when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himſelf with ſackcloth, and went into the houſe of the Lord.

2 And he ſent Eliakim, which was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and the elders of the prieſts, covered with ſackcloth, to Iſaiah the prophet the ſon of Amoz.

3 And they ſaid unto him, thus ſaith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke and blaſphemy; for the children are come to the birth, and there is not ſtrength to bring forth.

4 It may be the Lord thy God will hear all the words of Rab-ſhakeh, whom the king of Aſſyria his maſter hath ſent to reproach the living God; and will reprove the words which the Lord thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the ſervants of king Hezekiah came to Iſaiah.

6 ¶ And Iſaiah ſaid unto them, Thus ſhall ye ſay to your maſter, Thus ſaith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words which thou haſt heard, with which the ſervants of the king of Aſſyria have blaſphemed me.

7 Behold, I will ſend a blaſt upon him, and he ſhall hear a rumour, and ſhall return to his own land, and I will cauſe him to fall by the ſword in his own land.

8 So

41 So theſe nations feared the Lord, and ſerved their graven images.] That is, they joined the worſhip of their own idols with that of the Lord God of Iſrael:

CHAP. XVIII.] 4 He removed the high-places.] He did not ſtay till he was firmly ſettled in his kingdom before he began a reformation in religion, though he muſt know that he run a great hazard in attempting to aboliſh idolatry, which had been confirmed by ſo many years preſcription. But he truſted in the Lord his God, whom he knew was both able and willing to ſupport him in ſo laudable an undertaking.

4 And he called it Nehuſhtan.] That is, mere braſs; as if he had ſaid, It is ſurpriſing how any perſon could be ſo ſtupid to worſhip this ſerpent, or flatter himſelf it had any power to ſave, when it is only common braſs!

33 And the king of Aſſyria ſent Tartan, and Rabſaris, and Rab-ſhakeh, &c.] Theſe are not the proper names of the men, but denote their employments and offices. Tartan, ſignifies the preſident of the council; Rabſaris, the chief eunuch; and Rab-ſhakeh the principal cup-bearer.

21 Now, behold, thou truſteſt upon the ſtaff of this bruiſed reed, even upon Egypt, &c.] This compariſon is excellently adapted to denote an ally, that is not only weak and unable to help, but alſo dangerous to thoſe who rely on him for ſuccour: and his repreſenting the power of Egypt to be as brittle as the reeds growing on the banks of the Nile, (for to theſe doubtleſs the Syrian orator alludes) is a great beauty in the ſimiltiude.

CHAP. XIX.] 7 Behold, I will ſend a blaſt upon him.] That is, a peſtilential blaſt, which in one night deſtroyed the greateſt part of his numerous army.

8 And

8 ¶ So Rab-ſhakeh returned, and found the king of Aſſyria warring againſt Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachiſh.

9 And when he heard ſay of Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight againſt thee: he ſent meſſengers again unto Hezekiah, ſaying,

10 Thus ſhall ye ſpeak to Hezekiah king of Judah, ſaying, let not thy God in whom thou truſteſt, deceive thee, ſaying, Jeruſalem ſhall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

11 Behold, thou haſt heard what the kings of Aſſyria have done to all lands, by deſtroying them utterly: and ſhalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have deſtroyed; as Gozan and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Thelaſar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivah?

14 ¶ And Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the meſſengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up into the houſe of the Lord, and ſpread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed before the Lord, and ſaid, O Lord God of Iſrael, which dwelleſt between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth, thou haſt made heaven and earth.

16 Lord, bow down thine ear, and hear: open, Lord, thine eyes, and ſee: and hear the words of Sennacherib, which hath ſent him to reproach the living God.

17 Of a truth, Lord, the kings of Aſſyria have deſtroyed the nations, and their lands, 18 And have caſt their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of mens hands, wood and ſtone: therefore they have deſtroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beſeech thee, ſave thou us out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the Lord God, even thou only.

20 ¶ Then Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz ſent to Hezekiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, That which thou haſt prayed to me againſt Sennacherib king of Aſſyria, I have heard.

21 This is the word that the Lord hath ſpoken concerning him, The virgin, the daughter of Zion hath deſpiſed thee, and laughed thee to ſcorn, the daughter of Jeruſalem hath ſhaken her head at thee.

22 Whom haſt thou reproached and blaſphemed? and againſt whom haſt thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even againſt the holy One of Iſrael.

23 By thy meſſengers thou haſt reproached the Lord, and haſt ſaid, With the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the height of the mountains, to the ſides of Lebanon, and will cut down the tall cedar-trees thereof, and the choice fir-trees thereof: and I will enter into the lodgings of his borders, and into the foreſt of his Carmel.

24 I have digged and drunk ſtrange waters, and with the ſole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of beſieged places.

25 Haſt thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times that I have formed it? now have I brought it to paſs, that thou ſhouldeſt be to lay waſte fenced cities into ruinous heaps.

26 Therefore their inhabitants were of ſmall power, they were diſmayed and confounded, they were as the graſs of the field, and as the green herb, as the graſs on the houſe tops, and as corn blaſted before it be grown up.

27 But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage againſt me.

28 Becauſe thy rage againſt me, and thy tumult is come up into mine ears, therefore I will put my hook in thy noſe, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou cameſt.

29 And this ſhall be a ſign unto thee, Ye ſhall eat this year ſuch things as grow of themſelves, and in the ſecond year that which ſpringeth of the ſame, and in the third year ſow ye and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruits thereof.

30 And the remnant that is eſcaped of the houſe of Judah, ſhall yet again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.

31 For out of Jeruſalem ſhall go forth a remnant, and they that eſcape, out of mount Zion: the zeal of the Lord of hoſts ſhall do this.

32 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord concerning the king of Aſſyria, He ſhall not come into this city, nor ſhoot an arrow there, nor come before it with ſhield, nor caſt a bank againſt it.

33 By the way that he came, by the ſame ſhall he return, and ſhall not come into this city, ſaith the Lord.

34 For I will defend this city to ſave it, for mine own ſake, and for my ſervant David's ſake.

35 ¶ And it came to paſs that night, that the angel of the Lord went out, and ſmote in the camp of the Aſſyrians, an hundred fourſcore and five thouſand; and when they aroſe early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpſes.

36 So Sennacherib king of Aſſyria departed and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

37 And it came to paſs as he was worſhipping in the houſe of Niſroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezar his ſons ſmote him with the ſword: and they eſcaped into the land of Armenia; and Eſarhaddon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP XX.

IN thoſe days was Hezekiah ſick unto death: and the prophet Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz came to him, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Set thine houſe in order, for thou ſhalt die, and not live.

2 Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the Lord, ſaying,

3 I beſeech thee, O Lord, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy ſight: and Hezekiah wept ſore.

4 And it came to paſs afore Iſaiah was gone out into the middle court, that the word of the Lord came to him, ſaying,

5 Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have ſeen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee; on the third day thou ſhalt go up unto the houſe of the Lord.

6 And I will add unto thy days fifteen years, and I will deliver thee, and this city, out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria, and I will defend this city for mine own ſake, and for my ſervant David's ſake.

7 And Iſaiah ſaid, Take a lump of figs. And they took and laid it on the boil, and he recovered.

8 ¶ And Hezekiah ſaid unto Iſaiah, What ſhall be the ſign that the Lord will heal me, and that I ſhall go up to the houſe of the Lord the third day?

9 And Iſaiah ſaid, This ſign ſhalt thou have of the Lord, that the Lord will do the thing that he hath ſpoken: ſhall the ſhadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiah anſwered, It is a light thing for the ſhadow to go down ten degrees: nay, but let the ſhadow return backward ten degrees.

11 And Iſaiah the prophet cried unto the Lord, and he brought the ſhadow ten degrees backward, by which it had gone down in the dial of Ahaz.

12 ¶ At that time Berodach-baladan the ſon of Baladan, king of Babylon, ſent letters and a preſent unto Hezekiah: for he had heard that Hezekiah had been ſick.

13 And Hezekiah hearkened unto them, and ſhewed them all the houſe of his precious things, the ſilver and the gold, and the ſpices, and the precious ointment, and all the houſe of his armour, and all that was found in his treaſures: there was nothing in his houſe, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah ſhewed them not.

14 ¶ Then came Iſaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and ſaid unto him, What ſaid theſe men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah ſaid, They are come from a far country, even from Babylon.

15 And he ſaid, What have they ſeen in thine houſe? And Hezekiah anſwered, all the things that are in mine houſe have they ſeen: there is nothing among my treaſures, that I have not ſhewed them.

16 And Iſaiah ſaid unto Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord.

17 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine houſe, and that which

8 And found the king of Aſſyria warring againſt Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachiſh.] Libnah was not far from Lachiſh, both being ſituated on the mountains of Judah; and it is probable that Sennacherib, finding himſelf unable to take the latter, had removed the ſiege to Libnah, which he conſidered as a place not ſo well fortified as Lachiſh, and, as the ſame time, ſo ſituated, that by keeping a ſtrong guard in the paſſes of the mountains, he ſhould be able to carry on the ſiege, notwithſtanding the approach of Tirhakah, who, the ſubſequent verſe informs us, was come out to fight with him.

23, 24 By thy meſſengers thou haſt reproached the Lord, and haſt ſaid, with the multitude of my chariots I am come up to the height of the mountains, &c.] The prophet, in this anſwer to Hezekiah, has given us an admirable deſcription of the ridiculous vanity and oſtentation of a king, puffed up with great ſucceſs.

25 Haſt thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times, that I have formed it?] In this manner Jehovah anſwers the proud boaſtings of this vain prince. What are thy exploits when compared to the works that I have done? Art thou ignorant that I dried up the Red-ſea before my people, and made them walk thro' the deep as thro' the wilderneſs? that I did this by mine own power long before thy anceſtors had a being?

37 Niſroch his God.] The learned Jereau, has, from many arguments made it appear, that this idol was Jupiter Belus, the founder of the Babylonſh empire, who was worſhipped under the form of an eagle; and therefore he farther obſerves, that as this Belus, in prophane hiſtory, was the ſame with the Nimrod of Moſes.

CHAP. XX.] 1 In thoſe days was Hezekiah ſick unto death.] Though the ſacred hiſtorian has placed this ſickneſs immediately after the defeat and death of Sennacherib, yet it is ſufficiently evident that it happened before that time; for God promiſes, in the meſſage he was pleaſed to ſend him by the prophet Iſaiah, that he would deliver Jeruſalem out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria, ver. 6. Nor will it be difficult to determine the year when the ſickneſs happened; for Hezekiah reigned in all nine and twenty years, 2 Kings xviii. 2: but Hezekiah had reigned fourteen years when Sennacherib invaded him, 2 Kings xviii. 13; and after his ſickneſs he reigned fifteen years, 2 Kings xx. 6. Conſequently this ſickneſs happened in the very ſame year that the king of Aſſyria invaded Judea; but the ſacred penman thought proper to defer the account of it till he had finiſhed the hiſtory of Sennacherib, which he was willing to give the reader at once, without breaking the thread of the narrative.

which thy fathers have laid up in ſtore unto this day, ſhall be carried into Babylon: nothing ſhall be left, ſaith the Lord.

18 And of thy ſons that ſhall iſſue from thee, which thou ſhalt beget, ſhall they take away, and they ſhall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

19 Then ſaid Hezekiah unto Iſaiah, Good is the word of the Lord which thou haſt ſpoken. And he ſaid, Is it not good, if peace and truth be in my days?

20 ¶ And the reſt of the acts of Hezekiah, and all his might, and how he made a pool, and a conduit, and brought water into the city, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

21 And Hezekiah ſlept with his fathers: and Manaſſeh his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXI.

MAnaſſeh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and reigned fifty and five years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Hephzi-bah.

2 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

3 For he built up again the high places which Hezekiah his father had deſtroyed, and he reared up altars for Baal, and made a grove, as did Ahab king of Iſrael, and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved them.

4 And he built altars in the houſe of the Lord, of which the Lord ſaid, In Jeruſalem will I put my name.

5 And he built altars for all the hoſt of heaven, in the two courts of the houſe of the Lord.

6 And he made his ſon paſs through the fire, and obſerved times, and uſed inchantments, and dealt with familiar ſpirits, and wizards: he wrought much wickedneſs in the ſight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger.

7 And he ſet a graven image of the grove that he had made, in the houſe of which the Lord ſaid to David, and to Solomon his ſon, in this houſe, and in Jeruſalem, which I have choſen out of all tribes of Iſrael, will I put my name for ever.

8 Neither will I make the feet of Iſrael move any more out of the land which I gave their fathers; only if they will obſerve to do according to all that I have commanded them, and according to all the law that my ſervant Moſes commanded them.

9 But they hearkened not: and Manaſſeh ſeduced them to do more evil than did the nations, whom the Lord deſtroyed before the children of Iſrael.

10 ¶ And the Lord ſpake by his ſervants the prophets, ſaying,

11 Becauſe Manaſſeh king of Judah hath done theſe abominations, and hath done wickedly above all that the Amorites did, which were before him, and hath made Judah alſo to ſin with his idols:

12 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Behold, I am bringing ſuch evil upon Jeruſalem and Judah, that whoſoever heareth of it, both his ears ſhall tingle.

13 And I will ſtretch over Jeruſalem the line of Samaria, and the plummet of the houſe of Ahab: and I will wipe Jeruſalem as a man wipeth a diſh, wiping it, aud turning it upſide down.

14 And I will forſake the remnant of mine inheritance, and deliver them into the hand of their enemies and they ſhall become a prey and a ſpoil to all their enemies.

15 Becauſe they have done that which was evil in my ſight, and have provoked me to anger ſince the day their fathers came forth out of Egypt, even unto this day,

16 Moreover, Manaſſeh ſhed innocent blood very much, till he had filled Jeruſalem from one end to another, beſide his ſin wherewith he made Judah to ſin, in doing that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord.

17 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Manaſſeh. and all that he did, and his ſin that he ſinned, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

18 And Manaſſeh ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his own houſe, in the garden of Uzzah: and Amon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

19 ¶ Amon was twenty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Meſhullemeth, the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.

20 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, as his father Manaſſeh did.

21 And he walked in all the way that his father walked in, and ſerved the idols that his fathers ſerved, and worſhipped them.

22 And he forſook the Lord God of his fathers, and walked not in the way of the Lord.

23 ¶ And the ſervants of Amon conſpired againſt him, and ſlew the king in his own houſe.

24 And the people of the land ſlew all them that had conſpired againſt king Amon, and the people of the land made Joſiah his ſon king in his ſtead.

25 Now the reſt of the acts of Amon, which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

26 And he was buried in his ſepulchre, in the garden of Uzzah: and Joſiah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXII.

JOſiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty and one years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Jedidah, the daughter of Adaiah of Boſcath.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, and walked in all the way of David his father, and turned not aſide to the right hand or to the left.

3 ¶ And it came to paſs in the eighteenth year of king Joſiah, that the king ſent Shaphan the ſon of Azaliah, the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſcribe, to the houſe of the Lord, ſaying,

4 Go up to Hilkiah the high prieſt, that he may ſum the ſilver which is brought into the houſe of the Lord, which the keepers of the door have gathered of the people.

5 And let them deliver it into the hand of the doers of the work, that have the overſight of the houſe of the Lord; and let them give it to the doers of the work, which is in the houſe of the Lord to repair the breaches of the houſe,

6 Unto carpenters, and builders, and maſons, and to buy timber, and hewn ſtone, to repair the houſe.

7 Howbeit, there was no reckoning made with them of the money that was delivered into their hand, becauſe they dealt faithfully.

8 ¶ And Hilkiah the high prieſt ſaid unto Shaphan the ſcribe, I have found the book of the law in the houſe of the Lord: and Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it.

9 And Shaphan the ſcribe came to the king, and brought the king word again, and ſaid, Thy ſervants have gathered the money that was found in the houſe, and have delivered it into the hand of them that do the work, that have the overſight of the houſe of the Lord.

10 And Shaphan the ſcribe ſhewed the king, ſaying, Hilkiah the prieſt hath delivered me a book: and Shaphan read it before the king.

11 And it came to paſs when the king had heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his clothes.

12 And the king commanded Hilkiah the prieſt, and Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan, and Achbor the ſon of Michaiah, and Shaphan the ſcribe, and Aſahiah a ſervant of the king's, ſaying, 13 Go ye, enquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled againſt us, becauſe our fathers have not hearkened unto the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written concerning us.

14 So Hilkiah the prieſt, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, and Aſahiah, went unto Huldah the propheteſs, the wife of Shallum, the ſon of Tikvah, the ſon of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe (now ſhe dwelt in Jeruſalem in the college) and they communed with her.

15 ¶ And ſhe ſaid unto them, thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Tell the man that ſent you to me, 16 Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the words of the book which the king of Judah hath read.

17 Becauſe they have forſaken me, and have burnt incenſe unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands: therefore my wrath ſhall be kindled againſt this place, and ſhall not be quenched.

18 But to the king of Judah, which ſent you to enquire of the Lord, thus ſhall ye ſay to him, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, As touching the words which thou haſt heard;

19 Becauſe thine heart was tender, and thou haſt humbled thyſelf before the Lord, when thou heardeſt what I ſpake againſt this place, and againſt the inhabitants thereof, that they ſhould become a deſolation and a curſe, and haſt rent thy clothes, and wept before me: I alſo have heard thee, ſaith the Lord.

20 Behold therefore, I will gather thee unto thy fathers, and thou ſhalt be gathered into thy grave in peace, and thine eyes ſhall

CHAP. XXI.] 4 He built altars in the houſe of the Lord.] That is, in the very ſanctuary itſelf: for the outward courts are mentioned in the next verſe.

7 And he ſet a graven image of the grove that he had made, in the houſe.] That is, he ſet up a wooden ſtatue of Aſhtaroth or Aſtarte.

13 And I will wipe Jeruſalem as a man wipeth a diſh, &c.] That is, I will take away all the inhabitants, like a diſh is freed from its contents, by wiping and turning it upſide down.

16 Moreover, Manaſſeh ſhed innocent blood, &c.] That is, he put to death the prophets, and all thoſe who oppoſed his impiety; and among the reſt the Jews tell us was the propet Iſaiah, whom he cauſed to be ſawn aſunder.

18 Manaſſeh was buried in the garden of his own houſe.] This garden, according to ſome, was the place where Uzzah was ſtruck dead for touching the ark of the Lord, 2 Sam. vi. 7. but others imagine, that it was the place where Azariah, who died a leper was buried; and that Manaſſeh choſe to be buried there, as unworthy to be laid in the ſepulchres of the kings of Judah.

CHAP. XXII.] 8 I have found the book of the law in the houſe of the Lord.] This was doubtleſs the original book of the law written by Moſes himſelf, and which was, by God's command, laid up in the moſt holy place. The Jews tell us, that Manaſſeh had blotted the name of Jehovah out of all the copies he could find: Hilkiah therefore rejoiced that he had found the original, by which all the reſt might be corrected.

shall not see all the evil which I will bring upon this place. And they brought the king word again.

CHAP. XXIII.

AND the king sent, and they gathered unto him all the elders of Judah, and of Jerusalem.

2 And the king went up into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people both small and great: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant which was found in the house of the Lord.

3 ¶ And the king stood by a pillar, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walk after the Lord, and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes, with all their heart and all their soul, to perform the words of this covenant, that were written in this book: and all the people stood to the covenant.

4 And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, and the priests of the second order, and the keepers of the door, to bring forth out of the temple of the Lord, all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grove, and for all the host of heaven: and he burnt them without Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron, and carried the ashes of them unto Beth-el.

5 And he put down the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had ordained to burn incense in the high places, in the cities of Judah, and in the places round about Jerusalem, them also that burnt incense unto Baal, to the sun, and to the moon, and to the planets, and to all the host of heaven.

6 And he brought out the grove from the house of the Lord, without Jerusalem, unto the brook Kidron, and burnt it at the brook Kidron, and stamped it small to powder, and cast the powder thereof upon the graves of the children of the people.

7 And he brake down the houses of the Sodomites that were by the house of the Lord, where the women wove hangings for the grove.

8 And he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests had burnt incense, from Geba to Beer-sheba, and brake down the high places of the gates that were in the entering in of the gate of Joshua the governor of the city, which were on a man's left hand at the gate of the city.

9 Nevertheless, the priests of the high places came not up to the altar of the Lord in Jerusalem, but they did eat of the unleavened bread among their brethren.

10 And he defiled Topheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man might make his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Molech.

11 And he took away the horses that the kings of Judah had given to the sun, at the entering in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nathan-melech the chamberlain, which was in the suburbs, and burnt the chariots of the sun with fire.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the upper chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the Lord, did the king beat down, and brake them down from thence, and cast the dust of them into the brook Kidron.

13 And the high places that were before Jerusalem, which were on the right hand of the mount of corruption, which Solomon the king of Israel had builded for Ashtoreth the abomination of the Zidonians, and for Chemosh the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the children of Ammon, did the king defile.

14 And he brake in pieces the images, and cut down the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 ¶ Moreover, the altar that was at Beth-el, and the high place which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, had made, both that altar and the high place he brake down, and burnt the high place, and stampt it small to powder, and burnt the grove.

16 And as Josiah turned himself, he spied the sepulchres that were there in the mount, and sent, and took the bones out of the sepulchres, and burnt them upon the altar, and polluted it, according to the word of the Lord, which the man of God proclaimed, who proclaimed these words.

17 Then he said, What title is that that I see? And the men of the city told him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Judah, and proclaimed these things that thou hast done against the altar of Beth-el.

18 And he said, Let him alone, let no man move his bones: so they let his bones alone, with the bones of the prophet that came out of Samaria.

19 And all the houses also of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to provoke the Lord to anger, Josiah took away, and did to them according to all the acts that he had done in Beth-el.

20 And he slew all the priests of the high places that were there, upon the altars, and burnt mens bones upon them, and returned to Jerusalem.

21 ¶ And the king commanded all the people, saying, Keep the passover unto the Lord your God, as it is written in the book of this covenant.

22 Surely there was not holden such a passover, from the days of the judges that judged Israel, nor in all the days of the kings of Israel, nor of the kings of Judah.

23 But in the eighteenth year of king Josiah, wherein this passover was holden to the Lord in Jerusalem.

24 ¶ Moreover, the workers with familiar spirits, and the wizards, and the images, and the idols, and all the abominations that were spied in the land of Judah, and in Jerusalem, did Josiah, put away, that he might perform the words of the law, which were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the Lord.

25 And like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; neither after him arose there any like him.

26 ¶ Notwithstanding, the Lord turned not from the fierceness of his great wrath, wherewith his anger was kindled against Judah; because of all the provocations that Manasseh had provoked him withal.

27 And the Lord said, I will remove Judah also out of my sight, as I have removed Israel, and will cast off this city Jerusalem, which I have chosen, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there.

28 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

29 ¶ In his days Pharaoh-nechoh king of Egypt went up against the king of Assyria to the river Euphrates: and king Josiah went against him, and he slew him at Megiddo, when he had seen him.

30 And his servants carried him in a chariot dead from Megiddo, and brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his own sepulchre: and the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and anointed him, and made him king in his father's stead.

31 ¶ Jehoahaz was twenty and three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

32 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done.

33 And Pharaoh-nechoh put him in bands at Riblah, in the land of Hamath, that he might not reign in Jerusalem, and put the land to a tribute of an hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold.

34 And Pharaoh-nechoh made Eliakim the son of Josiah king, in the room of Josiah his father, and turned his name to Jehoiakim, and took Jehoahaz away: and he came to Egypt, and died there.

35 And Jehoiakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh, but he taxed the land to give the money according to the commandment of Pharaoh; he exacted the silver and gold of the people of the land, of every one according to his taxation, to give it unto Pharaoh-nechoh.

36 ¶ Jehoiakim was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Zebudah, the daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah.

37 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done.

CHAP. XXIV.

IN his days Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and Jehoiakim became his servant three years: then he turned and rebelled against him.

2 And the Lord sent him bands of the Chaldees, and bands of the Syrians, and bands of the Moabites, and bands of the children of Ammon, and sent them against Judah to destroy it, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by his servants the prophets.

3 Surely

CHAP. XXIII.] 6 And he brought out the grove from the house of the Lord.] That is, he brought out Ashteroth, or the image of the grove.

11 And he took away the horses that the kings of Judah had given to the sun, &c.] It is certain that all the people of the East worshipped the sun, and consecrated horses to it, because they were nimble and swift in their course.

13 Mount of corruption.] That is, the mount of Olives, but called by the prophets the Mount of Corruption, from the idols that were placed there, and which corrupted the people from their religion.

16 According to the word of the Lord, &c.] These very transactions were foretold by the man of God from Judah, three hundred and sixty years before they happened.

22 Surely there was not holden such a passover from the days of the judges, &c.] That is, the rites and ceremonies of this feast were more strictly observed now, than they had ever been since the days of Samuel, it being held according to the ancient form prescribed in the authentic book of the law, lately found by Hilkiah the priest.

34 He took Jehoahaz away, and he came to Egypt and died there.] Thus the prophecy of Jeremiah was literally fulfilled, Weep ye not for the dead (i. e. for Josiah) neither bemoan him, but weep sore for him that goeth away; for he shall return no more, nor see his native country, &c. but he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, Jer. xxii. 10, 11, 12.

3 Surely at the commandment of the Lord came this upon Judah, to remove them out of his ſight, for the ſins of Manaſſeh, according to all that he did:

4 And alſo for the innocent blood that he ſhed (for he filled Jeruſalem with innocent blood) which the Lord would not pardon:

5 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

6 So Jehoiakim ſlept with his fathers: and Jehoiachin his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

7 And the king of Egypt came not again any more out of his land: for the king of Babylon had taken from the river of Egypt unto the river Euphrates, all that pertained to the king of Egypt.

8 ¶ Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jeruſalem three months: and his mother's name was Nehuſhta, the daughter of Elnathan of Jeruſalem.

9 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that his father had done.

10 ¶ At that time the ſervants of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up againſt Jeruſalem, and the city was beſieged.

11 And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came againſt the city, and his ſervants did beſiege it.

12 And Jehoiachin the king of Judah went out to the king of Babylon, he and his mother, and his ſervants, and his princes, and his officers: and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year of his reign.

13 And he carried out thence all the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and the treaſures of the king's houſe, and cut in pieces all the veſſels of gold which Solomon king of Iſrael had made in the temple of the Lord, as the Lord had ſaid.

14 And he carried away all Jeruſalem, and all the princes, and all the mighty men of valour, even ten thouſand captives, and all the craftſmen, and ſmiths: none remained, ſave the pooreſt ſort of the people of the land.

15 And he carried away Jehoiachin to Babylon, and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his officers, and the mighty of the land, thoſe carried he into captivity, from Jeruſalem to Babylon.

16 And all the men of might, even ſeven thouſand, and craftſmen, and ſmiths a thouſand, all that were ſtrong and apt for war, even them the king of Babylon brought captive to Babylon.

17 ¶ And the king of Babylon made Mattaniah his father's brother king in his ſtead, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18 Zedekiah was twenty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

19 And he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

20 For through the anger of the Lord it came to paſs in Jeruſalem and Judah, until he had caſt them out from his preſence, that Zedekiah rebelled againſt the king of Babylon.

CHAP. XXV.

AND it came to paſs in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he, and all his hoſt, againſt Jeruſalem, and pitched againſt it, and they built forts againſt it round about.

2 And the city was beſieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.

3 And on the ninth day of the fourth month, the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 ¶ And the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled by night, by the way of the gate, between two walls, which is by the king's garden (now the Chaldees were againſt the city round about) and the king went the way toward the plain.

5 And the army of the Chaldees purſued after the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho: and all his army were ſcattered from him.

6 So they took the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon, to Riblah, and they gave judgment upon him.

7 And they ſlew the ſons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with fetters of braſs, and carried him to Babylon.

8 ¶ And in the fifth month, on the ſeventh day of the month (which is the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon) came Nebuzar-adan captain of the guard, a ſervant of the king of Babylon, unto Jeruſalem.

9 And he burnt the houſe of the Lord, and the king's houſe, and all the houſes of Jeruſalem, and every great man's houſe burnt he with fire.

10 And all the army of the Chaldees that were with the captain of the guard, brake down the walls of Jeruſalem round about.

11 Now the reſt of the people that were left in the city, and the fugitives that fell away to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carry away.

12 But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land, to be vine dreſſers, and huſbandmen.

13 And the pillars of braſs that were in the houſe of the Lord, and the baſes, and the braſen ſea that was in the houſe of the Lord, did the Chaldees break in pieces, and carried the braſs of them to Babylon.

14 And the pots, and the ſhovels, and the ſnuffers, and the ſpoons, and all the veſſels of braſs wherewith they miniſtered took they away.

15 And the fire-pans, and the bowls, and ſuch things as were of gold, in gold, and of ſilver, in ſilver, the captain of the guard took away.

16 The two pillars, one ſea, and the baſes which Solomon had made for the houſe of the Lord, the braſs of all theſe veſſels was without weight.

17 The height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits, and the chapiter upon it was braſs: and the height of the chapiter three cubits: and the wreathen-work, and pomegranates upon the chapiter round about, all of braſs: and like unto theſe had the ſecond pillar with wreathen-work.

18 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief prieſt, and Zephaniah the ſecond prieſt, and the three keepers of the door:

19 And out of the city he took an officer, that was ſet over the men of war, and five men of them that were in the king's preſence, which were found in the city, and the principal ſcribe of the hoſt, which muſtered the people of the land, and threeſcore men of the people of the land, that were found in the city.

20 And Nebuzar-adan, captain of the guard, took theſe, and brought them to the king of Babylon, to Riblah.

21 And the king of Babylon ſmote them, and ſlew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away out of their land.

22 ¶ And as for the people that remained in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had left, even over them he made Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam, the ſon of Shaphan, ruler.

23 And when all the captains of the armies, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah governor, there came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, and Johanan the ſon of Careah, and Seraiah the ſon of Tanumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah the ſon of a Maachathite, they and their men.

24 And Gedaliah ſware to them, and to their men, and ſaid unto them, Fear not to be the ſervants of the Chaldees; dwell in the land, and ſerve the king of Babylon, and it ſhall be well with you.

25 But it came to paſs in the ſeventh month, that Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, the ſon of Eliſhama, of the ſeed royal, came, and ten men with him, and ſmote Gedaliah, that he died, and the Jews and the Chaldees that were with him at Mizpah.

26 And all the people both ſmall and great, and the captains of the armies aroſe, and came to Egypt: for they were afraid of the Chaldees.

27 ¶ And it came to paſs in the ſeven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the ſeven and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the year that he began to reign, did lift up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah out of priſon.

28 And he ſpake kindly to him, and ſet his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon, 29 And changed his priſon-garments: and he did eat bread continually before him all the days of his life.

30 And his allowance was a continual allowance given him of the king, a daily rate for every day, all the days of his life.

CHAP. XXIV.] 3 Surely at the commandment of the Lord came this upon Judah, &c.] Manaſſeh had ſo corrupted the whole body of the people, that all Joſiah's pains to reform them were of no effect: and accordingly we find, that, immediately upon his death, his ſon relapſed into the old idolatry.

13 And cut in pieces all the veſſels of gold which Solomon had made in the temple of the Lord.] That is, he carried them with him to Babylon, or cut them off from the temple; for theſe veſſels were preſerved entire, and not cut to pieces, as appears from Dan. v. 2.

CHAP. XXV.] 4 All the men of war fled by night, by the way of the gate, between two walls.] But as no ſuch paſſage is mentioned by the ſacred hiſtorian, it ſeems probable, that the Chaldeans being now making their aſſault in the oppoſite part of the city, this was left unguarded.

9 He burnt the houſe of the Lord.] Thus was the celebrated temple built by Solomon laid in aſhes, after it had ſtood four hundred and twenty four years three months and eight days, according to arch-biſhop Uſher's computation.

THE

THE

First BOOK of the CHRONICLES:

The ARGUMENT.

It is uncertain which were first written, the books of the Kings, or the Chronicles, since they each refer to the other. However that be, the latter are often more full and comprehensive than the former; whence the Greek interpreters call these two books Paraleipomena, i. e. Supplements, or Additions, because they contain many circumstances omitted in the other historical books. The Jews make only one book of the Chronicles, under the title of Dibre-Hianim, i. e. Journals, or Annals. Ezra is generally believed to be the author of these books; though others think he only digested them. It is certain they were written after the end of the Babylonish captivity, and in the first year of the reign of Cyrus, mention being made of that prince in the last chapter of the second book.

Commentary on the First Book of Chronicles.

CHAP. I.] 17 Uz, and Hul, and Gether and Meshech.] These were not the sons, but the grandsons of Shem, by Aram his youngest son, as appears from Gen. x. 22. But the scripture generally calls grandsons by the name of sons. Thus Laban is called the son of Nahor, though he was only his grandson by Bethuel, Gen. xxix. 5.

38 And the sons of Seir; Lotan, and Shobal, &c.] This Seir was neither Esau, nor any of his posterity; but the ancient lord of the country of Seir, and from whom it doubtless had its name.

(which smote Midian in the field of Moab) reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was Avith.

47 And when Hadad was dead, Samlah of Masrekah reigned in his stead.

48 And when Samlah was dead, Shaul of Rehoboth by the river, reigned in his stead.

53 Duke Kenaz, duke Teman, duke Mibzar,

54 Duke Magdiel, duke Iram. These are the dukes of Edom.

CHAP. II.

2 Dan, Joseph, and Benjamin, Naphtali, Gad, and Asher.

3 ¶ The sons of Judah; Er, and Onan, and Shelah: which three were born unto him of the daughter of Shua the Canaanitess. And Er, the first-born of Judah, was evil in the sight of the Lord, and he slew him.

20 And Hur begat Uri, and Uri begat Bezaleel.

21 ¶ And afterward Hezron went in to the daughter of Machir, the father of Gilead, whom he married when he was threescore years old, and she bare him Segub.

22 And Segub begat Jair, who had three and twenty cities in the land of Gilead.

23 And he took Geshur, and Aram, with the towns of Jair, from them, with Kenath and the towns thereof, even threescore cities: all these belonged to the sons of Machir, the father of Gilead.

CHAP. II.] 3 The sons of Judah.] The true reason why Judah is here placed first is, because the Saviour of the world, the desire of all nations, was to spring from that tribe, according to the celebrated prophecy of Jacob: The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a law-giver from between his feet, until Shiloh come, Gen. xlix. 10.

7 Achar, the troubler of Israel.] His true name was Achan, Jos. vii. but is here called Achar, which signifies troubler; because of the sin he committed in the accursed thing, and brought wrath upon the whole congregation.

18 And his ſiſter Hammoleketh bare Iſhod, and Abiezer, and Mahalah.
19 And the ſons of Shemida were Ahian, and Shechem, and Likhi, and Aniam.
20 ¶ And the ſons of Ephraim; Shuthelah and Bered his ſon, and Tahath his ſon, and Eladah his ſon, and Tahath his ſon, 21 ¶ And Zabad his ſon, and Shuthelah his ſon, and Ezer, and Elead, whom the men of Gath, that were born in that land, ſlew, becauſe they came down to take away their cattle.
22 And Ephraim their father mourned many days, and his brethren came to comfort him.
23 ¶ And when he went in to his wife, ſhe conceived and bare a ſon, and he called his name Beriah, becauſe it went evil with his houſe.
24 (And his daughter was Sherah, who built Beth-horon the nether, and the upper, and Uzzen-ſherah)
25 And Rephah was his ſon, alſo Reſheph, and Telah his ſon, and Tahan his ſon, 26 Laadan his ſon, Ammihud his ſon, Eliſhama his ſon,
27 Non his ſon, Jehoſhua his ſon.
28 ¶ And their poſſeſſions and habitations were Beth-el, and the towns thereof, and eaſtward Naaran, and weſtward Gezer with the towns thereof, Shechem alſo and the towns thereof, unto Gaza and the towns thereof:
29 And by the borders of the children of Manaſſeh, Beth-ſhean and her towns, Taanach and her towns, Megiddo and her towns, Dor and her towns. In theſe dwelt the children of Joſeph the ſon of Iſrael.
30 ¶ The ſons of Aſher; Imnah, and Iſuah, and Iſhuai, and Beriah, and Serah their ſiſter.
31 And the ſons of Beriah; Heber, and Malchiel, who is the father of Birzavith.
32 And Heber begat Japhlet, and Shomer, and Hotham, and Shuah their ſiſter.
33 And the ſons of Japhlet; Paſach, and Bimhal, and Aſhvath: theſe are the children of Japhlet.
34 And the ſons of Shamar; Ahi, and Rohgah, Jehubbah, and Aram.
35 And the ſons of his brother Helem, Zophah, and Imna, and Sheleſh, and Amal.
36 The ſons of Zophah; Suah, and Harnepher, and Shual, and Beri, and Imrah, 37 Bezer, and Hod, and Shamma, and Shilſhah, and Ithran, and Beera.
38 And the ſons of Jether; Jephunneh, and Piſpah, and Ara.
39 And the ſons of Ulla; Arah, and Haniel, and Rezia.
40 All theſe were the children of Aſher, heads of their father's houſe, choice and mighty men of valour, chief of the princes. And the number throughout the genealogy of them that were apt to the war, and to battle, was twenty and ſix thouſand men.

CHAP. VIII.

NOW Benjamin begat Bela his firſt-born, Aſhbel the ſecond, and Aharah the third,
2 Nohah the fourth, and Rapha the fifth.
3 And the ſons of Bela were Addar, and Gera, and Abihud,
4 And Abiſhua, and Naaman, and Ahoah,
5 And Gera, and Shephuphan, and Huram.
6 And theſe are the ſons of Ehud: theſe are the heads of the fathers of the inhabitants of Geba, and they removed them to Manahath:
7 And Naaman, and Ahiah and Gera, he removed them, and begat Uzza, and Ahiud.
8 And Sharahim begat children in the country of Moab, after he had ſent them away; Huſhim and Baara were his wives.
9 And he begat of Hodeſh his wife, Jobab, and Zibia, and Meſha, and Malcham, 10 And Jeuz, and Shachia, and Mirma. Theſe were his ſons, heads of the fathers.
11 And of Huſhim he begat Ahitub, and Elpaal.
12 The ſons of Elpaal; Eber, and Miſham, and Shamed, who built Ono, and Lod with the towns thereof;
13 Beriah alſo and Shema, who were heads of the fathers of the inhabitants of Aijalon, who drove away the inhabitants of Gath:
14 And Ahio, Shaſhak, and Jeremoth,
15 And Zebadiah, and Arad, and Ader,
16 And Michael, and Iſpah, and Joha, the ſons of Beriah;
17 And Zebadiah, and Meſhullam, and Hezeki, and Heber,
18 Iſhmerai alſo, and Jezliah, and Jobab, the ſons of Elpaal;
19 And Jakim, and Zichri, and Zabdi,
20 And Elienai, and Zilthai, and Eliel,
21 And Adaiah, and Beraiah, and Shimrath, the ſons of Shimhi;
22 And Iſhpan, and Heber, and Eliel,
23 And Abdon, and Zichri, and Hanan,
24 And Hananiah, and Elam, and Antothijah,
25 And Iphedeiah, and Penuel, the ſons of Shaſhak;
26 And Shamſherai, and Shehariah, and Ataliah,
27 And Jareſiah, and Eliah, and Zichri, the ſons of Jeroham.
28 Theſe were heads of the fathers by their generations, chief men. Theſe dwelt in Jeruſalem.
29 And at Gibeon dwelt the father of Gibeon (whoſe wife's name was Maachah)
30 And his firſt-born ſon Abdon, and Zur, and Kiſh, and Baal, and Nadab, 31 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zacher.
32 And Mikloth begat Shimeah. And theſe alſo dwelt with their brethren in Jeruſalem, over againſt them,
33 ¶ And

CHAP. VII.] 21 Whom the men of Gath, that were born in that land, ſlew, becauſe they came down to take away their cattle.] This is the only place in the ſacred writings where this piece of hiſtory is mentioned, and probably the tranſaction happened before the children of Iſrael came out of the land of Egypt; for it appears, from the following verſe, that Ephraim was alive when theſe children of his were ſlain.

CHAP. VIII.] 13 Who were the heads of the fathers of the inhabitants of Aijalon, who drove away the inhabitants of Gath.] This was probably done in revenge for the ſlaughter they had anciently made of their brethren the Ephraimites.

33 ¶ And Ner begat Kiſh, and Kiſh begat Saul, and Saul begat Jonathan, and Malchi-ſhua, and Abinadab, and Eſh-baal.

34 And the ſon of Jonathan was Merib-baal; and Merib-baal begat Micah.

35 And the ſons of Micah were, Pithon, and Melech, and Tarea, and Ahaz.

36 And Ahaz begat Jehoadah, and Jehoadah begat Alemeth, and Azmaveth, and Zimri; and Zimri begat Moza,

37 And Moza begat Binea: Rapha was his ſon, Eleaſah his ſon, Azel his ſon:

38 And Azel had ſix ſons, whoſe names are theſe, Azrikam, Bocheru, and Iſhmael, and Shearíah, and Obadiah, and Hanan. All theſe were the ſons of Azel.

39 And the ſons of Eſhek his brother were, Ulam his firſt-born, Jehuſh the ſecond, and Eliphelet the third.

40 And the ſons of Ulam were mighty men of valour, archers, and had many ſons, and ſons ſons, an hundred and fifty. All theſe are of the ſons of Benjamin.

CHAP. IX.

SO all Iſrael were reckoned by genealogies, and behold, they were written in the book of the kings of Iſrael and Judah, who were carried away to Babylon for their tranſgreſſion:

2 ¶ Now the firſt inhabitants that dwelt in their poſſeſſions in their cities were, the Iſraelites, the prieſts, Levites, and the Nethinims.

3 And in Jeruſalem dwelt of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin, and of the children of Ephraim, and Manaſſeh:

4 Uthai the ſon of Ammihud, the ſon of Omri, the ſon of Imri, the ſon of Bani, of the children of Pharez the ſon of Judah.

5 And of the Shilonites: Aſaiah the firſt-born, and his ſons.

6 And of the ſons of Zerah; Jeuel, and their brethren, ſix hundred and ninety.

7 And of the ſons of Benjamin; Sallu the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon of Hodaviah, the ſon of Haſenuah,

8 And Ibneiah the ſon of Jeroham, and Elah the ſon of Uzzi, the ſon of Michri, and Meſhullam the ſon of Shephathiah, the ſon of Reuel, the ſon of Ibnijah,

9 And their brethren according to their generations, nine hundred and fifty and ſix. All theſe men were chief of the fathers in the houſe of their fathers.

10 ¶ And of the prieſts; Jedaiah, and Jehoiarib, and Jachin.

11 And Azariah the ſon of Hilkiah, the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon of Zadok, the ſon of Meraioth, the ſon of Ahitub, the ruler of the houſe of God, 12 And Adaiah the ſon of Jeroham, the ſon of Paſhur, the ſon of Malchijah, and Maaſiai the ſon of Adiel, the ſon of Jahzerah, the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon of Meſhillemith, the ſon of Immer.

13 And their brethren, heads of the houſe of their fathers, a thouſand and ſeven hundred and threeſcore; very able men for the work of the ſervice of the houſe of God.

14 And of the Levites; Shemaiah the ſon of Haſhub, the ſon of Azrikam, the ſon of Haſhabiah, of the ſons of Merari, 15 And Bakbakker, Hereſh, and Galal, and Mattaniah the ſon of Micah, the ſon of Zichri, the ſon of Aſaph.

16 And Obadiah the ſon of Shemaiah, the ſon of Galal, the ſon of Jeduthun, and Berechiah the ſon of Aſa, the ſon of Elkanah, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.

17 And the porters were Shallum, and Akkub, and Talmon, and Ahiman, and their brethren: Shallum was the chief.

18 (Who hitherto waited in the king's gate eaſtward) They were porters in the companies of the children of Levi.

19 And Shallum the ſon of Kore, the ſon of Ebiaſaph, the ſon of Korah, and his brethren; (of the houſe of his father) the Korahites were over the work of the ſervice, keepers of the gates of the tabernacle: and their fathers being over the hoſt of the Lord, were keepers of the entry.

20 And Phinehas the ſon of Eleazar was the ruler over them in time paſt, and the Lord was with him.

21 And Zechariah the ſon of Meſhelemiah, was porter of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

22 All theſe which were choſen to be porters in the gates, were two hundred and twelve. Theſe were reckoned by their genealogy in their villages: whom David and Samuel the ſeer did ordain in their ſet office.

23 So they and their children had the overſight of the gates of the houſe of the Lord, namely the houſe of the tabernacle, by wards.

24 In four quarters were the porters, toward the eaſt, weſt, north, and ſouth.

25 And their brethren, which were in their villages, were to come after ſeven days from time to time with them.

16 For theſe Levites, the four chief porters, were in their ſet office, and were over the chambers and treaſuries of the houſe of God.

27 ¶ And they lodged round about the houſe of God, becauſe the charge was upon them, and the opening thereof every morning pertained to them.

28 And certain of them had the charge of the miniſtering veſſels, that they ſhould bring them in and out by tale.

29 Some of them alſo were appointed to overſee the veſſels, and all the inſtruments of the ſanctuary, and the fine flour, and the wine, and the oil, and the frankincenſe, and the ſpices.

30 And ſome of the ſons of the prieſts made the ointment of the ſpices.

31 And Mattithiah, one of the Levites, who was the firſt-born of Shallum the Korahite had the ſet office over the things that were made in the pans.

32 And other of their brethren of the ſons of the Kohathites, were over the ſhew-bread to prepare it every ſabbath.

33 And theſe are the ſingers, chief of the fathers of the Levites, who remaining in the chambers, were free: for they were employed in that work day and night.

34 Theſe chief fathers of the Levites were chief throughout their generations; theſe dwelt at Jeruſalem.

35 ¶ And in Gibeon dwelt the father of Gibeon, Jehiel, whoſe wife's name was Maachah:

36 And his firſt-born ſon Abdon, then Zur, and Kiſh, and Baal, and Ner, and Nadab,

36 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zechariah, and Mikloth,

38 And Mikloth begat Shimeam: and they alſo dwelt with their brethren at Jeruſalem, over againſt their brethren.

39 And Ner begat Kiſh, and Kiſh begat Saul, and Saul begat Jonathan, and Malchiſhua, and Abinadab and Eſh-baal.

40 And the ſon of Jonathan was Merib-baal: and Merib-baal begat Micah.

41 And the ſons of Micah were Pithon, and Melech, and Tahrea, and Ahaz.

42 And Ahaz begat Jarah, and Jarah begat Alemeth, and Azmaveth, and Zimri; and Zimri begat Moza, 43 And Moza begat Binea; and Rephaiah his ſon, Eleaſah his ſon, Azel his ſon.

44 And Azel had ſix ſons, whoſe names are theſe; Azrikam, Bocheru, and Iſhmael, and Shearíah, and Obadiah, and Hanan. Theſe were the ſons of Azel.

CHAP. X.

NOW the Philiſtines fought againſt Iſrael, and the men of Iſrael fled from before the Philiſtines, and fell down ſlain in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philiſtines followed hard after Saul, and after his ſons, and the Philiſtines ſlew Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchiſhua, the ſons of Saul.

3 And the battle went ſore againſt Saul, and the archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then ſaid Saul to his armour-bearer, Draw thy ſword, and thruſt me through therewith; leſt theſe uncircumciſed come, and abuſe me. But his armour-bearer would not, for he was ſore afraid. So Saul took a ſword and fell upon it.

5 And when his armour-bearer ſaw that Saul was dead, he fell likewiſe on the ſword, and died.

6 So Saul died, and his three ſons, and all his houſe died together.

7 And when all the men of Iſrael that were in the valley, ſaw that they fled, and that Saul and his ſons were dead; then they forſook their cities, and fled: and the Philiſtines came and dwelt in them.

8 ¶ And it came to paſs on the morrow, when the Philiſtines came to ſtrip the ſlain, that they found Saul and his ſons fallen in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had ſtripped him, they took his head, and his armour, and ſent into the land of the Philiſtines round about, to carry tidings unto their idols, and to the people.

10 And they put his armour in the houſe of their gods, and faſtened his head in the temple of Dagon.

11 ¶ And when all Jabeſh-gilead heard all that the Philiſtines had done to Saul;

12 They

40 And the ſons of Ulam were mighty men of valour, archers.] The Hebrew word, which we render archers, ſignifies thoſe that tread the bow; becauſe their ſteel bows were ſo ſtrong, that they could not bend them with their arms, but ſat down, and preſſing them with their feet, drew the arrow with both hands, that it might fly with the greater force.

CHAP. IX.] 3 And in Jeruſalem dwelt of the children of Judah, &c.] Hence we may obſerve, that ſome of the ten tribes returned with thoſe of Judah and Benjamin. Indeed, the proclamation of Cyrus excepted none, but gave all the people of that nation liberty to return to their own country.

11 The ruler of the houſe of God.] Or rather, a ruler in the houſe of God; for he was not high prieſt, that office being filled by Jeſhua, or Joſhua, as we learn from Ezra iii. 2, and Haggai i. 1.

33 They were employed in that work day and night.] That is, they were conſtantly employed with their brethren to ſing, and play on different kinds of muſical inſtruments, as appears from chap. xxvi.

CHAP. X.] 1 Now the Philiſtines fought againſt Iſrael.] This hiſtory has already been related in 1 Sam. xxxi. and nearly in the ſame words; but is here repeated to introduce the hiſtory of David, who after Saul's death aſcended the throne of Iſrael.

6 So Saul died, and his three ſons, and all his houſe died together.] That is, all the perſons of his houſe, that were preſent with him at this battle. Nor did his family ever recover itſelf after this terrible blow.

12 They aroſe, all the valiant men, and took away the body of Saul, and the bodies of his ſons, and brought them to Jabeſh, and buried their bones under the oak in Jabeſh, and faſted ſeven days.

13 ¶ So Saul died for his tranſgreſſion which he committed againſt the Lord, even againſt the word of the Lord, which he kept not, and alſo for aſking counſel of one that had a familiar ſpirit, to enquire of it;

14 And enquired not of the Lord: therefore he ſlew him, and turned the kingdom unto David the ſon of Jeſſe.

CHAP. XI.

THEN all Iſrael gathered themſelves to David, unto Hebron, ſaying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy fleſh.

2 And moreover in time paſt, even when Saul was king, thou waſt he that leddeſt out, and broughteſt in Iſrael: and the Lord thy God ſaid unto thee, Thou ſhalt feed my people Iſrael, and thou ſhalt be ruler over my people Iſrael.

3 Therefore came all the elders of Iſrael to the king to Hebron, and David made a covenant with them in Hebron, before the Lord, and they anointed David king over Iſrael, according to the word of the Lord, by Samuel.

4 ¶ And David and all Iſrael went to Jeruſalem, which is Jebus, where the Jebuſites were the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Jebus ſaid to David, Thou ſhalt not come hither. Nevertheleſs, David took the caſtle of Zion, which is the city of David.

6 And David ſaid, Whoſoever ſmiteth the Jebuſites firſt, ſhall be chief and captain. So Joab the ſon of Zeruiah went firſt up, and was chief.

7 And David dwelt in the caſtle, therefore they called it, The city of David.

8 And he built the city round about, even from Millo round about: and Joab repaired the reſt of the city.

9 So David waxed greater and greater: for the Lord of hoſts was with him.

10 Theſe alſo are the chief of the mighty men whom David had, who ſtrengthened themſelves with him in his kingdom, and with all Iſrael to make him king, according to the word of the Lord, concerning Iſrael.

11 And this is the number of the mighty men whom David had; Jaſhobeam an Hachmonite, the chief of the captains: he lifted up his ſpear againſt three hundred, ſlain by him at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the ſon of Dodo the Ahohite, who was one of the three mighties.

13 He was with David at Paſ-dammim, and there the Philiſtines were gathered together to battle, where was a parcel of ground full of barley, and the people fled from before the Philiſtines.

14 And they ſet themſelves in the midſt of that parcel and delivered it, and ſlew the Philiſtines; and the Lord ſaved them by a great deliverance.

15 ¶ Now three of the thirty captains went down to the rock to David, into the cave of Adullam, and the hoſt of the Philiſtines encamped in the valley of Rhephaim.

16 And David was then in the hold, and the Philiſtines' garriſon was then at Beth-lehem.

17 And David longed and ſaid, Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Beth-lehem, that is at the gate!

18 And the three brake through the hoſt of the Philiſtines, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to David: but David would not drink of it, but poured it out to the Lord,

19 And ſaid, My God forbid it me, that I ſhould do this thing: ſhall I drink the blood of theſe men that have put their lives in jeopardy? for with the jeopardy of their lives they brought it: therefore he would not drink it. Theſe things did theſe three mightieſt.

20 ¶ And Abiſhai the brother of Joab, he was chief of the three: for lifting up his ſpear againſt three hundred, he ſlew them, and had a name among the three.

21 Of the three, he was more honourable than the two, for he was their captain; howbeit, he attained not to the firſt three.

22 Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, the ſon of a valiant man of Kabzeel, who had done many acts, he ſlew two lion-like men of Moab; alſo he went down and ſlew a lion in a pit in a ſnowy day.

23 And he ſlew an Egyptian, a man of great ſtature, five cubits high, and in the Egyptian's hand was a ſpear like a weaver's beam, and he went down to him with a ſtaff, and plucked the ſpear out of the Egyptian's hand, and ſlew him with his own ſpear.

24 Theſe things did Benaiah the ſon of Jehoiada, and had the name among the three mighties.

25 Behold, he was honourable among the thirty, but attained not to the firſt three: and David ſet him over his guard.

26 ¶ Alſo the valiant men of the armies were Aſahel the brother of Joab, Elhanan the ſon of Dodo of Beth-lehem,

27 Shammoth the Harorite, Helez the Pelonite,

28 Ira the ſon of Ikkeſh the Tekoite, Abiezer the Antothite,

29 Sibbecai the Huſhathite, Ilai the Ahohite,

30 Maharai the Netophathite, Heled the ſon of Baanah the Netophathite,

31 Ithai the ſon of Ribai of Gibeah, that pertained to the children of Benjamin, Benaiah the Pirathonite,

32 Hurai of the brooks of Gaaſh, Abiel the Arbathite,

33 Azmaveth the Baharumite, Eliahba, the Shaalbonite,

34 The ſons of Haſhem the Gizonite, Jonathan the ſon of Shage the Hararite,

35 Ahiam the ſon of Sacar the Hararite, Eliphal the ſon of Ur,

36 Hepher the Mecherathite, Ahijah the Pelonite,

37 Hezro the Carmelite, Naarai the ſon of Ezbai,

38 Joel the brother of Nathan, Mibhar the ſon of Haggeri,

39 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai the Berothite, the armour-bearer of Joab the ſon of Zeruiah.

40 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,

41 Uriah the Hittite, Zabad the ſon of Ahlai,

42 Adina the ſon of Shiza the Reubenite, a captain of the Reubenites, and thirty with him,

43 Hanan the ſon of Maachah, and Joſhaphat the Mithnite,

44 Uzziah the Aſhterathite, Shama and Jehiel the ſons of Hothan the Aroerite,

45 Jediael the ſon of Shimri, and Joha his brother, the Tizite,

46 Eliel the Mahavite, and Jeribai, and Joſhaviah, the ſons of Elnaam, and Ithmah the Moabite, 47 Eliel, and Obed, and Jaſiel the Meſobaite.

CHAP. XII.

NOW theſe are they that came to David to Ziklag, while he yet kept himſelf cloſe, becauſe of Saul the ſon of Kiſh: and they were among the mighty men, helpers of the war.

2 They were armed with bows, and could uſe both the right hand and the left, in hurling ſtones, and ſhooting arrows out of a bow, even of Saul's brethren of Benjamin.

3 The chief was Ahiezer, then Joaſh the ſons of Shemaah the Gibeathite, and Jeziel, and Pelet, the ſons of Azmaveth and Berachah, and Jehu the Antothite,

4 And Iſmaiah the Gibeonite, a mighty man among the thirty, and over the thirty, and Jeremiah, and Jahaziel, and Johanah, and Joſabad the Gederathite,

5 Eluzai, and Jerimoth, and Bealiah, and Shemariah, and Shephatiah the Harup hite,

6 Elkanah, and Jeſiah, and Azareel, and Joezer, and Jaſhobeam, the Korhites,

7 And Joelah, and Zebadiah the ſons of Jeroham of Gedor.

8 And of the Gadites there ſeparated themſelves unto David, into the hold to the wilderneſs, men of might, and men of war fit for the battle, that could handle ſhield and buckler, whoſe faces were like the faces of lions, and were as ſwift as the roes upon the mountains.

9 Ezer the firſt, Obadiah the ſecond, Eliab the third,

10 Miſhmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth,

11 Attai the ſixth, Eliel the ſeventh,

12 Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth,

13 Jeremiah the tenth, Machbanai the eleventh,

14 Theſe were of the ſons of Gad, captains of the hoſt: one of the leaſt was over an hundred, and the greateſt over a thouſand.

15 Theſe are they that went over Jordan in the firſt month, when it had overflown all his banks, and they put to flight all them of the valleys, both toward the eaſt, and toward the weſt.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin and Judah, to the hold unto David.

17 And David went out to meet them, and anſwered and ſaid unto them, If ye be come peaceably unto me to help me, mine heart ſhall be knit unto you: but if ye be come to betray me to mine enemies, ſeeing there is no wrong in mine hands, the God of our fathers look thereon, and rebuke it.

18 Then the ſpirit came upon Amaſai, who was chief of the captains, and he ſaid, Thine are we, David, and on thy ſide, thou

13 So Saul died for his tranſgreſſion, &c.] The two principal crimes of this monarch were his ſparing the Amalekites, and his conſulting the witch of Endor.

CHAP. XI.] 3 According to the word of the Lord by Samuel.] Theſe words are not found in the book of Samuel, but are here added to ſhew how the people came to know that God had promiſed the kingdom to David.

11 And this is the number of mighty men whom David had, &c.] An account of theſe mighty men has already been given, 2 Sam. xxiii. and proper remarks added, which the reader is therefore deſired to conſult.

CHAP. XII.] 1 Now theſe are they that came to David to Ziklag.] The ſacred writer thought proper here to mention thoſe perſons who joined David in his exile, as they are omitted in the book of Samuel.

2 Even of Saul's brethren of Benjamin.] Something very extraordinary muſt have happened, to induce Saul's kindred to forſake him. Poſſibly they could not bear to ſee an innocent perſon perſecuted in ſo violent manner, eſpecially after he had refuſed to hurt the perſon who thus purſued him, when he had it in his power.

18 The ſpirit came upon Amaſai.] That is, God inſpired him with an intrepid boldneſs and reſolution to profeſs in the name of his companions, their fidelity to David in ſuch pathetic words, as convinced him they were really his friends.

thou ſon of Jeſſe: Peace, peace be unto thee, and peace be to thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. Then David received them, and made them captains of the band.

19 And there fell ſome of Manaſſeh to David (when he came with the Philiſtines againſt Saul to battle, but they helped them not, for the lords of the Philiſtines, upon adviſement ſent him away, ſaying, He will fall to his maſter Saul, to the jeopardy of our heads.)

20 As he went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manaſſeh, Adnah, and Jozabad, and Jediael, and Michael, and Jozabad, and Elihu, and Zilthai, captains of the thouſands that were of Manaſſeh.

21 And they helped David againſt the band of the rovers: for they were all mighty men of valour, and were captains in the hoſt.

22 For at that time day by day, there came to David to help him, until it was a great hoſt, like the hoſt of God.

23 ¶ And theſe are the numbers of the bands that were ready armed to the war, and came to David to Hebron, to turn the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The children of Judah that bare ſhield, and ſpear, were ſix thouſand and eight hundred, ready armed to the war.

25 Of the children of Simeon, mighty men of valour for the war, ſeven thouſand and one hundred.

26 Of the children of Levi, four thouſand and ſix hundred.

27 And Jehoiada was the leader of the Aaronites, and with him were three thouſand and ſeven hundred.

28 And Zadok a young man mighty of valour, and of his father's houſe twenty and two captains.

29 And of the children of Benjamin the kindred of Saul, three thouſand: for hitherto the greateſt part of them had kept the ward of the houſe of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim, twenty thouſand and eight hundred, mighty men of valour, famous throughout the houſe of their fathers.

31 And of the half-tribe of Manaſſeh, eighteen thouſand which were expreſſed by name, to come and make David king.

32 And of the children of Iſſachar, which were men that had underſtanding of the times, to know what Iſrael ought to do: the heads of them were two hundred, and all their brethren were at their commandment.

33 Of Zebulun, ſuch as went forth to battle, expert in war, with all inſtruments of war, fifty thouſand, which could keep rank: they were not of double heart.

34 And of Naphtali a thouſand captains, and with them, with ſhield and ſpear, thirty and ſeven thouſand.

35 And of the Danites expert in war, twenty and eight thouſand and ſix hundred.

36 And of Aſher, ſuch as went forth to battle, expert in war, forty thouſand.

37 And on the other ſide of Jordan, of the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and of the half-tribe of Manaſſeh, with all manner of inſtruments of war for the battle, an hundred and twenty thouſand.

38 All theſe men of war, that could keep rank, came with a perfect heart to Hebron, to make David king over all Iſrael: and all the reſt alſo of Iſrael, were of one heart to make David king.

39 And there they were with David three days, eating and drinking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover, they that were nigh them, even unto Iſſachar, and Zebulun, and Naphtali, brought bread on aſſes, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, and meat, meal, cakes of figs, and bunches of raiſins, and wine, and oil, and oxen, and ſheep abundantly, for there was joy in Iſrael.

CHAP. XIII.

AND David conſulted with the captains of thouſands, and hundreds, and with every leader.

2 And David ſaid unto all the congregation of Iſrael, If it ſeem good unto you, and that it be of the Lord our God, let us ſend abroad unto our brethren every where, that are left in all the land of Iſrael, and with them alſo to the prieſts and Levites which are in their cities and ſuburbs, that they may gather themſelves unto us.

3 And let us bring again the ark of our God to us: for we enquired not at it in the days of Saul.

4 And all the congregation ſaid, that they would do ſo: for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.

5 So David gathered all Iſrael together from Shihor of Egypt, even unto the entering of Hamath, to bring the ark of God from Kirjath-jearim.

6 And David went up, and all Iſrael to Baalah, that is, to Kirjath-jearim, which belonged to Judah, to bring up thence the ark of God the Lord, that dwelleth between the cherubims, whoſe name is called on it.

7 And they carried the ark of God in a new cart, out of the houſe of Abinadab: and Uzza and Ahio drave the cart.

8 And David and all Iſrael played before God with all their might, and with ſinging, and with harps, and with pſalteries, and with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

9 ¶ And when they came unto the threſhing-floor of Chidon, Uzza put forth his hand to hold the ark, for the oxen ſtumbled.

10 And the anger of the Lord was kindled againſt Uzza, and he ſmote him, becauſe he put his hand to the ark: and there he died before God.

11 And David was diſpleaſed, becauſe the Lord had made a breach upon Uzza; wherefore that place is called Perez-uzza to this day.

12 And David was afraid of God that day, ſaying, How ſhall I bring the ark of God home to me?

13 So David brought not the ark home to himſelf to the city of David, but carried it aſide into the houſe of Obed-edom the Gittite.

14 And the ark of God remained with the family of Obed-edom in his houſe three months. And the Lord bleſſed the houſe of Obed-edom, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIV.

NOW Hiram king of Tyre ſent meſſengers to David, and timber of cedars, with maſons and carpenters to build him an houſe.

2 And David perceived that the Lord had confirmed him king over Iſrael, for his kingdom was lifted up on high, becauſe of his people Iſrael.

3 ¶ And David took more wives at Jeruſalem: and David begat more ſons and daughters.

4 Now theſe are the names of his children which he had in Jeruſalem; Shammua, and Shobab, Nathan, and Solomon,

5 And Ibhar, and Eliſhua, and Elpalet,

6 And Nogah, and Nepheg, and Japhia,

7 And Eliſhama, and Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

8 ¶ And when the Philiſtines heard that David was anointed king over all Iſrael, all the Philiſtines went up to ſeek David: and David heard of it, and went out againſt them.

9 And the Philiſtines came and ſpread themſelves in the valley of Rephaim.

10 And David enquired of God, ſaying, Shall I go up againſt the Philiſtines? and wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the Lord ſaid unto him Go up, for I will deliver them into thine hand.

11 So they came up to Baal-perazim, and David ſmote them there. Then David ſaid, God hath broken in upon mine enemies by mine hand, like the breaking forth of waters: therefore they called the name of that place Baal-perazim.

12 And when they had left their gods there, David gave a commandment, and they were burnt with fire.

13 And the Philiſtines yet again ſpread themſelves abroad in the valley.

14 Therefore David enquired again of God; and God ſaid unto him, Go not up after them, turn away from them, and come upon them over againſt the mulberry-trees.

15 And it ſhall be, when thou ſhalt hear a ſound of going in the tops of the mulberry-trees, that then thou ſhalt go out to battle: for God is gone forth before thee to ſmite the hoſt of the Philiſtines.

16 David therefore did as God commanded him: and they ſmote the hoſt of the Philiſtines from Gibeon even to Gazer.

17 And the fame of David went out into all lands, and the Lord brought the fear of him upon all nations.

CHAP.

22 Until it was a great hoſt, like the hoſt of God.] That is, a very formidable army, and might be compared to the hoſt of heaven.

32 The children of Iſſachar, which were men that had underſtanding of the times.] The true import of this phraſe is, that they were well verſed in political affairs and knew what was moſt proper to be done in all exigencies of human life; as the words immediately following ſufficiently indicate.

40 For there was joy in Iſrael.] They were greatly pleaſed to ſee an end of their diviſions, by being united under one king, whom they had great reaſon to hope would procure them both peace and plenty in all their dwellings.

CHAP. XIII.] 3 Let us bring again the ark of God to us.] The firſt care of this pious prince was about religion, for he could not reſt till he had conſulted with the elders of the people about bringing up the ark of God; and which was accordingly done at the time fixed for it at this meeting.

6 And David went up to Kirjath-jearim to bring up thence the ark of God the Lord.] This tranſaction is before deſcribed in the ſixth chapter of the ſecond book of Samuel, to which the reader is referred for an explanation.

CHAP. XIV.] 7 And Eliſhama, and Beeliada, and Eliphalet.] There are only eleven mentioned in 2 Sam. v. 14, 15, 16; but here there are thirteen. The reaſon for this difference is, that two of them died in their infancy, and for that reaſon are not mentioned in Samuel, but recorded here, becauſe it was the profeſſed intention of the author of this book to enumerate all David's ſons born at Jeruſalem.

12 And when they had left their gods there, David gave a commandment, and they were burnt with fire.] It was no wonder they refuſed to preſerve ſuch gods as could neither ſave themſelves nor the people who worſhipped them.

CHAP. XV.

AND David made him houſes in the city of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then David ſaid, None ought to carry the ark of God, but the Levites: for them hath the Lord choſen to carry the ark of God, and to miniſter unto him for ever.

3 And David gathered all Iſrael together to Jeruſalem, to bring up the ark of the Lord unto his place which he had prepared for it.

4 And David aſſembled the children of Aaron, and the Levites.

5 Of the ſons of Kohath: Uriel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twenty.

6 Of the ſons of Merari: Aſaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred and twenty.

7 Of the ſons of Gerſhom: Joel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirty.

8 Of the ſons of Elizaphan: Shemaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the ſons of Hebron: Eliel the chief, and his brethren fourſcore.

10 Of the ſons of Uzziel: Amminadab the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twelve.

11 And David called for Zadok and Abiathar the prieſts, and for the Levites, for Uriel, Aſaiah, and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab, 12 And ſaid unto them, Ye are the chief of the fathers of the Levites: ſanctify yourſelves both ye and your brethren, that ye may bring up the ark of the Lord God of Iſrael, unto the place that I have prepared for it.

13 For becauſe ye did it not at the firſt, the Lord our God made a breach upon us, for that we ſought him not after the due order.

14 So the prieſts and the Levites ſanctified themſelves to bring up the ark of the Lord God of Iſrael.

15 And the children of the Levites bare the ark of God upon their ſhoulders, with the ſtaves thereon, as Moſes commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

16 And David ſpake to the chief of the Levites, to appoint their brethren to be the ſingers, with inſtruments of muſic, pſalteries, and harps, and cymbals, ſounding, by lifting up the voice of joy.

17 So the Levites appointed Heman the ſon of Joel: and of his brethren, Aſaph the ſon of Berechiah: and of the ſons of Merari their brethren, Ethan the ſon of Kuſhaiah.

18 And with them their brethren of the ſecond degree, Zechariah, Ben and Jahaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliab, and Benaiah, and Maaſeiah, and Mattithiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikneiah, and Obed-edom, and Jeiel, the porters.

19 So the ſingers, Heman, Aſaph, and Ethan, were appointed to ſound with cymbals of braſs;

20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, and Eliab, and Maaſeiah, and Benaiah, with pſalteries on Alamoth;

21 And Mattithiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikneiah, and Obed-edom, and Jehiel, and Azaziah, with harps on the Sheminith to excel.

22 And Chenaniah chief of the Levites was for ſong: he inſtructed about the ſong, becauſe he was ſkilful.

23 And Berechiah, and Elkanah, were door-keepers for the ark.

24 And Shebaniah, and Jehoſhaphat; and Nethaneel, and Amaſai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the prieſts, did blow with the trumpets before the ark of God: and Obed-edom, and Jehiah, were door-keepers for the ark.

25 ¶ So David and the elders of Iſrael, and the captains over thouſands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord out of the houſe of Obed-edom with joy.

26 And it came to paſs, when God helped the Levites that bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord, that they offered ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams.

27 And David was cloathed with a robe of fine linen, and all the Levites that bare the ark, and the ſingers, and Chenaniah the maſter of the ſong, with the ſingers: David alſo had upon him an ephod of linen.

28 Thus all Iſrael brought up the ark of the covenant of the Lord with ſhouting, and with ſound of the cornet, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, making a noiſe with pſalteries and harps.

29 ¶ And it came to paſs, as the ark of the covenant of the Lord came to the city of David, that Michal the daughter of Saul, looking out at a window, ſaw king David, dancing and playing: and ſhe deſpiſed him in her heart.

CHAP XVI.

SO they brought the ark of God, and ſet it in the midſt of the tent that David had pitched for it; and they offered burnt-ſacrifices and peace-offerings before God.

2 And when David had made an end of offering the burnt-offerings and the peace-offerings, he bleſſed the people in the name of the Lord.

3 And he dealt to every one of Iſrael, both man and woman, to every one a loaf of bread, and a good piece of fleſh, and a flagon of wine.

4 ¶ And he appointed certain of the Levites to miniſter before the ark of the Lord, and to record, and to thank and praiſe the Lord God of Iſrael?

5 Aſaph the chief, and next to him Zechariah, Jeiel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed-edom: and Jeiel with pſalteries, and with harps; but Aſaph made a ſound with cymbals.

6 Benaiah alſo and Jahaziel the prieſts with trumpets continually before the ark of the covenant of God.

7 ¶ Then on that day, David delivered firſt this pſalm to thank the Lord, into the hand of Aſaph and his brethren.

8 Give thanks unto the Lord, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the people.

9 Sing unto him, ſing pſalms unto him, talk ye of all his wondrous works.

10 Glory ye in his holy name, let the heart of them rejoice that ſeek the Lord.

11 Seek the Lord and his ſtrength, ſeek his face continually.

12 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth.

13 O ye ſeed of Iſrael his ſervant, ye children of Jacob his choſen ones.

14 He is the Lord our God, his judgments are in all the earth.

15 Be ye mindful always of his covenant: the word which he commanded to a thouſand generations.

16 Even of the covenant, which he made with Abraham, and of his oath unto Iſaac:

17 And hath confirmed the ſame to Jacob for a law, and to Iſrael for an everlaſting covenant;

18 Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.

19 When ye were but few, even a few, and ſtrangers in it:

20 And when they went from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people:

21 He ſuffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he reproved kings for their ſakes.

22 Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.

23 Sing unto the Lord all the earth: ſhew forth from day to day his ſalvation.

24 Declare his glory among the heathen: his marvellous works among all nations.

25 For great is the Lord, and greatly to be praiſed: he alſo is to be feared above all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.

27 Glory and honour are in his preſence: ſtrength and gladneſs are in his place.

28 Give unto the Lord ye kindreds of the people, give unto the Lord glory and ſtrength.

29 Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering and come before him, worſhip the Lord in the beauty of holineſs.

30 Fear before him all the earth: the world alſo ſhall be ſtable, that it be not moved.

31 Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice: and let men ſay among the nations, The Lord reigneth.

32 Let the ſea roar, and the fulneſs thereof: let the fields rejoice, and all that is therein.

33 Then

CHAP. XV.] 1 And David prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched for it a tent.] The tabernacle made by Moſes in the wilderneſs was now at Gibeon; but David did not think proper to bring it from thence, and therefore cauſed a new tent to be pitched for it. Perhaps it was now, by length of time, grown ſo ruinous, that it could not eaſily be repaired.

26 God helped the Levites that bare the ark.] That is, he preſerved them from committing any error, ſo that they brought it up to the place which David had prepared for it, without offending that tremendous Being whoſe preſence dwelt viſibly between the cherubims.

27 And David was clothed with a robe of fine linen.] This was an honourable veſtment, and allowed to be worn by thoſe who were not Levites, as being proper in divine miniſtrations.

CHAP. XVI.] On that day, David delivered firſt this pſalm.] Or, as it is in the Hebrew, This David ordained in the firſt place at that time; that is, he then ordered that God ſhould be praiſed by Aſaph and his aſſiſtants in the following manner: This ſolemn ſervice began on the day he brought up the ark to its place in Jeruſalem, and was afterwards conſtantly continued.

8 Give thanks unto the Lord, call upon his name, &c.] This ſong of praiſe is principally taken from the hundred and fifth, and ninety-ſixth Pſalms. It ſeems to have been compoſed by David ſome time before, but was now firſt given to the Levites to be daily ſung in divine ſervice.

33 Then shall the trees of the wood sing out at the presence of the Lord, because he cometh to judge the earth.

34 O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

35 And say ye, Save us, O God of our salvation, and gather us together, and deliver us from the heathen, that we may give thanks to thy holy name, and glory in thy praise.

36 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for ever and ever: and all the people said, Amen, and praised the Lord.

37 ¶ So he left there before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, Asaph and his brethren, to minister before the ark continually, as every day's work required:

38 And Obed-edom with their brethren, threescore and eight: Obed-edom also the son of Jeduthun, and Hosa to be porters.

39 And Zadok the priest and his brethren, the priests, before the tabernacle of the Lord, in the high-place that was at Gibeon,

40 To offer burnt-offerings unto the Lord, upon the altar of the burnt-offering continually morning and evening, and to do according to all that is written in the law of the Lord, which he commanded Israel:

41 And with them Heman and Jeduthun, and the rest that were chosen, who were expressed by name, to give thanks to the Lord, because his mercy endureth for ever:

42 And with them Heman and Jeduthun, with trumpets, and cymbals for them that should make a sound, and with musical instruments of God: and the sons of Jeduthun were porters.

43 And all the people departed every man to his house: and David returned to bless his house.

CHAP. XVII.

NOW it came to pass as David sat in his house, that David said to Nathan the prophet, Lo, I dwell in an house of cedars, but the ark of the covenant of the Lord remaineth under curtains.

2 Then Nathan said unto David, Do all that is in thine heart, for God is with thee.

3 ¶ And it came to pass the same night, that the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Go and tell David my servant, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not build me an house to dwell in.

5 For I have not dwelt in an house since the day that I brought up Israel, unto this day, but have gone from tent to tent, and from one tabernacle to another.

6 Wheresoever I have walked with all Israel, spake I a word to any of the judges of Israel (whom I commanded to feed my people) saying, Why have ye not built me an house of cedars?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say unto my servant David, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I took thee from the sheep-cote, even from following the sheep that, thou shouldest be a ruler over my people Israel:

8 And I have been with thee whithersoever thou hast walked, and have cut off all thine enemies from before thee, and have made thee a name like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 Also I will ordain a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, and they shall dwell in their place, and shall be moved no more; neither shall the children of wickedness waste them any more (as at the beginning,)

10 And since the time that I commanded judges to be over my people Israel) moreover, I will subdue all thine enemies. Furthermore, I tell thee, that the Lord will build thee an house.

11 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when thy days be expired that thou must go to be with thy fathers, that I will raise up thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy sons, and I will establish his kingdom.

12 He shall build me an house, and I will establish his throne for ever.

13 I will be his father, and he shall be my son, and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from him that was before thee.

14 But I will settle him in mine house, and in my kingdom for ever, and his throne shall be established for evermore.

15 According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so did Nathan speak unto David.

16 ¶ And David the king came and sat before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

17 And yet this was a small thing in thine eyes, O God, for thou hast also spoken of thy servant's house for a great while to come, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of high degree, O Lord God.

18 What can David speak more to thee for the honour of thy servant? for thou knowest thy servant.

19 O Lord, for thy servant's sake, and according to thine own heart hast thou done all this greatness, in making known all these great things.

20 O Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God beside thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

21 And what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whom God went to redeem to be his own people, to make thee a name of greatness and terribleness, by driving out nations from before thy people whom thou hast redeemed out of Egypt?

22 For thy people Israel didst thou make thine own people for ever; and thou, Lord, becamest their God.

23 Therefore now, Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy servant, and concerning his house, be established for ever, and do as thou hast said.

24 Let it even be established, that thy name may be magnified for ever, saying, The Lord of hosts is the God of Israel, even a God to Israel: and let the house of David thy servant be established before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, hast told thy servant, that thou wilt build him an house: therefore thy servant hath found in his heart to pray before thee.

26 And now, Lord, (thou art God, and hast promised this goodness unto thy servant)

27 Now therefore let it please thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may be before thee for ever: for thou blessest, O Lord, and it shall be blessed for ever.

CHAP. XVIII.

NOW after this it came to pass, that David smote the Philistines, and subdued them, and took Gath and her towns out of the hand of the Philistines.

2 And he smote Moab; and the Moabites became David's servants, and brought gifts.

3 ¶ And David smote Hadarezer king of Zobah unto Hamath, as he went to stablish his dominion by the river Euphrates.

4 And David took from him a thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: David also houghed all the chariot-horses, but reserved of them an hundred chariots,

5 And when the Syrians of Damascus came to help Hadarezer king of Zobah, David slew of the Syrians two and twenty thousand men.

6 Then David put garrisons in Syria-damascus, and the Syrians became David's servants, and brought gifts. Thus the Lord preserved David whithersoever he went.

7 And David took the shields of gold that were on the servants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Jerusalem.

8 Likewise from Tibbath, and from Chun, cities of Hadarezer, brought David very much brass, wherewith Solomon made the brasen sea, and the pillars, and the vessels of brass.

9 ¶ Now when Tou king of Hamath heard how David had smitten all the hosts of Hadarezer king of Zobah,

10 He sent Hadoram his son to king David, to enquire of his welfare, and to congratulate him, because he had fought against Hadarezer, and smitten him (for Hadarezer had warred with Tou) and with him all manner of vessels of gold, and silver, and brass.

11 ¶ Them also king David dedicated unto the Lord, with the silver and the gold that he brought from all these nations; from Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalek.

12 Moreover, Abishai the son of Zeruiah slew of the Edomites in the valley of salt, eighteen thousand.

13 ¶ And he put garrisons in Edom; and all the Edomites became David's servants. Thus the Lord preserved David whithersoever he went.

14 ¶ So David reigned over all Israel, and executed judgment and justice among all his people.

15 And Joab the son of Zeruiah was over the host, and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud, recorder.

16 And Zadok the son of Ahitub, and Abimelech the son of Abiathar, were the priests, and Shavsha was scribe.

17 And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites, and the Pelethites: and the sons of David were chief about the king.

CHAP.

---

39 And Zadok the priest and his brethen——before the tabernacle of the Lord, in the high place that was at Gibeon.] Zadok was the chief of the secondary priests, and ministered in the tabernacle of Moses, which, with the altar of burnt-offerings, was then at Gibeon.

CHAP. XVII.] 14 But I will settle him in mine house, and in my kingdom for ever.] In 2 Sam. vii. 16. it is said thine house, and thy kingdom; but here mine house, and my kingdom; which sufficiently proves, that this principally belongs to the Messiah, of whom David was only a type, or figure.

17 Thou——hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of high degree, O Lord God.] Or as the words may be rendered, Thou hast looked upon me in the form of a man, who art in the highest the Lord God: which is plainly a prophecy of the Messiah, who was really the Lord God, but took upon him our nature, and appeared in the form of a man.

CHAP. XVIII.] 1 Now after this it came to pass, that David smote the Philistines, and subdued them, and took Gath and her towns, &c.] This chapter has been also fully explained, 2 Sam. viii. and therefore nothing farther need be added here, except that it is there said, that David took Metheg-ammah, being a region or province in which Gath and her towns were situated.

16 And Zadok the son of Ahitub, and Abimelech the son of Abiathar, were the priests.] Drusius observes, that there were two persons called by the name of Ahimelech, one the grandson of Ahitub, and the other the son of Abiathar; the latter, is here, by the change of a letter called Abimelech.

CHAP. XIX.

NOW it came to paſs after this, that Nahaſh the kings of the children of Ammon died, and his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

2 And David ſaid, I will ſhew kindneſs unto Hanun the ſon of Nahaſh, becauſe his father ſhewed kindneſs to me. And David ſent meſſengers to comfort him concerning his father: ſo the ſervants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon, to Hanun, to comfort him.

3 But the princes of the children of Ammon ſaid to Hanun, Thinkeſt thou that David doth honour thy father, that he hath ſent comforters unto thee? are not his ſervants come unto thee, for to ſearch, and to overthrow, and to ſpy out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun took David's ſervants, and ſhaved them, and cut off their garments in the midſt hard by their buttocks, and ſent them away.

5 Then there went certain, and told David how the men were ſerved: and he ſent to meet them (for the men were greatly aſhamed) and the king ſaid, Tarry at Jericho until your beards be grown, and then return.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammon ſaw that they had made themſelves odious to David, Hanun and the children of Ammon ſent a thouſand talents of ſilver to hire them chariots and horſemen out of Meſopotamia, and out of Syria-maacha, and out of Zobah.

7 So they hired thirty and two thouſand chariots, and the king of Maachah, and his people, who came and pitched before Medeba. And the children of Ammon gathered themſelves together from their cities, and came to battle.

8 And when David heard of it, he ſent Joab, and all the hoſt of the mighty men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and put the battle in array before the gate of the city: and the kings that were come, were by themſelves in the field.

10 Now when Joab ſaw that the battle was ſet againſt him, before and behind, he choſe out of all the choice of Iſrael, and put them in array againſt the Syrians.

11 And the reſt of the people he delivered unto the hand of Abiſhai his brother, and they ſet themſelves in array againſt the children of Ammon.

12 And he ſaid, If the Syrians be too ſtrong for me, then thou ſhalt help me: but if the children of Ammon be too ſtrong for thee, then I will help thee.

13 Be of good courage, and let us behave ourſelves valiantly for our people, and for the cities of our God: and let the Lord do that which is good in his ſight.

14 So Joab and the people that were with him, drew nigh before the Syrians, unto the battle; and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon ſaw that the Syrians were fled, they likewiſe fled before Abiſhai his brother, and entered into the city. Then Joab came to Jeruſalem.

16 ¶ And when the Syrians ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they ſent meſſengers, and drew forth the Syrians that were beyond the river: and Shophach the captain of the hoſt of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And it was told David, and he gathered all Iſrael, and paſſed over Jordan, and came upon them, and ſet the battle in array againſt them; ſo when David had put the battle in array againſt the Syrians, they fought with him.

18 But the Syrians fled before Iſrael, and David ſlew of the Syrians ſeven thouſand men, which fought in chariots, and forty thouſand footmen, and killed Shophach the captain of the hoſt.

19 And when the ſervauts of Hadarezer ſaw that they were put to the worſe before Iſrael, they made peace with David, and became his ſervants: neither would the Syrians help the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XX.

AND it came to paſs, that after the year was expired, at the time that kings go out to battle, Joab led forth the power of the army, and waſted the country of the children of Ammon, and came and beſieged Rabbah (but David tarried at Jeruſalem) and Joab ſmote Rabbah and deſtroyed it.

2 And David took the crown of their king from off his head, and found it to weigh a talent of gold, and there were precious ſtones in it, and it was ſet upon David's head; and he brought alſo exceeding much ſpoil out of the city.

3 And he brought out the people that were in it, and cut them with ſaws, and with harrows of iron, and with axes: even ſo dealt David with all the cities of the children of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jeruſalem.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs after this, that there aroſe war at Gezer, with the Philiſtines, at which time Sibbechai, the Huſhathite, ſlew Sippai that was of the children of the giant, and they were ſubdued.

5 And there was war again with the Philiſtines, and Elhanan the ſon of Jair ſlew Lahmi the brother of Goliah the Gittite, whoſe ſpear's ſtaff was like a weaver's beam.

6 And yet again there was war at Gath, where was a man of great ſtature, whoſe fingers and toes were four and twenty, ſix on each hand, and ſix on each foot: and he alſo was the ſon of the giant.

7 But when he defied Iſrael, Jonathan the ſon of Shimea, David's brother ſlew him.

8 Theſe were born unto the giant in Gath; and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his ſervants.

CHAP. XXI.

AND Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael and provoked David to number Iſrael.

2 And David ſaid to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Go, number Iſrael from Beer-ſheba even to Dan; and bring the number of them to me, that I may know it.

3 And Joab anſwered, The Lord make his people an hundred times ſo many more as they be; but, my lord the king, are they not all my lord's ſervants? why then doth my lord require this thing? why will he be a cauſe of treſpaſs to Iſrael?

4 Nevertheleſs the king's word prevailed againſt Joab: wherefore Joab departed, and went throughout all Iſrael, and came to Jeruſalem.

5 ¶ And Joab gave the ſum of the number of the people unto David. And all they of Iſrael were a thouſand thouſand and an hundred thouſand men that drew ſword: and Judah was four hundred threeſcore and ten thouſand men that drew ſword.

6 But Levi and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the king's word was abominable to Joab.

7 And God was diſpleaſed with this thing, therefore he ſmote Iſrael.

8 And David ſaid unto God I have ſinned greatly, becauſe I have done this thing; but now, I beſeech thee, do away the iniquity of thy ſervant, for I have done very fooliſhly.

9 ¶ And the Lord ſpake unto Gad, David's ſeer, ſaying,

10 Go and tell David, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, I offer thee three things, chooſe thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee,

11 So Gad came to David and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, chooſe thee

12 Either three years famine, or three months to be deſtroyed before thy foes (while that the ſword of thine enemies overtaketh thee) or elſe three days the ſword of the Lord, even the peſtilence in the land, and the angel of the Lord deſtroying throughout all the coaſts of Iſrael: now therefore adviſe thyſelf, what word I ſhall bring again to him that ſent me.

13 And David ſaid unto Gad, I am in a great ſtrait: let me fall now into the hand of the Lord (for very great are his mercies) but let me not fall into the hand of man, 14 ¶ So the Lord ſent peſtilence upon Iſrael: and there fell of Iſrael ſeventy thouſand men.

15 And God ſent an angel unto Jeruſalem to deſtroy it, and as he was deſtroying, the Lord beheld, and he repented him of the evil, and ſaid to the angel that deſtroyed, it is enough, ſtay now thine hand. And the angel of the Lord ſtood by the threſhing-floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

16 And David lifted up his eyes, and ſaw the angel of the Lord ſtand between the earth and the heaven, having a drawn ſword in his hand ſtretched out over Jeruſalem: then David and the elders of Iſrael who were clothed in ſackcloth, fell upon their faces.

17 And David ſaid unto God, Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbered? even I it is that have ſinned and done evil indeed; but as for theſe ſheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, O Lord my God, be on me, and on my father's houſe, but not on thy people, that they ſhould be plagued.

18 ¶ Then the angel of the Lord commanded Gad to ſay to David, that David ſhould go up and ſet up an altar unto the Lord, in the threſhing-floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

19 And David went up at the ſaying of Gad, which he ſpake in the name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned back, and ſaw the angel; and his four ſons with him hid themſelves. Now Ornan was threſhing wheat.

21 And as David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and ſaw David, and went out of the threſhing-floor, and bowed himſelf to David with his face to the ground.

22 Then David ſaid to Ornan, Grant me the place of this threſhing-floor, that I may build an altar therein unto the Lord: thou

CHAP. XIX.] 1 Now it came to paſs after this, that Nahaſh the king of the children of Ammon died.] This whole tranſaction has already been fully related, 2 Sam. x. to which the reader is referred.

7 They hired thirty and two thouſand chariots.] That is, they hired thirty and two thouſand who fought in chariots; twenty thouſand from Zoba, and twelve thouſand from Aſhtob. See 2 Sam. x, 6.

CHAP. XX.] And it came to paſs, that after the year was expired, at the time that kings go out to battle, &c.] See 2 Sam. xi. where this whole tranſaction is recorded, together with the hiſtory of David's adultery with Bathſheba, and his murder of Uriah.

CHAP. XXI.] 6 But Levi and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the king's word was abominable to Joab.] We have here the true reaſon why neither the Levites nor Benjamites were numbered, namely, becauſe the work was odious to Joab; and therefore he left off before he had numbered theſe two tribes.

thou ſhalt grant it me for the full price, that the plague may be ſtayed from the people.

23 And Ornan ſaid unto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which is good in his eyes: lo, I give thee the oxen alſo for burnt-offerings, and the threſhing inſtruments for wood, and the wheat for the meat-offering, I give it all.

24 And king David ſaid to Ornan, Nay, but I will verily buy it for the full price; for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt-offerings without coſt.

25 So David gave to Ornan for the place, ſix hundred ſhekels of gold by weight.

26 And David built there an altar unto the Lord, and offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and called upon the Lord, and he anſwered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt-offering.

27 And the Lord commanded the angel, and he put up his ſword again into the ſheath thereof.

28 ¶ At that time, when David ſaw that the Lord had anſwered him in the threſhing-floor of Ornan the Jebuſite, then he ſacrificed there.

29 For the tabernacle of the Lord which Moſes made in the wilderneſs, and the altar of the burnt-offering, were at that ſeaſon in the high place at Gibeon.

30 But David could not go before it to enquire of God; for he was afraid, becauſe of the ſword of the angel of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

THEN David ſaid, This is the houſe of the Lord God, and this is the altar of the burnt-offering of Iſrael.

2 And David commanded to gather together the ſtrangers that were in the land of Iſrael, and he ſet maſons to hew wrought ſtones to build the houſe of God.

3 And David prepared iron in abundance for the nails for the doors of the gates, and for the joinings; and braſs in abundance without weight.

4 Alſo cedar-trees in abundance: for the Zidonians, and they of Tyre brought much cedar-wood to David.

5 And David ſaid, Solomon my ſon is young and tender, and the houſe that is to be builded for the Lord muſt be exceeding magnifical, of fame and of glory throughout all countries: I will therefore now make preparations for it. So David prepared abundantly before his death.

6 ¶ Then he called for Solomon his ſon, and charged him to build an houſe for the Lord God of Iſrael.

7 And David ſaid to Solomon, My ſon, as for me, it was in my mind to build an houſe unto the name of the Lord my God:

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, ſaying, Thou haſt ſhed blood abundantly, and haſt made great wars: thou ſhalt not build an houſe unto my name, becauſe thou haſt ſhed much blood upon the earth in my ſight.

9 Behold, a ſon ſhall be born to thee, who ſhall be a man of reſt, and I will give him reſt from all his enemies round about: for his name ſhall be Solomon, and I will give peace and quietneſs unto Iſrael in his days.

10 He ſhall build an houſe for my name, and he ſhall be my ſon, and I will be his father, and I will eſtabliſh the throne of his kingdom over Iſrael for ever.

11 Now, my ſon, the Lord be with thee, and proſper thou, and build the houſe of the Lord thy God, as he hath ſaid of thee.

12 Only the Lord give thee wiſdom and underſtanding, and give thee charge concerning Iſrael, that thou mayeſt keep the law of the Lord thy God.

13 Then ſhalt thou proſper, if thou takeſt heed to fulfil the ſtatutes and judgments which the Lord charged Moſes with concerning Iſrael: be ſtrong, and of good courage, dread not, nor be diſmayed.

14 Now behold, in my trouble I have prepared for the houſe of the Lord an hundred thouſand talents of gold, and a thouſand thouſand talents of ſilver; and of braſs, and iron without weight (for it is in abundance) timber alſo and ſtone have I prepared, and thou mayeſt add thereto.

15 Moreover, there are workmen with thee in abundance, hewers, and workers of ſtone and timber, and all manner of cunning men for every manner of work.

16 Of the gold, the ſilver, and the braſs, and the iron, there is no number. Ariſe therefore, and be doing, and the Lord be with thee.

17 ¶ David alſo commanded all the princes of Iſrael to help Solomon his ſon, ſaying, 18 Is not the Lord your God with you? and hath he not given you reſt on every ſide? for he hath given the inhabitants of the land into mine hand, and the land is ſubdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Now ſet your heart and your ſoul to ſeek the Lord your God; ariſe therefore, and build ye the ſanctuary of the Lord God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the holy veſſels of God, into the houſe that is to be built to the name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

SO when David was old and full of days, he made Solomon his ſon king over Iſrael.

2 ¶ And he gathered together all the princes of Iſrael, with the prieſts and Levites.

3 Now the Levites were numbered from the age of thirty years and upward: and their number by their poles, man by man, was thirty and eight thouſand.

4 Of which, twenty and four thouſand were to ſet forward the work of the houſe of the Lord: and ſix thouſand were officers and judges.

5 Moreover, four thouſand were porters, and four thouſand praiſed the Lord with the inſtruments which I made (ſaid David) to praiſe therewith.

6 And David divided them into courſes among the ſons of Levi, namely, Gerſhon, Kohath, and Merari,

7 ¶ Of the Gerſhonites were Laadan and Shemei,

8 The ſons of Laadan, the chief was Jehiel, and Zetham, and Joel, three.

9 The ſons of Shemei: Shelomith, and Haziel, and Haran, three. Theſe were the chief of the fathers of Laadan.

10 And the ſons of Shimei were, Jahath, Zina, and Jeuſh, and Beriah. Theſe four were the ſons of Shimei.

11 And Jahah was the chief, and Zizah the ſecond: but Jeuſh and Beriah had not many ſons: therefore they were in one reckoning, according to their father's houſe.

12 ¶ The ſons of Kohath; Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, four.

13 The ſons of Amram; Aaron and Moſes: and Aaron was ſeparated, that he ſhould ſanctify the moſt holy things, he and his ſons for ever, to burn incenſe before the Lord, to miniſter unto him, and to bleſs in his name for ever.

14 Now concerning Moſes the man of God, his ſons were named of the tribe of Levi.

15 The ſons of Moſes were, Gerſhom and Eliezer.

16 Of the ſons of Gerſhom; Shebuel was the chief.

17 And the ſons of Eliezer were, Rehabiah the chief. And Eliezer had none other ſons; but the ſons of Rehabiah were very many.

18 Of the ſons of Izhar; Shelomith the chief.

19 Of the ſons of Hebron; Jeriah the firſt, Amariah the ſecond, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.

20 Of the ſons of Uzziel; Micah the firſt, and Jeſiah the ſecond.

21 ¶ The ſons of Merari; Mahli, and Muſhi: the ſons of Mahli; Eleazar, and Kiſh:

22 And Eleazar died, and had no ſons but daughters: and their brethren the ſons of Kiſh took them.

23 The ſons of Muſhi; Mahli, and Eder, and Jeremoth, three;

24 ¶ Theſe were the ſons of Levi after the houſe of their fathers; even the chief of the fathers, as they were counted by number of names by their polls, that did the work for the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord, from the age of twenty years and upward.

25 For David ſaid, The Lord God of Iſrael hath given reſt unto his people, that they may dwell in Jeruſalem for ever.

26 And alſo unto the Levites: they ſhall no more carry the tabernacle, nor any veſſels of it for the ſervice thereof.

27 For by the laſt words of David, the Levites were numbered from twenty years old and above.

28 Becauſe

26 And he anſwered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt-offerings.] This was the higheſt token that could be given of God's gracious acceptance of any ſacrifice. It was indeed ſo eminent a token of the favour of the Deity that even Julian himſelf could not deny it.

30 But David could not go before it, &c.] David was convinced that God had conſecrated the ſpot, and conſequently that he ought to offer ſacrifice immediately, and not ſtay till he could go to Gibeon.

CHAP. XXII.] 1 This is the houſe of the Lord God.] David ſeems to have been inſpired by God with this thought, and probably concluded, from the ſignal marks he had given of his acceptance of the ſacrifice, that this was the ſpot on which the temple ſhould be built.

5 Solomon my ſon is young and tender, &c.] David conſidered both the youth of his ſon, and the magnificence of the temple he was to build; and therefore thought himſelf obliged to do every thing in his power to aſſiſt him in this large and expenſive undertaking.

10 He ſhall be my ſon, &c.] Theſe words can, in their proper and full ſenſe, belong to none but the great Meſſiah; for Solomon reigned but forty years, after which his kingdom was divided; and hence the author of the epiſtle to the Hebrews applies theſe words to Chriſt.

19 Now ſet your heart and your ſoul to ſeek the Lord your God, &c.] David earneſtly beſeeches them not to neglect this opportunity of peace which God had given them, as the proper ſeaſon for ſuch a work.

CHAP. XXIII.] 4 Six thouſand were officers and judges.] God had ordered judges and officers to be ſettled in all their gates, Deut. xvi, 18. but this command ſeems to have been long neglected: and that David himſelf was not able to reſtore their judicatures to their ancient dignity and order, till the latter end of his reign; when having ſubdued all his enemies, he took care of this neceſſary part of government, and having numbered the Levites, appointed their reſpective employments, which had, till now, been undetermined.

14 Now concerning the man of God, his ſons were named of the tribe of Levi.] We have here a remarkable inſtance of modeſty and humility. This great prophet, who had ſuch remarkable familiarity with the Omnipotence himſelf, never advanced any of his ſons to any poſt of dignity, but left them all ſimple Levites, and ſervants to the prieſts, who were the ſeed of Aaron.

29 An

28 Becauſe their office was to wait on the ſons of Aaron, for the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord, in the courts, and in the chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and the work of the ſervice of the houſe of God;

29 Both for the ſhew-bread, and for the fine flour for meat-offering, and for the unleavened cakes, and for that which is baked in the pan; and for that which is fried, and for all manner of meaſure and ſize:

30 And to ſtand every morning to thank and praiſe the Lord, and likewiſe at even:

31 And to offer all burnt-ſacrifices unto the Lord in the ſabbaths, in the new-moons, and on the ſet feaſts by number, according to the order commanded unto them continually before the Lord.

32 And that they ſhould keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the holy place, and the charge of the ſons of Aaron their brethren, in the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIV.

NOW theſe are the diviſions of the ſons of Aaron: The ſons of Aaron; Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the prieſt's office.

3 And David diſtributed them, both Zadok of the ſons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the ſons of Ithamar, according to their offices in their ſervice.

4 And there were more chief men found of the ſons of Eleazer, than of the ſons of Ithamar; and thus were they divided: Among the ſons of Eleazar there were ſixteen chief men of the houſe of their fathers, and eight among the ſons of Ithamar, according to the houſe of their fathers.

5 Thus were they divided by lot, one ſort with another; for the governors of the ſanctuary, and governors of the houſe of God, were of the ſons of Eleazar, and of the ſons of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the ſon of Nethaneel the ſcribe, one of the Levites, wrote them before the king and the princes, and Zadok the prieſt, and Ahimelech the ſon of Abiathar, and before the chief of the fathers of the prieſts and Levites: one principal houſhold being taken for Eleazar, and one taken for Ithamar.

7 Now the firſt lot came forth to Jehoiarib, the ſecond to Jedaiah,

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Malchijah, the ſixth to Mijamin,

10 The ſeventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abijah,

11 The ninth to Jeſhua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 The eleventh to Eliaſhib, the twelfth to Jakim,

13 The thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeſhebeab,

14 The fifteenth to Bilgah, the ſixteenth to Immer,

15 The ſeventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Aphſes,

16 The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezekel,

17 The one and twentieth to Jachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul,

18 The three and twentieth to Delaiah, the four and twentieth to Maaziah,

19 Theſe were the orderings of them in their ſervice to come into the houſe of the Lord, according to their manner, under Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Iſrael had commanded him:

20 ¶ And the reſt of the ſons of Levi were theſe: Of the ſons of Amram; Shubael: of the ſons of Shubael; Jehdeiah.

21 Concerning Rehabiah: of the ſons of Rehabiah, the firſt was Iſhiah.

22 Of the Izharites; Shelomoth: of the ſons of Shelomoth; Jahath.

23 And the ſons of Hebron; Jeriah the firſt, Amariah the ſecond, Jahaziel the third, Jekameam the fourth.

24 Of the ſons of Uzziel; Michah: of the ſons of Michah; Shamir.

25 The brother of Michah was Iſhiah: of the ſons of Iſhiah; Zechariah.

26 The ſons of Merari were, Mahli and Muſhi: the ſons of Jaaziah; Beno.

27 ¶ The ſons of Merari by Jaaziah; Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur, and Ibri.

28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, who had no ſons.

29 Concerning Kiſh: the ſon of Kiſh was Jerahmeel.

30 The ſons alſo of Muſhi; Mahli, and Eder, and Jerimoth. Theſe were the ſons of the Levites after the houſe of their fathers.

31 Theſe likewiſe caſt lots over againſt their brethren the ſons of Aaron, in the preſence of David the king, and Zadok and Ahimelech, and the chief of the fathers of the prieſts and Levites, even the principal fathers over againſt their younger brethren.

CHAP. XXV.

MOreover, David and the captains of the hoſt ſeparated to the ſervice of the ſons of Aſaph, and of Heman, and of Jeduthun, who ſhould propheſy with harps, with pſalteries, and with cymbals: and the number of the workmen, according to their ſervice, was:

2 Of the ſons of Aſaph; Zaccur, and Joſeph, and Nethaniah and Aſarelah, the ſons of Aſaph under the hands of Aſaph, which propheſied according to the order of the king.

3 Of Jeduthun; the ſons of Jeduthun; Gedaliah, and Zeri, and Jeſhaiah, Haſhabiah, and Mattithiah, ſix under the hands of their father Jeduthun, who propheſied with a harp, to give thanks and to praiſe the Lord.

4 Of Heman: the ſons of Heman; Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel, and Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, and Romamtiezer, Joſhbekaſhah, Mallothi, Hother, and Mahazioth:

5 All theſe were the ſons of Heman the king's ſeer in the words of God to lift up the horn. And God gave to Heman fourteen ſons and three daughters.

6 All theſe were under the hands of their father for ſong in the houſe of the Lord with cymbals, pſalteries, and harps, for the ſervice of the houſe of God, according to the king's order, to Aſaph, Jeduthun, and Heman.

7 So the number of them, with their brethren that were inſtructed in the ſongs of the Lord, even all that were cunning was two hundred fourſcore and eight.

8 ¶ And they caſt lots, ward againſt ward, as well the ſmall as the great, the teacher as the ſcholar.

9 Now the firſt lot came forth for Aſaph to Joſeph, the ſecond to Gedaliah, who with his brethren and ſons were twelve:

10 The third to Zaccur, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

11 The fourth to Izri, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

12 The fifth to Nethaniah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

13 The ſixth to Bukkiah, he, his ſons, and his brethren were twelve:

14 The ſeventh to Jeſharelah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

15 The eighth to Jeſhaiah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

16 The ninth to Mattaniah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

17 The tenth to Shimei, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

18 The elventh to Azareel, he, his ſons, and his brethren were twelve:

19 The twelfth to Haſhabiah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

20 The thirteenth to Shubael, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

21 The fourteenth to Mattithiah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

22 The fifteenth to Jeremoth, he, his ſons, and his brethren were twelve:

23 The ſixteenth to Hananiah, he, his ſons, and his brethren were twelve:

24 The ſeventeenth to Joſhbekaſhah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

25 The eighteenth to Hanani, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

26 The nineteenth to Mallothi, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

27 The twentieth to Eliathah, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

28 The one and twentieth to Hothir, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

29 The two and twentieth to Giddalti, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

30 The three and twentieth to Mahazioth, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve:

31 The four and twentieth to Romamtiezer, he, his ſons and his brethren were twelve.

29 And for all manner of meaſure and ſize.] All the ſtandard weights and meaſures were depoſited in the ſanctuary, and committed to the care of the Levites, being reckoned among the holy things.

31 And to offer all burnt ſacrifices unto the Lord, &c.] That is, they were to praiſe God at the time when the ſacrifices were offered; for it belonged to the prieſts alone to offer the burnt-ſacrifices.

CHAP. XXIV.] 1 Now theſe are the diviſions of the ſons of Aaron.] David having diſtributed the Levites into ſeveral courſes, he now does the ſame by the prieſts, in order to avoid all confuſion among ſuch large numbers; for the ſons of Aaron were now very greatly increaſed.

5 Thus were they divided by lot.] This method was doubtleſs taken to avoid all manner of complaint.

31 Even the principal fathers over againſt their younger brethren.] This is very obſcurely expreſſed; but the meaning is, that both the elder and younger had their places by lot, not by ſeniority of houſes.

CHAP. XXV.] 1 Moreover, David and the captains of the hoſt.] That is, David and the captains or chief leaders of the companies of prieſts: for it is abſurd to think that the commanders of the army had any thing to do with ordering the tribe of Levi, and the ſervice of the tabernacle.

5 To lift up the horn.] That is, as Bochart interprets it, to blow aloud with trumpets made of horn.

CHAP. XXVI.

CONcerning the divisions of the porters: of the Korhites, was Meshelemiah the son of Kore, of the sons of Asaph.

2 And the sons of Meshelemiah were, Zechariah the first-born, Jediael the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,

3 Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, Elioenai the seventh.

4 Moreover, the sons of Obed-edom were Shemaiah the first-born, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Nethaneel the fifth,

5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peulthai the eighth: for God blessed him.

6 Also unto Shemaiah his son, were sons born, that ruled throughout the house of their fathers: for they were mighty men of valour.

7 The sons of Shemaiah; Othni, and Rephael, and Obed, Elzabad, whose brethren were strong men; Elihu and Semachiah.

8 All these of the sons of Obed-edom: they and their sons and their brethren, able men for strength for the service, were three-score and two of Obed-edom.

9 And Meshelemiah had sons and brethren, strong men, eighteen.

10 Also Hosah of the children of Merari, had sons; Simri, the chief (for though he was not first-born, yet his father made him the chief)

11 Hilkiah the second, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth: all the sons and brethren of Hosah were thirteen.

12 Among these were the divisions of the porters, even among the chief men, having wards one against another, to minister in the house of the Lord.

13 ¶ And they cast lots as well the small as the great, according to the house of their fathers for every gate.

14 And the lot eastward fell to Shelemiah; then for Zechariah his son (a wise counsellor) they cast lots, and his lot came out northward.

15 To Obed-Edom southward, and to his sons, the house of Asuppim.

16 To Shuppim and Hosah, the lot came forth west-ward, with the gate Shallecheth, by the causeway of the going up, ward against ward.

17 East-ward were six Levites, north-ward four a day, south-ward four a day, and toward Asuppim two and two.

18 At Parbar west-ward, four at the causey, and two at Parbar.

19 These are the divisions of the porters among the sons of Kore, and among the sons of Merari.

20 And of the Levites, Ahijah was over the treasures of the house of God, and over the treasures of the dedicated things.

21 As concerning the sons of Laadan: the sons of the Gershonite Laadan, chief fathers, even of Laadan the Gershonite were Jehieli.

22 The sons of Jehieli; Zetham, and Joel his brother, which were over the treasures of the house of the Lord.

23 Of the Amramites, and the Izharites, the Hebronites, and the Uzzielites:

24 And Shebuel the son of Gershom, the son of Moses, was ruler of the treasures.

25 And his brethren by Eliezer; Rehabiah his son, and Jeshaiah his son, and Joram his son, and Zichri his son, and Shelomith his son.

26 Which Shelomith and his brethren were over all the treasures of the dedicated things, which David the king and the chief fathers, the captains over thousands and hundreds, and the captains of the host had dedicated.

27 Out of the spoils won in battles did they dedicate to maintain the house of the Lord.

28 And all that Samuel the seer, and Saul the son of Kish, and Abner the son of Ner, and Joab the son of Zeruiah had dedicated, and whosoever had dedicated any thing, it was under the hand of Shelomith, and of his brethren.

29 ¶ Of the Izharites, Chenaniah and his sons were for the outward business over Israel, for officers and judges.

30 And of the Hebronites, Hashabiah and his brethren, men of valour, a thousand and seven hundred were officers among them of Israel on this side Jordan west-ward in all business of the Lord, and in the service of the king.

31 Among the Hebronites was Jerijah the chief, even among the Hebronites, according to the generations of his fathers. In the fortieth year of the reign of David, they were sought for, and there were found among them mighty men of valour, at Jazer of Gilead.

32 And his brethren, men of valour were two thousand and seven hundred chief fathers, whom king David made rulers over the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manasseh, for every matter pertaining to God, and affairs of the king.

CHAP. XXVII.

NOW the children of Israel after their number, to wit, the chief fathers and captains of thousands and hundreds, and their officers that served the king in any matter of the courses, which came in and went out month by month, throughout all the months of the year, of every course were twenty and four thousand.

2 Over the first course for the first month, was Jashobeam the son of Zabdiel; and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

3 Of the children of Perez, was the chief of all the captains of the host for the first month.

4 And over the course of the second month was Dodai an Ahohite, and of his course was Mikloth also the ruler: in his course likewise were twenty and four thousand.

5 The third captain of the host for the third month, was Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, a chief priest: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

6 This is that Benaiah, who was mighty among the thirty, and above the thirty: and in his course was Ammizabad his son.

7 The fourth captain for the fourth month, was Asahel the brother of Joab, and Zebadiah his son after him: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

8 The fifth captain for the fifth month, was Shamhuth the Izrahite: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

9 The sixth captain for the sixth month, was Ira the son of Ikkesh, the Tekohite: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

10 The seventh captain for the seventh month, was Helez the Pelonite, of the children of Ephraim: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

11 The eighth captain for the eighth month, was Sibbecai the Hushathite, of the Zarhites: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

12 The ninth captain for the ninth month, was Abiezer the Anetothite, of the Benjamites: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

13 The tenth captain for the tenth month, was Maharai the Netopathite, of the Zarhites: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

14 The eleventh captain for the eleventh month, was Benaiah the Pirathonite, of the children of Ephraim: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

15 The twelfth captain for the twelfth month, was Heldai the Netophathite, of Othniel: and in his course were twenty and four thousand.

16 ¶ Furthermore, over the tribes of Israel: the ruler of the Reubenites was Eliezer the son of Zichri: of the Simeonites, Shephatiah the son of Maachah:

17 Of the Levites, Hashabiah the son Kemuel: of the Aaronites, Zadok:

18 Of Judah, Elihu one of the brethren of David: of Issachar, Omri the son of Michael:

19 Of Zebulun, Ishmaiah the son of Obadiah: of Naphtali, Jerimoth the son of Azriel:

20 Of the children of Ephraim, Hoshea the son of Azaziah: of the half tribe of Manasseh, Joel the son of Pedaiah:

21 Of the half tribe of Manasseh in Gilead, Iddo the son of Zechariah: of Benjamin, Jaasiel the son of Abner:

22 Of Dan, Azareel the son of Jeroham. These were the princes of the tribes of Israel.

23 ¶ But David took not the number of them from twenty years old and under: because the Lord had said, he would increase Israel like to the stars of the heavens.

24 Joab the son of Zeruiah began to number, but he finished not, because there fell wrath for it against Israel, neither was the number put in the account of the chronicles of king David.

25 ¶ And over the king's treasures was Azmaveth the son of Adiel: and over the store-houses in the fields, in the cities, and in the villages, and in the castles, was Jehonathan the son of Uzziah.

26 And

CHAP. XXVI.] 1 Concerning the division of the porters] This office was of great dignity, including the charge of the holy things.

6 For they were mighty men of valour.] This office required men of strength and courage, for they were to watch and guard the house of God night and day They also opened and shut the house, and attended there to prevent any thing being done to the prejudice of the peace, safety and purity of the place.

15 The house of Asuppim.] What this house was is not easy to determine absolutely; but it seems to have been a place where the vessels and treasures of the temple were deposited; the true import of the word being collections or gatherings: and Obed-edom, whose sons were placed at Asuppim, it is said, 2 Chron. xxv. 24. to have the custody of the treasures.

30 In all business of the Lord, and in the service of the king.] Hence we may observe, that the same person took care both of the things pertaining to God, and those that concerned the king. By the former, is meant such causes as might be judged by the divine law; and by the latter, such as could not be determined by the law, but were left to the judgment of the king.

CHAP. XXVII.] 1 Now the children of Israel, &c.] The ecclesiastical affairs being settled, we have next an account of the manner in which the army was disposed, in order to render it serviceable on all occasions. It was distributed into twelve legions, each consisting of twenty-four thousand men, who were commanded by one of the chief of the fathers; under whom there were captains of thousands, in every legion commmanding a thousand men. There were also captains of hundreds, and under them inferior officers. Each of these legions attended one month, for the security of the king and kingdom; at the end of which they retired to their respective places of abode, and another legion succeeded.

5 Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, a chief priest.] The word coben, which we here render a chief priest, signifies also a chief prince, and should have been so translated here; for Benaiah was neither high-priest nor sagan, or second priest, these offices being filled by Abiathar and Zadok.

17 Of the Aaronites, Zadok.] The Aaronites were the priests, and not a distinct tribe; but being a different order from the rest of the tribe of Levi, they had a peculiar chief to preside over them:

CHAP.

26 And over them that did the work of the field for tillage of the ground, was Ezri the ſon of Chelub.

27 And over the vineyards was Shimei the Ramathite: over the increaſe of the vineyards for the wine-cellars, was Zabdi the Shiphmite.

28 And over the olive-trees and the ſycamore-trees that were in the low plains, was Baal-hanan the Gederite: and over the cellars of oil was Joaſh.

29 And over the herds that fed in Sharon, was Shitrai the Sharonite; and over the herds that were in the valleys, was Shaphat the ſon of Adlai.

30 Over the camels alſo, was Obil the Iſhmaelite: and over the aſſes, was Jehdeiah the Meronothite.

31 And over the flocks, was Jaziz the Hagerite. All theſe were the rulers of the ſubſtance which was king David's.

32 Alſo Jonathan, David's uncle was a counſeller, a wiſe man, and a ſcribe: and Jehiel the ſon of Hachmoni was with the king's ſons:

33 And Ahithophel was the king's counſeller, and Huſhai the Archite was the king's companion.

34 And after Ahithophel, was Jehoiada the ſon of Benaiah, and Abiathar: and the general of the king's army was Joab.

CHAP. XXVIII.

AND David aſſembled all the princes of Iſrael, the princes of the tribes, and the captains of the companies that miniſtered to the king by courſe, and the captains over the thouſands, and captains over the hundreds, and the ſtewards over all the ſubſtance and poſſeſſion of the king, and of his ſons, with the officers, and with the mighty men, and with all the valiant men unto Jeruſalem.

2 Then David the king ſtood up upon his feet, and ſaid, Hear me, my brethren, and my people, As for me, I had in mine heart to build an houſe of reſt for the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and for the footſtool of our God, and had made ready for the building:

3 But God ſaid unto me, Thou ſhalt not build an houſe for my name, becauſe thou haſt been a man of war, and haſt ſhed blood.

4 Howbeit, the Lord God of Iſrael choſe me before all the houſe of my father, to be king over Iſrael for ever: for he hath choſen Judah to be the ruler; and of the houſe of Judah, the houſe of my father; and among the ſons of my father, he liked me to make me king over all Iſrael.

5 And of all my ſons (for the Lord hath given me many ſons) he hath choſen Solomon my ſon to ſit upon the throne of the kingdom of the Lord over Iſrael.

6 And he ſaid unto me, Solomon thy ſon, he ſhall build my houſe, and my courts: for I have choſen him to be my ſon, and I will be his father.

7 Moreover, I will eſtabliſh his kingdom for ever, if he be conſtant to do my commandments and my judgments, as at this day.

8 Now therefore, in the ſight of all Iſrael the congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keep and ſeek for all the commandments of the Lord your God: that ye may poſſeſs this good land, and leave it for an inheritance for your children after you for ever.

9 ¶ And thou, Solomon my ſon, know thou the God of thy father, and ſerve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing mind: for the Lord ſearcheth all hearts, and underſtandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou ſeek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forſake him, he will caſt thee off for ever.

10 Take heed now, for the Lord hath choſen thee to build an houſe for the ſanctuary: be ſtrong and do it.

11 ¶ Then David gave to Solomon his ſon the pattern of the porch, and of the houſes thereof, and of the treaſuries thereof, and of the upper chambers thereof, and of the inner parlours thereof, and of the place of the mercy-ſeat:

12 And the pattern of all that he had by the ſpirit, of the courts of the houſe of the Lord, and of all the chambers round about, of the treaſuries of the houſe of God, and of the treaſuries of the dedicated things:

13 Alſo for the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites, and for all the work of the ſervice of the Lord, and for all the veſſels of ſervice in the houſe of the Lord.

14 He gave of gold by weight, for things of gold, for all inſtruments of all manner of ſervice, ſilver alſo for all inſtruments of ſilver by weight, for all inſtruments of every kind of ſervice:

15 Even the weight for the candleſticks of gold, and for their lamps of gold, by weight for every candleſtick, and for the lamps thereof: and for the candleſticks of ſilver by weight, both for the candleſtick, and alſo for the lamps thereof, according to the uſe of every candleſtick.

16 And by weight he gave gold for the tables of ſhew-bread, for every table, and likewiſe ſilver for the tables of ſilver.

17 Alſo pure gold for the fleſh-hooks, and the bowls and the cups: and for the golden baſons he gave gold by weight for every baſon; and likewiſe ſilver by weight for every baſon of ſilver:

18 And for the altar of incenſe, refined gold by weight; and gold for the pattern of the chariot of the cherubims that ſpread out their wings, and covered the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

19 All this, ſaid David, the Lord made me underſtand in writing by his hand upon me, even all the works of this pattern.

20 And David ſaid to Solomon his ſon, Be ſtrong and of good courage, and do it: fear not, nor be diſmayed, for the Lord God, even my God, will be with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forſake thee, until thou haſt finiſhed all the work for the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord.

21 And behold, the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites, even the ſhall be with thee for all the ſervice of the houſe of God, and there ſhall be with thee for all manner of workmanſhip every willing ſkilful man, for any manner of ſervice: alſo the princes and all the people will be wholly at thy commandment.

CHAP. XXIX.

FUrthermore David the king ſaid unto all the congregation, Solomon my ſon, whom alone God hath choſen, is yet young and tender, and the work is great: for the palace is not for man, but for the Lord God.

2 Now I have prepared with all my might for the houſe of my God, the gold for things to be made of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and the braſs for things of braſs, the iron for things of iron, and wood for things of wood; onyx-ſtones, and ſtones to be ſet, gliſtering ſtones, and of divers colours, and all manner of precious ſtones, and marble ſtones in abundance.

3 Moreover, becauſe I have ſet my affection to the houſe of my God, I have of mine own proper good, of gold and ſilver, which I have given to the houſe of my God, over and above all that I have prepared for the holy houſe.

4 Even three thouſand talents of gold, of the gold of Ophir, and ſeven thouſand talents of refined ſilver to overlay the walls of the houſes withal:

5 The gold for things of gold, and the ſilver for things of ſilver, and for all manner of work to be made by the hands of artificers. And who then is willing to conſecrate his ſervice this day unto the Lord?

6 ¶ Then the chief of the fathers and princes of the tribes of Iſrael, and the captains of thouſands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the king's work offered willingly.

7 And gave for the ſervice of the houſe of God, of gold, five thouſand talents, and ten thouſand drams; and of ſilver, ten thouſand talents; and of braſs eighteen thouſand talents; and one hundred thouſand talents of iron.

8 And they with whom precious ſtones were found, gave them to the treaſure of the houſe of the Lord, by the hand of Jehiel the Gerſhonite.

9 Then the people rejoiced, for that they offered willingly, becauſe with perfect heart, they offered willingly to the Lord: and David the king alſo rejoiced with great joy.

10 ¶ Wherefore David bleſſed the Lord before all the congregation: And David ſaid, Bleſſed be thou, Lord God of Iſrael our father, for ever and ever.

11 Thine, O Lord, is the greatneſs, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majeſty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reigneſt over all, and in thine hand is power and might, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give ſtrength unto all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praiſe thy glorious name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we ſhould be able

CHAP. XXVIII.] 2 I had in mine heart to build an houſe of reſt for the ark, &c.] That is, a place where the ark might be ſettled, and not ſubject to be carried from place to place, as it had hitherto been.

And for the footſtool of our God.] The conjuction and is here exegetical, and ſhould have been rendered that is; the ark being conſidered as the footſtool of Omnipotence, as being under the mercy-ſeat. With this connection, the paſſage before us will agree with the following expreſſion of Jeremiah, How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger, and caſt down from heaven unto earth the beauty of Iſrael, and remembered not his footſtool in the day of his anger! Lam. iii. 1.

4 For he hath choſen Judah to be the ruler; and of the houſe of Judah, the houſe of my father, &c.] It was not known, before the days of David, from what family of Judah a king ſhould be choſen, from whom the Meſſiah ſhould come.

19 All this, ſaid David, the Lord made me underſtand in writing by his hand upon me, even all the works of this pattern.] That is, God was pleaſed to reveal all this as plainly and diſtinctly to him, as if it had been written on his mind; as the ten commandments were on the tables of ſtone in the mount.

CHAP. XXIX.] 11 Thine, O Lord, is the greatneſs, and the power, and the glory, &c.] This is a moſt noble declaration of the ſenſe he had of the divine excellencies and perfections, with a thankful acknowledgment of his immenſity, power, goodneſs, eternity and majeſty, which are the properties or attributes of God.

able to offer ſo willingly after this ſort? for all things come of thee, and of thine own have we given thee.

15 For we are ſtrangers before thee, and ſojourners, as were all our fathers: our days on the earth are as a ſhadow, and there is none abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this ſtore that we have prepared to build thee an houſe for thine holy name, cometh of thine hand, and is all thine own.

17 I know alſo, my God, that thou trieſt the heart, and haſt pleaſure in uprightneſs. As for me, in the uprightneſs of mine heart I have willingly offered all theſe things: and now have I ſeen with joy, thy people which are preſent here, to offer willingly unto thee.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Iſaac, and of Iſrael, our fathers keep this for ever in the imagination of the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their heart unto thee.

19 And give unto Solomon my ſon a perfect heart to keep thy commandments, thy teſtimonies, and thy ſtatutes, and to do all theſe things, and to build the palace for the which I have made proviſion.

20 ¶ And David ſaid to all the congregation, Now bleſs the Lord your God. And all the congregation bleſſed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed down their heads, and worſhipped the Lord and the king.

21 And they ſacrificed ſacrifices unto the Lord, and offered burnt-offerings unto the Lord on the morrow after that day, even a thouſand bullocks, a thouſand rams, and a thouſand lambs with their drink offerings, and ſacrifices in abundance for all Iſrael:

22 And did eat and drink before the Lord on that day with great gladneſs, and they made Solomon the ſon of David king the ſecond time, and anointed him unto the Lord to be the chief governor, and Zadok to be prieſt.

23 Then Solomon ſat on the throne of the Lord as king inſtead of David his father, and proſpered, and all Iſrael obeyed him.

24 And all the princes and the mighty men, and all the ſons likewiſe of king David ſubmitted themſelves unto Solomon the king.

25 And the Lord magnified Solomon exceedingly in the ſight of all Iſrael, and beſtowed upon him ſuch royal majeſty, as had not been on any king before him in Iſrael.

26 Thus David the ſon of Jeſſe, reigned over all Iſrael.

27 And the time that he reigned over Iſrael, was forty years; ſeven years reigned he in Hebron, and thirty and three years reigned he in Jeruſalem.

28 And he died in a good old age, full of days, riches and honour: and Solomon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

29 Now the acts of David the king, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of Samuel the ſeer, and in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the book of Gad the ſeer, 30 With all his reign and his might, and the times that went over him, and over Iſrael, and over all the kingdoms of the countries.

26 Thus David the ſon of Jeſſe, reigned over all Iſrael.] That is, this is a brief account of the tranſactions of David during his reign.

THE Second BOOK of the CHRONICLES.

The ARGUMENT.

The ſecond book of the Chronicles contains an account of the progreſs and end of the kingdom of Judah, from the beginning of Solomon's reign to the very year of their return from the Babyloniſh captivity; and enumerates ſeveral particulars omitted in the book of Kings, particularly in the hiſtory of Jehoſhaphat and Hezekiah.

CHAP. I.

AND Solomon the ſon of David was ſtrengthened in his kingdom, and the Lord his God was with him, and magnified him exceedingly.

2 Then Solomon ſpake unto all Iſrael, to the captains of thouſands, and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to every governor in all Iſrael, the chief of the fathers.

3 So Solomon and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon for there was the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord had made in the wilderneſs.

4 But the ark of God had David brought up from Kirjath-jearim, to the place which David had prepared for it: for he had pitched a tent for it at Jeruſalem.

5 Moreover, the brazen altar that Bezaleel the ſon of Uri, the ſon of Hur, had made, he put before the tabernacle of the Lord: and Solomon and the congregation ſought unto it.

6 And Solomon went up thither to the braſen altar before the Lord, which was at the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thouſand burnt-offerings upon it.

7 ¶ In that night, did God appear unto Solomon, and ſaid unto him, Aſk what I ſhall give thee.

8 And Solomon ſaid unto God, Thou haſt ſhewed great mercy unto David my father, and haſt made me to reign in his ſtead.

9 Now, O Lord God, let thy promiſe unto David my father be eſtabliſhed: for thou haſt made me king over a people like the duſt of the earth in multitude.

10 Give me now wiſdom and knowledge, that I may go out, and come in before this people: for who can judge this thy people that is ſo great?

11 And God ſaid to Solomon, Becauſe this was in thine heart, and thou haſt not aſked riches, wealth, or honour, nor the life of thine enemies, neither yet haſt aſked long life; but haſt aſked wiſdom and knowledge for thyſelf, that thou mayeſt judge my people, over whom I have made thee king:

12 Wiſdom and knowledge is granted unto thee, and I will give thee riches, and wealth, and honour, ſuch as none of the kings have had, that have been before thee, neither ſhall there any after thee have the like.

13 ¶ Then Solomon came from his journey, to the high place that was at Gibeon, to Jeruſalem, from before the tabernacle of the congregation, and reigned over Iſrael.

14 And Solomon gathered chariots and horſemen: and he had a thouſand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen, which he placed in the chariot-cities, and with the king at Jeruſalem.

15 And the king made ſilver and gold at Jeruſalem as plenteous as ſtones, and cedar-trees made he as the ſycamore-trees that are in the vale for abundance.

16 And Solomon had horſes brought out of Egypt, and linen yarn: the king's merchants received the linen yarn at a price.

17 And they fetched up, and brought forth out of Egypt a chariot for ſix hundred ſhekels of ſilver, and an horſe for an hundred and fifty: and ſo brought they out horſes for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria, by their means.

CHAP. II.

AND Solomon determined to build an houſe for the name of the Lord, and an houſe for his kingdom.

2 And Solomon told out threeſcore and ten thouſand men to bear burdens, and fourſcore thouſand to hew in the mountain, and three thouſand and ſix hundred to overſee them.

3 ¶ And Solomon ſent to Huram the king of Tyre, ſaying, As thou didſt deal with David my father, and didſt ſend him cedars to build him an houſe to dwell therein, even ſo deal with me.

4 Behold, I build an houſe to the name of the Lord my God, to dedicate it to him, and to burn before him ſweet incenſe, and for the continual ſhew-bread, and for the burnt-offerings morning and evening, on the ſabbaths, and on the new-moons, and on the ſolemn feaſts of the Lord our God. This is an ordinance for ever to Iſrael.

5 And the houſe which I build is great: for great is our God above all gods.

Commentary on the Second Book of Chronicles.

CHAP. I.] 3 So Solomon and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon, &c.] Though the tabernacle and altar made by Moſes in the wilderneſs were now at Gibeon, yet the ark of the covenant was in the city of David. It has therefore been aſked, how theſe came to be ſeparated? To which Conradus Pelecanus anſwers, that even in thoſe days, God intimated to the Iſraelites, that he did not regard the ceremonial worſhip, when the people were under the government and inſtruction of ſuch men as Samuel and David; and were not tainted with idolatry. The Lord did not then exact ſo many legal ſervices, as he did in times of peace and tranquility, when they were more neceſſary for the people; leſt, after their cuſtom, when they lived in peace and proſperity, they ſhould fall into ſuperſtition, and admire the worſhip of the heathens.

CHAP.

6 But who is able to build him an houſe, ſeeing the heaven, nd heaven of heavens cannot contain him? who am I then hat I ſhould build him an houſe, ſave only to burn ſacrifice before im?

7 Send me now therefore a man, cunning to work in gold, and n ſilver, and in braſs, and in iron, and in purple, and crimſon, nd blue, and that can ſkill to grave with the cunning men that re with me in Judah and in Jeruſalem, whom David my father did rovide.

8 Send me alſo cedar-trees, fir-trees, and algum trees out of Lebanon (for I know that thy ſervants can ſkill to cut timber in Lebanon) and behold my ſervants ſhall be with thy ſervants, 9 Even to prepare me timber in abundance: for the houſe which I am about to build ſhall be wonderfully great.

10 And behold, I will give to thy ſervants, the hewers that cut imber, twenty thouſand meaſures of beaten wheat, and twenty houſand meaſures of barley, and twenty thouſand baths of wine, nd twenty thouſand baths of oil.

11 ¶ Then Huram the king of Tyre anſwered in writing, which he ſent to Solomon, Becauſe the Lord hath loved his peole, he hath made thee king over them.

12 Huram ſaid moreover, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael hat made heaven and earth, who hath given to David the king a wiſe ſon, endued with prudence and underſtanding, that might uild an houſe for the Lord, and an houſe for his kingdom.

13 And now I have ſent a cunning man, endued with underſtanding, of Huram my father's;

14 The ſon of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his faher was a man of Tyre, ſkilful to work in gold and in ſilver, in raſs, in iron, in ſtone, and in timber, in purple, in blue, and in ne linen, and in crimſon: alſo to grave any manner of graving, nd to find out every device which ſhall be put to him, with thy unning men, and with the cunning men of my lord David thy ather.

15 Now therefore the wheat, and the barley, the oil, and the wine which my lord hath ſpoken of, let him ſend unto his ſervants.

16 And we will cut wood out of Lebanon, as much as thou halt need, and we will bring it to thee in flotes by ſea to Joppa, nd thou ſhalt carry it up to Jeruſalem.

17 ¶ And Solomon numbered all the ſtrangers that were in the and of Iſrael; after the numbering wherewith David his father ad numbered them; and they were found an hundred and fifty houſand and three thouſand and ſix hundred.

18 And he ſet threeſcore and ten thouſand of them to be bearers f burdens, and fourſcore thouſand to be hewers in the mountain, nd three thouſand and ſix hundred overſeers to ſet the people at work.

CHAP. III.

THEN Solomon began to build the houſe of the Lord at Jeruſalem in mount Moriah, where the Lord appeared unto David his father, in the place that David had prepared in the threſhing-floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

2 And he began to build in the ſecond day of the ſecond month, in the fourth year of his reign.

3 ¶ Now theſe are the things wherein Solomon was inſtructed for the building of the houſe of God. The length by cubits after the firſt meaſure was threeſcore cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

4 And the porch that was in the front of the houſe, the length of it was according to the breadth of the houſe, twenty cubits, and the height was an hundred and twenty: and he overlaid it within with pure gold.

5 And the greater houſe he ceiled with fir-tree, which he overlaid with fine gold, and ſet thereon palm-trees and chains.

6 And he garniſhed the houſe with precious ſtones for beauty: and the gold was gold of Parvaim.

7 He overlaid alſo the houſe, the beams, the poſts, and the walls thereof, and the doors thereof with gold, and graved cherubims on the walls.

8 And he made the moſt holy houſe, the length whereof was according to the breadth of the houſe, twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof twenty cubits: and he overlaid it with fine gold amounting to ſix hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nails was fifty ſhekels of gold: and he overlaid the upper chambers with gold.

10 And in the moſt holy houſe he made two cherubims of image-work, and over-laid them with gold.

11 ¶ And the wings of the cherubims were twenty cubits long: one wing of the one cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the houſe: and the other wing was likewiſe five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other cherub.

12 And one wing of the other cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the houſe: and the other wing was five cubits alſo, joining to the wing of the other cherub.

13 The wings of theſe cherubims ſpread themſelves forth twenty cubits: and they ſtood on their feet, and their faces were inward.

14 ¶ And he made the vail of blue, and purple, and crimſon, and fine linen, and wrought cherubims thereon.

15 Alſo he made before the houſe two pillars of thirty and five cubits high, and the chapiter that was on the top of each of them mas five cubits.

16 And he made chains as in the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chains.

17 And he reared up the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left; and called the name of that on the right hand, Jachin, and the name of that on the left, Boaz.

CHAP. IV.

MOreover, he made an altar of braſs, twenty cubits the length thereof, and twenty cubits the breadth thereof, and ten cubits the height thereof.

2 ¶ Alſo he made a molten ſea of ten cubits from brim to brim, round in compaſs, and five cubits the height thereof, and a line of thirty cubits did compaſs it round about.

3 And under it was the ſimilitude of oxen, which did compaſs it round about: ten in a cubit compaſſing the ſea round about. Two rows of oxen were caſt, when it was caſt.

4 It ſtood upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the weſt, and three looking toward the ſouth, and three looking toward the eaſt: and the ſea was ſet above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickneſs of it was an hand-breadth, and the brim of it like the work of the brim of a cup, with flowers of lilies; and it received and held three thouſand baths.

6 ¶ He made alſo ten lavers, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to waſh in them: ſuch things as they offered for the burnt-offering, they waſhed in them; but the ſea was for the prieſts to waſh in.

7 And he made ten candleſticks of gold according to their form, and ſet them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 He made alſo ten tables, and placed them in the temple, five on the right ſide, and five on the left: and he made an hundred baſons of gold.

9 Furthermore, he made the court of the prieſts, and the great court, and doors for the court, and overlaid the doors of them with braſs.

10 And he ſet the ſea on the right ſide of the eaſt-end, over againſt the ſouth.

11 And Huram made the pots, and the ſhovels, and the baſons, and Huram finiſhed the work that he was to make for king Solomon for the houſe of God.

12 To wit, the two pillars, and the pommels, and the chapiters which were on the top of the two pillars, and the two wreaths to cover the two pommels of the chapiters which were on the pillars.

13 And four hundred pomegranates on the two wreaths; two rows of pomegranates on each wreath, to cover the two pommels of the chapiters, which were upon the pillars.

14 He made alſo baſes; and lavers made he upon the baſes;

15 One ſea, and twelve oxen under it:

16 The pots alſo and the ſhovels, and the fleſh-hooks, and all their inſtruments, did Huram his father make to king Solomon for the houſe of the Lord, of bright braſs.

17 In the plain of Jordan did the king caſt them in the clay-ground between Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 Thus Solomon made all theſe veſſels in great abundance: for the weight of the braſs could not be found out.

19 ¶ And Solomon made all the veſſels that were for the houſe of

---

CHAP. II.] 6 But who is able to build him an houſe, ſeeing the heaven, and heaven of heavens cannot contain him?] He would not have Huram imagine, that he had ſuch a groveling and unworthy idea of God, as to think he could be confined and comprehended in any houſe, being immenſe beyond conception. And conſequently it would have been a high preſumption to build him an houſe for any other intention, than for his worſhippers to aſſemble there, and pay and perform the duties and offices of religion.

17 And Solomon numbered all the ſtrangers that were in the land, &c.] Theſe were the remainder of the Amorites, Hittites, &c. that had not embraced the Jewiſh religion.

CHAP. III.] 1 Then Solomon began to build the houſe of the Lord in Jeruſalem in mount Moriah.] This mountain was the place where Abraham attempted to offer his ſon Iſaac.

8 Now theſe are the things wherein Solomon was inſtructed for the building of the houſe of God.] This paſſage may be better tranſlated in the following manner: Now theſe are the dimenſions of the foundation of the temple, which Solomon began to build. For Solomon did not receive a delineation of the whole fabric from his father, but only of the porch and courts.

9 He overlaid the upper chambers with gold.] The word eljoth, which we render upper chambers, ſignifies alſo the ceiling, and ſhould have been ſo tranſlated here; for the chambers were not overlaid with gold; but the whole ceiling, walls, and floors of the holy and moſt holy place were covered with that coſtly metal.

CHAP. IV.] 3 Two rows of oxen were caſt, when it was caſt.] That is, the oxen and the ſea were caſt together, and not faſtened afterwards.

of God, the golden altar alſo, and the tables whereon the ſhew-bread was ſet;

20 Moreover, the candleſticks with their lamps, that they ſhould burn after the manner, before the oracle, of pure gold;

21 And the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs made he of gold, and that perfect gold.

22 And the ſnuffers, and the baſons, and the ſpoons, and the cenſers, of pure gold: and the entry of the houſe, the inner doors thereof for the moſt holy place, and the doors of the houſe of the temple were of gold.

CHAP. V.

THUS all the work that Solomon made for the houſe of the Lord, was finiſhed: and Solomon brought in all the things that David his father had dedicated: and the ſilver, and the gold, and all the inſtruments, put he among the treaſures of the houſe of God.

2 ¶ Then Solomon aſſembled the elders of Iſrael, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Iſrael unto Jeruſalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, out of the city of David, which is Zion.

3 Wherefore all the men of Iſrael aſſembled themſelves unto the king in the feaſt, which was in the ſeventh month.

4 And all the elders of Iſrael came, and the Levites took up the ark.

5 And they brought up the ark, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy veſſels that were in the tabernacle, theſe did the prieſts and the Levites bring up.

6 Alſo king Solomon and all the congregation of Iſrael that were aſſembled unto him before the ark, ſacrificed ſheep and oxen, which could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

7 And the prieſts brought in the ark of the covenant of the Lord unto his place, to the oracle of the houſe into the moſt holy place, even under the wings of the cherubims.

8 For the cherubims ſpread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark and the ſtaves thereof above.

9 And they drew out the ſtaves of the ark, that the ends of the ſtaves were ſeen from the ark before the oracle, but they were not ſeen without. And there it is unto this day.

10 There was nothing in the ark ſave the two tables which Moſes put therein at Horeb, when the Lord made a covenant with the children of Iſrael when they came out of Egypt.

11 ¶ And it came to paſs when the prieſts were come out of the holy place: (for all the prieſts that were preſent were ſanctified, and did not then wait by courſe.

12 Alſo the Levites which were the ſingers, all of them of Aſaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, with their ſons, and their brethren: being arrayed in white linen, having cymbals, and pſalteries, and harps, ſtood at the eaſt end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty prieſts, ſounding with trumpets)

13 It came even to paſs as the trumpeters and ſingers were as one, to make one ſound to be heard in praiſing and thanking the Lord: and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals, and inſtruments of muſic, and praiſed the Lord, ſaying, For he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever: that then the houſe was filled with a cloud, even the houſe of the Lord;

14 So that the prieſts could not ſtand to miniſter by reaſon of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the houſe of God.

CHAP. VI.

THEN ſaid Solomon, The Lord hath ſaid, that he would dwell in the thick darkneſs.

2 But I have built an houſe of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for ever.

3 And the king turned his face, and bleſſed the whole congregation of Iſrael (and all the congregation of Iſrael ſtood)

4 And he ſaid, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, who hath with his hands fulfilled that which he ſpake with his mouth to my father David, ſaying,

5 Since the day that I brought forth my people out of the land of Egypt, I choſe no city among all the tribes of Iſrael to build an houſe in that my name might be there, neither choſe I any man to be a ruler over my people Iſrael.

6 But I have choſen Jeruſalem, that my name might be there, and have choſen David to be over my people Iſrael.

7 Now it was in the heart of David my father to build an houſe for the name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

8 But the Lord ſaid to David my father, Foraſmuch as it was in thine heart to build an houſe for my name, thou didſt well in that it was in thine heart:

9 Notwithſtanding thou ſhalt not build the houſe, but thy ſon which ſhall come forth out of thy loins, he ſhall build the houſe for my name.

10 The Lord therefore hath performed his word that he hath ſpoken: for I am riſen up in the room of David my father, and am ſet on the throne of Iſrael, as the Lord promiſed, and have built the houſe for the name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

11 And in it have I put the ark, wherein is the covenant of the Lord that he made with the children of Iſrael.

12 ¶ And he ſtood before the altar of the Lord, in the preſence of all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands;

13 (For Solomon had made a braſen ſcaffold, of five cubits long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits high, and had ſet it in the midſt of the court, and upon it he ſtood, and kneeled down upon his knees before all the congregation of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands toward heaven)

14 And ſaid, O Lord God of Iſrael there is no God like thee in the heaven, or in the earth; which keepeſt covenant and ſhewеſt mercy unto thy ſervants, that walk before thee with all their hearts:

15 Thou which haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father, that which thou haſt promiſed him; and ſpakeſt with thy mouth and haſt fulfilled it with thine hand as it is this day.

16 Now therefore, O Lord God of Iſrael, keep with thy ſervant David my father, that which thou haſt promiſed him, ſaying, There ſhall not fail thee a man in my ſight to ſit upon the throne of Iſrael; yet ſo, that thy children take heed to their way to walk in my law, as thou haſt walked before me.

17 Now then, O Lord God of Iſrael, let thy word be verified, which thou haſt ſpoken unto thy ſervant David.

18 (But will God in very deed dwell with men on the earth? behold, heaven, and the heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much leſs this houſe which I have built!)

19 Have reſpect therefore to the prayer of thy ſervant and to his ſupplication, O Lord my God, to hearken unto the cry and the prayer which thy ſervant prayeth before thee:

20 That thine eyes may be open upon this houſe day and night upon the place whereof thou haſt ſaid, that thou wouldeſt put thy name there; to hearken unto the prayer, which thy ſervant prayeth toward this place.

21 Hearken therefore unto the ſupplications of thy ſervant, and of thy people Iſrael, which they ſhall make toward this place: hear thou from thy dwelling-place, even from heaven; and when thou heareſt, forgive.

22 ¶ If a man ſin againſt his neighbour, and an oath be laid upon him, to make him ſwear, and the oath come before thine altar in this houſe:

23 Then hear thou from heaven, and do, and judge thy ſervants, by requiting the wicked, by recompenſing his way upon his own head, and by juſtifying the righteous, by giving him according to his righteouſneſs.

24 ¶ And if thy people Iſrael be put to the worſe before the enemy, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; and ſhall return and confeſs thy name, and pray, and make ſupplication before thee in this houſe:

25 Then hear thou from the heavens, and forgive the ſin of thy people Iſrael, and bring them again unto the land which thou gaveſt to them, and to their fathers.

26 ¶ When the heaven is ſhut up, and there is no rain, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; yet if they pray toward this place, and confeſs thy name, and turn from their ſin when thou doſt afflict them:

27 Then hear thou from heaven, and forgive the ſin of thy ſervants, and of thy people Iſrael, when thou haſt taught them the good way wherein they ſhould walk; and ſend rain upon thy land which thou haſt given unto thy people for an inheritance.

28 ¶ If there be dearth in the land, if there be peſtilence, if there be blaſting, or mildew, locuſts, or caterpillars; if their enemies beſiege them in the cities of their land; whatſoever ſore, or whatſoever ſickneſs there be:

29 Then what prayer, or what ſupplication ſoever ſhall be made of any man, or of all thy people Iſrael, when every one ſhall know his own ſore, and his own grief, and ſhall ſpread forth his hands in this houſe:

30 Then hear thou from heaven thy dwelling-place, and forgive, and render unto every man according unto all his ways, whoſe heart thou knoweſt (for thou only knoweſt the hearts of the children of men.)

31 That

CHAP. V.] 1 Solomon brought in all the things that David his father had dedicated, &c.] David had made ſuch vaſt preparations for building the houſe of God, that there was more than ſufficient for the whole work; and this ſurplus Solomon depoſited in the treaſury of the temple, not thinking proper to uſe them in any other work. 1 Kings viii. contains nearly the ſame account as this chapter.

6 Alſo king Solomon and all the congregation of Iſrael that were aſſembled, &c.] Nothing ſurely can give a greater pleaſure to the human mind, than to ſee ſuch harmony as here appeared among all orders of men; both teachers and learners, magiſtrates, ſoldiers and people, all joined in promoting the ſervice and honour of God. And certainly we, who call ourſelves Chriſtians, ſhould carefully ſtudy to promote ſuch unity among ourſelves, that we may all form one fold, under the great Shepherd and Biſhop of our ſouls.

CHAP. VI.] 5 Neither choſe I any man to be a ruler over my people Iſrael.] Theſe words are very different from thoſe in 2 Kings viii. 86. where it is ſaid, But I choſe David to be over my people Iſrael. Till the time of that monarch there was no ſettled ſucceſſion of a ruler, that he and his poſterity ſhould reign over them: but God raiſed up judges out of what tribe and family he pleaſed; and when he made Saul king, he did not continue that dignity in his family, as he did to David.

41 Now

31 That they may fear thee, to walk in thy ways, so long as they live in the land which thou gavest unto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreover, concerning the stranger, which is not of thy people Israel, but is come from a far country for thy great name's sake, and thy mighty hand, and thy stretched out arm; if they come and pray in this house:

33 Then hear thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling-place, and do according to all that the stranger calleth to thee for; that all people of the earth may know thy name, and fear thee, as doth thy people Israel, and may know that this house which I have built, is called by thy name.

34 If thy people go out to war against their enemies, by the way that thou shalt send them, and they pray unto thee toward this city which thou hast chosen, and the house which I have built for thy name:

35 Then hear thou from the heavens their prayer, and their supplication, and maintain their cause:

36 If they sin against thee (for there is no man which sinneth not) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them over before their enemies, and they carry them away captives unto a land far off or near;

37 Yet, if they bethink themselves in the land whither they are carried captive, and turn, and pray unto thee in the land of their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have done amiss, and have dealt wickedly;

38 If they return to thee with all their heart, and with all their soul, in the land of their captivity, whither they have carried them captives, and pray toward their land which thou gavest unto their fathers, and toward the city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I have built for thy name:

39 Then hear thou from the heavens, even from thy dwelling-place, their prayer, and their supplications, and maintain their cause, and forgive thy people which have sinned against thee.

40 Now, my God, let I beseech thee, thine eyes be open, and let thine ears be attent unto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 Now therefore arise, O Lord God, into thy resting place, thou, and the ark of thy strength: let thy priests, O Lord God, be clothed with salvation, and let thy saints rejoice in goodness.

42 O Lord God, turn not away the face of thine anointed: remember the mercies of David thy servant.

CHAP. VII.

NOW when Solomon had made an end of praying, the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt-offering and the sacrifices; and the glory of the Lord filled the house.

2 And the priests could not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lord's house.

3 And when all the children of Israel saw how the fire came down, and the glory of the Lord upon the house, they bowed themselves with their faces to the ground upon the pavement, and worshipped, and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever.

4 ¶ Then the king and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of twenty and two thousand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thousand sheep, so the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the priests waited on their offices: the Levites also with instruments of musick of the Lord, which David the king had made to praise the Lord, because his mercy endureth for ever, when David praised by their ministry: and the priests sounded trumpets before them, and all Israel stood.

7 Moreover, Solomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he offered burnt-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings, because the brazen altar which Solomon had made, was not able to receive the burnt-offerings, and the meat-offerings, and the fat.

8 ¶ Also at the same time Solomon kept the feast seven days, and all Israel with him, a very great congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, unto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eighth day they made a solemn assembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar seven days, and the feast seven days.

10 And on the three and twentieth day of the seventh month, he sent the people away into their tents, glad and merry in heart for the goodness that the Lord had shewed unto David, and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

11 Thus Solomon finished the house of the Lord, and the king's house: and all that came into Solomon's heart to make in the house of the Lord, and in his own house, he prosperously effected.

12 ¶ And the Lord appeared to Solomon by night, and said unto him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place to myself for an house of sacrifice,

13 If I shut up heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locusts to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people;

14 If my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

15 Now mine eyes shall be open, and mine ears attent unto the prayer that is made in this place.

16 For now have I chosen and sanctified this house, that my name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And as for thee, if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded thee, and shalt observe my statutes and my judgments:

18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I have covenanted with David thy father, saying, there shall not fail thee a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turn away and forsake my statutes and my commandments which I have set before you, and shall go and serve other gods, and worship them:

20 Then will I pluck them up by the roots out of my land which I have given them; and this house which I have sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a proverb, and a by-word among all nations.

21 And this house which is high, shall be an astonishment to every one that passeth by it; so that he shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus unto this land, and unto this house?

22 And it shall be answered, Because they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, and laid hold on other gods, and worshipped them, and served them: therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them.

CHAP. VIII.

AND it came to pass (at the end of twenty years wherein Solomon had built the house of the Lord, and his own house)

2 That the cities which Huram had restored to Solomon, Solomon built them, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath-zobah, and prevailed against it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderness, and all the store cities, which he built in Hamath.

5 Also he built Beth-horon the upper, and Beth-horon the nether, fenced cities, with walls, gates, and bars:

6 And Baalath, and all the store-cities that Solomon had, and all the chariot-cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and all that Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem, and in Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 ¶ As for all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites which were not of Israel;

8 But of their children who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel consumed not; them did Solomon make to pay tribute, until this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Solomon make no servants for his work: but they were men of war, and chief of his captains, and captains of his chariots and horsemen.

10 And these were the chief of king Solomon's officers, even two hundred and fifty, that bare rule over the people.

11 ¶ And Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh, out of the city of David, unto the house that he had built for her: for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of David king of Israel, because the places are holy, whereunto the ark of the Lord hath come.

12 ¶ Then Solomon offered burnt-offerings unto the Lord, on the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch:

13 Even after a certain rate every day, offering according to the commandment of Moses on the sabbaths, and on the new-moons, and on the solemn feasts, three times in the year, even in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles.

14 ¶ And he appointed according to the order of David his father, the courses of the priests to their service, and the Levites to their 41 Now therefore arise, O Lord God, into thy resting-place, &c.] These words are part of Psal. cxxxii. 8. 9. with a little alteration. And which the king now used in his address to Omnipotence, to beseech him to take up here, his habitation, together with his ark: to defend his priests who ministered to him in this place, that they might obtain his blessings for others: so that all the people might rejoice in his goodness, and be safe under the shadow of his wings.

CHAP. VII.] 1 Now when Solomon had made an end of praying, &c.] This is added to what is recorded in 1 Kings viii. 11, to shew God's acceptation of Solomon's prayer and sacrifices, and give him assurance that he would be present in this place, and grant all their petitions.

3 And when all the children of Israel saw how the fire came down, and the glory of the Lord upon the house.] This was a sufficient assurance that god would be present in this place; for the glory of the Lord not only filled the house, but also appeared upon it. So that all the people were eye-witnesses of the presence of Jehovah, and that he had chosen the temple for his habitation.

15 If I shut up heaven, &c.] Famine and pestilence were two sore punishments inflicted on them by God for their sins; and the former was sometimes caused by want of rain, and sometimes by locusts, which devoured all the fruits of the ground.

CHAP. VIII.] 3 And Solomon went to Hamath-zobah, and prevailed against it.] This country lay between the Euphrates and Damascus; the former being its eastern, and the latter its western boundary.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderness.] See note on 1 Kings ix. 18.

5 Also he built Beth-horon the upper, and Beth-horon the nether, &c.] Only the nether Beth-horon is mentioned, 1 Kings ix. 17. They were, however, both built before this time; so that Solomon only fortified, repaired, enlarged, and beautified them.

their charges, to praiſe and miniſter before the prieſts, as the duty of every day required: the porters alſo by their courſes, at every gate: for ſo had David the man of God commanded.

15 And they departed not from the commandment of the king unto the prieſts and Levites, concerning any matter, or concerning the treaſures.

16 Now all the work of Solomon was prepared unto the day of the foundation of the houſe of the Lord, and until it was finiſhed: ſo the houſe of the Lord was perfected.

17 ¶ Then went Solomom to Ezion-geber, and to Eloth, at the ſea-ſide in the land of Edom.

18 And Huram ſent him by the hands of his ſervants, ſhips, and ſervants that had knowledge of the ſea; and they went with the ſervants of Solomon to Ophir, and took thence four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and brought them to king Solomon.

CHAP. IX.

AND when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, ſhe came to prove Solomon with hard queſtions at Jeruſalem, with a very great company, and camels that bare ſpices, and gold in abundance, and precious ſtones: and when ſhe was come to Solomon, ſhe communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Solomon told her all her queſtions: and there was nothing hid from Solomon which he told her not.

3 And when the queen of Sheba had ſeen the wiſdom of Solomon, and the houſe that he had built,

4 And the meat of his table, and the ſitting of his ſervants, and the attendance of his miniſters, and their apparel, his cup-bearers alſo, and their apparel, and his aſcent by which he went up into the houſe of the Lord, there was no more ſpirit in her.

5 And ſhe ſaid to the king, It was a true report which I heard in mine own land of thine acts, and of thy wiſdom:

6 Howbeit, I believed not their words, until I came, and mine eyes had ſeen it: and behold, the one half of the greatneſs of thy wiſdom was not told me: for thou exceedeſt the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are theſe thy ſervants, which ſtand continually before thee, and hear thy wiſdom.

8 Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, which delighted in thee to ſet thee on his throne, to be king for the Lord thy God: becauſe thy God loved Iſrael, to eſtabliſh them for ever, therefore made he thee king over them, to do judgment and juſtice.

9 And ſhe gave the king an hundred and twenty talents of gold, and of ſpices great abundance, and precious ſtones: neither was there any ſuch ſpice as the queen of Sheba gave king Solomon.

13 And the ſervants alſo of Huram, and the ſervants of Solomon, which brought gold from Ophir, brought algum-trees, and precious ſtones.

11 And the king made of the algum-trees, terraces to the houſe of the Lord, and to the king's palace, and harps and pſalteries for ſingers: and there were none ſuch ſeen before in the land of Judah.

12 And king Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba, all her deſire, whatſoever ſhe aſked, beſides that which ſhe had brought unto the king: ſo ſhe turned and went away to her own land, ſhe and her ſervants.

13 ¶ Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year, was ſix hundred and threeſcore and ſix talents of gold.

14 Beſide that which chapmen and merchants brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and governors of the country, brought gold and ſilver to Solomon.

15 ¶ And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: ſix hundred ſhekels of beaten gold went to one target.

16 And three hundred ſhields made he of beaten gold: three hundred ſhekels of gold went to one ſhield: and the king put them in the houſe of the foreſt of Lebanon.

17 ¶ Moreover, the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 And there were ſix ſteps to the throne with a footſtool of gold, which were faſtened to the throne, and ſtays on each ſide of the ſitting-place, and two lions ſtanding by the ſtays.

19 And twelve lions ſtood there on the one ſide and on the other upon the ſix ſteps. There was not the like made in any kingdom.

20 ¶ And all the drinking-veſſels of king Solomon were of gold, and all the veſſels of the houſe of the foreſt of Lebanon were of pure gold: none were of ſilver; it was not any thing accounted of in the days of Solomon.

21 For the king's ſhips went to Tarſhiſh with the ſervants of Huram: every three years once came the ſhips of Tarſhiſh bringing gold and ſilver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks.

22 And king Solomon paſſed all the kings of the earth in riches and wiſdom.

23 ¶ And all the kings of the earth ſought the preſence of Solomon, to hear his wiſdom, that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought every man his preſent, veſſels of ſilver, and veſſels of gold, and raiment, harneſs, and ſpices, horſes, and mules, a rate year by year.

25 ¶ And Solomon had four thouſand ſtalls for horſes and chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen whom he beſtowed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Jeruſalem.

26 ¶ And he reigned over all the kings from the river, even unto the land of the Philiſtines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king made ſilver in Jeruſalem as ſtones, and cedar-trees made he as the ſycamore-trees, that are in the low plains, in abundance.

28 And they brought unto Solomon horſes out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Solomon, firſt and laſt, are they not written in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the viſions of Iddo the ſeer, againſt Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat?

30 And Solomon reigned in Jeruſalem over all Iſrael forty years.

31 And Solomon ſlept with his fathers, and he was buried in the city of David his father, and Rehoboam his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. X.

AND Rehoboam went to Shechem: for to Shechem were all Iſrael come to make him king.

2 And it came to paſs when Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat (who was in Egypt, whither he fled from the preſence of Solomon the king) heard it, that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt.

3 And they ſent and called him: ſo Jereboam and all Iſrael came and ſpake to Rehoboam, ſaying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous; now therefore eaſe thou ſomewhat the grievous ſervitude of thy father, and his heavy yoke, that he put upon us, and we will ſerve thee.

5 And he ſaid unto them, come again unto me after three days. And the people departed.

6 ¶ And king Rehoboam took counſel with the old men that had ſtood before Solomon his father, while he yet lived, ſaying, What counſel give ye me, to return anſwer to this people?

7 And they ſpake unto him, ſaying, If thou be kind to this people, and pleaſe them, and ſpake good words to them, they will be thy ſervants for ever.

8 But he forſook the counſel which the old men gave him, and took counſel with the young men that were brought up with him, that ſtood before him.

9 And he ſaid unto them, What advice give ye, that we may return anſwer to this people, which have ſpoken to me, ſaying, eaſe ſomewhat the yoke that thy father did put upon us?

10 And the young men that were brought up with him, ſpake unto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou anſwer the people that ſpake unto thee, ſaying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it ſomewhat lighter for us: thus ſhalt thou ſay unto them, My little finger ſhall be thicker than my father's loins.

11 For whereas my father put a heavy yoke upon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions.

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king bade, ſaying, come again to me on the third day.

13 And the king anſwered them roughly; and king Rehoboam forſook the counſel of the old men.

14 And anſwered them after the advice of the young men, ſaying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add thereto: my father chaſtiſed you with whips, but I will chaſtiſe you with ſcorpions:

15 So the king hearkened not unto the people, for the cauſe was of God, that the Lord might perform his word, which he ſpake by the hand of Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat.

16 ¶ And when all Iſrael ſaw that the king would not hearken unto them, the people anſwered the king, ſaying, What portion have we in David? and we have none inheritance in the ſon of Jeſſe: every CHAP IX.] 2 And Solomon told her all her queſtions &c. This chapter is little more than a repetition of what is before related in 1 Kings x. It may not, however, be amiſs to obſerve here, that the queſtions put to Solomon by the queen of Sheba were not philoſophical or political, but religious, and particularly concerning the ſervice of God.

27 And the king made ſilver in Jeruſalem as ſtones] This is an hyperbolical expreſſion, ſignifying ſuch an abundance of it as exceeded all belief.

29 Now the reſt of the acts of Solomon---are they not written in the book of Nathan the prophet? &c.] Abarbinal is of opinion, that there were two books of the acts of Solomon; one containing an account of the beginning of his reign, his noble buildings, and the ſplendor in which he lived, written by Nathan the prophet; and the other an account of what paſſed in the latter part of his life, how he doated upon women, and fell into idolatry, and the puniſhments with which he was threatened, written by Ahijah the Shilonite and Iddo the ſeer: for the latter wrote the acts of Jeroboam, which could not be well related without touching upon ſome part of Solomon's reign.

CHAP. X.] 1 And Rehoboam went to Shechem, &c.] An account of this tranſaction is before given, 1 Kings xii. and nearly in the ſame words; I ſhall therefore refer the reader thither for an explanation of it; and only obſerve here, that this complaint of the people, if true, was doubtleſs owing to Solomon's idolatry; for being unable, by the ordinary revenues of his kingdom, to ſupport the enormous expences of ſo many wives and concubines, and alſo of building them temples for the worſhip of other gods, he had recourſe to oppreſſive meaſures, and loaded the people with heavy taxes.

CHAP.

every man to your tents, O Iſrael: and now, David, ſee to thine own houſe. So all Iſrael went to their tents.

17 But as for the children of Iſrael that dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam ſent Hardoram that was over the tribute, and the children of Iſrael ſtoned him with ſtones that he died: but king Rehoboam made ſpeed to get him up to his chariot to flee to Jeruſalem.

19 And Iſrael rebelled againſt the houſe of David unto this day.

CHAP. XI.

AND when Rehoboam was come to Jeruſalem, he gathered of the houſe of Judah and Benjamin, an hundred and fourſcore thouſand choſen men which were warriors, to fight againſt Iſrael, that he might bring the kingdom again to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, ſaying,

3 Speak unto Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon king of Judah, and to all Iſrael in Judah and Benjamin, ſaying,

4 Thus ſaith the Lord, ye ſhall not go up nor fight againſt your brethren: return every man to his houſe, for this thing is done of me. And they obeyed the words of the Lord, and returned from going againſt Jeroboam.

5 ¶ And Rehoboam dwelt in Jeruſalem, and built cities for defence in Judah.

6 He built even Bethlehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Bethzur, and Shoca, and Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Mareſhah, and Ziph,

9 And Adoraim, and Lachiſh, and Azekah,

10 And Zorah, and Aijalon, and Hebron, which are in Judah, and in Benjamin, fenced cities.

11 And he fortified the ſtrong holds, and put captains in them, and ſtore of victual, and of oil and wine.

12 And in every ſeveral city he put ſhields and ſpears, and made them exceeding ſtrong, having Judah and Benjamin on his ſide.

13 ¶ And the prieſts and the Levites that were in all Iſrael, reſorted to him out of all the coaſts.

14 (For the Levites left their ſuburbs, and their poſſeſſion, and came to Judah and Jeruſalem: for Jeroboam and his ſons had caſt them off from executing the prieſts office unto the Lord.

15 And he ordained him prieſts for the high places, and for the devils, and for the calves which he had made.)

16 And after them out of all the tribes of Iſrael, ſuch as ſet their hearts to ſeek the Lord God of Iſrael came to Jeruſalem to ſacrifice unto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they ſtrengthened the kingdom of Judah, and made Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon ſtrong, three years: for three years they walked in the way of David and Solomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam took him Mahaloth the daughter of Jerimoth the ſon of David to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the ſon of Jeſſe:

19 Which bare him children; Jeuſh, and Shamariah, and Zaham.

20 And after her he took Maachah the daughter of Abſalom, which bare him Abijah and Attai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loved Maachah the daughter of Abſalom, above all his wives and his concubines: (for he took eighteen wives, and threeſcore concubines, and begat twenty and eight ſons, and threeſcore daughters.)

22 And Rehoboam made Abijah the ſon of Maachah the chief, to be ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 And he dealt wiſely, and diſperſed of all his children throughout all the countries of Judah and Benjamin, unto every fenced city: and he gave them victual in abundance: and he deſired many wives.

CHAP. XII.

AND it came to paſs when Rehoboam had eſtabliſhed the kingdom, and had ſtrengthened himſelf, he forſook the law of the Lord, and all Iſrael with him.

2 And it came to paſs, that in the fifth year of king Rehoboam, Shiſhak king of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem (becauſe they had tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord)

3 With twelve hundred chariots, and threeſcore thouſand horſemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Egypt; the Lubims, the Sukkiims, and the Ethiopians.

4 And he took the fenced cities which pertained to Judah and came to Jeruſalem.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiah the prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Judah, that were gathered together to Jeruſalem becauſe of Shiſhak, and ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord, Ye have forſaken me, and therefore have I alſo left you in the hand of Shiſhak.

9 Whereupon the princes of Iſrael, and the king humbled themſelves, and they ſaid, The Lord is righteous.

7 And when the Lord ſaw that they humbled themſelves, the the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah, ſaying, They have humbled themſelves, therefore I will not deſtroy them, but I will grant them ſome deliverance, and my wrath ſhall not be poured out upon Jeruſalem by the hand of Shiſhak.

8 Nevertheleſs, they ſhall be his ſervants; that they may know my ſervice, and the ſervice of the kingdoms of the countries.

9 So Shiſhak king of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem, and took away the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and the treaſures of the king's houſe, he took all: he carried away alſo the ſhields of gold which Solomon had made.

10 Inſtead of which, king Rehoboam made ſhields of braſs, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the guard, that kept the entrance of the king's houſe.

11 And when the king entered into the houſe of the Lord, the guard came and fetched them, and brought them again into the guard-chamber.

12 And when he humbled himſelf, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he could not deſtroy him altogether: and alſo in Judah things went well.

13 ¶ So king Rehoboam ſtrengthened himſelf in Jeruſalem, and reigned: for Rehoboam was one and forty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſeventeen years in Jeruſalem, the city which the Lord had choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael, to put his name there: and his mother's name was Naamah an Ammoniteſs.

14 And he did evil, becauſe he prepared not his heart to ſeek the Lord.

15 Now the acts of Rehoboam, firſt and laſt, are they not written in the book of Shemaiah the prophet, and of Iddo the ſeer, concerning genealogies? And there were wars between Rehoboam and Jeroboam continually.

16 And Rehoboam ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David; and Abijah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XIII.

NOW in the eighteenth year of king Jeroboam, began Abijah to reign over Judah,

2 He reigned three years in Jeruſalem: (his mother's name alſo was Michaiah the daughter of Uriel of Gibeah) and there was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.

3 And Abijah ſet the battle in array with an army of valiant men of war, even four hundred thouſand choſen men: Jeroboam alſo ſet the battle in array againſt him with eight hundred thouſand choſen men, being mighty men of valour.

4 ¶ And Abijah ſtood up upon mount Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and ſaid, Hear me thou Jeroboam, and all Iſrael,

5 Ought you not to know that the Lord God of Iſrael gave the kingdom over Iſrael to David for ever, even to him, and to his ſons by a covenant of ſalt?

6 Yet Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat the ſervant of Solomon the ſon of David is riſen up, and hath rebelled againſt his Lord.

7 And there are gathered unto him vain men, the children of Belial, and have ſtrengthened themſelves againſt Rehoboam the ſon of Solomon. when Rehoboam was young and tender-hearted, and could not withſtand them.

8 And now ye think to withſtand the kingdom of the Lord, in the hand of the ſons of David; and ye be a great multitude, and there are with you golden calves, which Jeroboam made you for gods.

9 Have ye not caſt out the prieſts of the Lord the ſons of Aaron, and the Levites, and have made you prieſts after the manner of the nations of other lands? ſo that whoſoever cometh to conſecrate himſelf with a young bullock, and ſeven rams, the ſame may be a prieſt of them that are no gods.

CHAP. XI.] 13 And the prieſts and the Levites---reſorted to him out of all their coaſts.] Thus the tribe of Levi was added to that of Judah; but not the cities wherein they dwelt. The tribe of Simeon too ſeems to have been, partly at leaſt, united unto Judah; for we read, verſe 6, that Rehoboam built, or rather repaired Etam, which was a town in the tribe of Simeon. And hence Judah was reckoned a very powerful kingdom.

17 Three years they walked in the way of David, &c.] While they kept the commandments of the Lord, and worſhipped him in the beauty of holineſs, Judah had nothing to fear, being protected by the arm of Omnipotence; but when they forſook the God of their fathers, and introduced the idolatry of the heathen, they became a prey to their enemies, and were at laſt carried away captive by Nebuchadnezzar.

CHAP. XII.] 1 He forſook the law of the Lord.] He no ſooner ſaw himſelf eſtabliſhed in his kingdom than he threw off all reſtraint, and introduced the worſhip of falſe gods which he probably derived from his mother, who was an Ammoniteſs.

3 The Lubims, the Sukkiims, and the Ethiopians.] The Lubims were doubtleſs a people of Lybia, a famous country of Africa, adjoining to Egypt. And the Sukkiims were the people called Troglydites, becauſe they dwelt in Troglais, caves and dens of the earth, on the coaſt of the Red-ſea. As for the people called Cuſh, which we tranſlate Ethiopians, they were either the inhabitants of a country on the ſouth of Egypt, or the Scenitæ in Arabia; for the name was common to both.

12 And alſo in Judah things went well.] Or, as the words may be better tranſlated, there were good things in Judah. That is, there were many pious people ſtill among them, who worſhiped the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XIII.] 1 His mother's name alſo was Michaiah the daugher of Uriel of Gibeah.] It is ſaid, chap. xi. 20, 21. that his mother's name was Maacah, and her father's name Abſalom. The Jews, therefore, tell us, that her name was Michaiah Maacah, and that of her father, Uriel Abſalom.

5 And Abijah ſet the battle in aray, &c.] The whole ſtrength of both kingdoms was now gathered together to decide whether the kingdom of Iſrael ſhould be reſtored to the houſe of David. Judah, indeed, had not half the number of men that Iſrael had; but they put their truſt in God, and therefore did not doubt of ſucceſs.

10 But as for us, the Lord is our God, and we have not forſaken him; and the prieſts which miniſter unto the Lord, are the ſons of Aaron, and the Levites wait upon their buſineſs.

11 And they burn unto the Lord every morning and evening burnt-ſacrifices and ſweet incenſe; the ſhew-bread alſo ſet they in order upon the pure table, and the candleſtick of gold with the lamps thereof, to burn every evening: for we keep the charge of the Lord our God; but ye have forſaken him.

12 And behold, God himſelf is with us for our captain, and his prieſts with ſounding trumpets to cry alarm againſt you: O children of Iſrael, fight ye not againſt the Lord God of your fathers, for ye ſhall not proſper.

13 ¶ But Jeroboam cauſed an ambuſhment to come about behind them: ſo they were before Judah, and the ambuſhment was behind them.

14 And when Judah looked back, behold, the battle was before and behind: and they cried unto the Lord, and the prieſts ſounded with the trumpets.

15 Then the men of Judah gave a ſhout: and as the men of Judah ſhouted, it came to paſs that God ſmote Jeroboam and all Iſrael before Abijah and Judah.

16 And the children of Iſrael fled before Judah: and God delivered them into their hand.

17 And Abijah and his people ſlew them with a great ſlaughter: ſo there fell down ſlain of Iſrael, five hundred thouſand choſen men:

18 Thus the children of Iſrael were brought under at that time, and the children of Judah prevailed, becauſe they relied upon the Lord God of their fathers.

19 And Abijah purſued after Jeroboam, and took cities from him, Beth-el with the towns thereof, and Jeſhanah with the towns thereof, and Ephrain with the towns thereof.

20 Neither did Jeroboam recover ſtrength again in the days of Abijah: and the Lord ſtruck him, and he died.

21 ¶ But Abijah waxed mighty, and married fourteen wives, and begat twenty and two ſons and ſixteen daughters.

22 And the reſt of the acts of Abijah, and his ways, and his ſayings, are written in the ſtory of the prophet Iddo.

CHAP. XIV.

SO Abijah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David, and Aſa his ſon reigned in his ſtead: in his days the land was quiet ten years.

2 And Aſa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he took away the altars of the ſtrange gods, and the high places, and brake down the images and cut down the groves:

4 And commanded Judah to ſeek the Lord God of their fathers, and to do the law and the commandment.

5 Alſo he took away out of all the cities of Judah, the high places and the images: and the kingdom was quiet before him.

6 ¶ And he built fenced cities in Judah: for the land had reſt, and he had no war in thoſe years; becauſe the Lord had given him reſt.

7 Therefore he ſaid unto Judah, Let us build theſe cities, and make about them walls, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is yet before us; becauſe we have ſought the Lord our God, we have ſought him, and he hath given us reſt on every ſide: ſo they built and proſpered.

8 And Aſa had an army of men that bare targats and ſpears, out of Judah three hundrod thouſand, and out of Benjamin, that bare ſhields and drew bows, two hundred and fourſcore thouſand: all theſe were mighty men of valour.

9 ¶ And there came out againſt them Zerah the Ethiopian, with an hoſt of a thouſand thouſand, and three hundred chariots, and came unto Mareſhah.

10 The Aſa went ont againſt him, and they ſet the battle in array in the valley of Zephathah, at Mareſhah.

11 And Aſa cried unto the Lord his God, and ſaid, Lord, it is nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power: help us, O Lord our God; for we reſt on thee, and in thy name we go againſt this multitude: O Lord, thou art our God, let not man prevail againſt thee.

12 So the Lord ſmote the Ethiopians before Aſa, and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aſa, and the people that were with him purſued them unto Gerar: and the Ethiopians were overthrown, that they could not recover themſelves, for they were deſtroyed before the Lord, and before his hoſt; and they carried away very much ſpoil.

14 And they ſmote all the cities round about Gerar, for the fear of the Lord came upon them: and they ſpoiled all the cities, for there was exeeeding much ſpoil in them.

15 They ſmote alſo the tents of cattle, and carried away ſheep and camels in abundance, and returned to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XV.

AND the ſpirit of God came upon Azariah the ſon of Oded:
2 And he went out to meet Aſa, and ſaid unto him, Hear ye me, Aſa, and all Judah and Benjamin, The Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye ſeek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forſake him, he will forſake you.

3 Now for a long ſeaſon Iſrael hath been without the true God, and without a teaching prieſt, and without law.

4 But when they in their trouble did turn unto the Lord God of Iſrael, and ſought him, he was found of them.

5 And in thoſe times there was no peace to him that went out, nor to him that came in, but gteat vexations were upon all the inhabitants of the countries.

6 And nation was deſtroyed of nation, and city of city: for God did vex them with all adverſity.

7 Be ye ſtrong therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your work ſhall be rewarded.

8 And when Aſa heard theſe words, and the prophecy of Oded the prophet, he took courage, and put away the abominable idols out of all the land of Judah, and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken from mount Ephraim, and renewed the altar of the Lord that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and the ſtrangers with them out of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, and out of Simeon: (for they fell to him out of Iſrael in abundance, when they ſaw that the Lord his God was with him.)

10 So they gathered themſelves together at Jeruſalem in the third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Aſa.

11 And they offered unto the Lord the ſame time, of the ſpoil which they had brought, ſeven hundred oxen, and ſeven thouſand ſheep.

12 And they entered into a covenant to ſeek the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart and with all their ſoul;

13 That whoſoever would not ſeek the Lord God of Iſrael, ſhould be put to death, whether ſmall or great, whether man or woman.

14 And they ſware unto the Lord with a loud voice, and with ſhouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Judah rejoieed at the oath: for they had ſworn with all their heart, and ſought him with their whole deſire, and he was found of them: and the Lord gave them reſt round about.

16 ¶ And alſo concerning Maachah the mother of Aſa the king, he removed her from being queen, becauſe ſhe had made an idol in a grove: and Aſa cut down her idol, and ſtamped it, and burnt it at the brook Kidron.

17 But the high places were not taken away out of Iſrael: nevertheleſs, the heart of Aſa was perfect all his days.

18 ¶ And he brought into the houſe of God the things that his father had dedicated, and that he himſelf had dedicated, ſilver, and gold, and veſſels.

19 And there was no more war unto the five and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa.

CAAP. XVI.

IN the ſix and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa, Baſha king of Iſrael came up againſt Judah, and built Ramah, to the intent that he might let none go out or come in to Aſa king of Judah.

2 Then Aſa brought out ſilver and gold out of the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and of the king's houſe, and ſent to Benhadad king of Syria that dwelt at Damaſcus, ſaying,

3 There is a league between me and thee, as there was between my father and thy father: behold, I have ſent thee ſilver and gold: go, break thy league with Baaſha king of Iſrael, that he may depart from me.

4 And Ben-hadad hearkened unto king Aſa, and ſent the captains of his armies againſt the cities of Iſrael; and they ſmote Ijon, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the ſtore cities of Naphtali.

5 And it came to paſs when Baaſha heard it, that he left off building at Ramah, and let his work ceaſe.

6 Then Aſa the king took all Judah, and they carried away the

12 O children of Iſrael, fight ye not againſt the Lord God of your fathers, for you ſhall not proſper.] He concludes his ſpeech with telling them, that if they fought, it was not againſt him, but againſt the Lord, whom their fathers worſhipped, and they had forſaken; and therefore they could not hope for ſucceſs.

17 There fell down ſlain of Iſrael, five hundred thouſand choſen men.] This is the greateſt ſlaughter we read of in any hiſtory either ſacred or profane; but far from appearing incredible, when it is remembered that Omnipotence himſelf fought for Judah.

CHAP. XIV.] 5 And the images.] The original word, which we here render images, is hammanim, and imports ſomething belonging to the ſun. Buxtorf renders it ſolares ſtatuæ, ſtatutes of the ſun. Others think they were temples built for the worſhip of the ſun, which ſenſe the vulgar Latin follows.

15 They ſmote alſo their tents, &c.] The abundance of camels which Aſa took, ſufficiently prove that they were Arabians, who had great numbers of theſe creatures.

CHAP. XV.] 1 And the ſpirit of God came upon Azariah the ſon of Oded.] Some are of opinion that he was alſo called Oded; but had the name of Azariah given him, to diſtinguiſh him from his father.

12 And they entered into a covenant to ſeek the Lord, &c.] That is, they engaged themſelves in a common oath to worſhip the Lord alone, and to ſerve him with an upright heart.

15 For they had ſworn with all their heart, &c.] That is, they had made a ſolemn profeſſion to ſeek the Lord God of their fathers with all their heart, and with all their ſoul.

CHAP. XVI.] 1 In the ſix and thirtieth year of the reign of Aſa, Baaſha king of Iſrael came up againſt Judah] Baaſha died in the ſix and twentieth year of Aſa, and therefore could not come up againſt him in the ſix and thirtieth; and there-the stones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha was a-building, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah, and said unto him, Because thou hast relied on the king of Syria, and not relied on the Lord thy God, therefore is the host of the king of Syria escaped out of thine hand.

8 Were not the Ethiopians and the Lubims a huge host, with very many chariots and horsemen? yet, because thou didst rely on the Lord, he delivered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to shew himself strong in the behalf of them, whose heart is perfect towards him. Herein thou hast done foolishly; therefore from henceforth thou shalt have wars.

10 Then Asa was wroth with the seer, and put him in a prison-house; for he was in rage with him, because of this thing. And Asa oppressed some of the people the same time.

11 ¶ And behold the acts of Asa first and last, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

12 And Asa, in the thirty and ninth year of his reign, was diseased in his feet, until his disease was exceeding great: yet in his disease he sought not to the Lord, but to the physicians.

13 ¶ And Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth year of his reign.

14 And they buried him in his own sepulchres which he had made for himself in the city of David, and laid him in the bed, which was filled with sweet odours and divers kinds of spices, prepared by the apothecaries art: and they made a very great burning for him.

CHAP. XVII.

AND Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his stead, and strengthened himself against Israel.

2 And he placed forces in all the fenced cities of Judah, and set garrisons in the land of Judah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Jehoshaphat, because he walked in the first ways of his father David, and sought not unto Baalim;

4 But sought to the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the doings of Israel:

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdom in his hand, and all Judah brought to Jehoshaphat presents, and he had riches and honour in abundance.

6 And his heart was lift up in the ways of the Lord: moreover, he took away the high places and groves out of Judah.

7 ¶ Also in the third year of his reign, he sent to his princes, even to Ben-hail, and to Obadiah, and to Zechariah, and to Nethaneel, and to Michaiah, to teach in the cities of Judah.

8 And with them he sent Levites, even Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiah, and Asahel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehonathan, and Adonijah, and Tobijah, and Tob-adonijah, Levites; and with them Elishama, and Jehoram, priests.

9 And they taught in Judah, and had the book of the law of the Lord with them, and went about through all the cities of Judah, and taught the people.

10 ¶ And the fear of the Lord fell upon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Judah, so that they made no war against Jehoshaphat.

11 Also some of the Philistines brought Jehoshaphat presents, and tribute-silver; and the Arabians brought him flocks, seven thousand and seven hundred rams, and seven thousand and seven hundred he-goats.

12 ¶ And Jehoshaphat waxed great exceedingly; and he built in Judah, castles, and cities of store.

13 And he had much business in the cities of Judah: and the men of war, mighty men of valour were in Jerusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them, according to the house of their fathers: Of Judah, the captains of thousands; Adnah the chief, and with him mighty men of valour, three hundred thousand.

15 And next to him was Jehohanan the captain, and with him two hundred and fourscore thousand.

16 And next him was Amasiah the son of Zichri, who willingly offered himself unto the Lord; and with him two hundred thousand mighty men of valour.

17 And of Benjamin; Eliada a mighty man of valour, and with him, armed men with bow and shield, two hundred thousand.

18 And next him was Jehozabad, and with him an hundred and fourscore thousand, ready prepared for the war.

19 These waited on the king, besides those whom the king put in the fenced cities throughout all Judah.

CHAP. XVIII.

NOW Jehoshaphat had riches and honour in abundance, and joined affinity with Ahab.

2 And after certain years he went down to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab killed sheep and oxen for him in abundance, and for the people that he had with him, and persuaded him to go up with him to Ramoth-gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat king of Judah, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth-gilead? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people; and we will be with thee in the war.

4 ¶ And Jehoshaphat said unto the king of Israel, Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord to day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered together of prophets four hundred men, and said unto them, shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall I forbear? And they said, Go up; for God will deliver it into the king's hand.

6 But Jehoshaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord besides, that we might enquire of him?

7 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may enquire of the Lord: but I hate him, for he never prophesieth good unto me, but always evil: the same is Micaiah the son of Imla. And Jehoshaphat said, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called for one of his officers, and said, Fetch quickly Micaiah the son of Imla.

9 And the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah, sat either of them on his throne, clothed in their robes, and they sat in a void place, at the entering in of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah, had made him horns of iron, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these thou shalt push Syria, until they be consumed.

11 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliver it into the hand of the king.

12 And the messenger that went to call Micaiah, spake to him, saying, Behold, the words of the prophets declare good to the king with one assent: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speak thou good.

13 And Micaiah said, as the Lord liveth, even what my God saith, that will I speak.

14 And when he was come to the king, the king said unto him, Micaiah, shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall I forbear? And he said, Go ye up, and prosper, and they shall be delivered into your hand.

15 And the king said unto him, How many times shall I adjure thee that thou say nothing but the truth to me, in the name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I did see all Israel scattered upon the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd: and the Lord said, These have no master; let them return therefore every man to his house in peace.

17 (And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee that he would not prophesy good unto me, but evil)

18 Again he said, Therefore he heard the word of the Lord, I saw the Lord sitting upon his throne, and all the host of heaven standing on his right hand, and on his left.

19 And the Lord said, Who shall entice Ahab king of Israel, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one spake, saying, after this manner, and another saying after that manner.

20 And there came out a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said I will entice him, And the Lord said unto him, Wherewith?

21 And he said, I will go out, and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the Lord said, Thou shalt entice him, and thou shalt also prevail: go out, and do even so, 22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lord hath spoken evil against thee.

23 Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah, came near, and smote fore the greatest authors are of opinion, that an error is crept into the text by the carelessness of some transcriber.

12 In his disease he sought not to the Lord, but to the physicians.] It was no fault to call in the assistance of the physicians; but to rely more upon their skill than the goodness and power of his God, who had so wonderfully delivered him from his enemies, was a crime of the deepest dye.

14 And laid him in the bed, which was filled with sweet odours---and they made a very great burning for him.] It has been asked, whether the body itself was burnt, or only some of the spices and odoriferous drugs, to prevent any bad smell that might attend the corpse? The Greeks and Romans, indeed, when they burnt any dead bodies, threw frankincense, myrrh, cassia, and other fragrant drugs, into the fire, and sometimes in the utmost profusion; but the Jews used to inter their dead, and therefore many suppose that the spices only were burnt. But others think that the body of Asa, as well as the spices were consumed; adding, that this is the first mention we find of burning the dead among the Jews, but it was afterwards very common. See 2 Chron. xxi. 19; Amos vi. 10.

CHAP. XVII.] 6 His heart was lift up in the ways of the Lord.] That is, he formed very exalted resolutions to promote the true worship of the God of Israel, and was not afraid what man could do to oppose him.

CHAP. XVIII.] 1 Now Jehoshapat joined affinity with Ahab.] We are told, 2 Kings viii. 18, that his son married Athaliah the daughter of Ahab. It is really surprizing, that a prince so zealous for the law of God, and so attentive to promote his honour and service, should contract so close an affinity with an abominable idolator. Perhaps he hoped, by this marriage, to reunite the kingdoms of Judah and Israel, and by that means to bring back the latter to the worship of the true God.

2 And Ahab killed sheep and oxen, &c.] That is, he entertained Jehoshaphat and his retinue with great splendour.

CHAP.

ſmote Micaiah upon the cheek, and ſaid, which way went the ſpirit of the Lord from me, to ſpeak unto thee.

24 And Micaiah ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee on that day, when thou ſhalt go into an inner chamber to hide thyſelf.

25 Then the king of Iſrael ſaid, Take ye Micaiah, and carry him back to Amon the governor of the city, and to Joaſh the king's ſon:

26 And ſay, Thus ſaith the king, Put this fellow in the priſon, and feed him with bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.

27 And Micaiah ſaid, If thou certainly return in peace, then hath the Lord not ſpoken by me. Aud he ſaid, Hearken all ye people.

28 So the king of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah, went up to Ramoth-gilead.

29 And the king of Iſrael ſaid unto Jehoſhaphat, I will diſguiſe my ſelf, and I will go to the battle, but put thou on thy robes. So the king of Iſrael diſguiſed himſelf, and they went to the battle.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, ſaying, Fight ye not with ſmall or great, ſave only with the king of Iſrael.

31 And it came to paſs, when the captains of the chariots ſaw Jehoſhaphat, that they ſaid, It is the king of Iſrael: therefore they compaſſed about him to fight: but Jehoſhaphat cried out, and the Lord helped him, and God moved them to depart from him:

32 For it came to paſs, that when the captains of the chariots perceived that it was not the king of Iſrael, they turned back again from purſuing him.

33 And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and ſmote the king of Iſrael between the joints of the harneſs: therefore he ſaid to his chariot-man, Turn thine hand, that thou mayeſt carry me out of the hoſt, for I am wounded.

34 And the battle increaſed that day: howbeit, the king of Iſrael ſtayed himſelf up in his chariot againſt the Syrians, until the even: and about the time of the ſun going down, he died.

CHAP. XIX.

AND Jehoſhaphat the king of Judah returned to his houſe in peace to Jeruſalem.

2 And Jehu the ſon of Hanani the ſeer, went out to meet him, and ſaid to king Jehoſhaphat, Shouldſt thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the Lord.

3 Nevertheleſs, there are good things found in thee, in that thou haſt taken away the groves out of the land, and haſt prepared thine heart to ſeek God.

4 And Jehoſhaphat dwelt at Jeruſalem: and he went out again through the people, from Beer-ſheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them back unto the Lord God of their fathers.

5 ¶ And he ſet judges in the land, throughout all the fenced cities of Judah, city by city,

6 And ſaid to the judges, Take heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, who is with you in the judgement.

7 Wherefore now, let the fear of the Lord be upon you, take heed and do it: for there is no iniquity with the Lord our God, nor reſpect of perſons, nor taking of gifts.

8 ¶ Moreover in Jeruſalem did Jehoſhaphat ſet of the Levites, and of the prieſts, and of the chief of the fathers of Iſrael, for the judgment of the Lord, and for controverſies, when they returned to Jeruſalem.

9 And he charged them, ſaying, Thus ſhall ye do in the fear of the Lord, faithfully, and with a perfect heart.

10 And what cauſe ſoever ſhall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, ſtatutes and judgments, ye ſhall even warn them that they treſpaſs not againſt the Lord, and ſo wrath come upon you and upon your brethren: this do, and ye ſhall not treſpaſs.

11 And behold, Amariah the chief prieſt is over you in all matters of the Lord: and Zebadiah the ſon of Iſhmael, the ruler of the houſe of Judah, for all the king's matters: alſo the Levites ſhall be officers before you. Deal courageouſly, and the Lord ſhall be with the good.

CHAP. XX.

IT came to paſs after this alſo, that the children of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and with them other beſides the Ammonites, came againſt Jehoſhaphat to battle.

2 Then there came ſome that told Jehoſhaphat, ſaying, There cometh a great multitude againſt thee from beyond the ſea on this ſide Syria, and behold, they be in Hazazon-tamar, which is Engedi.

3 And Jehoſhaphat feared, and ſet himſelf to ſeek the Lord, and proclaimed a faſt throughout all Judah.

4 And Judah gathered themſelves together, to aſk help of the Lord: even out of all the cities of Judah they came to ſeek the Lord.

5 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat ſtood in the congregation of Judah and Jeruſalem, in the houſe of the Lord before the new court.

6 And ſaid, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? and ruleſt not thou over all the kingdoms of the heathen? and in thine hand is there not power and might, ſo that none is able to withſtand thee?

7 Art not thou our God, who didſt drive out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Iſrael, and gaveſt it to the ſeed of Abraham thy friend for ever.

8 And they dwelt therein, and have built thee a ſanctuary therein for thy name, ſaying,

9 If when evil cometh upon us, as the ſword, judgment, or peſtilence, or famine, we ſtand before this houſe, and in thy preſence (for thy name is in this houſe) and cry unto thee in our affliction, then thou wilt hear and help.

10 And now behold, the children of Ammon, and Moab, and mount Seir, whom thou wouldeſt not let Iſrael invade, when they came out of the land of Egypt, but they turned from them and deſtroyed them not:

11 Behold, I ſay, how they reward us, to come to caſt us out of thy poſſeſſion, which thou haſt given us to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not judge them? for we have no might againſt this great company that cometh againſt us: neither know we what to do, but our eyes are upon thee.

13 And all Judah ſtood before the Lord, with their little ones, their wives, and their children.

14 ¶ Then upon Jahaziel the ſon of Zechariah, the ſon of Benaiah, the ſon of Jehiel, the ſon of Mattaniah, a Levite of the ſons of Aſaph, came the ſpirit of the Lord in the midſt of the congregation.

15 And he ſaid, Hearken ye, all Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and thou king Jehoſhaphat, Thus ſaith the Lord unto you, Be not afraid, nor diſmayed, by reaſon of this great multitude; for the battle is not yours, but God's.

16 To-morrow go ye down againſt them: behold, they come up by the cliff of Ziz, and ye ſhall find them at the end of the brook, before the wilderneſs of Jeruel.

17 Ye ſhall not need to fight in this battle; ſet yourſelves, ſtand ye ſtill, and ſee the ſalvation of the Lord with you, O Judah and Jeruſalem: fear not, nor be diſmayed; to-morrow go out againſt them, for the Lord will be with you.

18 And Jehoſhaphat bowed his head, with his face to the ground: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem fell before the Lord, worſhipping the Lord.

19 And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites, ſtood up to praiſe the Lord God of Iſrael with a loud voice on high.

20 ¶ And they roſe early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderneſs of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoſhaphat ſtood and ſaid, Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jeruſalem, Believe in the Lord your God, ſo ſhall ye be eſtabliſhed; believe his prophets, ſo ſhall ye proſper.

21 And when he had conſulted with the people, he appointed ſingers unto the Lord, and that ſhould praiſe the beauty of holineſs, as they went out before the army, and to ſay, Praiſe the Lord, for his mercy endureth for ever.

22 ¶ And when they began to ſing and to praiſe, the Lord ſet ambuſhments againſt the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come againſt Judah, and they were ſmitten.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab ſtood up againſt the inhabitants of mount Seir, utterly to ſlay and deſtroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to deſtroy another.

24 And when Judah came towards the watch-tower in the wilderneſs, they looked unto the multitnde, and behold, they were dead bodies fallen to the earth, and none eſcaped.

25 And when Jehoſhaphat and his people came to take away the ſpoil of them, they found among them in abundance both riches with the dead bodies, and precious jewels (which they ſtript off

CAP, XIX.] 10 Between blood and blood.] Some underſtand this of kindred, and that the charge related to queſtions regarding who was neareſt of kin to the deceaſed. But others think it related to the queſtion, whether, when a perſon was killed, it was done intendedly, or by accident?

11 Deal courageouſly, and the Lord ſhall be with the good.] Be not afraid of man; for God himſelf will defend you, if you act with juſtice and integrity.

CHAP. XX.] 2 There cometh a great multitude againſt thee from beyond the ſea.] That is, from beyond the Dead-ſea, or lake Aſphatites.

6 O Lord God of our fathers, &c.] This is the moſt excellent prayer made by any of their kings; expreſſing the greateſt confidence, and repreſenting to him the juſtice of their cauſe. He begins with acknowledging God's irreſiſtible and ſupreme power, which extends over all his creatures both in heaven and earth, being all the creatures of his hand.

11 Behold, I ſay, how they reward us.] Ingratude is a ſin abominated by all civilized nations; nay, even the ſavages look upon it as the greateſt crime: but to return evil for good is the very higheſt pitch of wickedneſs; and this was even augmented by their invading the rights of God himſelf, whoſe land this was, and which the Iſraelites held under him as their Lord.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab ſtood up againſt the inhabitants of mount Seir, &c.] The inhabitants of mount Seir were ordered to fall upon Judah by an ambuſhment; but by ſome miſtake they fell upon the Ammonites, for themſelves) more than they could carry away: and they were three days in gathering of the ſpoil, it was ſo much.

their

26 ¶ And on the fourth day they aſſembled themſelves in the valley of Berachah; for there they bleſſed the Lord: therefore the name of the ſame place was called, The valley of Berachah, unto this day.

27 Then they returned every man of Judah and Jeruſalem, and Jehoſhaphat in the fore front of them, to go again to Jeruſalem with joy: for the Lord had made them to rejoice over their enemies.

28 And they came to Jeruſalem with pſalteries, and harps, and trumpets, unto the houſe of the Lord, 29 And the fear of God was on all the kingdoms of thoſe countries, when they had heard that the Lord fought againſt the enemies of Iſrael.

30 So the realm of Jehoſhaphat was quiet; for his God gave him reſt round about.

31 ¶ And Jehoſhaphat reigned over Judah: he was thirty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and five years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Aſa his father, and departed not from it, doing that which was right in the ſight of the Lord:

33 Howbeit, the high places were not taken away; for as yet the people had not prepared their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

34 Now the reſt of the acts of Jehoſhaphat, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of Jehu the ſon of Hanani, who is mentioned in the book of the kings of Iſrael.

35 ¶ And after this did Jehoſhaphat king of Judah join himſelf with Ahaziah king of Iſrael who did very wickedly:

36 And he joined himſelf with him to make ſhips to go to Tarſhiſh: and they made the ſhips in Ezion-gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the ſon of Dodavah of Mareſhah, propheſied againſt Jehoſhaphat, ſaying, Becauſe thou haſt joined thyſelf with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy works. And the ſhips were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarſhiſh.

CHAP. XXI.

NOW Jehoſhaphat ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Jehoram his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

2 And he had brethren the ſons of Jehoſhaphat, Azariah, and Jehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah: all theſe were the ſons of Jehoſhaphat king of Iſrael.

3 And their father gave them great gifts of ſilver and of gold, and of precious things, with fenced cities in Judah: but the kingdom gave he to Jehoram, becauſe he was the firſt-born.

4 Now when Jehoram was riſen up to the kingdom of his father, he ſtrengthened himſelf, and ſlew all his brethren with the ſword, and divers alſo of the princes of Iſrael.

5 ¶ Jehoram was thirty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jeruſalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, like as did the houſe of Ahab: for he had the daughter of Ahab to wife: and wrought that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit, the Lord would not deſtroy the houſe of David, becauſe of the covenant that he had made with David, and as he promiſed to give a light to him, and to his ſons for ever.

8 ¶ In his days the Edomites revolted from under the dominion of Judah, and made themſelves a king.

9 Then Jehoram went forth with his princes, and all his chariots with him: and he roſe up by night and ſmote the Edomites, which compaſſed him in, and the captains of the chariots.

10 So the Edomites revolted from under the hand of Judah unto this day. The ſame time alſo did Libnah revolt from under his hand: becauſe he had forſaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreover, he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and cauſed the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to commit fornication, and compelled Judah thereto.

12 ¶ And there came a writing to him from Elijah the prophet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord God of David thy father, Becauſe thou haſt not walked in the ways of Jehoſhaphat thy father, nor in the ways of Aſa king of Judah,

13 But haſt walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, and haſt made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to go a-whoring, like to the whoredoms of the houſe of Ahab, and alſo haſt ſlain thy brethren of thy father's houſe, which were better than thyſelf:

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord ſmite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy goods.

15 And thou ſhalt have great ſickneſs by diſeaſe of thy bowels, until thy bowels fall out, by reaſon of the ſickneſs day by day.

16 ¶ Moreover, the Lord ſtirred up againſt Jehoram the ſpirit of the Philiſtines, and of the Arabians, that were near the Ethiopians.

17 And they came up into Judah, and brake into it, and carried away all the ſubſtance that was found in the king's houſe, and his ſons alſo and his wives; ſo that there was never a ſon left him, ſave Jehoahaz the youngeſt of his ſons.

18 ¶ And after all this, the Lord ſmote him in his bowels with an incurable diſeaſe.

19 And it came to paſs, that in proceſs of time, after the end of two years, his bowels fell out by reaſon of his ſickneſs: ſo he died of ſore diſeaſes: and his people made no burning for him, like the burning of his fathers.

20 Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jeruſalem eight years, and departed without being deſired: howbeit, they buried him in the city of David, but not in the ſepulchres of the kings.

CHAP. XXII.

AND the inhabitants of Jeruſalem made Ahaziah his youngeſt ſon king in his ſtead: for the band of men that came with the Arabians to the camp, had ſlain all the eldeſt. So Ahaziah the ſon of Jehoram king of Judah reigned.

2 Forty and two years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

3 He alſo walked in the ways of the houſe of Ahab: for his mother was his counſellor to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did evil in the ſight of the Lord, like the houſe of Ahab: for they were his counſellors after the death of his father, to his deſtruction.

5 ¶ He walked alſo after their counſel, and went with Jehoram the ſon of Ahab king of Iſrael, to war againſt Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth-gilead: and the Syrians ſmote Joram.

6 And he returned to be healed in Jezreel, becauſe of the wounds which were given him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria. And Azariah the ſon of Jehoram king of Judah, went down to ſee Jehoram the ſon of Ahab at Jezreel, becauſe he was ſick.

7 And the deſtruction of Ahaziah was of God, by coming to Joram: for when he was come, he went out with Jehoram againſt Jehu the ſon of Nimſhi, whom the Lord had anointed to cut off the houſe of Ahab.

8 And it came to paſs that when Jehu was executing judgment upon the houſe of Ahab, and found the princes of Judah, and the ſons of the brethren of Ahaziah that miniſtered to Ahaziah, he ſlew them.

9 And he ſought Ahaziah: and they caught him (for he was hid in Samaria) and brought him to Jehu: and when they had ſlain him, they buried him, becauſe (ſaid they) he is the ſon of Jehoſhaphat, who ſought the Lord with all his heart. So the houſe of Ahaziah had no power to keep ſtill the kingdom.

10 ¶ But when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah, ſaw that her ſon was dead, ſhe aroſe, and deſtroyed all the ſeed royal of the houſe of Judah.

11 But Jehoſhabeath the daughter of the king took Joaſh the ſon of Ahaziah, and ſtole him from among the king's ſons that were ſlain, and put him and his nurſe in a bed-chamber. So Jehoſhabeath the daughter of king Jehoram, the wife of Jehoiada the prieſt (for ſhe was the ſiſter of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah, ſo that ſhe ſlew him not 12 And he was with them hid in the houſe of God ſix years, and Athaliah reigned over the land.

CHAP. XXIII.

AND in the ſeventh year Jehoiada ſtrengthened himſelf, and took the captains of hundreds, Azariah the ſon of Jeroham, and Iſhmael, the ſon of Jehohanan, and Azariah the ſon of Obed, and Maaſeiah the ſon of Adaiah, and Eliſhaphat the ſon of Zichri, into covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out their own confederates. This exaſperated them and the Moabites ſo much, that they deſtroyed all the inhabitants of Seir, miſtaking them for the Jews.

CHAP. XXI.] 4 Jehoram---ſtrengthened himſelf, and ſlew all his brethren with the ſword.] He firſt took care to ſtrengthen himſelf in his kingdom, and then, that none of his brethren might diſpute his right to the throne, he put them all to death. Perhaps they were pious men, and zealouſly attached to the worſhip of the true God, and therefore he deſtroyed them, leſt they might oppoſe his intention of introducing the old idolatry.

12 And there came a writing---from Elijah the prophet.] As Elijah was taken up to heaven in the reign of Jehoſhaphat, it has been aſked, how Elijah could ſend his ſon a letter? moſt commentators have ſuppoſed, that there has been a miſtake in ſome tranſcriber, and the name of Elijah put for that of Elisha; or that Elijah by whom the letter was ſent, was not the Elijah that was taken up to heaven, but another of that name, who lived in the ſubſequent age, and was contemporary with Jehoram.

20 He reigned in Jeruſalem eight years, and departed without being deſired.] That is, his ſubjects did not wiſh he ſhould live any longer, but were glad a period was ſo ſoon put to his reign.

CHAP. XXII.] 2 Forty and two years old was Ahaziah when he began to reign.] In 2 Kings viii. 28, he is ſaid to be only twenty-two years old: and this is doubtleſs the true reading; for ſeveral ancient manuſcripts, as well as the Syriac and Arabic tranſlations, have twenty-two alſo in this place: and conſequently there is here an error, committed by the copyiſt or tranſcriber.

CHAP. XXIII.] 1 Jehoiada ſtrengthened himſelf, and took the captains of hundreds, &c.] It is not to be ſuppoſed that Jehoiada took all the captains of hundreds that were in the nation into confederacy with him: but ſuch only as he could depend upon.

out of all the cities of Judah, and the chief of the fathers of Iſrael, and they came to Jeruſalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the houſe of God: and he ſaid unto them, Behold, the king's ſon ſhall reign, as the Lord hath ſaid of the ſons of David.

4 This is the thing that ye ſhall do: A third part of you entering on the ſabbath of the prieſts and of the Levites ſhall be porters of the doors;

5 And a third part ſhall be at the king's houſe; and a third part at the gate of the foundation: and all the people ſhall be in the courts of the houſe of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the houſe of the Lord, ſave the prieſts, and they that miniſter of the Levites, they ſhall go in, for they are holy: but all the people ſhall keep the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Levites ſhall compaſs the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand, and whoſoever elſe cometh into the houſe, he ſhall be put to death: but be ye with the king when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the prieſt had commanded, and took every man his men that were to come in on the ſabbath, with them that were to go out on the ſabbath: for Jehoiada the prieſt diſmiſſed not the courſes.

9 Moreover, Jehoiada the prieſt delivered to the captains of hundreds, ſpears, and bucklers, and ſhields, that had been king David's, which were in the houſe of God.

10 And he ſet all the people (every man having his weapon in his hand) from the right ſide of the temple to the left ſide of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, by the king, round about.

11 Then they brought out the king's ſon, and put upon him the crown, and gave him the teſtimony, and made him king: and Jehoiada and his ſons anointed him, and ſaid, God ſave the king.

12 ¶ Now when Athaliah heard the noiſe of the people running and praiſing the king, ſhe came to the people into the houſe of the Lord.

13 And ſhe looked, and behold, the king ſtood at his pillar, at the entering in, and the princes, and the trumpets by the king: and all the people of the land rejoiced, and ſounded with trumpets, alſo the ſingers with inſtruments of muſic; and ſuch as taught to ſing praiſe. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and ſaid, Treaſon, treaſon.

14 Then Jehoiada the prieſt brought out the captains of hundreds that were ſet over the hoſt, and ſaid unto them, Have her forth of the ranges: and whoſo followeth her, let him be ſlain with the ſword. For the prieſt ſaid, Slay her not in the houſe of the Lord.

15 So they laid hands on her; and when ſhe was come to the entering of the horſe-gate, by the king's houſe, they ſlew her there.

16 ¶ And Jehoiada made a covenant between him, and between all the people, and between the king, that they ſhould be the Lord's people.

17 Then all the people went to the houſe of Baal, and brake it down, and brake his altars, and his images in pieces, and ſlew Mattan the prieſt of Baal before the altars.

18 Alſo Jehoiada appointed the offices of the houſe of the Lord by the hand of the prieſts the Levites, whom David had diſtributed in the houſe of the Lord, to offer the burnt-offerings of the Lord, as it is written in the law of Moſes, with rejoicing and with ſinging, as it was ordained by David.

19 And he ſet the porters at the gates of the houſe of the Lord, that none which was unclean in any thing ſhould enter in.

20 And he took the captains of hundreds, and the nobles, and the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king from the houſe of the Lord; and they came through the high gate into the king's houſe, and ſet the king upon the throne of the kingdom.

21 And all the people of the land rejoiced: and the city was quiet after that they had ſlain Athaliah with the ſword.

CHAP. XXIV.

JOASH was ſeven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Zibiah of Beer-ſheba.

2 And Joaſh did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, all the days of Jehoiada the prieſt.

3 And Jehoiada took for him two wives, and he begat ſons and daughters.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs after this, that Joaſh was minded to repair the houſe of the Lord.

5 And he gathered together the prieſts and the Levites, and ſaid to them, Go out unto the cities of Judah, and gather of all Iſrael money to repair the houſe of your God from year to year, and ſee that ye haſten the matter; howbeit the Levites haſtened it not.

6 And the king called for Jehoiada the chief, and ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou not required of the Levites to bring in out of Judah and out of Jeruſalem the collection, according to the commandment of Moſes the ſervant of the Lord, and of the congregation of Iſrael, for the tabernacle of witneſs?

7 For the ſons of Athaliah that wicked woman, had broken up the houſe of God, and alſo all the dedicated things of the houſe of the Lord did they beſtow upon Baalim.

8 And at the king's commandment they made a cheſt, and ſet it without at the gate of the houſe of the Lord.

9 And they made a proclamation through Judah and Jeruſalem, to bring in to the Lord, the collection that Moſes the ſervant of God laid upon Iſrael in the wilderneſs.

10 And all the princes, and all the people rejoiced, and brought in, and caſt into the cheſt, until they had made an end.

11 Now it came to paſs, that at what time the cheſt was brought unto the king's office, by the hand of the Levites; and when they ſaw that there was much money, the king's ſcribe, and the high prieſt's officer came and emptied the cheſt, and took it, and carried it to his place again. Thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance.

12 And the king and Jehoiada gave it to ſuch as did the work of the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord, and hired maſons and carpenters to repair the houſe of the Lord, and alſo ſuch as wrought iron and braſs to mend the houſe of the Lord.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the work was perfected by them, and they ſet the houſe of God in his ſtate, and ſtrengthened it.

14 And when they had finiſhed it, they brought the reſt of the money before the king and Jehoiada, whereof were made veſſels for the houſe of the Lord, even veſſels to miniſter, and to offer withal, and ſpoons, and veſſels of gold and ſilver: and they offered burnt-offerings in the houſe of the Lord continually, all the days of Jehoiada.

15 ¶ But Jehoiada waxed old, and was full of days when he died; an hundred and thirty years old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David among the kings, becauſe he had done good in Iſrael, both toward God, and toward his houſe.

17 Now after the death of Jehoiada came the princes of Judah, and made obeiſance to the king: then the king hearkened unto them.

18 And they left the houſe of the Lord God of their fathers, and ſerved groves and idols: and wrath came upon Judah and Jeruſalem for this their treſpaſs.

19 Yet he ſent prophets to them, to bring them again unto the Lord, and they teſtified againſt them: but they would not give ear.

20 And the ſpirit of God came upon Zechariah the ſon of Jehoiada the prieſt, which ſtood above the people, and ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith God, Why tranſgreſs ye the commandments of the Lord, that ye cannot proſper? becauſe ye have forſaken the Lord, he hath alſo forſaken you.

21 And they conſpired againſt him, and ſtoned him with ſtones at the commandment of the king, in the court of the houſe of the Lord.

22 Thus Joaſh the king remembered not the kindneſs which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but ſlew his ſon: and when he died, he ſaid, The Lord look upon it and requite it.

23 ¶ And it came to paſs at the end of the year, that the hoſt of Syria came up againſt him: and they came to Judah and Jeruſalem, and deſtroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and ſent all the ſpoil of them unto the king of Damaſcus.

24 For the army of the Syrians came with a ſmall company of men, and the Lord delivered a very great hoſt into their hand, becauſe they had forſaken the Lord God of their fathers: ſo they executed judgment againſt Joaſh.

25 And when they were departed from him (for they left him in

2 And the chief of the fathers of Iſrael.] Some were under the government of the king of Judah: and perhaps others, who were well known to be well affected to religion, were invited to give their aſſiſtance. But it is moſt probable, Judah is here called Iſrael, the principal perſons of which were acquainted with Jehoiada's intentions.

CHAP. XXIV.] 7 For the ſons of Athaliah that wicked woman, had broken up the houſe of God.] That is, Azariah, and the ſons of his brethren mentioned xxii. 8. for his brethren themſelves were carried away captive before their father died, xxi. 17.

19 Yet he ſent prophets to them, to bring them again unto the Lord.] The goodneſs of the Lord was very remarkable towards this people; for though they had again abandoned his worſhip and temple, yet he ſent his meſſengers to reclaim them from their wicked ways, and prevent thoſe judgments which he had pronounced againſt them.

22 The Lord look upon it and requite it.] That is, the Lord will ſurely requite this unjuſt action: for the words muſt be conſidered as ſpoken by the ſpirit of prophecy, and not through a deſire of revenge. And this prophetic ſentence was no ſooner pronounced than executed; for before the year was expired, the Syrians came up againſt Jeruſalem, deſtroyed all the princes of the people; that is, all thoſe who had adviſed Joaſh to reſtore the worſhip of Baal, and left the king himſelf full of diſeaſes; ſoon after which his own ſervants conſpired againſt him, and ſlew him on his bed.

CHAP.

(t great diſeaſes) his own ſervants conſpired againſt him, for the blood of the ſons of Jehoiada the prieſt, and ſlew him on his bed, and he died: and they buried him in the city of David, but they buried him not in the ſepulchres of the kings.

26 And theſe are they that conſpired againſt him; Zabad the ſon of Shimeath an Ammoniteſs, and Jehozabad the ſon of Shimrith a Moabiteſs.

27 ¶ Now concerning his ſons, and the greatneſs of the burdens laid upon him, and the repairing of the houſe of God, behold they are written in the ſtory of the book of the kings. And Amaziah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXV.

AMaziah was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jeruſalem.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

3 ¶ Now it came to paſs, when the kingdom was eſtabliſhed to him, that he ſlew his ſervants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he ſlew not their children, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Moſes, where the law commanded, ſaying, The fathers ſhall not die for the children, neither ſhall the children die for the fathers, but every man ſhall die for his own ſin.

5 ¶ Moreover, Amaziah gathered Judah together, and made them captains over thouſands, and captains over hundreds, according to the houſes of their fathers, throughout all Judah and Benjamin: and he numbered them from twenty years old and above, and found them three hundred thouſand choice men, able to go forth to war, that could handle ſpear and ſhield.

6 He hired alſo an hundred thouſand mighty men of valour out of Iſrael, for an hundred talents of ſilver.

7 But there came a man of God to him, ſaying, O king, let not the army of Iſrael go with thee; for the Lord is not with Iſrael, to wit, with all the children of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt go, do it, be ſtrong for the battle: God ſhall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to help, and to caſt down.

9 And Amaziah ſaid to the man of God, But what ſhall we do for the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Iſrael? And the man of God anſwered, The Lord is able to give thee much more than this.

10 Then Amaziah ſeparated them, to wit, the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to go home again: wherefore their anger was greatly kindled againſt Judah, and they returned home in great anger.

11 And Amaziah ſtrengthened himſelf, and led forth his people, and went to the valley of ſalt, and ſmote of the children of Seir ten thouſand.

12 And other ten thouſand left alive, did the children of Judah carry away captive, and brought them unto the top of the rock, and caſt them down from the top of the rock, that they all were broken in pieces.

13 But the ſoldiers of the army which Amaziah ſent back, that they ſhould not go with him to battle, fell upon the cities of Judah from Samaria, even unto Beth-horon, and ſmote three thouſand of them, and took much ſpoil.

14 ¶ Now it came to paſs, after that Amaziah was come from the ſlaughter of the Edomites, that he brought the Gods of the children of Seir, and ſet them up to be his gods, and bowed down himſelf before them, and burned incenſe unto them.

15 Wherefore the anger of the Lord was kindled againſt Amaziah, and he ſent unto him a prophet, which ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou ſought after the gods of the people, which could not deliver their own people out of thine hand?

16 And it came to paſs as he talked with him, that the king ſaid unto him, Art thou made of the king's council? forbear; why ſhouldeſt thou be ſmitten? Then the prophet forbare, and ſaid, I know that God hath determined to deſtroy thee, becauſe thou haſt done this, and haſt not hearkened unto my counſel.

17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Judah took advice, and ſent to Joaſh the ſon of Jehoahaz, the ſon of Jehu king of Iſrael, ſaying, Come, let us ſee one another in the face.

18 And Joaſh king of Iſrael ſent to Amaziah king of Judah, ſaying, The thiſtle that was in Lebanon, ſent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, ſaying, Give thy daughter to my ſon to wife: and there paſſed by a wild beaſt that was in Lebanon, and trode down the thiſtle.

19 Thou ſayeſt, Lo thou haſt ſmitten the Edomites, and thine heart lifteth thee up to boaſt: abide now at home, why ſhouldeſt thou meddle to thine hurt, that thou ſhouldeſt fall, even thou, and Judah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not hear, for it came of God, that he might deliver them into the hand of their enemies, becauſe they ſought after the gods of Edom.

21 So Joaſh the king of Iſrael went up, and they ſaw one another in the face, both he and Amaziah king of Judah, at Beth-ſhemeſh, which belongeth to Judah.

22 And Judah was put to the worſe before Iſrael, and they fled every man to his tent.

23 And Joaſh the king of Iſrael took Amaziah king of Judah, the ſon of Joaſh, the ſon of Jehoahaz, at Beth-ſhemeſh, and brought him to Jeruſalem, and brake down the wall of Jeruſalem, from the gate of Ephraim to the corner-gate, four hundred cubits.

24 And he took all the gold, and the ſilver, and all the veſſels that were found in the houſe of God, with Obed-edom, and the treaſures of the king's houſe, the hoſtages alſo, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the ſon of Joaſh king of Judah, lived after the death of Joaſh ſon of Jehoahaz king of Iſrael, fifteen years.

26 Now the reſt of the Acts of Amaziah, firſt and laſt, behold, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael?

27 ¶ Now after the time that Amaziah did turn away from following the Lord, they made a conſpiracy againſt him in Jeruſalem, and he fled to Lachiſh: but they ſent to Lachiſh after him, and ſlew him there.

28 And they bronght him upon horſes, and buried him with his fathers in the city of Judah.

CHAP. XXVI.

THEN all the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was ſixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amaziah.

2 He built Eloth, and reſtored it to Judah, after that the king ſlept with his fathers.

3 Sixteen years old was Uzziah when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and two years in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Jecoliah of Jeruſalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he ſought God in the days of Zechariah, who had underſtanding in the viſions of God: and as long as he ſought the Lord, God made him to proſper.

6 And he went forth and warred againſt the Philiſtines, and brake down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Aſhdod, and built cities about Aſhdod, and among the Philiſtines.

7 And God helped him againſt the Philiſtines, and againſt the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and the Mehunims.

8 And the Ammonites gave gifts to Uzziah, and his name ſpread abroad, even to the entering in of Egypt, for he ſtrengthened himſelf exceedingly.

9 Moreover, Uzziah built towers in Jeruſalem at the corner-gate, and at the valley-gate, and at the turning of the wall, and fortified them.

10 Alſo he built towers in the deſert, and digged many wells for he had much cattle, both in the low-country, and in the plains; huſbandmen alſo, and vine-dreſſers in the mountains, and in Carmel: for he loved huſbandry.

11 Moreover, Uzziah had an hoſt of fighting men, that went out to war by bands, according to the number of their account, by the hand of Jeil the ſcribe, and Maaſeiah the ruler, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the king's captains.

12 The whole number of the chief of the fathers of the mighty men of valour, were two thouſand and ſix hundred.

13 And under their hand was an army, three hundred thouſand and ſeven thouſand and five hundred, that made war with mighty power, to help the king againſt the enemy.

14 And Uzziah prepared for them throughout all the hoſt, ſhields, and ſpears, and helmets, and habergeons, and bows, and ſlings to caſt ſtones.

15 And he made in Jeruſalem engines, invented by cunning men, to be on the towers, and upon the bulwarks to ſhoot arrows and great ſtones withal: and his name ſpread far abroad, for he was marvellouſly helped till he was ſtrong.

19 ¶ But when he was ſtrong, his heart was lifted up to his deſtruction

CHAP. XXV.] 2 He did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.] That is, he kept the law of Moſes, but not from a principle of ſolid piety.

9 The Lord is able to give thee much more] Obey God and truſt in his goodneſs, and he will provide every thing neceſſary.

CHAP. XXVI.] 1 Then all the people of Judah took Uzziah.] This prince is called Azariah, 2 Kings xiv. 21.---xv. 1.

Who was ſixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amaziah.] He was only four years old when his father was ſlain, ſo that there was an interregnum of twelve years.

5 And he ſought God in the days of Zechariah.] This was not Zechariah the prophet, whoſe writings are found in the ſacred canon, but, in all probability, the ſon of that Zechariah, who was called after his father's name, and was eminent for his divine wiſdom.

7 The Mehunims.] A people who inhabited a province of Arabia-deſerta.

10 Alſo he built towers in the deſert.] Theſe towers were erected to defend the ſhepherds from ſudden incurſions of their enemies, particularly the Arabs.

15 And he made in Jeruſalem engines, invented by cunning men.] Theſe engines were doubtleſs for projecting ſtones and arrows from the walls and towers; and were afterwards very common in the Roman army, though probably ſomething different in their conſtruction.

ſtruction: for he tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord his God, and went into the temple of the Lord, to burn incenſe upon the altar of incenſe.

17 And Azariah the prieſt went in after him, and with him fourſcore prieſts of the Lord, that were valiant men:

18 And they withſtood Uzziah the king, and ſaid unto him, It appertaineth not unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incenſe unto the Lord but to the prieſts the ſons of Aaron, that are conſecrated to burn incenſe: go out of the ſanctuary for thou haſt treſpaſſed, neither ſhall it be for thine honour from the Lord God.

19 Then Uzziah was wroth, and had a cenſer in his hand, to burn incenſe: and while he was wroth with the prieſts, the leproſy even roſe up in his forehead, before the prieſts in the houſe of the Lord, from beſide the incenſe-altar.

20 And Azariah the chief prieſt, and all the prieſts looked upon him, and behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they thruſt him out from thence, yea, himſelf haſted alſo to go out, becauſe the Lord had ſmitten him.

21 And Uzziah the king was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a ſeveral houſe, being a leper, for he was cut off from the houſe of the Lord: and Jotham his ſon was over the king's houſe, judging the people of the land.

22 Now the reſt of the acts of Uzziah, firſt and laſt, did Iſaiah the prophet the ſon of Amoz write.

23 So Uzziah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the burial which belonged to the kings; for they ſaid, He is a leper: and Jotham his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXVII.

JOtham was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem: his mother's name alſo was Jeruſha, the daughter of Zadok.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that his father Uzziah did: howbeit he entered not into the temple of the Lord. And the people did yet corruptly.

3 He built the high gate of the houſe of the Lord, and on the wall of Ophel he built much.

4 Moreover, he built cities in the mountains of Judah, and in the foreſts he built caſtles and towers.

5 ¶ He fought alſo with the king of the Ammonites, and prevailed againſt them. And the children of Ammon gave him the ſame year, an hundred talents of ſilver, and ten thouſand meaſures of wheat, and ten thouſand of barley. So much did the children of Ammon pay unto him, both the ſecond year, and the third.

6 So Jotham became mighty, becauſe he prepared his ways before the Lord his God.

7 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Jotham, and all his wars, and his ways, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael and Judah.

8 He was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem.

9 ¶ And Jotham ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Ahaz his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXVIII.

AHAZ was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem: but he did not that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, like David his father.

2 For he walked in the ways of the kings of Iſrael, and made alſo molten images for Baalim.

3 Moreover, he burnt incenſe in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, and burnt his children in the fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

4 He ſacrificed alſo and burnt incenſe in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria, and they ſmote him, and carried away a great multitude of them captives, and brought them to Damaſcus: and he was alſo delivered into the hand of the king of Iſrael, who ſmote him with a great ſlaughter.

6 ¶ For Pekah the ſon of Remaliah ſlew in Judah an hundred and twenty thouſand in one day, which were all valient men; becauſe they had forſaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichri a mighty man of Ephraim, ſlew Maaſeiah the king's ſon, and Azrikam the governor of the houſe, and Elkanah that was next to the king.

8 And the children of Iſrael carried away captive of their brethren, two hundred thouſand, women, ſons and daughters, and took alſo away much ſpoil from them, and brought the ſpoil to Samaria.

9 But a prophet of the Lord was there, whoſe name was Oded: and he went out before the hoſt that came to Samaria, and ſaid unto them, Behold, becauſe the Lord God of your fathers was wroth with Judah, he hath delivered them into your hand, and ye have ſlain them in a rage that reacheth up unto heaven.

10 And now ye purpoſe to keep under the children of Judah and Jeruſalem for bond-men, and bond-women unto you: but are there not with you, even with you, ſins againſt the Lord your God?

11 Now hear me therefore, and deliver the captives again, which ye have taken captive of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is upon you.

12 Then certain of the heads of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the ſon of Johanan, Berechiah the ſon of Meſhillemeth, and Jehizkiah the ſon of Shallum, and Amaſa the ſon of Hadlai, ſtood up againſt them that came from the war,

13 And ſaid unto them, Ye ſhall not bring in the captives hither: for whereas we have offended againſt the Lord already, ye intend to add more to our ſins and to our treſpaſs: for our treſpaſs is great, and there is fierce wrath againſt Iſrael.

14 So the armed men left the captives and the ſpoil before the princes and all the congregation.

15 And the men which were expreſſed by name, roſe up, and took the captives, and with the ſpoil clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and ſhod them, and gave them to eat and to drink, and anointed them, and carried all the feeble of them upon aſſes, and brought them to Jericho, the city of palm-trees, to their brethren: then they turned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did king Ahaz ſend unto the kings of Aſſyria to help him.

17 For again the Edomites had come and ſmitten Judah, and carried away captives.

18 The Philiſtines alſo had invaded the cities of the low country, and of the ſouth of Judah, and had taken Beth-ſhemeſh, and Ajalon, and Gederoth, and Shocho with the villages thereof, and Timnah with the villages thereof, Gimzo alſo and the villages thereof: and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord brought Judah low, becauſe of Ahaz king of Iſrael: for he made Judah naked, and tranſgreſſed ſore againſt the Lord.

20 And Tilgath-pilneſer king of Aſſyria came unto him, and diſtreſſed him, but ſtrengthened him not.

21 For Ahaz took away a portion out of the houſe of the Lord, and out of the houſe of the king, and of the princes, and gave it unto the king of Aſſyria; but he helped him not.

22 ¶ And in the time of his diſtreſs did he treſpaſs yet more againſt the Lord: this is that king Ahaz.

23 For he ſacrificed unto the gods of Damaſcus, which ſmote him: and he ſaid, Becauſe the gods of the kings of Syria help them, therefore will I ſacrifice to them, that they may help me: but they were the ruin of him and of all Iſrael.

24 And Ahaz gathered together the veſſels of the houſe of God, and cut in pieces the veſſels of the houſe of God, and ſhut up the doors of the houſe of the Lord, and he made him altars in every corner of Jeruſalem.

25 And in every ſeveral city of Judah he made high places to burn incenſe unto other gods, and provoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 ¶ Now the reſt of his acts, and all his ways, firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

27 And Ahaz ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, even in Jeruſalem: but they brought him not into the ſepulchres of the kings of Iſrael: and Hezekiah his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXIX.

HEzekiah began to reign when he was five and twenty years years old, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jeruſalem: and his mother's name was Abijah the daughter of Zechariah.

19 When he was ſtrong, his heart was lifted up to his deſtruction.] That is, to the loſs of his authority. This example confirms what has been often obſerved, that few can bear proſperity with moderation.

21 And Uzziah the king was a leper unto the day of his death.] It was a capital crime to meddle raſhly with divine miniſtrations, as is evident from the caſe of Nadab and Abihu, Levit. x. 1, 2. And the leproſy was a kind of death, becauſe it ſeparated thoſe who were ſmitten with it from the ſociety of men.

CHAP. XXVII.] 2 Howbeit he entered not into the temple of the Lord.] That is, he imitated his father in all his good actions; but did not, like him, profanely enter the temple to offer incenſe.

3 He built the high gate of the houſe of the Lord.] Or rather, repaired that ſtructure; for it was built by Solomon.

6 So Jotham became mighty, becauſe he prepared his ways before the Lord his God.] Solomon Jarchi obſerves upon this paſſage, that all the kings of Judah had ſome crime or other laid to their charge, except this Jotham; that David himſelf ſinned grievouſly in the matter of Uriah; that Solomon by his wives was drawn into idolatry; that Rehoboam forſook the law of the Lord, and Abijah walked in his ſteps: that Aſa ſent the treaſures of the temple to the king of Syria, and put the prophet in priſon; that Jehoſhaphat entered into ſociety with idolaters, &c. But, adds this Jewiſh writer, in Jotham there is no fault found, except we ſuppoſe that the people's ſacrificing and burning incenſe in high places, 2 Kings xv. 35, which he by his authority might have removed, be conſidered as a fault.

CHAP. XXVIII.] 3 And burnt his children in the fire.] Or, as it may be rendered, made his children paſs through the fire. This was the moſt deteſtable kind of idolatry practiſed among the ancient inhabitants of Canaan.

19 For he made Judah naked.] That is, he deprived them, by his foul tranſgreſſions, of the divine protection.

23 For he ſacrificed unto the gods of Damaſcus, which ſmote him.] This was the higheſt degree of ſtupidity, to imagine they had any power to protect him when he ſaw that they were not able to defend themſelves againſt Tilgath-pilneſer.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that David his father had done.

3 ¶ He, in the first year of his reign, in the first month, opened the doors of the house of the Lord, and repaired them.

4 And he brought in the priests, and the Levites, and gathered them together into the east-street,

5 And said unto them, Hear me, ye Levites, sanctify now yourselves, and sanctify the house of the Lord God of your fathers, and carry forth the filthiness out of the holy place.

6 For our fathers have trespassed, and done that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord our God, and have forsaken him, and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the Lord, and turned their backs.

7 Also they have shut up the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burnt incense, nor offered burnt-offerings in the holy place, unto the God of Israel.

8 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord was upon Judah and Jerusalem, and he hath delivered them to trouble, to astonishment, and to hissing, as ye see with your eyes.

9 For lo, our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons, and our daughters, and our wives are in captivity for this.

10 Now it is in mine heart to make a covenant with the Lord God of Israel, that his fierce wrath may turn away from us.

11 My sons, be not now negligent: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and that ye should minister unto him, and burn incense.

12 ¶ Then the Levites arose, Mahath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azariah, of the sons of the Kohathites: and of the sons of Merari; Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the son of Jehalelel: and of the Gershonites; Joah the son of Zimmah, and Eden the son of Joah:

13 And of the sons of Elizaphan; Shimri, and Jeiel: and of the sons of Asaph; Zecharia, and Mattaniah:

14 And of the sons of Heman; Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the sons of Jeduthun; Shemaiah, and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came, according to the commandment of the king, by the words of the Lord, to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the priests went into the inner part of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord. And the Levites took it, to carry it out abroad into the brook Kidron.

17 Now they began on the first day of the first month to sanctify, and on the eighth day of the month came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight days, and in the sixteenth day of the first month they made an end.

18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and said, we have cleansed all the house of the Lord, and the altar of burnt-offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shew-bread table, with all the vessels thereof.

19 Moreover, all the vessels which king Ahaz in his reign did cast away in his transgression, have we prepared and sanctified, and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king rose early, and gathered the rulers of the city, and went up to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seven bullocks, and seven rams, and seven lambs, and seven he-goats, for a sin-offering for the kingdom, and for the sanctuary, and for Judah: and he commanded the priests the sons of Aaron to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they killed the bullocks, and the priests received the blood, and sprinkled it on the altar: likewise when they had killed the rams, they sprinkled the blood upon the altar: they killed also the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood upon the altar.

23 And they brought forth the he-goats for the sin-offering, before the king and the congregation, and they laid their hands upon them:

24 And the priests killed them, and they made reconciliation with their blood upon the altar, to make an atonement for all Israel: for the king commanded that the burnt-offering and the sin-offering should be made for all Israel.

25 And he set the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, with psalteries, and with harps, according to the commandment of David, and of Gad the king's seer, and Nathan the prophet; for so was the commandment of the Lord by his prophets.

26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt-offering upon the altar: and when the burnt-offering began, the song of the Lord began also with the trumpets, and with the instruments ordained by David king of Israel.

28 And all the congregation worshipped, and the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded: and all this continued until the burnt-offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king and all that were present with him, bowed themselves and worshipped.

30 Moreover, Hezekiah the king, and the princes commanded the Levites to sing praise unto the Lord with the words of David and of Asaph the seer: and they sang praises with gladness, and they bowed their heads and worshipped.

31 Then Hezekiah answered and said, Now ye have consecrated yourselves unto the Lord, come near and bring sacrifices, and thank-offerings into the house of the Lord. And the congregation brought in sacrifices, and thank-offerings, and as many as were of a free heart, burnt-offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt-offerings which the congregation brought, was threescore and ten bullocks, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt-offering to the Lord.

33 And the consecrated things were six hundred oxen, and three thousand sheep.

34 But the priests were too few, so that they could not flay all the burnt-offerings: wherefore their brethren the Levites did help them till the work was ended, and until the other priests had sanctified themselves: for the Levites were more upright in heart, to sanctify themselves, than the priests.

35 And also the burnt-offerings were in abundance, with the fat of the peace-offerings, and the drink-offerings for every burnt-offering. So the service of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 And Hezekiah rejoiced, and all the people, that God had prepared the people: for the thing was done suddenly.

CHAP. XXX.

AND Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and wrote letters also to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, to keep the passover unto the Lord God of Israel.

2 For the king had taken counsel, and his princes, and all the congregation in Jerusalam, to keep the passover in the second month.

3 For they could not keep it at that time, because the priests had not sanctified themselves sufficiently, neither had the people gathered themselves together to Jerusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king and all the congregation.

5 So they established a decree, to make proclamation throughout all Israel, from Beer-sheba even to Dan, that they should come to keep the passover unto the Lord God of Israel at Jerusalem; for they had not done it of a long time in such sort as it was written.

6 So the posts went with the letters from the king and his princes throughout all Israel and Judah, and according to the commandment of the king, saying, Ye children of Israel, turn again unto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, and he will return to the remnant of you that are escaped out of the hand of the kings of Assyria.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers, who therefore gave them up to desolation, as ye see.

8 Now be ye not stiff-necked as your fathers were, but yield yourselves unto the Lord, and enter into his sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever: and serve the Lord your God, that the fierceness of his wrath may turn away from you.

9 For if ye turn again unto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall find compassion before them that lead them captive, so that they shall come again into this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him.

10 So the posts passed from city to city, through the country of Ephraim and Manasseh, even unto Zebulun: but they laughed them to scorn, and mocked them.

11 Nevertheless, divers of Asher, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun, humbled themselves, and came to Jerusalem.

12 Also in Judah, the hand of God was to give them one heart to do the commandment of the king, and of the princes, by the word of the Lord.

13 ¶ And there assembled at Jerusalem much people, to keep the Chap. XXIX.] 3 He, in the first year of his reign, in the first month.] His beginning so very soon to reform religion, sufficiently demonstrates his great zeal for the glory of God. He did not stay till he was settled in the throne, but began the reformation the very month he ascended it, being doubtless persuaded that the surest way of rendering his reign prosperous, and his people happy, was to restore the worship of the God of Israel, and abolish the idolatry, which had for some years been established.

11 My sons, be not now negligent.] He uses the most pathetic language in exhorting the Levites to forsake their errors, and exert themselves in reforming the people.

21 For a sin-offering for the kingdom, &c.] That is, for the king's sins, and those of his predecessors; for the sins of the priests, and the profanation of the temple; and for all the people who had followed the example of their impious kings.

Chap. XXX.] 1 And Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, &c.] Hezekiah had doubtless no right to invite the subjects of Hoshea to repair to Jerusalem, in order to celebrate his passover: but we may presume that he was encouraged in this by Hoshea himself, who, in regard to religion, has the best character in scripture of any king that reigned over Israel, from the division of the two kingdoms.

11 Nevertheless, divers of Asher, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun, humbled themselves, and came to Jerusalem.] Not one of the Ephraimites is mentioned here; but afterwards we find, that some of that tribe eat the passover with their brethren, ver. 18. Probably a little reflection, and the example of the other tribes, induced the feaſt of unleavened bread in the ſecond month, a very great congregation.

15 And they aroſe, and took away the altars that were in Jeruſalem, and all the altars for incenſe took they away, and caſt them into the brook Kidron.

15 Then they killed the paſſover on the fourteenth day of the ſecond month; and the prieſts and the Levites were aſhamed, and ſanctified themſelves, and brought in the burnt-offerings into the houſe of the Lord.

16 And they ſtood in their place after their manner, according to the law of Moſes the man of God: the prieſts ſprinkled the blood, which they received of the hand of the Levites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not ſanctified: therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the paſſovers, for every one that was not clean, to ſanctify them unto the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, even many of Ephraim, and Manaſſeh, Iſſachar, and Zebulun, had not cleanſed themſelves; yet did they eat the paſſover, otherwiſe than it was written: but Hezekiah prayed for them, ſaying, The good Lord pardon every one

19 That prepareth his heart to ſeek God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleanſed according to the purification of the ſanctuary.

20 And the Lord hearkened to Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Iſrael that were preſent at Jeruſalem, kept the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days with great gladneſs: and the Levites, and the prieſts praiſed the Lord day by day, ſinging with loud inſtruments unto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah ſpake comfortably unto all the Levites, that taught the good knowledge of the Lord: and they did eat throughout the feaſt ſeven days, offering peace-offerings, and making confeſſion to the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole aſſembly took counſel to keep other ſeven days: and they kept other ſeven days with gladneſs.

24 For Hezekiah king of Judah did give to the congregation a thouſand bullocks, and ſeven thouſand ſheep; and the princes gave to the congregation a thouſand bullocks, and ten thouſand ſheep: and a great number of prieſts ſanctified themſelves.

25 And all the congregation of Judah, with the prieſts and the Levites, and all the congregation that came out of Iſrael, and the ſtrangers that came out of the land of Iſrael, and that dwelt in Judah, rejoiced.

26 So there was great joy in Jeruſalem: for ſince the time of Solomon the ſon of David king of Iſrael, there was not the like in Jeruſalem.

27 ¶ Then the prieſts the Levites aroſe, and bleſſed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up to his holy dwelling-place, even unto heaven.

CHAP. XXXI.

NOW when all this was finiſhed, all Iſrael that were preſent, went out to the cities of Judah, and brake the images in pieces, and cut down the groves, and threw down the high places, and the altars out of all Judah and Benjamin, in Ephraim alſo and Manaſſeh, until they had utterly deſtroyed them all. Then all the children of Iſrael returned every man to his poſſeſſion into their own cities.

2 ¶ And Hezekiah appointed the courſes of the prieſts and the Levites after their courſes, every man according to his ſervice, the prieſts and Levites for burnt-offerings, and for peace-offerings, to miniſter, and to give thanks, and to praiſe in the gates of the tents of the Lord.

3 He appointed alſo the king's portion of his ſubſtance, for the burnt-offerings, to wit, for the morning and evening burnt-offerings, and the burnt-offerings for the ſabbaths, and for the new-moons, and for the ſet feaſts, as it is written in the law of the Lord.

4 Moreover he commanded the people that dwelt in Jeruſalem, to give the portion of the prieſts, and the Levites, that they might be encouraged in the law of the Lord.

5 ¶ And as ſoon as the commandment came abroad, the children of Iſrael brought in abundance the firſt-fruits of corn, wine, and oil, and honey, and of all the increaſe of the field, and the tithe of all things brought they in abundantly.

6 And concerning the children of Iſrael and Judah, that dwelt in the cities of Judah, they alſo brought in the tithe of oxen and ſheep, and the tithe of holy things, which were conſecrated unto the Lord their God, and laid them by heaps.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finiſhed them in the ſeventh month.

8 And when Hezekiah and the princes came and ſaw the heaps, they bleſſed the Lord and his people Iſrael.

9 Then Hezekiah queſtioned with the prieſts and the Levites concerning the heaps.

10 And Azariah the chief prieſt of the houſe of Zadok, anſwered him, and ſaid, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the houſe of the Lord, we have had enough to eat, and have left plenty: for the Lord hath bleſſed his people; and that which is left, is this great ſtore.

11 ¶ Then Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the houſe of the Lord; and they prepared them, 12 And brought in the offerings, and the tithes, and the dedicated things faithfully: over which Cononiah the Levite was ruler, and Shimei his brother was the next.

13 And Jehiel, and Azariah, and Nahath, and Aſahel, and Jerimoth, and Jozabad, and Eliel, and Iſmachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah, were overſeers under the hand of Cononiah and Shimei his brother, at the commandment of Hezekiah the king, and Azariah the ruler of the houſe of God.

14 And Kore the ſon of Imnah the Levite, the porter toward the eaſt, was over the free-will offerings of God, to diſtribute the oblations of the Lord, and the moſt holy things.

15 And next him were Eden, and Miniamin, and Jeſhua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah, in the cities of the prieſts, in their ſet office, to give to their brethren by courſes, as well to the great as to the ſmall.

16 Beſide their genealogy of males from three years old and upward, even unto every one that entereth into the houſe of the Lord, his daily portion, for their ſervice in their charges according to their courſes.

17 Both to the genealogy of the prieſts by the houſe of their fathers, and the Levites from twenty years old and upward in their charges by their courſes:

18 And to the genealogy of all their little ones, their wives, and their ſons, and their daughters through all the congregation: for in their ſet office they ſanctified themſelves in holineſs.

19 Alſo of the ſons of Aaron, the prieſt, which were in the fields of the ſuburbs of their cities, in every ſeveral city, the men that were expreſſed by name to give portions to all the males among the prieſts, and to all that were reckoned by genealogies, among the Levites.

20 ¶ And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and wrought that which was good and right and truth before the Lord his God.

21 And in every work that he began in the ſervice of the houſe of God, and in the law and in the commandments to ſeek his God, he did it with all his heart, and proſpered.

CHAP. XXXII.

AFTER theſe things, and the eſtabliſhment thereof, Sennacherib king of Aſſyria came, and entered into Judah, and encamped againſt the fenced cities, and thought to win them for himſelf.

2 And when Hezekiah ſaw that Sennacherib was come, and that he was purpoſed to fight againſt Jeruſalem;

3 He took counſel with his princes, and his mighty men, to ſtop the waters of the fountains, which were without the city: and they did help him.

4 So there was gathered much people together, who ſtopped all the fountains, and the brook that ran through the midſt of the land, ſaying, Why ſhould the kings of Aſſyria come, and find much water?

5 Alſo he ſtrengthened himſelf, and built up all the wall that was broken, and raiſed it up to the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the city of David, and made darts and ſhields in abundance.

6 And he ſet captains of war over the people, and gathered them together to him in the ſtreet of the gate of the city, and ſpake comfortably to them, ſaying,

7 Be ſtrong and courageous, be not afraid nor diſmayed for the king of Aſſyria, nor for all the multitude that is with him: for there be more with us, than with him.

8 With him is an arm of fleſh, but with us is the Lord our God, to help us, and to fight our battles. And the people reſted themſelves upon the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

9 ¶ After this did Sennacherib king of Aſſyria ſend his ſervants to Jeruſalem (but he himſelf laid ſiege againſt Lachiſh, and all his power ſome of them at laſt to repair to Jeruſalem, to worſhip the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXI.] 1 Now when all this was finiſhed, &c.] That is, in the latter end of the ſecond month, after the paſſover and the following feſtivals were over, and the people diſmiſſed with pious inſtructions from the Levites, they deſtroyed the monuments of idolatry that remained in the ſeveral cities of the kingdom.

2 In the gates of the tents of the Lord.] That is, in the temple of the Lord; the ark anciently reſiding in a tent, and all houſes were called by that name.

14 And the moſt holy things.] That is, burnt-offerings and the offerings for ſin, the treſpaſs-offerings, and the two lambs for peace-offerings on the laſt day of the feaſt of the tabernacles.

CHAP. XXXII.] 4 So there was gathered much people together, who ſtopt all the founttains, and the brook, &c.] By the brook is meant Gihon, which ſome take to be Kidron. It was not eaſy to conceal this brook; but it is ſuppoſed the ſource of it was not far from the city, and this being filled with earth, they diverted the current, and by ſubterraneous paſſages, conveyed the water into large ciſterns in the city for the uſe of the people.

power with him) unto Hezekiah king of Judah, and unto all Judah, that were at Jeruſalem, ſaying, 10 Thus ſaith Sennacherib king of Aſſyria, Whereon do ye truſt, that ye abide in the ſiege in Jeruſalem.

11 Doth not Hezekiah perſuade you to give over yourſelves to die by famine and by thirſt, ſaying, The Lord our God ſhall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

12 Hath not the ſame Hezekiah taken away his high places, and his altars, and commanded Judah and Jeruſalem, ſaying, Ye ſhall worſhip before one altar, and burn incenſe upon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers have done unto all the people of other lands? were the gods of the nations of thoſe lands any ways able to deliver their lands out of mine hand?

14 Who was there among all the Gods of thoſe nations, that my fathers utterly deſtroyed, that could deliver his people out of mine hand, that your God ſhould be able to deliver you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor perſuade you on this manner, neither yet believe him: for no God of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much leſs ſhall your God deliver you out of mine hand?

16 And his ſervants ſpake yet more againſt the Lord God, and againſt his ſervant Hezekiah.

17 He wrote alſo letters to rail on the Lord God of Iſrael, and to ſpeak againſt him, ſaying, As the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people out of mine hand, ſo ſhall not the God of Hezekiah deliver his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cried with a loud voice in the Jews ſpeech unto the people of Jeruſalem that were on the wall, to affright them, and to trouble them, that they might take the city.

19 And they ſpake againſt the God of Jeruſalem, as againſt the gods of the people of the earth, which were the work of the hands of man.

20 And for this cauſe Hezekiah the king, and the prophet Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz, prayed, and cried to heaven.

21 ¶ And the Lord ſent an angel, which cut off all the mighty men of valour, and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Aſſyria: ſo he returned with ſhame of face to his own land. And when he was come into the houſe of his God, they that came forth of his own bowels, ſlew him there with the ſword.

22 Thus the Lord ſaved Hezekiah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem from the hand of Sennacherib the king of Aſſyria, and from the hand of all other, and guided them on every ſide.

23 And many brought gifts unto the Lord to Jeruſalem, and preſents to Hezekiah king of Judah: ſo that he was magnified in the ſight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 ¶ In thoſe days Hezekiah was ſick to death, and prayed unto the Lord: and he ſpake unto him, and he gave him a ſign.

25 But Hezekiah rendered not again, according to the benefit done unto him: for his heart was lifted up; therefore there was wrath upon him, and upon Judah and Jeruſalem.

26 Notwithſtanding Hezekiah humbled himſelf for the pride of his heart (both he and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem) ſo that the wrath of the Lord came not upon them in the days of Hezekiah.

27 ¶ And Hezekiah had exceeding much riches and honour: and he made himſelf treaſuries for ſilver, and for gold, and for precious ſtones, and for ſpices, and for ſhields, and for all manner of pleaſant jewels;

28 Store-houſes alſo for the increaſe of corn, and wine, and oil; and ſtalls for all manner of beaſts, and cotes for flocks.

29 Moreover, he provided him cities, and poſſeſſions of flocks, and herds in abundance; for God had given him ſubſtance very much

30 This ſame Hezekiah alſo ſtopped the upper water-courſe of Gihon, and brought it ſtraight down to the weſt ſide of the city of David. And Hezekiah proſpered in all his works.

31 ¶ Howbeit, in the buſineſs of the ambaſſadors of the princes of Babylon, who ſent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart.

32 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Hezekiah, and his goodneſs, behold, they are written in the viſion of Iſaiah the prophet, the ſon Amoz, and in the book of the kings of Judah and Iſrael.

33 And Hezekiah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the chiefeſt of the ſepulchres of the ſons of David: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem did him honour at his death: and Manaſſeh his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

MAnaſſeh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and five years in Jeruſalem.

2 But did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, like unto the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord had caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

3 ¶ For he built again the high places which Hezekiah his father had broken down, and he reared up altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved them.

4 Alſo he built altars in the houſe of the Lord, whereof the Lord had ſaid, In Jeruſalem ſhall my name be for ever.

5 And he built altars for all the hoſt of heaven, in the two courts of the houſe of the Lord.

6 And he cauſed his children to paſs through the fire in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom: alſo he obſerved times, and uſed inchantments, and uſed witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar ſpirit, and with wizards: he wrought much evil in the ſight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger.

7 And he ſet a carved image (the idol which he had made) in the houſe of God, of which God had ſaid to David, and to Solomon his ſon, In this houſe, and in Jeruſalem, which I have choſen before all the tribes of Iſrael, will I put my name for ever.

8 Neither will I any more remove the foot of Iſrael from out of the land which I have appointed for your fathers; ſo that they will take heed to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law, and the ſtatutes, and the ordinances by the hand of Moſes.

9 So Manaſſeh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to err, and to do worſe than the heathen, whom the Lord had deſtroyed before the children of Iſrael.

10 And the Lord ſpake to Manaſſeh, and to his people: but they would not hearken.

11 ¶ Wherefore the Lord brought upon them the captains of the hoſt of the king of Aſſyria, which took Manaſſeh among the thorns, and bound him with fetters, and carried him to Babylon.

12 And when he was in affliction, he beſought the Lord his God, and humbled himſelf greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed unto him, and he was entreated of him, and heard his ſupplication, and brought him again to Jeruſalem into his kingdom. Then Manaſſeh knew that the Lord he was God.

14 Now after this, he built a wall without the city of David, on the weſt-ſide of Gihon, in the valley, even to the entering in at the fiſh-gate, and compaſſed about Ophel, and raiſed it up a very great height, and put captains of war in all the fenced cities of Judah.

15 And he took away the ſtrange Gods, and the idol out of the houſe of the Lord, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the houſe of the Lord, and in Jeruſalem, and caſt them out of the city.

16 And he repaired the altar of the Lord, and ſacrificed thereon peace-offerings, and thank-offerings, and commanded Judah to ſerve the Lord God of Iſrael:

17 Nevertheleſs, the people did ſacrifice ſtill in the high places, yet unto the Lord their God only.

18 ¶ Now the reſt of the acts of Manaſſeh, and his prayer unto his God, and the words of the ſeers that ſpake to him in the name of the Lord God of Iſrael, behold they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael.

19 His prayer alſo, and how God was entreated of him, and all his ſins, and his treſpaſs, and the places wherein he built high places, and ſet up groves, and graven images before he was humbled, behold, they are written among the ſayings of the ſeers.

20 ¶ So Manaſſeh ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own houſe: and Amon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned two years in Jeruſalem.

22 But he did that which was evil in the ſight of the Lord, as did Manaſſeh his father: for Amon ſacrificed unto all the carved images which Manaſſeh his father had made, and ſerved them.

23 And humbled not himſelf before the Lord, as Manaſſeh his father had humbled himſelf; but Amon treſpaſſed more and more;

24 And

23 And many brought gifts unto the Lord to Jeruſalem, and preſents to Hezekiah.] They were ſo terrified with the tremendous ſtroke that had been given the Aſſyrian army, that they brought gifts to the God of Iſrael to deprecate his vengeance, and preſents to Hezekiah to purchaſe his friendſhip.

25 His heart was lifted up.] So many aſtoniſhing miracles having been wrought in his favour, he grew ſo preſumptuous of God's protection, that he forgot his benefits.

Chap. XXXIII.] 3 And made groves, and worſhipped all the hoſt of heaven, and ſerved them.] Several ingenious commentators are of opinion, that theſe groves were made round the temple; a practice expreſly forbidden, Deut. xvi. 21. The Jews, however, in after-times, planted trees about their Proſeuchæ, or places of prayer.

9 So Manaſſeh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to err, and to do worſe than the heathen.] What a prodigious change was now wrought in this kingdom! In the laſt reign it was celebrated for righteouſneſs; now for being the very ſink of impiety: and from hence we ſhould be admoniſhed to value the precious opportunities we now enjoy, of practiſing the duties of religion in their primitive purity; leſt, by a ſad reverſe of fortune, we ſhould be deprived of ſuch glorious priviléges.

11 Which took Manaſſeh among the thorns.] They found him in a thicket, in which he had concealed himſelf.

16 And commanded Judah to ſerve the Lord God of Iſrael.] This was a proof that his repentance was ſincere, as he endeavoured to bring back the people, whom he had before induced to idolatry, to the worſhip of the Lord God of their fathers.

18 Now the reſt of the acts of Manaſſeh---behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Iſrael.] The children of Judah and Benjamin, being all that were now left of the deſcendants of Jacob, were called the children of Iſrael; but the book here mentioned was loſt during the Babyloniſh captivity.

Chap.

24 And his servants conspired against him, and slew him in his own house.

25 ¶ But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against king Amon, and the people of the land made Josiah his son king in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIV.

JOSIAH was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem one and thirty years.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the ways of David his father, and declined neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 ¶ For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young, he began to seek after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images.

4 And they brake down the altars of Baalim in his presence; and the images that were on high above them, he cut down; and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images he brake in pieces, and made dust of them, and strowed it upon the graves of them that had sacrificed unto them.

5 And he burnt the bones of the priests upon their altars, and cleansed Judah and Jerusalem.

6 And so did he in the cities of Manasseh, ... Ephraim, and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, with their mattocks, round about.

7 And when he had broken down the altars and the groves, and had beaten the graven images into powder, and cut down all the idols throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

8 Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purged the land, and the house, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the governor of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high priest, they delivered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Levites that kept the doors had gathered of the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, and all the remnant of Israel, and of all Judah and Benjamin, and they returned to Jerusalem.

10 And they put it in the hand of the workmen that had the oversight of the house of the Lord, and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repair and amend the house:

11 Even to the artificers and builders gave they it, to buy hewn stone, and timber for couplings, and to floor the houses, which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the work faithfully: and the overseers of them were Jahath, and Obadiah, the Levites of the sons of Merari; and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the sons of the Kohathites, to set it forward; and other of the Levites, all that could skill of instruments of musick.

13 Also they were over the bearers of burdens, and were overseers of all that wrought the work in any manner of service: and of the Levites there were scribes, and officers, and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the priest found a book of the law of the Lord, given by Moses.

15 And Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of the Lord. And Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan:

16 And Shaphan carried the book to the king, and brought the king word back again, saying, All that was committed to thy servants, they do it.

17 And they have gathered together the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and have delivered it into the hand of the overseers, and to the hand of the workmen.

18 Then Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, Hilkiah the priest hath given me a book. And Shaphan read it before the king;

19 And it came to pass when the king had heard the words of the law, that he rent his clothes.

20 And the king commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Micah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah a servant of the king's, saying,

21 Go, enquire of the Lord for me, and for them that are left in Israel, and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is poured out upon us, because our fathers have not kept the word of the Lord, to do after all that is written in this book.

22 And Hilkiah, and they that the king had appointed, went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum, the son of Tikvath, the son of Hazrah, keeper of the wardrobe; (now she dwelt in Jerusalem in the college) and they spake to her to that effect.

23 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof; even all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah:

25 Because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands; therefore my wrath shall be poured out upon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Judah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shall ye say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God, concerning the words which thou hast heard.

27 Because thine heart was tender, and thou didst humble thyself before God, when thou heardst his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thyself before me, and didst rend thy clothes, and weep before me; I have even heard thee also, saith the Lord.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy grave in peace, neither shall thine eyes see all the evil that I will bring upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of the same. So they brought the king word again.

29 ¶ Then the king sent and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

30 And the king went up into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the priests and the Levites, and all the people great and small: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant, that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the king stood in his place, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walk after the Lord, and to keep his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart and with all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant which are written in this book.

32 And he caused all that were present in Jerusalem and Benjamin to stand to it. And the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, the God of their fathers.

33 And Josiah took away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to the children of Israel, and made all that were present in Israel to serve, even to serve the Lord their God. And all his days they departed not from following the Lord, the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

MOreover Josiah kept a passover unto the Lord in Jerusalem: and they killed the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 And he set the priests in their charges, and encouraged them to the service of the house of the Lord.

3 And said unto the Levites that taught all Israel which were holy unto the Lord, Put the holy ark in the house, which Solomon the son of David king of Israel did build; it shall not be a burden upon your shoulders: serve now the Lord your God, and his people Israel,

4 And prepare yourselves by the houses of your fathers, after your courses, according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the writing of Solomon his son.

5 And stand in the holy place according to the divisions of the families of the fathers of your brethren the people, and after the division of the families of the Levites.

6 So kill the passover, and sanctify yourselves, and prepare your brethren, that they may do according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 And Josiah gave to the people of the flock, lambs, and kids, all for the passover-offerings for all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand bullocks; these were of the king's substance.

8 And his princes gave willingly unto the people, to the priests and to the Levites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gave unto the priests for the passover-offerings, two thousand and six hundred small cattle, and three hundred oxen.

9 Cononiah also, and Shemaiah, and Nethaneel, his brethren, and Hashabiah, and Jeiel, and Jozabad, chief of the Levites, gave unto the Levites for passover-offerings, five thousand small cattle, and five hundred oxen.

10 So the service was prepared, and the priests stood in their place, and the Levites in their courses, according to the king's commandment.

11 And they killed the passover, and the priests sprinkled the blood from their hands, and the Levites flayed them.

12 And

CHAP. XXXIV.] 3 In the eighth year of his reign, he began to seek after David his father.] His pious inclination of worshipping the God of Israel appeared very early: for he was only sixteen years of age, when he openly declared his resolution of serving the Lord God of his fathers.

30 He read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant.] It can hardly be supposed that both Josiah, and all the nation of Judah, were entirely ignorant of what the book of the law contained; especially when it is remembered that Jeremiah and other prophets were now living, who were very conversant in this book, and made it their business to instruct the people in the precepts it contained. But it is plain, that they did not give a proper attention to the words of it.

CHAP. XXXV.] 1 Moreover Josiah kept a passover unto the Lord in Jerusalem.] This passover was kept in the eighteenth year of his reign, immediately after he had finished his glorious reformation in abolishing idolatry.

24 And

12 And they removed the burut-offerings, that they might give according to the divisions of the families of the people to offer unto the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: and so did they with the oxen.

13 And they roasted the passover with fire, according to the ordinance: but the other holy offerings sod they in pots, and in caldrons, and in pans, and divided them speedily among all the people.

14 And afterward they made ready for themselves, and for the priests: because the priests the sons of Aaron were busied in offering of burnt-offerings, and the fat, until night; therefore the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests, the sons of Aaron.

15 And the singers, the sons of Asaph were in their place, according to the commandment of David, and Asaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun the king's seer; and the porters waited at every gate; they might not depart from their service; for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

16 So all the service of the Lord was prepared the same day, to keep the passover, and to offer burnt-offerings upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the passover at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days.

18 And there was no passover like to that kept in Israel, from the days of Samuel the prophet, neither did all the kings of Israel keep such a passover as Josiah kept, and the priests, and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah, was this passover kept.

20 ¶ After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt, came up to fight against Charchemish by Euphrates: and Josiah went out against him.

21 But he sent ambassadors to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house wherewith I have war: for God commanded me to make haste: forbear thee from meddling with God, who is with me, that he destroy thee not.

22 Nevertheless, Josiah would not turn his face from him, but disguised himself that he might fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Necho from the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the archers shot at king Josiah: and the king said to his servants, Have me away; for I am sore wounded.

24 His servants therefore took him out of that chariot, and put him in the second chariot that he had; and they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died, and was buried in one of the sepulchres of his fathers. And all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

25 ¶ And Jeremiah lamented for Josiah: and all the singing-men and the singing-women spake of Josiah in their lamentations to this day, and made them an ordinance in Israel: and behold, they are written in the lamentations.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and his goodness, according to that which was written in the law of the Lord;

27 And his deeds, first and last, behold they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

CHAP. XXXVI.

THEN the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and made him king in his father's stead in Jerusalem.

2 Jehoahaz was twenty and three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt put him down at Jerusalem, and condemned the land in an hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold.

4 And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother, king over Judah and Jerusalem, and turned his name to Jehoiakim. And Necho took Jehoahaz his brother, and carried him to Egypt.

5 ¶ Jehoiakim was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came up Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and bound him in fetters to carry him to Babylon.

7 Nebuchadnezzar also carried of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.

8 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and his abominations which he did, and that which was found in him, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah: and Jehoiachin his son reigned in his stead.

9 ¶ Jehoiachin was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem, and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the year was expired, king Nebuchadnezzar sent, and brought him to Babylon, with the goodly vessels of the house of the Lord, and made Zedekiah his brother, king over Judah and Jerusalem.

11 ¶ Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and reigned eleven years in Jerusalem.

12 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himself before Jeremiah the prophet, speaking from the mouth of the Lord.

13 And he also rebelled against king Nebuchadnezzer, who had made him swear by God: but he stiffened his neck, and hardened his heart from turning unto the Lord God of Israel.

14 ¶ Moreover, all the chief of the priests and the people transgressed very much, after all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which he had hallowed in Jerusalem.

15 And the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising up betimes, and sending; because he had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling-place:

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, till there was no remedy.

17 Therefore he brought upon them the king of the Chaldees, who slew their young men with the sword, in the house of their sanctuary, and had no compassion upon young man or maiden, old man, or him that stooped for age: he gave them all into his hand.

18 And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes; all these he brought to Babylon.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake down the wall of Jerusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and destroyed all the goodly vessels thereof.

20 And them that had escaped from the sword, carried he away to Babylon: where they were servants to him and his sons, until the reign of the king of Persia:

21 To fulfil the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed her sabbaths: for as long as she lay desolate, she kept sabbath, to fulfil threescore and ten years.

22 ¶ Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia (that the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Jeremiah might be accomplished) the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying,

23 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdoms of the earth hath the Lord God of heaven given me, and he hath charged me to build him an house in Jerusalem, which is in Judah: who is there among you of all his people? the Lord his God be with him, and let him go up.

24 And they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died.] It is said, chap. xxxiv. 28, that Josiah should be gathered to his grave in peace: and therefore it has been asked, how this promise was performed, when he was slain in battle? His death was, indeed, sudden and immature: he fell in battle against the Egyptians, and yet he may, with great truth, be said to have gone to his grave in peace, because he was recalled from this transitory scene of things, while his kingdom was in a prosperous condition, before the calamities wherewith it was threatened were come upon it, and while he was himself at peace with God. Thus, when the righteous are taken away from the evil to come, though in the sight of the unwise they seem to die, and their departure is taken for misery; yet in what manner soever their exit may be, they may well be said to die in peace, who, after their dissolution here, are numbered among the children of God, and their lot is among the saints.

CHAP. XXXVI.] 21 To fulfil threescore and ten years.] These years ended in the first or second years of Cyrus; but when they began, is not so easy to determine: some will have it that it was in the fourth year of Jehoiakim; for then Jeremiah pronounced the following sentence, The whole land shall be a desolation, and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years. Jer. xxv. 11. But others fix the beginning of these seventy years at the captivity of Zedekiah.

22, 23 Now in the first year of Cyrus, &c.] These two verses which conclude the book of Chronicles, begin that of Ezra, where they will be explained.

The ARGUMENT.

This book, and that of Nehemiah, were formerly reckoned by the Hebrews to be but one: accordingly, in the Latin Bibles, they are both inſcribed with the name of Ezra, though they originally belonged to diſtinct authors.

The book of Ezra was written towards the latter end of the author's life, and comprehends the tranſactions of about eighty, or, as ſome ſay, an hundred years. It includes the hiſtory of the Jews, from the time of Cyrus's edict for their return, to the twentieth year of Artaxerxes Longimanus.

Part of the book of Ezra, namely, from the eighth verſe of the fourth chapter, to the twenty-ſeventh of the ſeventh chapter, was written in the Chaldee language: but all the reſt in Hebrew.

CHAP. I.

NOW in the firſt year of Cyrus king of Perſia (that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled) the Lord ſtirred up the ſpirit of Cyrus king of Perſia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it alſo in writing, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith Cyrus king of Perſia, The Lord God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he hath charged me to build him an houſe at Jeruſalem, which is in Judah.

3 Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jeruſalem, which is in Judah, and build the houſe of the Lord God of Iſrael (he is the God) which is in Jeruſalem.

4 And whoſoever remaineth in any place where he ſojourneth; let the men of his place help him with ſilver, and with gold, and with goods, and with beaſts, beſide the free-will-offering for the houſe of God that is in Jeruſalem.

5 ¶ Then roſe up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the prieſts, and the Levites, with all them whoſe ſpirit God had raiſed to go up to build the houſe of the Lord which is in Jeruſalem.

6 And all they that were about them, ſtrengthened their hands with veſſels of ſilver, with gold, with goods, and with beaſts, and with precious things, beſide all that was willingly offered.

7 ¶ Alſo Cyrus the king brought forth the veſſels of the houſe of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought forth out of Jeruſalem, and had put them in the houſe of his gods.

8 Even thoſe did Cyrus king of Perſia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treaſurer, and numbered them unto Sheſhbazzar the prince of Judah.

9 And this is the number of them: thirty chargers of gold, a thouſand chargers of ſilver, nine and twenty knives,

10 Thirty baſons of gold, ſilver baſons of a ſecond ſort four hundred and ten, and other veſſels a thouſand.

11 All the veſſels of gold and of ſilver, were five thouſand and four hundred. All theſe did Sheſhbazzar bring up with them of the captivity, that were brought up from Babylon unto Jeruſalem.

Commentary on the Book of Ezra.

CHAP. I.] 1 Now in the firſt year of Cyrus king of Perſia.] This is that famous Cyrus, who an hundred and forty years before the temple was deſtroyed, and two hundred years before he was born, was mentioned by name in the prophecy of Iſaiah, as deſigned by God for the reſtoring his people; Thus ſaith Cyrus, He is my ſhepherd, and ſhall perform all my pleaſure, even ſaying to Jeruſalem, Thou ſhalt be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation ſhall be laid, Iſaiah, xliv. 28. He is alſo mentioned by name, chap. xlv. 1. of the ſame prophecy.

7 Alſo Cyrus the king brought forth the veſſels of the houſe of the Lord, &c.] Some are of opinion, that among the ſacred things which Cyrus ordered to be reſtored, the ark of the covenant was one; but it does not appear that this ark was ever carried from Jeruſalem to Babylon.

8 And numbered them unto Sheſhbazzar the prince of Judah.] His name was originally Zerubbabel. But it was common for the great men of Judah to have two names; one of their own country, which was domeſtic, and another of the Chaldeans, which was uſed at court.

CHAP. II.] 1 Now theſe are the children of the province that went up out of the captivity.] Some think that the word province here ſignifies Babylon, where the greateſt part of theſe people were born, and had lived many years. But it ſeems more natural to think that it means Judea, which was made a province when it was conquered, and Gedeliah made governor of it.

5 The children of Arah, ſeven hundred ſeventy and five.] So many gave then in their names at Babylon, as intending to return into Judea: but it appears, from Nehem. vii. 10, that no more than ſix hundred fifty and two came thither: the reſt, therefore, either altered their minds, or died by the way. The ſame muſt be obſerved of ſeveral other differences between this account and that in Nehemiah.

50 The children of Asnah, the children of Mehunim, the children of Nephusim,
51 The children of Bakbuk, the children of Hakupha, the children of Harhur,
52 The children of Bazluth, the children of Mehida, the children of Harsha, 53 The children of Barkos, the children of Sisera, the children of Thamah,
54 The children of Neziah, the children of Hatipha,
55 ¶ The children of Solomon's servants: the children of Sotai, the children of Sophereth, the children of Peruda,
56 The children of Jaalah, the children of Darkon, the children of Giddel,
57 The children of Shephatiah, the children of Hattil, the children of Pochereth of Zebaim, the children of Ami.
58 All the Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's servants, were three hundred ninety and two.
59 And these were they which went up from Tel-melah, Tel-harsa, Cherub, Addan, and Immer: but they could not shew their fathers house, and their seed, whether they were of Israel:
60 The children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Nekoda, six hundred fifty and two.
61 ¶ And of the children of the priests: the children of Habaiah, the children of Koz, the children of Barzillai: (which took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name)
62 These sought their register among those that were reckoned by genealogy, but they were not found: therefore were they, as polluted, put from the priesthood.
63 And the Tirshatha said unto them, that they should not eat of the most holy things, till there stood up a priest with Urim and with Thummim.
64 ¶ The whole congregation together was forty and two thousand three hundred and threescore,
65 Beside their servants and their maids, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: and there were among them two hundred singing-men, and singing-women.
66 Their horses were seven hundred thirty and six: their mules, two hundred forty and five:
67 Their camels, four hundred thirty and five: their asses, six thousand seven hundred and twenty.
68 ¶ And some of the chief of the fathers, when they came to the house of the Lord which is at Jerusalem, offered freely for the house of God to set it up in his place:
69 They gave after their ability, unto the treasure of the work, threescore and one thousand drams of gold, and five thousand pound of silver, and one hundred priests garments.
70 So the priests and the Levites, and some of the people, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims, dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

CHAP. III.

AND when the seventh month was come, and the children of Israel were in the cities, the people gathered themselves together, as one man, to Jerusalem.
2 Then stood up Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and his brethren the priests, and Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, as it is written in the law of Moses the man of God.
3 And they set the altar upon his bases (for fear was upon them, because of the people of those countries) and they offered burnt-offerings thereon unto the Lord, even burnt-offerings morning and evening;
4 They kept also the feast of tabernacles, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt-offerings by number, according to the custom, as the duty of every day required;
5 And afterward offered the continual burnt-offering, both of the new-moons, and of all the set feasts of the Lord, that were consecrated, and of every one that willingly offered a free-will-offering unto the Lord.
6 From the first day of the seventh month began they to offer burnt-offerings unto the Lord: but the foundation of the temple of the Lord was not yet laid.
7 They gave money also unto the masons, and to the carpenters; and meat, and drink, and oil, unto them of Zidon, and to them of Tyre, to bring cedar-trees from Lebanon to the sea of Joppa: according to the grant that they had of Cyrus king of Persia.
8 ¶ Now in the second year of their coming unto the house of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captivity unto Jerusalem; and appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, to set forward the work of the house of the Lord.
9 Then stood Jeshua, with his sons and his brethren, Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah together, to set forward the workmen in the house of God: the sons of Henadad, with their sons and their brethren the Levites.
10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the Lord, they set the priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph, with cymbals to praise the Lord, after the ordinance of David king of Israel.
11 And they sang together by course, in praising and giving thanks unto the Lord; because he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever toward Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the Lord, because the foundation of the house of the Lord was laid.
12 But many of the priests and Levites, and chief of the fathers, who were ancient men that had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice, and many shouted aloud for joy:
13 So that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy, from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard afar off.

CHAP. IV.

NOW when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin, heard that the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the Lord God of Israel:
2 Then they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chief of the fathers, and said unto them, Let us build with you; for we seek your God, as ye do, and we do sacrifice unto him, since the days of Esar-haddon king of Assur, which brought us up hither.
3 But Zerubbabel and Jeshua, and the rest of the chief of the fathers of Israel said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us, to build an house unto our God, but we ourselves together will build unto the Lord God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded us.
4 Then the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Judah, and troubled them in building,
5 And hired counsellors against them to frustrate their purpose, all the days of Cyrus king of Persia, even until the reign of Darius king of Persia.
6 And in the reign of Ahasuerus, in the beginning of his reign, wrote they unto him an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.
7 ¶ And in the days of Artaxerxes wrote Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions unto Artaxerxes king of Persia; and the writing of the letter was written in the Syrian tongue, and interpreted in the Syrian tongue
8 Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai, the scribe, wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king, in this sort:
9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions; the Dinaites, the Apharsathchites, the Tarpelites, the Apharsites, the Archevites, the Babylonians, the Susanchites, the Dehavites, and the Elamites,
10 And the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Asnapper brought over, and set in the cities of Samaria, and the rest that are on this side the river, and at such a time.
11 ¶ This is the copy of the letter that they sent unto him, even

---

63 And the Tirshatha.] Some are of opinion, that the word Tirshatha is a general name for all chief governors, and is here applied to Zerubbabel. But others think, that it signifies only the king's commissioner; for Zerubbabel was nothing more.

64 The whole congregation together was forty and two thousand three hundred and threescore.] This was but a very small number, if compared with the prodigious multitudes that came out of Egypt, though more than double the number carried away captive by Nebuchadnezzar. But if we add the several sums together, enumerated in the foregoing verses, the total will be no more than twenty-nine thousand eight hundred and eighteen. But it should be remembered, that great numbers of the other tribes of Israel, besides those of Judah and Benjamin, came from Babylon; and these not being able to make out their descent, were not mentioned by their families as the others were.

CHAP. IV.] 1 Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin.] These enemies were the Samaritans, who were grieved at the return of the Jews.

3 You have nothing to do with us, to build an house unto our God.] They well knew, that though from the time they had been infested with lions, in the days of Esarhaddon, they had worshipped the God of Israel, yet it was only in conjunction with their other gods, whom they worshipped before; and therefore, notwithstanding their worship of the true God, since they also worshipped false gods at the same time, they were idolaters, which was a sufficient reason why the true worshippers of God refused to have any communion with them.

6 In the reign of Ahasuerus.] This was not the prince mentioned in the book of Esther, though it is not easy to tell precisely what king of Persia is here meant: some think it was Cambyses, some Darius Hystaspis, and others Artaxerxes Mnemon, or Longimanus.

7 And the writing of the letter was written in the Syrian tongue, and interpreted in the Syrian tongue.] That is, both the letter and a large exposition of it were written in the Syrian language.

10 Whom the great and noble Asnapper, &c.] Some suppose that the word Asnapper is another name either for Salmanasser or Esarhaddon, who sent these colonies hither. But it is more reasonable to suppose that he was some principal commander, who was intrusted by one or both those kings to conduct them over the Euphrates, and see them settled in those countries.

CHAP.

even unto Artaxerxes the king, Thy ſervants the men on this ſide the river, and at ſuch a time.

12 Be it known unto the king, that the Jews which came up from thee to us, are come unto Jeruſalem, building the rebellious and the bad city, and have ſet up the walls thereof, and joined the foundations.

13 Be it known now unto the king, that if this city be builded, and the walls ſet up again, then will they not pay toll, tribute, and cuſtom, and ſo thou ſhalt endamage the revenue of the kings.

14 Now becauſe we have maintenance from the king's palace, and it was not meet for us to ſee the king's diſhonour: therefore have we ſent and certified the king;

15 That ſearch may be made in the book of the records of thy fathers: ſo ſhalt thou find in the book of the records, and know that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtful unto kings and provinces, and that they have moved ſedition within the ſame of old time; for which cauſe was this city deſtroyed.

16 We certify the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof ſet up, by this means thou ſhalt have no portion on this ſide the river.

17 ¶ Then ſent the king an anſwer unto Rehum the chancellor, and to Shimſhai the ſcribe, and to the reſt of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and unto the reſt beyond the river, Peace, and at ſuch a time.

18 The letter which ye ſent unto us, hath been plainly read before me.

19 And I commanded, and ſearch hath been made, and it is found, that this city of old time hath made inſurrection againſt kings, and that rebellion and ſedition have been made therein.

20 There have been mighty kings alſo over Jeruſalem, which have ruled over all countries beyond the river; and toll, tribute, and cuſtom was paid unto them.

21 Give ye now commandment to cauſe theſe men to ceaſe, and that this city be not builded, until another commandment ſhall be given from me.

22 Take heed now that ye fail not to do this: why ſhould damage grow to the hurt of the kings?

23 ¶ Now when the copy of king Artaxerxes letter was read before Rehum and Shimſhai the ſcribe, and their companions, they went up in haſte to Jeruſalem, unto the Jews, and made them to ceaſe by force and power.

24 Then ceaſed the work of the houſe of God, which is at Jeruſalem. So it ceaſed unto the ſecond year of the reign of Darius king of Perſia.

CHAP. V.

THEN the prophets, Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the ſon of Iddo, propheſied unto the Jews that were in Judah and Jeruſalem, in the name of the God of Iſrael, even unto them.

2 Then roſe up Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua the ſon of Jozadak, and began to build the houſe of God, which is at Jeruſalem: and with them were the prophets of God helping them.

3 ¶ At the ſame time came to them Tatnai, governor on this ſide the river, and Shethar-boznai, and their companions, and ſaid thus unto them, Who hath commanded you to build this houſe, and to make up this wall?

4 Then ſaid we unto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that make this building?

5 But the eye of their God was upon the elders of the Jews, that they could not cauſe them to ceaſe, till the matter came to Darius: and then they returned anſwer by letter concerning this matter.

6 ¶ The copy of the letter that Tatnai, governor on this ſide the river, and Shethar-boznai, and his companions the Apharſachites, which were on this ſide the river, ſent unto Darius the king:

7 They ſent a letter unto him wherein was written thus; Unto Darius the king, all peace.

8 Be it known unto the king, that we went into the province of Judea, to the houſe of the great God, which is builded with great ſtones, and timber is laid in the walls, and this work goeth faſt on, and proſpereth in their hands.

9 Then aſked we thoſe elders, and ſaid unto them thus, Who commanded you to build this houſe, and to make up theſe walls?

10 We aſked their names alſo, to certify thee, that we might write the names of the men that were the chief of them.

11 And thus they returned us anſwer, ſaying, We are the ſervants of the God of heaven and earth, and build the houſe that was builded theſe many years ago, which a great king of Iſrael builded, and ſet up.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven unto wrath, he gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon the Chaldean, who deſtroyed this houſe, and carried the people away into Babylon.

13 But in the firſt year of Cyrus the king of Babylon, the ſame king Cyrus made a decree to build this houſe of God.

14 And the veſſels alſo of gold and ſilver of the houſe of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple that was in Jeruſalem, and brought them into the temple of Babylon, thoſe did Cyrus the king take out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered unto one whoſe name was Sheſhbazzar, whom he had made governor:

15 And ſaid unto him, Take theſe veſſels, go, carry them into the temple that is in Jeruſalem, and let the houſe of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the ſame Sheſhbazzar, and laid the foundation of the houſe of God which is in Jeruſalem. And ſince that time even until now, hath it been in building, and yet it is not finiſhed.

17 Now therefore, if it ſeem good to the king, let there be ſearch made in the king's treaſure-houſe, which is there at Babylon, whether it be ſo that a decree was made of Cyrus the king, to build this houſe of God at Jeruſalem, and let the king ſend his pleaſure to us concerning this matter.

CHAP. VI.

THEN Darius the king made a decree, and ſearch was made in the houſe of the rolls, where the treaſures were laid up in Babylon.

2 And there was found at Achmetha, in the palace that is in the province of the Medes, a roll, and therein was a record thus written:

3 In the firſt year of Cyrus the king, the ſame Cyrus the king made a decree concerning the houſe of God at Jeruſalem, Let the houſe be builded, the place where they offered ſacrifices, and let the foundations thereof be ſtrongly laid, the height thereof threeſcore cubits, and the breadth thereof threeſcore cubits:

4 With three rows of great ſtones, and a row of new timber: and let the expences be given out of the king's houſe.

5 And alſo let the golden and ſilver veſſels of the houſe of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took forth out of the temple which is at Jeruſalem, and brought unto Babylon, be reſtored, and brought again unto the temple which is at Jeruſalem, every one to his place; and place them in the houſe of God.

6 Now therefore Tatnai, governor beyond the river, Shethar-boznai, and your companions the Apharſachites, which are beyond the river, be ye far from thence:

7 Let the work of this houſe of God alone, let the governor of the Jews, and the elders of the Jews, build this houſe of God in his place.

8 Moreover, I make a decree, what ye ſhall do to the elders of theſe Jews, for the building of this houſe of God: that of the king's goods, even of the tribute beyond the river, forthwith expences be given unto theſe men, that they be not hindered.

9 And that which they have need of, both young bullocks, and rams, and lambs, for the burnt-offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, ſalt, wine, and oil, according to the appointment of the prieſts which are at Jeruſalem, let it be given them day by day without fail:

10 That they may offer ſacrifices of ſweet ſavours unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king, and of his ſons.

11 Alſo I have made a decree, that whoſoever ſhall alter this word, let timber be pulled down from his houſe, and being ſet up, let him be hanged thereon, and let his houſe be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath cauſed his name to dwell there, deſtroy all kings and people that ſhall put to their hand, to alter and to deſtroy this houſe of God which is at Jeruſalem: I Darius have made a decree, let it be done with ſpeed.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai governor on this ſide the river, Shethar-boznai, and their companions, according to that which Darius the king had ſent, ſo they did ſpeedily.

14 And the elders of the Jews builded, and they proſpered through the propheſying of Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the ſon of Iddo; and they builded, and finiſhed it, according to the commandment of the God of Iſrael, and according to the commandment of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Perſia.

CHAP. V.] 4 Then ſaid we unto them, &c.] From theſe words it has been thought that Ezra was not the author of this book, becauſe, ſay they, the writer ſeems to have been preſent at this tranſaction; whereas Ezra did not come to Jeruſalem till the ſeventh year of Artaxerxes Longimanus, chap. vii. 2. But if we conſider theſe words as ſpoken in the name of the Jews in general, the difficulty will be removed.

CHAP. VI.] 2 And there was found at Achmetha, &c.] This city was afterwards called Ecbatana, where the kings of Perſia often kept their court. It is plain from hence, that Darius was a prince of great goodneſs, for though he ſearched in vain the records at Babylon, he did not decree any thing againſt the Jews; but ordered a farther ſearch to be made at Achmetha, where the roll, containing the decree of Cyrus in favour of the Jews, was found.

15 And this houſe was finiſhed on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the ſixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

16 ¶ And the children of Iſrael, the prieſts, and the Levites, and the reſt of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this houſe of God with joy,

17 And offered at the dedication of this houſe of God, an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a ſin-offering for all Iſrael, twelve he-goats, according to the number of the tribes of Iſrael.

18 And they ſet the prieſts in their diviſions, and the Levites in their courſes, for the ſervice of God, which is at Jeruſalem; as it is written in the book of Moſes.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the paſſover, upon the fourteenth day of the firſt month.

20 For the prieſts and the Levites were purified together, all of them were pure, and killed the paſſover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the prieſts, and for themſelves.

21 And the children of Iſrael, which were come again out of captivity, and all ſuch as had ſeparated themſelves unto them, from the filthineſs of the heathen of the land, to ſeek the Lord God of Iſrael, did eat.

22 And kept the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days with joy: for the Lord had made them joyful, and turned the heart of the king of Aſſyria unto them, to ſtrengthen their hands in the work of the houſe of God, the God of Iſrael.

CHAP. VII.

NOW after theſe things, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Perſia, Ezra the ſon of Seraiah, the ſon of Azariah, the ſon of Hilkiah,

2 The ſon of Shallum, the ſon of Zadok, the ſon of Ahitub,

3 The ſon of Amariah, the ſon of Azariah; the ſon of Meraioth,

4 The ſon of Zerahiah, the ſon of Uzzi, the ſon of Bukki,

5 The ſon of Abiſhua, the ſon of Phinehas, the ſon of Eleazar, the ſon of Aaron the chief prieſt:

6 This Ezra went up from Babylon, and he was a ready ſcribe in the law of Moſes, which the Lord God of Iſrael had given: and the king granted him all his requeſt, according to the hand of the Lord his God upon him.

7 And there went up ſome of the children of Iſrael, and of the prieſts, and the Levites, and the ſingers, and the porters, and the Nethinims, unto Jeruſalem, in the ſeventh year of Artaxerxes the king.

8 And he came to Jeruſalem in the fifth month, which was in the ſeventh year of the king.

9 For upon the firſt day of the firſt month began he to go up from Babylon, and on the firſt day of the fifth month came he to Jeruſalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to ſeek the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach in Iſrael ſtatutes and judgments.

11 ¶ Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Artaxerxes gave unto Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe, even a ſcribe of the words of the commandments of the Lord, and of his ſtatutes to Iſrael.

12 Artaxerxes king of kings, Unto Ezra the prieſt, a ſcribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at ſuch a time.

13 I make a decree, that all they of the people of Iſrael, and of his prieſts, and Levites in my realm, which are minded of their own free will to go up to Jeruſalem, go with thee.

14 Foraſmuch as thou art ſent of the king, and of his ſeven counſellors, to enquire concerning Judah and Jeruſalem, according to the law of thy God which is in thine hand:

15 And to carry the ſilver and gold, which the king and his counſellors have freely offered unto the God of Iſrael, whoſe habitation is in Jeruſalem,

16 And all the ſilver and gold that thou canſt find in all the province of Babylon, with the free-will-offering of the people, and of the prieſts, offering willingly for the houſe of their God, which is in Jeruſalem:

17 That thou mayeſt buy ſpeedily with this money, bullocks, rams, lambs, with their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, and offer them upon the altar of the houſe of your God, which is in Jeruſalem.

18 And whatſoever ſhall ſeem good to thee, and to thy brethren, to do with the reſt of the ſilver and the gold, that do after the will of your God.

19 The veſſels alſo that are given thee, for the ſervice of the houſe of thy God, thoſe deliver thou before the God of Jeruſalem.

20 And whatſoever more ſhall be needful for the houſe of thy God, which thou ſhalt have occaſion to beſtow, beſtow it out of the king's treaſure-houſe.

21 And I, even I Artaxerxes the king, do make a decree to all the treaſurers which are beyond the river, that whatſoever Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe of the law of the God of heaven, ſhall require of you, it be done ſpeedily;

22 Unto an hundred talents of ſilver, and to an hundred meaſures of wheat, and to an hundred baths of wine, and to an hundred baths of oil, and ſalt without preſcribing how much.

23 Whatſoever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be diligently done, for the houſe of the God of heaven: for why ſhould there be wrath againſt the realm of the king and his ſons?

24 Alſo we certify you, that touching any of the prieſts and Levites, ſingers, porters, Nethinims, or miniſters of this houſe of God, it ſhall not be lawful to impoſe toll, tribute, or cuſtom upon them.

25 And thou Ezra, after the wiſdom of thy God, that is in thine hand, ſet magiſtrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all ſuch as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.

26 And whoſoever will not do the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let judgment be executed ſpeedily upon him, whether it be unto death, or to baniſhment, or to confiſcation of goods, or to impriſonment.

27 ¶ Bleſſed be the Lord God of our fathers, which hath put ſuch a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify the houſe of the Lord which is in Jeruſalem:

28 And hath extended mercy unto me, before the king and his counſellors, and before all the king's mighty princes: and I was ſtrengthened as the hand of the Lord my God was upon me, and I gathered together out of Iſrael, chief men to go up with me.

CHAP. VIII.

THESE are now the chief of their fathers, and this is the genealogy of them that went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king.

2 Of the ſons of Phinehas; Gerſhom: of the ſons of Ithamar; Daniel: of the ſons of David; Hattuſh.

3 Of the ſons of Shechaniah, of the ſons of Pharoſh; Zechariah: and with him were reckoned by genealogy of the males an hundred and fifty.

4 Of the ſons of Pahath-moab; Elihoenai the ſon of Zerahiah, and with him two hundred males.

5 Of the ſons of Shechaniah; the ſon of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred males.

6 Of the ſons alſo of Adin; Ebed the ſon of Jonathan, and with him fifty males.

7 And of the ſons of Elam; Jeſhaiah the ſon of Athaliah, and with him ſeventy males.

8 And of the ſons of Shephatiah; Zebadiah the ſon of Michael, and with him fourſcore males.

9 Of the ſons of Joab; Obadiah the ſon of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males.

10 And of the ſons of Shelomith; the ſon of Joſiphiah, and with him an hundred and threeſcore males.

11 And of the ſons of Bebai; Zechariah the ſon of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight males.

12 And of the ſons of Azgad; Johanan the ſon of Hakkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the laſt ſons of Adonikam, whoſe names are theſe; Eliphelet, Jeiel, and Shemaiah, and with them threeſcore males.

14 Of the ſons alſo of Bigvai; Uthai, and Zabbud, and with them ſeventy males.

15 ¶ And I gathered them together to the river that runneth to Ahava; and there abode we in tents three days; and I viewed the people, and the prieſts, and found there none of the ſons of Levi.

16 Then ſent I for Eliezer, for Ariel, for Shemaiah, and for Elnathan, and for Jarib, and for Elnathan, and for Nathan, and for Zechariah, and for Meſhullam, chief men; alſo for Joiarib and for Elnathan, men of underſtanding.

17 And I ſent them with commandment unto Iddo the chief, at the place Caſiphia, and I told them what they ſhould ſay unto Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims, at the place Caſiphia, that they ſhould bring unto us miniſters for the houſe of our God.

16 And the children of Iſrael, the prieſts, and the Levites, &c.] By the children of Iſrael are to be underſtood not only the two tribes of Judah and Benjamin, but all thoſe of the other tribes, great numbers of whom were now at Jeruſalem.

CHAP. VII.] 6 Ezra——was a ready ſcribe in the law of Moſes.] It muſt not be ſuppoſed, that by the words ready ſcribe, Ezra was remarkable for being very expeditious in copying or tranſcribing the law; but for explaining the things it contained. For as the word Sepher ſignifies a book, ſo Sopher denotes one ſkilled in that book; and as there was no book comparable to the book of the law, therefore Sopher became a name of great dignity, and ſignified one that taught God's law, and inſtructed the people out of it, in which ſenſe we find the word ſcribes uſed in the New Teſtament.

23 Whatſoever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be diligently done, for the houſe of the God of heaven.] Theſe words expreſs the higheſt ſenſe of God, his ſupreme authority, and the regard that is due to his ſacred commands, from the greateſt kings and potentates of the earth.

CHAP. VIII.] 15 And I gathere them together to the river that runneth to Ahava.] This was a river of Aſſyria, and, very probably, that which ran along the Adiabene, where the river Diava, or Adiava, is known to be, and upon which Ptolemy places the city of Abane, or Avane. It was common for thoſe who travelled from Babylon to Jeruſalem, in order to avoid the ſcorching heat in the deſerts of Arabia, to direct their courſe at firſt to the northward; and then, turning to the weſtward, to paſs through Syria into Paleſtine: but Ezra had a farther reaſon for taking this rout; for, as he intended to aſſemble as many Iſraelites as poſſible, and carry them with him to Jeruſalem, he paſſed through this country, and halted in that of Ava, or Ahava, from whence he might ſend meſſengers to the Caſpian mountains, in order to invite ſuch Jews as reſided there to join their brethren, now on their journey to their own land.

18 And by the good hand of our God upon us, they brought us a man of underſtanding, of the ſons of Mahli, the ſon of Iſrael, and Sherebiah, with his ſons and his brethren, eighteen;

19 And Haſhabiah, and with him Jeſhaiah of the ſons of Merari, his brethren and their ſons, twenty;

20 Alſo of the Nethinims, whom David and the princes had appointed for the ſervice of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinims: all of them were expreſſed by name.

21 ¶ Then I proclaimed a faſt there, at the river of Ahava, that we might afflict ourſelves before our God, to ſeek of him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our ſubſtance.

22 For I was aſhamed to require of the king a band of ſoldiers and horſemen, to help us againſt the enemy in the way: becauſe we had ſpoken unto the king, ſaying, The hand of our God is upon all them for good, that ſeek him; but his power and his wrath is againſt all them that forſake him.

23 So we faſted and beſought our God for this, and he was intreated of us.

24 ¶ Then I ſeparated twelve of the chief of the prieſts, Sherebiah, Haſhabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed unto them the ſilver, and the gold, and the veſſels, even the offering of the houſe of our God, which the king, and his counſellors, and his lords, and all Iſrael there preſent, had offered.

26 I even weighed unto their hand ſix hundred and fifty talents of ſilver, and ſilver veſſels an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents:

27 Alſo twenty baſons of gold, of a thouſand drams, and two veſſels of fine copper, precious as gold.

28 And I ſaid unto them, Ye are holy unto the Lord, the veſſels are holy alſo, and the ſilver, and the gold are a free-will-offering unto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keep them, until ye weigh them before the chief of the prieſts, and the Levites, and chief of the fathers of Iſrael at Jeruſalem, in the chambers of the houſe of the Lord.

30 So took the prieſts and the Levites the weight of the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels, to bring them to Jeruſalem, unto the houſe of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the river Ahava, on the twelfth day of the firſt month, to go unto Jeruſalem; and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and of ſuch as lay in wait by the way.

32 And we came to Jeruſalem, and abode there three days.

33 ¶ Now on the fourth day was the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels weighed in the houſe of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the ſon of Uriah the prieſt, and with him was Eleazar the ſon of Phinehas, and with them was Jozabud the ſon of Jeſhua, and Noadiah the ſon of Binnui, Levites:

34 By number and by weight of every one: and all the weight was written at that time.

35 Alſo the children of thoſe that had been carried away, which were come out of the captivity, offered burnt-offerings unto the God of Iſrael, twelve bullocks for all Iſrael, ninety and ſix rams, ſeventy and ſeven lambs, twelve he-goats for a ſin-offering: all this was a burnt-offering unto the Lord.

36 ¶ And they delivered the king's commiſſions unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors on this ſide the river, and they furthered the people, and the houſe of God.

CHAP. IX.

NOW when theſe things were done, the princes came to me, ſaying, The people of Iſrael, and the prieſts and the Levites have not ſeparated themſelves from the people of the lands, doing according to their abominations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebuſites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they have taken of their daughters for themſelves, and for their ſons: ſo that the holy ſeed have mingled themſelves with the people of thoſe lands: yea, the hand of the princes and rulers hath been chief in this treſpaſs.

3 And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle, and pluckt off the hair of my head, and of my beard, and ſat down aſtoniſhed.

4 Then were aſſembled unto me every one that trembled at the words of the God of Iſrael, becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of thoſe that had been carried away, and I ſat aſtoniſhed until the evening ſacrifice.

5 ¶ And at the evening ſacrifice I roſe up from my heavineſs, and having rent my garment and my mantle, I fell upon my knees, and ſpread out my hands unto the Lord my God,

6 And ſaid, O my God, I am aſhamed, and bluſh to lift up my face to thee, my God: for our iniquities are increaſed over our head, and our treſpaſs is grown up unto the heavens.

7 Since the days of our fathers have we been in a great treſpaſs unto this day, and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our prieſts been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the ſword, to captivity, and to a ſpoil, and to confuſion of face, as it is this day.

8 And now for a little ſpace grace hath been ſhewed from the Lord our God, to leave us a remnant to eſcape, and to give us a nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage:

9 For we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forſaken us in our bondage, but hath extended mercy unto us in the ſight of the kings of Perſia, to give us a reviving to ſet up the houſe of our God, and to repair the deſolations thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jeruſalem.

10 And now, O our God, what ſhall we ſay after this? for we have forſaken thy commandments,

11 Which thou haſt commanded by thy ſervants the prophets, ſaying, The land unto which ye go to poſſeſs it, is an unclean land, with the filthineſs of the people of the lands, with their abominations, which have filled it from one end to another, with their uncleanneſs.

12 Now therefore give not your daughters unto their ſons, neither take their daughters unto your ſons, nor ſeek their peace, or their wealth for ever: that ye may be ſtrong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever.

13 And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great treſpaſs, ſeeing that thou our God haſt puniſhed us, leſs than our iniquities deſerve, and haſt given us ſuch deliverance as this:

14 Should we again break thy commandments, and join in affinity with the people of theſe abominations? wouldſt not thou be angry with us till thou hadſt conſumed us, ſo that there ſhould be no remnant nor eſcaping?

15 O Lord God of Iſrael, thou art righteous, for we remain yet eſcaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our treſpaſſes: for we cannot ſtand before thee, becauſe of this.

CHAP. X.

NOW when Ezra had prayed, and when he had confeſſed, weeping and caſting himſelf down before the houſe of God, there aſſembled unto him out of Iſrael, a very great congregation of men, and women, and children: for the people wept very ſore.

2 And Shechaniah the ſon of Jehiel, one of the ſons of Elam, anſwered and ſaid unto Ezra, We have treſpaſſed againſt our God, and have taken ſtrange wives of the people of the land: yet now there is hope in Iſrael concerning this thing.

3 Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God, to put away all the wives, and ſuch as are born of them, according to the council of my lord, and of thoſe that tremble at the commandment of our God, and let it be done according to the law.

4 Ariſe: for this matter belongeth unto thee; we alſo will be with thee: be of good courage, and do it.

5 Then aroſe Ezra, and made the chief prieſts, the Levites, and all Iſrael to ſwear, that they ſhould do according to this word: and they ſwear.

6 ¶ Then Ezra roſe up from before the houſe of God, and went into the chamber of Johanan the ſon of Eliaſhib; and when he came thither, he did eat no bread, nor drink water: for he mourned becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of them that had been carried away.

7 And they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jeruſalem, unto all the children of the captivity, that they ſhould gather themſelves together unto Jeruſalem;

8 And that whoſoever would not come within three days, according to the counſel of the princes and the elders, all his ſubſtance ſhould be forfeited, and himſelf ſeparated from the congregation of thoſe that had been carried away.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered themſelves together unto Jeruſalem, within three days: it was the ninth month, and the twentieth day of the month, and all the people ſat in the ſtreet of the houſe of God, trembling becauſe of this matter, and for the great rain.

10 And Ezra the prieſt ſtood up, and ſaid unto them, Ye have tranſgreſſed, and have taken ſtrange wives, to increaſe the treſpaſs of Iſrael.

11 Now therefore make confeſſion unto the Lord God of your fathers,

---

CHAP. IX.] 1 Now when theſe things were done.] When he had ſhewn his commiſſion, and they were ſatisfied that he had full power to reform all abuſes, and ſee the law of Moſes obſerved by all the Jews.

6 O my God, I am aſhamed, and bluſh to lift up my face to thee, &c.] This is one of the moſt pathetic addreſſes to God, recorded in the holy ſcriptures.

8 And to give us a nail in his holy place.] It is well known, that tents are faſtened to the ground by nails or pins; and that the ark, during the ſojourning of the children of Iſrael in the wilderneſs, and even after they were ſettled in Canaan, till the building of the temple, remained in a tent or tabernacle: and herefore the true meaning of the expreſſion is, that God had given them a ſettled lode, after a long captivity.

CHAP. X.] 1 Now when Ezra had prayed, &c.] As this prayer was made at the evening ſacrifice, when the greateſt part of the people were aſſembled to worſhip the Lord, and as it was uttered with great paſſion, and the higheſt expreſſions of grief and ſorrow, it is no wonder that the people were greatly moved; eſpecially to ſee ſuch a perſon as Ezra, a prieſt of God, and a great ruler under the king of Perſia, ſo dejected, full of fear, confuſion and aſtoniſhment.

6 And when he came thither, he did eat no bread, &c.] The word when is not in the Hebrew, and therefore the ellipſis had better be ſupplied with the word till; for then the ſenſe will be, that he had faſted till he came into the chamber of Johanan.

fathers, and do his pleaſure: and ſeparate yourſelves from the people of the land, and from the ſtrange wives.

12 Then all the congregation anſwered, and ſaid with a loud voice, As thou haſt ſaid, ſo muſt we do.

13 But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to ſtand without, neither is this a work of one day or two: for we are many that have tranſgreſſed in this thing.

14 Let now our rulers of all the congregation ſtand, and let all them which have taken ſtrange wives in our cities, come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges thereof, until the fierce wrath of our God for this matter be turned from us.

15 ¶ Only Jonathan the ſon of Aſahel, and Jahaziah the ſon of Tikvah, were employed about this matter: and Meſhullam, and Shabbethai the Levite helped them.

16 And the children of the captivity did ſo: and Ezra the prieſt, with certain chief of the fathers, after the houſe of their fathers, and all of them by their names were ſeparated, and ſat down in the firſt day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

17 And they made an end with all the men that had taken ſtrange wives, by the firſt day of the firſt month.

18 ¶ And among the ſons of the prieſts there were found that had taken ſtrange wives: namely, of the ſons of Jeſhua the ſon of Jozadak, and his brethren; Maaſeiah, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gave their hands that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, they offered a ram of the flock for their treſpaſs.

20 And of the ſons of Immer; Hanani, and Zebadiah.

21 And of the ſons of Harim; Maaſeiah, and Elijah, and Shemaiah, and Jehiel, and Uzziah.

22 And of the ſons of Paſhur; Elioenai, Maaſeiah, Iſhmael, Nethaneel, Jozabad, and Elaſah.

23 Alſo of the Levites; Jozabad, and Shimei, and Kelaiah (the ſame is Kelita) Pethaiah, Judah, and Eliezer.

24 Of the ſingers alſo; Eliaſhib; and of the porters; Shallum, and Telem, and Uri.

25 Moreover, of Iſrael: of the ſons of Paroſh; Ramiah, and Jeziah, and Malchiah, and Miamin, and Eleazar, and Malchijah, and Benaiah.

26 And of the ſons of Elam; Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Eliah.

27 And of the ſons of Zattu; Elioenai, Eliaſhib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad and Aziza.

28 Of the ſons alſo of Bebai; Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai.

29 And of the ſons of Bani; Meſhullam, Malluch, and Adaiah, Jaſhub, and ſheal, and Ramoth.

30 And the ſons of Pahath-moab; Adna, and Chelal, Benaiah, Maaſeiah Mattaniah, Bezaleel, and Binnui, and Manaſſeh.

31 And of the ſons of Harim; Eliezer, Iſhijah, Malchiah, Shemaiah, Shimeon.

32 Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemariah.

33 Of the ſons of Haſhum; Mattenai, Mattathah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manaſſeh, and Shimei.

34 Of the ſons of Bani; Maadai, Amram, and Uel,

35 Benaiah, Bedeiah, Chelluh,

36 Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliaſhib,

37 Mattaniah, Mattenai, and Jaaſau,

38 And Bani, and Benui, Shimei,

39 And Shelemiah, and Nathan, and Adaiah,

40 Machnadebai, Shaſhai, Sharai,

41 Azareel, and Shelemiah, Shemariah,

42 Shallum, Amariah, and Joſeph.

43 Of the ſons of Nebo; Jeil, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jadau, and Joel, Benaiah.

44 All theſe had taken ſtrange wives: and ſome of them had wives by whom they had children.

44 All theſe had taken ſtrange wives.] The number is not very great, if compared with all that came out of captivity; but they ſeem to have been eminent perſons, and their example would doubtleſs have ſpread the contagion, if a ſpeedy ſtop had not been put to this evil.

THE BOOK of NEHEMIAH.

The ARGUMENT.

It is evident, from the beginning of this book, that Nehemiah was the author of it; though ſome particulars in it were doubtleſs added by another hand. It contains an account of his procuring the privileges of building the city, and ſettling his country; of his finiſhing the rebuilding of the walls in fifty-one days, and dedicating the gates of the city with great ſolemnity; of his reforming ſome abuſes that had crept in among his countrymen, particularly the extortion of the uſurers, by which the poor were ſo oppreſſed as to be obliged to ſell their lands and children to ſupport themſelves; of his return to Perſia, and coming back again with a new commiſſion, by virtue of which he regulated every thing relating both to the ſtate and religion of the Jews.

CHAP. I.

THE words of Nehemiah the ſon of Hachaliah. And it came to paſs in the month Chiſleu, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shuſhan the palace,

2 That Hanani, one of my brethen, came, he and certain men of Judah, and I aſked them concerning the Jews that had eſcaped, which were left of the captivity, and concerning Jeruſalem;

3 And they ſaid unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province, are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Jeruſalem alſo is broken down, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs when I heard theſe words, that I ſat down and wept, and mourned certain days, and faſted, and prayed before the God of heaven,

5 And ſaid, I beſeech thee, O Lord God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him, and obſerve his commandments;

6 Let thine ear now be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayeſt hear the prayer of thy ſervant, which I pray before thee now, day and night, for the children of Iſrael thy ſervants, and confeſs the ſins of the children of Iſrael, which we have ſinned againſt thee: both I, and my father's houſe have ſinned.

7 We have dealt very corruptly againſt thee, and have not kept the commandments, nor the ſtatutes, nor the judgments which thou commandedſt thy ſervant Moſes.

8 Remember, I beſeech thee, the word that thou commandedſt thy ſervant Moſes, ſaying, If ye tranſgreſs, I will ſcatter you abroad among the nations:

9 But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them; though there were of you caſt out unto the uttermoſt part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have choſen to ſet my name there:

10 Now theſe are thy ſervants, and thy people whom thou haſt redeemed by thy great power, and by thy ſtrong hand.

11 O Lord, I beſeech thee, let now thine ear be attentive to the prayer of thy ſervant, and to the prayer of thy ſervants, who deſire

Commentary on the Book of Nehemiah.

CHAP. I.] 1 In the month Chiſleu.] This month anſwers to part of our November and December.

9 But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, &c.] Nehemiah framed this prayer to God, and directed his enterprize for the reſtoration of the Jews, by the rule laid down by Moſes, Deut. xxx. 1, 2, 3, 4; and had the pleaſure of finding that prediction fully anſwered, by the readineſs of the king of Perſia, to grant his petition.

11 I was the king's cup-bearer.] This was a poſt of great honour and profit in the Perſian court, becauſe of the privilege he enjoyed of being daily in the king's preſence, and, conſequently, of gaining his favour for obtaining any petition he ſhould think fit to aſk.

deſire to fear thy name: and proſper, I pray thee, thy ſervant this day, and grant him mercy in the ſight of this man. For I was the king's cup-bearer.

CHAP. II.

AND it came to paſs in the month Niſan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that wine was before him: and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king. Now I had not been beforetime ſad in his preſence.

2 Wherefore the king ſaid unto me, Why is thy countenance ſad, ſeeing thou art not ſick? this is nothing elſe but ſorrow of heart. Then I was very ſore afraid,

3 And ſaid unto the king, Let the king live for ever: why ſhould not my countenance be ſad, when the city, the place of my fathers ſepulchres, lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are conſumed with fire?

4 Then the king ſaid unto me, For what doſt thou make requeſt? ſo I prayed to the God of heaven.

5 And I ſaid unto the king, If it pleaſe the king, and if thy ſervant have found favour in thy ſight, that thou wouldeſt ſend me unto Judah, unto the city of my fathers ſepulchres, that I may build it.

6 And the king ſaid unto me (the queen alſo ſitting by him) For how long ſhall thy journey be? and when wilt thou return? So it pleaſed the king to ſend me, and I ſet him a time.

7 ¶ Moreover, I ſaid unto the king, If it pleaſe the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the river, that they may convey me over till I come into Judah;

8 And a letter unto Aſaph the keeper of the king's foreſt, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace which appertained to the houſe, and for the wall of the city, and for the houſe that I ſhall enter into. And the king granted me according to the good hand of my God upon me.

9 ¶ Then I came to the governors beyond the river, and gave them the king's letters. (Now the king had ſent captains of the army, and horſemen with me.)

10 When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the ſervant, the Ammonite heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to ſeek the welfare of the children of Iſrael.

11 So I came to Jeruſalem, and was there three days.

12 ¶ And I aroſe in the night, I and ſome few men with me, neither told I any man what my God had put in my heart to do at Jeruſalem: neither was there any beaſt with me, ſave the beaſt that I rode upon.

13 And I went out by night, by the gate of the valley, even before the dragon well, and to the dung-port, and viewed the walls of Jeruſalem, which were broken down, and the gates thereof were conſumed with fire.

14 Then I went on to the gate of the fountain, and to the king's pool: but there was no place for the beaſt that was under me to paſs.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back, and entered by the gate of the valley, and ſo returned

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did, neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the prieſts, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the reſt that did the work.

17 ¶ Then ſaid I unto them, Ye ſee the diſtreſs that we are in, how Jeruſalem lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let us build up the wall of Jeruſalem, that we be no more a reproach.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me; as alſo the king's words that he had ſpoken unto me. And they ſaid, Let us riſe up and build. So they ſtrengthened their hands for this good work.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the ſervant, the Ammonite, and Geſhem the Arabian heard it, they laughed us to ſcorn, and deſpiſed us, and ſaid, What is this thing that ye do? will ye rebel againſt the king?

20 Then anſwered I them, and ſaid unto them, The God of heaven, he will proſper us; therefore we his ſervants will ariſe and build: but ye have no portion, nor right, nor memorial in Jeruſalem.

CHAP. III.

THEN Eliaſhib the high prieſt roſe up with his brethren the prieſts, and they built the ſheep-gate, they ſanctified it, and ſet up the doors of it; even unto the tower of Meah they ſanctified it, unto the tower of Hananeel.

2 And next unto them builded the men of Jericho: and next to them builded Zaccur the ſon of Imri.

3 But the fiſh-gate did the ſons of Haſſenaah build, who alſo laid the beams thereof, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

4 And next unto them repaired Meromoth the ſon of Urijah, the ſon of Koz: and next unto them repaired Meſhullam the ſon of Berechiah, the ſon of Meſhezabeel: and next unto them repaired Zadok the ſon of Baana.

5 And next unto them the Tekoites repaired; but their nobles put not their necks to the work of their Lord.

6 Moreover, the old gate repaired Jehoiada the ſon of Paſeah, and Meſhullam the ſon of Beſodeiah: they laid the beams thereof, and ſet up the doors thereof, and the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

7 And next unto them repaired Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, unto the throne of the governor on this ſide the river.

8 Next unto him repaired Uzziel the ſon of Harhaiah, of the goldſmiths: next unto him alſo repaired Hananiah, the ſon of one of the apothecaries, and they fortified Jeruſalem unto the broad wall.

9 And next unto them repaired Rephaiah the ſon of Hur the ruler of the half part of Jeruſalem.

10 And next unto them repaired Jedaiah the ſon of Harumaph, even over againſt his houſe: and next unto him repaired Hattuſh the ſon of Haſhabniah.

11 Malchijah the ſon of Harim, and Haſhub the ſon of Pahath-moab, repaired the other piece, and the tower of the furnaces:

12 And next unto him repaired Shallum, the ſon of Haloheſh, the ruler of the half part of Jeruſalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley-gate repaired Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah; they built it, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and a thouſand cubits on the wall unto the dung-gate.

14 But the dung-gate repaired Malchiah the ſon of Rechab, the ruler of part of Beth-haccerem: he built it, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountain repaired Shallun the ſon of Colhozeh, the ruler of part of Mizpah: he built it, and covered it, and ſet up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and the wall of the pool of Siloah by the king's garden, and unto the ſtairs that go down from the city of David.

16 After him repaired Nehemiah the ſon of Azbuk the ruler of the half part of Beth-zur, unto the place over againſt the ſepulchres of David, and to the pool that was made, unto the houſe of the mighty.

17 And after him repaired the Levites, Rehum the ſon of Bani: next unto him repaired Haſhabiah the ruler of the half part of Keilah, in his part.

18 After him repaired their brethren, Bavai the ſon of Henadad, the ruler of the half part of Keilah.

19 And next to him repaired Ezer the ſon of Jeſhua, the ruler of Mizpah, another piece over againſt the going up to the armoury at the turning of the wall.

20 After him Baruch the ſon of Zabbai, earneſtly repaired the other piece, from the turning of the wall unto the door of the houſe of Eliaſhib the high prieſt.

21 After him repaired Meremoth the ſon of Urijah, the ſon of Koz, another piece, from the door of the houſe of Eliaſhib, even to the end of the houſe of Eliaſhib.

22 And after him repaired the prieſts, the men of the plain.

23 After him repaired Benjamin, and Haſhub, over againſt their houſe: after him repaired Azariah the ſon of Maaſeiah the ſon of Ananiah, by his houſe.

24 After him repaired Binnui the ſon of Henadad, another piece, from the houſe of Azariah, unto the turning of the wall, even unto the corner.

25 Palal the ſon of Uzai, over againſt the turning of the wall, and the tower which lieth out from the king's high houſe, that was by the court of the priſon: after him, Pedaiah the ſon of Parosh.

26 Moreover, the Nethinims dwelt in Ophel, unto the place over againſt the water-gate toward the eaſt, and the tower that lieth out.

27 After them the Tekoites repaired another piece, over againſt the great tower that lieth out, even unto the wall of Ophel.

28 From above the horſe gate repaired the prieſts, every one over againſt his houſe.

29 After them repaired Zadok the ſon of Immer, over againſt his houſe: after him repaired alſo Shemaiah, the ſon of Shechaniah, the keeper of the eaſt-gate.

30 After him repaired Hananiah the ſon of Shelemiah, and Hanun the ſixth ſon of Zalaph, another piece: after him repaired Meſhullam the ſon of Berechiah, over againſt his chamber.

31 After him repaired Malchiah, the goldſmith's ſon, unto the place

CHAP. II.] 3 Why ſhould not my countenance be ſad, when the city, the place of my fathers ſepulchres, lieth waſte?] It is very natural for men to have a great regard for the ſepulchres of their anceſtors, and to be troubled at ſeeing the place where their aſhes are depoſited forſaken and laid waſte.

10 Sanballat the Horonite.] This perſon was probably a petty prince of Moab; for Horonaim was an eminent city in that country, Iſaiah xv. 5.

CHAP. III.] 5 But their nobles put not their necks to the work of their Lord.] They were very negligent, not caring whether the work was performed or not. Some underſtand by their Lord, the leader and head of the whole family, ſome Nehemiah, and others God himſelf whoſe work it was.

place of the Nethinims, and of the merchants, over againſt the gate Miphkad, and to the going up of the corner.

32 And between the going up of the corner unto the ſheep-gate, repaired the goldſmiths and the merchants.

CHAP IV.

BUT it came to paſs, that when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.

2 And he ſpake before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and ſaid, What do theſe feeble Jews? will they fortify themſelves? will they ſacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the ſtones out of the heaps of the rubbiſh, which are burnt?

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he ſaid, Even that which they build, if a fox go up, he ſhall even break down their ſtone wall.

4 Hear, O our God, for we are deſpiſed: and turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them for a prey in the land of captivity.

5 And cover not their iniquity, and let not their ſin be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders.

6 So built we the wall; and all the wall was joined together unto the half thereof: for the people had a mind to work.

7 ¶ But it came to paſs that when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Aſhdodites, heard that the walls of Jeruſalem were made up, and that the breaches began to be ſtopped, then they were very wroth.

8 And conſpired all of them together, to come and to fight againſt Jeruſalem, and to hinder it.

9 Nevertheleſs, we made our prayer unto our God, and ſet a watch againſt them day and night, becauſe of them.

10 And Judah ſaid, The ſtrength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbiſh, ſo that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our adverſaries ſaid, They ſhall not know, neither ſee, till we come in the midſt among them, and ſlay them, and cauſe the work to ceaſe

12 And it came to paſs when the Jews which dwelt by them, came, they ſaid unto us ten times, From all places, whence ye ſhall return unto us, they will be upon you.

13¶ Therefore ſet I in the lower places behind the wall, and on the higher places, I even ſet the people after their families, with their ſwords, their ſpears, and their bows.

14 And I looked, and roſe up, and ſaid unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the reſt of the people, Be not ye afraid of them, remember the Lord which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your ſons and your daughters, your wives and your houſes.

15 And it came to paſs when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought their counſel to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work.

16 And it came to paſs from that time forth, that the half of my ſervants wrought in the work, and the other half of them held both the ſpears, the ſhields, and the bows, and the habergeons; and the rulers were behind all the houſe of Judah.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, with thoſe that laded, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18 For the builders every one had his ſword girded by his ſide, and ſo builded: and he that ſounded the trumpet was by me.

19 ¶ And I ſaid unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the reſt of the people, The work is great and large, and we are ſeparated upon the wall, one far from another.

20 In what place therefore ye hear the ſound of the trumpet, reſort ye thither unto us: our God ſhall fight for us.

21 So we laboured in the work: and half of them held the ſpears, from the riſing of the morning, till the ſtars appeared.

22 Likewiſe at the ſame time ſaid I unto the people, Let every one with his ſervant lodge within Jeruſalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and labour on the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my ſervants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of us put off our clothes, ſaving that every one put them off for waſhing.

CHAP. V.

AND there was a great cry of the people, and of their wives, againſt their brethren the Jews.

2 For there were that ſaid, We, our ſons, and our daughters are many: therefore we take up corn for them, that we may eat, and live.

3 Some alſo there were that ſaid, We have mortgaged our lands, vineyards, and houſes, that we might buy corn, becauſe of the dearth.

4 There were alſo that ſaid, we have borrowed money for the king's tribute, and that upon our lands and vineyards.

5 Yet now our fleſh is as the fleſh of our brethren, our children as their children: and lo, we bring into bondage our ſons and our daughters, to be ſervants, and ſome of our daughters are brought unto bondage already, neither is it in our power to redeem them: for other men have our lands and vineyards.

6 ¶ And I was very angry when I heard their cry, and thoſe words.

7 Then I conſulted with myſelf, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and ſaid unto them, Ye exact uſury, every one of his brother. And I ſet a great aſſembly againſt them.

8 And I ſaid unto them, We after our ability, have redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were ſold unto the heathen; and will ye even ſell your brethren? or ſhall they be ſold unto us? Then held they their peace, and found nothing to anſwer.

9 Alſo I ſaid, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God, becauſe of the reproach of the heathen our enemies?

10 I likewiſe, and my brethren, and my ſervants, might exact of them money and corn: I pray you let us leave off this uſury

11 Reſtore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their olive-yards, and their houſes, alſo the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, that ye exact of them.

12 Then ſaid they, We will reſtore them, and will require nothing of them; ſo will we do as thou ſayeſt. Then I called the prieſts, and took an oath of them, that they ſhould do according to this promiſe.

13 Alſo I ſhook my lap, and ſaid, So God ſhake out every man from his houſe, and from his labour, that performeth not this promiſe, even thus be he ſhaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation ſaid, Amen, and praiſed the Lord. And the people did according to this promiſe.

14 ¶ Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year, even unto the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the bread of the governor.

15 But the former governors that had been before me, were chargeable unto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beſide forty ſhekels of ſilver, yea, even their ſervants bare rule over the people: but ſo did not I, becauſe of the fear of God:

16 Yea, alſo I continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land: and all my ſervants were gathered thither unto the work.

17 Moreover, there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Jews and rulers, beſides thoſe that came unto us from among the heathen that are about us.

18 Now that which was prepared for me daily, was one ox and ſix choice ſheep; alſo fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days, ſtore of all ſorts of wine: yet for all this required not I the bread of the governor, becauſe the bondage was heavy upon this people.

19 Think upon me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

NOW it come to paſs, when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geſhem the Arabian, and the reſt of our enemies heard that I had

---

CHAP. IV.] 2 Will they fortify themſelves? Will they ſacrifice? Will they make an end in a day?] Reports had been ſpread that ſo many of them were at work, as if they intended to build the wall, keep a feaſt, and dedicate it, all in one day: and hence he takes occaſion to laugh at their fooliſh diligence, and the great haſte they made in the work.

5 Cover not their iniquity, and let not their ſin be blotted out from before thee.] Theſe words, if taken in their literal ſenſe, are harſh, as he prays that their ſins might never be forgiven. But it ſhould be remembered that he ſpake by the ſpirit of prophecy, foreſeeing that they, from their malicious and implacable ſpirit againſt God and his people, would never be capable of his mercy, but at laſt be utterly deſtroyed.

10 The ſtrength of the bearers of burdens is decayed.] The labourers had wrought ſo long and ſo hard at the work, that ſome of the people told him they were no longer able to ſupport the fatigue.

17 Every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.] This is a figurative ſpeech, and ſignifies, that they were well appointed either to build or fight; it being impoſſible for them to work, if both their hands had not been at liberty.

CHAP. V.] 1 And there was a great cry of the people, and of their wives, againſt their brethren the Jews.] The poor now exhibited grievous complaints againſt the rich, for taking advantage of their neceſſities in exacting uſury. This oppreſſion reduced them ſo low, that they were obliged to mortgage their lands, houſes, and tenements, and even to ſell their children into ſervitude, to enable them to buy bread for their ſupport And what increaſed the cruelty of this exaction was, that it was made at a time when their enemies threatened to deſtroy them all, and multitudes of people were employed in repairing the fortifications of the city; ſo that they were obliged to purchaſe corn at the unreaſonable rates demanded by their rich brethren, or periſh with hunger.

11 The hundredth part of the money, &c.] This was the uſury they exacted, being one per cent, for every month, or twelve per cent. for the whole year. No wonder the people cried ſo loudly againſt their unfeeling brethren, when they demanded ſuch exhorbitant intereſt.

19 Think upon me, my God, for good, &c.] He expected no reward from man, but from his God, who he hoped would ſhew him the ſame kindneſs he had done for his people. And ſurely it can never be conſidered as a flaw in the character of this excellent governor, or an indication of a mercenary ſpirit, that he ſhould in all his good works and labours, have a reſpect to the recompence of the reward, which God the righteous judge had promiſed to give to his faithful ſervants.

CHAP. VI.] 10 Let us meet together in the houſe of God, within the temple, &c.] That is, in the ſanctuary; and whither he adviſed Nehemiah to retreat becauſe it was a ſtrong and ſacred palace, being defended by a guard of Levites, and by its holineſs, privileged from all hoſtile approaches.

had builded the wall, and that there was no breach left therein (though at that time I had not ſet up the doors upon the gates)

2 That Sanballat and Geſhem ſent unto me, ſaying, Come, let us meet together in ſome one of the villages in the plain of Ono: but they thought to do me miſchief.

3 And I ſent meſſengers unto them, ſaying, I am doing a great work, ſo that I cannot come down: why ſhould the work ceaſe, whilſt I leave it and come down to you?

4 Yet they ſent unto me four times after this ſort; and I anſwered them after the ſame manner.

5 Then ſent Sanballat his ſervant unto me, in like manner, the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand:

6 Wherein was written; It is reported among the heathen, and Gaſhmu ſaith it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel: for which cauſe thou buildeſt the wall, that thou mayeſt be their king according to theſe words.

7 And thou haſt alſo appointed prophets to preach of thee at Jeruſalem, ſaying, There is a king in Judah: and now ſhall it be reported to the king, according to theſe words. Come now therefore, and let us take counſel together.

8 Then I ſent unto him, ſaying, There are no ſuch things done as thou ſayeſt, but thou feigneſt them out of thine own heart.

9 For they all made us afraid, ſaying, Their hands ſhall be weakened from the work, that it be not done. Now therefore, O God, ſtrengthen my hands.

10 Afterward I came unto the houſe of Shemaiah the ſon of Delaiah, the ſon of Mehetabeel, who was ſhut up; and he ſaid, Let us meet together in the houſe of God, within the temple, and let us ſhut the doors of the temple; for they will come to ſlay thee, yea, in the night will they come to ſlay thee.

11 And I ſaid, Should ſuch a man as I flee? and who is there that being as I am, would go into the temple to ſave his life? I will not go in.

12 And lo, I perceived that God had not ſent him, but that he pronounced this prophecy againſt me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I ſhould be afraid, and do ſo, and ſin, and that they might have matter for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

14 My God, think thou upon Tobiah and Sanballat, according to theſe their works, and on the propheteſs Noadiah, and the reſt of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.

15 ¶ So the wall was finiſhed, in the twenty and fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty and two days.

16 And it came to paſs that when all our enemies heard thereof, and all the heathen that were about us ſaw theſe things, they were much caſt down in their own eyes: for they perceived that this work was wrought of our God.

17 ¶ Moreover, in thoſe days the nobles of Judah ſent many letters unto Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah came unto them.

18 For there were many in Judah ſworn unto him, becauſe he was the ſon-in-law of Shechaniah the ſon of Arah; and his ſon Johanan had taken the daughter of Meſhullam, the ſon of Berechiah.

19 Alſo they reported his good deeds before me, and uttered my words to him: and Tobiah ſent letters to put me in fear.

CHAP. VII.

NOW it came to paſs when the wall was built, and I had ſet up the doors, and the porters, and the ſingers, and the Levites were appointed,

2 That I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the ruler of the palace, charge over Jeruſalem: for he was a faithful man, and feared God above many.)

3 And I ſaid unto them, Let not the gates of Jeruſalem be opened until the ſun be hot; and while they ſtand by, let them ſhut the doors, and bar them: and appoint watches of the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, every one in his watch, and every one to be over againſt his houſe.

4 Now the city was large and great: but the people were few therein, and the houſes were not builded.

5 ¶ And my God put into mine heart to gather together the nobles and the rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogy: and I found a regiſter of the genealogy of them which came up at the firſt, and found written therein,

6 Theſe are the children of the province, that went up out of the captivity, of thoſe that had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away, and came again to Jeruſalem, and to Judah, every one unto his city;

7 Who came with Zerubbabel: Jeſhua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilſhan, Miſpereth, Bigvai, Nehum, Baanah, the number, I ſay, of the men of the people of Iſrael, was this;

8 The children of Paroſh, two thouſand an hundred ſeventy and two.

9 The children of Sephatiah, three hundred ſeventy and two.

10 The children of Arah, ſix hundred fifty and two.

11 The children of Pahath-moab, of the children of Jeſhua and Joab, two thouſand and eight hundred and eighteen.

12 The children of Elam, a thouſand two hundred fifty and four.

13 The children of Zattu, eight hundred forty and five.

14 The children of Zaccai, ſeven hundred and threeſcore.

15 The children of Binnui, ſix hundred forty and eight.

16 The children of Bebai, ſix hundred twenty and eight.

17 The children of Azgad, two thouſand three hundred twenty and two.

18 The children of Adonikam, ſix hundred threeſcore and ſeven.

19 The children of Bigvai, two thouſand threeſcore and ſeven.

20 The children of Adin, ſix hundred fifty and five.

21 The children of Ater of Hezekiah, ninety and eight.

22 The children of Haſhum, three hundred twenty and eight.

23 The children of Bezai, three hundred twenty and four.

24 The children of Hariph, an hundred and twelve.

25 The children of Gibeon, ninety and five.

26 The men of Beth-lehem and Netophah, an hundred fourſcore and eight.

27 The men of Anathoth, an hundred twenty and eight.

28 The men of Beth-azmaveth, forty and two.

29 The men of Kirjath-jearim, Chephirah and Beeroth, ſeven hundred forty and three.

30 The men of Ramah and Gaba, ſix hundred twenty and one:

31 The men of Michmas, and hundred and twenty and two.

32 The men of Beth-el and Ai, an hundred twenty and three.

33 The men of the other Nebo, fifty and two.

34 The children of the other Elam, a thouſand two hundred fifty and four.

35 The children of Harim, three hundred and twenty.

36 The children of Jericho, three hundred forty and five.

37 The children of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, ſeven hundred twenty and one.

38 The children of Senaah, three thouſand nine hundred and thirty.

39 ¶ The prieſts: the children of Jedaiah, of the houſe of Jeſhua, nine hundred ſeventy and three.

40 The children of Immer, a thouſand fifty and two.

41 The children of Paſhur, a thouſand two hundred forty and ſeven.

42 The children of Harim, a thouſand and ſeventeen.

43 ¶ The Levites: the children of Jeſhua, of Kadmiel, and of the children of Hodevah, ſeventy and four.

44 ¶ The ſingers: the children of Aſaph, an hundred forty and eight.

45 ¶ The porters: the children of Shallum, the children of Ater, the children of Talmon, the children of Akkub, the children of Hatita, the children of Shobai, an hundred thirty and eight.

46 ¶ The Nethinims: the children of Ziha, the children of Haſhupha, the children of Tabaoth,

47 The children of Keros, the children of Sia, the children of Padon,

48 The children of Lebana, the children of Hagaba, the children of Shalmai,

50 The children of Reaiah, the children of Rezin, the children of Nekoda,

51 The children of Gazzam, the children of Uzza, the children of Phaſeah,

52 The children of Beſai, the children of Meunim, the children of Nephiſheſim,

54 The children of Bazlith, the children of Mehida, the children of Harſha,

55 The children of Barkos, the children of Siſera, the children of Tamah,

56 The children of Neziah, the children of Hatipha.

15 So the wall was finiſhed in fifty and two days.] This prodigious diſpatch will not appear incredible, when it is remembered that a vaſt number, not of hired, but voluntary men, full of zeal for the work themſelves, animated by the example of their rulers, and ranged and diſtributed in a proper manner for diſpatch, were employed in this work; that it was in the ſummer, when the days are long; and that plenty of ſtones and other materials were at hand.

CHAP. VII.] 8 And the children of Paroſh, two thouſand one hundred ſeventy and two.] This genealogy differs, in ſome particulars, from that in Ezra ch. ii. 5. But it ſhould be remembered that they were taken at different times and in different places; Nehemiah's in Jeruſalem, and Ezra's in Babylon, before they returned to their own land.

59 The children of Shephatiah, the children of Hattil, the children of Pochereth of Zebaim, the children of Amon.

60 All the Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's ſervants, were three hundred ninety and two.

61 And theſe were they which went up alſo from Telmelah, Tel-hareſha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer: but they could not ſhew their fathers houſe, nor their ſeed, whether they were of Iſrael.

62 The children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Nekoda, ſix hundred forty and two.

63 ¶ And of the prieſts: the children of Habaiah, the children of Koz, the children of Barzillai, which took one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was called after their name.

64 Theſe ſought their regiſter among thoſe that were reckoned by genealogy, but it was not found: therefore were they, as polluted, put from the prieſthood.

65 And the Tirſhatha ſaid unto them, that they ſhonld not eat of the moſt holy things, till there ſtood up a prieſt with Urim and Thummim.

66 ¶ The whole congregation together, was forty and two thouſand three hundred and threeſcore, 67 Beſide their man-ſervants, and their maid-ſervants, of whom there were ſeven thouſand three hundred thirty and ſeven: and they had two hundred forty and five ſinging-men and ſinging women.

68 Their horſes, ſeven hundred thirty and ſix: their mules, two hundred forty and five:

69 Their camels, four hundred thirty and five: ſix thouſand ſeven hundred and twenty aſſes.

70 ¶ And ſome of the chief of the fathers gave unto the work. The Tirſhatha gave to the treaſure a thouſand drams of gold, fifty baſons, five hundred and thirty prieſts garments.

71 ¶ And ſome of the chief of the fathers gave to the treaſure of the work, twenty thouſand drams of gold, and two thouſand and two hundred pound of ſilver.

72 And that which the reſt of the people gave, was twenty thouſand drams of gold, and two thouſand pound of ſilver, and threeſcore and ſeven prieſts garments.

73 So the prieſts and the Levites, and the porters, and the ſingers, and ſome of the people, and the Nethinims, and all Iſrael, dwelt in their cities; and when the ſeventh month came, the children of Iſrael were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

AND all the people gathered themſelves togethered as one man, into the ſtreet that was before the water-gate, and they ſpake unto Ezra the ſcribe, to bring the book of the law of Moſes, which the Lord had commanded to Iſrael.

2 And Erza the prieſt brought the law before the congregation, both of men and women, and all that could hear with underſtanding, upon the firſt day of the ſeventh month.

3 And he read therein before the ſtreet that was before the water-gate, from the morning unto mid-day, before the men and the women, and thoſe that could underſtand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law.

4 And Ezra the ſcribe ſtood upon a pulpit of wood, which they had made for that purpoſe, and beſide him ſtood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Anaiah, and Urijah, and Hilkiah, and Maaſeiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Pedaiah, and Miſhael, and Malchiah, and Haſhum, and Haſhbadana, Zechariah and Meſhullam.

5 And Ezra opened the book in the ſight of all the people (for he was above all the people) and when he opened it, all the people ſtood up:

6 And Ezra bleſſed the Lord, the great God: and all the people anſwered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worſhipped the Lord with their faces to the ground.

7 Alſo Jeſhua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabethai, Hodijah, Maaſeiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites cauſed the people to underſtand the law: and the people ſtood in their place.

8 So they read in the book, in the law of God diſtinctly, and gave the ſenſe, and cauſed them to underſtand the reading.

9 ¶ And Nehemiah which is the Tirſhatha, and Ezra the prieſt the ſcribe, and the Levites, that taught the people, ſaid unto all the people, This day is holy unto the Lord your God, mourn not, nor weep: for all the people wept, when they heard the words of the law.

10 Then he ſaid unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the ſweet, and ſend portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be ye ſorry, for the joy of the Lord is your ſtrength.

11 So the Levites ſtilled all the people, ſaying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy, neither be ye grieved.

12 And all the people went their way to eat and to drink, and to ſend portions, and to make great mirth, becauſe they had underſtood the words that were declared unto them.

13 ¶ And on the ſecond day were gathered together the chief of the fathers of all the people, the prieſts and the Levites, unto Ezra the ſcribe, even to underſtand the words of the law.

14 And they found written in the law which the Lord had commanded by Moſes, that the children of Iſrael ſhould dwell in booths, in the feaſt of the ſeventh month:

15 And that they ſhould publiſh and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jeruſalem, ſaying, Go forth unto the mount, and fetch olive-branches, and pine-branches, and myrtle-branches, and palm-branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths as it is written.

16 ¶ So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themſelves booths, every one upon the roof of his houſe, and in their courts, and in the courts of the houſe of God, and in the ſtreet of the water-gate, and in the ſtreet of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come again out of captivity, made booths, and ſat under the booths: for ſince the days of Jeſhua the ſon of Nun, unto that day, had not the children of Iſrael done ſo: and there was very great gladneſs.

18 Alſo day by day, from the firſt day unto the laſt day, he read in the book of the law of God: and they kept the feaſt ſeven days, and on the eighth day was a ſolemn aſſembly, according unto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

NOW in the twenty and fourth day of this month, the children of Iſrael were aſſembled with faſting, and with ſackcloths, and earth upon them.

2 And the ſeed of Iſrael ſeparated themſelves from all ſtrangers, and ſtood and confeſſed their ſins, and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they ſtood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of the Lord their God, one fourth part of the day; and another fourth part they confeſſed, and worſhipped the Lord their God.

4 ¶ Then ſtood up upon the ſtairs of the Levites, Jeſhua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the Lord their God.

5 Then the Levites, Jeſhua and Kadmiel, Bani, Haſhabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, ſaid, Stand up and bleſs the Lord your God for ever and ever; and bleſſed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all bleſſing and praiſe.

6 Thou, even thou art Lord alone, thou haſt made heaven, the heaven of heavens with all their hoſt, the earth, and all things that are therein, the ſeas and all that is therein, and thou preſerveſt them all, and the hoſt of heaven worſhippeth thee.

7 Thou art the Lord the God, who didſt chooſe Abram, and broughteſt him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gaveſt him the name of Abraham:

8 And foundeſt his heart faithful before thee, and madeſt a covenant with him, to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebuſites, and the Girgaſhites, to give it, I ſay, to his ſeed, and haſt performed thy words, for thou art righteous:

9 And didſt ſee the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heardeſt their cry by the Red ſea:

10 And ſhewedſt ſigns and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his ſervants, and on all the people of his land: for thou kneweſt that they dealt proudly againſt them: ſo didſt thou get thee a name, as it is this day.

11 And thou didſt divide the ſea before them, ſo that they went through the midſt of the ſea on the dry land, and their perſecutors thou threweſt into the deeps, as a ſtone into the mighty waters.

12 Moreover, thou leddeſt them in the day by a cloudy pillar; and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they ſhould go.

13 Thou cameſt down alſo upon mount Sinai, and ſpakeſt with them from heaven, and gaveſt them right judgments, and true laws, good ſtatutes, and commandments:

---

65 And the Tirſhatha ſaid unto them, that they ſhould not eat of the moſt holy things, &c.] See note on Ezra ii. 63.

CHAP. VIII.] 1 And all the people gathered themſelves together as one man.] In this month was the firſt great feaſt after the walls of Jeruſalem were finiſhed.

And they ſpake unto Ezra the ſcribe.] This was doubtleſs the ſame Ezra, who came from Babylon in the ſeventh year of Artaxerxes, with a full commiſſion to Jeruſalem, to aſſiſt Zerubbabel in the reformation of the whole ſtate of the Jewiſh church. After the death of Zerubbabel, the whole adminiſtration devolved upon him, for the remaining part of the twelve years which his commiſſion laſted, when other governors ſucceeded, though not recorded in ſcripture, and at laſt Nehemiah.

17 For ſince the days of Jeſhua the ſon of Nun, unto that day, had not the children of Iſrael done ſo: and there was very great gladneſs.] It can hardly be thought that this feſtval had never been obſerved ſince the time of Jeſhua, eſpecially as we read in the foregoing book of Ezra, that it was kept at their return from Babylon. The meaning therefore is, that the joy ſince that time had never been ſo great, as it was upon this occaſion.

CHAP. IX.] 1 Now in the twenty and fourth day of this month, the children of Iſrael were aſſembled with faſting, &c.] The feaſt of tabernacles being ended, with great gladneſs of heart, a day was appointed for a ſolemn faſt, when they aſſembled in all the marks of mourning and humiliation, confeſſed their ſins, deprecated the judgment due to the iniquity of their fathers, acknowledged the omnipotence of God in creating and preſerving all things, and enumerated his gracious mercies in their ſundry deliverances from their enemies and perſecutors.

14 And madeſt known unto them thy holy ſabbath, and commandedſt them precepts, ſtatues and laws, by the hand of Moſes thy ſervant:

15 And gaveſt them bread from heaven, for their hunger, and broughteſt forth water for them out of the rock, for their thirſt, and promiſedſt them that they ſhould go in to poſſeſs the land, which thou hadſt ſworn to give them.

16 But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their necks, and hearkened not to thy commandments,

17 And refuſed to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didſt among them: but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, ſlow to anger, and of great kindneſs, and forſookeſt them not.

18 Yea, when they had made them a molten calf, and ſaid, This is thy god that brought thee up out of Egypt, and had wrought great provocations:

19 Yet thou in thy manifold mercies, forſookeſt them not in the wilderneſs: the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day, to lead them in the way; neither the pillar of fire by night, to ſhew them light, and the way wherein they ſhould go.

20 Thou gaveſt alſo thy good ſpirit, to inſtruct them, and withholdeſt not thy manna from their mouth, and gaveſt them water for their thirſt.

21 Yea, forty years didſt thou ſuſtain them in the wilderneſs, ſo that they lacked nothing; their clothes waxed not old, and their feet ſwelled not.

22 Moreover, thou gaveſt them kingdoms and nations, and didſt divide them into corners: ſo they poſſeſſed the land of Sion, and the land of the king of Heſhbon, and the land of Og king of Baſhan.

23 Their children alſo multipliedſt thou as the ſtars of heaven, and broughteſt them into the land, concerning which thou hadſt promiſed to their fathers, that they ſhould go in to poſſeſs it.

24 So the children went in and poſſeſſed the land, and thou ſubduedſt before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gaveſt them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them as they would.

25 And they took ſtrong cities, and a fat land, and poſſeſſed houſes full of all goods, wells digged, vineyards, and olive-yards, and fruit-trees in abundance: ſo they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, and delighted themſelves in thy great goodneſs.

26 Nevertheleſs, they were diſobedient, and rebelled againſt thee, and caſt thy law behind their backs, and ſlew thy prophets which teſtified againſt them to turn them to thee, and they wrought great provocations.

27 Therefore thou deliveredſt them into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardſt them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies, thou gaveſt them ſaviours, who ſaved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But after they had reſt, they did evil again before thee: therefore lefteſt thou them in the hand of their enemies, ſo that they had the dominion over them: yet when they returned and cried unto thee, thou heardſt them from heaven, and many times didſt thou deliver them, according to thy mercies:

29 And teſtifiedſt againſt them, that thou mighteſt bring them again unto thy law: yet they dealt proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but ſinned againſt thy judgments (which if a man do, he ſhall live in them) and withdrew the ſhoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

30 Yet many years didſt thou forbear them, and teſtified againſt them by thy ſpirit in thy prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gaveſt thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Nevertheleſs, for thy great mercies ſake thou didſt not utterly conſume them, nor forſake them; for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepeſt covenant and mercy; let not all the trouble ſeem little before thee, that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our prieſts, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, ſince the time of the kings of Aſſyria, unto this day.

33 Howbeit, thou art juſt in all that is brought upon us; for thou haſt done right, but we have done wickedly:

34 Neither have our kings, our princes, our prieſts, nor our fathers kept thy law, nor hearkened unto thy commandments, and thy teſtimonies wherewith thou didſt teſtify againſt them.

35 For they have not ſerved thee in their kingdom, and in thy great goodneſs that thou gaveſt them, and in the large and fat land which thou gaveſt before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.

36 Behold we are ſervants this day, and for the land which thou gaveſt unto our fathers, to eat the fruit thereof, and the good thereof, behold, we are ſervants in it.

37 And it yieldeth much increaſe unto the kings whom thou haſt ſet over us, becauſe of our ſins: alſo they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattle at their pleaſure, and we are in great diſtreſs.

38 And becauſe of all this, we make a ſure covenant, and write it; and our princes, Levites and prieſts ſeal unto it.

CHAP. X.

NOW thoſe that ſealed were, Nehemiah the Tirſhatha, the ſon of Hachaliah, and Zidkijah,

2 Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah,

3 Paſhur, Amariah, Malchijah,

4 Hattuſh, Shebaniah, Malluch,

8 Maaziah, Bilgai, Shemaiah: Theſe were the prieſts.

9 And the Levites: both Jeſhua the ſon of Azaniah, Binnui of the ſons of Henadad, Kadmiel;

10 And their brethren, Shebaniah, Hodijah, Kelita, Pelaiah, Hanan, 11 Micha, Rehob, Haſhabiah,

12 Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah,

13 Hodijah, Bani, Beninu.

16 Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin,

17 Ater, Hizkijah, Azzur,

18 Hodijah, Aſhum, Bezai,

25 Rehum, Haſhabnah, Maaſeiah,

26 And Ahijah, Hanan, Anan,

27 Malluch Harim, Baanah.

28 ¶ And the reſt of the people, the prieſts, the Levites, the porters, the ſingers, the Nethinims, and all they that had ſeparated themſelves from the people of the lands, unto the law of God, their wives, their ſons and their daughters, every one having knowledge, and having underſtanding;

29 They clave to their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curſe, and into an oath, to walk in God's law, which was given by Moſes the ſervant of God, and to obſerve and do all the commandments of the Lord our God, and his judgments, and his ſtatutes:

30 And that we would not give our daughters unto the people of the land, nor take their daughters for our ſons:

31 And if the people of the land bring ware or any victuals on the ſabbath-day, to ſell, that we would not buy it of them on the ſabbath, or on the holy day: and that we would leave the ſeventh year, and the exaction of every debt.

32 Alſo we made ordinances for us to charge ourſelves yearly with the third part of a ſhekel for the ſervice of the houſe of our God.

33 For the ſhew-bread, and for the continual meat-offering, and for the continual burnt-offering, of the ſabbaths, of the new-moons, for the ſet feaſts, and for the holy things, and for the ſin-offerings, to make an atonement for Iſrael, and for all the work of the houſe of our God.

34 And we caſt the lots among the prieſts, the Levites, and the people for the wood-offering, to bring it into the houſe of our God, after the houſes of our fathers, at times appointed, year by year, to burn upon the altar of the Lord our God, as it is written in the law:

35 And to bring the firſt-fruits of our ground, and the firſt-fruits of all trees, year by year, unto the houſe of the Lord:

36 Alſo the firſt-born of our ſons and of our cattle, (as it is written in the law) and the firſtlings of our herds, and of our flocks, to bring to the houſe of our God, unto the prieſts that miniſter in the houſe of our God:

37 And that we ſhould bring the firſt-fruits of our dough, and our offerings, and the fruit of all manner of trees, of wine, and of oil, unto the prieſts, to the chambers of the houſe of our God, and

32 Now therefore our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepeſt covenant and mercy.] Theſe are the ſame words with which Nehemiah began his addreſs to God, before he came from Shuſhan; an argument that this whole prayer was compoſed by him.

38 And becauſe of all this, we make a ſure covenant, and write it, &c.] It was certainly of very little conſequence, what ſuch an untowardly people promiſed; for what regard could they have to their own hand-writing, who had gone to the ten commandments, written on tables of ſtone by the finger of God! It was, however, very uſeful that there ſhould be a public inſtrument to convince them of their impiety, that they might be publickly confounded, when they perfidiouſly refuſed to obey the precepts of the law, by ſhewing them under their own hands their engagements to future fidelity.

CHAP. X.] 1 Now thoſe that ſealed, were Nehemiah, &c.] Nehemiah, as being governor under the king of Perſia, and therefore the chief prince among them, ſealed firſt. It is obſervable, that Ezra is not among thoſe that ſealed this covenant; and therefore he was either now gone to Babylon, or hindered by ſickneſs d the tythes of our ground unto the Levites, that the ſame Lees might have the tithes, in all the cities of our tillage.

38 And the prieſt the ſon of Aaron, ſhall be with the Levites, hen the Levites take tithes: and the Levites ſhall bring up the the of the tithes unto the houſe of our God, to the chambers, to the treaſure-houſe.
39 For the children of Iſrael, and the children of Levi, ſhall ing the offering of the corn, of the new wine, and the oil, un-the chambers, where are the veſſels of the ſanctuary, and the rieſts that miniſter, and the porters, and the ſingers: and we will t forſake the houſe of our God.

CHAP. XI.

AND the rulers of the people dwelt at Jeruſalem: the reſt of the people alſo caſt lots, to bring one of ten, to dwell in eruſalem the holy city, and nine parts to dwell in other cities.
2 And the people bleſſed all the men, that willingly offered emſelves to dwell at Jeruſalem.
3 ¶ Now theſe are the chief of the province that dwelt in Jeſalem: but in the cities of Judah dwelt every one in his poſſeſ-on in their cities, to wit, Iſrael, the prieſts, and the Levites, and e Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's ſervants.
4 And at Jeruſalem dwelt certain of the children of Judah, and f the children of Benjamin: of the children of Judah; Athaithe ſon of Uzziah, the ſon of Zechariah, the ſon of Amari-
, the ſon of Sephatiah, the ſon of Mahalaleel, of the children f Perez;

8 And after him Gabbai, Sallai, nine hundred twenty and ight.

10 Of the prieſts: Jedaiah the ſon of Joiarib, Jachin.
11 Seraiah the ſon of Hilkiah, the ſon of Meſhullam, the ſon f Zadok, the ſon of Meraioth, the ſon of Ahitub, was the ruler f the houſe of God
12 And their brethren that did the work of the houſe, were ight hundred twenty and two: and Adaiah the ſon of Jeroham, he ſon of Pelaliah, the ſon of Amzi, the ſon of Zechariah, the on of Paſhur, the ſon of Malchiah,
13 And his brethren chief of the fathers, two hundred forty nd two: and Amaſhai, the ſon of Azareel, the ſon of Ahaſai, he ſon of Meſhillemoth, the ſon of Immer,
14 And their brethren mighty men of valour, an hundred twen-y and eight: and their overſeer was Zabdiel, the ſon of one of the reat men.
15 Alſo of the Levites: Shemaiah the ſon of Haſhub, the ſon f Azrikam, the ſon of Haſhabiah, the ſon of Bunni.
16 And Shabbethai, and Jozabad of the chief of the Levites, and the overſight of the outward buſineſs of the houſe of God.
17 And Mattaniah the ſon of Micha, the ſon of Zabdi, the on of Aſaph, was the principal to begin the thankſgiving in pray-r: and Bakbukiah the ſecond among his brethren, and Abda the on of Shammua, the ſon of Galal, the ſon of Jeduthun.
18 All the Levites in the holy city, were two hundred fourſcore nd four.
19 Moreover, the porters, Akkub, Talmon, and their brehren that kept the gates, were an hundred ſeventy and two.
20 ¶ And the reſidue of Iſrael, of the prieſts, and the Levites, ere in all the cities of Judah, every one in his inheritance.
21 But the Nethinims dwelt in Ophel: and Ziha and Giſpa ere over the Nethinims.
22 The overſeer alſo of the Levites at Jeruſalem, was Uzzi the on of Bani, the ſon of Haſhabiah, the ſon of Mattaniah, the ſon f Micah: of the ſons of Aſaph, the ſingers were over the buſieſs of the houſe of God,
23 For it was the king's commandment concerning them, that certain portion ſhould be for the ſingers, due for every day.
24 And Pethahiah the ſon of Meſhezabeel, of the children of Zerah the ſon of Judah, was at the king's hand in all matters oncerning the people.
25 And for the villages, with their fields, ſome of the children of Judah dwelt at Kirjath-arba and in the villages thereof, and at Dibon and in the villages thereof, and at Jekabzeel and in the villages thereof,
26 And at Jeſhua, and at Moladah, and at Bethphelet,
27 And at Hazar-ſhual, and at Beer-ſheba, and in the villages thereof,
28 And at Ziklag, and at Mekona, and in the villages thereof,
29 And at En-rimmon, and at Zareah, and at Jarmuth,
30 Zanoah, Adullam, and in their villages, at Lachiſh and the fields thereof, at Azekah, and in the villages thereof. And they dwelt from Beerſheba, unto the valley of Hinnom.
31 The children alſo of Benjamin from Geba, dwelt at Mich-
maſh, and Aija, and Beth-el, and in their villages,
32 And at Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah,
33 Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim,
34 Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat,
35 Lod, and Ono, the valley of craftſmen.
36 And of the Levites, were diviſions in Judah, and in Benjamin.

CHAP. XII.

NOW theſe are the prieſts and the Levites that went up with Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,
2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattuſh,
3 Shechaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,
4 Iddo, Ginnetho, Abijah,
5 Miamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,
6 Shemaiah, and Joiarib, Jedaiah,
7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, Jedaiah: theſe were the chief of the prieſts, and of their brethren in the days of Jeſhua.
8 Moreover the Levites: Jeſhua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah, which was over the thankſgiving, he and his brethren.
9 Alſo Bakbukiah, and Unni, their brethren were over againſt them in the watches.
10 ¶ And Jeſhua begat Joiakim, Joiakim alſo begat Eliaſhib, and Eliaſhib begat Joiada, 11 And Joiada begat Jonathan, and Jonathan begat Jaddua,
12 And in the days of Joiakim were prieſts, the chief of the fathers: of Seraiah, Meraiah: of Jeremiah, Hananiah:
13 Of Ezra, Meſhullam: of Amariah, Jehohanan:
14 Of Melicu, Jonathan: of Shebaniah, Joſeph:
15 Of Harim, Adna: of Meraioth, Helkai:
16 Of Iddo, Zechariah: of Ginnethon, Meſhullam:
17 Of Abijah, Zichri: of Miniamin, of Moadiah, Pilrai:
18 Of Bilgah, Shammua: of Shemaiah, Jehonathan:
19 And of Joiarib, Mattenai: of Jedaiah, Uzzi:
20 Of Sallai, Kallai: of Amok, Eber:
21 Of Hilkiah, Haſhabia: of Jedaiah, Nethaneel.
22 ¶ The Levites in the days of Eliaſhib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, were recorded chief of the fathers: alſo the prieſts, to the reign of Darius the Perſian.
23 The ſons of Levi, the chief of the fathers, were written in the book of the chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the ſon of Eliaſhib.
24 And the chief of the Levites: Haſhabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeſhua the ſon of Kadmiel, with their brethren over againſt them, to praiſe and to give thanks, according to the commandment of David the man of God, ward over againſt ward.
25 Mattaniah, and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meſhullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward, at the threſholds of the gates.
26 Theſe were in the days of Joiakim the ſon of Jeſhua, the ſon of Joazadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the prieſt, the ſcribe.
27 ¶ And at the dedication of the wall at Jeruſalem, they ſought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jeru-ſalem, to keep the dedication with gladneſs, both with thankſgivings, and with ſinging with cymbals, pſalteries, and with harps.
28 And the ſons of the ſingers gathered themſelves together, both out of the plain country round about Jeruſalem, and from the villages of Netophathi.
29 Alſo from the houſe of Gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba, and Azmaveth: for the ſingers had builded them villages round about Jeruſalem.

kneſs, though the latter is more probable, becauſe he was at Jeruſalem in the beginning of the ſeventh month, ch. viii. 2, and alſo on the feaſt of dedication, xii. 36.

28 And the reſt of the people, &c.] As there were too many to ſubſcribe and ſeal the writing, the principal perſons did it in the name of the reſt.

CHAP. XI.] 1 And the rulers of the people dwelt at Jeruſalem.] The inhabitants of the neighbouring countries were ſo exaſperated at ſeeing the wall of Jeruſalem rebuilt, that many of the Jews were afraid to live there, thinking themſelves much ſafer in the country, where they had not the leaſt pretence for diſturbing them.

11 Seraiah---was the ruler of the houſe of God.] This ſeems to be the ſame officer with what is called in the New Teſtament, the captain of the temple.

24 And Pethahiah---was at the king's hand.] That is, a perſon appointed by the king of Perſia for receiving and anſwering all petitions from the people: though others think his buſineſs was to ſee that the ſacrifices, offered in behalf of the king and his family, were paid for out of the treaſury of the province.

CHAP. XII.] 1 Now theſe are the prieſts and the Levites.] That is, the chief or heads of the prieſts and Levites; ſuch only being enumerated here.

27 And at the dedication of the wall of Jeruſalem.] As Moſes dedicated the tabernacle in the wilderneſs, and Solomon the houſe of the Lord when it was firſt built, ſo Nehemiah, having put all things in good order, built the walls, and ſet up the gates, thought proper to dedicate the city, as a place which God himſelf had choſen, and ſanctified by his temple and gracious preſence; and by this dedication to reſtore it to him again after it had been laid waſte and profaned by the devaſtations of the heathen.

30 And the priests and the Levites purified themselves, and purified the people, and the gates and the wall.

31 Then I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies of them that gave thanks, whereof one went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dung-gate:

32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and half of the princes of Judah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra and Meshullam,

34 Judah, and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,

35 And certain of the priests sons with trumpets: namely, Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Michaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph:

36 And his brethren Shemaiah, and Azarael, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God, and Ezra the scribe before them.

37 And at the fountain-gate, which was over against them, they went up by the stairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall, above the house of David, even unto the water-gate east-ward.

38 And the other company of them that gave thanks, went over against them, and I after them, and the half of the people upon the wall, from beyond the tower of the furnaces, even unto the broad wall.

39 And from above the gate of Ephraim, and above the old gate, and above the fish-gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Meah, even unto the sheep-gate; and they stood still in the prison-gate.

40 So stood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the house of God, and I, and the half of the rulers with me:

41 And the priests; Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets:

42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the singers sang loud, with Jezrahiah their overseer.

43 Also that day they offered great sacrifices, and rejoiced; for God had made them rejoice with great joy; the wives also and the children rejoiced: so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard even afar off.

44 ¶ And at that time were some appointed over the chambers for the treasures, for the offerings, for the first-fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions of the law, for the priests and Levites: for Judah rejoiced for the priests and for the Levites that waited.

45 And both the singers and the porters kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his son.

46 For in the days of David and Asaph, of old, there were chief of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God.

47 And all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers, and the porters, every day his portion, and they sanctified holy things unto the Levites, and the Levites sanctified them unto the children of Aaron.

CHAP. XIII.

ON that day they read in the book of Moses in the audience of the people; and therein was found written, that the Ammonite and the Moabite should not come into the congregation of God for ever;

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: howbeit, our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now it came to pass when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitude.

4 ¶ And before this, Eliashib the priest, having the oversight of the chamber of the house of our God, was allied unto Tobiah:

5 And he had prepared for him a great chamber, where aforetime they laid the meat-offerings, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithes of the corn, the new wine, and the oil (which was commanded to be given to the Levites, and the singers, and the porters) and the offerings of the priests.

6 But in all this time was not I at Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon, came I unto the king, and after certain days obtained I leave of the king:

7 And I came to Jerusalem, and understood of the evil that Eliashib did for Tobiah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the house of God.

8 And it grieved me sore, therefore I cast forth all the household-stuff of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 Then I commanded, and they cleansed the chamber; and thither brought I again the vessels of the house of God, with the meat-offering and the frankincense.

10 ¶ And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them: for the Levites and the singers that did the work were fled every one to his field.

11 Then contended I with the rulers, and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I gathered them together, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Judah the tithe of the corn, and the new wine, and the oil, unto the treasuries.

13 And I made treasurers over the treasuries, Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah: and next to them was Hanan the son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute unto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my good deeds that I have done for the house of my God, and for the offices thereof.

15 ¶ In those days saw I in Judah some treading wine-presses on the sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading-asses; as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the sabbath-day: and I testified against them in the day wherein they sold victuals.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish, and all manner of ware, and sold on the sabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem.

17 Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the sabbath-day?

18 Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel by profaning the sabbath.

19 And it came to pass, that when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the sabbath, I commanded that the gates should be shut, and charged that they should not be opened till after the sabbath: and some of my servants set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the sabbath-day.

20 So the merchants, and sellers of all kind of ware, lodged without Jerusalem once or twice.

21 Then I testified against them, and said unto them, Why lodge ye about the wall? If ye do so again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the sabbath.

22 And I commanded the Levites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the sabbath-day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy.

23 ¶ In those days also saw I Jews that had married wives of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab:

24 And their children spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews language, but according to the language of each people.

25 And I contended with them, and cursed them, and smote certain of them, and pluckt off their hair, and made them swear by God, saying, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters unto your sons, or for yourselves.

26 Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel: nevertheless even him did outlandish women cause to sin.

27 Shall we then hearken unto you to do all this great evil, to transgress against our God in marrying strange wives?

28 And one of the sons of Joiada the son of Eliashib the high priest, was son-in-law to Sanballat the Horonite: therefore I chased him from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood, and of the Levites.

30 Thus cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed the wards of the priests and the Levites, every one in his business;

31 And for the wood-offering, at times appointed, and for the first-fruits. Remember me, O my God, for good.

45 Both the singers and the porters kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification.] That is, the former sung orderly in their courses, and praised God, and the latter duly observed the orders about purification, in not suffering any unclean person or thing to come into the house of God.

CHAP. XIII.] 1 On that day they read in the book of Moses.] We must not suppose that this was done immediately after the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, but upon some day after Nehemiah was returned from Persia: for it cannot be supposed that the people, who were so well affected to the ministers of religion, as the foregoing chapter informs us they were, should so soon forget and neglect them.

6 But in all this time was not I at Jerusalem.] They took this step while Nehemiah was retired to the court of Persia; and many of the nobles of Jerusalem being friends to Tobiah, they embraced this opportunity to bring him into the city.

15 I testified against them in the day wherein they sold victuals.] Or, as the words may be translated, I contested with them that they might sell provisions on such days as they were allowed to be sold, but not on the sabbath.

31 Remember me, O my God, for good.] Hence we should learn to remember, that whatever good actions we may have done, it was not by our own power, but by the help and assistance of the Divine Being; and therefore we ought, like the good Nehemiah, to recommend ourselves, and all we have done, to his gracious favour and acceptance.

THE BOOK of ESTHER.

The ARGUMENT.

This book contains the history of a Jewish virgin, named Esther, a kinswoman of Mordecai, a Jew, dwelling at Shushan, in the reign of Ahasuerus, one of the kings of Persia. The transcendent beauty of this Jewish maid, advanced her to the throne of Persia, and the bed of Ahasuerus; and this gave her an opportunity, by her interest with the king, to save the lives of all her countrymen then in Persia, whose destruction was plotted by Haman, a favourite of the king. Mordecai, who discovered the designs of Haman to the queen, and who had before discovered another conspiracy formed against the king, was advanced to the greatest honours of the kingdom; and Haman, the enemy of the Jews, hanged on a gibbet of his own preparing.

CHAP. I.

NOW it came to pass in the days of Ahasuerus (this is Ahasuerus which reigned from India even unto Ethiopia, over an hundred and seven and twenty provinces)

2 That in those days, when the king Ahasuerus sat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shushan the palace,

3 In the third year of his reign, he made a feast unto all his princes, and his servants; the power of Persia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces being before him.

4 When he shewed the riches of his glorious kingdom, and the honour of his excellent majesty, many days, even an hundred and fourscore days.

5 And when these days were expired, the king made a feast unto all the people that were present in Shushan the palace, both unto great and small, seven days in the court of the garden of the king's palace.

6 Where were white, green, and blue hangings, fastened with cords of fine linen, and purple to silver rings, and pillars of marble: the beds were of gold, and silver, upon a pavement of red, and blue, and white, and black marble.

7 And they gave them drink in vessels of gold (the vessels being divers one from another) and royal wine in abundance, according to the state of the king.

8 And the drinking was according to the law, none did compel: for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every man's pleasure.

9 Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women, in the royal house which belonged to king Ahasuerus.

10 ¶ On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven chamberlains that served in the presence of Ahasuerus the king, 11 To bring Vashti the queen before the king, with the crown royal, to shew the people and the princes her beauty: for she was fair to look on.

12 But the queen Vashti refused to come, at the king's commandment by his chamberlains: therefore was the king very wroth, and his anger burned in him.

13 ¶ Then the king said to the wise-men which knew the times (for so was the king's manner toward all that knew law and judgment;

14 And the next unto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, which saw the king's face, and which sat the first in the kingdom)

15 What shall we do unto the queen Vashti, according to law, because she has not performed the commandment of the king Ahasuerus, by the chamberlains?

16 And Memucan answered before the king and the princes, Vashti the queen hath not done wrong to the king only, but also to all the princes, and to all the people that are in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus.

17 For this deed of the queen shall come abroad unto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their eyes, when it shall be reported, The king Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 Likewise shall the ladies of Persia and Media say this day unto all the king's princes, which have heard of the deed of the queen, Thus shall there arise too much contempt and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let there go a royal commandment from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, that it be not altered, that Vashti come no more before king Ahasuerus, and let the king give her royal estate unto another that is better than she.

20 And when the king's decree, which he shall make, shall be published throughout all his empire (for it is great) all the wives shall give to their husbands honour, both to great and small.

21 And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the word of Memucan:

22 For he sent letters into all the king's provinces, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man should bear rule in his own house, and that it should be published according to the language of every people.

CHAP. II.

AFTER these things, when the wrath of king Ahasuerus was appeased, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 Then said the king's servants, that ministered unto him, Let there be fair young virgins sought for the king.

3 And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the fair young virgins unto Shushan the palace, to the house of the women, unto the custody of Hege the king's chamberlain, keeper of the women, and let their things for purification be given them:

4 And let the maiden which pleaseth the king be queen in stead of Vashti. And the thing pleased the king, and he did so.

5 Now in Shushan the palace there was a certain Jew, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite:

6 Who had been carried away from Jerusalem, with the captivity which had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away.

7 And he brought up Hadassah (that is Esther) his uncle's daughter, for she had neither father nor mother, and the maid was fair and beautiful, whom Mordecai (when her father and mother were dead) took for his own daughter.

8 ¶ So it came to pass, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shushan the palace, to the custody of Hegai, that Esther was brought also unto the king's house, to the custody of Hegai, keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindness of him; and he speedily gave her her things for purification, with such things as belonged to her, and seven maidens which were meet to be given her, out of the king's house: and he preferred her and her maids unto the best place of the house of the women.

10 Esther had not shewed her people, nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her, that she should not shew it.

11 And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the womens house, to know how Esther did, and what should become of her.

12 ¶ Now when every maid's turn was come to go in to king Ahasuerus, after that she had been twelve months, according to the manner of the women (for so were the days of their purifications accomplished, to wit, six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odours, and with other things for the purifying of the women)

13 Then thus came every maiden unto the king; whatsoever she desired was given her, to go with her out of the house of the women, unto the king's house.

14 In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women, to the custody of Shaashgaz, the king's chamberlain, which kept the concubines: she came in unto the king no more, except the king delighted in her, and that she were called by name.

15 ¶ Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail, the uncle of Mordecai (who had taken her for his daughter) was come to go in unto the king, she required nothing, but what Hegai the Commentary on the Book of Esther.

CHAP. I.] 2 In Shushan the palace.] Cyrus, and the rest of the Persian kings, after they had conquered the Medes, whose country lay at a great distance, fixed their royal seat at Shushan, that they might not be too far from Babylon, and made it the capital of Persia. It stood on the river Ulai, and was a place of such renown, that Strabo calls it Polin axiologotatin, a city truly worthy to be praised. 6 The beds were of gold and silver.] It was the custom of the East to sit, or rather lay on beds or couches at their meat. The beds themselves were of the finest wool, but the bedsteads were of gold and silver, or overlaid with plates of some costly metals.

CHAP. II.] 7 And he brought up Hadassah (that is Esther) his uncle's daughter.] This woman was born in Babylon: and therefore, in analogy to that language, they gave her the name of Hadassah, which, in Chaldee, signifies a myrtle; but her Persian name was Esther, which some derive from the Greek word aster, a star: and from satar, which implies hidden, because she was concealed in Mordecai's house; or rather, because her nation was concealed, and she not known, till Mordecai's merit and services to the crown came to be rewarded.

the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, appointed: and Eſther obtained favour in the ſight of all them that looked upon her.

16 So Eſther was taken unto king Ahaſuerus, into his houſe royal, in the tenth month (which is the month Tebeth) in the ſeventh year of his reign.

17 And the king loved Eſther above all the women, and ſhe obtained grace and favour in his ſight, more than all the virgins; ſo that he ſet the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen in ſtead of Vaſhti.

18 Then the king made a great feaſt unto all his princes and his ſervants, even Eſther's feaſt, and he made a releaſe to the provinces, and gave gifts according to the ſtate of the king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the ſecond time, then Mordecai ſat in the king's gate.

20 Eſther had not yet ſhewed her kindred, nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her: for Eſther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when ſhe was brought up with him.

21 ¶ In thoſe days (while Mordecai ſat in the king's gate) two of the king's chamberlains, Bigthan and Tereſh, of thoſe which kept the door, were wroth, and ſought to lay hand on the king Ahaſuerus.

22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, who told it unto Eſther the queen, and Eſther certified the king thereof, in Mordecai's name.

23 And when inquiſition was made of the matter, it was found out; therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.

CHAP. III.

AFTER theſe things did king Ahaſuerus promote Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and ſet his ſeat above all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the king's ſervants that were in the king's gate, bowed, and reverenced Haman; for the king had ſo commanded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence.

3 Then the king's ſervants, which were in the king's gate, ſaid unto Mordecai, Why tranſgreſſeſt thou the king's commandment?

4 Now it came to paſs, when they ſpake daily unto him, and he hearkened not unto them, that they told Haman, to ſee whether Mordecai's matters would ſtand; for he had told them he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman ſaw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath.

6 And he thought ſcorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had ſhewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman ſought to deſtroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahaſuerus, even the people of Mordecai.

7 ¶ In the firſt month (that is the month Niſan) in the twelfth year of king Ahaſuerus, they caſt Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman, from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, that is the month Adar.

8 ¶ And Haman ſaid unto king Ahaſuerus, There is a certain people ſcattered abroad, and diſperſed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom, and their laws are diverſe from all people, neither keep they the king's laws; therefore it is not for the king's profit to ſuffer them.

9 If it pleaſe the king, let it be written that they may be deſtroyed: and I will pay ten thouſand talents of ſilver to the hands of thoſe that have the charge of the buſineſs, to bring it into the king's treaſuries.

10 And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews enemy.

11 And the king ſaid unto Haman, The ſilver is given to thee, the people alſo, to do with them as it ſeemeth good to thee.

12 Then were the king's ſcribes called on the thirteenth day of the firſt month, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahaſuerus was it written, and ſealed with the king's ring.

13 And the letters were ſent by poſts into all the king's provinces, to deſtroy, to kill, and to cauſe to periſh all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (which is the month Adar) and to take the ſpoil of them for a prey.

14 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province, was publiſhed unto all people, that they ſhould be ready againſt that day.

15 The poſts went out, being haſtened by the king's commandment, and the decree was given in Shuſhan the palace: and the king and Haman ſat down to drink, but the city Shuſhan was perplexed.

CHAP. IV.

WHEN Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on ſackcloth with aſhes, and went out into the midſt of the city, and cried with a loud and a bitter cry:

2 And came even before the king's gate: for none might enter into the king's gate clothed with ſackcloth.

3 And in every province whitherſoever the king's commandment, and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and faſting, and weeping, and wailing, and many lay in ſackcloth and aſhes.

4 ¶ So Eſther's maids and her chamberlains came and told it her: then was the queen exceedingly grieved, and ſhe ſent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his ſackcloth from him: but he received it not.

5 Then called Eſther for Hatach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and gave him a commandment to Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai, unto the ſtreet of the city, which was before the king's gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and of the ſum of the money that Haman had promiſed to pay to the king's treaſuries for the Jews, to deſtroy them.

8 Alſo he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree, that was given at Shuſhan to deſtroy them, to ſhew it unto Eſther, and to declare it unto her, and to charge her, that ſhe ſhould go in unto the king, to make ſupplication unto him, and to make requeſt before him for her people.

9 And Hatach came and told Eſther the words of Mordecai.

10 ¶ Again, Eſther ſpake unto Hatach, and gave him commandment unto Mordecai.

11 All the king's ſervants, and the people of the king's provinces do know, that whoſoever, whether man or woman, ſhall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his to put him to death, except ſuch to whom the king ſhall hold out the golden ſceptre, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king theſe thirty days.

12 And they told to Mordecai Eſther's words.

13 Then Mordecai commanded to anſwer Eſther, Think not with thyſelf that thou ſhalt eſcape in the king's houſe more than all the Jews.

14 For if thou altogether holdeſt thy peace at this time, then ſhall there enlargement and deliverance ariſe to the Jews from another place, but thou and thy father's houſe ſhall be deſtroyed: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for ſuch a time as this?

15 ¶ Then Eſther bade them return Mordecai this anſwer.

16 Go, gather together all the Jews, that are preſent in Shuſhan, and faſt ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day: I alſo and my maidens will faſt likewiſe, and ſo will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law; and if I periſh, I periſh.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Eſther had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

NOW it came to paſs on the third day that Eſther put on her royal apparel, and ſtood in the inner court of the king's houſe, over againſt the king's houſe: and the king ſat upon his royal throne in the royal houſe, over againſt the gate of the houſe.

2 And it was ſo when the king ſaw Eſther the queen ſtanding in the

16 So Eſther was taken unto king Ahaſuerus, into his houſe royal.] She was not, like the reſt, ſent back in the morning to the ſecond houſe of the women, but kept in the royal houſe, the king intending to make her more than a concubine. According to this account of things, the Perſian monarch ſeems to have had but one wife, at leaſt but one in favour and eſteem with him; though it is certain he had an infinite number of ſecondary wives, or concubines.

CHAP. III.] 2 But Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence.] Probably becauſe he was one of the ſeven nations devoted by God to deſtruction, and with whom therefore the Jews would neither contract friendſhip, nor ſhew them any kindneſs, remembering the injuries the Amalekites did their fathers when they came out of the land of Egypt, Deut. xxv. 18, 19.

7 In the firſt month---they caſt---the lot, before Haman, from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month.] It was a cuſtom among the Orientals not to undertake any buſineſs or affair of importance, without caſting lots in an urn, to enquire what days would be fortunate, and what unlucky: and according to this ſuperſtition, Haman endeavoured to diſcover what day was moſt favourable, and what moſt unfortunate to the Jews.

9 I will pay ten thouſand talents of ſilver.] This was an enormous ſum; and it has been aſked, how it was poſſible for one man to be maſter of ſo large a ſum? But this queſtion might have been ſpared, had the queriſts reflected that Haman never intended to pay this ſum out of his own eſtate, but out of the effects of the Jews.

13 And the letters were ſent by poſts into all the king's provinces.] The firſt inſtitution of poſts is generally aſcribed to the Perſians. Cyrus, as Xenophon informs us, provided couriers, and erected offices on all the high roads, for keeping poſt-horſes and delivering packets to one another.

CHAP. IV.] 16 Faſt ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day,] This is not to be underſtood as if the people were to take no kind of ſuſtenance for three days, becauſe few, if any, could ſupport ſo long a faſt; but the meaning is, that they ſhould neither eat nor drink anything more than what was abſolutely neceſſary for the ſupport of life, employing themſelves the whole time in prayer to God for a bleſſing on her undertaking.

16 If I periſh, I periſh.] I am content to venture my life in ſo good a cauſe, and well know, that if I loſe a mortal, I ſhall gain an immortal life, and exchange the momentary pleaſures of this ſhort exiſtence for the unſpeakable raptures of eternity.

CHAP.

Mordecai honoured. Esther 6.11.

Then took Haman the apparel and the Horse, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

the court, that ſhe obtained favour in his ſight: and the king held out to Eſther the golden ſceptre that was in his hand: ſo Eſther drew near and touched the top of the ſceptre.

3 Then ſaid the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Eſther? and what is thy requeſt? it ſhall be even given thee, to half of the kingdom.

4 And Eſther anſwered, If it ſeem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him.

5 Then the king ſaid, Cauſe Haman to make haſte, that he may do as Eſther hath ſaid. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

6 ¶ And the king ſaid unto Eſther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: and what is thy requeſt? even to the half of the kingdom it ſhall be performed.

7 Then anſwered Eſther, and ſaid, My petition, and my requeſt is;

8 If I have found favour in the ſight of the king, and if it pleaſe the king to grant my petition, and to perform my requeſt, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I ſhall prepare for them, and I will do to-morrow as the king hath ſaid.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth that day, joyful, and with a glad heart: but when Haman ſaw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he ſtood not up, nor moved for him, he was full of indignation againſt Mordecai.

10 Nevertheleſs, Haman refrained himſelf, and when he came home, he ſent and called for his friends, and Zereſh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and ſervants of the king.

12 Haman ſaid moreover, Yea, Eſther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that ſhe had prepared, but myſelf; and to-morrow am I invited unto her alſo with the king.

13 Yet all this availeth me nothing, ſo long as I ſee Mordecai the Jew ſitting at the king's gate.

14 ¶ Then ſaid Zereſh his wife, and all his friends unto him, Let a gallows be made of fifty cubits high, and to-morrow ſpeak thou unto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleaſed Haman, and he cauſed the gallows to be made.

CHAP. VI.

ON that night could not the king ſleep, and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles; and they were read before the king,

2 And it was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Tereſh, two of the king's chamberlains, the keepers of the door, who ſought to lay hand on the king Ahaſuerus.

3 And the king ſaid, what honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai for this? Then ſaid the king's ſervants that miniſtered unto him, There is nothing done for him.

4 ¶ And the king ſaid, Who is in the court? (Now Haman was come into the outward court of the king's houſe, to ſpeak unto the king, to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the king's ſervants ſaid unto him, Behold, Haman ſtandeth in the court. And the king ſaid, Let him come in.

6 So Haman came in: and the king ſaid unto him, What ſhall be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour? (Now Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more than to myſelf?)

7 And Haman anſwered the king, For the man whom the king delighteth to honour,

8 Let the royal apparel be brought which the king uſeth to wear, and the horſe that the king rideth upon, and the crown royal which is ſet upon his head:

9 And let this apparel and horſe be delivered to the hand of one of the king's moſt noble princes that they may array the man withal whom the king delighteth to honour, and bring him on horſeback through the ſtreet of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus ſhall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

10 Then the king ſaid to Haman, Make haſte, and take the apparel, and the horſe, as thou haſt ſaid, and do even ſo to Mordecai the Jew, that ſitteth at the king's gate: let nothing fail of all that thou haſt ſpoken.

11 Then took Haman the apparel and the horſe, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horſeback through the ſtreet of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus ſhall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

12 ¶ And Mordecai came again to the king's gate: but Haman haſted to his houſe, mourning, and having his head covered.

13 And Haman told Zereſh his wife, and all his friends, every thing that had befallen him. Then ſaid his wiſe men, and Zereſh his wife unto him, If Mordecai be of the ſeed of the Jews, before whom thou haſt begun to fall, thou ſhalt not prevail againſt him, but ſhall ſurely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and haſted to bring Haman unto the banquet that Eſther had prepared.

CAAP. VII.

SO the king and Haman came to banquet with Eſther the queen.

2 And the king ſaid again unto Eſther, on the ſecond day, at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Eſther? and it ſhall be granted thee: and what is thy requeſt? and it ſhall be performed, even to the half of the kingdom.

3 Then Eſther the queen anſwered and ſaid, If I have found favour in thy ſight, O king, and if it pleaſe the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my requeſt.

4 For we are ſold, I and my people, to be deſtroyed, to be ſlain, and to periſh: but if we had been ſold for bond-men and bond-women, I had held my tongue, although the enemy could not countervail the king's damage.

5 ¶ Then the king Ahaſuerus anſwered and ſaid unto Eſther the queen, Who is he? and where is he that durſt preſume in his heart to do ſo?

6 ¶ And Eſther ſaid, the adverſary and enemy, is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen.

7 ¶ And the king ariſing from the banquet of wine in his wrath, went into the palace-garden; and Haman ſtood up to make requeſt for his life to Eſther the queen: for he ſaw that there was evil determined againſt him by the king.

8 Then the king returned out of the palace-garden, into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen upon the bed whereon Eſther was. Then ſaid the king, Will he force the queen alſo before me in the houſe? As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face.

9 And Harbonah, one of the chamberlains ſaid before the king, Behold alſo the gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman had made for Mordecai, who had ſpoken good for the king, ſtandeth in the houſe of Haman. Then the king ſaid, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

ON that day did the king Ahaſuerus give the houſe of Haman the Jews enemy, unto Eſther the queen: and Mordecai came before the king; for Eſther had told what he was unto her.

2 And the king took off his ring which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai, And Eſther ſet Mordecai over the houſe of Haman,

3 ¶ And Eſther ſpake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and beſought him with tears, to put away the miſchief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had deviſed againſt the Jews.

4 Then the king held out the golden ſceptre toward Eſther. So Eſther aroſe, and ſtood before the king.

5 And ſaid, if it pleaſe the king, and if I have found favour in his ſight, and the thing ſeem right before the king, and I be pleaſing in his eyes: let it be written to reverſe the letters deviſed by Haman the ſon of Hamedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to deſtroy the Jews which are in all the king's provinces.

6 For how can I endure to ſee the evil that ſhall come unto my people? Or how can I endure to ſee the deſtruction of my kindred?

7 ¶ Then the king Ahaſuerus ſaid unto Eſther the queen, and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I have given Eſther the houſe of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, becauſe he laid his hand upon the Jews.

8 Write ye alſo for the Jews as it liketh you, in the king's name, and ſeal it with the king's ring: for the writing which is written

CHAP. V.] 8 Let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I ſhall prepare them, and I will do to-morrow as the king hath ſaid.] That is, I will to-morrow, at the banquet of wine, make my requeſt to the king. There was ſufficient reaſon for Eſther's uſing theſe cautions, as her requeſt was by no means trifling: ſhe had a favourite miniſter to encounter, and, what was ſtill more, ſhe was going to petition the king to revoke and ſuſpend his own decree.

13 All this availeth me nothing, ſo long as I ſee Mordecai the Jew ſitting at the king's gate.] What trifling circumſtances will ruin all the ſatisfaction of thoſe who, to appearance, are arrived at the pinnacle of human felicity!

CHAP. VI.] 13 If Mordecai be of the ſeed of the Jews, before whom thou haſt begun to fall, thou ſhalt not prevail againſt him, &c.] Mordecai had declared himſelf a Jew, to ſatisfy the people at court that he could not, with a good conſcience, comply with the king's command, relating to the reverence which was to be paid to Haman.

CHAP. VII.] 5 Who is he? and where is he that durſt preſume in his heart to do ſo?] The king could not be perſuaded, that any man could entertain ſo vile a thought as to extirpate a whole people: a ſufficient proof that he did not conſider what decree he had ſigned, in favour of Haman, againſt the Jews; nor think that ſo great a number of innocent victims were to be ſacrificed, to ſatiate the rage of one man.

8 Haman was fallen upon the bed whereon Eſther was.] It was a cuſtom among the Perſians as well as other nations of the Eaſt to ſit, or rather lie upon beds when they eat or drank; and therefore Haman in falling down, as a ſupplicant at the feet of Eſther, fell on the bed whereon ſhe was ſitting.

As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face.] That he might not any more ſee the king's face; or rather, as a man condemned, and which ſufficiently told him his ſentence, by indicating that he deſerved never more to ſee the face of his ſovereign.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai.] Thus God returned the wickedneſs of Haman on his own head, and the gallows he had prepared for his enemy was uſed for his own execution.

written in the king's name, and ſealed with the king's ring, may no man reverſe.

9 Then were the king's ſcribes called at that time in the third month, that is the month Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof, and it was written, according to all that Mordecai commanded, unto the Jews, and to the lieutenants, and the deputies and rulers of the provinces, which are from India unto Ethiopia, an hundred twenty and ſeven provinces, unto every province according to the writing thereof, and unto every people after their language, and to the Jews according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the king Ahaſuerus's name, and ſealed it with the king's ring, and ſent letters by poſts on horſeback, and riders on mules, camels, and young dromedaries.

11 Wherein the king granted the Jews, which were in every city, to gather themſelves together, and to ſtand for their life, to deſtroy, to ſlay, and to cauſe to periſh all the power of the people, and province, that would aſſault them, both little ones, and women, and to take the ſpoil of them for a prey;

12 Upon one day in all the provinces of king Ahaſuerus, namely, upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.

13 The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every provvince, was publiſhed unto all people, and that the Jews ſhould be ready againſt that day, to avenge themſelves on their enemies.

14 So the poſts that rode upon mules and camels went out, being haſtened and preſſed on by the king's commandment. And the decree was given at Shuſhan the palace.

15 ¶ And Mordecai went out from the preſence of the king, in royal apparel of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen, and purple: and the city of Shuſhan rejoiced and was glad:

16 The Jews had light and gladneſs, and joy and honour.

17 And in every province, and in every city, whitherſoever the king's commandment and his decree came, the Jews had joy and gladneſs, a feaſt and a good day. And many of the people of the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

CHAP. IX.

NOW in the twelfth month (that is the month Adar) on the thirteenth day of the ſame, when the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them (though it was turned to the contrary, that the Jews had rule over them that hated them)

2 The Jews gathered themſelves together in their cities throughout all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus, to lay hand on ſuch as ſought their hurt; and no man could withſtand them: for the fear of them fell upon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the provinces, and the lieutenants, and the deputies, and officers of the king, helped the Jews: becauſe the fear of Mordecai fell upon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the king's houſe, and his fame went out throughout all the provinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jews ſmote all their enemies with the ſtroke of the ſword, and ſlaughter and deſtruction, and did what they would unto thoſe that hated them.

6 And in Shuſhan the palace the Jews ſlew and deſtroyed five hundred men.

7 And Parſhandatha, and Dalphon, and Aſpatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmaſhta, and Ariſai, and Aridai, and Vajezatha,

10 The ten ſons of Haman the ſon of Hamedatha, the enemy of the Jews, ſlew they; but on the ſpoil laid they not their hand.

11 On that day, the number of thoſe that were ſlain in Shuſhan the palace, was brought before the king.

12 ¶ And the king ſaid unto Eſther the queen, The Jews have ſlain and deſtroyed five hundred men in Shuſhan the palace, and the ten ſons of Haman; what have they done in the reſt of the king's provinces? now what is thy petition? and it ſhall be granted thee: or what is thy requeſt further? and it ſhall be done:

13 Then ſaid Eſther, If it pleaſe the king: let it be granted to to the Jews which are in Shuſhan, to do to-morrow alſo according unto this day's decree, and let Haman's ten ſons be hanged upon the gallows.

14 And the king commanded it ſo to be done; and the decree was given at Shuſhan, and they hanged Haman's ten ſons.

15 For the Jews that were in Shuſhan, gathered themſelves together on the fourteenth day alſo of the month Adar, and ſlew three hundred men at Shuſhan; but on the prey they laid not their hand.

16 But the other Jews that were in the king's provinces, gathered themſelves together, and ſtood for their lives, and had reſt from their enemies, and ſlew of their foes ſeventy and five thouſand; but they laid not their hands on the prey.

17 On the thirteenth day of the month Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the ſame, reſted they, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſs.

18 But the Jews that were at Shuſhan, aſſembled together on the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth day thereof; and on and on the fifteenth day of the ſame they reſted, and made it a day of feaſting and gladneſs.

19 Therefore the Jews of the villages, that dwelt in the unwalled towns, made the fourteenth day of the month Adar, a day of gladneſs, and feaſting, and a good day, and of ſending portions one to another.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote theſe things, and ſent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahaſuerus both nigh and far.

21 To ſtabliſh this among them, that they ſhould keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the ſame yearly;

22 As the days wherein the Jews reſted from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from ſorrow to joy, and from mourning into a good day: that they ſhould make them days of feaſting and joy, and of ſending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor.

23 And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them.

24 Becauſe Haman the ſon of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews had deviſed againſt the Jews to deſtroy them, and had caſt Pur (that is, the lot) to conſume them, and to deſtroy them:

25 But when Eſther came before the king, he commanded by letters, that his wicked device which he deviſed againſt the Jews, ſhould return upon his own head, and that he and his ſons ſhould be hanged on the gallows.

26 Wherefore they called theſe days Purim, after the name of Pur: therefore for all the words of this letter, and of that which they had ſeen concerning this matter, and which had come unto them,

27 The Jews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their ſeed, and upon all ſuch as joined themſelves unto them, ſo as it ſhould not fail, that they would keep theſe two days, according to their writing, and according to their appointed time every year:

28 And that theſe days ſhould be remembered, and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that theſe days of Purim ſhould not fail from among the Jews, nor the memorial of them periſh from their ſeed.

29 Then Eſther the queen the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote with all authority, to confirm this ſecond letter of Purim.

30 And he ſent the letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred twenty and ſeven provinces of the kingdom of Ahaſuerus, with words of peace and truth:

31 To confirm theſe days of Purim in their times appointed, according as Mordecai the Jew, and Eſther the queen had enjoined them, and as they had decreed for themſelves and for their ſeed, the matters of the faſtings and their cry.

32 And the decree of Eſther confirmed theſe matters of Purim, and it was written in the book.

CHAP. X.

AND the king Ahaſuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the iſles of the ſea.

2 And all the acts of his power and of his might, and the declaration of the greatneſs of Mordecai, whereunto the king advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Perſia.

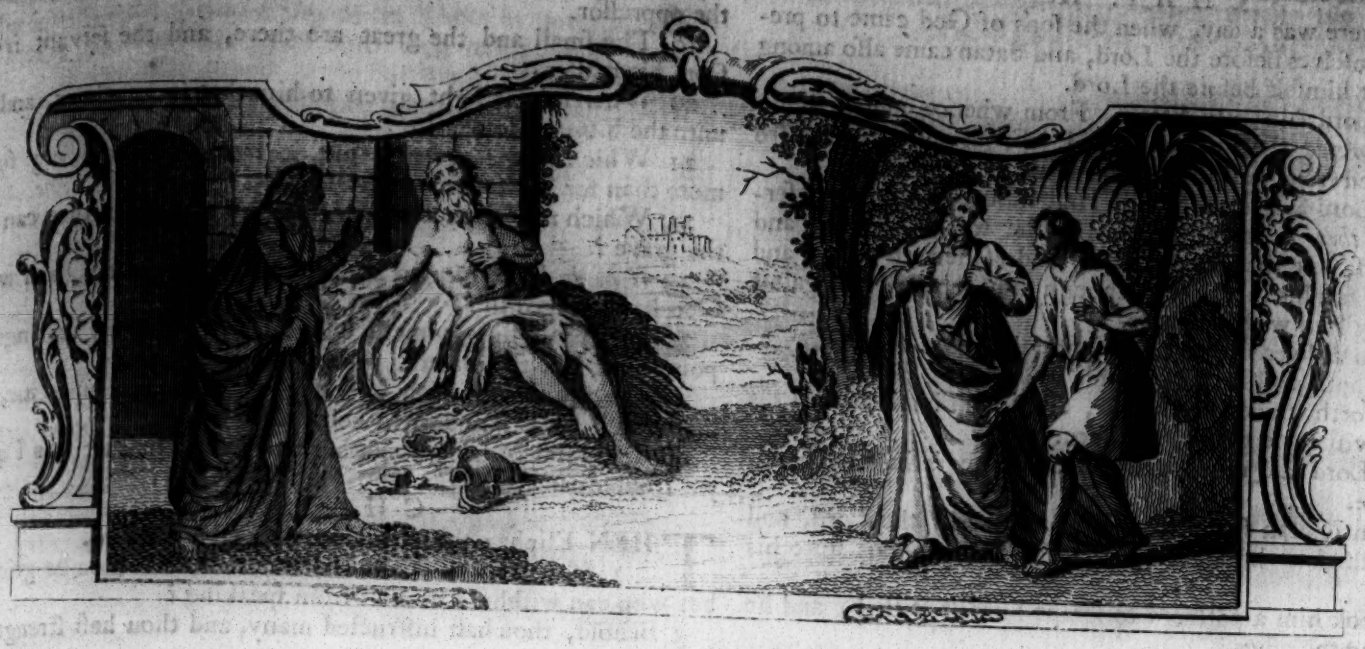
3 For Mordecai the Jew was next unto king Ahaſuerus, and great among the Jews, and accepted of the multitude of his brethren, ſeeking peace to all his ſeed.

CHAP. VIII.] 11 The king granted the Jews which were in every city, to gather themſelves together, and to ſtand for their life, &c.] It was reaſonable to ſuppoſe, that ſome out of hatred to the Jews, would be inclinable to obey Haman's decree: and therefore this ſecond decree, procured by Mordecai, gave them authority, if any attempt was made upon them, either by large numbers, or ſmall parties, not only to defend themſelves and repel them, but to make as great a ſlaughter of them as they were able, and even to take poſſeſſion of their goods, as Haman had procured them licenſe to ſeize thoſe of the Jews.

CHAP. IX.] 21 That they ſhould keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the ſame yearly.] This is called the feaſt of Purim, from the Perſian word pur, which ſignifies a lot, becauſe of Haman's caſting lots, in order to divine which would be the moſt fortunate day for extirpating the Jews out of all the Perſian dominions. And this feaſt is, to this very day, celebrated by the Jews, with ſome peculiar ceremonies.

CHAP. X.] 1 And the king Ahaſuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the iſles of the ſea.] That is, he laid a tax on every part of his dominions, both on the continent, and in the iſlands over which his power extended. Moſt commentators underſtand by the iſles here mentioned, thoſe in the Ægean ſea, conquered by Darius Hyſtaſpis.

THE



THE BOOK of JOB.

The ARGUMENT.

This book contains the narrative of a ſeries of misfortunes which happened to a man whoſe name was Job, the encomium of that extraordinary patience with which he bore them, and the conferences he had with his friends on the ſubject of his misfortunes.

It is far from being agreed, among the learned, who was the author of this maſterly performance, for ſuch it undoubtedly is. Some aſcribe it to Job himſelf, ſome to Solomon, and ſome to Ezra: but their opinion ſeems beſt founded who impute it to Moſes, who, during the time he was an exile in Midian, either tranſlated this book out of the Arabic, or wrote it intirely by a divine inſpiration, for the ſupport and conſolation of his countrymen, the Jews, then groaning under the preſſure of an Egyptian bondage.

CHAP. I.

THERE was a man in the land of Uz, whoſe name was Job, and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eſchewed evil.

2 And there were born unto him ſeven ſons and three daughters.

3 His ſubſtance alſo was ſeven thouſand ſheep, and three thouſand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred ſhe aſſes, and a very great houſhold; ſo that this man was the greateſt of all the men of the eaſt.

4 And his ſons went and feaſted in their houſes, every one his day, and ſent and called for their three ſiſters, to eat and to drink with them.

5 And it was ſo, when the days of their feaſting were gone about, that Job ſent and ſanctified them, and roſe up early in the morning, and offered burnt-offerings according to the number of them all: for Job ſaid, It may be that my ſons have ſinned, and curſed God in their hearts. Thus did Job continually.

6 ¶ Now there was a day when the ſons of God came to preſent themſelves before the Lord, and Satan came alſo among them.

7 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Whence comeſt thou? Then Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

8 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God and eſcheweth evil?

9 Then Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, Doth Job fear God for nought?

10 Haſt not thou made an hedge about him, and about his houſe, and about all that he hath on every ſide? thou haſt bleſſed the work of his hands, and his ſubſtance is increaſed in the land.

11 But put forth thine hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will curſe thee to thy face.

12 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy power, only upon himſelf put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the preſence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And there was a day when his ſons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brother's houſe:

14 And there came a meſſenger unto Job, and ſaid, The oxen were plowing, and the aſſes feeding beſide them:

15 And the Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away, yea, they have ſlain the ſervants with the edge of the ſword, and I only am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, The fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burnt up the ſheep, and the ſervants, and conſumed them, and I only am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

17 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, The Chaldeans made out three bands, and fell upon the camels, and have carried them away, yea, and ſlain the ſervants with the edge of the ſword, and I only am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

18 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came alſo another, and ſaid, Thy ſons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brother's houſe;

19 And behold, there came a great wind from the wilderneſs, and ſmote the four corners of the houſe, and it fell upon the young men, and they are dead, and I only am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Job aroſe, and rent his mantle, and ſhaved his head, and fell upon the ground and worſhipped.

21 And ſaid, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked ſhall I return thither: the Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away, bleſſed be the name of the Lord.

22 In all this Job ſinned not, nor charged God fooliſhly.

CHAP.

Commentary on the Book of Job.

CHAP. I.] 1 There was a man in the land of Uz.] There have been various opinions with regard to the ſituation of the land of Uz, according to the ſeveral families from whence Job is ſuppoſed to have been deſcended, But as the moſt probable opinion conſiders him as one of the deſcendants of Abraham by Keturah, ſo his habitation is moſt properly placed in that part of Arabia Deſerta which is bounded on the north by Meſopotamia and the river Euphrates, on the weſt by Syria, Paleſtine, and Idumea, and on the ſouth by Arabia Felix.

Whoſe name was Job.] It is evident, from ſeveral places of ſcripture, that Job was a real perſon, and not a fictitious character. In the Old Teſtament he is joined with Noah and Daniel, and equally diſtinguiſhed for his righteouſneſs; and in the New he is commended for his patience. Indeed, the narrative itſelf has all the lineaments of a real hiſtory; the name, the quality, the country of the perſon, the number of his children, the bulk of his ſubſtance, and the pedigree of his friends, together with the names and ſituations of ſeveral countries, are all enumerated.

20 Then Job aroſe, and rent his mantle, &c.] He heard, with the greateſt tranquility and compoſure of mind, the repeated accounts of his unparallelled misfortunes; but when he was told of the death of all his children by a ſudden ſtroke, his grief was too great to be concealed, and laying aſide all other thoughts, abandoned himſelf to ſorrow and lamentation.

CHAP.

CHAP. II.

AGAIN there was a day, when the ſons of God came to preſent themſelves before the Lord, and Satan came alſo among them to preſent himſelf before the Lord.

2 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, From whence comeſt thou? And Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

3 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and eſcheweth evil? and ſtill he holdeth faſt his integrity, although thou movedſt me againſt him, to deſtroy him without cauſe.

4 And Satan anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, Skin for ſkin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life.

5 But put forth thine hand now, and touch his bone and his fleſh, and he will curſe thee to thy face.

6 And the Lord ſaid unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand, but ſave his life.

7 ¶ So went Satan forth from the preſence of the Lord, and ſmote Job with ſore boils, from the ſole of his foot unto his crown;

8 And he took him a potſherd to ſcrape himſelf withal; and he ſat down among the aſhes.

9 ¶ Then ſaid his wife unto him, Doſt thou ſtill retain thine integrity? curſe God and die.

10 But he ſaid unto her, Thou ſpeakeſt as one of the fooliſh women ſpeaketh: what? ſhall we receive good at the hand of God, and ſhall we not receive evil? In all this did not Job ſin with his lips.

11 ¶ Now when Job's three friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place; Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they had made an appointment together to come to mourn with him, and to comfort him.

12 And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept; and they rent every one his mantle, and ſprinkled duſt upon their heads toward heaven.

13 So they ſat down with him upon the ground ſeven days and ſeven nights, and none ſpake a word unto him: for they ſaw that his grief was very great.

CHAP. III.

AFTER this opened Job his mouth, and curſed his day.

2 And Job ſpake, and ſaid,

3 Let the day periſh wherein I was born, and the night in which was ſaid, There is a man child conceived.

4 Let that day be darkneſs, let not God regard it from above, neither let the light ſhine upon it.

5 Let darkneſs and the ſhadow of death ſtain it, let a cloud dwell upon it, let the blackneſs of the day terrify it.

6 As for that night, let darkneſs ſeize upon it, let it not be joined unto the days of the year, let it not come into the number of the months.

7 Lo, let that night be ſolitary, let no joyful voice come therein.

8 Let them curſe it that curſe the day, who are ready to raiſe up their mourning.

9 Let the ſtars of the twilight thereof be dark, let it look for light, but have none, neither let it ſee the dawning of the day.

10 Becauſe it ſhut not up the doors of my mother's womb, nor hid ſorrow from mine eyes.

11 Why died I not from the womb? why did I not give up the ghoſt when I came out of the belly?

12 Why did the knees prevent me? or why the breaſts that I ſhould ſuck?

13 For now ſhould I have lain ſtill, and been quiet, I ſhould have ſlept; then had I been at reſt;

14 With kings and counſellors of the earth, which built deſolate places for themſelves:

15 Or with princes that had gold, who filled their houſes with ſilver:

16 Or as an hidden untimely birth I had not been; as infants which never ſaw light.

17 There the wicked ceaſe from troubling: and there the weary be at reſt.

18 There the priſoners reſt together, they hear not the voice of the oppreſſor.

19 The ſmall and the great are there, and the ſervant is free from his maſter.

20 Wherefore is light given to him that is in miſery, and life unto the bitter in ſoul?

21 Which long for death, but it cometh not, and dig for it more than for hid treaſures?

22 Which rejoice exceedingly, and are glad when they can find the grave?

23 Why is light given to a man whoſe way is hid, and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my ſighing cometh before I eat, and my roarings are poured out like the waters.

25 For the thing which I greatly feared is come upon me, and that which I was afraid of, is come unto me.

26 I was not in ſafety, neither had I reſt, neither was I quiet, yet trouble came.

CHAP. IV.

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite anſwered and ſaid,

2 If we aſſay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but who can withhold himſelf from ſpeaking?

3 Behold, thou haſt inſtructed many, and thou haſt ſtrengthned the weak hands.

4 Thy words have upholden him that was falling, and thou haſt ſtrengthened the feeble knees.

5 But now it is come upon thee, and thou fainteſt; it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy fear, thy confidence, thy hope, and the uprightneſs of thy ways?

7 Remember, I pray thee, who ever periſhed, being innocent? or where were the righteous cut off?

8 Even as I have ſeen, they that plow iniquity and ſow wickedneſs, reap the ſame.

9 By the blaſt of God they periſh, and by the breath of his noſtrils are they conſumed.

10 The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, and the teeth of the young lions are broken.

11 The old lion periſheth for lack of prey, and the ſtout lion's whelps are ſcattered abroad.

12 Now a thing was ſecretly brought to me, and mine ear received a little thereof.

13 In thoughts from the viſions of the night, when deep ſleep falleth on men, 14 Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to ſhake.

15 Then a ſpirit paſſed before my face, the hair of my fleſh ſtood up.

16 It ſtood ſtill, but I could not diſcern the form thereof: an image was before mine eyes, there was ſilence, and I heard a voice, ſaying, 17 Shall mortal man be more juſt than God? ſhall a man be more pure than his maker?

18 Behold, he put no truſt in his ſervants; and his angels he charged with folly:

19 How much leſs in them that dwell in houſes of clay, whoſe foundation is in the duſt, which are cruſhed before the moth?

20 They are deſtroyed from morning to evening: they periſh for ever without any regarding it.

21 Doth not their excellency which is in them, go away? they die, even without wiſdom.

CHAP. V.

CALL now, if there be any that will anſwer thee; and to which of the ſaints wilt thou turn?

2 For wrath killeth the fooliſh man, and envy ſlayeth the ſilly one.

3 I have ſeen the fooliſh taking root; but ſuddenly I curſed his habitation.

4 His children are far from ſafety, and they are cruſhed in the gate, neither is there any to deliver them.

5 Whoſe harveſt the hungry eateth up, and taketh it even out of the thorns, and the robber ſwalloweth up their ſubſtance.

6 Although affliction cometh not forth of the duſt, neither doth trouble ſpring out of the ground:

7 Yet

CHAP. II.] 3 Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job? &c.] Art thou now convinced that the character I gave thee of Job was true? For he ſtill continues reſolutely to tread the paths of virtue, notwithſtanding the ſhocking calamities thou haſt unjuſtly heaped upon him.

7 So Satan ſmote Job with ſore boils, &c.] Commentators are not agreed with regard to the nature of Job's diſtemper; but their opinion ſeems to be well founded, who make his diſeaſe not one ſimple malady, but a complication of ſeveral. For as the great enemy to mankind was at full liberty to try his patience to the uttermoſt, it is not to be doubted but he exerted all his power.

12 And when they lift up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, &c.] They were ſo ſurpriſed at their approach with the miſerable ſpectacle of deformity he exhibited, that they burſt into tears, and expreſſed all the tokens of a poignant grief.

CHAP. III.] 1 After this opened Job his mouth, &c.] Here the ſecond part, containing the diſcourſes of Job and his friends, begins, and is delivered by the author in a lofty and poetical ſtile. Job had till now ſupported his afflictions with admirable conſtancy; but being overwhelmed in grief, and deſtitute of the leaſt comfort from his friends, he could contain himſelf no longer, but burſts out into the moſt paſſionate complaints of the miſeries of human life, wiſhing he had never been an inhabitant of this miſerable world, or had reſigned his breath as ſoon as he perceived the light.

CHAP. IV.] 6 Is not this thy fear, thy confidence, thy hope, and the uprightneſs of thy ways?] Is not this the time to exerciſe that piety and confidence in God, that hope and integrity, for which thou art ſo very remarkable.

11 The old lion periſheth for lack of prey, &c.] The greateſt tyrants, and their poſterity, after long enjoying dominion, are deprived of the riches they have acquired by oppreſſion, and baniſhed from their ſeats of power.

13, 14, 15, 16 In thoughts from the viſions of the night, &c.] We have, in theſe verſes, one of the moſt awful and affecting deſcriptions that language is capable of giving. It is a night-piece, dreſſed in all the circumſtances of the deepeſt horror, and cannot be read without awakening emotions of awe and terror.

CHAP.

7 Yet man is born unto trouble, as the sparks fly upward.
8 I would seek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cause:
9 Which doth great things, and unsearchable; marvellous things without number.
10 Who giveth rain upon the earth, and sendeth waters upon the fields:
11 To set up on high those that be low; that those which mourn may be exalted to safety.
12 He disappointeth the devices of the crafty, so that their hands cannot perform their enterprize.
13 He taketh the wise in their own craftiness: and the counsel of the froward is carried headlong.
14 They meet with darkness in the day-time, and grope in the noon-day, as in the night.
15 But he saveth the poor from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the mighty.
16 So the poor hath hope, and iniquity stoppeth her mouth.
17 Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty.
18 For he maketh sore, and bindeth up: he woundeth and his hands make whole.
19 He shall deliver thee in six troubles: yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee.
20 In famine he shall redeem thee from death; and in war from the power of the sword.
21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue: neither shalt thou be afraid of destruction when it cometh.
22 At destruction and famine thou shalt laugh: neither shalt thou be afraid of the beasts of the earth.
23 For thou shalt be in league with the stones of the field: and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.
24 And thou shalt know that thy tabernacle shall be in peace; and thou shalt visit thy habitation, and shalt not sin.
25 Thou shalt know also that thy seed shall be great, and thine offspring as the grass of the earth.
26 Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in in his season.
27 Lo this, we have searched it, so it is: hear it, and know thou it for thy good.

CHAP. VI.

BUT Job answered and said,
2 O that my grief were throughly weighed, and my calamity laid in the balances together.
3 For now it would be heavier than the sand of the sea: therefore my words are swallowed up.
4 For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poison whereof drinketh up my spirit: the terrors of God do set themselves in array against me.
5 Doth the wild ass bray when he hath grass? or loweth the ox over his fodder?
6 Can that which is unsavoury be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egg?
7 The things that my soul refused to touch, are as my sorrowful meat.
8 O that I might have my request! and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!
9 Even that it would please God to destroy me; that he would let loose his hand and cut me off.
10 Then should I yet have comfort, yea, I would harden myself in sorrow; let him not spare, for I have not concealed the words of the holy one.
11 What is my strength, that I should hope? and what is mine end, that I should prolong my life?
12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brass?
13 Is not my help in me? and is wisdom driven quite from me?
14 To him that is afflicted pity should be shewed from his friend; but he forsaketh the fear of the Almighty.
15 My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook, and as the stream of brooks they pass away.
16 Which are blackish by reason of the ice, and wherein the snow is hid:
17 What time they wax warm, they vanish: when it is hot, they are consumed out of their place.
18 The paths of their way are turned aside; they go to nothing, and perish.
19 The troops of Tema looked, the companies of Sheba waited for them.
20 They were confounded because they had hoped; they came thither, and were ashamed.
21 For now ye are nothing; ye see my casting down, and are afraid.
33 Did I say, Bring unto me? or give a reward for me of your substance?
23 Or deliver me from the enemies hand? or redeem me from the hand of the mighty?
24 Teach me, and I will hold my tongue: and cause me to understand wherein I have erred.
25 How forcible are right words! but what doth your arguing reprove?
26 Do ye imagine to reprove words, and the speeches of one that is desperate, which are as wind?
27 Yea, ye overwhelm the fatherless, and ye dig a pit for your friend.
28 Now therefore be content, look upon me, for it is evident unto you if I lie.
29 Return, I pray you, let it not be iniquity: yea, return again, my righteousness is in it.
30 Is there iniquity in my tongue? cannot my taste discern perverse things?

CHAP. VII.

IS there not an appointed time to man upon earth? are not his days also like the days of an hireling?
2 As a servant earnestly desireth the shadow, and as an hireling looketh for the reward of his work:
3 So am I made to possess months of vanity, and wearisome nights are appointed to me.
4 When I lie down, I say, when shall I arise, and the night be gone? and I am full of tossings too and fro unto the dawning of the day.
5 My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust, my skin is broken, and become loathsome.
6 My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and are spent without hope.
7 O remember that my life is wind: mine eye shall no more see good.
8 The eye of him that hath seen me, shall see me no more: thine eyes are upon me, and I am not.
9 As the cloud is consumed, and vanisheth away: so he that goeth down to the grave shall come up no more.
10 He shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.
11 Therefore I will not refrain my mouth, I will speak in the anguish of my spirit, I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.
12 Am I a sea, or a whale, that thou settest a watch over me?
13 When I say, My bed shall comfort me, my couch shall ease my complaint:
14 Then thou scarest me with dreams, and terrifiest me through visions.
15 So that my soul chooseth strangling, and death rather than my life.
16 I loath it, I would not live alway: let me alone, for my days are vanity.
17 What is man, that thou shouldest magnify him? and that thou shouldest set thine heart upon him?
18 And that thou shouldest visit him every morning, and try him every moment?
19 How long with thou not depart from me, nor let me alone till I swallow down my spittle?
20 I have sinned, what shall I do unto thee, O thou preserver of men? why hast thou set me as a mark against thee, so that I am a burden to myself?
21 And why dost thou not pardon my transgression, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleep in the dust, and thou shalt seek me in the morning, but I shall not be.

CHAP. VIII.

THEN answered Bildad the Shuhite and said,
2 How long wilt thou speak these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be like a strong wind?
3 Doth God pervert judgment? or doth the Almighty pervert justice?

4 If

Chap. V.] 8 I would seek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cause.] Were the chastenings of Jehovah inflicted upon me, I would, with humble submission, lay myself at the footstool of my Maker, implore his mercy, and submit my cause entirely to his righteous decision.

23 For thou shalt be in league with the stones of the field, &c.] Those parts of thy land which are covered with stones, shall smile with plenty, nor shall the beasts of the field devour the exuberant harvest.

Chap. VI.] 1 But Job answered and said.] Job far from being convinced by the arguments of Eliphaz, renews his wishes for death, and upbraids his friends with their unkindness; who, instead of sympathizing with him in his sufferings, and pouring balm into his wounds, had augmented the weight of his distress by heavy reproaches, and increased the poignancy of his torments by their unnatural application of bitter reproofs.

5 6 Doth the wild ass bray when he hath grass? &c.] It is no difficult task for you, who are free from affliction, to forbear complaining; natural instinct teaches the brute creation to do the same. But, surely, he who labours under the most piercing calamities may endeavour to alleviate his grief by passionate lamentations.

Chap. VII.] 1 Is there not an appointed time to man upon earth? are not his days also like the days of an hireling?] It is not the fate of every man to maintain a perpetual conflict with troubles and misfortunes. And must not those who enjoy the largest share of happiness, expect to meet with a sufficient portion of labour, weariness, and pain?

20 I have sinned, what shall I do unto thee, O thou preserver of men?] How shall I be able to give thee satisfaction for the many offences I have committed against thee, O thou watchful and attentive Father of the human race?

The latter part of this passage, instead of O thou preserver of men, should have been rendered O thou observer of men.

Chap. VIII.] 2, 3 How long wilt thou speak these things? &c.] Why dost thou persist in such unjust assertions, and expostulate so vehemently with thy

4 If thy children have sinned against him, and he have cast them away for their transgression:
5 If thou wouldest seek unto God betimes, and make thy supplication to the Almighty:
6 If thou wert pure and upright; surely now he would awake for thee, and make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.
7 Though thy beginning was small, yet thy latter end should greatly increase.
8 For enquire I pray thee of the former age, and prepare thyself to the search of their fathers.
9 (For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, because our days upon earth are a shadow)
10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, and utter words out of their heart?
11 Can the rush grow up without mire? can the flag grow without water?
12 Whilst it is yet in his greenness, and not cut down, it withereth before any other herb.
13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrite's hope shall perish:
14 Whose hope shall be cut off, and whose trust shall be a spider's web.
15 He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure.
16 He is green before the sun, and his branch shooteth forth in his garden.
17 His roots are wrapped about the heap, and seeth the place of stones.
18 If he destroy him from his place, then it shall deny him, saying, I have not seen thee.
19 Behold, this is the joy of his way, and out of the earth shall others grow.
20 Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will he help the evil-doers:
21 Till he fill thy mouth with laughing, and thy lips with rejoycing.
22 They that hate thee shall be cloathed with shame, and the dwelling-place of the wicked shall come to nought.

CHAP. IX.

THEN Job answered and said,
2 I know it is so of a truth: but how should a man be just with God?
3 If he will contend with him, he cannot answer him one of a thousand.
4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath hardened himself against him, and hath prospered?
5 Which removeth the mountains, and they know not: which overturneth them in his anger.
6 Which shaketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble.
7 Which commandeth the sun, and it riseth not: and sealeth up the stars.
8 Which alone spreadeth out of the heavens, and treadeth upon the waves of the sea.
9 Which maketh Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south.
10 Which doeth great things past finding out, yea, and wonders without number.
11 Lo, he goeth by me, and I see him not: he passeth on also, but I perceive him not.
12 Behold, he taketh away, who can hinder him? who will say unto him? What doest thou?
13 If God will not withdraw his anger, the proud helpers do stoop under him.
14 How much less shall I answer him, and choose out my words to reason with him?
15 Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not answer, but I would make supplication to my judge.
16 If I had called, and he had answered me; yet would I not believe that he had hearkened unto my voice.
17 For he breaketh me with a tempest, and multiplieth my wounds without cause.
18 He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.
19 If I speak of strength, lo, he is strong: and if of judgment, who shall set me a time to plead?
20 If I justify myself, mine own mouth shall condemn me: if I say, I am perfect, it shall also prove me perverse.
21 Though I were perfect, yet would I not know my soul: I would despise my life.
22 This is one thing, therefore I said it, he destroyeth the perfect and the wicked.
23 If the scourge slay suddenly, he will laugh at the trial of the innocent.
24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: he covereth the faces of the judges thereof; if not, where, and who is he?
25 Now my days are swifter than a post; they flee away, and see no good.
26 They are passed away as the swift ships: as the eagle that hasteth to the prey.
27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my heaviness, and comfort myself:
28 I am afraid of all my sorrows, I know that thou wilt not hold me innocent.
29 If I be wicked, why then labour I in vain?
30 If I wash myself with snow-water, and make my hands never so clean;
31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the ditch, and mine own clothes shall abhor me.
32 For he is not a man as I am, that I should answer him, and we should come together in judgment.
33 Neither is there any days-man betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.
34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear terrify me.
35 Then would I speak, and not fear him; but it is not so with me.

CHAP. X.

MY soul is weary of my life, I will leave my complaint upon myself; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul
2 I will say unto God, Do not condemn me; shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.
3 Is it good unto thee, that thou shouldest oppress? that thou shouldest despise the work of thine hands? and shine upon the counsel of the wicked?
4 Hast thou eyes of flesh? or seest thou as man seeth?
5 Are thy days as the days of man? are thy years as man's days;
6 That thou enquirest after mine iniquity, and searchest after my sin?
7 Thou knowest that I am not wicked, and there is none that can deliver out of thine hand.
8 Thine hands have made me and fashioned me together round about; yet thou dost destroy me.
9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast made me as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust again?
10 Hast thou not poured me out as milk, and curdled me like cheese?
11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and hast fenced me with bones and sinews.
12 Thou hast granted me life and favour, and thy visitation hath preserved my spirit.
13 And these things hast thou hid in thine heart: I know that this is with thee.
14 If I sin, then thou markest me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.
15 If I be wicked, woe unto me; and if I be righteous, yet will I not lift up my head: I am full of confusion, therefore see thou mine affliction:
16 For it increaseth: thou huntest me as a fierce lion; and again thou shewest thyself marvellous upon me.
17 Thou renewest thy witnesses against me, and increasest thine indignation upon me; changes and war are against me.
18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the womb? O that I had given up the ghost, and no eye had seen me?
19 I should have been as though I had not been, I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.
20 Are not my days few? cease then, and let me alone, that I may take comfort a little:
21 Before I go whence I shall not return, even to the land of darkness, and the shadow of death;
22 A land of darkness, as darkness itself, and of the shadow of death, without any order, and where the light is as darkness.

CHAP.

Maker? Canst thou think the supreme Judge of all the earth will pervert judgment? Or the Almighty father of the human race swerve from the rules of equity?

15 He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure.] He may consider his family as so very powerful that it will support him; but it shall fall, together with himself: he may endeavour to strengthen it by strong alliances; but all his pains shall come to nought.

CHAP. IX.] 22 This is one thing, therefore I said it, he destroyeth the perfect and the wicked.] I only persist in what I at first affirmed, that, in this world, the innocent suffer equally with the guilty.

23 If the scourge slay suddenly, he will laugh at the trial of the innocent.] When any country is visited by the pestilence, the innocent are not defended from its stroke.

33 Neither is there any days-man betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.] Nor is there any judge or umpire to determine our cause, or that has power to command silence, when either of us, exceeds his bounds.

CHAP. X.] 1 My soul is weary of my life, &c.] Job again renews his passionate complaints; and expostulates earnestly with his Maker. Declaring that his severe torments were sufficient to justify his first wishes that he had never been born, or been carried from the womb to the grave.

2 I will say unto God, do not condemn me; shew me therefore why thou contendest with me.] Do not, O thou Supreme Judge of all the earth, pronounce thy final sentence against me, till thou hast deigned to acquaint me with the crimes for which I am to suffer.

20 Are not my days few? cease then, and let me alone, that I may take comfort a little.] Am I not now on the borders of the grave? Forbear then a while to strike, that if thou wilt not remove thine hand, I may enjoy a short interval of comfort.

CHAP.

CHAP. XI.

THEN answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? and should a man full of talk be justified?

3 Should thy lies make men hold their peace? and when thou mockest, shall no man make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, my doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.

5 But, O that God would speak, and open his lips against thee;

6 And that he would shew thee the secrets of wisdom, that they are double to that which is! know therefore that God exacteth of thee less than thine iniquity deserveth.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?

8 It is as high as heaven; what canst thou do? deeper than hell, what canst thou know?

9 The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea.

10 If he cut off, and shut up, or gather together, then who can hinder him?

11 For he knoweth vain men: he seeth wickedness also: will he not consider it?

12 For vain man would be wise, though man be born like a wild ass's colt.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him;

14 If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickedness dwell in thy tabernacles.

15 For then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot, yea, thou shalt be stedfast, and shalt not fear:

16 Because thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that pass away:

17 And thine age shall be clearer than the noon-day; thou shalt shine forth, thou shalt be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be secure, because there is hope; yea, thou shalt dig about thee, and thou shalt take thy rest in safety,

19 Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid; yea, many shall make suit unto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, and they shall not escape, and their hope shall be as the giving up of the ghost.

CHAP. XII.

AND Job answered and said,

2 No doubt but ye are the people, and wisdom shall die with you.

3 But I have understanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you: yea, who knoweth not such things as these?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth upon God, and he answereth him: the just upright man is laughed to scorn.

5 He that is ready to slip with his feet, is as a lamp despised in the thought of him that is at ease.

6 The tabernacles of robbers prosper, and they that provoke God are secure; into whose hand God bringeth abundantly.

7 But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee; and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee: and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.

9 Who knoweth not in all these, that the hand of the Lord hath wrought this?

10 In whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 Doth not the ear try words? and the mouth taste his meat?

12 With the ancient is wisdom; and in length of days, understanding.

13 With him is wisdom and strength, he hath counsel and understanding.

14 Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again: he shutteth up a man, and there can be no opening.

15 Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up: also he sendeth them out, and they overturn the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom; the deceived and the deceiver are his.

17 He leadeth counsellers away spoiled, and maketh the judges fools.

18 He looseth the bond of kings, and girdeth their loins with a girdle.

19 He leadeth princes away spoiled, and overthroweth the mighty.

20 He removeth away the speech of the trusty, and taketh away the understanding of the aged.

21 He poureth contempt upon princes, and weakeneth the strength of the mighty.

22 He discovereth deep things out of darkness, and bringeth out to light the shadow of death.

23 He increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and straiteneth them again.

24 He taketh away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.

25 They grope in the dark without light, and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

CHAP. XIII.

LO, mine eye hath seen all this, mine ear hath heard and understood it.

2 What ye know, the same do I know also: I am not inferior unto you.

3 Surely I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to reason with God.

4 But ye are forgers of lies, ye are all physicians of no value.

5 O that ye would altogether hold your peace, and it should be your wisdom.

6 Hear now my reasoning, and hearken to the pleadings of my lips.

7 Will you speak wickedly for God? and talk deceitfully for him?

8 Will ye accept his person? will ye contend for God?

9 Is it good that he should search you out? or as one man mocketh another, do ye so mock him?

10 He will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept persons.

11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his dread fall upon you?

12 Your remembrances are like unto ashes, your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 Hold your peace, let me alone, that I may speak, and let come on me what will.

14 Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in mine hand?

15 Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will maintain mine own ways before him.

16 He also shall be my salvation: for an hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Hear diligently my speech, and my declaration with your ears.

18 Behold now, I have ordered my cause; I know that I shall be justified.

19 Who is he that will plead with me? for now if I hold my tongue, I shall give up the ghost, 20 Only do not two things unto me: then will I not hide myself from thee.

21 Withdraw thine hand far from me: and let not thy dread make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speak, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities and sins? make me to know my transgression and my sin.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou break a leaf driven too and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble.

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possess the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feet also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly unto all my paths; thou settest a print upon the heels of my feet.

21 And he as a rotten thing, consumeth, as a garment that is moth-eaten.

CHAP. XIV.

MAN that is born of a woman, is of few days, and full of trouble.

2 He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And dost thou open thine eyes upon such an one, and bringest me into judgment with thee?

4 Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.

5 Seeing

CHAP. XI.] 5, 6 But, O that God would speak, and open his lips against thee, &c.] O that Omnipotence himself would deign to shew thee thine errors, and confute thee with thine own mouth! That he would make the acquainted with the secret reasons that induced him to afflict thee; for thou wouldest then be convinced that thy punishment is far from being equal to thine iniquity.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?] Are all thy deep enquiries sufficient to account for the judgments of Omnipotence; and perfectly to comprehend the reasons of his providence?

CHAP. XII.] 1 And Job answered and said.] Job in this chapter accuses his three friends of having too great a conceit of their own wisdom, though it had not yet taught them the common duty of humanity to the afflicted.

2 No doubt but ye are the people, and wisdom shall die with you.] You fancy it seems that you are the only persons of sense in the world; and that when you are called to the chambers of the grave, wisdom will be no longer found among the sons of men.

CHAP. XIII.] 1 Lo mine eyes hath seen all this, mine ear hath heard and understood it.] I have uttered nothing but what I have myself observed, or received from authentic reports, which experience hath abundantly confirmed.

12 Your remembrances are like unto ashes, your bodies to bodies of clay.] Your remonstrances in behalf of your Maker, are vile like the dust; and the arguments you accumulate resemble the assemblages of clay.

25 Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?] What honour can result to thee from employing thy power against one who is no more able to stand before thee, than the tender leaf to resist the violent blast of a raging tempest; or the dry stubble the flame of a devouring fire.

CHAP.

5 Seeing his days are determined, the number of his months are with thee, thou haſt appointed his bounds that he cannot paſs.

6 Turn from him that he may reſt, till he ſhall accompliſh, as an hireling, his day.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will ſprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not ceaſe.

8 Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the ſtock thereof die in the ground:

9 Yet through the ſcent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.

10 But man dieth, and waſteth away: yea, man giveth up the ghoſt, and where is he?

11 As the waters fail from the ſea, and the flood decayeth and drieth up:

12 So man lieth down, and riſeth not till the heavens be no more, they ſhall not awake, nor be raiſed out of their ſleep.

13 O that thou wouldeſt hide me in the grave, that thou wouldeſt keep me ſecret, until thy wrath be paſt, that thou wouldeſt appoint me a ſet time, and remember me.

14 If a man die, ſhall he live again? all the days of my appointed time will I wait, till my change come.

15 Thou ſhalt call, and I will anſwer thee: thou wilt have a deſire to the work of thine hands.

16 For now thou numbereſt my ſteps, doſt thou not watch over my ſin?

17 My tranſgreſſion is ſealed up in a bag, and thou ſoweſt up mine iniquity.

18 And ſurely the mountain falling cometh to nought: and the rock is removed out of his place.

19 The waters wear the ſtones: thou waſheſt away the things which grow out of the duſt of the earth, and thou deſtroyeſt the hope of man.

20 Thou prevaileſt for ever againſt him, and he paſſeth: thou changeſt his countenance, and ſendeſt him away.

21 His ſons come to honour, and he knoweth it not; and they are brought low, but he perceiveth it not of them.

22 But his fleſh upon him ſhall have pain, and his ſoul within him ſhall mourn.

CHAP. XV.

THEN anſwered Eliphaz the Temanite, and ſaid,

2 Should a wiſe man utter vain knowledge, and fill his belly with the eaſt-wind?

3 Should he reaſon with unprofitable talk? or with ſpeeches wherewith he can do no good?

4 Yea, thou caſteſt off fear, and reſtraineſt prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth uttereth thine iniquity, and thou chooſeſt the tongue of the crafty.

6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea, thine own lips teſtify againſt thee.

7 Art thou the firſt man that was born? or waſt thou made before the hills!

8 Haſt thou heard the ſecret of God? and doſt thou reſtrain wiſdom to thyſelf?

9 What knoweſt thou that we know not? what underſtandeſt thou, which it not in us?

10 With us are both the gray-headed, and very aged men, much elder than thy father.

11 Are the conſolations of God ſmall with thee? is there any ſecret thing with thee?

12 Why doth thine heart carry thee away? and what do thine eyes wink at, 13 That thou turneſt thy ſpirit againſt God, and letteſt ſuch words go out of thy mouth?

14 What is man that he ſhould be clean? and he which is born of a woman, that he ſhould be righteous?

15 Behold, he putteth no truſt in his ſaints; yea, the heavens are not clean in his ſight.

16 How much more abominable and filthy is man, which drinketh iniquity like water.

17 I will ſhew thee, hear me, and that which I have ſeen, I will declare,

18 Which wiſe men have told from their fathers, and have not hid it:

19 Unto whom alone the earth was given, and no ſtranger paſſed among them.

20 The wicked man travelleth with pain all his days, and the number of years is hidden to the oppreſſor.

21 A dreadful ſound is in his ears; in proſperity the deſtroyer ſhall come upon him.

22 He believeth not that he ſhall return out of darkneſs, and he is waited for of the ſword.

23 He wandereth abroad for bread, ſaying, Where is it? he knoweth that the day of darkneſs is ready at his hand.

24 Trouble and anguiſh ſhall make him afraid; they ſhall prevail againſt him, as a king ready to the battle.

25 For he ſtretcheth out his hand againſt God, and ſtrengtheneth himſelf againſt the Almighty.

26 He runneth upon him, even on his neck, upon the thick boſſes of his bucklers:

27 Becauſe he covereth his face with his fatneſs, and maketh collops of fat on his flanks.

28 And he dwelleth in deſolate cities, and in houſes which no man inhabiteth, which are ready to become heaps.

29 He ſhall not be rich, neither ſhall his ſubſtance continue, neither ſhall he prolong the perfection thereof upon the earth.

30 He ſhall not depart out of darkneſs, the flame ſhall dry up his branches, and by the breath of his mouth ſhall he go away.

31 Let not him that is deceived truſt in vanity: for vanity ſhall be his recompence.

32 It ſhall be accompliſhed before his time, and his branch ſhall not be green.

33 He ſhall ſhake off his unripe grape as the vine, and ſhall caſt off his flower as the olive.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites ſhall be deſolate, and fire ſhall conſume the tabernacles of bribery.

35 They conceive miſchief, and bring forth vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit.

CHAP. XVI.

THEN Job anſwered and ſaid,

2 I have heard many ſuch things; miſerable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall vain words have an end? or what emboldeneth thee that thou anſwereſt?

3 I alſo could ſpeak as ye do: if your ſoul were in my ſoul's ſtead, I could heap up words againſt you, and ſhake mine head at you.

5 But I would ſtrengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips ſhould aſſwage your grief.

6 Though I ſpeak my grief is not aſſwaged and though I forbear, what am I eaſed?

7 But now he hath made me weary: thou haſt made deſolate all my company.

8 And thou haſt filled me with wrinkles, which is a witneſs againſt me: and my leanneſs riſing up in me beareth witneſs to my face.

9 He teareth me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnaſheth upon me with his teeth; mine enemy ſharpeneth his eyes upon me.

10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth, they have ſmitten me upon the cheek reproachfully, they have gathered themſelves together againſt me.

11 God hath delivered me to the ungodly, and turned me over into the hands of the wicked.

12 I was at eaſe, but he hath broken me aſunder: he hath alſo taken me by my neck, and ſhaken me to pieces, and ſet me up for his mark.

13 His archers compaſs me round about, he cleaveth my reins aſunder, and doth not ſpare; he poureth out my gall upon the ground.

14 He breaketh me with breach upon breach, he runneth upon me like a giant.

15 I have ſewed ſackcloth upon my ſkin, and defiled my horn in the duſt,

16 My face is foul with weeping, and on my eyelids is the ſhadow of death:

17 Not for any injuſtice in mine hands: alſo my prayer is pure.

18 O earth, cover not thou my blood, and let my cry have no place.

19 Alſo now, behold, my witneſs is in heaven, and my record is on high.

20 My friends ſcorn me; but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.

21 O that one might plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his neighbour!

22 When

CHAP. XIV.] 13 O that thou wouldeſt hide me in the grave, &c.] O that I could find ſome aſylum, though it were even in the ſecret chambers of the grave, till this ſtorm be over; or that thou wouldeſt appoint a certain time when thou wilt deliver me.

CHAP. XV.] 1 Then anſwered Eliphaz the Temanite, and ſaid.] Eliphaz, ſtimulated with anger at the ſlighting manner in which Job had treated their ſpeeches, renews the diſpute with more eagerneſs and violence than before. But urges no more than what he at firſt aſſerted, namely, that the wicked only are puniſhed by God with ſuch calamities as had now fallen upon Job: deſcribing in very lofty language, the vengeance which God generally takes upon impious tyrants.

27 Becauſe he covereth his face with fatneſs, &c.] Becauſe he devotes his whole time to pleaſure, and flouriſhes in pride, luxury, and ambition.

33 He ſhall ſhake off his unripe grape as the vine, &c.] 1 They ſhall all deſcend to the grave before their time, as the unripe grape, or the bloſſom of the olive, fall in a tempeſt of hail, or are deſtroyed by the nipping froſts.

CHAP. XVI.] 1 Then Job anſwered and ſaid.] Job reproves the vanity of his friends in repeating the ſame arguments, and perſiſting in their inhuman reproofs, though his ſufferings called for their pity and commiſeration.

7 But now he hath made me weary: thou haſt made deſolate all my company.] God hath long ſince wearied me with heaping one trouble on another; nor ceaſed till neither goods, children, nor friends remained to ſooth my anguiſh.

15 I have ſewed ſackcloth upon my ſkin, and defiled my horn in the duſt.] The ſackcloth in which I at firſt arrayed myſelf, now cleaveth faſt to my ſkin; and all my former authority and honour is changed into contempt.

CHAP.

22 When a few years are come, then I shall go the way whence I shall not return.

CHAP. XVII.

MY breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the graves are ready for me.

2 Are there not mockers with me? and doth not mine eye continue in their provocation?

3 Lay down now, put me in a surety with thee; who is he that will strike hands with me?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from understanding: therefore shalt thou not exalt them.

5 He that speaketh flattery to his friends, even the eyes of his children shall fail.

6 He hath made me also a by-word of the people, and aforetime I was as a tabret.

7 Mine eye also is dim by reason of sorrow, and all my members are as a shadow.

8 Upright men shall be astonished at this, and the innocent shall stir up himself against the hypocrite.

9 The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger.

10 But as for you all, do ye return, and come now: for I cannot find one wise man among you.

11 My days are past, my purposes are broken off, even the thoughts of my heart.

12 They change the night into day: the light is short because of darkness.

13 If I wait, the grave is mine house: I have made my bed in the darkness.

14 I have said to corruption, Thou art my father: to the worm, Thou art my mother, and my sister.

15 And where is now my hope? as for my hope, who shall see it?

16 They shall go down to the bars of the pit, when our rest together is in the dust.

CHAP. XVIII.

THEN answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 How long will it be, ere you make an end of words? mark, and afterwards we will speak.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and reputed vile in your sight?

4 He teareth himself in his anger: shall the earth be forsaken for thee? and shall the rock be removed out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out, and the spark of his fire shall not shine.

6 The light shall be dark in his tabernacle, and his candle shall be put out with him.

7 The steps of his strength shall be straitened, and his own counsel shall cast him down.

8 For he is cast into a net by his own feet, and he walketh upon a snare.

9 The gin shall take him by the heel, and the robber shall prevail against him.

10 The snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

11 Terrors shall make him afraid on every side, and shall drive him to his feet.

12 His strength shall be hunger-bitten, and destruction shall be ready at his side.

13 It shall devour the strength of his skin: even the first-born of death shall devour his strength.

14 His confidence shall be rooted out of his tabernacle, and it shall bring him to the king of terrors.

15 It shall dwell in his tabernacle, because it is none of his: brimstone shall be scattered upon his habitation.

16 His roots shall be dried up beneath, and above shall his branch be cut off.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street.

18 He shall be driven from light into darkness, and chased out of the world.

19 He shall neither have son nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings.

20 They that come after him shall be astonished at his day, as they that went before were affrighted.

21 Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

THEN Job answered and said,

2 How long will ye vex my soul, and break me in pieces with words?

3 These ten times have ye reproached me: ye are not ashamed that ye make yourselves strange to me.

4 And be it indeed that I have erred, mine error remaineth with myself.

5 If indeed ye will magnify yourselves against me, and plead against me my reproach:

6 Know now that God hath overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Behold, I cry out of wrong, but I am not heard: I cry aloud, but there is no judgment.

8 He hath fenced up my way, that I cannot pass, and he hath set darkness in my paths.

9 He hath stript me of my glory, and taken the crown from my head.

10 He hath destroyed me on every side, and I am gone and mine hope hath he removed like a tree.

11 He hath also kindled his wrath against me and he counteth me unto him as one of his enemies

12 His troops come together and raise up their way against me and encamp round about my tabernacle

13 He hath put my brethen far from me and mine acquaintance are verily estranged from me.

14 My kinsfolk have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me.

15 They that dwell in mine house, and my maids, count me for a stranger: I am an alian, in their sight.

16 I called my servant, and he gave me no answer: I entreated him with my mouth.

17 My breath is strange to my wife, though I entreated for the childrens sake of mine own body.

18 Yea, young children despised me; I arose, and they spake against me.

19 All my inward friends abhorred me: and they whom I loved, are turned against me.

20 My bone cleaveth to my skin, and to my flesh, and I am escaped with the skin of my teeth.

21 Have pity upon me, have pity upon me, O ye my friends, for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why do ye persecute me as God, and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Oh that my words were now written, Oh that they were printed in a book!

24 That they were graven with an iron pen and lead, in the rock for ever!

25 For I know that my redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth.

26 And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God:

27 Whom shall I see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another; though my reins be consumed within me.

28 But ye should say, Why persecute we him, seeing the root of the matter is not found in me?

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword, that ye may know there is a judgment.

CHAP. XX.

THEN answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Therefore do my thoughts cause me to answer, and for this I make haste.

3 I have heard the check of my reproach, and the spirit of my understanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest

CHAP. XVII.] 1 My breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the graves are ready for me.] My vital spirits are spent, the lamp of life gives but a glimmering and dying flame, just sufficient to render visible the graves, which on every side are open to receive me.

2 Are there not mockers with me? and doth not mine eye continue in their provocation?] How can I support my spirits under such a load of miseries, when my friends, instead of comforting me, make use of the most bitter reproaches? This so highly provokes me, that sleep is become a stranger to mine eyes.

16 They shall go down to the bars of the pit, when our rest together is in the dust.] All the hopes you flatter me with shall sink to the bottom of the grave, when we all take up our lodging in the dust.

CHAP. XVIII.] 1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said.] Bildad again takes up the dispute, and pretends to answer the arguments of Job; but added nothing to what had been offered before by himself and his friends: nor does he here so much as exhort Job to repentance, as he had done before, being very angry with him for the contempt he had expressed of their wisdom.

21 Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.] This, certainly, is a true description of the miserable state of the wicked; such is the abject condition of those who pay no honour to their Maker.

CHAP. XIX.] 25, 26, 27, For I know that my redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth, &c.] The literal sense of this famous passage is as follows: "Though I seem at present to be forsaken of God, yet I "well know that he can deliver me from this miserable condition; for he lives "for ever: And I do not doubt he will at last appear victorious over all mine "enemies, which now oppress me. And though the worms, which have already "devoured my skin, should consume the rest of this wretched body, yet I find "myself inspired with the comfortable belief, that I shall live to see myself re-"stored to my former health and splendor; for he will not suffer me always to "labour under these reproaches: and I assure myself, that with these very eyes, "I shall see him vindicate my innocence." But these words have also a spiritual and prophetical sense, signifying the resurrection of the body at the last day, and the coming of our Great Redeemer to judgment.

CHAP. XX.] 1 Then answered Zophar the Naathamite, and said.] Zophar hastily interrupted Job, though he had nothing new to offer. He indeed illustrates his discourse with many histories from the old world; insisting that the wicked, and they only, are always punished in this world, and thence concludes that Job must be a wicked man.

4 Knowest thou no this of old, since man was placed upon earth,
5 That the triumphing of the wicked is short, and the joy of the hypocrite but for a moment?
6 Though his excellency mount up to the heavens, and his head reach unto the clouds:
7 Yet he shall perish for ever, like his own dung: they which have seen him shall say, Where is he?
8 He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found: yea, he shall be chased away as a vision of the night.
9 The eye also which saw him, shall see him no more; neither shall his place any more behold him.
10 His children shall seek to please the poor, and his hands shall restore their goods.
11 His bones are full of the sin of his youth, which shall lie down with him in the dust.
12 Though wickedness be sweet in his mouth, though he hide it under his tongue;
13 Though he spare it, and forsake it not; but keep it still within his mouth;
14 Yet his meat in his bowels is turned, it is the gall of asps within him.
15 He hath swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again: God shall cast them out of his belly.
16 He shall suck the poison of asps: the viper's tongue shall slay him.
17 He shall not see the rivers, the floods, the brooks of honey and butter.
18 That which he laboured for shall he restore, and shall not swallow it down: according to his substance shall the restitution be, and he shall not rejoice therein.
19 Because he hath oppressed, and hath forsaken the poor; because he hath violently taken away an house which he builded not;
20 Surely he shall not feel quietness in his belly, he shall not save of that which he desired.
21 There shall none of his meat be left; therefore shall no man look for his goodness.
22 In the fulness of his sufficiency he shall be in straits: every hand of the wicked shall come upon him.
23 When he is about to fill his belly, God shall cast the fury of his wrath upon him, and shall rain it upon him while he is eating.
24 He shall flee from the iron weapon and the bow of steel shall strike him through.
25 It is drawn and cometh out of the body; yea, the glittering sword cometh out of his gall; terrors are upon him.
26 All darkness shall be hid in his secret places: a fire not blown shall consume him; it shall go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle.
27 The heaven shall reveal his iniquity; and the earth shall rise up against him.
28 The increase of his house shall depart, and his goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath.
29 This is the portion of a wicked man from God, and the heritage appointed unto him by God.

CHAP. XXI

BUT Job answeredand said,
2 Hear diligently my speech, and let this be your consolations.
3 Suffer me that I may speak, and after that I have spoken, mock on.
4 As for me, is my complaint to man? and if it were so, why should not my spirit be troubled?
5 Mark me, and be astonished, and lay your hand upon your mouth.
6 Even when I remember, I am afraid, and trembling taketh hold on my flesh.
7 Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea, are mighty in power?
8 Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their offspring before their eyes.
9 Their houses are safe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.
10 Their bull gendereth and faileth not, their cow calveth and casteth not her calf.
11 They send forth their little ones like a flock, and their children dance.
12 They take the timbrel and harp, and rejoyce at the sound of the organ.
13 They spend their days in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave.
14 Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us; for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways.
15 What is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have if we pray unto him?
16 Lo, their good is not in their hand: the counsel of the wicked is far from me.
17 How oft is the candle of the wicked put out? and how oft cometh their destruction upon them? God distributeth sorrows in his anger.
18 They are as stubble before the wind, and as chaff that the storm carrieth away.
19 God layeth up his iniquity for his children: he rewardeth him, and he shall know it.
20 His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drink of the wrath of the Almighty.
21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his months is cut off in the midst?
22 Shall any teach God knowledge? seeing he judgeth those that are high.
23 One dieth in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet.
24 His breasts are full of milk, and his bones are moistened with marrow.
25 And another dieth in the bitterness of his soul, and never eateth with pleasure.
26 They shall lie down alike in the dust, and the worms shall cover them.
27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.
28 For ye say, Where is the house of the prince? and where are the dwelling-places of the wicked?
29 Have ye not asked them that go by the way? and do ye not know their tokens?
30 That the wicked is reserved to the day of destruction; they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 Who shall declare his way to his face? and who shall repay him what he hath done?
32 Yet shall he be brought to the grave, and shall remain in the tomb.
33 The clods of the valley shall be sweet unto him, and every man shall draw after him, as there are innumerable before him.
34 How then comfort ye me in vain, seeing in your answers there remaineth falshood.

CHAP. XXII.

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,
2 Can a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself?
3 Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him, that thou makest thy ways perfect?
4 Will he reprove thee for fear of thee? will he enter with thee into judgment?
5 Is not thy wickedness great? and thine iniquities infinite?
6 For thou hast taken a pledge from thy brother for nought, and stripped the naked of their cloathing.
7 Thou hast not given water to the weary to drink, and thou hast with-holden bread from the hungry.
8 But as for the mighty man, he had the earth, and the honourable man dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast sent widows away empty, and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.
10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and sudden fear troubleth thee;
11 Or darkness, that thou canst not see, and abundance of waters cover thee.
12 Is not God in the height of heaven? and behold the height of the stars, how high they are?
13 And thou sayest, How doth God know? can he judge through the dark cloud?
14 Thick clouds are a covering to him that he seeth not, and he walketh in the circuit of heaven.
15 Hast thou marked the old way which wicked men have trodden?
16 Which were cut down out of time, whose foundation was overflown with a flood:
17 Which said unto God, Depart from us: and what can the Almighty do for them?
18 Yet he filled their houses with good things: but the counsel of the wicked is far from me.
19 The

29 This is the portion of a wicked man from God, &c.] This is the portion which the righteous judge of all the earth will allot to the wicked: thus will the Almighty deal with all the workers of iniquity.

CHAP. XXI.] 1 But Job answered and said.] Job, to bring the dispute to a more speedy issue, comes, after a short preface, more closely to the point, not contenting himself merely with denying what they had said, but proving from authentic histories, that though God does sometimes punish the wicked in an exemplary manner, yet this is not always the case, there being innumerable instances, where the vilest of mortals have enjoyed every satisfaction this world was capable of affording, and left at their death large possessions to their children.

17 How oft is the candle of the wicked put out, &c.] But how oft is the joyous candle of the wicked extinguished in a torrent of sorrow? and how often does vengeance overtake them, as a traveller is surprised by a tempest in the solitary wastes? But such is not always the portion of the wicked.

CHAP. XXII.] 1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said.] Notwithstanding what Job had said in the foregoing chapter, yet Eliphaz still continued the dispute, though he had no new argument to offer. He indeed draws up a catalogue of the most pernicious crimes, and boldly declares, that Job must have been guilty of them, because he was punished in so exemplary a manner; founding his argument upon the same basis as before, namely, that only the wicked are punished.

CHAP.

19 The righteous ſee it, and are glad: and the innocent laugh them to ſcorn.

20 Whereas our ſubſtance is not cut down, but the remnant of them the fire conſumeth.

21 Acquaint now thyſelf with him, and be at peace: thereby good ſhall come unto thee.

22 Receive, I pray thee, the law from his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.

23 If thou return to the Almighty, thou ſhalt be built up, thou ſhalt put away iniquity far from thy tabernacles.

24 Then ſhalt thou lay up gold as duſt, and the gold of Ophir as the ſtones of the brooks.

25 Yea, the Almighty ſhall be thy defence, and thou ſhalt have plenty of ſilver.

26 For then ſhalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and ſhalt lift up thy face unto God.

27 Thou ſhalt make thy prayer unto him, and he ſhall hear thee, and thou ſhalt pay thy vows.

28 Thou ſhalt alſo decree a thing, and it ſhall be eſtabliſhed unto thee: and the light ſhall ſhine upon thy ways.

29 When men are caſt down, then thou ſhalt ſay, There is lifting up: and he ſhall ſave the humble perſon.

30 He ſhall deliver the iſland of the innocent: and it is delivered by the pureneſs of thine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

THEN Job anſwered and ſaid,

2 Even to-day is my complaint bitter: my ſtroke is heavier than my groaning.

3 O that I knew where I might find him! that I might come even to his ſeat!

4 I would order my cauſe before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

5 I would know the words which he would anſwer me, and underſtand what he would ſay unto me,

6 Will he plead againſt me with his great power? No, but he would put ſtrength in me.

7 There the righteous might diſpute with him; ſo ſhould I be delivered for ever from my judge.

8 Behold, I go forward but he is not there; and backward, but I cannot perceive him:

9 On the left hand where he doth work, but I cannot behold him: he hideth himſelf on the right hand, that I cannot ſee him.

10 But he knoweth the way that I take: when he hath tried me, I ſhall come forth as gold.

11 My foot hath held his ſteps, his way have I kept, and not declined.

12 Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips, I have eſteemed the words of his mouth more than my neceſſary food.

13 But he is in one mind, and who can turn him? and what his ſoul deſireth even that he doth.

14 For he performeth the thing that is appointed for me: and many ſuch things are with him.

15 Therefore am I troubled at his preſence: when I conſider, I am afraid of him.

16 For God maketh my heart ſoft, and the Almighty troubleth me:

17 Becauſe I was not cut off before the darkneſs, neither hath he covered the darkneſs from my face.

CHAP. XXIV.

WHY, ſeeing times are not hidden from the Almighty, do they that know him, not ſee his days:

2 Some remove the land-marks; they violently take away flocks, and feed thereof.

3 They drive away the aſs of the fatherleſs, they take the widow's ox for a pledge.

4 They turn the needy out of the way: the poor of the earth hide themſelves together.

5 Behold, as wild aſſes in the deſart go they forth to their work, riſing betimes for a prey: the wilderneſs yieldeth food for them and for their children.

6 They reap every one his corn in the field, and they gather the vintage of the wicked.

7 They cauſe the naked to lodge without clothing, that they have no covering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the ſhowers of the mountains, and embrace the rock for a want of ſhelter.

9 They pluck the fatherleſs from the breaſt, and take a pledge of the poor.

10 They cauſe him to go naked without cloathing, and they take away the ſheaf from the hungry.

11 Which make oil within their walls, and tread their wine-preſſes, and ſuffer thirſt.

12 Men groan from out of the city, and the ſoul of the wounded crieth out: yet God layeth not folly to them.

13 They are of thoſe that rebel againſt the light, they know not the ways thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof.

14 The murderer riſing with the light, killeth the poor and needy, and in the night he is as a thief.

15 The eye alſo of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, ſaying, No eye ſhall ſee me: and diſguiſeth his face.

16 In the dark they dig through houſes, which they had marked for themſelves in the day-time: they know not the light.

17 For the morning is to them, even as the ſhadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrors of the ſhadow of death.

18 He is ſwift as the waters, their portion is curſed in the earth: he beholdeth not the way of the vineyards.

19 Drought and heat conſume the ſnow-waters: ſo doth the grave thoſe which have ſinned.

20 The womb ſhall forget him, the worm ſhall feed ſweetly on him, he ſhall be no more remembered, and wickedneſs ſhall be broken as a tree.

21 He evil entreateth the barren that beareth not: and doth not good to the widow.

22 He draweth alſo the mighty with his power: he riſeth up, and no man is ſure of life.

23 Though it be given him to be in ſafety, whereon he reſteth; yet his eyes are upon their ways.

24 They are exalted for a little while, but are gone and brought low, they are taken out of the way as all other, and cut off as the tops of the ears of corn.

25 And if it be not ſo now, who will make me a liar, and make my ſpeech nothing worth?

CHAP. XXV.

THEN anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſaid,

2 Dominion and fear are with him, he maketh peace in his high places.

3 Is there any number of his armies? and upon whom doth not his light ariſe?

4 How then can man be juſtified with God? or how can he be clean that is born of a woman?

5 Behold, even to the moon, and it ſhineth not; yea, the ſtars are not pure in his ſight.

6 How much leſs man that is a worm: and the ſon of man which is a worm.

CHAP. XXVI.

BUT Job anſwered and ſaid,

2 How haſt thou helped him that is without power? how ſaveſt thou the arm that hath no ſtrength?

3 How haſt thou counſelled him that hath no wiſdom? and how haſt thou plentifully declared the thing, as it is?

4 To whom haſt thou uttered words? and whoſe ſpirit came from thee?

5 Dead things are formed from under the waters, and the inhabitants thereof.

6 Hell is naked before him, and deſtruction hath no covering.

7 He ſtretcheth out the north over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing.

8 He bindeth up the waters in his thick clouds, and the cloud is not rent under them.

9 He holdeth back the face of his throne, and ſpreadeth his cloud upon it.

10 He hath compaſſeth the waters with bounds, until the day and night come to an end.

11 The pillars of heaven tremble, and are aſtoniſhed at his reproof.

12 He divideth the ſea with his power: and by his underſtanding he ſmiteth through the proud.

13 By his ſpirit he hath garniſhed the heavens: his hand hath formed the crooked ſerpent.

14 Lo, theſe are parts of his ways: but how little a portion is heard of him? but the thunder of his power who can underſtand?

CHAP.

CHAP. XXIII.] 1 Then Job anſwered and ſaid.] Job, in this chapter, again appeals to God, by whom he deſires, more earneſtly than ever, to be tried, being ſatisfied that he ſhould be acquitted at his equitable tribunal. And though God was pleaſed for the preſent to deny his requeſt, yet he ſtill hopes that God would at laſt clear him from all the unjuſt aſperſions his enemies had unjuſtly thrown upon him.

11 My foot hath held his ſteps, his ways have I kept, and not declined.] I have always followed very religiouſly his directions; nor has any temptation ever made me ſwerve from his commandments.

CHAP. XXIV.] 1 Why, ſeeing times are not hidden from the Almighty, do they that know him not ſee his days?] If, as you maintain, the Almighty's puniſhment of the wicked is ſo apparent and viſible, why do not the truly virtuous ſee and acknowledge theſe open judgments?

CHAP. XXV.] 5, 6 Behold, even to the moon, and it ſhineth not; yea, the ſtars are not pure in his ſight, &c.] So inconceivably holy is the Lord of hoſts, that he ſees defilement even in the brightneſs of yonder firmament. Thoſe living ſapphires, before his majeſty, loſe their luſtre: how much leſs man, who is little better than a worm, that crawls in the corrupted carcaſe; and the ſon of man, who, by reaſon of his manifold impurities, is too juſtly compared to an inſect that wallows amidſt ſtench and putrefaction.

CHAP. XXVI.] 14 Lo, theſe are parts of his ways.] Job, after thus deſcribing ſeveral wonderful works of the Almighty, as they are ſcattered through univerſal nature, from the heights of heaven to the very depths of hell, cloſes the magnificent account with this noble acknowledgment, Lo, theſe are parts of his ways: or, as the original word more properly ſignifies, theſe are only the ſkirts; the

CHAP. XXVII.

MOreover, Job continued his parable, and ſaid,
2 As God liveth, who hath taken away my judgment, and the Almighty, who hath vexed my ſoul;
3 All the while my breath is in me, and the ſpirit of God is in my noſtrils;
4 My lips ſhall not ſpeak wickedneſs, nor my tongue utter deceit.
5 God forbid that I ſhould juſtify you: till I die I will not remove my integrity from me.
6 My righteouſneſs I hold faſt, and will not let it go: my heart ſhall not reproach me ſo long as I live.
7 Let mine enemy be as the wicked, and he that riſeth up againſt me, as the unrighteous.
8 For what is the hope of the hypocrite, though he hath gained, when God taketh away his ſoul?
9 Will God hear his cry when trouble cometh upon him?
10 Will he delight himſelf in the Almighty? will he always call upon God?
11 I will teach you by the hand of God: that which is with the Almighty, will I not conceal.
12 Behold, all ye yourſelves have ſeen it, why then are ye thus altogether vain?
13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of oppreſſors, which they ſhall receive of the Almighty.
14 If his children be multiplied, it is for the ſword: and his offſpring ſhall not be ſatisfied with bread.
15 Thoſe that remain of him ſhall be buried in death: and his widows ſhall not weep.
16 Though he heap up ſilver as the duſt, and prepare raiment as the clay;
17 He may prepare it, but the juſt ſhall put it on, and the innocent ſhall divide the ſilver.
18 He buildeth his houſe as a moth, and as a booth that the keeper maketh.
19 The rich man ſhall lie down, but he ſhall not be gathered: he openeth his eyes, and he is not.
20 Terrors take hold on him as waters, a tempeſt ſtealeth him away in the night.
21 The eaſt-wind carrieth him away, and he departeth: and as a ſtorm hurleth him out of his place.
22 For God ſhall caſt upon him, and not ſpare: he would fain flee out of his hand.
23 Men ſhall clap their hands at him, and ſhall hiſs him out of his place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

SUrely there is a vein for the ſilver, and a place for gold where they fine it.
2 Iron is taken out of the earth, and braſs is molten out of the ſtone.
3 He ſetteth an end to darkneſs, and ſearcheth out all perfection: the ſtones of darkneſs and the ſhadow of death.
4 The flood breaketh out from the inhabitant; even the waters forgotten of the foot: they are dried up, they are gone away from men.
5 As for the earth, out of it cometh bread: and under it is turned up as it were fire.
6 The ſtones of it are the place of ſapphires: and it hath duſt of gold.
7 There is a path which no fowl knoweth, and which the vulture's eye hath not ſeen.
8 The lions whelps hath not trodden it, nor the fierce lion paſſed by it.
9 He putteth forth his hand upon the rock; he overturneth the mountains by the roots.
10 He cutteth out rivers among the rocks, and his eye ſeeth every precious thing.
11 He bindeth the floods from overflowing, and the thing that is hid, bringeth he forth to light.
12 But where ſhall wiſdom be found? and where is the place of underſtanding?
13 Man knoweth not the price thereof: neither is it found in the land of the living.
14 The depth ſaith, It is not in me: and the ſea ſaith, It is not with me.
15 It cannot be gotten for gold, neither ſhall ſilver be weighed for the price thereof.
16 It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir, with the precious onyx, or the ſapphire.
17 The gold and the cryſtal cannot equal it: and the exchange of it ſhall not be for jewels of fine gold.
18 No mention ſhall be made of coral, or of pearls: for the price of wiſdom is above rubies.
19 The Topaz of Ethiopia ſhall not equal it, neither ſhall it be valued with pure gold.
20 Whence then cometh wiſdom? and where is the place of underſtanding?
21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all living, and kept cloſe from the fowls of the air.
22 Deſtruction and death ſay, we have heard the fame thereof with our ears.
23 God underſtandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.
24 For he looketh to the ends of the earth, and ſeeth under the whole heaven.
25 To make the weight for the winds, and he weigheth the waters by meaſure.
26 When he made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lightening of the thunder:
27 Then did he ſee it, and declare it; he prepared it, yea, and ſearched it out.
28 And unto man he ſaid, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wiſdom, and to depart from evil is underſtanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

MOreover, Job continued his parable, and ſaid,
2 Oh that I were as in months paſt, as in the days when God preſerved me:
3 When his candle ſhined upon my head, and when by his light I walked through darkneſs:
4 As I was in the days of my youth, when the ſecret of God was upon my tabernacle:
5 When the Almighty was yet with me, when my children were about me.
6 When I waſhed my ſteps with butter, and the rock poured me out rivers of oil:
7 When I went out to the gate, through the city, when I prepared my ſeat in the ſtreet.
8 The young men ſaw me, and hid themſelves: and the aged aroſe, and ſtood up.
9 The princes refrained talking, and laid their hands on their mouth.
10 The nobles held their peace, and their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.
11 When the ear heard me, then it bleſſed me, and when the eye ſaw me, it gave witneſs to me:
12 Becauſe I delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherleſs, and him that had none to help him.
13 The bleſſing of him that was ready to periſh came upon me: and I cauſed the widow's heart to ſing for joy.
14 I put on righteouſneſs, and it cloathed me: my judgment was as a robe and a diadem.
15 I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame.
16 I was a father to the poor: and the cauſe which I knew not, I ſearched out.
17 And I brake the jaws of the wicked, and plucked the ſpoil out of his teeth.
18 Then I ſaid, I ſhall die in my neſt, and I ſhall multiply my days as the ſand.
19 My root was ſpread out by the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch.
20 My glory was freſh in me, and my bow was renewed in my hand.
21 Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and kept ſilence at my counſel.
22 After my words they ſpake not again, and my ſpeech dropped upon them.
23 And they waited for me, as for the rain, and they opened their mouth wide as for the latter rain.
24 If I laughed on them, they believed it not, and the light of my countenance they caſt not down.
25 I choſe out their way, and ſat chief, and dwelt as a king in the army, as one that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

BUT now they that are younger than I, have me in deriſion, whoſe fathers I would have diſdained to have ſet with the dogs of my flock.
2 Yea,

the very outermoſt borders of his works; no more than a ſmall preface to the immenſe volume of the creation.

CHAP. XXVII.] 8 For what is the hope of the hypocrite---when God taketh away his ſoul?] It is ſurely madneſs for a man to counterfeit piety; for tho' he may accumulate riches by ſuch deceit, yet how dreadful will be his portion, when he quits this tenement of clay, and ſtands before the tribunal of his Maker?

CHAP. XXVIII.] 12 But where ſhall wiſdom be found, &c.] But however ſucceſsful he may be in theſe reſearches, he muſt not hope to comprehend the ſecret reaſons of Providence; nor diſcover the reaſon why the wicked, who inſolently contemn their Maker, are nor puniſhed in this world.

28 And unto man he ſaid, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wiſdom, &c.] The Almighty, when he created man, imprinted this leſſon upon his heart, that he ought to adore, not preſume to cenſure, the ſecret ways of Providence, in his governance of the world.

CHAP. XXIX.] 1 Moreover, Job continued his parable, and ſaid.] Job preſumes that his friends would have liſtened with greater attention to his diſcourſes, had not the vileneſs of his preſent condition rendered his ſpeech alſo contemptible; and therefore he deſires them to remember with what reverence all his ſpeeches were formerly received, by every claſs of people: wiſhing that God would reſtore him to his former proſperity, as he never abuſed his power, but always employed it to defend the poor and friendleſs from oppreſſion.

CHAP. XXX.] 1 But now they that are younger than I, have me in deriſion, &c.] But now, alas! the youths who formerly beheld me with reverence, have the confidence to mock me.

2 Yea, whereto might the strength of their hands profit me, in whom old age was perished?
3 For want and famine, they were solitary: fleeing into the wilderness in former time desolate and waste:
4 Who cut up mallows by the bushes, and juniper-roots for their meat.
5 They were driven forth from among men (they cried after them, as after a thief)
6 To dwell in the clifts of the valleys, in caves of the earth, and in the rocks.
7 Among the bushes they brayed, under the nettles they were gathered together.
8 They were children of fools, yea, children of base men: they were viler than the earth.
9 And now am I their song, yea, I am their by-word.
10 They abhor me, they flee far from me, and spare not to spit in my face.
11 Because he hath loosed my cord and afflicted me, they have also let loose the bridle before me.
12 Upon my right hand rise the youth, they push away my feet, and they raise up against me the ways of their destruction.
13 They mar my path, they set forward my calamity, they have no helper.
14 They came upon me as a wide breaking in of waters: in the desolation they rolled themselves upon me.
15 Terrors are turned upon me: they pursue my soul as the wind: and my welfare passeth away as a cloud.
16 And now my soul is poured out upon me; the days of affliction have taken hold upon me.
17 My bones are pierced in me in the night-season: and my sinews take no rest.
18 By the great force of my disease is my garment changed: it bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.
19 He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like dust and ashes.
20 I cry unto thee, and thou dost not hear me: I stand up, and thou regardest me not 21 Thou art become cruel to me: with thy strong hand thou opposest thyself against me.
22 Thou liftest me up to the wind: thou causest me to ride upon it, and dissolvest my substance.
23 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all living.
24 Howbeit, he will not stretch out his hand to the grave, tho' they cry in his destruction.
25 Did not I weep for him that was in trouble? was not my soul grieved for the poor?
26 When I looked for good, then evil came unto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkness.
26 My bowels boiled and rested not: the days of affliction prevented me.
28 I went mourning without the sun: I stood up, and I cried in the congregation.
29 I am a brother to dragons, and a companion to owls.
30 My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burnt with heat.
31 My harp also is turned to mourning, and my organ into the voice of them that weep.

CHAP. XXXI.

I Made a covenant with mine eyes; why then should I think upon a maid?
2 For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?
3 Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity?
4 Doth not he see my ways, and count all my steps?
5 If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot hath hasted to deceit;
6 Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity.
7 If my step hath turned out of the way, and mine heart walked after mine eyes, and if any blot hath cleaved to mine hands:
8 Then let me sow, and let another eat; yea, let my offspring be rooted out.
9 If mine heart hath been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at my neighbour's door:
10 Then let my wife grind unto another, and let others bow down upon her.
11 For this is an heinous crime, yea, it is an iniquity to be punished by the judges.
12 For it is a fire that consumeth to destruction, and would root out all mine increase.
13 If I did despise the cause of my man-servant, or of my maid-servant, when they contended with me:
14 What then shall I do when God riseth up? and when he visiteth, what shall I answer him?
15 Did not he that made me in the womb, make him? and did not one fashion us in the womb?
16 If I have with-held the poor from their desire, or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail:
17 Or have eaten my morsel myself alone, and the fatherless hath not eaten thereof:
18 (For from my youth he was brought up with me, as with a father, and I have guided her from my mother's womb.)
19 If I have seen any perish for want of cloathing, or any poor without covering:
20 If his loins have not blessed me, and if he were not warmed with the fleece of my sheep;
21 If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless, when I saw my help in the gate:
22 Then let mine arm fall from my shoulderblade, and mine arm be broken from the bone.
23 For destruction from God was a terror to me, and by reason of his highness I could not endure.
24 If I have made gold my hope, or have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence:
25 If I rejoiced because my wealth was great, and because mine hand had gotten much:
26 If I beheld the sun when it shined, or the moon walking in brightness.
27 And my heart hath been secretly enticed, or my mouth hath kissed my hand:
28 This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judge: for I should have denied the God that is above.
29 If I rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me, or lifted up myself when evil found him:
30 (Neither have I suffered my mouth to sin, by wishing a curse to his soul.)
31 If the men of my tabernacle said not, Oh that we had of his flesh! we cannot be satisfied.
32 The stranger did not lodge in the street: but I opened my doors to the traveller.
33 If I covered my transgressions, as Adam: by hiding mine iniquity in my bosom:
34 Did I fear a great multitude, or did the contempt of families terrify me: that I kept silence, and went not out of the door?
35 O that one would hear me! behold, my desire is, that the Almighty would answer me, and that mine adversary had written a book.
36 Surely I would take it upon my shoulder, and bind it as a crown to me.
37 I would declare unto him the number of my steps, as a prince would I go near unto him.
38 If my land cry against me, or that the furrows likewise thereof complain:
39 If I have eaten the fruits thereof without money, or have caused the owners thereof to lose their life:
40 Let thistles grow instead of wheat, and cockle instead of barley. The words of Job are ended.

CHAP. XXXII.

SO these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes.
2 Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the kindred of Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God.
3 Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job.
4 Now Elihu had waited till Job had spoken, because they were elder than he.
5 When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, then his wrath was kindled.
6 And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said, I am young, and ye are very old, wherefore I was afraid, and durst not shew you mine opinion.
7 I said, days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom.
8 But there is a spirit in man: and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding.
9 Great men are not always wise: neither do the aged understand judgment.
10 Therefore

---

29 I am a brother to dragons, and a companion to owls.] I spend my whole time in lamentation, like one of those mournful creatures which fill the barren wastes with their doleful cries.

CHAP. XXXI.] 1 I made a covenant with mine eyes; why then should I think upon a maid?] I have been very careful to avoid even the occasions of lasciviousness; and therefore it cannot be thought I ever laid a scheme to corrupt a virgin.

2 For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?] For I well know that in heaven there is an Almighty Being, who created and governs all things and what must I expect from him as the reward of such impurity?

CHAP. XXXII.] 1 So these three men ceased to answer Job, &c.] His three friends now discontinued the dispute, because they saw Job was fully persuaded of his own innocence, and determined to defend it.

CHAP. XXXIII.] 3 My words shall be of the uprightness of my heart, &c.] My words shall paint the sincere dictates of my heart, and my instructions shall be delivered with clearness and perspicuity.

10 Therefore I said, hearken to me, I also will shew mine opinion.

11 Behold, I waited for your words; I gave ear to your reasons, whilst ye searched out what to say.

12 Yea, I attended unto you: and behold, there was none of you that convinced Job, or that answered his words:

13 Lest ye should say we have found out wisdom: God thrusteth him down, not man.

14 Now he hath not directed his words against me: neither will I answer him with your speeches.

15 They were amazed, they answered no more: they left off speaking.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still, and answered no more)

17 I said, I will answer also my part, I also will shew mine opinion.

18 For I am full of matter, the spirit within me constraineth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as wine which hath no vent, it is ready to burst like new bottles.

20 I will speak, that I may be refreshed: I will open my lips, and answer.

21 Let me not, I pray you, accept any man's person, neither let me give flattering titles unto man.

22 For I know not to give flattering titles, in so doing my maker would soon take me away.

CHAP. XXXIII.

WHerefore, Job, I pray thee, hear my speeches, and hearken to all my words.

2 Behold, now I have opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My words shall be of the uprightness of my heart: and my lips shall utter knowledge clearly.

4 The spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life.

5 If thou canst answer me, set thy words in order before me, stand up.

6 Behold, I am according to thy wish in God's stead: I also am formed out of the clay.

7 Behold, my terror shall not make thee afraid, neither shall my hand be heavy upon thee.

8 Surely thou hast spoken in mine hearing, and I have heard the voice of thy words, saying,

9 I am clean without transgression, I am innocent; neither is there iniquity in me.

10 Behold, he findeth occasions against me, he counteth me for his enemy.

11 He putteth my feet in the stocks, he marketh all my paths.

12 Behold, in this thou art not just: I will answer thee, that God is greater than man.

13 Why dost thou strive against him? for he giveth not account of any of his matters.

14 For God speaketh once, yea, twice, yet man perceiveth it not.

15 In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falleth upon men, in slumberings upon the bed:

16 Then he openeth the ears of men, and sealeth their instruction,

17 That he may withdraw man from his purpose, and hide pride from man.

18 He keepeth back his soul from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword.

19 He is chastened also with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with strong pain:

20 So that his life abhorreth bread, and his soul dainty meat.

21 His flesh is consumed away that it cannot be seen, and his bones that were not seen, stick out.

22 Yea, his soul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the destroyers.

23 If there be a messenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thousand, to shew unto man his uprightness:

24 Then he is gracious unto him, and saith, Deliver him from going down to the pit, I have found a ransom.

25 His flesh shall be fresher than a child's: he shall return to the days of his youth.

26 He shall pray unto God, and he will be favourable unto him, and he shall see his face with joy: for he will render unto man his righteousness.

27 He looketh upon men, and if any say, I have sinned and perverted that which was right, and it profited me not;

28 He will deliver his soul from going into the pit, and his life shall see light.

22 Lo, all these things worketh God oftentimes with man.

30 To bring back his soul from the pit, to be enlightened with the light of the living.

31 Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me, hold thy peace, and I will speak.

32 If thou hast any thing to say, answer me: speak, for I desire to justify thee.

33 If not, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I shall teach thee wisdom.

CHAP. XXXIV.

FUrthermore Elihu answered and said,

2 Hear my words, O ye wise men, and give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.

3 For the ear trieth words, as the mouth tasteth meat.

4 Let us choose to us judgment: let us know among ourselves what is good.

5 For Job hath said, I am righteous: and God hath taken away my judgment.

6 Should I lye against my right? my wound is incurable without transgression.

7 What man is like Job, who drinketh up scorning like water?

8 Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men.

9 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing, that he should delight himself with God.

10 Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding: far be it from God, that he should do wickedness, and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity.

11 For the work of a man shall he render unto him, and cause every man to find according to his ways.

12 Yea, surely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment.

13 Who hath given him a charge over the earth? or who hath disposed the whole world?

14 If he set his heart upon man, if he gather unto himself his spirit and his breath;

14 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall turn again unto dust.

16 If now thou hast understanding, hear this: hearken to the voice of my words.

17 Shall even he that hateth right, govern? and wilt thou condemn him that is most just?

18 Is it fit to say to a king, Thou art wicked? and to princes, Ye are ungodly?

19 How much less to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? for they all are the work of his hands.

20 In a moment shall they die, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and pass away: and the mighty shall be taken away without hand.

21 For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkness nor shadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.

23 For he will not lay upon man more than right; that he should enter into judgment with God.

24 He shall break in pieces mighty men without number, and set others in their stead.

25 Therefore he knoweth their works, and he overturneth them in the night, so that they are destroyed.

26 He striketh them as wicked men in the open sight of others:

27 Because they turned back from him, and would not consider any of his ways.

28 So that they cause the cry of the poor to come unto him, and he heareth the cry of the afflicted.

29 When he giveth quietness, who then can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who then can behold him? whether it be done against a nation, or against a man only:

30 That the hypocrite reign not, lest the people be ensnared.

31 Surely it is meet to be said unto God, I have borne chastisement, I will not offend any more.

32 That which I see not, teach thou me: if I have done iniquity I will do no more.

33 Should it be according to thy mind? he will recompense it, whether thou refuse, or whether thou choose, and not I: therefore speak what thou knowest.

34 Let men of understanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken unto me.

35 Job hath spoken without knowledge, and his words were without wisdom.

36 My

12 Behold, in this thou art not just, &c.] Thou hast unjustly pretended to be entirely free from transgressions; but remember that this is a state of perfection absolutely impossible to be acquired by the sons of men: nor is there any comparison between God and the creatures of his hand.

22 Yea, his soul draweth near unto the grave, &c.] There is but one step between him and the grave; the pangs of death being ready to seize him.

CHAP. XXXIV.] 2 Hear my words, O ye wise men, &c.] I am far from desiring to be the only judge; I appeal to all acquainted with wisdom; and desire the intelligent among you, to listen attentively to what I am going to deliver.

22 There is no darkness, nor shadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.] The thickest darkness is no obstacle to his penetrating eye; every sin, however secretly committed, is open before him. Remember this, ye deluded mortals, who endeavour to conceal your infamous practices from the sight of day; for an eye keener than the lightning's flash, brighter than ten thousand suns, beholds them all.

CHAP.

36 My deſire is that Job may be tried unto the end, becauſe of his anſwers for wicked men.
37 For he addeth rebellion unto his ſin, he clappeth his hands among us, and multiplieth his words againſt God.

CHAP. XXXV.

ELIHU ſpake moreover, and ſaid,
2 Thinkeſt thou this to be right, that thou ſaidſt, My righ-teouſneſs is more than God's?
3 For thou ſaidſt, What advantage will it be unto thee? and
What profit ſhall I have, if I be cleanſed from my ſin?
4 I will anſwer thee, and thy companions with thee.
5 Look unto the heavens, and ſee, and behold the clouds which are higher than thou.
6 If thou ſinneſt, what doeſt thou againſt him? or if thy tranſ-greſſions be multiplied, what doeſt thou unto him?
7 If thou be righteous, what giveſt thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand?
8 Thy wickedneſs may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righ-teouſneſs may profit the ſon of man.
9 By reaſon of the multitude of oppreſſions, they make the op-preſſed to cry: they cry out by reaſon of the arm of the mighty.
10 But none ſaith, Where is God my maker, who giveth ſongs in the night?
11 Who teacheth us more than the beaſts of the earth, and maketh us wiſer than the fowls of heaven.
12 There they cry (but none giveth anſwer) becauſe of the pride of evil men.
13 Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.
14 Although thou ſayeſt thou ſhalt not ſee him, yet judgment is before him, therefore truſt thou in him.
15 But now becauſe it is not ſo, he hath viſited in his anger, yet he knoweth it not in great extremity:
16 Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vain: he multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

ELIHU alſo proceeded, and ſaid,
2 Suffer me a little, and I will ſhew thee that I have yet to ſpeak on God's behalf.
3 I will fetch my knowledge from afar, and will aſcribe righ-teouſneſs to my maker.
4 For truly, my words ſhall not be falſe: he that is perfect in knowledge is with thee.
5 Behold, God is mighty, and deſpiſeth not any: he is mighty in ſtrength and wiſdom.
6 He preſerveth not the life of the wicked: but giveth right to the poor.
7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous: but with kings are they on the throne, yea, he doth eſtabliſh them for ever, and they are exalted.
8 And if they be bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction:
9 Then he ſheweth them their work and their tranſgreſſions that they have exceeded.
10 He openeth alſo their ear to diſcipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity.
11 If they obey and ſerve him, they ſhall ſpend their days in proſperity, and their years in pleaſures.
12 But if they obey not, they ſhall periſh by the ſword, and they ſhall die without knowledge.
13 But the hypocrites in heart heap up wrath: they cry not when he bindeth them.
14 They die in youth, and their life is among the unclean.
15 He delivereth the poor in his affliction, and openeth their ears in oppreſſion.
16 Even ſo would he have removed thee out of the ſtrait into a broad place, where there is no ſtraitneſs, and that which ſhould be ſet on thy table, ſhould be full of fatneſs.
17 But thou haſt fulfilled the judgment of the wicked: judgment and juſtice take hold on thee.
18 Becauſe there is wrath, beware leſt he take thee away with his ſtroke: then a great ranſom cannot deliver thee.
19 Will he eſteem thy riches? no not gold, nor all the forces of ſtrength.
20 Deſire not the night, when people are cut off in their place.
21 Take heed, regard not iniquity: for this haſt thou choſen rather than affliction.
22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: who teacheth like him?
23 Who hath enjoined him his way? or who can ſay, thou haſt wrought iniquity?
24 Remember that thou magnify his work, which men behold.
25 Every man may ſee it, man may behold it afar off.
26 Behold, God is great, and we know him not, neither can the number of his years be ſearched out.
27 For he maketh ſmall the drops of water: they pour down rain according to the vapour thereof.
28 Which the clouds do drop, and diſtil upon man abundantly.
29 Alſo can any underſtand the ſpreadings of the clouds or the noiſe of his tabernacle?
30 Behold, he ſpreadeth his light upon it, and covereth the bottom of the ſea.
31 For by them judgeth he the people, he giveth meat in abundance.
32 With clouds he covereth the light; and commandeth it not to ſhine by the cloud that cometh betwixt.
33 The noiſe thereof ſheweth concerning it, the cattle alſo concerning the vapour.

CHAP. XXXVII.

AT this alſo my heart trembleth, and is moved out of his place.
2 Hear attentively the noiſe of his voice, and the ſound that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his lightning unto the ends of the earth.
4 After it a voice roareth: he thundereth with the voice of his excellency, and he will not ſtay them when his voice is heard.
5 God thundereth marvelloufly with his voice; great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend.
6 For he ſaith to the ſnow, Be thou on the earth; likewiſe to the ſmall rain, and to the great rain of his ſtrength.
7 He ſealeth up the hand of every man; that all men may know his work.
8 Then the beaſts go into dens, and remain in their places.
9 Out of the ſouth cometh the whirlwind: and cold out of the north.
10 By the breath of God froſt is given: and the breadth of the waters is ſtraitened.
11 Alſo by watering he wearieth the thick cloud: he ſcattereth his bright cloud.
12 And it is turned round about by his counſels: that they may do whatſoever he commandeth them upon the face of the world in the earth.
13 He cauſeth it to come, whether for correction, or for his land, or for mercy.
14 Hearken unto this, O Job: ſtand ſtill, and conſider the wonderous works of God.
15 Doſt thou know when God diſpoſed them, and cauſed the light of his cloud to ſhine?
16 Doſt thou know the balancings of the clouds, the wonderous works of him which is perfect in knowledge?
17 How thy garments are warm, when he quieteth the earth by the ſouth-wind?
18 Haſt thou with him ſpread out the ſky, which is ſtrong, and as a molten looking-glaſs?
19 Teach us what we ſhall ſay unto him; for we cannot order our ſpeech by reaſon of darkneſs.
20 Shall it be told him that I ſpeak? if a man ſpeak, ſurely he ſhall be ſwallowed up.
21 And now men ſee not the bright light which is in the clouds:
but the wind paſſeth and cleanſeth them.
22 Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majeſty.
23 Touching the almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of juſtice: he will not afflict.
24 Men do therefore fear him: he reſpecteth not any that are wiſe of heart.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

THEN the Lord anſwered Job out of the whirlwind, and ſaid, 2 Who is this that darkneth counſel by words without knowledge?
3 Gird up now thy loins like a man: for I will demand of thee, and anſwer thou me.

4 Where

CHAP. XXXV.] 2 Thinkeſt thou this to be right? &c.] Let me appeal to mine own conſcience. Canſt thou think it was right to ſay, I am more righteous than my Maker?
CHAP. XXXVI.] 5 Behold, God is mighty, and deſpiſeth not any, &c.] But though God is Almighty, yet he deſpiſeth not the meaneſt of his creatures: the excellency of his power, and the greatneſs of his mind, will not ſuffer him to do wrong.
29 Alſo can any underſtand the ſpreadings of the clouds, or the noiſe of his tabernacle? Who can tell me how the clouds are ſuſpended in the air, when they are full of water? or explain the cauſe of thoſe awful ſounds we often hear from them, and which tell us he reſides in the manſions of the ſky?
CHAP. XXXVII.] 13 He cauſeth it to come, whether for correction, or for his land, or for mercy.] It is ſometimes ſent as a ſcourge for our tranſgreſſions, by bringing peſtilential diſeaſes; ſometimes to produce the annual crops for the ſubſiſtence of all creatures inhabiting this earthly globe; and ſometimes to reward our obedience with extraordinary plenty, and ſeaſons remarkably healthy.

23 Touching the Almighty we cannot find him out, &c.] After all our reſearches, we muſt acknowledge, that our underſtanding is too limited to comprehend the Almighty.
CHAP. XXXVIII.] 1 Then the Lord anſwered Job out of the whirlwind, and ſaid.] Every one having ſpoke what he thought proper, a general ſilence enſued, when the Almighty himſelf appeared as a judge, to decide this great controverſy, and out of a whirlwind directed his ſpeech to Job; wherein, with the higheſt amplifications, he deſcribes his omnipotence in the formation and diſ-poſition of the ſeveral parts of the univerſe, and effectually convinced the ſuffering patriarch of his inability to underſtand the ways and the deſigns of providence.
This ſpeech of the Almighty is by much the fineſt part of this lofty performance. Biſhop Patrick ſays, its grandeur is as much above all other poetry as thunder is louder than a whiſper.

25 Who

4 Where waſt thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou haſt underſtanding.

5 Who hath laid the meaſures thereof, if thou knoweſt; or who hath ſtretched the line upon it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof faſtned? or who laid the corner-ſtone thereof?

7 When the morning ſtars ſang together, and all the ſons of God ſhouted for joy?

8 Or who ſhut up the ſea with doors, when it brake forth as if it had iſſued out of the womb?

9 When I made the cloud the garment thereof, and thick darkneſs a ſwaddling-band for it,

10 And brake up for it my decreed place, and ſet bars and doors,

11 And ſaid, Hitherto ſhalt thou come, but no further: and here ſhall thy proud waves be ſtayed.

12 Haſt thou commanded the morning ſince thy days? and cauſed the day-ſpring to know his place, 13 That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, that the wicked might be ſhaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to the ſeal, and they ſtand as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light is withholden, and the high arm ſhall be broken.

16 Haſt thou entered into the ſprings of the ſea? or haſt thou walked in the ſearch of the depth?

17 Have the gates of death been opened unto thee? or haſt thou ſeen the doors of the ſhadow of death?

18 Haſt thou perceived the breadth of the earth? declare, if thou knoweſt it all.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and as for darkneſs, where is the place thereof, 20 That thou ſhouldeſt take it to the bound thereof, and that thou ſhouldeſt know the paths to the houſe thereof?

21 Knoweſt thou it, becauſe thou waſt then born? or becauſe the number of thy days is great?

22 Haſt thou entered into the treaſures of the ſnow? or haſt thou ſeen the treaſures of the hail,

23 Which I have reſerved againſt the time of trouble, againſt the day of battle and war?

24 By what way is the light parted, which ſcattereth the eaſt-wind upon the earth?

25 Who hath divided a water-courſe for the overflowing of waters (or a way for the lightning of thunder,

26 To cauſe it to rain on the earth, where no man is; on the wilderneſs wherein there is no man?

27 To ſatisfy the deſolate and waſte ground, and to cauſe the bud of the tender herb to ſpring forth?

28 Hath the rain a father? or who hath begotten the drops of dew?

29 Out of whoſe womb came the ice? and the hoary froſt of heaven, who hath gendered it.

30 The waters are hid as with a ſtone, and the face of the deep is frozen.

31 Canſt thou bind the ſweet influences of Pleiades, or looſe the bands of Orion?

32 Canſt thou bring forth Mazzaroth in his ſeaſon, or canſt thou guide Arcturus with his ſons?

33 Knoweſt thou the ordinances of heaven? canſt thou ſet the dominion thereof in the earth?

34 Canſt thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that abundance of waters may cover thee?

35 Canſt thou ſend lightnings, that they may go, and ſay unto thee, Here we are?

36 Who hath put wiſdom in the inward parts? or who hath given underſtanding to the heart?

37 Who can number the clouds in wiſdom? or who can ſtay the bottles of heaven, 38 When the duſt groweth into hardneſs, and the clods cleave faſt together?

39 Wilt thou hunt the prey for the lion? or fill the appetite of the young lions, 40 When they couch in their dens, and abide in the covert to lie in wait?

41 Who provideth for the raven his food? when his young ones cry unto God, they wander for lack of meat.

CHAP. XXXIX.

KNOWEST thou the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth? or canſt thou mark when the hinds do calve?

2 Canſt thou number the months that they fulfil? or knoweſt thou the time when they bring forth?

3 They bow themſelves, they bring forth their young ones, they caſt out their ſorrows.

4 Their young ones are in good liking, they grow up with corn: they go forth, and return not unto them.

5 Who hath ſent out the wild aſs free? or who hath looſed the bands of the wild aſs?

6 Whoſe houſe I have made the wilderneſs, and the barren land his dwellings.

7 He ſcorneth the multitude of the city, neither regardeth he the crying of the driver.

8 The range of the mountains is his paſture, and he ſearcheth after every green thing.

9 Will the unicorn be willing to ſerve thee, or abide by thy crib?

10 Canſt thou bind the unicorn with his band in the furrow? or will he harrow the valleys after thee?

11 Wilt thou truſt him becauſe his ſtrength is great? or wilt thou leave thy labour to him?

12 Wilt thou believe him that he will bring home thy ſeed, and gather it into thy barn!

13 Gaveſt thou the goodly wings unto the peacocks? or wings and feathers unto the oſtrich?

14 Which leaveth her eggs in the earth, and warmeth them in duſt,

15 And forgetteth that the foot may cruſh them, or that the wild beaſt may break them.

16 She is hardened againſt her young ones, as though they were not hers: her labour is in vain without fear;

17 Becauſe God hath deprived her of wiſdom, neither hath he imparted to her underſtanding.

18 What time ſhe lifteth up herſelf on high, ſhe ſcorneth the horſe and his rider.

19 Haſt thou given the horſe ſtrength? haſt thou cloathed his neck with thunder?

20 Canſt thou make him afraid as a graſhopper? the glory of his noſtrils is terrible.

21 He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his ſtrength: he goeth on to meet the armed men.

22 He mocketh at fear, and is not affrighted; neither turneth he back from the ſword.

23 The quiver rattleth againſt him, the glittering ſpear and the ſhield.

24 He ſwalloweth the ground with fierceneſs and rage: neither believeth he that it is the ſound of the trumpet.

25 He ſaith among the trumpets, Ha, ha; and he ſmelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains, and the ſhouting.

26 Doth the hawk fly by thy wiſdom, and ſtretch her wings toward the ſouth?

27 Doth the eagle mount up at thy command, and make her neſt on high?

28 She dwelleth and abideth on the rock, upon the crag of the rock, and the ſtrong place.

29 From thence ſhe ſeeketh the prey, and her eyes behold afar off.

30 Her young ones alſo ſuck up blood: and where the ſlain are there is ſhe.

CHAP. XL.

MOREOVER, the Lord anſwered Job, and ſaid,

2 Shall he, that contendeth with the Almighty, inſtruct him? he that reproveth God, let him anſwer it.

3 ¶ Then Job anſwered the Lord, and ſaid,

4 Behold, I am vile, what ſhall I anſwer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth.

5 Once have I ſpoken, but I will not anſwer: yea, twice, but I will proceed no further.

6 ¶ Then anſwered the Lord unto Job out of the whirlwind and ſaid,

7 Gird up thy loins now like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

8 Wilt thou alſo diſannul my judgment? wilt thou condemn me that thou mayeſt be righteous?

9 Haſt thou an arm like God? or canſt thou thunder with a voice like him?

10 Deck thyſelf now with majeſty and excellency, and array thyſelf with glory and beauty.

25 Who hath divided a water-courſe for the overflowing of waters?] The Hebrew in this paſſage is ſo pregnant with ſenſe, that no tranſlation can do it juſtice. Perhaps the following paraphraſe may convey the principal ideas comprehended in the expreſſive original. Who hath branched out, and, with admirable judgment, diſpoſed, a variety of aqueducts for that immenſe collection of waters which float in the ſky? who diſtributes thoſe pendulous floods through all the earth? diſtributes them not in dreadful cataracts, or promiſcous gluts of rain, but in kindly drops, and refreſhing ſhowers, with the utmoſt regularity and œconomy.

CHAP. XXXIX.] 14, 15, 16, 17 Which leaveth her eggs in the earth, and warmeth them in the duſt.] Naturaliſts obſerve, that the oſtrich lays from thirty to fifty eggs; the firſt of which ſhe depoſits in the centre, and the reſt as conveniently as poſſible round it. In this manner ſhe is ſaid to lay, depoſit, or truſt, her eggs in the earth, and to warm them by incubation in the duſt; and forgetteth that the foot of the traveller may cruſh them, or that the wild beaſt may break them. It is alſo obſerved, that the oſtrich has a very ſmall ſhare of that natural affection which ſo ſtrongly exerts itſelf in other creatures. For upon the leaſt diſtant noiſe, or trivial occaſion, ſhe forſakes her eggs or young ones; which perhaps ſhe never returns.

19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 Haſt thou given the horſe ſtrength? &c.] The deſcription of the horſe is the moſt celebrated of any in the poem, and contains all the great and ſprightly images that thought can form of this generous beaſt expreſſed in ſuch a force and vigour of ſtile, as would have given the greater weight to the maſters of antiquity new laws for the ſublime, had they been acquainted with the writings.

11 Cast abroad the rage of thy wrath: and behold every one that is proud, and abase him.
12 Look on every one that is proud and bring him low; and tread down the wicked in their place.
13 Hide them in the dust together, and bind their faces in secret, 14 Then will I also confess unto thee, that thine own right hand can save thee.
15 ¶ Behold now behemoth, which I made with thee, he eateth grass as an ox.
16 Lo now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the navel of his belly.
17 He moveth his tail like a cedar: the sinews of his stones are wrapt together.
18 His bones are as strong pieces of brass, his bones are like bars of iron.
19 He is the chief of the ways of God: he that made him, can make his sword to approach unto him.
20 Surely the mountains bring him forth food: where all the beasts of the field play.
21 He lieth under the shady trees, in the covert of the reed, and fens.
22 The shady trees cover him with their shadow: the willows of the brook compass him about.
23 Behold, he drinketh up a river, and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw up Jordan into his mouth.
24 He taketh it with his eyes: his nose pierceth through snares.

CHAP. XLI.

CAnst thou draw out leviathan with an hook? or his tongue with a cord which thou lettest down?
2 Canst thou put an hook into his nose; or bore his jaw through with a thorn?
3 Will he make many supplications unto thee? will he speak soft words unto thee?
4 Will he make a covenant with thee? wilt thou take him for a servant for ever?
5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?
6 Shall thy companions make a banquet of him? shall they part him among the merchants?
7 Canst thou fill his skin with barbed irons? or his head with fish-spears?
8 Lay thine hand upon him, remember the battle, do no more.
9 Behold, the hope of him is in vain: shall not one be cast down even at the sight of him?
10 None is so fierce that dare stir him up: who then is able to stand before me?
11 Who hath prevented me, that I should repay him? whatsoever is under the whole heaven is mine.
12 I will not conceal his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.
13 Who can discover the face of his garment; or who can come to him with his double bridle?
14 Who can open the doors of his face? his teeth are terrible round about.
15 His scales are his pride, shut up together, as with a close seal.
16 One is so near to another, that no air can come between them.
17 They are joined one to another, they stick together, that they cannot be sundered.
18 By his neesings a light doth shine, and his eyes are like the eye-lids of the morning.
19 Out of his mouth go burning lamps, and sparks of fire leap out.
20 Out of his nostrils goeth smoke, as out of a seething pot or caldron.
21 His breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth out of his mouth.
22 In his neck remaineth strength, and sorrow is turned into joy before him.
23 The flakes of his flesh are joined together: they are firm in themselves, they cannot be moved.
24 His heart is as firm as a stone, yea, as hard as a piece of the nether millstone.
25 When he raiseth up himself, the mighty are afraid: by reason of breakings they purify themselves.
26 The sword of him that layeth at him cannot hold: the spear, the dart, nor the habergeon.
27 He esteemeth iron as straw, and brass as rotten wood.
28 The arrow cannot make him flee: sling-stones are turned with him into stubble.
29 Darts are counted as stubble: he laugheth at the shaking of a spear.
30 Sharp stones are under him: he spreadeth sharp-pointed things upon the mire.
31 He maketh the deep to boil like a pot: he maketh the sea like a pot of ointment.
32 He maketh a path to shine after him; one would think the deep to be hoary.
33 Upon the earth there is not his like, who is made without fear.
34 He beholdeth all high things: he is a king over all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

THEN Job answered the Lord, and said,
2 I know that thou canst do every thing, and that no thought can be with-holden from thee.
3 Who is he that hideth counsel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered that I understood not; things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.
4 Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
5 I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now mine eye seeth thee.
6 Wherefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes.
7 And it was so that after the Lord had spoken these words unto Job, the Lord said unto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath.
8 Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks, and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt-offering, and my servant Job shall pray for you, for him will I accept: lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job.
9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord commanded them: the Lord also accepted Job.
10 And the Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before.
11 Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the Lord had brought upon him: every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one an ear-ring of gold.
12 So the Lord blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses.
13 He had also seven sons, and three daughters.
14 And he called the name of the first, Jemima, and the name of the second, Kezia, and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.
15 And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.
16 After this lived Job an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his son's sons, even four generations.
17 So Job died being old and full of days.

CHAP. XL.] 15 Behold now behemoth, &c.] This word has an Egyptian termination, and signifies a creature well known in that country, called by the Greeks hippotamus, the river-horse.

CHAP. XLI.] 1 Canst thou draw out leviathan with an hook?] By the leviathan is meant the crocodile, a monstrous creature found in the river Nile; for to this amphibious creature, and no other, every part of the description is conformable.

2 Canst thou put an hook into his nose? &c.] The taking of the crocodile was a very difficult task: Diodorus Siculus says, they were only to be caught in iron nets.

CHAP. XLII.] 1 Then Job answered the Lord and said.] The foregoing speeches having so lively represented the power and wisdom of God in his works, that Job, abundantly convinced of his error, confessed with the profoundest humility, the faults he had committed, begging pardon of his great Creator, and resolving never more to complain, nor propose any questions relating to his providence.

17 So Job died, being old and full of days.] He had lived no less than one hundred and forty years after his troubles, enjoying all the pleasures his virtue had procured for him, and departed hence when human nature could no longer subsist; or, to use the sacred penman's expression, went to his grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in, in its season.

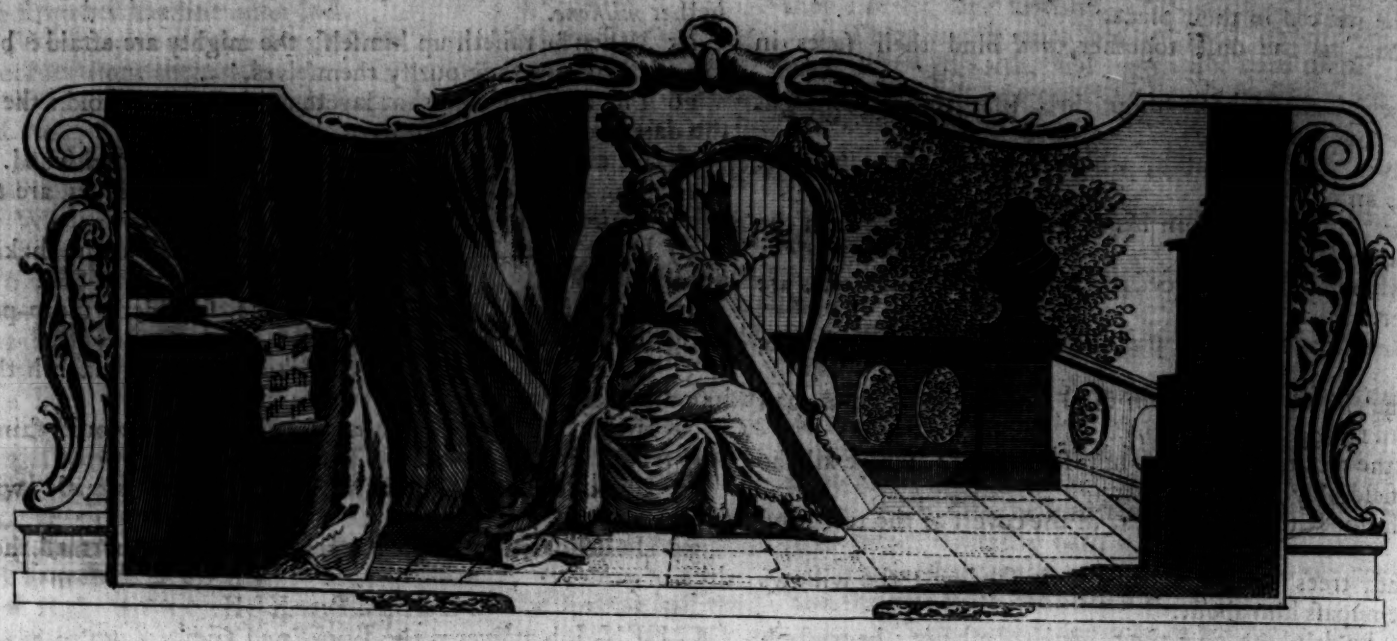
I cannot quit this subject without observing, that afflictions are so far from being real evils, that they are evidences of God's care and love for us: for whom God loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth. And though no chastening for the present seemeth joyous, but grievous, yet afterwards it yieldeth the peaceable fruits of righteousness unto them that are exercised thereby. It is therefore very wrong to imagine, that whoever is greatly afflicted must be very wicked. Indeed, when a man's conscience can apply his affliction to his own sins, it is just and reasonable he should consider it as the punishment for his sin, and a gracious call from God to repentance: but he must by no means make another man's affliction an occasion for censuring his neighbour.



THE BOOK of PSALMS.

The ARGUMENT.

The Book of Psalms is a collection of hymns and spiritual songs, written by king David and others. They are called Psalms from the Greek Psallo, to touch sweetly, because the voice was assisted by musical instruments.

Some think the Psalms were collected by the friends of Hezekiah before the captivity. But if this had been the case, they would, in all probability, have been disposed in the same order they were written; all the sacred books being preserved in the temple with the utmost care; from whence copies might have been taken, with the names of all their authors, many of which are now wanting. It is therefore more probable, that after the temple and sacred records were burnt by the king of Babylon's army, some pious persons collected as many as they could find among their friends, who had taken copies of them for their own private use.

PSAL. I.

BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

2 But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

3 And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither, and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

4 The ungodly are not so: but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

5 Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

6 For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

PSAL. II.

WHY do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?

2 The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed, saying,

3 Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

4 He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.

5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion.

7 I will declare the decree: the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee.

8 Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron, thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

10 Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth.

11 Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling.

12 Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little: blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

PSAL. III.

LORD, how are they increased that trouble me? many are they that rise up against me.

2 Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for him in God. Selah.

3 But thou, O Lord, art a shield for me; my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.

4 I cried unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah.

5 I laid me down and slept; I awaked, for the Lord sustained me.

6 I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people, that have set themselves against me round about.

7 Arise, O Lord, save me O my God; for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek-bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.

Commentary on the Book of Psalms.

PSALM I.] 1 Blessed is the man, &c.] This psalm may be considered as a preface to the ensuing book, containing a short discourse on the end of man, in the same manner as our Blessed Saviour himself has done in his divine sermon on the mount. The end of man is blessedness; and the only way to obtain it, the observance of the laws of the Almighty; so that we may justly, with St. Athanasius, give this psalm the title of Blessedness.

5 Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, &c.] Let them, therefore, not think to defend themselves when the great judge of all the earth shall reward every man according to his works. They may, indeed, for the present, seem to equal, or even to surpass, the righteous in prosperity; but a day will come, when God will reward the latter with eternal happiness, in which they will have no part.

PSALM II.] 7 I will declare the decree, &c.] Such I well know is the decree of heaven; and therefore I have published it to the whole world: for, from a low and poor condition, the Lord hath raised me to the highest dignity. This day I begin to reign by his order, and therefore it may be called the birth-day of my kingdom: a slender type of the far more strong and higher exaltation of his only begotten son, whom he hath determined to raise from the dead, and crown him with glory and honour in the courts of heaven.

PSALM III.] 1 Lord, how are they increased that trouble me? &c.] Lord, how suddenly are my enemies increased, and how amazing the change that has happened to me! I, whom thine arm placed on the throne of Israel, and lately triumphed over so many countries, now see mine own subjects in arms against me, and, with mine own son, conspiring to deprive me both of my crown and life.

8 Salvation belongeth unto the Lord: thy bleſſing is upon thy people. Selah.

PSAL. IV.

HEAR me when I call, O God of my righteouſneſs: thou haſt enlarged me, when I was in diſtreſs, have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.

2 O ye ſons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into ſhame? how long will ye love vanity and ſeek after leaſing? Selah.

3 But know the Lord hath ſet apart him that is godly, for himſelf: the Lord will hear when I call unto him.

4 Stand in awe, and ſin not: command with your own heart upon your bed, and be ſtill. Selah.

5 Offer the ſacrifices of righteouſneſs: and put your truſt in the Lord.

6 There be many that ſay, Who will ſhew us any good? Lord, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.

7 Thou haſt put gladneſs in my heart, more than in the time that their corn and their wine increaſed.

8 I will both lay me down in peace, and ſleep: for thou, Lord, only makeſt me dwell in ſafety.

PSAL. V.

GIVE ear to my words, O Lord, conſider my meditation.

2 Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray.

3 My voice ſhalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up.

4 For thou art not a God that hath pleaſure in wickedneſs: neither ſhall evil dwell with thee.

5 The fooliſh ſhall not ſtand in thy ſight: thou hateſt all workers of iniquity.

6 Thou ſhalt deſtroy them that ſpeak leaſing: the Lord will abhor the bloody and deceitful man.

7 But as for me, I will come into thy houſe in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy fear will I worſhip toward thy holy temple.

8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteouſneſs, becauſe of mine enemies; make thy way ſtraight before my face.

9 For there is no faithfulneſs in their mouth, their inward part is very wickedneſs; their throat is an open ſepulchre, they flatter with their tongue.

10 Deſtroy thou them, O God; let them fall by their own counſels: caſt them out in the multitude of their tranſgreſſions, for they have rebelled againſt thee.

11 But let all thoſe that put their truſt in thee, rejoice: let them ever ſhout for joy: becauſe thou defendeſt them: let them alſo that love thy name, be joyful in thee.

12 For thou, Lord, wilt bleſs the righteous, with favour wilt thou compaſs him as with a ſhield.

PSAL. VI.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chaſten me in thy hot diſpleaſure.

2 Heave mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am weak: O Lord, heal me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My ſoul is alſo ſore vexed: but thou, O Lord, how long?

4 Return, O Lord, deliver my ſoul: oh ſave me for thy mercies ſake.

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who ſhall give thee thanks?

6 I am weary with my groaning, all the night make I my bed to ſwim? I water my couch with my tears.

7 Mine eye is conſumed becauſe of grief; it waxeth old becauſe of all mine enemies.

8 Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity; for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my ſupplication; the Lord will receive my prayer.

10 Let all mine enemies be aſhamed and ſore vexed: let them return and be aſhamed ſuddenly.

PSAL. VII.

O Lord my God, in thee do I put my truſt: ſave me from all them that perſecute me, and deliver me.

2 Leſt he tear my ſoul like a lion, rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver.

3 O Lord my God, if I have done this; if there be iniquity in my hands:

4 If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me (yea, I have delivered him that without cauſe is mine enemy).

5 Let the enemy perſecute my ſoul, and take it, yea, let him tread down my life upon the earth, and lay mine honour in the duſt. Selah.

6 Ariſe, O Lord, in thine anger, lift up thyſelf, becauſe of the rage of mine enemies: and awake for me to the judgment that thou haſt commanded.

7 So ſhall the congregation of the people compaſs thee about: for their ſake therefore return thou on high.

8 The Lord ſhall judges the people: judge me, O Lord, according to my righteouſneſs, and according to mine integrity that is in me.

9 Oh let the wickedneſs of the wicked come to an end, but eſtabliſh the juſt: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.

10 My defence is of God, which ſaveth the upright in heart.

11 God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day,

12 If he turn not, he will whet his ſword; he hath bent his bow and made it ready.

13 He hath alſo prepared for him the inſtruments of death; he ordaineth his arrows againſt the perſecutors.

14 Behold, he travailleth with iniquity, and hath conceived miſchief, and brought forth falſhood.

15 He made a pit and digged it, and is fallen into the ditch which he made.

16 His miſchief ſhall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing ſhall come down upon his own pate.

17 I will praiſe the Lord according to his righteouſneſs: and will ſing praiſe to the name of the Lord moſt high.

PSAL. VIII.

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who haſt ſet thy glory above the heavens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and ſucklings haſt thou ordained ſtrength, becauſe of thine enemies, that thou mighteſt ſtill the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I conſider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the ſtars which thou haſt ordained;

4 What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the ſon of man, that thou viſiteſt him?

5 For thou haſt made him a little lower than the angels, and haſt crowned him with glory and honour.

6 Thou madeſt him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou haſt put all things under his feet:

7 All ſheep and oxen, yea, and the beaſts of the field:

8 The fowl of the air, and the fiſh of the ſea, and whatſoever paſſeth through the paths of the ſeas.

9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth?

PSAL. IX.

I Will praiſe thee, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will ſhew forth all thy marvellous works.

2 I will be glad and rejoice in thee: I will ſing praiſe to thy name, O thou moſt High.

3 When mine enemies are turned back, they ſhall fall and periſh at thy preſence.

4 For thou haſt maintained my right and my cauſe, thou ſateſt in the throne judging right.

5 Thou haſt rebuked the heathen, thou haſt deſtroyed the wicked, thou haſt put out their name for ever and ever.

6 O thou enemy, deſtructions are come to a perpetual end: and thou haſt deſtroyed cities, their memorial is periſhed with them.

7 But the Lord ſhall endure for ever: he hath prepared his throne for judgment.

8 And he ſhall judge the world in righteouſneſs, he ſhall miniſter judgment to the people in uprightneſs.

9 The Lord alſo will be a refuge for the oppreſſed, a refuge in times of trouble.

10 And they that know thy name will put their truſt in thee: for thou, Lord, haſt not forſaken them that ſeek thee.

11 Sing praiſes to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: declare among the people his doings.

12 When he maketh inquiſition for blood, he remembereth them: he forgetteth not the cry of the humble.

13 Have mercy upon me, O Lord, conſider my trouble which I ſuffer of them that hate me, thou that lifteſt me up from the gates of death:

14 That

PSALM VI.] 1 Hear me, O God, when I call, &c.] O thou righteous judge, that knoweſt the uprightneſs of my heart, and art the protector of oppreſſed innocence, vouchſafe to give me a gracious anſwer, now I cry unto thee for help againſt the enemy.

PSALM V.] 6 Thou ſhalt deſtroy them that ſpeak leaſing, &c.] Thou ſhalt utterly deſtroy thoſe that employ their tongues in falſhoods and lies, to defame me and my government; their bloody deſigns which they endeavour to execute by fraud and treachery, render them an abomination in the ſight of the Almighty.

PSALM VI.] 1 O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, &c.] O Lord, who delighteſt in mercy, mitigate, I beſeech thee, thy ſharp correction; and do not correct me according to the ſevereſt dictates of thy diſpleaſure.

PSALM VII.] 1 O Lord, my God, in thee do I put my truſt, &c.] This excellent pſalm was compoſed by David, to commemorate the loving kindneſs of the Lord on occaſion of ſome calumnies and falſe accuſations, which Cuſh, one of the ſame tribe with Saul, had charged him with.

PSALM VIII.] 1 O Lord our God, how excellent is thy name in all the earth, &c.] O Lord, the ſovereign of the world, who art graciouſly pleaſed to own us for thy ſubjects, who can behold the wonders of thy works, and the wiſdom of thy providence, and not be aſtoniſhed at the incomparable greatneſs and ſplendor of thy majeſty; which the whole earth proclaims with the higheſt praiſes, but cannot be contained within the ſpacious bounds of the heavens, whoſe glorious brightneſs it far ſurpaſſes.

PSALM IX.] 1 I will praiſe thee, O Lord, with my whole heart, &c.] I will acknowledge thy unſpeakable goodneſs, thou omnipotent Creator of heaven and earth, with the moſt ſincere devotion and affection; I will commemorate all the wondrous works thou haſt done for me.

PSALM

14 That I may ſhew forth all thy praiſe in the gates of the daughter of Zion: I will rejoice in thy ſalvation.

15 The heathen are ſunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid, is their own foot taken.

16 The Lord is known by the judgment which he executeth: the wicked is ſnared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion: Selah.

17 The wicked ſhall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.

18 For the needy ſhall not alway be forgotten: the expectation of the poor ſhall not periſh for ever.

19 Ariſe, O Lord, let not man prevail, let the heathen be judged in thy ſight.

20 Put them in fear, O Lord: that the nations may know themſelves to be but men. Selah PSAL. X.

WHY ſtandeſt thou afar off, O Lord? why hideſt thou thyſelf in times of trouble?

2 The wicked in his pride doth perſecute the poor: let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined.

3 For the wicked boaſteth of his heart's deſire, and bleſſeth the covetous whom the Lord abhorreth.

4 The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not ſeek after God: God is not in all his thoughts.

5 His ways are always grievous: thy judgments are far above out of his ſight: as for all his enemies, he puffeth at them.

6 He hath ſaid in his heart, I ſhall not be moved, for I ſhall never be in adverſity.

7 His mouth is full of curſing, and deceit, and fraud: under his tongue is miſchief and vanity.

8 He ſitteth in the lurking places of the villages: in the ſecret places doth he murder the innocent; his eyes are privily ſet againſt the poor.

9 He lieth in wait ſecretly as a lion in his den: he lieth in wait to catch the poor: he doth catch the poor when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth, and humbleth himſelf, that the poor may fall by his ſtrong ones.

11 He hath ſaid in his heart, God hath forgotten: he hideth his face, he will never ſee it.

12 Ariſe, O Lord; O God, lift up thine hand: forget not the humble.

13 Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God? he hath ſaid in his heart, Thou wilt not require it.

14 Thou haſt ſeen it, for thou beholdeſt miſchief and ſpite to requite it with thy hand: the poor committeth himſelf unto thee, thou art the helper of the fatherleſs.

15 Break thou the arm of the wicked, and the evil man: ſeek out his wickedneſs, till thou find none.

16 The Lord is king for ever and ever: the heathen are periſhed out of his land.

17 Lord, thou haſt heard the deſire of the humble: thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cauſe thine ear to hear:

18 To judge the fatherleſs and the oppreſſed, that the man of the earth may no more oppreſs.

PSAL. XI.

IN the Lord put I my truſt: how ſay ye to my ſoul, Flee as a bird to your mountain?

2 For lo, the wicked bend their bow, they make ready their arrow upon the ſtring: that they may privily ſhoot at the upright in heart.

3 If the foundations be deſtroyed, what can the righteous do?

4 The Lord is in his holy temple, the Lord's throne is in heaven: his eyes behold, his eye-lids try the children of men.

5 The Lord trieth the righteous: but the wicked and him that loveth violence, his ſoul hateth.

6 Upon the wicked he ſhall rain ſnares, fire, and brimſtone, and an horrible tempeſt: this ſhall be the portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loveth righteouſneſs, his countenance doth behold the upright.

PSAL. XII.

HELP, Lord, for the godly man ceaſeth; for the faithful fail from among the children of men.

2 They ſpeak vanity every one with his neighbour: with flattering lips, and with a double heart do they ſpeak.

3 The Lord ſhall cut of all flattering lips, and the tongue that ſpeaketh proud things.

4 Who have ſaid, With our tongue will we prevail, our lips are our own: who is lord over us?

5 For the oppreſſion of the poor, for the ſighing of the needy, now will I ariſe (ſaith the Lord) I will ſet him in ſafety from him that puffeth at him.

6 The words of the Lord are pure words: as ſilver tried in a furnace of earth, purified ſeven times.

7 Thou ſhalt keep them, O Lord, thou ſhalt preſerve them from this generation for ever.

8 The wicked walk on every ſide, when the vileſt men are exalted.

PSAL. XIII.

HOW long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, for ever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long ſhall I take counſel in my ſoul, having ſorrow in my heart daily? how long ſhall mine enemy be exalted over me?

3 Conſider and hear me, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, leſt I ſleep the ſleep of death;

4 Leſt mine enemy ſay, I have prevailed againſt him; and thoſe that trouble me rejoice when I am moved.

5 But I have truſted in thy mercy, my heart ſhall rejoice in thy ſalvation.

6 I will ſing unto the Lord, becauſe he hath dealt bountifully with me.

PSAL. XIV.

THE fool hath ſaid in his heart, There is no God: they are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doeth good.

2 The Lord looked down from heaven upon the children of men; to ſee if there were any that did underſtand, and ſeek God.

3 They are all gone aſide, they are all together become filthy: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread, and call not upon the Lord.

5 There were they in great fear: for God is in the generation of the righteous.

6 Ye have ſhamed the counſel of the poor; becauſe the Lord is his refuge.

7 O that the ſalvation of Iſrael were come out of Zion! when the Lord bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob ſhall rejoice, and Iſrael ſhall be glad.

PSAL. XV.

LORD, who ſhall abide in thy tabernacle? who ſhall dwell in thy holy hill?

2 He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteouſneſs, and ſpeaketh the truth in his heart.

3 He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doth evil to his neighbour, nor taketh up a reproach againſt his neighbour.

4 In whoſe eyes a vile perſon is contemned; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord: he that ſweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.

5 He that putteth not out his money to uſury, nor taketh reward againſt the innocent. He that doeth theſe things, ſhall never be moved.

PSAL. XVI.

PReſerve me, O God: for in thee do I put my truſt.

2 O my ſoul, thou haſt ſaid unto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my goodneſs extendeth not to thee:

3 But to the ſaints that are in the earth, and to the excellent, in whom is all my delight.

4 Their ſorrows ſhall be multiplied, that haſten after another god: their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips.

5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou maintaineſt my lot.

6 The lines are fallen unto me in pleaſant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.

7 I will bleſs the Lord, who hath given me counſel: my reins alſo inſtruct me in the night ſeaſons.

8 I have ſet the Lord always before me: becauſe he is at my right hand, I ſhall not be moved.

9 Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth: my fleſh alſo ſhall reſt in hope.

10 For thou wilt not leave my ſoul in hell; neither wilt thou ſuffer thine holy One to ſee corruption.

11 Thou wilt ſhew me the path of life: in thy preſence is fulneſs of joy, at thy right hand there are pleaſures for evermore.

PSAL.

PSALM X.] 12 Ariſe, O Lord; O God, lift up thine hand: forget not the humble.] Confute, O Lord, the blaſphemies of theſe wicked men, and delay no longer, O thou Omnipotent Judge of the whole earth, to diſplay thy juſt diſpleaſure againſt them.

PSALM XI.] 6 Upon the wicked he ſhall rain ſnares, fire, and brimſtone, and an horrible tempeſt, &c.] The wicked may perhaps flatter themſelves, that their own ſtrength and artful ſtratagems will protect them: but how will they be able to defend themſelves againſt the arm of Omnipotence.

PSALM XII.] 1 Help, Lord, for the godly man ceaſeth, &c.] Be thou, O Lord, my helper and rock of defence; for neither kindneſs nor friendſhip can be found among the ſons of men. I cannot truſt myſelf with any; for truth and uprightneſs of heart, cannot be found among the ſons of Jacob.

PSALM XIII.] 1 How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, for ever?] Lord, I have long waited for thy ſuccour, but thou ſeemeſt to neglect me; wilt thou for ever hide thy face from me?

PSALM XIV.] 1 The fool hath ſaid in his heart, there is no God, &c.] The wicked, though not ſo imprudent as to deny openly the being of a God, yet their abominable ways, and ſhameleſs wickedneſs is ſuch, that they certainly flatter themſelves in ſecret with the thought, that either there is no God, or that he will never call them to an account for their filthy abominations.

PSALM XVI.] 10 For thou wilt not leave my ſoul in hell, &c.] For thou wilt not ſuffer me to remain always in this forlorn condition, nor let him whom thou haſt anointed to be the king of thy people, be deſtroyed by Saul: much leſs let that PSAL. XVII.

HEAR the right, O Lord, attend unto my cry, give ear unto my prayer that goeth not out of feigned lips.

2 Let my ſentence come forth from thy preſence: let thine eyes behold the things that are equal.

3 Thou haſt proved mine heart, thou haſt viſited me in the night, thou haſt tried me, and ſhalt find nothing: I am purpoſed that my mouth ſhall not tranſgreſs.

4 Concerning the works of men, by the word of thy lips, I have kept me from the paths of the deſtroyer.

5 Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footſteps ſlip not.

6 I have called upon thee, for thou wilt hear me, O God: incline thine ear unto me, and hear my ſpeech.

7 Shew thy marvellous loving kindneſs, O thou that ſaveſt by thy right hand them which put their truſt in thee, from thoſe that riſe up againſt them.

8 Keep me as the apple of the eye: hide me under the ſhadow of thy wings,

9 From the wicked that oppreſs me, from my deadly enemies, who compaſs me about.

10 They are incloſed in their own fat: with their mouth they ſpeak proudly.

11 They have now compaſſed us in our ſteps: they have ſet their eyes bowing down to the earth:

12 Like as a lion that is greedy of his prey, and as it were a young lion lurking in ſecret places.

13 Ariſe, O Lord, diſappoint him, caſt him down: deliver my ſoul from the wicked, which is thy ſword.

14 From men which are thy hand, O Lord, from men of the world, which have their portion in this life, and whoſe belly thou filleſt with thy hid treaſure: they are full of children, and leave the reſt of their ſubſtance to their babes.

15 As for me, I will behold thy face in righteouſneſs: I ſhall be ſatisfied, when I awake, with thy likeneſs.

PSAL. XVIII.

I Will love thee, O Lord, my ſtrength.

2 The Lord is my rock, and my fortreſs, and my deliverer: my God, my ſtrength in whom I will truſt, my buckler, and the horn of my ſalvation, and my high tower.

3 I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be praiſed: ſo ſhall I be ſaved from mine enemies.

4 The ſorrows of death compaſſed me, and the floods of ungodly men made me afraid.

5 The ſorrows of hell compaſſed me about: the ſnares of death prevented me.

6 In my diſtreſs I called upon the Lord, and cried unto my God; he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.

7 Then the earth ſhook and trembled; the foundations alſo of the hills moved and were ſhaken, becauſe he was wroth.

8 There went up a ſmoke out of his noſtrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens alſo and came down: and darkneſs was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a cherub and did fly: yea he did fly upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkneſs his ſecret place: his pavilion round about him were dark waters, and thick clouds of the ſkies.

12 At the brightneſs that was before him his thick clouds paſſed, hail-ſtones, and coals of fire.

13 The Lord alſo thundered in the heavens, and the higheſt gave his voice: hail-ſtones, and coals of fire.

14 Yea, he ſent out his arrows, and ſcattered them; and he ſhot out lightnings, and diſcomfited them.

15 Then the channels of waters were ſeen, and the foundations of the world were diſcovered: at thy rebuke, O Lord, at the blaſt of the breath of thy noſtrils.

16 He ſent from above, he took me, he drew me out of many waters.

17 He delivered me from my ſtrong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were too ſtrong for me.

18 They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the Lord was my ſtay.

19 He brought me forth alſo into a large place: he delivered me, becauſe he delighted in me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteouſneſs, according to the cleanneſs of my hands hath he recompenſed me.

21 For I have kept the ways of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all his judgments were before me, and I did not put away his ſtatutes from me.

23 I was alſo upright before him: and I kept myſelf from mine iniquity.

24 Therefore hath the Lord recompenſed me according to my righteouſneſs, according to the cleanneſs of my hands in his eye-ſight.

25 With the merciful, thou wilt ſhew thyſelf merciful, with an upright man thou wilt ſhew thyſelf upright.

26 With the pure thou wilt ſhew thyſelf pure, and with the froward thou wilt ſhew thyſelf froward.

27 For thou wilt ſave the afflicted people: but wilt bring down high looks.

28 For thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will enlighten my darkneſs.

29 For by thee I have run through a troop: and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

30 As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all thoſe that truſt in him.

31 For who is God ſave the Lord? or who is a rock ſave our God?

32 It is God that girdeth me with ſtrength, and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hinds feet, and ſetteth me upon my high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to war, ſo that a bow of ſteel is broken by mine arms,

35 Thou haſt alſo given me the ſhield of thy ſalvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy gentleneſs hath made me great.

36 Thou haſt enlarged my ſteps under me; that my feet did not ſlip.

37 I have purſued mine enemies, and overtaken them: neither did I turn again till they were conſumed.

38 I have wounded them, that they were not able to riſe: they are fallen under my feet.

39 For thou haſt girded me with ſtrength unto the battle: thou haſt ſubdued under me thoſe that roſe up againſt me.

40 Thou haſt alſo given me the necks of mine enemies: that I may deſtroy them that hate me.

41 They cried, but there was none to ſave them: even unto the Lord, but he anſwered them not.

42 Then did I beat them ſmall as the duſt before the wind: I did caſt them out as the duſt in the ſtreets.

43 Thou haſt delivered me from the ſtrivings of the people: and thou haſt made me the head of the heathen; a people whom I have not known ſhall ſerve me.

44 As ſoon as they hear of me, they ſhall obey me: the ſtrangers ſhall ſubmit themſelves unto me.

45 The ſtrangers ſhall fade away, and be afraid out of their cloſe places.

46 The Lord liveth, and bleſſed be my rock: and let the god of my ſalvation be exalted.

47 It is God that avengeth me, and ſubdueth the people under me.

48 He delivereth me from mine enemies; yea, thou liſteſt me up above thoſe that riſe up againſt me: thou haſt delivered me from the violent man.

49 Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O Lord, among the heathen: and ſing praiſes unto thy name.

50 Great deliverance giveth he to his king: and ſheweth mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his ſeed for evermore.

PSAL. XIX.

THE heavens declare the glory of God: and the firmament ſheweth his handy-work.

2 Day unto day uttereth ſpeech, and night unto night ſheweth knowledge.

3 There is no ſpeech nor language, where their voice is not heard.

4 Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world: in them hath he ſet a tabernacle for the ſun,

5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a ſtrong man to run a race.

6 His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit that great king periſh whom thou haſt promiſed of my ſeed; for though they put him to death, and lay him in the grave, thou wilt take him from thence, and raiſe him from the dead, before his body hath ſeen corruption.

PSALM XVII.] 1 Hear the right, O Lord, &c.] Such falſe accuſations, O Lord, oppreſs me greatly; but my only appeal is to thee, who art the righteous Judge of all the earth; beſeeching thee to deal with me according to the juſtice of my cauſe.

PSALM XVIII.] 2 The Lord is my rock, and my fortreſs, &c.] It was not the caves, and ſecret retreats, the rocks and impregnable fortreſſes, the high mountains and ſteep precipices, to which I fled, that preſerved me from mine enemies; but the Almighty God of Jacob, whom I made my refuge, and whom I acknowledge for my deliverer.

13 The Lord alſo thundereth in the heavens, &c.] Theſe were followed by ſuch terrible thunders, mixed with hail-ſtones and fiery exhalations, as declared the greatneſs of his majeſty, and the mightineſs of his power.

PSALM XIX.] 1 The heavens declare the glory of God, &c.] There is no part of this ſurpriſing fabrick of the world, which doth not direct us to an Almighty Being by whom it was created: but the heavens decorated with ſuch an innumerable number of glorious orbs, in a particular manner, proclaim aloud to all the ſens of men the immenſe greatneſs, power, wiſdom, and goodneſs of God.

4 Their line is gone out through all the earth, &c.] They all read here, as in a ſpacious volume, the wonderful art and ſkill of that Almighty Being who framed this regular ſtructure.

cuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7 The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the ſoul: the teſtimony of the Lord is ſure, making wiſe the ſimple.

8 The ſtatutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightning the eyes.

9 The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring for ever, the judgments of the Lord are true, and righteous altogether.

10 More to be deſired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: ſweeter alſo than honey, and the honey comb.

11 Moreover by them is thy ſervant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can underſtand his errors? cleanſe thou me from ſecret faults.

13 Keep back thy ſervant alſo from preſumptuous ſins, let them not have dominion over me: then ſhall I be upright, and I ſhall be innocent from the great tranſgreſſion.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy ſight, O Lord, my ſtrength and my redeemer.

PSAL. XX.

THE Lord hear thee in the day of trouble, the name of the God of Jacob defend thee.

2 Send thee help from the ſanctuary: and ſtrengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Remember all thy offerings, and accept thy burnt-ſacrifice. Selah.

4 Grant thee according to thine own heart, and fulfil all thy counſel.

5 We will rejoice in thy ſalvation, and in the name of our God, we will ſet up our banners: the Lord fulfil all thy petitions.

6 Now know I that the Lord ſaveth his anointed: he will hear him from his holy heaven, with the ſaving ſtrength of his right hand.

7 Some truſt in chariots, and ſome in horſes: but we will remember the name of the Lord our God.

8 They are brought down and fallen, but we are riſen and ſtand upright.

9 Save, Lord, let the king hear us when we call.

PSAL. XXI.

THE king ſhall joy in thy ſtrength, O Lord, and in thy ſalvation how greatly ſhall he rejoice.

2 Thou haſt given him his heart's deſire, and haſt not withholden the requeſt of his lips. Selah.

3 For thou preventeſt him with the bleſſings of goodneſs: thou ſetteſt a crown of pure gold on his head.

4 He aſked life of thee, and thou gaveſt it him, even length of days for ever and ever.

5 His glory is great in thy ſalvation, honour and majeſty haſt thou laid upon him.

6 For thou haſt made him moſt bleſſed for ever: thou haſt made him exceeding glad with thy countenance.

7 For the king truſteth in the Lord, and through the mercy of the moſt High, he ſhall not be moved.

8 Thine hand ſhall find out all thine enemies, thy right hand ſhall find out thoſe that hate thee.

9 Thou ſhalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the Lord ſhall ſwallow them up in his wrath, and the fire ſhall devour.

10 Their fruit ſhalt thou deſtroy from the earth, and their ſeed from among the children of men.

11 For they intended evil againſt thee: they imagined a miſchievous device which they are not able to perform.

12 Therefore ſhalt thou make them turn their back, when thou ſhalt make ready thine arrows upon thy ſtrings againſt the face of them.

13 Be thou exalted, Lord, in thine own ſtrength: ſo will we ſing and praiſe thy power.

PSAL. XXII.

MY God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? why art thou ſo far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring?

2 O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou heareſt not; and in the night-ſeaſon, and am not ſilent.

3 But thou art holy, O thou that inhabiteſt the praiſes of Iſrael.

4 Our fathers truſted in thee: they truſted, and thou didſt deliver them.

5 They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they truſted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and deſpiſed of the people.

7 All they that ſee me, laugh me to ſcorn: they ſhoot out the lip, they ſhake the head, ſaying,

8 He truſted on the Lord, that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, ſeeing he delighted in him.

9 But thou art he that took me out of the womb; thou didſt make me hope, when I was upon my mother's breaſts.

10 I was caſt upon thee from the womb; thou art my God from my mother's belly.

11 Be not far from me, for trouble is near; for there is none to help.

12 Many bulls have compaſſed me: ſtrong bulls of Baſhan have beſet me round.

13 They gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion.

14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax, it is melted in the midſt of my bowels.

15 My ſtrength is dried up like a potſherd: and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws; and thou haſt brought me into the duſt of death.

16 For dogs have compaſſed me, the aſſembly of the wicked have incloſed me: they pierced my hands and my feet.

17 I may tell all my bones: they look and ſtare upon me.

18 They part my garments among them, and caſt lots upon my veſture.

19 But be not thou far from me, O Lord; O my ſtrength, haſte thee to help me.

20 Deliver my ſoul from the ſword: my darling from the power of the dog.

21 Save me from the lion's mouth: for thou haſt heard me from the horns of the unicorns.

22 I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midſt of the congregation will I praiſe thee.

23 Ye that fear the Lord, praiſe him; all ye the ſeed of Jacob, glorify him: and fear him, all ye the ſeed of Iſrael.

24 For he hath not deſpiſed nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted: neither hath he hid his face from him, but when he cried unto him, he heard.

25 My praiſe ſhall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him.

26 The meek ſhall eat and be ſatisfied: they ſhall praiſe the Lord that ſeek him; your heart ſhall live for ever.

27 All the ends of the world ſhall remember and turn unto the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations ſhall worſhip before thee.

28 For the kingdom is the Lord's: and he is the governor among the nations.

29 All they that be fat upon earth, ſhall eat and worſhip: all they that go down to the duſt, ſhall bow before him, and none can keep alive his own ſoul.

30 A ſeed ſhall ſerve him, it ſhall be accounted to the Lord for a generation.

31 They ſhall come, and ſhall declare his righteouſneſs unto a people that ſhall be born, that he hath done this.

PSAL. XXIII.

THE Lord is my ſhepherd, I ſhall not want.

2 He maketh me to lie down in green paſtures: he leadeth me behind the ſtill waters.

3 He reſtoreth my ſoul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteouſneſs for his name's ſake.

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the ſhadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me, thy rod and thy ſtaff they comfort me.

5 Thou prepareſt a table before me me in the preſence of mine enemies: thou anointeſt my head with oil, my cup runneth over.

6 Surely goodneſs and mercy ſhall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the houſe of the Lord for ever.

PSAL. XXIV.

THE earth is the Lord's, and the fulneſs thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

2 For he hath founded it upon the ſeas, and eſtabliſhed it upon the floods.

3 Who ſhall aſcend into the hill of the Lord? or who ſhall ſtand in his holy place?

4 He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his ſoul unto vanity, nor ſworn deceitfully.

5 He

PSALM XX.] 1 The Lord hear thee, in the day of trouble, &c.] The Lord, who never fails thoſe that ſeek him, hear thy prayer in the day of trouble and affliction; the mighty God who hath made a covenant with Jacob and his poſterity protect thee.

PSALM XXI.] 4 He aſked life of thee, and thou gaveſt it him, &c.] He deſired only to eſcape with life, when encompaſſed with the greateſt dangers; but thou alſo waſt pleaſed to promiſe to prolong his days, and to continue his crown to his poſterity for many generations; as thou wilt at laſt give it to his Chriſt for ever and ever.

PSALM XXII.] 1 My God, My God, why haſt thou forſaken me? &c.] In this pathetic pſalm, the royal prophet, under the type of his own perſon, deſcribes, at large, the ſufferings of our great Redeemer; and, in the concluſion, paints, in the moſt beautiful colours, his exultation, and the propagation of his kingdom to the ends of the earth. Nay, ſome of the particulars are delivered in ſuch expreſſions, that they were more literally fulfilled in our Saviour, than they ever were in David himſelf, to whom they can only be applied in a metaphorical ſenſe.

PSALM XXIII.] 1 The Lord is my ſhepherd, I ſhall not want.] No ſhepherd exerciſes a more tender and conſtant care over his flocks, than the Lord hath done over me: I am confident, therefore, that I ſhall never want any thing neceſſary either for my ſuſtenance, or defence, againſt thoſe who would bereave me of my happineſs.

PSALM

5 He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.
6 This is the generation of them that seek him, that seek thy face, O Jacob. Selah.
7 Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors, and the king of glory shall come in.
8 Who is this King of glory? the Lord strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle.
9 Lift up your heads, O ye gates, even lift them up ye everlasting doors, and the King of glory shall come in.
10 Who is this King of glory? the Lord of hosts, he is the King of glory. Selah.

PSAL. XXV.

UNTO thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.
2 O my God, I trust in thee, let me not be ashamed: let not mine enemies triumph over me.
3 Yea, let none that wait on thee be ashamed; let them be ashamed which transgress without cause.
4 Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths.
5 Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation, on thee do I wait all the day.
6 Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies, and thy loving kindnesses: for they have been ever of old.
7 Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions: according to thy mercy remember thou me, for thy goodness sake, O Lord.
8 Good and upright is the Lord: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.
9 The meek will he guide in judgment: and the meek will he teach his way.
10 All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth, unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.
11 For thy name's sake, O Lord, pardon mine iniquity: for it is great.
12 What man is he that feareth the Lord? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose.
13 His soul shall dwell at ease: and his seed shall inherit the earth.
14 The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him: and he will shew them his covenant.
15 Mine eyes are ever toward the Lord: for he shall pluck my feet out of the net.
16 Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me: for I am desolate and afflicted.
17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my distresses.
18 Look upon mine affliction and my pain, and forgive all my sins.
19 Consider mine enemies, for they are many, and they hate me with cruel hatred.
20 O keep my soul, and deliver me: let me not be ashamed, for I put my trust in thee.
21 Let integrity and uprightness preserve me: for I wait on thee.
22 Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSAL. XXVI.

JUDGE me, O Lord, for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord: therefore I shall not slide.
2 Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart,
3 For thy loving kindness is before mine eyes; and I have walked in thy truth.
4 I have not sat with vain persons, neither will I go in with dissemblers.
5 I have hated the congregation of evil doers: and will not sit with the wicked.
6 I will wash mine hands in innocency: so will I compass thine altar, O Lord:
7 That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works.
8 Lord, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.
9 Gather not my soul with sinners, nor my life with bloody men:
10 In whose hands is mischief: and their right hand is full of bribes.
11 But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: redeem me, and be merciful unto me.
12 My foot standeth in an even place: in the congregations will I bless the Lord.

PSAL. XXVII.

THE Lord is my light, and my salvation, whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid.
2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes came upon me, to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.
3 Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident.
4 One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after: that I may dwell in the house of the Lord, all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple.
5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me, he shall set me upon a rock.
6 And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in this tabernacle sacrifices of joy, I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord.
7 Hear, O Lord, when I cry with my voice have mercy also upon me, and answer me.
8 When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I seek.
9 Hide not thy face far from me, put not thy servant away in anger: thou hast been my help, leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.
10 When my father and my mother forsake me, then the Lord will take me up.
11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path, because of mine enemies.
12 Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies: for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty.
13 I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.
14 Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart: wait, I say, on the Lord.

PSAL. XXVIII.

UNTO thee will I cry, O Lord, my rock, be not silent to me: lest if thou be silent to me, I become like them that go down into the pit.
2 Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto thee: when I lift up my hands toward thy holy oracle,
3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity: which speak peace to their neighbours, but mischief is in their hearts.
4 Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedness of their endeavours: give them after the work of their hands, render to them their desert.
5 Because they regard not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands, he shall destroy them, and not build them up.
6 Blessed be the Lord, because he hath heard the voice of my supplications.
7 The Lord is my strength, and my shield, my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth, and with my song will I praise him.
8 The Lord is their strength, and he is the saving strength of his anointed.
9 Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance: feed them also, and lift them up for ever.

PSAL. XXIX.

GIVE unto the Lord, O ye mighty, give unto the Lord glory and strength.
2 Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.
3 The voice of the Lord is upon the waters: the God of glory thundereth, the Lord is upon many waters.
4 The voice of the Lord is powerful: the voice of the Lord is full of majesty.
5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.
6 He maketh them also to skip like a calf: Lebanon and Sirion like a young unicorn.

7 The

PSALM XXIV.] 7 Lift up your heads, O ye gates, &c.] Let all who follow the ark of the Lord, at this solemn entry of the Divine Majesty into the holy place, join with me in saying, Be ye open, O ye gates of the sanctuary; stand wide open, ye durable doors, and the king of glory will enter in; and, by the special tokens of his presence, dwell among us.

PSALM XXV.] 7 Remember not the sins of my youth, &c.] I am indeed a sinner; and even in my youth went astray from thee; and committed more grievous offences, as I advanced in years, but thy mercies shield us from thy justice.

PSALM XXVI.] 8 Lord I have loved the habitation of thy house, &c.] Thou knowest, O Lord, with what sincere affection I have attended the service of thy house, and how I rejoiced when I visited thy tabernacle, where thy glory dwelleth visibly among us, to offer up those devout sacrifices unto thee.

PSALM XXVII.] 14 Wait on the Lord, &c.] Let me persuade thee, whoever thou art, that shalt hereafter be surrounded with dangers and difficulties, to learn by my example; to trust wholly in the Lord, and not despair of relief, though it should be delayed for a season.

PSALM XXVIII.] 3 Draw me not away with the wicked, &c.] Let not the destruction seize on me, which is the portion of the wicked: nor suffer me to be involved in the same punishment with those pernicious wretches, who make no conscience of commiting the greatest villanies; and pretend the most sincere friendship to their neighbours, at the very time they are contriving their ruin.

PSALM XXIX.] 2 Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name, &c.] Honour him suitable to the excellence of his majesty: as to prove you hold him in great veneration, come and cast yourselves down before him in his sanctuary; where he has fixed his glorious residence among us.

PSALM

7 The voice of the Lord divideth the flames of fire;
8 The voice of the Lord ſhaketh the wilderneſs: the Lord ſhaketh the wilderneſs of Kadeſh.
9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hindes to calve, and diſcovereth the foreſts: and in his temple doth every one ſpeak of his glory.
10 The Lord ſitteth upon the flood: yea, the Lord ſitteth king for ever.
11 The Lord will give ſtrength unto his people, the Lord will bleſs his people with peace.

PSAL. XXX.

I Will extol thee, O Lord, for thou haſt lifted me up, and haſt not made my foes to rejoice over me.
2 O Lord my God, I cried unto thee, and thou haſt healed me.
3 O Lord, thou haſt brought up my ſoul from the grave: thou haſt kept me alive, that I ſhould not go down to the pit.
4 Sing unto the Lord, O ye ſaints of his, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holineſs.
5 For his anger endureth but a moment; in his favour is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.
6 And in my proſperity I ſaid, I ſhall never be moved.
7 Lord, by thy favour thou haſt made my mountain to ſtand ſtrong: thou didſt hide thy face, and I was troubled.
8 I cried to thee, O Lord: and unto the Lord I made ſupplication.
9 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? ſhall the duſt praiſe thee? ſhall it declare thy truth?
10 Hear, O Lord, and have mercy upon me: Lord, be thou my helper.
11 Thou haſt turned for me my mourning into dancing: thou haſt put off my ſackcloth, and girded me with gladneſs:
12 To the end that my glory may ſing praiſe to thee, and not be ſilent: O Lord my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

PSAL. XXXI.

IN thee, O Lord, do I put my truſt, let me never be aſhamed: deliver me in thy righteouſneſs.
2 Bow down thine ear to me, deliver me ſpeedily: be thou my ſtrong rock, for an houſe of defence to ſave me.
3 For thou art my rock and my fortreſs: therefore for thy name's ſake lead me, and guide me.
4 Pull me out of the net, that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my ſtrength.
5 Into thine hand I commit my ſpirit: thou haſt redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.
6 I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I truſt in the Lord.
7 I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou haſt conſidered my trouble; thou haſt known my ſoul in adverſities;
8 And haſt not ſhut me up into the hand of the enemy: thou haſt ſet my foot in a large room.
9 Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble; mine eye is conſumed with grief, yea, my ſoul and my belly.
10 For my life is ſpent with grief, and my years with ſighing: my ſtrength faileth becauſe of mine iniquity, and my bones are conſumed.
11 I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but eſpecially among my neighbours, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that did ſee me without, fled from me.
12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken veſſel.
13 For I have heard the ſlander of many, fear was on every ſide, while they took counſel together againſt me, they deviſed to take away my life.
14 But I truſted in thee, O Lord: I ſaid, Thou art my God.
15 My times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that perſecute me.
16 Make thy face to ſhine upon thy ſervant: ſave me for thy mercies ſake.
17 Let me not be aſhamed, O Lord, for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be aſhamed, and let them be ſilent in the grave.
18 Let the lying lips be put to ſilence: which ſpeak grievous things proudly and contemptuouſly againſt the righteous.
19 O how great is thy goodneſs, which thou haſt laid up for them that fear thee; which thou haſt wrought for them that truſt in thee, before the ſons of men!
20 Thou ſhalt hide them in the ſecret of thy preſence from the pride of man: thou ſhalt keep them ſecretly in a pavilion from the ſtrife of tongues.
21 Bleſſed be the Lord; for he hath ſhewed me his marvellous kindneſs in a ſtrong city.
22 For I ſaid in my haſte, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheleſs thou heardeſt the voice of my ſupplications, when I cried unto thee.
23 O love the Lord, all ye his ſaints: for the Lord preſerveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.
24 Be of good courage, and he ſhall ſtrengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the Lord.

PSAL. XXXII.

BLESSED is he whoſe tranſgreſſion is forgiven, whoſe ſin is covered.
2 Bleſſed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whoſe ſpirit there is no guile.
3 When I kept ſilence, my bones waxed old; through my roaring all the day long.
4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moiſture is turned into the drought of ſummer. Selah.
5 I acknowledged my ſin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid: I ſaid, I will confeſs my tranſgreſſions unto the Lord; and thou forgaveſt the iniquity of my ſin. Selah.
6 For this ſhall every one that is godly, pray unto thee, in a time when thou mayeſt be found: ſurely in the floods of great waters, they ſhall not come nigh unto him.
7 Thou art my hiding-place, thou ſhalt preſerve me from trouble; thou ſhalt compaſs me about with ſongs of deliverance. Selah.
8 I will inſtruct thee, and teach thee in the way which thou ſhalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye.
9 Be ye not as the horſe, or as the mule which have no underſtanding: whoſe mouth muſt be held in with bit and bridle, leſt they come near unto thee.
10 Many ſorrows ſhall be to the wicked: but he that truſteth in the Lord, mercy ſhall compaſs him about.
11 Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice ye righteous: and ſhout for joy all ye that are upright in heart.

PSAL. XXXIII.

REJOICE in the Lord, O ye righteous, for praiſe is comely for the upright.
2 Praiſe the Lord with harp: ſing unto him with the pſaltery, and an inſtrument of ten ſtrings.
3 Sing unto him a new ſong, play ſkilfully with a loud noiſe.
4 For the word of the Lord is right: and all his works are done in truth.
5 He loveth righteouſneſs and judgment: the earth is full of the goodneſs of the Lord.
6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens made: and all the hoſt of them by the breath of his mouth.
7 He gathereth the waters of the ſea together, as an heap: he layeth up the depth in ſtore-houſes.
8 Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all the inhabitants of the world ſtand in awe of him.
9 For he ſpake, and it was done; he commanded, and it ſtood faſt.
10 The Lord bringeth the counſel of the heathen to nought: he maketh the devices of the people of none effect.
11 The counſel of the Lord ſtandeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations.
12 Bleſſed is the nation whoſe God is the Lord: and the people whom he hath choſen for his own inheritance.
13 The Lord looketh from heaven: he beholdeth all the ſons of men.
14 From the place of his habitation he looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth.
15 He faſhioneth their hearts alike: he conſidereth all their works.
16 There is no king ſaved by the multitude of an hoſt: a mighty man is not delivered by much ſtrength.
17 An horſe is a vain thing for ſafety: neither ſhall he deliver any by his great ſtrength.
18 Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him: upon them that hope in his mercy:
19 To deliver their ſoul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.
20 Our ſoul waiteth for the Lord, he is our help and our ſhield.
21 For our heart ſhall rejoice in him: becauſe we have truſted in his holy name.
22 Let thy mercy, O Lord, be upon us, according as we hope in thee.

PSAL. XXXIV.

I Will bleſs the Lord at all times: his praiſe ſhall continually be in my mouth.

2 My

PSALM XXX.] 11 Thou haſt turned for me my mourning into dancing, &c.] Thou waſt pleaſed to give a gracious anſwer to my prayers; joy and gladneſs is again returned after a ſhort interval of ſadneſs and ſorrow.

PSALM XXXIII.] 1 Rejoice inthe Lord, O ye righteous, &c.] Praiſe the Lord with joyful hearts; triumph in his holy name, all ye that are juſt and good; for nothing is more becoming them that ſincerely obſerve the law of God than to magnify him from whom they have received their being, and from whom they expect to receive all the bleſſings of life.

PSALM XXXIV.] 1 I will bleſs the Lord at all times, &c.] I will never forget how truly gracious the Lord hath been to me in this remarkable deliverance; and whatever my condition may be, my mouth ſhall be perpetually filled with his praiſe.

PSALM

2 My ſoul ſhall make her boaſt in the Lord: the humble ſhall hear thereof, and be glad.
3 O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together.
4 I ſought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.
5 They looked unto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not aſhamed.
6 This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him: and ſaved him out of all his troubles.
7 The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.
8 O taſte and ſee that the Lord is good: bleſſed is the man that truſteth in him.
9 O fear the Lord, ye his ſaints: for there is no want to them that fear him.
10 The young lions do lack, and ſuffer hunger; but they that ſeek the Lord ſhall not want any good thing.
11 Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the Lord.
12 What man is he that deſireth life, and loveth many days, that he may ſee good?
13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from ſpeaking guile.
14 Depart from evil, and do good: ſeek peace, and purſue it.
15 The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.
16 The face of the Lord is againſt them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.
17 The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.
18 The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart: and ſaveth ſuch as be of a contrite ſpirit.
19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the Lord delivereth them out of them all.
20 He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.
21 Evil ſhall ſlay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous, ſhall be deſolate.
22 The Lord redeemeth the ſoul of his ſervants: and none of them that truſt in him ſhall be deſolate.

PSAL. XXXV.

PLEAD my cauſe, O Lord, with them that ſtrive with me: fight againſt them that fight againſt me.
2 Take hold of ſhield and buckler, and ſtand up for mine help.
3 Draw out alſo the ſpear, and ſtop the way againſt them that perſecute me: ſay unto my ſoul, I am thy ſalvation.
4 Let them be confounded and put to ſhame that ſeek after my ſoul: let them be turned back and brought to confuſion that deviſe my hurt.
5 Let them be as chaff before the wind: and let the angel of the Lord chaſe them.
6 Let their way be dark and ſlippery, and let the angel of the Lord perſecute them.
7 For without cauſe have they hid for me their net, in a pit, which without cauſe they have digged for my ſoul.
8 Let deſtruction come upon him at unawares, and let his net that he hath hid, catch himſelf: into that very deſtruction let him fall.
9 And my ſoul ſhall be joyful in the Lord: it ſhall rejoice in his ſalvation.
10 All my bones ſhall ſay, Lord, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poor from him that is too ſtrong for him, yea, the poor and the needy, from him that ſpoileth him?
11 Falſe witneſſes did riſe up; they laid to my charge things that I knew not.
12 They rewarded me evil for good, to the ſpoiling of my ſoul.
13 But as for me, when they were ſick, my cloathing was ſackcloth: I humbled my ſoul with faſting, and my prayer returned into mine own boſom.
14 I behaved myſelf as though he had been my friend, or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.
15 But in mine adverſity they rejoiced, and gathered themſelves together: yea, the abjects gathered themſelves together againſt me, and I knew it not: they did tear me, and ceaſed not.
16 With hypocritical mockers in feaſts: they gnaſhed upon me with their teeth.
17 Lord, how long wilt thou look on? reſcue my ſoul from their deſtructions, my darling from the lions.
18 I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praiſe thee among much people.
19 Let not them that are mine enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: neither let them wink with the eye, that hate me without a cauſe.
20 For they ſpeak not peace, but they deviſe deceitful matters againſt them that are quiet in the land.
21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide againſt me, and ſaid, Aha, aha, our eye hath ſeen it.
22 This thou haſt ſeen, O Lord, keep not ſilence: O Lord, be not far from me
23 Stir up thyſelf, and awake to my judgment, even unto my cauſe, my God and my Lord.
24 Judge me, O Lord my God, according to thy righteouſneſs, and let them not rejoice over me.
25 Let them not ſay in their hearts, Ah, ſo would we have it: let them not ſay, We have ſwallowed him up.
26 Let them be aſhamed and brought to confuſion together, that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be cloathed with ſhame and diſhonour, that magnify themſelves againſt me.
27 Let them ſhout for joy, and be glad, that favour my righteous cauſe: yea, let them ſay continually, Let the Lord be magnified, which hath pleaſure in the proſperity of his ſervant.
28 And my tongue ſhall ſpeak of thy righteouſneſs, and of thy praiſe all the day long.

PSAL. XXXVI.

THE tranſgreſſion of the wicked ſaith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.
2 For he flattereth himſelf in his own eyes, until his iniquity be found to be hateful,
3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wiſe, and to do good.
4 He deviſeth miſchief upon his bed, he ſetteth himſelf in a way that is not good; he abhorreth not evil.
5 Thy mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulneſs reacheth unto the clouds.
6 Thy righteouſneſs is like the great mountains; thy judgments are a great deep: O Lord, thou preſerveſt man and beaſt.
7 How excellent is thy loving kindneſs, O God! therefore the children of men put their truſt under the ſhadow of thy wings.
8 They ſhall be abundantly ſatisfied with the fatneſs of thy houſe: and thou ſhalt make them drink of the river of thy pleaſures.
9 For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light ſhall we ſee light.
10 O continue thy loving-kindneſs unto them that know thee; and thy righteouſneſs to the upright in heart.
11 Let not the foot of pride come againſt me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.
12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are caſt down, and ſhall not be able to riſe.

PSAL. XXXVII.

FRET not thyſelf becauſe of evil doers, neither be thou envious againſt the workers of iniquity.
2 For they ſhall ſoon be cut down like the graſs, and wither as the green herb.
3 Truſt in the Lord, and do good, ſo ſhalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou ſhalt be fed.
4 Delight thyſelf alſo in the Lord; and he ſhall give thee the deſires of thine heart.
5 Commit thy way unto the Lord: truſt alſo in him, and he ſhall bring it to paſs.
6 And he ſhall bring forth thy righteouſneſs as the light, and thy judgment as the noon-day.
7 Reſt in the Lord, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyſelf becauſe of him who proſpereth in his way, becauſe of the man who bringeth wicked devices to paſs.
8 Ceaſe from anger, and forſake wrath: fret not thyſelf in any wiſe to do evil.
9 For evil doers ſhall be cut off: but thoſe that wait upon the Lord, they ſhall inherit the earth.
10 For yet a little while, and the wicked ſhall not be: yea, thou ſhalt diligently conſider his place, and it ſhall not be
11 But the meek ſhall inherit the earth: and ſhall delight themſelves in the abundance of peace.
12 The wicked plotteth againſt the juſt, and gnaſheth upon him with his teeth.
13 The Lord ſhall laugh at him, for he ſeeth that his day is coming.
14 The wicked have drawn out the ſword, and have bent their bow

PSALM XXXV.] 11 Falſe witneſſes did riſe up, &c.] They have accuſed me of crimes I am wholly ignorant of, and ſupported the accuſations by perſons long ſtrangers to the checks of conſcience, and paths of virtue.
28 And my tongue ſhall ſpeak of thy righteouſneſs, &c.] As for my tongue that ſhall never reſt from declaring thy juſtice and goodneſs towards me, on which I ſhall ever reflect, and conſtantly praiſe thee with joyful lips.
PSAL. XXXVI.] 1 The tranſgreſſion of the wicked ſaith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.] The wicked man may uſe many arts to conceal his wicked intentions; but his actions, directly contrary both to the laws of God and humanity, ſufficiently convince me that he is not to be truſted; becauſe it is evident, that he hath no regard to God, nor will be reſtrained by the fear of him from doing me the greateſt miſchief.
PSALM XXXVII.] 1 Fret not thyſelf becauſe of evil doers, &c.] Let it not vex thee to ſee the evil doers great in proſperity; nor be thereby provoked either to accuſe God's providence, or think virtue of no value; much leſs to imitate them in their wickedneſs, or wiſh for their proſperity, if it muſt be blackened with their crimes.

low to caſt down the poor and needy, and to ſlay ſuch as be of upright converſation.

15 Their ſword ſhall enter into their own heart, and their bows ſhall be broken.

16 A little that a righteous man hath, is better than the riches of many wicked.

17 For the arms of the wicked ſhall be broken: but the Lord upholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord knoweth the days of the upright: and their inheritance ſhall be for ever.

19 They ſhall not be aſhamed in the evil time: and in the days of famine they ſhall be ſatisfied.

20 But the wicked ſhall periſh, and the enemies of the Lord ſhall be as the fat of lambs, they ſhall conſume: into ſmoak ſhall they conſume away.

21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous ſheweth mercy and giveth.

22 For ſuch as be bleſſed of him, ſhall inherit the earth; and they that be curſed of him, ſhall be cut off.

23 The ſteps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way.

24 Though he fall, he ſhall not be utterly caſt down; for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand.

25 I have been young, and now am old: yet have I not ſeen the righteous forſaken, nor his ſeed begging bread.

26 He is ever merciful, and lendeth: and his ſeed is bleſſed.

27 Depart from evil, and do good: and dwell for evermore.

28 For the Lord loveth judgment, and forſaketh not his ſaints, they are preſerved for ever: but the ſeed of the wicked ſhall be cut off

29 The righteous ſhall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.

30 The mouth of the righteous ſpeaketh wiſdom; and his tongue talketh of judgment.

31 The law of his God is in his heart, none of his ſteps ſhall ſlide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and ſeeketh to ſlay him.

33 The Lord will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is judged.

34 Wait on the Lord, and keep his way, and he ſhall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off thou ſhalt ſee it.

35 I have ſeen the wicked in great power: and ſpreading himſelf like a green bay-tree.

36 Yet he paſſed away, and lo, he was not: yea, I ſought him, but he could not be found.

37 Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the tranſgreſſors ſhall be deſtroyed together, the end of the wicked ſhall be cut off.

39 But the ſalvation of the righteous is of the Lord, he is their ſtrength in the time of trouble.

40 And the Lord ſhall help them and deliver them: he ſhall deliver them from the wicked, and ſave them becauſe they truſt in him.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

O LORD, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chaſten me in thy hot diſpleaſure.

2 For thine arrows ſtick faſt in me, and thy hand preſſeth me ſore.

3 There is no ſoundneſs in my fleſh, becauſe of thine anger: neither is there any reſt in my bones, becauſe of my ſin.

4 For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden, they are too heavy for me.

5 My wounds ſtink, and are corrupt: becauſe of my fooliſhneſs.

6 I am troubled, I am bowed down greatly: I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loins are filled with a loathſome diſeaſe: and there is no ſoundneſs in my fleſh.

8 I am feeble and ſore broken: I have roared by reaſon of the diſquietneſs of my heart.

9 Lord, all my deſire is before thee: and my groaning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart panteth, my ſtrength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it alſo is gone from me.

11 My lovers and my friends ſtand aloof from my ſore: and my kinſmen ſtand afar off.

12 They alſo that ſeek after my life, lay ſnares for me: and they that ſeek my hurt, ſpeak miſchievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.

13 But I, as a deaf man heard not; and I was as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whoſe mouth there are no reproofs.

15 For in thee, O Lord, do I hope: thou wilt hear, O Lord my God.

16 For I ſaid, Hear me, leſt otherwiſe they ſhould rejoice over me: when my foot ſlippeth, they magnify themſelves againſt me.

17 For I am ready to halt, and my ſorrow is continually before me.

18 For I will declare mine iniquity: I will be ſorry for my ſin.

19 But mine enemies are lively, and they are ſtrong: and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

20 They alſo that render evil for good, are mine adverſaries; becauſe I follow the thing that good is.

21 Forſake me not, O Lord: O my God, be not far from me.

22 Make haſte to help me, O Lord my ſalvation.

PSAL. XXXIX.

I SAID, I will take heed to my ways, that I ſin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.

2 I was dumb with ſilence, I held my peace, even from good, and my ſorrow was ſtirred.

3 My heart was hot within me, while I was muſing the fire burned: then ſpake I with my tongue.

4 Lord, make me to know mine end, and the meaſure of my days, what it is, that I may know how frail I am.

5 Behold, thou haſt made my days as an hand-breadth, and mine age is as nothing before thee: verily every man at his beſt ſtate is altogether vanity. Selah.

6 Surely every man walketh in a vain ſhew: ſurely they are diſquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who ſhall gather them.

7 And now, Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee.

8 Deliver me from all my tranſgreſſions, make me not the reproach of the fooliſh.

9 I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; becauſe thou didſt it.

10 Remove thy ſtroke away from me: I am conſumed by the blow of thine hand.

11 When thou with rebukes doſt correct man for iniquity, thou makeſt his beauty to conſume away like a moth: ſurely, every ſtate man is vanity. Selah.

12 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and give ear unto my cry, hold not thy peace at my tears: for I am a ſtranger with thee, and a ſojourner, as all my fathers were.

13 O ſpare me, that I may recover ſtrength, before I go hence, and be no more.

PSAL. XL.

I Waited patiently for the Lord, and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

2 He brought me up alſo out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and ſet my feet upon a rock, and eſtabliſhed my goings.

3 And he hath put a new ſong in my mouth, even praiſe unto our God: many ſhall ſee it, and fear, and ſhall truſt in the Lord.

4 Bleſſed is that man that maketh the Lord his truſt: and reſpecteth not the proud, nor ſuch as turn aſide to lies.

5 Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou haſt done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and ſpeak of them, they are more than can be numbered.

6 Sacrifice and offering thou didſt not deſire, mine ears haſt thou opened: burnt-offering and ſin-offering haſt thou not required.

7 Then ſaid I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the book it is written of me:

8 I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart.

9 I have preached righteouſneſs in the great congregation: lo, I have not refrained my lips, O Lord, thou knoweſt.

10 I have not hid thy righteouſneſs within my heart, I have declared thy faithfulneſs and thy ſalvation: I have not concealed thy loving-kindneſs, and thy truth, from the great congregation.

11 With-hold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy loving kindneſs, and thy truth continually preſerve me.

12 For innumerable evils have compaſſed me about, mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, ſo that I am not able to look up: they

PSALM XXXVIII.] 2 For thine arrows ſtick faſt in me, and thine hand preſſeth me ſore.] The pains I feel are exceeding ſharp, and touch me to the quick. Thou haſt laid on me a heavy puniſhment, which preſſeth me even to the ground.

PSALM XXXIX.] 5 Behold, thou haſt made my days as an hand-breadth, &c.] There is no man ſo ſtrong, ſo firm, but he may die in an inſtant, in the height of proſperity, and moſt flouriſhing condition: for, however firmly he may think himſelf ſettled, it is certain, he is mere emptineſs and vanity.

PSALM XL.] This pſalm was delivered by David, the author of it, to the chief muſician in the tabernacle, for general uſe, wherein he thankfully acknowledges God's goodneſs to him, in delivering him from ſome great danger; and then declares his reſolution to ſerve the Lord faithfully and chearfully, in ſuch expreſſions as may be more properly applied to Chriſt's readineſs to do the will of his father, than to David.

they are more than the hairs of mine head; therefore my heart faileth me.

13 Be pleaſed, O Lord, to deliver me: O Lord make haſte to help me.

14 Let them be aſhamed and confounded together, that ſeek after my ſoul to deſtroy it: let them be driven backward, and put to ſhame that wiſh me evil.

15 Let them be deſolate for a reward of their ſhame, that ſay unto me, Aha, aha.

16 Let all thoſe that ſeek thee, rejoice and be glad in thee: let ſuch as love thy ſalvation, ſay continually, the Lord be magnified.

17 But I am poor and needy, yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer, make no tarrying, O my God.

PSAL. XLI.

BLeſſed is he that conſidereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.

2 The Lord will preſerve him, and keep him alive, and he ſhall be bleſſed upon the earth; and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord will ſtrengthen him upon the bed of languiſhing: thou wilt make all his bed in his ſickneſs.

4 I ſaid, Lord, be merciful unto me; heal my ſoul for I have ſinned againſt thee.

5 Mine enemies ſpeak evil of me: when ſhall he die, and his name periſh?

6 And if he come to ſee me, he ſpeaketh vanity: his heart gathereth iniquity to itſelf, when he goeth abroad he telleth it.

7 All that hate me, whiſper together againſt me: againſt me do they deviſe my hurt.

8 An evil diſeaſe, ſay they, cleaveth faſt unto him: and now that he lieth, he ſhall riſe up no more.

9 Yea, mine own familiar friend in whom I truſted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel againſt me.

10 But thou, O Lord, be merciful unto me, and raiſe me up, that I may requite them.

11 By this I know that thou favoureſt me, becauſe mine enemy doth not triumph over me.

12 And as for me, thou upholdeſt me in mine integrity, and ſetteſt me before thy face for ever.

13 Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, from everlaſting and to everlaſting. Amen, and amen.

PSAL. XLII.

AS the hart panteth after the water-brooks, ſo panteth my ſoul after thee, O God.

2 My ſoul thirſteth for God, for the living God: when ſhall I come and appear before God?

3 My tears have been my meat day and night, while they continually ſay unto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remember theſe things, I pour out my ſoul in me; for I had gone with the multitude, I went with them to the houſe of God, with the voice of joy and praiſe, with a multitude that kept holy-day.

5 Why art thou caſt down, O my ſoul? and why art thou diſquieted in me? hope thou in God, for I ſhall yet praiſe him for the help of his countenance.

6 O my God, my ſoul is caſt down within me: therefore will I remember thee from the land of Jordan, and of the Hermonites, from the hill Mizar.

7 Deep calleth unto deep at the noiſe of thy water-ſpouts: all thy waves and thy billows have gone over me.

8 Yet the Lord will command his loving-kindneſs in the day-time, and in the night his ſong ſhall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life.

9 I will ſay unto God, my rock, Why haſt thou forgotten me? why go I mourning becauſe of the oppreſſion of the enemy?

10 As with a ſword in my bones, mine enemies reproach me: while they ſay daily unto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou caſt down, O my ſoul? and why art thou diſquieted within me? hope thou in God, for I ſhall yet praiſe him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

PSAL. XLIII.

JUDGE me, O God, and plead my cauſe againſt an ungodly nation; O deliver me from the deceitful and unjuſt man.

2 For thou art the God of my ſtrength, why doſt thou caſt me off? why go I mourning becauſe of the oppreſſion of the enemy?

3 O ſend out thy light and thy truth; let them lead me, let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles.

4 Then will I go unto the altar of God, unto God my exceeding joy: yea, upon the harp will I praiſe thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou caſt down, O my ſoul? and why art thou diſquieted within me? hope in God, for I ſhall yet praiſe him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

PSAL. XLIV.

WE have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didſt in their days, in the times of old.

2 How thou didſt drive out the heathen with thy hand, and plantedſt them; how thou didſt afflict the people, and caſt them out.

3 For they got not the land in poſſeſſion by their own ſword, neither did their own arm ſave them: but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, becauſe thou hadſt a favour unto them.

4 Thou art my King, O God, command deliverances for Jacob.

5 Through thee will we puſh down our enemies; through thy name will we tread them under that riſe up againſt us.

6 For I will not truſt in my bow, neither ſhall my ſword ſave me.

7 But thou haſt ſaved us from our enemies, and haſt put them to ſhame that hated us.

8 In God we boaſt all the day long: and praiſe thy name for ever. Selah.

9 But thou haſt caſt off, and put us to ſhame; and goeſt not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makeſt us to turn back from the enemy: and they which hate us ſpoil for themſelves.

11 Thou haſt given us like ſheep appointed for meat: and haſt ſcattered us among the heathen.

12 Thou ſelleſt thy people for nought, and doſt not increaſe thy wealth by their price.

13 Thou makeſt us a reproach to our neighbours, a ſcorn and a deriſion to them that are round about us.

14 Thou makeſt us a by-word among the heathen: a ſhaking of the head among the people.

15 My confuſion is continually before me, and the ſhame of my face hath covered me:

16 For the voice of him that reproacheth and blaſphemeth; by reaſon of the enemy and avenger.

17 All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falſly in thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned back, neither have our ſteps declined from thy way.

19 Though thou haſt ſore broken us in the place of dragons, and covered us with the ſhadow of death.

20 If we have forgotten the name of our God, or ſtretched out our hands to a ſtrange God:

21 Shall not God ſearch this out? for he knoweth the ſecrets of the heart.

22 Yea, for thy ſake are we killed all the day long; we are counted as ſheep for the ſlaughter.

23 Awake, why ſleepeſt thou, O Lord? ariſe, caſt us not off for ever.

24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face? and forgetteſt our affliction, and our oppreſſion?

25 For our ſoul is bowed down to the duſt; our belly cleaveth unto the earth.

26 Ariſe for our help, and redeem us for thy mercies ſake.

PSAL. XLV.

MY heart is inditing a good matter: I ſpeak of the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

2 Thou art fairer than the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips; therefore God hath bleſſed thee for ever.

3 Gird thy ſword upon thy thigh, O moſt mighty: with thy glory and thy majeſty.

4 And in thy majeſty ride proſperouſly, becauſe of truth, and meekneſs, and righteouſneſs: and thy right hand ſhall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrows are ſharp in the heart of the king's enemies; whereby the people fall under thee.

6 Thy

PSALM XLI.] 1 Bleſſed is he that conſidereth the poor, &c.] Happy is that charitable man who, prudently conſidering it may be his own condition, deſpiſeth not to viſit the ſick, eſpecially ſuch as are poor; and takes care to comfort and relieve them: the Lord will requite his kindneſs, and ſend him the like ſuccour and relief when he falls into any danger.

PSALM XLII.] 1 As the heart panteth after the water-brooks, &c.] The thirſty hart doth not more earneſtly ſeek the brooks of water, to quench her thirſt, than my ſoul doth for the happy enjoyment of thee, my God, in the public aſſemblies; from whence I am now driven by thoſe that ſeek my life.

3 My tears have been my meat day and night, &c.] There I uſed, with the greateſt delight, to feaſt with thee; but now my appetite fails me for my daily food; inſtead of which, my only ſatisfaction is tears, to which I have wholly abandoned myſelf. For what can be more grievous, than to hear them ſay I am forſaken by thee?

faithfulneſs: O ſend out therefore the happy effects of them, and, according to thy promiſes to thoſe that depend on thee, let thy Almighty power mercifully lead and conduct me.

PSALM XLIV.] 1 We have heard with our ears, O God, &c.] Our fathers, O God, have faithfully informed us, of the wonderful works thou didſt in their time, and alſo in the ages far remote, as they are recorded by their anceſtors.

PSALM XLV.] 1 My heart is inditing a good matter, &c.] My heart is filled with a pſalm of thankſgiving, which I have meditated, and am ready to utter in praiſe of king Solomon, who is only a type of that great King we expect: and, in honour of whom, I will rehearſe what I have compoſed with a fluency equal to that of the moſt ſkilful writer.

1 Thou art fairer than the children of men, &c.] Thou art more lovely than the reſt of mankind: the moſt perſuaſive eloquence flows from thy lips, becauſe the Lord delighteth in thee.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre.

7 Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness: therefore God, thy God hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and Cassia; out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters were among thy honourable women: upon thy right hand did stand the queen in gold of Ophir.

10 Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear; forget also thine own people, and thy father's house.

11 So shall the king greatly desire thy beauty: for he is thy Lord, and worship thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift, even the rich among the people shall intreat thy favour.

13 The king's daughter is all glorious within; her cloathing is of wrought gold.

14 She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needlework: the virgins her companions that follow her, shall be brought unto thee.

15 With gladness and rejoicing shall they be brought: they shall enter into the king's palace.

16 Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children, whom thou mayest make princes in all the earth.

17 I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations: therefore shall the people praise thee for ever and ever.

PSAL. XLVI.

GOD is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.

2 Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea.

3 Though the waters thereof roar, and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. Selah.

4 There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God: the holy place of the tabernacles of the most High.

5 God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her, and that right early.

6 The heathen raged, the kingdoms were moved: he uttered his voice, the earth melted.

7 The Lord of hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

8 Come, behold the works of the Lord, what desolations he hath made in the earth.

9 He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder, he burneth the chariot in the fire.

10 Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lord of hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

PSAL. XLVII.

O Clap your hands, all ye people, shout unto God with the voice of triumph:

2 For the Lord most high is terrible; he is a great King over all the earth.

3 He shall subdue the people under us, and the nations under our feet.

4 He shall choose our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved. Selah.

5 God is gone up with a shout, the Lord with the sound of a trumpet.

6 Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises.

7 For God is the King of all the earth, sing ye praises with understanding.

8 God reigneth over the heathen: God sitteth upon the throne of his holiness.

9 The princes of the people are gathered together, even the people of the God of Abraham: for the shields of the earth belong unto God: he is greatly exalted.

PSAL. XLVIII.

GREAT is the Lord, and greatly to be praised, in the city of our God, in the mountain of his holiness.

2 Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, the city of the great king.

3 God is known in her palaces for a refuge.

4 For lo, the kings were assembled, they passed by together.

5 They saw it, and so they marvelled; they were troubled, and hasted away.

6 Fear took hold upon them there, and pain, as of a woman in travail.

7 Thou breakest the ships of Tarshish with an east wind.

8 As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the Lord of hosts, in the city of our God: God will establish it for ever. Selah.

9 We have thought of thy loving kindness, O God, in the midst of thy temple.

10 According to thy name, O God, so is thy praise unto the ends of the earth; thy right hand is full of righteousness.

11 Let mount Zion rejoice, let the daughters of Judah be glad, because of thy judgments.

12 Walk about Zion, and go round about her: tell the towers thereof.

13 Mark ye well her bulwarks, consider her palaces; that ye may tell it to the generation following.

14 For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death.

PSAL. XLIX.

HEAR this, all ye people; give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world:

2 Both low and high, rich and poor together.

3 My mouth shall speak of wisdom; and the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.

4 I will incline mine ear to a parable: I will open my dark saying upon the harp.

5 Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil, when the iniquity of my heels shall compass me about?

6 They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches;

7 None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him:

8 (For the redemption of their soul is precious, and it ceaseth for ever).

9 That he should still live for ever, and not see corruption.

10 For he seeth, that wise men die, likewise the fool and the brutish person perish, and leave their wealth to others.

11 Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever, and their dwelling places to all generations: they call their lands after their own names.

12 Nevertheless, man being in honour, abideth not: he is like the beasts that perish.

13 This their way is their folly; yet their posterity approve their sayings. Selah.

14 Like sheep they are laid in the grave, death shall feed on them; and the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning, and their beauty shall consume in the grave, from their dwelling.

15 But God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave; for he shall receive me. Selah.

16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, when the glory of his house is increased.

17 For when he dieth, he shall carry nothing away: his glory shall not descend after him.

18 Though whilest he lived, he blessed his soul: and men will praise thee, when thou doest well to thyself.

19 He shall go to the generation of his fathers, they shall never see light.

20 Man that is in honour, and understandeth not, is like the beasts that perish.

PSAL. L.

THE mighty God, even the Lord hath spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun, unto the going down thereof.

2 Out of Zion the perfection of beauty, God hath shined.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him.

4 He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people.

5 Gather my saints together unto me: those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.

6 And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is judge himself. Selah.

7 Hear, O my people, and I will speak; O Israel, and I will testify against thee: I am God, even thy God.

8 I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt-offerings to have been continually before me.

9 I will

PSALM XLVI.] God is our refuge and strength, &c.] It is not known either when, on what occasion, or by whom this psalm was composed. It is, however generally supposed to have been written by David, or some of the sons of Korah, immediately after one of those great victories mentioned, 2 Sam. viii. 10.

PSALM XLVII.] 1 O clap your hands, all ye people, &c.] O ye people, now assembled together, rejoice in the Lord your God, let your hearts overflow with joy, and express it by clapping your hands together, and shouting in a triumphant manner in honour of the Holy One of Israel, who hath condescended to have his dwelling among us.

PSALM XLVIII.] 1 Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, &c.] Great is the majesty and power of the Lord, who is therefore to be celebrated with the highest praises, especially in his own city, by the inhabitants of Jerusalem, in that mountain which he hath long since set apart for the place of his worship, and hath now so marvelously defended.

PSALM XLIX.] 1 Hear ye this all ye people, &c.] Listen attentively to me all ye people, however distant are your habitations; for my words concern equally all countries wherever situated on the face of the whole earth.

Attend unto me and hear me: I mourn in my complaint and make a Noise Ps. LV. 2.

9 I will take no bullock out of thy houſe, nor he-goats out of y folds.
10 For every beaſt of the foreſt is mine, and the cattle upon a ouſand hills.
11 I know all the fowls of the mountains: and the wild beaſts
f the field are mine.
12 If I were hungry, I would not tell thee, for the world is ine, and the fulneſs thereof.
13 Will I eat the fleſh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?
14 Offer unto God thankſgiving, and pay thy vows unto the oſt High.
15 And call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, nd thou ſhalt glorify me.
16 But unto the wicked God ſaith, What haſt thou to do to eclare my ſtatutes, or that thou ſhouldeſt take my covenant in y mouth?
17 Seeing thou hateſt inſtruction, and caſteſt my words behind ee.
18 When thou ſaweſt a thief, then thou conſentedſt with him, nd haſt been partaker with adulterers.
19 Thou giveſt thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth eceit.
20 Thou ſitteſt and ſpeakeſt againſt thy brother, thou ſlandereſt hine own mother's ſon.
21 Theſe things haſt thou done, and I kept ſilence: thou houghteſt that I was altogether ſuch an one as thy ſelf: but I will eprove thee, and ſet them in order before thine eyes.

ieces, and there be none to deliver.

dereth his converſation aright, will I ſhew the ſalvation of God.

HAVE mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kinkneſs, according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my tranſgreſſions.
2 Waſh me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanſe me rom my ſin.
3 For I acknowledge my tranſgreſſions: and my ſin is ever be-ore me.
4 Againſt thee, thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil n thy ſight: that thou mighteſt be juſtified when thou ſpeakeſt, nd be clear when thou judgeſt.
5 Behold, I was ſhapen in iniquity: and in ſin did my mother conceive me.
6 Behold, thou deſireſt truth in the inward parts: and in the hidden part thou ſhalt make me to know wiſdom.
7 Purge me with hyſſop, and I ſhall be clean: waſh me, and I ſhall be whiter than ſnow.
8 Make me to hear joy and gladneſs: that the bones which thou haſt broken may rejoice.
9 Hide thy face from my ſins; and blot out all mine iniquities.
10 Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right ſpirit within me.
11 Caſt me not away from thy preſence; and take not thy holy ſpirit from me.
12 Reſtore unto me the joy of thy ſalvation: and uphold me with thy free ſpirit.
13 Then will I teach tranſgreſſors thy ways, and ſinners ſhall be converted unto thee.

ſalvation: and my tongue ſhall ſing aloud of thy righteouſneſs.
15 O Lord, open thou my lips, and my mouth ſhall ſhew forth thy praiſe.
16 For thou deſireſt not ſacrifice, elſe would I give it: thou delighteſt not in burnt-offering.
17 The ſacrifices of God are a broken ſpirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not deſpiſe.
18 Do good in thy good pleaſure unto Zion: build thou the walls of Jeruſalem.
19 Then ſhalt thou be pleaſed with the ſacrifices of righteouſneſs, with burnt offering, and whole burnt-offering: then ſhall they offer bullocks upon thine altar.

PSAL. LII.

WHY boaſteſt thou thyſelf in miſchief, O mighty man? the goodneſs of God endureth continually.
2 Thy tongue deviſeth miſchiefs: like a ſharp razor working deceitfully.
3 Thou loveſt evil more than good: and lying rather than to ſpeak righteouſneſs. Selah.
4 Thou loveſt all devouring words, O thou deceitful tongue.
5 God ſhall likewiſe deſtroy thee for ever, he ſhall take thee away, and pluck thee out of thy dwelling-place, and root thee out of the land of the living. Selah.
6 The righteous alſo ſhall ſee, and fear, and ſhall laugh at him.
7 Lo, this is the man that made not God his ſtrength: but truſted in the abundance of his riches, and ſtrengthened himſelf in his wickedneſs.
8 But I am like a green olive-tree in the houſe of God: I truſt in the mercy of God for ever and ever.
9 I will praiſe thee for ever, becauſe thou haſt done it: and I will wait on thy name, for it is good before thy ſaints.

PSAL. LIII.

THE fool hath ſaid in his heart, There is no God; corrupt are they and have done abominable iniquity: there is none that doeth good.
2 God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to ſee if there were any that did underſtand, that did ſeek God.
3 Every one of them is gone back, they are altogether become filthy; there is none that doeth good, no not one.
4 Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread; they have not called upon God.
5 There were they in great fear, where no fear was: for God hath ſcattered the bones of him that encampeth againſt thee, thou haſt put them to ſhame, becauſe God hath deſpiſed them.
6 O that the ſalvation of Iſrael were come out of Zion! when God bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob ſhall rejoice and Iſrael ſhall be glad.

PSAL. LIV.

SAVE me, O God, by thy name, and judge me by thy ſtrength.
2 Hear my prayer, O God; give ear to the words of my mouth.
3 For ſtrangers are riſen up againſt me, and oppreſſors ſeek after my ſoul; they have not ſet God before them. Selah.
4 Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is with them that uphold my ſoul.
5 He ſhall reward evil unto mine enemies; cut them off in thy truth.
6 I will freely ſacrifice unto thee; I will praiſe thy name, O Lord, for it is good.
7 For he hath delivered me out of all trouble: and mine eye hath ſeen his deſire upon mine enemies.

PSAL. LV.

GIVE ear to my prayer, O God: and hide not thyſelf from my ſupplication.
2 Attend unto me, and hear me: I mourn in my complaint, and make a noiſe.
3 Becauſe of the voice of the enemy, becauſe of the oppreſſion of the wicked: for they caſt iniquity upon me, and in wrath they hate me.
4 My heart is ſore pained within me: and the terrors of death are fallen upon me.
5 Fearfulneſs and trembling are come upon me, and horror hath overwhelmed me.
6 And I ſaid, O that I had wings like a dove! for then would I fly away, and be at reſt.
7 Lo, then would I wander far off, and remain in the wilderneſs. Selah.
8 I would haſten my eſcape from the windy ſtorm and tempeſt.
9 Deſtroy, O Lord, and divide their tongues; for I have ſeen violence and ſtrife in the city.
10 Day and night they go about it it upon the walls thereof: miſchief alſo and ſorrow are in the midſt of it.
11 Wickedneſs is in the midſt thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her ſtreets.
12 For it was not an enemy that reproached me, then I could have borne it; neither was it he that hated me, that did magnify himſelf againſt me, then I would have hid myſelf from him.

PSALM L.] 23 Whoſo offereth praiſe, glorifieth me, &c.] Remember I have told you what ſacrifices I am pleaſed with; not with thoſe of beaſts, but with the ſacrifice of praiſe and thankſgiving for my benefits, which is more pleaſing to me than all the lifeleſs ſacrifices of bulls and goats.

PSALM LI.] 7 Purge me with hyſſop, and I ſhall be clean, &c.] Though my conſcience be more loathſome with adulterous impurity than a dunghill, though the moſt barbarous of murders has rendered it even black as the gloom of hell, yet waſhed in the great fountain opened for ſin, and for uncleanneſs, I ſhall be not only fairer than the full blown lilly, but whiter than the new-fallen ſnow.

PSALM LII.] 5 God ſhall likewiſe deſtroy thee for ever, &c.] The God, whoſe prieſts thou haſt ſlain, ſhall avenge their cauſe, and pluck thee from that greatneſs and honour to which thou ſeekeſt by theſe deteſtable methods to raiſe thyſelf: nay more, he will retaliate the ſame miſchief upon thine own head.

PSALM LIII.] This pſalm differs ſo very little from the fourteenth, that interpreters have found ſome difficulty to give a reaſon for the repetition of the ſame thing, almoſt in the ſame words.

PSALM LIV.] 1 Save me, O God, by thy name, &c.] O God, whoſe name imports that thou art the Great Judge, and Protector of injured innocence, I humbly implore thine aid in this great diſtreſs.

PSALM LV.] 1 Give ear to my prayer, O God, &c.] Liſten, O thou Great Judge of all the earth. To thee, who art always ready to relieve the oppreſſed, I offer my humble addreſs; reject not, O thou preſerver of men, an humble ſupplicant, but graciouſly receive the petition of his lips.

14 We took ſweet counſel together, and walked unto the houſe of God in company.

15 Let death ſeize upon them, and let them go down quick into hell: for wickedneſs is in their dwellings, and among them.

16 As for me, I will call upon God: and the Lord ſhall ſave me.

17 Evening and morning, and at noon will I pray, and cry aloud: and he ſhall hear my voice.

18 He hath delivered my ſoul in peace from the battle that was againſt me: for there were many with me.

19 God ſhall hear and afflict them, even he that abideth of old, Selah: becauſe they have no changes, therefore they fear not God.

20 He hath put forth his hands againſt ſuch as be at peace with him: he hath broken his covenant.

21 The words of his mouth were ſmoother than butter, but war was in his heart: his words were ſofter than oil, yet were they drawn ſwords.

22 Caſt thy burden upon the Lord, and he ſhall ſuſtain thee: he ſhall never ſuffer the righteous to be moved.

23 But thou, O God, ſhalt bring them down into the pit of deſtruction: bloody and deceitful men ſhall not live out half their days, but I will truſt in thee.

PSAL. LVI.

BE merciful unto me, O God, for man would ſwallow me up: he fighting daily oppreſſeth me.

2 Mine enemies would daily ſwallow me up: for they be many that fight againſt me, O thou moſt High.

3 What time I am afraid, I will truſt in thee.

4 In God I will praiſe his word, in God I have put my truſt, I will not fear what fleſh can do unto me.

5 Every day they wreſt my words: all their thoughts are againſt me for evil.

6 They gather themſelves together, they hide themſelves, they mark my ſteps, when they wait for my ſoul.

7 Shall they eſcape by iniquity? in thine anger caſt down the people, O God.

8 Thou telleſt my wandrings, put thou my tears into thy bottle: are they not in thy book?

9 When I cry unto thee, then ſhall mine enemies turn back: this I know, for God is for me.

10 In God will I praiſe his word: in the Lord will I praiſe his word.

11 In God have I put my truſt: I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.

12 Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render praiſes unto thee.

13 For thou haſt delivered my ſoul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?

PSAL. LVII.

BE merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me, for my ſoul truſteth in thee: yea, in the ſhadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until theſe calamities be overpaſt.

2 I will cry unto God moſt high: unto God that performeth all things for me.

3 He ſhall ſend from heaven, and ſave me from the reproach of him that would ſwallow me up; Selah. God ſhall ſend forth his mercy his truth.

4 My ſoul is among lions, and I lie even among them that are ſet on fire, even the ſons of men, whoſe teeth are ſpears, and arrows, and their tongue a ſharp ſword.

5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

6 They have prepared a net for my ſteps, my ſoul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me, into the midſt whereof they are fallen themſelves. Selah.

7 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will ſing and give praiſe.

8 Awake up my glory, awake pſaltery and harp: I myſelf will awake early.

9 I will praiſe thee, O Lord, among the people: I will ſing unto thee among the nations.

10 For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.

11 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

PSAL. LVIII.

DO ye indeed ſpeak righteouſneſs, O congregation? do ye judge uprightly, O ye ſons of men?

2 Yea, in heart ye work wickedneſs, ye weigh the violence of your hands in the earth.

3 The wicked are eſtranged from the womb, they go aſtray as ſoon as they be born, ſpeaking lies.

4 Their poiſon is like the poiſon of a ſerpent; they are like the deaf adder that ſtoppeth her ear.

5 Which will not hearken to the voice of charmers, charming never ſo wiſely.

6 Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth: break out the great teeth of the young lions, O Lord.

7 Let them melt away as waters which run continually: when he bendeth his bow to ſhoot his arrows, let them be as cut in pieces.

8 As a ſnail which melteth, let every one of them paſs away: like the untimely birth of a woman, that they may not ſee the ſun.

9 Before your pots can feel the thorns, he ſhall take them away as with a whirlwind, both living and in his wrath.

10 The righteous ſhall rejoice when he ſeeth the vengeance: he ſhall waſh his feet in the blood of the wicked.

11 So that a man ſhall ſay, Verily there is a reward for the righteous: verily he is a God that judgeth in the earth.

PSAL. LIX.

DEliver me from mine enemies, O my God: defend me from them that riſe up againſt me.

2 Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and ſave me from bloody men.

3 For lo, they lie in wait for my ſoul; the mighty are gathered againſt me; not for my tranſgreſſion, not for my ſin, O Lord.

4 They run and prepare themſelves without my fault: awake to help me, and behold.

5 Thou therefore, O Lord God of hoſt, the God of Iſrael, awake to viſit all the heathen: be not merciful to any wicked tranſgreſſors. Selah.

6 They return at evening: they make a noiſe like a dog, and go round about the city.

7 Behold, they belch out with their mouth: ſwords are in their lips; for who (ſay they) doth hear?

8 But thou, O Lord, ſhalt laugh at them; thou ſhalt have all the heathen in deriſion.

9 Becauſe of his ſtrength will I wait upon thee: for God is my defence.

10 The God of my mercy ſhall prevent me: God ſhall let me ſee my deſire upon mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, leſt my people forget: ſcatter them by thy power; and bring them down, O Lord our ſhield.

12 For the ſin of their mouth, and the words of their lips, let them even be taken in their pride: and for curſing and lying which they ſpeak.

13 Conſume them in wrath, conſume them, that they may not be: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob unto the ends of the earth. Selah.

14 And at evening let them return, and let them make a noiſe like a dog, and go round about the city.

15 Let them wander up and down for meat, and grudge if they be not ſatisfied.

16 But I will ſing of thy power: yea, I will ſing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou haſt been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Unto thee, O my ſtrength, will I ſing: for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy.

PSAL. LX.

O GOD, thou haſt caſt us off, thou haſt ſcattered us, thou haſt been diſpleaſed: O turn thyſelf to us again.

2 Thou haſt made the earth to tremble; thou haſt broken it: heal the breaches thereof, for it ſhaketh.

3 Thou haſt ſhewed thy people hard things: thou haſt made us to drink the wine of aſtoniſhment.

4 Thou haſt given a banner to them that feared thee: that it may be diſplayed becauſe of the truth. Selah.

5 That thy beloved may be delivered; ſave with thy right hand, and hear me.

6 God hath ſpoken in his holineſs, I will rejoice: I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

PSALM LV.] 20 He hath put forth his hands againſt ſuch as be at peace with him, &c.] That perfidious perſon who contrived this miſchief hath not only violated all the laws of friendſhip, but profanely broken his promiſe and oath of fidelity he engaged to me.

PSALM LVI.] 1 Be merciful unto me, O God, &c.] Take pity upon me, O thou great and impartial Judge of all mankind; reſcue thy ſervant from the violence of mine enemies: for Saul, though like me, a creature of the duſt, continues his anger, and purſues me with an inſatiable deſire to take away my life: he never intermits his perſecutions, but preſſes me cloſer from day to day.

This pſalm was compoſed by David, when, for fear of Saul, he fled, like an innocent dove, into remote and ſolitary places; particularly when he was obliged to take ſhelter among the Philiſtines in Gath.

PSALM LVII.] This pſalm was, like the former, written during the perſecution of Saul, and at the time when both Saul and David were in the ſame cave, and the latter had a fair opportunity of deſtroying his enemy, ſee 1 Sam. xxiv.

PSALM LVIII.] 1, 2 Do ye indeed ſpeak righteouſneſs, O congregation?] Is juſtice be no longer found among the princes and rulers met together in council, where can we expect it?

PSALM LIX.] 17 Unto thee, O my ſtrength, will I ſing, &c.] I will praiſe thee, O thou worſhip of Iſrael, with the ſame ſincerity as I prayed to thee when perſecuted by Saul. For, whoever was the inſtrument, it was God that brought me into a place of ſafety; that God who hath been ſo merciful to me, and bound me to him by ſuch innumerable benefits.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manaſſeh is mine, Ephraim alſo is the ſtrength of mine head; Judah is my law-giver.
8 Moab is my waſh-pot, over Edom will I caſt out my ſhoe: Philiſtia, triumph thou becauſe of me.
9 Who will bring me into the ſtrong city! who will lead me into Edom?
10 Wilt not thou, O God, which hadſt caſt us off? and thou, O God, which didſt not go out with our armies?
11 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.
12 Through God we ſhall do valiantly: for he it is that ſhall tread down our enemies.

PSAL. LXI.

HEAR my cry, O God, attend unto my prayer.
2 From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher than I.
3 For thou haſt been a ſhelter for me, and a ſtrong tower from the enemy.
4 I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever: I will truſt in the covert of thy wings. Selah.
5 For thou, O God, haſt heard my vows: thou haſt given me the heritage of thoſe that fear thy name.
6 Thou wilt prolong the king's life: and his years as many generations.
7 He ſhall abide before God for ever: O prepare mercy and truth which may preſerve him.
8 So will I ſing praiſe unto thy name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows.

PSAL. LXII.

TRULY my ſoul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my ſalvation.
2 He only is my rock and my ſalvation: he is my defence; I ſhall not be greatly moved.
3 How long will ye imagine miſchief againſt a man: ye ſhall be ſlain all of you: as a bowing wall ſhall ye be, and as a tottering fence.
4 They only conſult to caſt him down from his excellency, they delight in lies: they bleſs with their mouth, but they curſe inwardly. Selah.
5 My ſoul, wait thou only upon God: for my expectation is from him.
6 He only is my rock and my ſalvation; he is my defence: I ſhall not be moved.
7 In God is my ſalvation and my glory: the rock of my ſtrength, and my refuge is in God.
8 Truſt in him at all times; ye people, pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. Selah.
9 Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are altogether lighter than vanity.
10 Truſt not in oppreſſion, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increaſe, ſet not your heart upon them.
11 God hath ſpoken once; twice have I heard this, that power belongeth unto God.
12 Alſo unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou rendereſt to every man according to his work.

PSAL. LXIII.

O God, thou art my God, early will I ſeek thee: my ſoul thirſteth for thee, my fleſh longeth for thee in a dry and thirſty land, where no water is:
2 To ſee thy power and thy glory, ſo as I have ſeen thee in the ſanctuary.
3 Becauſe thy loving kindneſs is better than life: my lips ſhall praiſe thee.
4 Thus will I bleſs thee, while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.
5 My ſoul ſhall be ſatisfied as with marrow and fatneſs; and my mouth ſhall praiſe thee with joyful lips.
6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night watches.
7 Becauſe thou haſt been my help; therefore in the ſhadow of thy wings will I rejoice.
8 My ſoul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.
9 But thoſe that ſeek my ſoul to deſtroy it, ſhall go into the lower parts of the earth.
10 They ſhall fall by the ſword, they ſhall be a portion for foxes.
11 But the king ſhall rejoice in God, every one that ſweareth by him ſhall glory: but the mouth of them that ſpeak lies, ſhall be ſtopped.

PSAL. LXIV.

HEAR my voice, O God, in my prayer; preſerve my life from fear of the enemy.
2 Hide me from the ſecret counſel of the wicked; from the inſurrection of the workers of iniquity:
3 Who wet their tongue like a ſword, and bend their bows to ſhoot their arrows, even bitter words:
4 That they may ſhoot in ſecret at the perfect: ſuddenly do they ſhoot at him, and fear not.
5 They encourage themſelves in an evil matter: they commune of laying ſnares privily, they ſay, Who ſhall ſee them?
6 They ſearch out iniquities, they accompliſh a diligent ſearch: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart is deep.
7 But God ſhall ſhoot at them with an arrow, ſuddenly ſhall they be wounded.
8 So they ſhall make their own tongue to fall upon themſelves: all that ſee them, ſhall flee away.
9 And all men ſhall fear, and ſhall declare the work of God; for they ſhall wiſely conſider of his doing.
10 The righteous ſhall be glad in the Lord, and ſhall truſt in him; and all the upright in heart ſhall glory.

PSAL. LXV.

PRAISE waiteth for thee, O God, in Sihon: and unto thee ſhall the vow be performed.
2 O thou that heareſt prayer, unto thee ſhall all fleſh come.
3 Iniquities prevail againſt me: as for our tranſgreſſions, thou ſhalt purge them away.
4 Bleſſed is the man whom thou chooſeſt, and cauſeſt to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we ſhall be ſatisfied with the goodneſs of thy houſe, even of thy holy temple.
5 By terrible things in righteouſneſs, wilt thou anſwer us, O God of our ſalvation: who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the ſea.
6 Which by his ſtrength ſetteth faſt the mountains; being girded with power.
7 Which ſtilleth the noiſe of the ſeas, the noiſe of their waves, and the tumult of the people.
8 They alſo that dwell in the uttermoſt parts are afraid at thy tokens: thou makeſt the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.
9 Thou viſiteſt the earth, and watereſt it: thou greatly enricheſt it with the river of God, which is full of water: thou prepareſt them corn, when thou haſt ſo provided for it.
10 Thou watereſt the ridges thereof abundantly: thou ſettleſt the furrows thereof: thou makeſt it ſoft with ſhowers, thou bleſſeſt the ſpringing thereof.
11 Thou crowneſt the year with thy goodneſs, and thy paths drop fatneſs.
12 They drop upon the paſtures of the wilderneſs: and the little hills rejoice on every ſide.
13 The paſtures are clothed with flocks; the valleys alſo are covered over with corn; they ſhout for joy, they alſo ſing.

PSAL. LXVI.

MAKE a joyful noiſe unto God, all ye lands.
2 Sing forth the honour of his name: make his praiſe glorious.

3 Say

PSALM LX.] 8 Moab is my waſh-pot, &c.] My power ſhall be now extended beyond the borders of Canaan; for I will tread Moab under my feet, and reduce them to the meaneſt ſervitude; I will trample alſo upon the Edomites, and make them ſlaves; and the Philiſtines, whom I have begun to ſmite, ſhall adorn my triumph, and be forced to own me for their conqueror.

PSALM LXI.] 1 Hear my cry, O God, attend to my prayer.] O God, the ſupreme Ruler of the univerſe, graciouſly liſten to the petition of an humble ſupplicant; who, plunged in a ſea of afflictions, moſt earneſtly implores thy gracious aid and aſſiſtance.

Commentators are not agreed with regard to the occaſion on which this pſalm was written; but the moſt probable opinion is, that it was the rebellion of Abſalom, when the royal prophet was obliged to paſs the river Jordan, and retire to Mahanaim, the very extremity of Judah.

PSALM LXII.] 1 Truly my ſoul waiteth upon God, &c.] I am determined to commit myſelf patiently to God, be the dangers that threaten my deſtruction ever ſo great; not doubting but he will protect me, and I well know that he alone is able to deliver me.

PSALM LXIII.] 1 O God, thou art my God, early will I ſeek thee, &c.] O God, who haſt ever been my gracious God, and art my only confidence, to thee I early direct my morning ſacrifice of prayer, earneſtly beſeeching thee to take pity upon me, in this deſolate and forlorn condition.

10 They ſhall fall by the ſword: they ſhall be a portion for foxes.] They ſhall periſh by the ſword, and their carcaſes have no other ſepulchre than the bowels of foxes, and other ravenous creatures, who like them live by treachery and deceit.

PSALM LXIV.] The enemy of whom David here complains was probably Saul, whoſe hatred to him was more malignant, by the calumnies and falſe ſtories which were told of him by ſome ſycophants of his court. In memory of which he compoſed this pſalm, and delivered it to the chief muſician, to be ſung in the tabernacle.

PSALM LXV.] 1 Praiſe waiteth for thee, O God, in Sion, &c.] It is our duty, O God, above all other people on the earth, to praiſe thee and to pay the vows which we made unto thee in the time of our diſtreſs.

8 They alſo that dwell in the uttermoſt parts are afraid at thy tokens, &c.] The moſt barbarous people, who live in the remoteſt corners of the earth, behold with amazement the heavenly bodies which thou haſt appointed for ſigns and tokens.

PSALM LXVI.] It is evident, that this pſalm was written after a remarkable deliverance from ſome great calamity, under which the whole nation had groaned, but by whom, or on what particular occaſion, is not abſolutely known. The moſt probable opinion however is, that it was compoſed by David after he had aſcended the throne of Iſrael; before which the Hebrews had been in a very unſettled condition.

PSALM

3 Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works! through the greatneſs of thy power ſhall thine enemies ſubmit themſelves unto thee.

4 All the earth ſhall worſhip thee, and ſhall ſing unto thee, they ſhall ſing to thy name. Selah.

5 Come and ſee the works of God: he is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.

6 He turned the ſea into dry land: they went through the flood on foot, there did we rejoice in him.

7 He ruleth by his power for ever, his eyes behold the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themſelves. Selah.

8 O bleſs our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praiſe to be heard.

9 Which holdeth our ſoul in life, and ſuffereth not our feet to be moved.

10 For thou, O God, haſt proved us: thou haſt tried us, as ſilver is tried.

11 Thou broughteſt us into the net, thou laidſt affliction upon our loins.

12 Thou haſt cauſed men to ride over our heads, we went through fire and through water: but thou broughteſt us out into a wealthy place.

13 I will go into thy houſe with burnt-offerings: I will pay thee my vows.

14 Which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath ſpoken when I was in trouble.

15 I will offer unto thee burnt-ſacrifices of fatlings, with the incenſe of rams: I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah.

16 Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my ſoul.

17 I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.

18 If I regard iniquity in my heart: the Lord will not hear me.

19 But verily God hath heard me: he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.

20 Bleſſed be God which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

PSAL. LXVII.

GOD be merciful unto us, and bleſs us: and cauſe his face to ſhine upon us. Selah.

2 That thy way be known upon earth, thy ſaving health among all nations.

3 Let the people praiſe thee, O God; let all the people praiſe thee.

4 O let the nations be glad, and ſing for joy: for thou ſhalt judge the people righteouſly, and govern the nations upon earth. Selah.

5 Let the people praiſe thee, O God; let all the people praiſe thee.

6 Then ſhall the earth yield her increaſe; and God, even our own God, ſhall bleſs us,

7 God ſhall bleſs us, and all the ends of the earth ſhall fear him.

PSAL. LXVIII.

LET God ariſe, let his enemies be ſcattered: let them alſo that hate him, flee before him.

2 As ſmoke is driven away, ſo drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, ſo let the wicked periſh in the preſence of God.

3 But let the righteous be glad: let them rejoice before God, yea, let them exceedingly rejoice.

4 Sing unto God, ſing praiſes to his name; extol him that rideth upon the heavens by his name Jah, and rejoice before him.

5 A father of the fatherleſs, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.

6 God ſetteth the ſolitary in families: he bringeth out thoſe which are bound with chains, but the rebellious dwell in a dry land.

7 O God, when thou wenteſt forth before thy people; when thou didſt march through the wilderneſs. Selah.

8 The earth ſhook, the heavens alſo dropped at the preſence of God, even Sinai itſelf was moved at the preſence of God, the God of Iſrael.

9 Thou, O God, didſt ſend a plentiful rain, whereby thou didſt confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

10 Thy congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, haſt prepared of thy goodneſs for the poor.

11 The Lord gave the word, great was the company of thoſe that publiſhed it.

12 Kings of armies did flee apace: and ſhe that tarried at home, divided the ſpoil.

13 Though you have lien among the pots, yet ſhall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with ſilver, and her feathers with yellow gold.

14 When the Almighty ſcattered kings in it, it was white as ſnow in Salmon.

15 The hill of God is as the hill of Baſhan, an high hill as the hill of Baſhan.

16 Why leap ye, ye high hills? this is the hill which God deſireth to dwell in, yea, the LORD will dwell in it for ever.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thouſand, even thouſands of angels: the Lord is among them as in Sinai, in the holy place.

18 Thou haſt aſcended on high, thou haſt led captivity captive: thou haſt received gifts for men; yea, for the rebellious alſo, that the Lord God might dwell among them.

19 Bleſſed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our ſalvation. Selah.

20 He that is our God, is the God of ſalvation; and unto God the Lord belong the iſſues from death.

21 But God ſhall wound the head of his enemies: and the hairy ſcalp of ſuch an one as goeth on ſtill in his treſpaſſes.

22 The Lord ſaid, I will bring again from Baſhan, I will bring my people again from the depths of the ſea:

23 That thy foot may be dipt in the blood of thine enemies, and the tongue of thy dogs in the ſame.

24 They have ſeen thy goings, O God, even the goings of my God, my king in the ſanctuary.

25 The ſingers went before, the players on inſtruments followed after; amongſt them were the damſels playing with timbrels.

26 Bleſs ye God in the congregations, even the Lord, from the fountain of Iſrael.

27 There is little Benjamin with their ruler, the princes of Judah, and their counſel, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy God hath commanded thy ſtrength: ſtrengthen, O God, that which thou haſt wrought for us.

29 Becauſe of thy temple at Jeruſalem, ſhall kings bring preſents unto thee.

30 Rebuke the company of ſpear-men, the multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the people, till every one ſubmit himſelf with pieces of ſilver: ſcatter thou the people that delight in war.

31 Princes ſhall come out of Egypt, Ethiopia ſhall ſoon ſtretch out her hands unto God.

32 Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth: O ſing praiſes unto the Lord. Selah.

33 To him that rideth upon the heavens of heavens, which were of old; lo, he doth ſend out his voice, and that a mighty voice.

34 Aſcribe ye ſtrength unto God: his excellency is over Iſrael, and his ſtrength is in the clouds.

35 O God, thou art terrible out of thy holy places, the God of Iſrael is he that giveth ſtrength and power unto his people: bleſſed be God.

PSAL. LXIX.

SAVE me, O God, for the waters are come in unto my ſoul.

2 I ſink in deep mire, where there is no ſtanding: I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.

3 I am weary of my crying, my throat is dried: mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cauſe, are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would deſtroy me being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I reſtored that which I took not away.

5 O God, thou knoweſt my fooliſhneſs; and my ſins are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord God of hoſts, be aſhamed for my ſake: let not thoſe that ſeek thee, be confounded for my ſake, O God of Iſrael.

7 Becauſe for thy ſake I have borne reproach: ſhame hath covered my face.

8 I am beome a ſtranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mother's children.

9 For the zeal of thine houſe hath eaten me up; and the reproaches of them that reproached thee, are fallen upon me.

10 When

PSALM LXVII.] 3 Let the people praiſe thee, O God, &c.] O that we might ſee that happy day! O that the people would confeſs and praiſe thee, O God! that all the people every where, with one conſent, would confeſs and praiſe thee!

PSALM LXVII.] David having brought the ark to Jeruſalem, with great joy and triumph, after it had been long neglected in the reign of Saul, hoped God would be more propitious to him, according to the prayer he had made in the foregoing pſalm; having now brought the ark near his own palace, and prepared a noble place for its reception, which it had been long without.

18 Thou haſt aſcended on high, thou haſt led captivity captive, &c.] Thou haſt declared this, O God, who art gone up to that holy mountain, and haſt highly exalted thyſelf by illuſtrious victories, which, by the inviſible miniſtry of the heavenly hoſt, thou haſt given us over our enemies; as the Meſſiah, who ſhall be thy ſanctuary, will do far more magnificently, when after conquering death and the power of Satan, he ſhall aſcend in a reſplendent chariot, attended by myriads of the heavenly hoſt, to the moſt exalted ſeats of happineſs, even to thine own right-hand.

PSALM LXIX.] 1 Save me, O God, for the waters are come in unto my ſoul.] O thou mighty God of Jacob, in whom alone I hope for ſafety, deliver me, I beſeech thee, from this miſerable condition; wherein I am overwhelmed with ſo many calamities, that my life is in the utmoſt danger, unleſs thou in thy great mercy will deign to preſerve it.

21 They

10 When I wept, and chastened my soul with fasting, that was to my reproach.

11 I made sackcloth also my garment: and I became a proverb to them.

12 They that sit in the gate, speak against me; and I was the song of the drunkards.

13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O Lord, in an acceptable time: O God in the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy salvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

15 Let not the water-flood overflow me, neither let the deep swallow me up, and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

16 Hear me, O Lord, for thy loving kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy servant, for I am in trouble: hear me speedily.

18 Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it: deliver me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine adversaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness: and I looked for some to take pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me also gall for my meat, and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their table become a snare before them: and that which should have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.

23 Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not; and make their loins continually to shake.

24 Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.

25 Let their habitation be desolate, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten, and they talk to the grief of those whom thou hast wounded.

27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous.

29 But I am poor and sorrowfull: let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving.

31 This also shall please the Lord better than an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs.

32 The humble shall see this, and be glad: and your heart shall live that seek God.

33 For the Lord heareth the poor, and despiseth not his prisoners.

34 Let the heaven and earth praise him, the seas and every thing that moveth therein.

35 For God will save Sion, and will build the cities of Judah: that they may dwell there, and have it in possession.

36 The seed also of his servants shall inherit it: and they that love his name, shall dwell therein.

PSAL. LXX.

MAKE haste, O God, to deliver me; make haste to help me, O Lord.

2 Let them be ashamed and confounded that seek after my soul: let them be turned backward, and put to confusion, that desire my hurt.

3 Let them be turned back for a reward of their shame, that say, Aha, aha.

4 Let all those that seek thee, rejoice and be glad in thee; and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.

5 But I am poor and needy, make haste unto me, O God: thou art my help and my deliverer, O Lord, make no tarrying.

PSAL. LXXI.

IN thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion.

2 Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me.

3 Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me, for thou art my rock and my fortress.

4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

5 For thou art my hope, O Lord God: thou art my trust from my youth.

6 By thee have I been holden up from the womb: thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels: my praise shall be continually of thee.

7 I am as a wonder unto many; but thou art my strong refuge.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, and with thy honour all the day.

9 Cast me not off in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength faileth.

10 For mine enemies speak against me; and they that lay wait for my soul, take counsel together.

11 Saying, God hath forsaken him: persecute and take him; for there is none to deliver him.

12 O God, be not far from me: O my God, make haste for my help.

13 Let them be confounded and consumed, that are adversaries to my soul: let them be covered with reproach and dishonour, that seek my hurt.

14 But I will hope continually, and will yet praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall shew forth thy righteousness, and thy salvation all the day: for I know not the numbers thereof.

16 I will go in the strength of the Lord God: I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.

17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wonderous works.

18 Now also, when I am old and grey-headed, O God, forsake me not: until I have shewed thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come.

19 Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high, who hast done great things: O God, who is like unto thee?

20 Thou which hast shewed me great and sore troubles, shalt quicken me again, and shalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth.

21 Thou shalt increase my greatness, and comfort me on every side.

22 I will also praise thee with the psaltery, even thy truth, O my God: unto thee will I sing with the harp, O thou Holy One of Israel.

23 My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing unto thee; and my soul which thou hast redeemed.

24 My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long: for they are confounded, for they are brought unto shame, that seek my hurt.

PSAL. LXXII.

GIVE the king thy judgments, O God, and thy righteousness unto the king's son.

2 He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment.

3 The mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the little hills, by righteousness.

4 He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor.

5 They shall fear thee as long as the sun and moon endure, throughout all generations.

6 He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass; as showers that water the earth.

7 In his days shall the righteous flourish; and abundance of peace, so long as the moon endureth.

8 He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth.

9 They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him; and his enemies shall lick the dust.

10 The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

11 Yea, all kings shall fall down before him: all nations shall serve him.

12 For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth; the poor also, and him that hath no helper.

---

21 They gave me also gall for my meat, and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.] Instead of comfort, they exasperated my grief; and because I am reduced to such miserable circumstances, use the most bitter reproaches: like the cruel wretch that would give the hungry traveller gall to eat, or, when he was thirsty, offer him, as they will really do the Messiah, vinegar to drink.

PSALM LXX.] There is not any remarkable difference between this psalm and the latter part of the fortieth; and therefore it is natural to think that David, during the conspiracy of Absalom, reviewed what he had written, and with some small alterations composed this as a distinct prayer, to be used constantly during the continuance of that sharp affliction.

PSALM LXXI.] This psalm has no inscription, but is generally thought to have been written by David, on occasion of the unnatural rebellion of his son, which happened in his declining years, when he was grey-headed, as he complains, ver. 9, and 18.

PSALM LXXII.] 1 Give the king thy judgment, O God, &c.] Bestow, I beseech thee, O thou great judge of all the earth, upon Solomon, who is now anointed to sit upon my throne, such a right judgment in all things, and such uprightness and integrity of heart, that he may govern this people according to the laws thou wast pleased to give them from heaven.

It is sufficiently evident from the conclusion of this psalm, that David was the author of it.

13 He shall spare the poor and needy, and shall save the souls of the needy.

14 He shall redeem their soul from deceit and violence: and precious shall their blood be in his sight.

15 And he shall live, and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba: prayer also shall be made for him continually; and daily shall he be praised.

16 There shall be an handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon: and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.

17 His name shall endure for ever: his name shall be continued as long as the sun: and men shall be blessed in him: all nations shall call him blessed.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wonderous things.

19 And blessed be his glorious name for ever: and let the whole earth be filled with his glory. Amen and Amen.

20 The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended.

PSAL. LXXIII.

TRULY God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone; my steps had well nigh slipt.

3 For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death: but their strength is firm.

5 They are not in trouble as other men; neither are they plagued like other men.

6 Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain; violence covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out with fatness: they have more than heart could wish.

8 They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression: they speak loftily.

9 They set their mouth against the heavens, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his people return hither: and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Behold, these are the ungodly, who prosper in the world, they increase in riches.

13 Verily, I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency.

14 For all the day long have I been plagued, and chastened every morning.

15 If I say, I will speak thus; behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children.

16 When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me;

17 Until I went into the sanctuary of God: then understood I their end.

18 Surely thou didst set them in slippery places: thou castedst them down into destruction.

19 How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment! they are utterly consumed with terrors.

20 As a dream when one awaketh; so, O Lord, when thou awakest, thou shalt despise their image.

21 Thus my heart was grieved, and I was pricked in my reins.

22 So foolish was I, and ignorant: I was as a beast before thee.

23 Nevertheless, I am continually with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.

25 Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee.

26 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.

27 For lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.

28 But it is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy works.

PSAL. LXXIV.

O God, why hast thou cast us off for ever? why doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?

2 Remember thy congregation which thou hast purchased of old: the rod of thine inheritance which thou hast redeemed, this mount Zion wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual desolations: even all that the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.

4 Thine enemies roar in the midst of thy congregations: they set up their ensigns for signs.

5 A man was famous according as he had lifted up axes upon the thick trees.

6 But now they break down the carved work thereof at once, with axes and hammers.

7 They have cast fire into thy sanctuary, they have defiled by casting down the dwelling-place of thy name to the ground.

8 They said in their hearts, Let us destroy them together: they have burnt up all the synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signs, there is no more any prophet, neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the adversary reproach? shall the enemy blaspheme thy name for ever?

11 Why withdrawest thou thy hand, even thy right hand? pluck it out of thy bosom.

12 For God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.

13 Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the heads of leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness.

15 Thou didst cleave the fountain and the flood: thou driedst up mighty rivers.

16 The day is thine, the night also is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sun.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O Lord, and that the foolish people have blasphemed thy name.

19 O deliver not the soul of thy turtle-dove unto the multitude of the wicked, forget not the congregation of thy poor for ever.

20 Have respect unto the covenant: for the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of cruelty.

21 O let not the oppressed return ashamed: let the poor and needy praise thy name.

22 Arise, O God, plead thine own cause: remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee daily.

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: the tumult of those that rise up against thee, increaseth continually.

PSAL. LXXV.

UNTO thee, O God, do we give thanks, unto thee do we give thanks: for that thy name is near, thy wondrous works declare.

2 When I shall receive the congregation, I will judge uprightly.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: I bear up the pillars of it. Selah.

4 I said unto the fools, Deal not foolishly; and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn.

5 Lift not up your horn on high: speak not with a stiff neck.

6 For promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the south.

7 But God is the judge: he putteth down one, and setteth up another.

8 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full of mixture, and he poureth out of the same, but the dregs thereof all the wicked of the earth shall wring them out, and drink them.

9 But I will declare for ever; I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.

10 All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off; but the horns of the righteous shall be exalted.

PSAL. LXXVI.

IN Judah is God known: his name is great in Israel.

2 In Salem also is his tabernacle, and his dwelling place in Zion.

3 There brake he the arrows of the bow, the shield, and the sword, and the battle. Selah.

4 Thou art more glorious and excellent than the mountains of prey.

16 There shall be an handful of corn in the earth, &c.] God shall bless the land with such remarkable plenty, that an handful of corn sown in the earth, nay, even on the summit of the barren mountains, shall spring up so thick, and produce ears so plump and full, that when shaken by the wind, they shall make a noise like the cedars of Lebanon.

PSALM LXXIII.] 1 Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart.] Henceforth I will never question the justice of God's providence, whatever confusions I may behold, but constantly affirm, that he is equally just and good.

19, 20 How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment, &c.] Oh, what an astonishing change is this! which is the more frightful, when on a sudden, divine vengeance seizes on them: and when they least expected it, a final period is put to all their greatness.

PSALM LXXIV.] The desolation of Jerusalem, the temple, and the rest of the land of Canaan by the king of Babylon, was the sad occasion of this psalm, which was composed during the Babylonish captivity, and probably by some pious man of the posterity of Asaph the seer, who was suffered to remain in the land of Israel with the Chaldeans.

PSALM LXXV.] This psalm seems to have been composed by Asaph the seer, after the great deliverance, which, by the strange destruction of Sennacherib's army, God gave the good king Hezekiah: for whose use Asaph composed this psalm, and delivered it to the chief musician in the temple, that he might make public profession of his obligations to the Almighty God of Jacob, and his resolution to serve him, and depend wholly on his mercy and goodness.

PSALM LXXVI.] 1 In Judah is God known: his name is great in Israel.] The Almighty hath so fully demonstrated himself to be the sovereign Ruler and Judge of the world, that he must be more than blind who doth not acknowledge it. His glorious perfections are conspicuous in every part of the earth; but are particularly magnified in Israel.

PSAL

5 The ſtout-hearted are ſpoiled, they have ſlept their ſleep: and none of the men of might have found their hands.

6 At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both the chariot and horſe are caſt into a dead ſleep.

7 Thou, even thou art to be feared, and who may ſtand in thy ſight when once thou art angry?

8 Thou didſt cauſe judgment to be heard from heaven: the earth feared and was ſtill.

9 When God aroſe to judgment to ſave all the meek of the earth. Selah.

10 Surely the wrath of man ſhall praiſe thee: the remainder of wrath ſhalt thou reſtrain.

11 Vow, and pay unto the Lord your God; let all that be round about him bring preſents unto him that ought to be feared.

12 He ſhall cut off the ſpirit of princes: he is terrible to the kings of the earth.

PSAL. LXXVII.

I Cried unto God with my voice: even unto God with my voice and he gave ear unto me.

2 In the day of my trouble I ſought the Lord; my ſore ran in the night, and ceaſed not: my ſoul refuſed to be comforted.

3 I remembered God, and was troubled: I complained, and ſpirit was overwhelmed. Selah.

4 Thou holdeſt mine eyes waking: I am ſo troubled that I cannot ſpeak.

5 I have conſidered the days of old, the years of ancient times.

6 I call to remembrance my ſong in the night: I commune with mine own heart, and my ſpirit made diligent ſearch.

7 Will the Lord caſt off for ever? and will he be favourable no more?

8 Is his mercy clean gone for ever? doth his promiſe fail for evermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to be gracious? hath he in anger ſhut up his tender mercies? Selah.

10 And I ſaid, This is my infirmity: but I will remember the years of the right hand of the moſt High.

11 I will remember the works of the Lord: ſurely I will remember of thy wonders of old.

12 I will meditate alſo of all thy work, and talk of thy doings.

13 Thy way, O God, is in the ſanctuary: who is ſo great a God as our God?

14 Thou art the God that doeſt wonders; thou haſt declared thy ſtrength among the people.

15 Thou haſt with thine arm redeemed thy people, the ſons of Jacob and Joſeph. Selah.

16 The waters ſaw thee, O God, the waters ſaw thee: they were afraid; the depths alſo were troubled.

17 The clouds poured out water, the ſkies ſent out a ſound: thine arrows alſo went abroad.

18 The voice of thy thunder was in the heaven: the lightnings lightned the world, the earth trembled and ſhook.

19 Thy way is in the ſea, and thy path in the great waters, and thy footſteps are not known.

20 Thou leddeſt thy people like a flock, by the hand of Moſes and Aaron.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

GIVE ear, O my people, to my law: incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark ſayings of old:

3 Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.

4 We will not hide them from their children, ſhewing to the generation to come, the praiſes of the Lord; and his ſtrength and his wonderful works that he hath done.

5 For he eſtabliſhed a teſtimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Iſrael, which he commanded our fathers that they ſhould make them known to their children

6 That the generation to come might know them, even the children which ſhould be born: who ſhould ariſe and declare them to their children.

7 That they might ſet their hope in God, and not forget the works of God: but keep his commandments:

8 And might not be as their fathers, a ſtubborn and rebellious generation; a generation that ſet not their heart aright, and whoſe ſpirit was not ſtedfaſt with God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed, and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, and refuſed to walk in his law:

11 And forgat his works, and his wonders that he had ſhewed them.

12 Marvellous things did he in the ſight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13 He divided the ſea, and cauſed them to paſs through, and he made the waters to ſtand as an heap.

14 In the day-time alſo he led them with a cloud, and all the night with the light of fire.

15 He clave the rocks in the wilderneſs, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.

16 He brought ſtreams alſo out of the rock, and cauſed waters to run down like rivers.

17 And they ſinned yet more againſt him, by provoking the moſt High in the wilderneſs.

18 And they tempted God in their heart, by aſking meat for their luſt.

19 Yea, they ſpake againſt God: they ſaid, Can God furniſh a table in the wilderneſs?

20 Behold, he ſmote the rock, that the waters guſhed out, and the ſtreams overflowed; can he give bread alſo? can he provide fleſh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard this, and was wroth, ſo a fire was kindled againſt Jacob, and anger alſo came up againſt Iſrael;

22 Becauſe they believed not in God, and truſted not in his ſalvation:

23 Though he had commanded the clouds from above, and opened the doors of heaven,

24 And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven.

25 Man did eat angels food: he ſent them meat to the full.

26 He cauſed an eaſt-wind to blow in the heaven; and by his power he brought in the ſouth-wind.

27 He reigned fleſh alſo upon them as duſt, and feathered fowls like as the ſand of the ſea:

28 And he let it fall in the midſt of their camp, round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own deſire;

30 They were not eſtranged from their luſt: but while their meat was yet in their mouths,

31 The wrath of God came upon them, and ſlew the fatteſt of them, and ſmote down the choſen men of Iſrael.

32 For all this they ſinned ſtill: and believed not for his wondrous works.

33 Therefore their days did he conſume in vanity, and their years in trouble.

34 When he ſlew them then they ſought him: and they returned and enquired early after God.

35 And they remembered that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer.

36 Nevertheleſs, they did flatter him with their mouth, and they lied unto him with their tongues.

37 For their heart was not right with him, neither were they ſtedfaſt in his covenant.

38 But he being full of compaſſion, forgave their iniquity, and deſtroyed them not; yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not ſtir up all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that they were but fleſh; a wind that paſſeth away and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderneſs, and grieve him in the deſert?

41 Yea, they turned back and tempted God, and limited the holy One of Iſrael.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy.

43 How he had wrought his ſigns in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan:

44 And had turned their rivers into blood; and their floods, that they could not drink.

45 He ſent divers ſorts of flies among them, which devoured them; and frogs, which deſtroyed them.

46 He gave alſo their increaſe unto the caterpillar, and their labour unto the locuſt.

47 He deſtroyed their vines with hail, and their ſycamore trees with froſt.

48 He gave up their cattle alſo to the hail, and their flocks to hot thunderbolts.

49 He caſt upon them the fierceneſs of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by ſending evil angels among them.

50 He

PSALM LXXVII.] 19 Thy way is in the ſea, and thy paths in the great waters, and thy footſteps are not known.] We may therefore well ſay, that thy way cannot be tread by human knowledge, who madeſt a paſſage through the ſea, a broad path through the boiſterous waves; where none ever trod before, and which the waters have overflown and obliterated.

PSALM LXXVIII.] 1 Give ear, O my people, to my law, &c.] Hearken with reverence, O ye ſeed of Jacob, for whom I have the trueſt affection, to my admonition: liſten, with the utmoſt attention, I beſeech you, to the words of my mouth.

The Pſalmiſt has here given, for the uſe of his countrymen, an epitome of the hiſtory of the Iſraelites from their coming out of Egypt to the time that David aſcended the throne.

PSALM

50 He made a way to his anger, he ſpared not their ſoul from death: but gave their life over to the peſtilence,

51 And ſmote all the firſt-born in Egypt: the chief of their ſtrength in the tabernacles of Ham:

52 But made his own people to go forth like ſheep, and guided them in the wilderneſs like a flock.

53 And he led them on ſafely, ſo that they feared not: but the ſea overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And he brought them to the border of his ſanctuary, even to this mountain, which his right hand had purchaſed.

55 He caſt out the heathen alſo before them, and divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Iſrael to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet they tempted and provoked the moſt high God, and kept not his teſtimonies:

57 But turned back, and dealt unfaithfully like their fathers: they were turned aſide like a deceitful bow.

58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealouſy with their graven images.

59 When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Iſrael:

60 So that he forſook the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men:

61 And delivered his ſtrength into captivity, and his glory into the enemies hand.

62 He gave his people over alſo unto the ſword; and was wroth with his inheritance.

63 The fire conſumed their young men: and their maidens were not given to marriage.

64 Their prieſts fell by the ſword: and their widows made no lamentation.

65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of ſleep, and like a mighty man that ſhouteth by reaſon of wine.

66 And he ſmote his enemies in the hinder part: he put them to a perpetual reproach.

67 Moreover, he refuſed the tabernacle of Joſeph: and choſe not the tribe of Ephraim.

68 But choſe the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion, which he loved.

69 And he built his ſanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath eſtabliſhed for ever.

70 He choſe David alſo his ſervant, and took him from the ſheep-folds:

71 From following the ewes great with young, he brought him to feed Jacob his people, and Iſrael his inheritance.

72 So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart: and guided them by the ſkilfulneſs of his hands.

PSAL. LXXIX.

O GOD, the heathen are come into thine inheritance, thy holy temple have they defiled: they have laid Jeruſalem on heaps.

2 The dead bodies of thy ſervants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven, the fleſh of thy ſaints unto the beaſts of the earth.

3 Their blood have they ſhed like water round about Jeruſalem: and there was none to bury them.

4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours: a ſcorn and deriſion to them that are round about us.

5 How long, Lord, wilt thou be angry for ever? ſhall thy jealouſy burn like fire?

6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.

7 For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waſte his dwelling-place.

8 O remember not againſt us former iniquities: let thy tender mercies ſpeedily prevent us: for we are brought very low.

9 Help us, O God of our ſalvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our ſins for thy name's ſake.

10 Wherefore ſhould the heathen ſay, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our ſight by the revenging of the blood of thy ſervants which is ſhed.

11 Let the ſighing of the priſoner come before thee, according to the greatneſs of thy power: preſerve thou thoſe that are appointed to die.

12 And render unto our neighbours ſeven-fold into their boſom, their reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

13 So we thy people and ſheep of thy paſture, will give thee thanks for ever: we will ſhew forth thy praiſe to all generations.

PSAL. LXXX.

GIVE ear, O Shepherd of Iſrael, thou that leadeſt Joſeph like a flock, thou that dwelleſt between the cherubims, ſhine forth.

2 Before Ephraim, and Benjamin, and Manaſſeh, ſtir up thy ſtrength, and come, and ſave us.

3 Turn us again, O God: and cauſe thy face to ſhine, and we ſhall be ſaved.

4 O Lord God of hoſts, how long wilt thou be angry againſt the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou feedeſt them with the bread of tears: and giveſt them tears to drink in great meaſure.

6 Thou makeſt us a ſtrife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themſelves.

7 Turn us again, O God of hoſts, and cauſe thy face to ſhine, and we ſhall be ſaved.

8 Thou haſt brought a vine out of Egypt: thou haſt caſt out the heathen and planted it.

9 Thou preparedſt room before it, and didſt cauſe it to take deep root, and it filled the land.

10 The hills were covered with the ſhadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedars.

11 She ſent out her boughs unto the ſea, and her branches unto the river.

12 Why haſt thou then broken down her hedges, ſo that all they which paſs by the way, do pluck her?

13 The boar out of the wood doth waſte it, and the wild beaſt of the field doth devour it.

14 Return, we beſeech thee, O God of hoſts: look down from heaven, and behold, and viſit this vine;

15 And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madeſt ſtrong for thyſelf.

16 It is burnt with fire, it is cut down: they periſh at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the ſon of man whom thou madeſt ſtrong for thyſelf.

18 So will we not go back from thee: quicken us, and we will call upon thy name.

19 Turn us again, O Lord God of hoſts, cauſe thy face to ſhine, and we ſhall be ſaved.

PSAL. LXXXI.

SING aloud unto God our ſtrength: make a joyful noiſe unto the God of Jacob.

2 Take a pſalm, and bring hither the timbrel, the pleaſant harp with the pſaltery.

3 Blow up the trumpet in the new moon, in the time appointed, on our ſolemn feaſt-day.

4 For this was a ſtatute for Iſrael, and a law of the God of Jacob.

5 This he ordained in Joſeph for a teſtimony, when he went out through the land of Egypt: where I heard a language that I underſtood not.

6 I removed his ſhoulder from the burden: his hands were delivered from the pots.

7 Thou calledſt in trouble, and I delivered thee; I anſwered thee in the ſecret place of thunder: I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. Selah.

8 Hear, O my people, and I will teſtify unto thee: O Iſrael, if thou wilt hearken unto me;

9 There ſhall no ſtrange God be in thee; neither ſhalt thou worſhip any ſtrange god.

10 I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 But my people would not hearken to my voice; and Iſrael would none of me.

12 So I gave them up unto their own hearts luſt: and they walked in their own counſels.

13 O that my people had hearkened unto me, and Iſrael had walked in my ways.

14 I ſhould ſoon have ſubdued their enemies, and turned my hand againſt their adverſaries.

15 The haters of the Lord ſhould have ſubmitted themſelves unto him: but their time ſhould have endured for ever.

16 He ſhould have fed them alſo with the fineſt of the wheat; and with honey out of the rock ſhould I have ſatisfied thee.

PSAL.

PSALM LXXIX.] This pſalm was, in all probability, written on the deſtruction of Jeruſalem by Nebuchadnezzar, and by the ſame Aſaph, who was the author of pſalm lxxiv.

PSALM LXXX.] 1 Give ear, O Shepherd of Iſrael, thou that leadeſt Joſeph like a flock, &c.] O thou that art the Ruler and Protector of Iſrael, who long ſince gave a famous inſtance of thy power, in preſerving Joſeph, when he fell, like an innocent lamb among a company of wolves, and conducted him to the higheſt preferment; reject not the humble petitions we now offer to thee in the like diſtreſs.

This pſalm ſeems to have been written by Aſaph the ſeer, when Sennacherib the king of Aſſyria came up with a great hoſt againſt Jeruſalem, in the days of king Hezekiah.

LXXXI.] This pſalm ſeems to have been compoſed for the ſolemn feaſt held on the firſt day of the ſeventh month, which was called a day of blowing the trumpets.

16 He ſhould have fed them alſo with the fineſt of wheat, &c.] He ſhould have made their country exceeding fruitful, and fed them with the fineſt wheat: and without any care of thine, the bees ſhould have depoſited honey for them in the rocks of the wilderneſs.

PSAL. LXXXII.

GOD ſtandeth in the congregation of the mighty: he judgeth among the gods.

2 How long will ye judge unjuſtly, and accept the perſons of the wicked? Selah.

3 Defend the poor and fatherleſs: do juſtice to the afflicted and needy.

4 Deliver the poor and needy: rid them out of the hand of the wicked.

5 They know not, neither will they underſtand; they walk on in darkneſs; all the foundations of the earth are out of courſe.

6 I have ſaid, Ye are gods: and all of you are children of the moſt High.

7 But ye ſhall die like men, and fall like one of the princes.

8 Ariſe, O God, judge the earth: for thou ſhalt inherit all nations.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

KEEP not not thou ſilence, O God: hold not thy peace, and be not ſtill, O God.

2 For lo, thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee have liſted up the head.

3 They have taken crafty counſel againſt thy people, and conſulted againſt thy hidden ones.

4 They have ſaid, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation: that the name of Iſrael may be no more in remembrance.

5 For they have conſulted together with one conſent: they are confederate againſt thee.

6 The tabernacles of Edom, and the Iſhmaelites: of Moab, and the Hagarenes.

7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek, the Philiſtines, with the inhabitants of Tyre.

8 Aſſur alſo is joined with them: they have holpen the children of Lot. Selah.

9 Do unto them as unto the Midianites: as to Siſera, as to Jabin, at the brook of Kiſon:

10 Which periſhed at End-dor: they became as dung for the earth.

11 Make their nobles like Oreb, and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes as Zebah, and as Zalmunna.

12 Who ſaid, let us take to ourſelves the houſes of God in poſſeſſion.

13 O my God, make them like a wheel: as the ſtubble before the wind.

14 As the fire burneth the wood, and as the flame ſetteth the mountains on fire.

15 So perſecute them with thy tempeſt, and make them afraid with thy ſtorm.

16 Fill their faces with ſhame: that they may ſeek thy name, O Lord.

17 Let them be confounded and troubled for ever: yea, let them be put to ſhame, and periſh:

18 That men may know, that thou whoſe name alone is Jehovah, art the moſt high over all the earth.

PSAL. LXXXIV.

HOW amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hoſts!

2 My ſoul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my fleſh crieth out for the living God.

3 Yea, the ſparrow hath found an houſe, and the ſwallow a neſt for herſelf, where ſhe may lay her young, even thine altars, O Lord of hoſts, my King, and my God.

4 Bleſſed are they that dwell in thy houſe: they will be ſtill praiſing thee. Selah.

5 Bleſſed is the man whoſe ſtrength is in thee: in whoſe heart are the ways of them.

6 Who paſſing through the valley of Baca, make it a well: the rain alſo filleth the pools.

7 They go from ſtrength to ſtrength, every one of them in Zion appeareth before God.

8 O Lord God of hoſts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah.

9 Behold, O God, our ſhield, and look upon the face of thine anointed.

10 For a day in thy courts is better than a thouſand: I had rather be a door-keeper in the houſe of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedneſs.

11 For the Lord God is a ſun and ſhield: the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will he with-hold from them that walk uprightly.

12 O Lord of hoſts, bleſſed is the man that truſteth in thee.

PSAL. LXXXV.

LORD thou haſt been favourable unto thy land: thou haſt brought back the captivity of Jacob.

2 Thou haſt forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou haſt covered all their ſins. Selah.

3 Thou haſt taken away all thy wrath: thou haſt turned thyſelf from the fierceneſs of thine anger.

4 Turn us, O God of our ſalvation, and cauſe thine anger towards us to ceaſe.

5 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?

6 Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoice in thee?

7 Shew us thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us thy ſalvation.

8 I will hear what God the Lord will ſpeak: for he will ſpeak peace unto his people, and to his ſaints: but let them not turn again to folly.

9 Surely his ſalvation is nigh them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercy and truth are met together: righteouſneſs and peace have kiſſed each other.

11 Truth ſhall ſpring out of the earth: and righteouſneſs ſhall look down from heaven.

12 Yea, the Lord ſhall give that which is good: and our land ſhall yield her increaſe.

13 Righteouſneſs ſhall go before him: and ſhall ſet us in the way of his ſteps.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

BOW down thine ear, O Lord, hear me: for I am poor and needy.

2 Preſerve my ſoul, for I am holy: O thou my God, ſave thy ſervant that truſteth in thee.

3 Be merciful unto me, O Lord: for I cry unto thee daily.

4 Rejoice the ſoul of thy ſervant: for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my ſoul.

5 For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive: and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee.

6 Give ear, O Lord, unto my prayer, and attend to the voice of my ſupplications.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee: for thou wilt anſwer me.

8 Among the gods, there is none like unto thee, O Lord: neither are there any works like unto thy works.

9 All nations whom thou haſt made ſhall come and worſhip before thee, O Lord: and ſhall glorify thy name.

10 For thou art great and doeſt wondrous things: thou art God alone.

11 Teach me thy ways, O Lord, I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.

12 I will praiſe thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart; and I will glorify thy name for evermore.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me: and thou haſt delivered my ſoul from the loweſt hell.

14 O God, the proud are riſen againſt me, and the aſſemblies of violent men have ſought after my ſoul: and have not ſet thee before them.

15 But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compaſſion, and gracious, long-ſuffering: and plenteous in mercy and truth.

16 O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me, give thy ſtrength unto thy ſervant, and ſave the ſon of thine handmaid.

17 Shew me a token for good, that they which hate me, may ſee it, and be aſhamed: becauſe thou, Lord, haſt holpen me, and comforted me.

PSAL. LXXXVII.

HIS foundation is in the holy mountains.

2 The Lord loveth the gates of Zion, more than all the dwellings of Jacob.

3 Glorious things are ſpoken of thee, O city of God. Selah.

4 I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon to them that know me; behold Philiſtia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia: this man was born there.

PSALM LXXXII.] This pſalm was compoſed by Aſaph the ſeer, in the days of Hezekiah, to admoniſh thoſe who preſided in the courts of juſtice.

PSALM LXXXIII.] This pſalm ſeems to have been written when that powerful combination of enemies was made againſt Judah, in the reign of Jehoſhaphat, 2 Chron. xx. and by one of the deſcendants of Aſaph, ſo often mentioned in the reign of David.

PSALM LXXXIV.] It is not poſſible to determine abſolutely what accident gave occaſion to the writing of this pſalm; but it ſeems to have been the rebellion of Abſalom, when David, forced from Jeruſalem, paſſionately longed to be reſtored to the dwelling-place of the moſt High.

PSALM LXXXV.] This pſalm ſeems to have been compoſed by ſome pious perſon, immediately after the Iſraelites return from the Babyloniſh captivity, and delivered to the chief muſician of the temple, to be ſung when the foundation of that ſtructure was laid; but the work was hindered from proceeding by the oppoſition of their enemies.

PSALM LXXXVI.] This pſalm was written by David, when he was obliged to fly into the wilderneſs, either to avoid the fury of Saul, or the unnatural rebellion of his own ſon; when he was ſtripped of every thing he had, and left in a very forlorn condition.

PSALM LXXXVII.] 1 His foundation is in the holy mountains.] This place is remarkable for its ſtrength and beauty, being founded in the lofty mountains by the Omnipotent Creator of the whole earth, and which he has choſen for his particular dwelling-place.

It is uncertain when this pſalm was written, or who was the author of it. But it was written in praiſe of Jeruſalem, ſituated on the holy mountains of Zion, where David prepared a tabernacle for the ark, and of mount Moriah, on which the celebrated temple of Solomon was built.

5 And of Zion it ſhall be ſaid, This and that man was born in her: and the higheſt himſelf ſhall eſtabliſh her.

6 The Lord ſhall count when he writeth up the people, that this man was born there. Selah.

7 As well the ſingers as the players on inſtruments ſhall be there: all my ſprings are in thee.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

O Lord God of my ſalvation, I have cried day and night before thee.

2 Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine ear unto my cry.

3 For my ſoul is full of troubles: and my life draweth nigh unto the grave.

4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no ſtrength.

5 Free among the dead, like the ſlain that lie in the grave, whom thou remembereſt no more: and they are cut off from thy hand.

6 Thou haſt laid me in the loweſt pit, in darkneſs, in the deeps.

7 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me, and thou haſt afflicted me with all thy waves. Selah.

8 Thou haſt put away mine acquaintance far from me: thou haſt me an abomination unto them: I am ſhut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 Mine eye mourneth by reaſon of affliction: Lord, I have called daily upon thee, I have ſtretched out my hands unto thee.

10 Wilt thou ſhew wonders to the dead? ſhall the dead ariſe and praiſe thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy loving kindneſs be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulneſs in deſtruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteouſneſs in the land of forgetfulneſs?

13 But unto thee have I cried, O Lord, and in the morning ſhall my prayer prevent thee.

14 Lord, why caſteſt thou off my ſoul? why hideſt thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die, from my youth up: while I ſuffer thy terrors, I am diſtracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath goeth over me, thy terrors have cut me off.

17 They came round about me daily like water, they compaſſed me about together.

18 Lover and friend haſt thou put far from me, and mine acquaintance into darkneſs.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

I Will ſing of the mercies of the Lord for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulneſs to all generations.

2 For I have ſaid, Mercy ſhall be built up for ever: thy faithfulneſs ſhalt thou eſtabliſh in the very heavens.

3 I have made a covenant with my choſen, I have ſworn unto David my ſervant.

4 Thy ſeed will I eſtabliſh for ever, and build up thy throne to all generations. Selah.

5 And the heavens ſhall praiſe thy wonders, O Lord: thy faithfulneſs alſo in the congregation of the ſaints.

6 For who in the heaven can be compared unto the Lord? who among the ſons of the mighty can be likened unto the Lord?

7 God is greatly to be feared in the aſſembly of the ſaints: and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hoſts, who is a ſtrong Lord like unto thee? or to thy faithfulneſs round about thee?

9 Thou ruleſt the raging of the ſea: when the waves thereof ariſe, thou ſtilleſt them.

10 Thou haſt broken Rahab in pieces, as one that is ſlain: thou haſt ſcattered thine enemies with thy ſtrong arm.

11 The heavens are thine, the earth alſo is thine: as for the world, and the fulneſs thereof, thou haſt founded them.

12 The north and the ſouth thou haſt created them: Tabor and Hermon ſhall rejoice in thy name.

13 Thou haſt a mighty arm: ſtrong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 Juſtice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth ſhall go before thy face.

15 Bleſſed is the people that know the joyful ſound: they ſhall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance.

16 In thy name ſhall they rejoice all the day: and in thy righteouſneſs ſhall they be exalted.

17 For thou art the glory of their ſtrength: and in thy favour our horn ſhall be exalted.

18 For the Lord is our defence: and the holy One of Iſrael is our king.

19 Then thou ſpakeſt in viſion to thy holy One, and ſaidſt, I have laid help upon one that is mighty: I have exalted one choſen out of the people.

20 I have found David my ſervant: with my holy oil have I anointed him.

21 With whom my hand ſhall be eſtabliſhed: mine arm alſo ſhall ſtrengthen him.

22 The enemy ſhall not exact upon him: nor the ſon of wickedneſs afflict him.

23 And I will beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 But my faithfulneſs and my mercy ſhall be with him: and in my name ſhall his horn be exalted.

25 I will ſet his hand alſo in the ſea, and his right hand in the rivers.

26 He ſhall cry unto me, Thou art my father, my God, and the rock of my ſalvation.

27 Alſo I will make him my firſt-born, higher than the kings of the earth.

28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant ſhall ſtand faſt with him.

29 His ſeed alſo will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven.

30 If his children forſake my law, and walk not in my judgments;

31 If they break my ſtatutes, and keep not my commandments;

32 Then will I viſit their tranſgreſſion with the rod, and their iniquity with ſtripes.

33 Nevertheleſs, my loving-kindneſs will I not utterly take from him, nor ſuffer my faithfulneſs to fail.

34 My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 Once have I ſworn by my holineſs, that I will not lie unto David.

36 His ſeed ſhall endure for ever, and his throne as the ſun before me.

37 It ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever, as the moon, and as a faithful witneſs in heaven. Selah.

38 But thou haſt caſt off and abhorred, thou haſt been wroth with thine anointed.

39 Thou haſt made void the covenant of thy ſervant: thou haſt profaned his crown, by caſting it to the ground.

40 Thou haſt broken down all his hedges, thou haſt brought his ſtrong holds to ruin.

41 All that paſs by the way, ſpoil him; he is a reproach to his neighbours

42 Thou haſt ſet up the right hand of his adverſaries: thou haſt made all his enemies to rejoice.

43 Thou haſt alſo turned the edge of his ſword, and haſt not made him to ſtand in the battle.

44 Thou haſt made his glory to ceaſe, and caſt his throne down to the ground.

45 The days of his youth haſt thou ſhortened: thou haſt covered him with ſhame. Selah.

46 How long, Lord, wilt thou hide thyſelf for ever? ſhall thy wrath burn like fire?

47 Remember how ſhort my time is: wherefore haſt thou made all men in vain?

48 What man is he that liveth, and ſhall not ſee death? ſhall he deliver his ſoul from the hand of the grave? Selah.

49 Lord, where are thy former loving-kindneſſes, which thou ſwareſt unto David in thy truth?

50 Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy ſervants; how I do bear in my boſom the reproach of all the mighty people.

51 Wherewith thine enemies have reproached, O Lord: wherewith they have reproached the footſteps of thine anointed.

52 Bleſſed be the Lord for evermore. Amen, and Amen.

PSAL. XC.

LORD, thou haſt been our dwelling-place in all generations.

2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadſt formed the earth and the world: even from everlaſting to everlaſting thou art God.

3 Thou turneſt man to deſtruction: and ſayeſt, Return, ye children of men.

4 For a thouſand years in thy ſight are but as yeſterday when it is paſt, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou carrieſt them away as with a flood, they are as a ſleep: in the morning they are like graſs which groweth up.

PSALM LXXXVIII.] 12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? &c.] Shall thy power be conſpicuous, when the ſable veil of darkneſs excludes every object from the ſight? or wilt thou convince mankind of thy goodneſs and care for thy ſervants, in the place where thy memory is forgotten.

PSALM LXXXIX.] 1 I will ſing of the mercies of the Lord for ever, &c.] The innumerable calamities that have befallen us, ſhall never blot out the remembrance of the numberleſs benefits we have formerly received from the God of Jacob: I will ſing of them without ceaſing.

12 The north and the ſouth thou haſt created them, &c.] Whether we extend our eyes to the northern or ſouthern boundaries of the earth, weſtward to Tabor, or eaſtward to Hermon; all acknowledge thee for their creator, and rejoice in thy watchful providence, which pours upon them the bounties of thy hand.

25 I will ſet his hand alſo in the ſea, and his right hand in the rivers.] On one ſide he ſhall conquer the Philiſtines, and thoſe that inhabit the coaſt of the ſea; and the other, the Syrians, as far as the Tigris and Euphrates.

PSA

6 In the morning it flouriſheth, and groweth up: in the evening it is cut down and withereth.

7 For we are conſumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath we are troubled.

8 Thou haſt ſet our iniquities before thee, our ſecret ſins in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our days are paſſed away in thy wrath: we ſpend our years as a tale that is told.

10 The days of our years are threeſcore years and ten; and if by reaſon of ſtrength they be fourſcore years, yet is their ſtrength labour and ſorrow: for it is ſoon cut off, and we fly away.

11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, ſo is thy wrath.

12 So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wiſdom.

13 Return, O Lord, how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy ſervants.

14 O ſatisfy us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou haſt afflicted us, and the years wherein we have ſeen evil.

16 Let thy work appear unto thy ſervants, and thy glory unto their children.

17 And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us: and eſtabliſh thou the work of our hands upon us, yea, the work of our hands eſtabliſh thou it.

PSAL. XCI.

HE that dwelleth in the ſecret place of the moſt High, ſhall abide under the ſhadow of the Almighty.

2 I will ſay of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortreſs: my God, in him will I truſt.

3 Surely he ſhall deliver thee from the ſnare of the fowler: and from the noiſome peſtilence.

4 He ſhall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings ſhalt thou truſt: his truth ſhall be thy ſhield and buckler.

5 Thou ſhalt not be afraid for the terror by night: nor for the arrow that flieth by day.

6 Nor for the peſtilence that walketh in darkneſs: nor for the deſtruction that waſteth at noon day.

7 A thouſand ſhall fall at thy ſide, and ten thouſand at thy right hand: but it ſhall not come nigh thee.

8 Only with thine eye ſhalt thou behold, and ſee the reward of the wicked.

9 Becauſe thou haſt made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the moſt High, thy habitation.

10 There ſhall no evil befal thee, neither ſhall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he ſhall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They ſhall bear thee up in their hands, leſt thou daſh thy foot againſt a ſtone.

13 Thou ſhalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon ſhalt thou trample under feet.

14 Becauſe he hath ſet his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will ſet him on high, becauſe he hath known my name.

15 He ſhall call upon me, and I will anſwer him: I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him and honour him.

16 With long life will I ſatisfy him, and ſhew him my ſalvation.

PSAL. XCII.

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to ſing praiſes unto thy name, O moſt High.

2 To ſhew forth thy loving-kindneſs in the morning, and thy faithfulneſs every night;

3 Upon an inſtrument of ten ſtrings, and upon the pſaltery; upon the harp with a ſolemn ſound.

4 For thou, Lord, haſt made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

5 O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.

6 A bruti ſh man knoweth not: neither doth a fool underſtand this.

7 When the wicked ſpring as the graſs, and when all the workers of iniquity do flouriſh: it is that they ſhall be deſtroyed for ever.

8 But thou Lord art moſt high for evermore.

9 For lo, thine enemies, O Lord, for lo, thine enemies ſhall periſh: all the workers of iniquity ſhall be ſcattered.

10 But my horn ſhalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I ſhall be anointed with freſh oil.

11 Mine eye alſo ſhall ſee my deſire on mine enemies: and mine ears ſhall hear my deſire of the wicked that riſe up againſt me.

12 The righteous ſhall flouriſh like the palm-tree: he ſhall grow like the cedar in Lebanon.

13 Thoſe that be planted in the houſe of the Lord ſhall flouriſh in the courts of our God.

14 They ſhall ſtill bring forth fruit in old age: they ſhall be fat, and flouriſhing:

15 To ſhew that the Lord is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteouſneſs in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

THE Lord reigneth, he is cloathed with majeſty, the Lord is cloathed with ſtrength, wherewith he hath girded himſelf: the world alſo is ſtabliſhed, that it cannot be moved.

2 Thy throne is eſtabliſhed of old: thou art from everlaſting.

3 The floods have lifted up, O Lord, the floods have lifted up their voice: the floods lift up their waves.

4 The Lord on high is mightier than the noiſe of many waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the ſea.

5 Thy teſtimonies are very ſure: holineſs becometh thine houſe, O Lord, for ever.

PSAL. XCIV.

O Lord God, to whom vengeance belongeth: O God, to whom vengeance belongeth, ſhew thyſelf.

2 Lift up thyſelf thou judge of the earth: render a reward to the proud.

3 Lord, how long ſhall the wicked, how long ſhall the wicked triumph?

4 How long ſhall they utter and ſpeak hard things, and all the workers of iniquity boaſt themſelves?

5 They break in pieces thy people, O Lord, and afflict thine heritage.

6 They ſlay the widow and the ſtranger, and murder the fatherleſs.

7 Yet they ſay, The Lord ſhall not ſee: neither ſhall the God of Jacob regard it.

8 Underſtand ye bruti ſh among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wiſe.

9 He that planted the ear, ſhall he not hear? he that formed the eye, ſhall he not ſee?

10 He that chaſtiſeth the heathen, ſhall not he correct; he that teacheth man knowledge, ſhall not he know?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

12 Bleſſed is the man whom thou chaſteneſt, O Lord, and teacheſt him out of thy law:

13 That thou mayeſt give him reſt from the days of adverſity, until the pit be digged for the wicked.

14 For the Lord will not caſt off his people, neither will he forſake his inheritance.

15 But judgement ſhall return unto righteouſneſs: and all the upright in heart ſhall follow it.

16 Who will riſe up for me againſt the evil doers? or who will ſtand up for me againſt the workers of iniquity?

17 Unleſs the Lord had been my help, my ſoul had almoſt dwelt in ſilence.

18 When I ſaid, My foot ſlippeth: thy mercy, O Lord, held me up.

19 In the multitude of my thoughts within me, thy comforts delight my ſoul.

20 Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowſhip with thee, which frameth miſchief by a law?

21 They gather themſelves together againſt the ſoul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.

22 But

PSALM XC.] 12 So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wiſdom.] Do thou, O Lord, touch us with a ſenſe of thy judgments, that we may be careful not to offend thee, as our fathers have fooliſhly done; but making a juſt computation of the ſhortneſs of our days, may wiſely apply ourſelves to making the beſt uſe of our time, in repenting of thoſe ſins which have ſo highly offended thy divine Majeſty.

PSALM XCI.] The author of this pſalm is unknown; but it was undoubtedly written on occaſion of ſome grievous peſtilence, in which the Pſalmiſt commends an humble confidence in God, and an ardent love for him, as the beſt ſecurity in that dreadful viſitation, and all other dangers whatever.

10, 11 There ſhall no evil befall thee, &c.] Reſt aſſured, O my ſoul, that he will ſuffer no miſchief to befal thee.

PSALM XCII.] 1 It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, &c.] This is a proper ſeaſon to give thanks unto the Lord for all the benefits we have received from his hands: and to ſing hymns in honour of his divine perfections, which exceed whatever we can do or think, is equally pleaſant and delightful.

2 To ſhew forth thy loving kindneſs in the morning, &c.] The moſt raviſhing employment in the morning, and pleaſanteſt employment at night, is to commemorate and declare to all the goodneſs of the Lord, and his kindneſs to the children of men.

PSALM XCIII.] This pſalm was, in all probability, compoſed by David, when ſome of his powerful enemies began to gather ſtrength, and threatened to diſturb the peace and tranquility of his reign. But, in a more ſublime ſenſe, it ought to be applied to the ſtability of the Meſſiah's kingdom, as ſeveral of the Jews themſelves acknowledge.

PSALM XCIV.] 1 O Lord God to whom vengeance belongeth, &c] O thou eternal God, the ſovereign of the world, in whoſe power it is to puniſh the higheſt offenders; and to whom alone it belongeth to take vengeance on thoſe that oppreſs thy people, when they ſhould protect them, render thy juſtice conſpicuous, by taking on them a ſevere vengeance.

The author of this pſalm is uncertain; but whoever he was, his piety and love of juſtice are here amiably diſplayed.

PSALM

22 But the Lord is my defence: and my God is the rock of my refuge.

23 And he ſhall bring upon them their own iniquity, and ſhall cut them off in their own wickedneſs; yea, the Lord our God ſhall cut them off.

PSAL. XCV.

O Come let us ſing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noiſe to the rock of our ſalvation.

2 Let us come before his preſence with thankſgiving, and make a joyful noiſe unto him with pſalms.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great king above all gods.

4 In his hand are the deep places of the earth: the ſtrength of the hills is his alſo.

5 The ſea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.

6 O come let us worſhip and bow down: let us kneel before the lord our maker.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his paſture, and the ſheep of his hand: to-day if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your heart, as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderneſs.

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and ſaw my work.

10 Forty years long was I grieved with this generation, and ſaid, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways.

11 Unto whom I ſware in my wrath, that they ſhould not enter into my reſt.

PSAL. XCVI.

O Sing unto the Lord a new ſong: ſing unto the Lord all the earth.

2 Sing unto the Lord, bleſs his name: ſhew forth his ſalvation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is great, and greatly to be praiſed: he is to be feared above all gods.

5 For all the gods of the nations are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.

6 Honour and majeſty are before him: ſtrength and beauty are in his ſanctuary.

7 Give unto the Lord, O ye kindreds of the people, give unto the Lord glory and ſtrength.

8 Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.

9 O worſhip the lord in the beauty of holineſs: fear before him all the earth.

10 Say among the heathen, that the Lord reigneth: the world alſo ſhall be eſtabliſhed, that it ſhall not be moved; he ſhall judge the people righteouſly.

11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad: let the ſea roar, and the fulneſs thereof.

12 Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein: then ſhall all the trees of the wood rejoice.

13 Before the Lord; for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he ſhall judge the world with righteouſneſs, and the people with his truth.

PSAL. XCVII.

THE Lord reigneth, let the earth rejoice: let the multitude of iſles be glad thereof.

2 Clouds and darkneſs are round about him: righteouſneſs and judgment are the habitation of his throne.

3 A fire goeth before him, and burneth up his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings enlightned the world: the earth ſaw and trembled.

5 The hills melted like wax at the preſence of the Lord, at the preſence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare his righteouſneſs: and all the people ſee his glory.

7 Counfounded be all they that ſerve graven images, that boaſt themſelves of idols: worſhip him all ye gods.

8 Zion heard, and was glad, and the daughters of Judah rejoiced; becauſe of thy judgments, O Lord.

9 For thou, Lord, art high above all the earth: thou art exalted far above all gods.

10 Ye that love the Lord, hate evil: he preſerveth the ſouls of his ſaints, he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

11 Light is ſown for the righteous, and gladneſs for the upright in heart.

12 Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous: and give thanks at the remembrance of his holineſs.

PSAL. XCVIII.

O Sing unto the Lord a new ſong, for he hath done marvellous things: his right hand, and his holy arm hath gotten him the victory.

2 The Lord hath made known his ſalvation: his righteouſneſs hath he openly ſhewed in the ſight of the heathen.

3 He hath remembered his mercy and his truth towards the houſe of Iſreal: all the ends of the earth have ſeen the ſalvation of our God.

4 Make a joyful noiſe unto the Lord, all the earth: make a loud noiſe, and rejoice, and ſing praiſe.

5 Sing unto the Lord with the harp; with the harp and the voice of a pſalm.

6 With trumpets and ſound of cornet make a joyful noiſe before the Lord, the King.

7 Let the ſea roar, and the fulneſs thereof: the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands: let the hills be joyful together

9 Before the Lord: for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteouſneſs ſhall he judge the world, and the people with equity.

PSAL. XCIX.

THE Lord reigneth, let the people tremble: he ſitteth between the cherubims, let the earth be moved.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is high above all people.

3 Let them praiſe thy great and terrible name: for it is holy.

4 The king's ſtrength alſo loveth judgment, thou doſt eſtabliſh equity, thou executeſt judgment and righteouſneſs in Jacob.

5 Exalt ye the Lord our God, and worſhip at his foot-ſtool: for he is holy.

6 Moſes and Aaron among his prieſts, and Samuel among them that call upon his name: they called upon the Lord, and he anſwered them.

7 He ſpake unto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his teſtimonies, and the ordinance that he gave them.

8 Thou anſweredſt them, O Lord, our God: thou waſt a God that forgaveſt them, though thou tookeſt vengeance of their inventions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and worſhip at his holy hill: for the Lord our God is holy.

PSAL. C.

MAKE a joyful noiſe unto the Lord, all ye lands.

2 Serve the Lord with gladneſs: come before his preſence with ſinging.

3 Know ye that the Lord he is God, it is he that hath made us, and not we ourſelves: we are his people, and the ſheep of his paſture.

4 Enter into his gates with thankſgiving, and into his courts with praiſe: be thankful unto him, and bleſs his name.

5 For the Lord is good: his mercy is everlaſting: and his truth endureth to all generations.

PSAL. CI.

I Will ſing of mercy and judgment: unto thee, O Lord, will I ſing.

2 I will behave myſelf wiſely in a perfect way; O when wilt thou come unto me? I will walk within my houſe with a perfect heart.

3 I will

PSALM XCV.] 1 O come, let us ſing unto the Lord, &c.] O animate yourſelves all ye that come into the ſacred place to worſhip the moſt High; and, with united affections, let us chearfully join in ſinging the praiſes of the Almighty God of Jacob: let us raiſe our voices, and triumphantly laud and magnify the author of all the good we enjoy, and in whom we may ſecurely confide for ſafety.

This pſalm is generally ſuppoſed to have been written by David, and intended as a ſolemn invitation to the people, when aſſembled on the ſabbath, or ſome ſolemn occaſion, to praiſe the Lord their God, and attentively liſten to the inſtructions given them out of his law.

PSALM XCVI.] 1 Sing unto the Lord a new ſong, &c.] O ſing praiſes unto the Lord for his new and extraordinary benefits which he hath beſtowed upon us: let the whole earth join in one concert to ſing his praiſes.

PSALM XCVII.] This pſalm was probably compoſed by David, after he had brought up the ark to Sion, to inſpire the Iſralites with confidence, and terrify their enemies, with the expectations of thoſe great things that would certainly enſue, upon the ſpecial preſence of God among them.

11 Light is ſown for the righteous, &c.] Be not diſcouraged, tho' the world ſhould frown upon you, but reſt aſſured, that God deſigns you, in due time, more chearful and happy days.

PSALM XCVIII.] 1 O ſing unto the Lord a new ſong, for he hath done marvellous things, &c.] O let the new and extraordinary benefits, which the Lord hath beſtowed upon us, animate you to ſing praiſes unto him with new devotion.

PSALM XCIX.] 1 The Lord reigneth, let the people tremble, &c.] Let the people be as tumultuous as they pleaſe, the Lord is ſupreme governor of the world: though the whole earth ſhould oppoſe him, we are ſafe and ſecure.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is high above all people, &c.] The Lord, whoſe palace is in Zion, is tranſcendantly great: no power on earth is able to oppoſe him, his ſtrength infinitely ſurpaſſing that of all people.

PSALM C.] This is the only pſalm in the whole collection, ſtiled A pſalm of praiſe, probably, becauſe it was peculiarly appointed to be ſung, when their ſacrifices of thankſgiving were offered to the moſt High: and is generally thought to have been written by David, who invites all the world to join with the Iſralites in the ſervice of the omnipotent Jehovah, whoſe kindneſs to them was beyond expreſſion.

PSALM

3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that turn aside, it shall not cleave to me.
4 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.
5 Whoso privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I cut off: him that hath an high look, and a proud heart, will not I suffer.
6 Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.
7 He that worketh deceit, shall not dwell within my house: he that telleth lies, shall not tarry in my sight.
8 I will early destroy all the wicked of the land: that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the Lord.

PSAL. CII.

HEAR my prayer, O Lord, and let my cry come unto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble, incline thine ear unto me: in the day when I call answer me speedily.
3 For my days are consumed like smoke: and my bones are burnt as an hearth.
4 My heart is smitten and withered like grass: so that I forget to eat my bread.
5 By reason of the voice of my groaning, my bones cleave to my skin.
6 I am like a pelican of the wilderness: I am like an owl of the desert.
7 I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house top.
8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day: and they that are mad against me, are sworn against me.
9 For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping:
10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.
11 My days are like a shadow that declineth: and I am withered like grass.
12 But thou, O Lord, shalt endure for ever, and thy remembrance unto all generations.
13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion: for the time to favour her, yea, the set time is come.
14 For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, and favour the dust thereof.
15 So the heathen shall fear the name of the Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy glory.
16 When the Lord shall build up Zion, he shall appear in his glory.
17 He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer.
18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be created, shall praise the Lord.
19 For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary: from heaven did the Lord behold the earth:
20 To hear the groaning of the prisoner, to loose those that are appointed to death;
21 To declare the name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem:
22 When the people are gathered together, and the kingdoms to serve the Lord.
23 He weakened my strength in the way; he shortened my days.
24 I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days: thy years are throughout all generations.
25 Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the work of thy hands.
26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment; as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.
27 But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end.
28 The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee.

PSAL. CIII.

BLESS the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name.
2 Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits.
3 Who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases.
4 Who redeemeth thy life from destruction: who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies.
5 Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things: so that thy youth is renewed like the eagles.
6 The Lord executeth righteousness and judgment, for all that are oppressed.
7 He made known his ways unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel.
8 The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.
9 He will not always chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever.
10 He hath not dealt with us after our sins: nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.
11 For as the heaven is high above the earth: so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.
12 As far as the east is from the west: so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.
13 Like as a father pitieth his children: so the Lord pitieth them that fear him.
14 For he knoweth our frame: he remembereth that we are dust.
15 As for man, his days are as grass: as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.
16 For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more.
17 But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him: and his righteousness unto children's children:
18 To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them.
19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens: and his kingdom ruleth over all.
20 Bless the Lord, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word.
21 Bless the Lord, all ye his hosts, ye ministers of his that do his pleasure.
22 Bless the Lord, all his works in all places of his dominion: bless the Lord, O my soul.

PSAL. CIV.

BLESS the Lord, O my soul: O Lord my God, thou art very great, thou art clothed with honour and majesty.
2 Who coverest thyself with light, as with a garment: who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain.
3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters, who maketh the clouds his chariot, who walketh upon the wings of the wind.
4 Who maketh his angels spirits: his ministers a flaming fire:
5 Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever.
6 Thou coveredst it with the deep, as with a garment: the waters stood above the mountains.
7 At thy rebuke they fled: at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away.
8 They go up by the mountains, they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou hast founded for them.
9 Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over: that they turn not again to cover the earth.
10 He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which run among the hills.
11 They give drink to every beast of the field: the wild asses quench their thirst.
12 By them shall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which sing among the branches.
13 He watereth the hills from his chambers: the earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works.
14 He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man: that he may bring forth food out of the earth:
15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to shine, and bread which strengtheneth man's heart.
16 The trees of the Lord are full of sap: the cedars of Lebanon which he hath planted.
17 Where the birds make their nests; as for the stork, the fir trees are her house.
18 The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats, and the rocks for the conies.
19 He appointed the moon for seasons; the sun knoweth his going down.

PSALM CII.] This prayer was composed by some pious persons about the end of the Babylonish captivity, who was overwhelmed with grief, to see the temple lie waste, and the city of Jerusalem itself reduced to a confused heap of ruins.

4 My heart is smitten, and withered like grass, &c.] My vital spirits are exhausted, and flag like the grass, when it is struck with a pestilential blast.

6 I am like a pelican in the wilderness, &c.] I take no manner of delight in the company of my friends, but fly to the most solitary places, like a pelican in the wilderness, where I bemoan myself like a bittern in the desert.

PSALM CIII.] This psalm was composed by David, on his recovery from a dangerous fit of sickness; and is an excellent example for all who have escaped the same danger, and are desirous of returning thanks to the Great Author of their being, the restorer of their health, and the giver of every good thing they enjoy.

PSALM CIV.] 2 Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment, &c.] Thy royal robe is formed of the resplendent rays of light; and the spacious heavens are the grand pavilion which thy sovereign power hath extended like a canopy for thy majesty, in his grand palace of the world.

5 Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever.] Who hast rendered the massive globe of the earth, though pensile in the fluid ether, so firm and constant, that neither the storms and tempests which beat upon it from without, nor any commotions from within, can ever cause it to deviate from the orbit thou hast prescribed for it in the regions of universal space.

20 Thou makeſt darkneſs, and it is night: wherein all the beaſts of the foreſt do creep forth.
21 The young lions roar after their prey, and ſeek their meat from God.
22 The ſun ariſeth, they gather themſelves together, and lay them down in their dens.
23 Man goeth forth unto his work, and to his labour until the evening.
24 O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wiſdom haſt thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.
25 So is this great and wide ſea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both ſmall and great beaſts.
26 There go the ſhips; there is that leviathan, whom thou haſt made to play therein.
27 Theſe wait all upon thee: that thou mayeſt give them their meat in due ſeaſon.
28 That thou giveſt them, they gather: thou openeſt thine hand, they are filled with good.
29 Thou hideſt thy face, they are troubled; thou takeſt away their breath, they die, and return to their duſt.
30 Thou ſendeſt forth thy ſpirit, they are created: and thou reneweſt the face of the earth.
31 The glory of the Lord ſhall endure for ever: the Lord ſhall rejoice in his works.
32 He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth; he toucheth the hills, and they ſmoke.
33 I will ſing unto the Lord as long as I live: I will ſing praiſe to my God, while I have my being.
34 My meditation of him ſhall be ſweet: I will be glad in the Lord.
35 Let the ſinners be conſumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more: bleſs thou the Lord, O my ſoul. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CV.

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name; make known his deeds among the people.
2 Sing unto him, ſing pſalms unto him: talk ye of all his wonderous works.
3 Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that ſeek the Lord.
4 Seek the Lord, and his ſtrength: ſeek his face evermore.
5 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth.
6 O ye ſeed of Abraham his ſervant, ye children of Jacob his choſen.
7 He is the Lord our God, his judgments are in all the earth.
8 He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thouſand generations.
9 Which covenant he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Iſaac:
10 And confirmed the ſame unto Jacob for a law, and to Iſrael for an everlaſting covenant:
11 Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.
12 When there were but a few men in number: yea, very few, and ſtrangers in it.
13 When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people.
14 He ſuffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he reproved king's for their ſakes:
15 Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.
16 Moreover, he called for a famine upon the land: he break the whole ſtaff of bread.
17 He ſent a man before them, even Joſeph who was ſold for a ſervant.
18 Whoſe feet they hurt with fetters: he was laid in iron.
19 Until the time that his word came: the word of the Lord tried him.
20 The king ſent and looſed him: even the ruler of the people, and let him go free.
21 He made him lord of his houſe, and ruler of all his ſubſtance:
22 To bind his princes at his pleaſure: and teach his ſenators wiſdom.
23 Iſrael alſo came into Egypt: and Jacob ſojourned in the land of Ham.
24 And he increaſed his people greatly: and made them ſtronger than their enemies.
25 He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal ſubtilly with his ſervants.
26 He ſent Moſes his ſervant, and Aaron whom he had choſen.
27 They ſhewed his ſigns among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.
28 He ſent darkneſs, and made it dark: and they rebelled not againſt his word.
29 He turned their waters into blood, and ſlew their fiſh.
30 Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the chambers of their kings.
31 He ſpake, and there came divers ſorts of flies, and lice in all their coaſts.
32 He gave them hail for rain: and flaming fire in their land.
33 He ſmote their vines alſo and their fig-trees: and brake the trees of their coaſts.
34 He ſpake, and the locuſts came: and caterpillars, and that without number.
35 And did eat up all the herbs in their land: and devoured the fruit of their ground.
36 He ſmote alſo all the firſt-born in their land: the chief of all their ſtrength.
37 He brought them forth alſo with ſilver and gold: and there was not one feeble perſon among their tribes.
38 Egypt was glad when they departed: for the fear of them fell upon them.
39 He ſpread a cloud for a covering: and fire to give light in the night.
40 The people aſked, and he brought quails: and ſatisfied them with the bread of heaven.
41 He opened the rock, and the waters guſhed out, they ran in the dry places like a river.
42 For he remembered his holy promiſe, and Abraham his ſervant.
43 And he brought forth his people with joy, and his choſen with gladneſs:
44 And gave them the lands of the heathen: and they inherited the labour of the people:
45 That they might obſerve his ſtatutes, and keep his laws. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CVI.

PRAISE ye the Lord, O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever.
2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the Lord? who can ſhew forth all his praiſe?
3 Bleſſed are they that keep judgment: and he that doeth righteouſneſs at all times.
4 Remember me, O Lord, with the favour that thou bearеſt unto thy people: O viſit me with thy ſalvation:
5 That I may ſee the good of thy choſen, that I may rejoice in the gladneſs of thy nation: that I may glory with thine inheritance.
6 We have ſinned with our fathers; we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
7 Our fathers underſtood not thy wonders in Egypt, they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies, but provoked him at the ſea, even at the Red ſea.
8 Nevertheleſs, he ſaved them for his name's ſake: that he might make his mighty power to be known.
9 He rebuked the Red ſea alſo, and it was dried up: ſo he led them through the depths as through the wilderneſs.
10 And he ſaved them from the hands of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
11 And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.
12 Then believed they his words, they ſang his praiſe.
13 They ſoon forgat his works, they waited not for his counſel:
14 But luſted exceedingly in the wilderneſs, and tempted God in the deſert.
15 And he gave them their requeſt, but ſent leanneſs into their ſoul.
16 They envied Moſes alſo in the camp, and Aaron the ſaint of the Lord.
17 The earth opened and ſwallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.
18 And a fire was kindled in their company; the flame burnt up the wicked.
19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worſhipped the molten image.
20 Thus

24 O Lord, how manifold are thy works! &c.] O Lord, how many, and how aſtoniſhing are thy works! and with what inconceivable wiſdom haſt thou performed them all!

PSALM CV.] Tho' this pſalm hath no title, yet it is evident from 1 Chron. xvi. 8, &c. that David was the author of the firſt part of it at leaſt; and that he delivered it to Aſaph and his brethren, to be conſtantly uſed in the ſervice of God in the tabernacle.

39 He ſpread a cloud for a covering, and fire to give light in the night.] Jehovah did not forſake our fathers, when he had brought them out of Egypt; but leſt they ſhould loſe their way in the barren waſtes, or be ſcorched with exceſſive heats, he defended them from the ſcorching beams of the ſun in the day by a cloud, and led them, during the night, by a pillar of fire.

PSALM CVI.] This pſalm is intitled Hallelujah, praiſe the Lord; but neither the author nor the occaſion of it are mentioned. It ſeems, however, to have been written by David, and to be one of the pſalms he delivered to Aſaph when he had prepared a tabernacle for the ark.

PSAL

20 Thus they changed their glory into the ſimilitude of an ox that eateth graſs.
21 They forgat God their ſaviour, which had done great things in Egypt:
22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red ſea.
23 Therefore he ſaid that he would deſtroy them, had not Moſes his choſen ſtood before him in the breach: to turn away his wrath, leſt he would deſtroy them.
24 Yea, they deſpiſed the pleaſant land: they believed not his word:
25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord.
26 Therefore he lifted up his hand againſt them, to overthrow them in the wilderneſs:
27 To overthrow their ſeed alſo among the nations, and to ſcatter them in the lands.
28 They joined themſelves alſo unto Baal-peor and ate the ſacrifices of the dead.
29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.
30 Then ſtood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and ſo the plague was ſtayed.
31 And that was counted unto him for righteouſneſs, unto all generations for evermore.
32 They angered him alſo at the waters of ſtriſe, ſo that it went ill with Moſes for their ſakes:
33 Becauſe they provoked his ſpirit, ſo that he ſpake unadviſedly with his lips.
34 They did not deſtroy the nations, concerning whom the Lord commanded them.
35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.
36 And they ſerved their idols: which were a ſnare unto them.
37 Yea, they ſacrificed their ſons and their daughters unto devils,
38 And ſhed innocent blood, even the blood of their ſons, and of their daughters, whom they ſacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with blood.
39 Thus were they defiled with their own works, and went a whoring with their own inventions.
40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled againſt his people, inſomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.
41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen; and they that hated them, ruled over them.
42 Their enemies alſo oppreſſed them, and they were brought into ſubjection under their hand.
43 Many times did he deliver them, but they provoked him with their counſel, and were brought low for their iniquity.
44 Nevertheleſs, he regarded their affliction when he heard their cry.
45 And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.
46 He made them alſo to be pitied of all thoſe that carried them captives.
47 Save us, O Lord our God, and gather us from among the heathen, to give thanks unto thy holy name, and to triumph in thy praiſe.
48 Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael from everlaſting to everlaſting: and let all the people ſay, Amen. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CVII.

1 O Give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
2 Let the redeemed of the Lord ſay ſo, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy:
3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the eaſt and from the weſt, from the north and from the ſouth.
4 They wandered in the wilderneſs in a ſolitary way, they found no city to dwell in.
5 Hungry and thirſty, their ſoul fainted in them.
6 Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their diſtreſſes.
7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.
8 O that men would praiſe the Lord for his goodneſs, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
9 For he ſatisfieth the longing ſoul, and filleth the hungry ſoul with goodneſs.
10 Such as ſit in darkneſs and in the ſhadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron:
11 Becauſe they rebelled againſt the words of God, and contemned the counſel of the moſt High!
12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour: they fell down and there was none to help.
13 Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he ſaved them out of their diſtreſſes.
14 He brought them out of darkneſs, and the ſhadow of death, and brake their bands in ſunder.
15 Oh that men would praiſe the Lord for his goodneſs: and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
16 For he hath broken the gates of braſs, and cut the gates of iron in ſunder.
17 Fools, becauſe of their tranſgreſſion, and becauſe of their iniquities, are afflicted.
18 Their ſoul abhorreth all manner of meat: and they draw near unto the gates of death.
19 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble: and he ſaveth them out of their diſtreſſes.
20 He ſent his word, and healed them: and delivered them from their deſtructions.
21 Oh that men would praiſe the Lord for his goodneſs: and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
22 And let them ſacrifice the ſacrifices of thankſgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing.
23 They that go down to the ſea in ſhips, that do buſineſs in great waters:
24 Theſe ſee the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep.
25 For he commandeth, and raiſeth the ſtormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.
26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths: their ſoul is melted becauſe of trouble.
27 They reel to and fro, and ſtagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits end:
28 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble: and he bringeth them out of their diſtreſſes.
29 He maketh the ſtorm a calm, ſo that the waves thereof are ſtill.
30 Then are they glad becauſe they be quiet: ſo he bringeth them unto their deſired haven.
31 Oh that men would praiſe the Lord for his goodneſs: and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
32 Let them exalt him alſo in the congregation of the people: and praiſe him in the aſſembly of the elders.
33 He turneth rivers into a wilderneſs, and the water-ſprings into dry ground:
34 A fruitful land into barrenneſs, for the wickedneſs of them that dwell therein.
35 He turneth the wilderneſs into a ſtanding-water, and dry ground into water-ſprings.
36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell: that they may prepare a city for habitation;
37 And ſow the fields, and plant vineyards: which may yield fruits of increaſe.
38 He bleſſeth them alſo, ſo that they are multiplied greatly: and ſuffereth not their cattle to decreaſe.
39 Again they are miniſhed and brought low through oppreſſion, affliction, and ſorrow.
40 He poureth contempt upon princes: and cauſeth them to wander in the wilderneſs, where there is no way.
41 Yet ſetteth he the poor on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.
42 The righteous ſhall ſee it, and rejoice; and all iniquity ſhall ſtop her mouth.
43 Whoſo is wiſe, and will obſerve thoſe things: even they ſhall underſtand the loving kindneſs of the Lord.

PSAL. CVIII.

1 O God, my heart is fixed: I will ſing and give praiſe, even with my glory.
2 Awake pſaltery and harp: I myſelf will awake early.
3 I will praiſe thee, O Lord, among the people: and I will ſing praiſes unto thee among the nations.
4 For thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds.
5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth;
6 That thy beloved may be delivered: ſave with thy right hand, and anſwer me.
7 God hath ſpoken in his holineſs, I will rejoice, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.
8 Gilead is mine, Manaſſeh is mine, Ephraim alſo is the ſtrength of mine head, Judah is my law-giver.
9 Moab is my waſh-pot, over Edom will I caſt out my ſhoe: over Philiſtia will I triumph.
10 Who

[PSALM CVII.] 1 Oh that men would praiſe the Lord for his goodneſs, &c.] Oh that ſuch men would never forget to make their thankful acknowledgments to the Lord for his ſingular kindneſs, but proclaim his wonderful works in every corner of the earth.
10, 11, 12 Such as ſit in darkneſs, and in the ſhadow of death, &c.] They who are confined in a priſon, nay a loathſome dungeon, where, to add to their afflictions, they are loaded with fetters, as a juſt puniſhment for the crimes they had rebelliouſly committed againſt the expreſs commands of the moſt High, and the plain dictates of their own conſciences; the voice of heaven giving them the moſt wholeſome counſel, though they contemned and deſpiſed it.
PSALM CVIII.] The former part of this pſalm is nearly the ſame with the five laſt verſes of the fifty-ſeventh, and the latter part is but very little different from the eight laſt verſes of the ſixtieth pſalm.

PSALM

10 Who will bring me into the ſtrong city? who will lead me into Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, who haſt caſt us off? and wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our hoſts?

12 Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.

13 Through God we ſhall do valiantly: for he it is that ſhall tread down our enemies.

PSAL. CIX.

HOLD not thy peace, O God of my praiſe.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth of the deceitful are opened againſt me: they have ſpoken againſt me with a lying tongue.

3 They compaſſed me about alſo with words of hatred: and fought againſt me without a cauſe.

4 For my love, they are my adverſaries: but I give myſelf unto prayer.

5 And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.

6 Set thou a wicked man over him: and let Satan ſtand at his right hand.

7 When he ſhall be judged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer become ſin.

8 Let his days be few, and let another take his office.

9 Let his children be fatherleſs, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg; let them ſeek their bread alſo out of their deſolate places.

11 Let the extortioner catch all that he hath: and let the ſtranger ſpoil his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherleſs children.

13 Let his poſterity be cut off, and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.

14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with the Lord: and let not the ſin of his mother be blotted out.

15 Let them be before the Lord continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

16 Becauſe that he remembered not to ſhew mercy, but perſecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even ſlay the broken in heart.

17 As he loved curſing, ſo let it come unto him: as he delighted not in bleſſing, ſo let it be far from him.

18 As he clothed himſelf with curſing like as with his garment: ſo let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.

19 Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him, and for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.

20 Let this be the reward of mine adverſaries from the Lord, and of them that ſpeak evil againſt my ſoul.

21 But do thou for me, O God the Lord, for thy name's ſake: becauſe thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.

22 For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.

23 I am gone like the ſhadow, when it declineth: I am toſſed up and down as the locuſt.

24 My knees are weak through faſting: and my fleſh faileth of fatneſs.

25 I became alſo a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me, they ſhaked their heads.

26 Help me, O Lord my God: O ſave me according to thy mercy:

27 That they may know that this is thy hand: that thou, Lord, haſt done it.

28 Let them curſe, but bleſs thou: when they ariſe, let them be aſhamed: but let thy ſervant rejoice.

29 Let mine adverſaries be cloathed with ſhame: and let them cover themſelves with their own confuſion, as with a mantle.

30 I will greatly praiſe the Lord with my mouth: yea, I will praiſe him among the multitude.

31 For he ſhall ſtand at the right hand of the poor, to ſave him from thoſe that condemn his ſoul.

PSAL. CX.

THE Lord ſaid unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footſtool.

2 The Lord ſhall ſend the rod of thy ſtrength out of Zion: rule thou in the midſt of thine enemies.

3 Thy people ſhall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holineſs from the womb of the morning: thou haſt the dew of thy youth.

4 The Lord hath ſworn, and will not repent, Thou art a prieſt for ever, after the order of Melchizedek.

5 The Lord at thy right hand ſhall ſtrike through kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He ſhall judge among the heathen, he ſhall fill the places with the dead bodies: he ſhall wound the heads over many countries.

7 He ſhall drink of the brook in the way: therefore ſhall he lift up the head.

PSAL. CXI.

PRAISE ye the Lord, I will praiſe the Lord with my whole heart, in the aſſembly of the upright, and in the congregation.

2 The works of the Lord are great, ſought out of all them that have pleaſure therein.

3 His work is honourable and glorious: and his righteouſneſs endureth for ever.

4 He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the Lord is gracious and full of compaſſion.

5 He hath given meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath ſhewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are ſure.

8 They ſtand faſt for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightneſs.

9 He ſent redemption unto his people, he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name.

10 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wiſdom: a good underſtanding have all they that do his commandments: his praiſe endureth for ever.

PSAL. CXII.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Bleſſed is the man that feareth the Lord, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His ſeed ſhall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright ſhall be bleſſed.

3 Wealth and riches ſhall be in his houſe: and his righteouſneſs endureth for ever.

4 Unto the upright there ariſeth light in the darkneſs: he is gracious, and full of compaſſion, and righteous.

5 A good man ſheweth favour, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with diſcretion.

6 Surely he ſhall not be moved for ever: the righteous ſhall be in everlaſting remembrance.

7 He ſhall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trufting in the Lord.

8 His heart is eſtabliſhed, he ſhall not be afraid, until he ſee his deſire upon his enemies.

9 He hath diſperſed, he hath given to the poor: his righteouſneſs endureth for ever; his horn ſhall be exalted with honour.

10 The wicked ſhall ſee it, and be grieved: he ſhall gnaſh with his teeth, and melt away; the deſire of the wicked ſhall periſh.

PSAL. CXIII.

PRAISE ye the Lord, Praiſe, O ye ſervants of the Lord, praiſe the name of the Lord.

2 Bleſſed be the name of the Lord, from this time forth, and for evermore.

3 From the riſing of the ſun, unto the going down of the ſame the Lord's name is to be praiſed.

4 The Lord is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.

5 Who is like unto the Lord our God, who dwelleth on high,

6 Who humbleth himſelf to behold the things that are in heaven and in the earth?

7 He raiſeth up the poor out of the duſt, and lifteth the needy out of the dunghill:

8 That he may ſet him with princes, even with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman to keep houſe, and to be a joyful mother of children. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSALM CIX.] This pſalm, in all probability, was written by David, during his perſecution by Saul, when his enemies loaded him with calumnies, eſpecially Doeg the Edomite, whom the pſalmiſt, by a prophetical ſpirit, curſes in the moſt ſolemn manner, and pronounces the heavieſt judgments on him and his family.

PSALM CX.] 1 The Lord ſaid unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, &c.] This is the decree of Omnipotence himſelf, that the great Meſſiah whom we expect, and whom I honour as my Lord and maſter, ſhall, after his ſufferings, be advanced to the higheſt dignity in the heavens; and reign with him as the ſovereign of all the earth, till he hath perfectly ſubdued the moſt powerful oppoſers of his kingdom, and overcome even death itſelf, by whom all mankind are conquered.

It is abundantly evident, that the royal prophet here ſpeaks of ſome perſon much greater than himſelf, whom he calls his Lord, and this can be no other than the Great Meſſiah, the Redeemer of the human race.

PSALM CXI.] 1 Praiſe the Lord, I will praiſe the Lord with my whole heart, &c.] I will praiſe the Lord with all the affections of my mind, my heart and my ſoul.

This pſalm ſeems to have been compoſed by David, as a compendious remembrance of thoſe mercies he had received from the moſt High, and had before enumerated more at large in the cv. and cvi. pſalms.

PSALM CXII.] 1 Praiſe ye the Lord. Bleſſed is the man that feareth the Lord, &c.] Happy is that man whoſe chiefeſt care is to pleaſe the Lord, by obſerving his commandments: which will at laſt yield him the higheſt pleaſure and ſatisfaction.

PSALM CXIV.] This pſalm contains a brief narration of ſeveral marvellous works, whereby the Lord declared his power when he brought the poſterity of Jacob out of their Egyptian bondage.

3 The sea saw it, and fled; Jordan was driven back.
4 The mountains skipped like rams, and the little hills like lambs.
5 What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest? thou Jordan, that thou wast driven back?
6 Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams; and ye little hills like lambs?
7 Tremble thou earth at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob.
8 Which turned the rock into a standing water, the flint into a fountain of waters.

PSAL. CXV.

NOT unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake.
2 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is now their God?
3 But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatsoever he hath pleased.
4 Their idols are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.
5 They have mouths, but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not.
6 They have ears, but they hear not; noses have they, but they smell not.
7 They have hands, but they handle not; feet have they, but they walk not: neither speak they through their throat.
8 They that make them, are like unto them; so is every one that trusteth in them.
9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: he is their help and their shield.
10 O house of Aaron, trust in the Lord: he is their help and their shield.
11 Ye that fear the Lord, trust in the Lord: he is their help and their shield.
12 The Lord hath been mindful of us, he will bless us, he will bless the house of Israel, he will bless the house of Aaron.
13 He will bless them that fear the Lord, both small and great.
14 The Lord shall increase you more and more, you and your children.
15 Ye are blessed of the Lord, which made heaven and earth.
16 The heaven, even the heavens are the Lord's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.
17 The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that go down into silence.
18 But we will bless the Lord, from this time forth and for evermore. Praise the Lord.

PSAL. CXVI.

I Love the Lord, because he hath heard my voice, and my supplications.
2 Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.
3 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow.
4 Then called I upon the name of the Lord; O Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.
5 Gracious is the Lord, and righteous: yea, our God is merciful.
6 The Lord preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me.
7 Return unto thy rest, O my soul, for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee.
8 For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.
9 I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living.
10 I believed, therefore have I spoken: I was greatly afflicted.
11 I said in my haste, All men are liars.
12 What shall I render unto the Lord, for all his benefits toward me?
13 I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord.
14 I will pay my vows unto the Lord, now in the presence of all his people.
15 Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.
16 O Lord, truly I am thy servant, I am thy servant, and the son of thine hand-maid: thou hast loosed my bonds.
17 I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord.
18 I will pay my vows unto the Lord, now in the presence of all his people.
19 In the courts of the Lord's house, in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVII.

O Praise the Lord, all ye nations: praise him, all ye people.
2 For his merciful kindness is great toward us: and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVIII.

O Give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: because his mercy endureth for ever.
2 Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.
3 Let the house of Aaron now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.
4 Let them now that fear the Lord, say, that his mercy endureth for ever.
5 I called upon the Lord in distress: the Lord answered me, and set me in a large place.
6 The Lord is on my side, I will not fear: what can man do unto me?
7 The Lord taketh my part with them that help me: therefore shall I see my desire upon them that hate me.
8 It is better to trust in the Lord, than to put confidence in man.
9 It is better to trust in the Lord, than to put confidence in princes.
10 All nations compassed me about: but in the name of the Lord will I destroy them.
11 They compassed me about, yea, they compassed me about: but in the name of the Lord I will destroy them.
12 They compassed me about like bees, they are quenched as the fire of thorns: for in the name of the Lord I will destroy them.
13 Thou hast thrust sore at me that I might fall: but the Lord helped me.
14 The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation.
15 The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous: the right hand of the Lord doeth valiantly.
16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted: the right hand of the Lord doeth valiantly.
17 I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.
18 The Lord hath chastened me sore: but he hath not given me over unto death.
19 Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will go into them, and I will praise the Lord:
20 This gate of the Lord, into which the righteous shall enter.
21 I will praise thee, for thou hast heard me, and art become my salvation.
22 The stone which the builders refused, is become the head stone of the corner.
23 This is the Lord's doing, it is marvellous in our eyes.
24 This is the day which the Lord hath made, we will rejoice and be glad in it.
25 Save now, I beseech thee, O Lord: O Lord, I beseech thee, send now prosperity.
26 Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord: we have blessed you out of the house of the Lord.
27 God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light; bind the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar.
28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee; thou art my God, I will exalt thee.
29 O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

PSALM CXVI.] This psalm was certainly wrote by David when he fled from his rebellious son, and when Ahitophel and others of his friends joined the rebels, and he had nothing to depend upon but the goodness of the Almighty.

PSALM CXVII.] 1 O praise the Lord, all ye nations, &c.] Let all the nations of the earth join with the seed of Jacob in celebrating the praises of the Lord, and in singing hymns of thanks to his great name.

This psalm like the cxth seems to be altogether prophetical of the joy that all the world should conceive at the coming of the Messiah.

PSALM CXVIII.] This psalm seems to have been composed by David after God had settled him on the throne of Israel as well as Judah, and subdued all his enemies round about him, who, during the beginning of his reign, attacked him on every side.

22 The stone which the builders refused, is become the head stone of the corner.] He whom the great men and rulers of the people rejected, is now become our king and our saviour, and in him alone we must hope for safety.

PSALM CXIX.] This psalm, of which David was confessedly the author, is written with great art; for it is not only divided into as many parts as there are letters in the Hebrew alphabet, but also each of these parts into eight verses; each of which, in the original, begins with the same letter that forms the title of the part. For instance, all the eight verses in the first part termed Aleph, begin with an Aleph or A; and those in the second with a Beth or B, &c. And hence this psalm is, in the Massora, stiled the great Alphabet.

10 With my whole heart have I ſought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments.
11 Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not ſin againſt thee.
12 Bleſſed art thou, O Lord: teach me thy ſtatutes.
13 With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth.
14 I have rejoiced in the way of thy teſtimonies, as much as in all riches.
15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and have reſpect unto thy ways.
16 I will delight myſelf in thy ſtatutes: I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

17 Deal bountifully with thy ſervant, that I may live, and keep thy word.
18 Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.
19 I am a ſtranger in the earth, hide not thy commandments from me.
20 My ſoul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times.
21 Thou haſt rebuked the proud that are curſed, which do err from thy commandments.
22 Remove from me reproach and contempt, for I have kept thy teſtimonies.
23 Princes alſo did ſit and ſpeak againſt me: but thy ſervant did meditate in thy ſtatutes.
24 Thy teſtimonies alſo are my delight, and my counſellors.

DALETH.

25 My ſoul cleaveth unto the duſt: quicken thou me according to thy word.
26 I have declared my ways, and thou heardſt me: teach me thy ſtatutes.
27 Make me to underſtand the way of thy precepts: ſo ſhall I talk of thy wondrous works.
28 My ſoul melteth for heavineſs: ſtrengthen thou me according unto thy word.
29 Remove from me the way of lying: and grant me thy law graciouſly.
30 I have choſen the way of truth: thy judgments have I laid before me.
31 I have ſtuck unto thy teſtimonies: O Lord, put me not to ſhame.
32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou ſhalt enlarge my heart.

HE.

33 Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy ſtatutes, and I ſhall keep it unto the end.
34 Give me underſtanding, and I ſhall keep thy law; yea I ſhall obſerve it with my whole heart.
35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments, for therein do I delight.
36 Incline mine heart unto thy teſtimonies, and not to covetouſneſs.
37 Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity: and quicken thou me in thy way.
38 Stabliſh thy word unto thy ſervant, who is devoted to thy fear.
39 Turn away my reproach which I fear: for thy judgments are good.
40 Behold, I have longed after thy precepts: quicken me in thy righteouſneſs.

VAU.

41 Let thy mercies come alſo unto me, O Lord; even thy ſalvation according to thy word.
42 So ſhall I have wherewith to anſwer him that reproacheth me: for I truſt in thy word.
43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in thy judgments.
44 So ſhall I keep thy law continually for ever and ever.
45 And I will walk at liberty: for I ſeek thy precepts.
46 I will ſpeak of thy teſtimonies alſo before kings, and will not be aſhamed.
47 And I will delight myſelf in thy commandments which I have loved.
48 My hands alſo will I lift up unto thy commandments which I have loved: and I will meditate in thy ſtatutes.

ZAIN.

49 Remember the word unto thy ſervant, upon which thou haſt cauſed me to hope.
50 This is my comfort in my affliction: for thy word hath quickened me.
51 The proud have had me greatly in deriſion: yet have I not declined from thy law.
52 I remembered thy judgments of old, O Lord; and have comforted myſelf.
53 Horror hath taken hold upon me, becauſe of the wicked that forſake thy law.
54 Thy ſtatutes have been my ſongs in the houſe of my pilgrimage.
55 I have remembered thy name, O Lord, in the night, and have kept thy law.
56 This I had, becauſe I kept thy precepts.

CHETH.

57 Thou art my portion, O Lord; I have ſaid, that I would keep thy words.
58 I intreated thy favour with my whole heart: be merciful unto me according to thy word.
59 I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy teſtimonies.
60 I made haſte, and delayed not to keep thy commandments.
61 The bands of the wicked have robbed me: but have I not forgotten thy law.
62 At midnight I will riſe to give thanks unto thee: becauſe of thy righteous judgments.
63 I am a companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts
64 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy: teach me thy ſtatutes.

TETH.

65 Thou haſt dealt well with thy ſervant, O Lord, according unto thy word.
66 Teach me good judgment, and knowledge: for I have believed thy commandments.
67 Before I was afflicted, I went aſtray: but now I have kept thy word.
68 Thou art good, and doeſt good; teach me thy ſtatutes.
69 The proud have forged a lye againſt me: but I will keep thy precepts with my whole heart.
70 Their heart is as fat as greaſe, but I delight in thy law.
71 It is good for me that I have been afflicted: that I might learn thy ſtatutes.
72 The law of thy mouth is better unto me, than thouſands of gold and ſilver.

JOD.

73 Thy hands have made me and faſhioned me: give me underſtanding, that I may learn thy commandments.
74 They that fear thee, will be glad when they ſee me: becauſe I have hoped in thy word.
75 I know, O Lord, that thy judgments are right, and that thou in faithfulneſs haſt afflicted me.
76 Let, I pray thee, thy merciful kindneſs be for my comfort, according to thy word unto thy ſervant.
77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live: for thy law is my delight.
78 Let the proud be aſhamed, for they dealt perverſely with me without a cauſe; but I will meditate in thy precepts.
79 Let thoſe that fear thee, turn unto me, and thoſe that have known thy teſtimonies.
80 Let my heart be found in thy ſtatutes; that I be not aſhamed.

CAPH.

81 My ſoul fainteth for thy ſalvation: but I hope in thy word.
82 Mine eyes fail for thy word, ſaying, When wilt thou comfort me?
83 For I am become like a bottle in the ſmoak: yet do I not forget thy ſtatutes.
84 How many are the days of thy ſervant? when wilt thou execute judgment on them that perſecute me?
85 The proud have digged pits for me, which are not after thy law.
86 All thy commandments are faithful: they perſecute me wrongfully; help thou me.
87 They had almoſt conſumed me upon earth: but I forſook not thy precepts.
88 Quicken me after thy loving kindneſs, ſo ſhall I keep the teſtimony of thy mouth.

LAMED.

89 For ever, O Lord, thy word is ſettled in heaven.
90 Thy faithfulneſs is unto all generations: thou haſt eſtabliſhed the earth, and it abideth.

32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou ſhalt enlarge my heart.] When thou haſt delivered me from my perſecutors, and ſet my feet at liberty, I will render thee more acceptable ſervice; and with a more chearful heart, perform all thy commandments.

55 I have remembered thy name, O Lord, in the night, and have kept thy law.] When others were buried in ſleep and ſilence, I have been recollecting on thy goodneſs, thy power, and thy truth; and reſolved with myſelf ſtill to keep the laws of thy mouth.

67 Before I was afflicted, I went aſtray: but now I have kept thy word.] Before I was acquainted with afflictions, I committed many errors; but ſince I have felt thy loving corrections, I have been more obſervant of thy word.

92 Unleſs thy law had been my delights, I ſhould then have periſhed in mine affliction.
93 I will never forget thy precepts: for with them thou haſt quickened me.
94 I am thine, ſave me: for I have ſought thy precepts.
95 The wicked have waited for me to deſtroy me: but I will conſider thy teſtimonies.
96 I have ſeen an end of all perfection; but thy commandment is exceeding broad.

M E M.

97 O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day.
98 Thou through thy commandments haſt made me wiſer than mine enemies: for they are ever with me.
99 I have more underſtanding than all my teachers: for thy teſtimonies are my meditation.
100 I underſtand more than the ancients: becauſe I keep thy precepts.
101 I have refrained my feet from every evil way: that I might keep thy word.
102 I have not departed from thy judgments: for thou haſt taught me.
103 How ſweet are thy words unto my taſte! yea, ſweeter than honey to my mouth.
104 Through thy precepts I get underſtanding: therefore I hate every falſe way.

N U N.

105 Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.
106 I have ſworn, and I will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments.
107 I am afflicted very much: quicken me, O Lord, according unto thy word.
108 Accept, I beſeech thee, the free-will-offerings of my mouth, O Lord, and teach me thy judgments.
109 My ſoul is continually in my hand: yet do I not forget thy law.
110 The wicked have laid a ſnare for me: yet I erred not from thy precepts.
111 Thy teſtimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever: for they are the rejoicing of my heart.
112 I have inclined mine heart to perform thy ſtatutes alway, even unto the end.

S A M E C H.

113 I hate vain thoughts: but thy law do I love.
114 Thou art my hiding-place, and my ſhield: I hope in thy word.
115 Depart from me, ye evil doers; for I will keep the commandments of my God.
116 Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live: and let me not be aſhamed of my hope.
117 Hold thou me up, and I ſhall be ſafe: and I will have reſpect unto thy ſtatutes continually.
118 Thou haſt trodden down all them that err from thy ſtatutes: for their deceit is falſhood.
119 Thou putteſt away all the wicked of the earth like droſs: therefore I love thy teſtimonies.
120 My fleſh trembleth for fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy judgments.

A I N.

121 I have done judgment and juſtice: leave me not to mine oppreſſors.
122 Be ſurety for thy ſervant for good: let not the proud oppreſs me.
123 Mine eyes fail for thy ſalvation, and for the word of thy righteouſneſs.
124 Deal with thy ſervant according unto thy mercy, and teach me thy ſtatutes.
125 I am thy ſervant, give me underſtanding, that I may know thy teſtimonies.
126 It is time for thee, Lord, to work: for they have made void thy law.
127 Therefore I love thy commandments above gold, yea, above fine gold.
128 Therefore I eſteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every falſe way.

P E.

129 Thy teſtimonies are wonderful: therefore doth my ſoul keep them.
130 The entrance of thy words giveth light: it giveth underſtanding unto the ſimple.
131 I opened my mouth, and panted: for I longed for thy commandments.
132 Look thou upon me, and be merciful unto me, as thou uſeſt to do unto thoſe that love thy name.
133 Order my ſteps in thy word: and let not any iniquity have dominion over me.
134 Deliver me from the oppreſſion of man: ſo will I keep thy precepts.
135 Make thy face to ſhine upon thy ſervant: and teach me thy ſtatutes.
136 Rivers of waters run down mine eyes: becauſe they keep not thy law.

140 Thy word is very pure: therefore thy ſervant loveth it.
141 I am ſmall and deſpiſed: yet do not I forget thy precepts.
142 Thy righteouſneſs is an everlaſting righteouſneſs, and thy law is the truth.
143 Trouble and anguiſh have taken hold on me: yet thy commandments are my delights.

148 Mine eyes prevent the night watches, that I might meditate in thy word.

170 Let my ſupplication come before thee: deliver me according to thy word.

171 My lips ſhall utter praiſe, when thou haſt taught me thy ſtatutes.

172 My tongue ſhall ſpeak of thy word: for all thy commandments are righteouſneſs.

173 Let thine hand help me: for I have choſen thy precepts.

174 I have longed for thy ſalvation, O Lord: and thy law is my delight.

175 Let my ſoul live, and it ſhall praiſe thee: and let thy jndgments help me.

176 I have gone aſtray like a loſt ſheep, ſeek thy ſervant: for I do not forget thy commandments.

PSAL. CXX.

IN my diſtreſs I cried unto the Lord, and he heard me.

2 Deliver my ſoul, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue.

3 What ſhall be given unto thee? or what ſhall be done unto thee, thou falſe tongue?

4 Sharp arrows of the mighty, with coals of juniper.

5 Woe is me, that I ſojourn in Meſech that I dwell in the tents of Kedar.

6 My ſoul hath long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

7 I am for peace: but when I ſpeak, they are for war.

PSAL. CXXI.

I Will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help.

2 My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.

3 He will not ſuffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not ſlumber.

4 Behold, he that keepeth Iſrael, ſhall neither ſlumber nor ſleep.

5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy ſhade upon thy right hand.

6 The ſun ſhall not ſmite thee by day; nor the moon by night.

7 The Lord ſhall preſerve thee from all evil: he ſhall preſerve thy ſoul.

8 The Lord ſhall preſerve thy going out, and thy coming in, from this time forth and even for evermore.

CXXII.

I Was glad when they ſaid unto me, Let us go into the houſe of the Lord.

2 Our feet ſhall ſtand within thy gates, O Jeruſalem.

3 Jeruſalem is builded as a city, that is compact together:

4 Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord, unto the teſtimony of Iſrael, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord.

5 For there are ſet thrones of judgment: the thrones of the houſe of David.

6 Pray for the peace of Jeruſalem: they ſhall proſper that love thee.

7 Peace be within thy walls, and proſperity within thy palaces.

8 For my brethren and companions ſakes, I will now ſay, Peace be within thee.

9 Becauſe of the houſe of the Lord our God, I will ſeek thy good.

PSAL. CXXIII.

UNTO thee lift I up mine eyes, O thou that dwelleſt in the heavens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of ſervants look unto the hand of their maſters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her miſtreſs: ſo our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until that he have mercy upon us.

3 Have mercy upon us, O Lord, have mercy upon us: for we are exceedingly filled with contempt.

4 Our ſoul is exceedingly filled with the ſcorning of thoſe that are at eaſe, and with the contempt of the proud.

PSAL. CXXIV.

IF it had not been the Lord, who was on our ſide, now may Iſrael ſay:

2 If it had not been the Lord, who was on our ſide, when men roſe up againſt us:

3 Then they had ſwallowed us up quick, when their wrath was kindled againſt us.

4 Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the ſtream had gone over our ſoul.

5 Then the proud waters had gone over our ſoul.

6 Bleſſed be the Lord, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.

7 Our ſoul is eſcaped as a bird out of the ſnare of the fowlers; the ſnare is broken, and we are eſcaped.

8 Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth.

PSAL. CXXV.

THEY that truſt in the Lord ſhall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever.

2 As the mountains are round about Jeruſalem, ſo the Lord is round about his people, from henceforth even for ever.

3 For the rod of the wicked ſhall not reſt upon the lot of the righteous: leſt the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.

4 Do good, O Lord, unto thoſe that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.

5 As for ſuch as turn aſide unto their crooked ways, the Lord ſhall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but peace ſhall be upon Iſrael.

PSAL. CXXVI.

WHEN the Lord turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ſinging: then ſaid they among the heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.

3 The Lord hath done great things for us: whereof we are glad.

4 Turn again our captivity, O Lord, as the ſtreams in the ſouth.

5 They that ſow in tears, ſhall reap in joy.

6 He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious ſeed, ſhall doubtleſs come again with rejoicing, bringing his ſheaves with him.

PSAL. CXXVII.

EXcept the Lord build the houſe, they labour in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

2 It is vain for you to riſe up early, to ſit up late, to eat the bread of ſorrows: for ſo he giveth his beloved ſleep.

3 Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.

4 As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man: ſo are children of the youth.

5 Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them: they ſhall not be aſhamed, but they ſhall ſpeak with the enemies in the gate.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

BLeſſed is every one that feareth the Lord: that walketh in his ways:

2 For thou ſhalt eat the labour of thine hands: happy ſhalt thou be, and it ſhall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife ſhall be as a fruitful vine by the ſides of thine houſe: thy children like olive-plants, round about thy table.

4 Behold, that thus ſhall the man be bleſſed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord ſhall bleſs thee out of Zion: and thou ſhalt ſee the good of Jeruſalem all the days of thy life.

6 Yea, thou ſhalt ſee thy children's children, and peace upon Iſrael.

PSAL.

175, 176 Let my ſoul live, and it ſhall praiſe thee, &c.] O let me not periſh in the ſnare they have laid around me; but ſpare my life, and I will devote it to thy praiſe.

PSALM CXX.] It is impoſſible to know with any certainty, why this, and the fourteen following pſalms, were called Songs of degrees, or ſteps. But the moſt probable conjecture is, that they were ſo called from the excellency of the compoſition, or the high eſteem the Hebrews entertained for them on ſome particular occaſion.

PSALM CXXI.] This pſalm ſeems to have been written by David, when he was obliged to fly from Jeruſalem to avoid the army of his rebellious ſon.

PSALM CXXII.] 1 I was glad when they ſaid unto me, let us go into the houſe of the Lord.] I was exceedingly delighted with the chearful devotion of thoſe who came to me before the approaching feaſt, and ſaid, Let us go and pay our thankful acknowledgments to the Lord, in the place where he hath choſen his habitation, and dwells viſibly among us.

PSALM CXXIII.] This pſalm was doubtleſs written in a time of great diſtreſs, when ſome haughty tyrant of the earth threatened to level the walls of Jeruſalem with the duſt; but the particular occaſion is not known. Poſſibly it was compoſed by ſome pious perſon, when the king of Aſſyria ſent his army againſt Jeruſalem.

PSALM CXXIV.] 1 If it had not been the Lord, who was on our ſide, now may Iſrael ſay.] Iſrael may now thankfully acknowledge, that it was the Lord alone that protected them from their numerous enemies.

This pſalm was written by David, after ſome remarkable victory over a numerous hoſt of his enemies. Perhaps the Philiſtines, when they ſpread themſelves in the valley of Rephaim, 2 Sam. v. 19. or the Ammonites and their aſſociates, 2 Sam. x. 6.

PSALM CXXV.] This pſalm, in all probability, was written by the prophet Iſaiah, and ſpoken to the people by Hezekiah, when Sennacherib's army threatened to deſtroy Jeruſalem, to comfort them under their great affliction.

PSALM CXXVI.] This pſalm is allowed to have been written by Ezra on the return of the Jews from the Babyloniſh captivity.

PSALM CXXVII.] 1 Except the Lord build the houſe, &c.] The ſucceſs of all our undertakings depend ſo entirely on the bleſſing of the Lord, that it is in vain to build houſes or cities, and form ſocieties, except he proſper the deſign.

PSALM CXXVIII.] 1 Bleſſed is every one that feareth the Lord, &c.] Whoever thou art that deſireſt to be happy, be careful to fear the Lord, and practiſe juſtice, charity, and univerſal benevolence, and thou ſhalt ſurely attain thy deſire.

This pſalm was probably written by the ſame author as the foregeing, to excite men to be truly religious, as the only way to obtain the bleſſings enumerated in this hymn.

PSALM

PSAL. CXXIX.

MANY a time have they afflicted me from my youth, may Israel now say:

2 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth: yet they have not prevailed against me.

3 The plowers plowed upon my back: they made long their furrows.

4 The Lord is righteous: he hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.

5 Let them all be confounded and turned back that hate Zion.

6 Let them be as the grass upon the house-tops, which withereth afore it groweth up:

7 Wherewith the mower filleth not his hand; nor he that bindeth sheaves, his bosom.

8 Neither do they which go by, say, The blessing of the Lord be upon you: we bless you in the name of the Lord.

PSAL. CXXX.

OUT of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, hear my voice: let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications.

3 If thou, Lord, shouldst mark iniquities: O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But there is forgiveness with thee: that thou mayest be feared.

5 I wait for the Lord, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.

6 My soul waiteth for the Lord, more than they that watch for the morning: I say, more than they that watch for the morning.

7 Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption.

8 And he shall redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

PSAL. CXXXI.

LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty: neither do I exercise myself in great matters, or in things too high for me.

2 Surely I have behaved and quieted myself as a child that is weaned of his mother: my soul is even as a weaned child.

3 Let Israel hope in the Lord, from henceforth and for ever.

PSAL. CXXXII.

LORD, remember David, and all his afflictions.

2 How he sware unto the Lord, and vowed unto the mighty God of Jacob.

3 Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my house, nor go up into my bed:

4 I will not give sleep to mine eyes, or slumber to mine eye-lids,

5 Until I find out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.

6 Lo, we heard of it at Ephratah: we found it in the fields of the wood.

7 We will go into his tabernacles: we will worship at his footstool.

8 Arise, O Lord, into thy rest; thou, and the ark of thy strength.

9 Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness; and let thy saints shout for joy.

10 For thy servant David's sake, turn not away the face of thine anointed.

11 The Lord hath sworn in truth unto David, he will not turn from it, Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.

12 If thy children will keep my covenant and my testimony, that I shall teach them; their children shall also sit upon thy throne for evermore.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion: he hath desired it for his habitation.

14 This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell, for I have desired it.

15 I will abundantly bless her provision: I will satisfy her poor with bread.

16 I will also clothe her priests with salvation: and her saints shall shout aloud for joy.

17 There will I make the horn of David to bud: I have ordained a lamp for mine anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame: but upon himself shall his crown flourish.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

BEhold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.

2 It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard, that went down to the skirts of his garments.

3 As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion, for there the Lord commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.

PSAL. CXXXIV.

BEhold, bless ye the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord, which by night stand in the house of the Lord.

2 Lift up your hands in the sanctuary: and bless the Lord.

3 The Lord that made heaven and earth, bless thee out of Zion.

PSAL. CXXXV.

PRaise ye the Lord, praise ye the name of the Lord, praise him, O ye servants of the Lord.

2 Ye that stand in the house of the Lord, in the courts of the house of our God.

3 Praise the Lord, for the Lord is good: sing praises unto his name, for it is pleasant.

4 For the Lord hath chosen Jacob unto himself, and Israel for his peculiar treasure.

5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

6 Whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places.

7 He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth, he maketh lightnings for the rain; he bringeth the wind out of his treasuries.

8 Who smote the first-born of Egypt, both of man and beast.

9 Who sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

10 Who smote great nations, and slew mighty kings:

11 Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan:

12 And gave their land for an heritage, an heritage unto Israel his people.

13 Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever, and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations.

14 For the Lord will judge his people, and he will repent himself concerning his servants.

15 The idols of the heathen are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.

16 They have mouths, but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not.

17 They have ears, but they hear not; neither is there any breath in their mouths.

18 They that make them are like unto them: so is every one that trusteth in them.

19 Bless the Lord, O house of Israel: bless the Lord, O house of Aaron.

20 Bless the Lord, O house of Levi; ye that fear the Lord, bless the Lord.

21 Blessed be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth at Jerusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

OGive thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 O give thanks unto the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.

3 O give thanks to the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.

4 To him who alone doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.

5 To him that by wisdom made the heavens: for his mercy endureth for ever.

6 To him that stretched out the earth above the waters: for his mercy eudureth for ever.

7 To him that made great lights: for his mercy endureth for ever.

8 The sun to rule by day: for his mercy endureth for ever.

9 The moon and stars to rule by night: for his mercy endureth for ever.

10 To

PSALM CXXIX.] 1 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth, &c.] Our adversaries, may Israel, on this occasion truly say, have very often, and very sorely distressed us; ever since we became a people.

PSALM CXXX.] This psalm was, in all probability, composed by David, during the persecution of Saul, when he was reduced to so low a condition, that his heart began to sink within him.

PSALM CXXXI.] Though David did not pretend to be free from guilt, yet in that particular, namely, his affecting the kingdom, he could safely protest his innocence.

PSALM CXXXII.] 1 Lord, remember David, and all his afflictions.] Be not, O Lord, unmindful of the pious afflictions of thy servant David, who chose to endure many afflictions rather than, by unlawful means, place himself on the throne of a kingdom.

This psalm seems to have been written by some pious hand, after the Lord had commanded David, by Gad the seer, to build an altar in the threshing-floor of Araunah the Jebusite, where the destroying angel stood when he stretched out his hand over Jerusalem.

PSALM CXXXIII.] This psalm seems to have been composed when there was a strife between the men of Israel and the men of Judah, who should be most forward in returning to their allegiance, and be the most ready in bringing back David to his kingdom, from whence he had been driven by his rebellious son.

PSALM CXXXIV.] The author of this psalm is unknown: but seems to have been written by some pious Levite, to be sung at the shutting of the gates of the temple.

PSALM CXXXV.] This seems to have been the morning hymn, which the præcentor called upon the Levites to sing at the opening of the gates of the temple, as the foregoing was sung at the shutting them up in the evening.

PSALM CXXXVI.] This psalm, like the former, is a commemoration of the goodness of the Lord, especially of the wonderful works he had done for Israel. The form of acknowledgment, for his mercy endureth for ever, so often repeated in this psalm, was prescribed by David to be used continually in the divine service, 1 Chron. xvi. 41.

10 To him that ſmote Egypt in their firſt-born: for his mercy endureth for ever.

11 And brought out Iſrael from among them: for his mercy endureth for ever.

12 With a ſtrong hand, and with a ſtretched-out arm: for his mercy endureth foa ever.

13 To him which divided the Red-ſea into parts: for his mercy endureth for ever.

14 And made Iſrael to paſs through the midſt of it: for his mercy endureth for ever.

15 But overthrew Pharaoh and his hoſt in the Red-ſea: for his mercy endureth for ever.

16 To him which led his people through the wilderneſs: for his mercy endureth for ever.

17 To him which ſmote great kings: for his mercy endureth for ever.

18 And ſlew famous kings: for his mercy endureth for ever.

19 Sihon king of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for ever.

20 And Og the king of Baſhan: for his mercy endureth for ever.

21 And gave their land for an heritage: for his mercy endureth for ever.

22 Even an heritage unto Iſrael his ſervant: for his mercy endureth for ever.

23 Who remembered us in our low eſtate: for his mercy endureth for ever.

24 And hath redeemed us from our enemies: for his mercy endureth for ever.

25 Who giveth food to all fleſh; for his mercy endureth for ever.

26 O give thanks unto the God of heaven: for his mercy endureth forever.

PSAL. CXXXVII.

BY the rivers of Babylon, there we ſat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion.

2 We hanged our harps upon the willows, in the midſt thereof.

3 For there they that carried us away captive, required of us a ſong; and they that waſted us, required of us mirth, ſaying Sing us one of the ſongs of Zion.

4 How ſhall we ſing the Lord's ſong in a ſtrange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Jeruſalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.

6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; If I prefer not Jeruſalem above my chief joy.

7 Remember, O Lord, the children of Edom, in the day of Jeruſalem; who ſaid, Raiſe it, raiſe it, even to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babylon, who art to be deſtroyed: happy ſhall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou haſt ſerved us.

9 Happy ſhall he be that taketh and daſheth thy little ones againſt the ſtones.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

I Will praiſe thee with my whole heart, before the gods will I ſing praiſe unto thee.

2 I will worſhip toward thy holy temple, and praiſe thy name for thy loving-kindneſs, and for thy truth; for thou haſt magnified thy word above all thy name.

3 In the day when I cried, thou anſweredſt me: and ſtrengthenedſt me with ſtrength in my ſoul.

4 All the king's of the earth ſhall praiſe thee; O Lord, when they hear the words of thy mouth.

5 Yea. they ſhall ſing in the ways of the Lord: for great is the glory of the Lord.

6 Though the Lord be high, yet hath he reſpect unto the lowly; but the proud he knoweth afar off.

7 Though I walk in the midſt of trouble, thou wilt revive me, thou ſhalt ſtretch forth thine hand againſt the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand ſhall ſave me.

8 The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever: forſake not the works of thine own hands.

CHAP. CXXXIX.

O Lord, thou haſt ſearched me, and known me.

2 Thou knoweſt my down-ſitting, and mine up-riſing, thou underſtandeſt my thought afar off.

3 Thou compaſſeſt my path, and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but lo, O Lord, thou knoweſt it altogether.

5 Thou haſt beſet me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me.

6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.

7 Whither ſhall I go from thy ſpirit? or whither ſhall I flee from thy preſence?

8 If I aſcend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.

9 If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermoſt parts of the ſea:

10 Even there ſhall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand ſhall hold me.

11 If I ſay, Surely the darkneſs ſhall cover me: even the night ſhall be light about me.

12 Yea, the darkneſs hideth not from thee; but the night ſhineth as the day: the darkneſs and the light are both alike to thee.

13 For thou haſt poſſeſſed my reins: thou haſt covered me in my mother's womb:

14 I will praiſe thee, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works, and that my ſoul knoweth right well.

15 My ſubſtance was not hid from thee, when I was made in ſecret; and curiouſly wrought in the loweſt parts of the earth.

16 Thine eyes did ſee my ſubſtance yet being unperfect, and in thy book all my members were written, which in continuance were faſhioned, when as yet there was none of them.

17 How precious alſo are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the ſum of them!

18 If I ſhould count them, they are more in number than the ſand: when I awake, I am ſtill with thee.

19 Surely thou wilt ſlay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye bloody men.

20 For they ſpeak againſt thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain.

21 Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with thoſe that riſe up againſt thee?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.

23 Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts.

24 And ſee if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlaſting.

PSAL CXL.

DEliver me, O Lord, from the evil man: preſerve me from the violent man.

2 Which imagine miſchiefs in their heart; continually are they gathered together for war.

3 They have ſharpened their tongues, like a ſerpent; adder's poiſon is under their lips. Selah.

4 Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked, preſerve me from the violent man, who have purpoſed to overthrow my goings.

5 The proud have hid a ſnare for me, and cords, they have ſpread a net by the way-ſide: they have ſet gins for me. Selah.

6 I ſaid unto the Lord, Thou art my God: hear the voice of my ſupplications, O Lord.

7 O God the Lord, the ſtrength of my ſalvation; thou haſt covered my head in the day of battle.

8 Grant not, O Lord, the deſires of the wicked, further not his wicked device, leſt they exalt themſelves. Selah.

9 As for the head of thoſe that compaſs me about, let the miſchief of their own lips cover them.

10 Let burning coals fall upon them, let them be caſt into the fire; into deep pits, that they riſe not up again.

11 Let not an evil ſpeaker be eſtabliſhed in the earth: evil ſhall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

12 I know that the Lord will maintain the cauſe of the afflicted, and the right of the poor.

13 Surely the righteous ſhall give thanks unto thy name, the upright ſhall dwell in thy preſence.

PSAL. CXLI.

LORD, I cry unto thee, make haſte unto me; give ear unto my voice, when I cry unto thee.

PSALM CXXXVII.] 1 By the rivers of Babylon, there we ſat down, &c.] When we were carried from the land of promiſe to that of Babylon, and had the banks of the Euphrates aſſigned for our habitation, we there ſat down in the attitude of ſorrow; and when we reflected on the happy days we enjoyed in the holy hill of Sion, our eyes ſtreamed with tears.

PSALM CXXXVIII.] 1 I will praiſe thee with my whole heart, &c.] I will pay thee, O Lord, my thankful acknowledgments, with the devouteſt affections of my heart.

PSALM CXXXIX.] 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 Whither ſhall I go from thy ſpirit? or whither ſhall I flee from thy preſence? &c.] The ſentiment in this noble paſſage is remarkably ſtriking, and the deſcription truly ſublime. To what part of the univerſe ſhall I go to avoid thy ſpirit? Or whither ſhall I flee to hide me from thy piercing ſight? If I climb up into the heights of heaven, thou art there enthroned in light. If I go down to the depths of the grave, thou art there in thy pavilion of darkneſs. If I retire to the remoteſt climates of the Eaſt, where the morning firſt takes wing; if ſwifter than the darting ray, I paſs to the oppoſite regions of the Weſt, and remain in the uttermoſt parts of the ſea, ſhall I, in that diſtant ſituation, be beyond thy reach, or, by this ſudden tranſition, eſcape thy notice? So far from it, that, could I, with one glance of thought, tranſport myſelf beyond the bounds of creation, I ſhould ſtill be encircled with the immenſity of thy eſſence; or, rather, ſtill be incloſed in the hollow of thy hand. Should I be ſo weak as to ſay, ſurely the raven-colour'd mantle of the night will cover me; the very night would be turned into day around me. The pitchy veil of darkneſs can hide nothing from thy preſence; its blackeſt obſcurity is to thee like the brilliant rays of the morning: to thy eye, keener than the lightning's flaſh, the moſt open, and the moſt ſecret practices are equally alike conſpicuous.

PSALM CXL.] 1 Deliver me, O Lord, from the evil man, &c.] Let not, O Lord, the deſigns formed againſt me by wicked men proſper; nor let me fall into the hands of the cruel and violent man, whom I never injured.

PSALM CXLI.] 1 Lord, I cry unto thee, make haſte unto me, &c.] My dangers, O Lord, that now ſurround me, are exceeding great; do not therefore delay to ſuccour, and ſend me relief.

Pſ

2 Let my prayer be ſet forth before thee as incenſe; and the liſting up of my hands, as the evening ſacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, keep the door of my lips.

4 Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practiſe wicked works with men that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their dainties.

5 Let the righteous ſmite me, it ſhall be a kindneſs; and let him reprove me, it ſhall be an excellent oil, which ſhall not break my head: for yet my prayer alſo ſhall be in their calamities.

6 When their judges are overthrown in ſtony places, they ſhall hear my words, for they are ſweet

7 Our bones are ſcattered at the graves mouth, as when one cutteth and cleaveth wood upon the earth.

8 But mine eyes are unto thee, O God the Lord: in thee is my truſt, leave not my ſoul deſtitute.

9 Keep me from the ſnares which which they have laid for me, and the gins of the workers of iniquity.

10 Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilſt that I withal eſcape.

PSAL. CXLII.

I Cried unto the Lord with my voice: with my voice unto the Lord did I make my ſupplication.

2 I poured out my complaint before him; I ſhewed before him my trouble.

3 When my ſpirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou kneweſt my path: in the way wherein I walked; have they privily laid a ſnare for me.

4 I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me: refuge failed me; no man cared for my ſoul.

5 I cried unto thee, O Lord, I ſaid, Thou art my refuge, and my portion in the land of the living.

6 Attend unto my cry, for I am brought very low: deliver me from my perſecutors; for they are ſtronger than I.

7 Bring my ſoul out of priſon, that I may praiſe thy name: the righteous ſhall compaſs me about; for thou ſhalt deal bountifully with me.

PSAL. CXLIII.

HEAR my prayer, O Lord, give ear to my ſupplications: in thy faithfulneſs anſwer me, and in thy righteouſneſs.

2 And enter not into judgment with thy ſervant: for in thy ſight ſhall no man living be juſtified.

3 For the enemy hath perſecuted my ſoul, he hath ſmitten my life down to the ground: he hath made me to dwell in darkneſs, as thoſe that have been long dead.

4 Therefore is my ſpirit overwhelmed within me: my heart within me is deſolate.

5 I remember the days of old, I meditate on all thy works: I muſe on the work of thy hands.

6 I ſtretch forth my hands unto thee: my ſoul thirſteth after thee, as a thirſty land. Selah.

7 Hear me ſpeedily, O Lord, my ſpirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, leſt I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

8 Cauſe me to hear thy loving kindneſs in the morning, for in thee do I truſt: cauſe me to know the way wherein I ſhould walk, for I lift up my ſoul unto thee.

9 Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies: I flee unto thee to hide me.

10 Teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God: thy ſpirit is good, lead me into the land of uprightneſs.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy name's ſake: for thy righteouſneſs ſake bring my ſoul out of trouble.

12 And of thy mercy cut off mines enemies, and deſtroy all them that afflict my ſoul: for I am thy ſervant.

PSAL. CXLIV.

BLeſſed be the Lord my ſtrength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight.

2 My goodneſs and my fortreſs, my high tower, and my deliverer, my ſhield, and he in whom I truſt: who ſubdueth my people under me.

3 Lord, what is man, that thou takeſt knowledge of him? or the ſon of man, that thou makeſt account of him?

4 Man his like to vanity: his days are as a ſhadow that paſſeth away.

5 Bow thy heavens, O Lord, and come down: touch the mountains, and they ſhall ſmoak.

6 Caſt forth lightning, and ſcatter them: ſhoot out thine arrows, and deſtroy them.

7 Send thine hand from above, rid me, and deliver me out of great waters; from the hand of ſtrange children:

8 Whoſe mouth ſpeaketh vanity; and their right hand is a right hand of falſhood.

9 I will ſing a new ſong unto thee, O God: upon a pſaltery, and an inſtrument of ten ſtrings will I ſing praiſes unto thee.

10 It is he that giveth ſalvation unto kings: who delivereth David his ſervant from the hurtful ſword.

11 Rid me, and deliver me from the hand of ſtrange children; whoſe mouth ſpeaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falſhood.

12 That our ſons may be as plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner ſtones, poliſhed after the ſimilitude of a palace:

13 That our garners may be full, affording all manner of ſtore; that our ſheep may bring forth thouſands, and ten thouſands in our ſtreets:

14 That our oxen may be ſtrong to labour; that there be no breaking in, nor going out; that there be no complaining in our ſtreets:

15 Happy is that people that is in ſuch a caſe: yea, happy is that people whoſe God is the Lord.

PSAL. CXLV.

I Will extol thee, my God, O King, and I will bleſs thy name for ever and ever.

2 Every day will I bleſs thee, and I will praiſe thy name for ever and ever.

3 Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praiſed; and his greatneſs is unſearchable.

4 One generation ſhall praiſe thy works to another, and ſhall declare thy mighty acts.

5 I will ſpeak of the glorious honour of thy majeſty, and of thy wonderous works.

6 And men ſhall ſpeak of the might of thy terrible acts: and I will declare thy greatneſs.

7 They ſhall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodneſs, and ſhall ſing of thy righteouſneſs.

8 The Lord is gracious, and full of compaſſion; ſlow to anger, and of great mercy.

9 The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

10 All thy works ſhall praiſe thee, O Lord, and thy ſaints ſhall bleſs thee.

11 They ſhall ſpeak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power.

12 To make known to the ſons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majeſty of his kingdom.

13 Thy kingdom is an everlaſting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.

14 The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiſeth up all thoſe that be bowed down.

15 The eyes of all wait upon thee, and thou giveſt them their meat in due ſeaſon.

16 Thou openeſt thine hand, and ſatisfieſt the deſire of every living thing.

17 The Lord is righteous inall his ways, and holy in all his works.

18 The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth.

19 He will fulfil the deſire of them that fear him: he alſo will hear their cry, and will ſave them.

20 The Lord preſerveth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he deſtroy.

21 My mouth ſhall ſpeak the praiſe of the Lord: and let all fleſh bleſs his holy name for ever and ever.

PSAL. CXLVI.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praiſe the Lord, O my ſoul.

2 While I live, will I praiſe the Lord: I will ſing praiſes unto my God, while I have any being.

3 Put not your truſt in princes, nor in the ſon of man, in whom there is no help

4 His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth: in that very day his thoughts periſh.

5 Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whoſe hope is in the Lord his God.

6 Which made heaven and earth, the ſea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever.

7 Which executeth judgment for the oppreſſed, which giveth food to the hungry: the Lord looſeth the priſoners.

8 The Lord openeth the eyes of the blind: the Lord raiſeth them that are bowed down: the Lord loveth the righteous.

PSALM CXLII.] This prayer was made by David, when he hid himſelf from Saul, either in the cave of Adullam, or that of Engedi.

PSALM CXLIII.] 1 Hear my prayer, O Lord, give ear to my ſupplications, &c.] Hearken, O God of my ſalvation, to my earneſt ſupplications: though I am unworthy of thy favour; yet, in thy abundant mercy, ſend me relief, according to the promiſe thou haſt made me.

PSALM CXLIV.] This pſalm was doubtleſs written by David, after he had obtained ſome ſignal victory; but the particular one is not known. Perhaps it is that mentioned, 2 Sam. v. 18, &c.

PSALM CXLV.] This pſalm is compoſed with great art, each verſe, in the original, beginning a new letter of the alphabet; but the nun is wanting, poſſibly becauſe the copy from whence the collector took it was imperfect in that place. and he would not preſume to ſupply the defect himſelf. But however that be, this compoſition was always eſteemed ſo excellent, that the antient Hebrews uſed to ſay, He could not fail of being an inhabitant of the heavenly Canaan, who repeated this pſalm three times a day.

PSALM CXLVI.] 1 Praiſe ye the Lord, &c.] Exert thyſelf, O my ſoul, to render unto the Lord, who gave being to all things, thoſe affectionate praiſes he ſo juſtly deſerves.

PSALM

9 The Lord preſerveth the ſtrangers: he relieveth the fatherleſs and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upſide down.
10 The Lord ſhall reign for ever, even thy God, O Zion, unto all generations. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVII.

PRaiſe ye the Lord: for it is good to ſing praiſes unto our God; for it is pleaſant, and praiſe is comely.
2 The Lord doth build up Jeruſalem: he gathereth together the outcaſts of Iſrael.
3 He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds.
4 He telleth the number of the ſtars: he calleth them all by their names.
5 Great is our Lord, and of great power: his underſtanding is infinite.
6 The Lord lifteth up the meek: he caſteth the wicked down to the ground.
7 Sing unto the Lord with thankſgiving: ſing praiſe upon the harp unto our God.
8 Who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh graſs to grow upon the mountains.
9 He giveth to the beaſt his food, and to the young ravens which cry.
10 He delighteth not in the ſtrength of the horſe: he taketh not pleaſure in the legs of a man.
11 The Lord taketh pleaſure in them that fear him, in thoſe that hope in his mercy.
12 Praiſe the Lord, O Jeruſalem: praiſe thy God, O Zion.
13 For he hath ſtrengthened the bars of thy gates: he hath bleſſed thy children within thee.
14 He maketh peace in thy borders, and filleth thee with the fineſt of the wheat.
15 He ſendeth forth his commandment upon earth: his word runneth very ſwiftly.
16 He giveth ſnow like wool: he ſcattereth the hoar-froſt like aſhes.
17 He caſteth forth his ice like morſels: who can ſtand before his cold.
18 He ſendeth out his word, and melteth them: he cauſeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.
19 He ſheweth his word unto Jacob, his ſtatutes, and his judgments unto Iſrael.
20 He hath not dealt ſo with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

PRaiſe ye the Lord, praiſe ye the Lord from the heavens: praiſe him in the heights.
2 Praiſe ye him, all his angels: praiſe ye him, all his hoſts.
3 Praiſe ye him, ſun and moon: praiſe him all ye ſtars of light.
4 Praiſe him, ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens.
5 Let them praiſe the name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.
6 He hath alſo ſtabliſhed them for ever and ever: he hath made a decree which ſhall not paſs.
7 Praiſe the Lord from the earth, ye dragons and all deeps,
8 Fire and hail, ſnow and vapour, ſtormy wind fulfilling his word.
9 Mountains and all hills, fruitful trees and all cedars;
10 Beaſts and all cattle, creeping things, and flying fowl;
11 Kings of the earth, and all people; princes, and all judges of the earth;
12 Both young men and maidens, old men and children;
13 Let them praiſe the name of the Lord: for his name alone is excellent, his glory is above the earth and heaven.
14 He alſo exalteth the horn of his people, the praiſe of all his ſaints; even of the children of Iſrael, a people near unto him. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLIX.

PRaiſe ye the Lord. Sing unto the Lord a new ſong, and his praiſe in the congregation of ſaints.
2 Let Iſrael rejoice in him that made him: let the children of Zion be joyful in their king.
3 Let them praiſe his name in the dance: let them ſing praiſes unto him with the timbrel and harp.
4 For the Lord taketh pleaſure in his people: he will beautify the meek with ſalvation.
5 Let the ſaints be joyful in glory: let them ſing aloud upon their beds.
6 Let the high praiſes of God be in their mouth, and a two-edged ſword in their hand.
7 To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and puniſhments upon the people;
8 To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron;
9 To execute upon them the judgment written: this honour have all his ſaints. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CL.

PRaiſe ye the Lord. Praiſe God in his ſanctuary: praiſe him in the firmament of his power.
2 Praiſe him for his mighty acts: praiſe him according to his excellent greatneſs.
3 Praiſe him with the ſound of the trumpet: praiſe him with the pſaltery and harp.
4 Praiſe him with the timbrel and dance: praiſe him with ſtringed inſtruments, and organs.
5 Praiſe him upon the loud cymbals: praiſe him upon the high-ſounding cymbals.
6 Let every thing that hath breath, praiſe the Lord. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSALM CXLVII.] This pſalm ſeems to have been written by Nehemiah, when he had finiſhed the walls, and ſet up the gates of Jeruſalem.

PSALM CXLVIII.] 1 Praiſe ye Lord, &c.] Let all the creatures in the univerſe praiſe the Lord. Begin this ſolemn act of thankſgiving, ye celeſtial choir; ye who are raiſed ſo high above us in power, might, dignity, and place.

3 Praiſe ye him, ſun and moon: praiſe him all ye ſtars of light.] Praiſe him ye ſun and moon, his moſt conſpicuous miniſters, and unwearied in his ſervice: praiſe him ye glittering ſtars of light: and declare to all future generations, as ye have already done for ſo many ages paſt, how glorious your great Maſter is.

PSALM CXLIX.] This pſalm ſeems to have been written by David, after he had gained ſome ſignal victory.

PSALM CL.] 6 Let every thing that hath breath, praiſe the Lord.] Let every creature, eſpecially the human race, join with this ſacred choir, to praiſe the Almighty God of Jacob, from whom we receive all the good things we enjoy. To him, let all the world, with one conſent, give perpetual praiſe.

Thus have I endeavoured to explain the moſt difficult paſſages in the book of Pſalms, and to point out ſome of the moſt ſtriking parts in theſe beautiful compoſitions.

THE

PROVERBS.

The ARGUMENT.

This collection is only a part of the proverbs of Solomon; for we are told, that he ſpake three thouſand proverbs, and his ſongs were a thouſand and five, 1 Kings iv. 13. Nor was he the author of the whole book, though it is placed under his name. In the twenty-fifth chapter, it is obſerved, that the following proverbs belong to him, but that they were collected by perſons appointed by Hezekiah for that purpoſe. The thirtieth chapter is intitled, the words of Agur the ſon of Jakeh. The laſt chapter is inſcribed the words of king Lemuel. From theſe different titles, it is concluded, that the firſt twenty-four chapters are the genuine work of Solomon; that the five next are a collection of ſeveral of his proverbs, made by order of king Hezekiah; and that the two laſt chapters were added, and belong to different, though unknown, authors.

CHAP. I.

THE proverbs of Solomon the ſon of David king of Iſrael;
2 To know wiſdom and inſtruction, to perceive the words of underſtanding;
3 To receive the inſtruction of wiſdom, juſtice, and judgment, and equity:
4 To give ſubtilty to the ſimple, to the young man knowledge and diſcretion.
5 A wiſe man will hear, and will increaſe learning: and a man of underſtanding ſhall attain unto wiſe counſels:
6 To underſtand a proverb, and the interpretation; the words of the wiſe, and their dark ſayings.
7 ¶ The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools deſpiſe wiſdom and inſtruction.
8 My ſon, hear the inſtruction of thy father, and forſake not the law of thy mother.
9 For they ſhall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.
10 ¶ My ſon, if ſinners entice thee, conſent thou not.
11 If they ſay, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cauſe:
12 Let us ſwallow them up alive as the grave, and whole as thoſe that go down into the pit:
13 We ſhall find all precious ſubſtance, we ſhall fill our houſes with ſpoil:
14 Caſt in thy lot among us, let us all have one purſe:
15 My ſon, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their path.
16 For their feet run to evil, and make haſte to ſhed blood.
17 Surely in vain the net is ſpread in the ſight of any bird.
18 And they lay wait for their own blood, they lurk privily for their own lives.
19 So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain: which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.
20 ¶ Wiſdom crieth without, ſhe uttereth her voice in the ſtreets:
21 She crieth in the chief place of concourſe, in the openings of the gtaes: in the city ſhe uttereth her words, ſaying,
22 How long, ye ſimple ones, will ye love ſimplicity? and the ſcorners delight in their ſcorning, and fools hate knowledge?
23 Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my ſpirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.
24 ¶ Becauſe I have called, and ye refuſed; I have ſtretched out my hand, and no man regarded;
25 But ye have ſet at nought all my counſel, and would none of my reproof:
26 I alſo will laugh at your calamity, I will mock when your fear cometh;
27 When your fear cometh as deſolation, and your deſtruction cometh as a whirlwind; when diſtreſs and anguiſh cometh upon you.
28 Then ſhall they call upon me, but I will not anſwer; they ſhall ſeek me early, but they ſhall not find me:
29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not chooſe the fear of the Lord.
30 They would none of my counſel: they deſpiſed all my reproof.
31 Therefore ſhall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.
32 For the turning away of the ſimple ſhall ſlay them, and the proſperity of fools ſhall deſtroy them.
33 But whoſo hearkeneth unto me, ſhall dwell ſafely, and ſhall be quiet from fear of evil.

CHAP. II.

MY ſon, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee:
2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wiſdom, and apply thine heart to underſtanding:

3 Yea,

Commentary on the Book of Proverbs.

CHAP. I.] 10 My ſon, if ſinners entice thee, conſent thou not.] The inſtructions delivered in this and the following verſes merit the utmoſt attention. They teach us to reſiſt the firſt approaches of temptation, the only ſure method of being conquerors: for, if we liſten to the firſt attack, we are in the greateſt danger of being undone.

20, &c. Wiſdom crieth without, ſhe uttereth her voice in the ſtreets, &c.] By wiſdom, is here meant the eternal wiſdom, the word, the Son of God.

3 Yea, if thou crieſt after knowledge, and lifteſt up thy voice for underſtanding:

4 If thou ſeekeſt her as ſilver, and ſearcheſt for her, as for hid treaſures:

5 Then ſhalt thou underſtand the fear of the Lord; and find the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giveth wiſdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and underſtanding.

7 He layeth up ſound wiſdom for the righteous: he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly.

8 He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preſerveth the way of his ſaints.

9 Then ſhalt thou underſtand righteouſneſs, and judgment, and equity; yea, every good path.

10 When wiſdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleaſant unto thy ſoul;

11 Diſcretion ſhall preſerve thee, underſtanding ſhall keep thee:

12 To deliver thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that ſpeaketh froward things.

13 Who leave the paths of uprightneſs, to walk in the ways of darkneſs:

14 Who rejoice to do evil, and delight in the frowardneſs of the wicked.

15 Whoſe ways are crooked, and they froward in their paths.

16 To deliver thee from the ſtrange woman, even from the ſtranger which flattereth with her words:

17 Which forſaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.

18 For her houſe inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead.

19 None that go unto her, return again, neither take they hold of the paths of life.

20 That thou mayeſt walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous.

21 For the upright ſhall dwell in the land, and the perfect ſhall remain in it.

22 But the wicked ſhall be cut off from the earth, and the tranſgreſſors ſhall be rooted out of it.

CHAP. III.

MY ſon, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments:

2 For length of days, and long life, and peace ſhall they add to thee.

3 Let not mercy and truth forſake thee: bind them about thy neck, write them upon the table of thine heart.

4 So ſhalt thou find favour, and good underſtanding in the ſight of God and man.

5 ¶ Truſt in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own underſtanding.

6 In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he ſhall direct thy paths.

7 Be not wiſe in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from evil.

8 It ſhall be health to thy navel, and marrow to thy bones.

9 Honour the Lord with thy ſubſtance, and with the firſt-fruits of all thine increaſe.

10 So ſhall thy barns be filled with plenty, and the preſſes ſhall burſt out with new wine.

11 ¶ My ſon deſpiſe not the chaſtening of the Lord: neither be weary of his correction.

12 For whom the Lord loveth, he correcteth, even as a father the ſon, in whom he delighteth.

13 ¶ Happy is the man that findeth wiſdom, and the man that getteth underſtanding.

14 For the merchandiſe of it is better than the merchandiſe of ſilver, and the gain thereof than fine gold.

15 She is more precious than rubies: and all the things thou canſt deſire, are not to be compared unto her.

16 Length of days is in her right hand: and in her left hand riches and honour.

17 Her ways are ways of pleaſantneſs, and all her paths are peace.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her; and happy is every one that retaineth her.

19 The Lord by wiſdom hath founded the earth; by underſtanding hath he eſtabliſhed the heavens.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.

21 ¶ My ſon, let not them depart from thine eyes: keep ſound wiſdom and diſcretion.

22 So ſhall they be life unto thy ſoul, and grace to thy neck.

23 Then ſhalt thou walk in thy way ſafely and thy foot ſhall not ſtumble.

24 When thou lieſt down, thou ſhalt not be afraid: yea, thou ſhalt lie down, and thy ſleep ſhall be ſweet.

25 Be not afraid of ſudden fear, neither of the deſolation of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the Lord ſhall be thy confidence, and ſhall keep thy foot from being taken.

27 ¶ With-hold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.

28 Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to-morrow I will give; when thou haſt it by thee.

29 Deviſe not evil againſt thy neighbour, ſeeing he dwelleth ſecurely by thee.

30 ¶ Strive not with a man without cauſe, if he have done thee no harm.

31 ¶ Envy thou not the oppreſſor, and chooſe none of his ways.

32 For the froward is abomination to the Lord: but his ſecret is with the righteous.

33 ¶ The curſe of the Lord is in the houſe of the wicked: but he bleſſeth the habitation of the juſt.

34 ¶ Surely he ſcorneth the ſcorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.

35 The wiſe ſhall inherit glory, but ſhame ſhall be the promotion of fools.

CHAP. IV.

HEAR, ye children, the inſtruction of a father, and attend to know underſtanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forſake ye not my law.

3 For I was my father's ſon, tender and only beloved in the ſight of my mother.

4 He taught me alſo, and ſaid unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live.

5 Get wiſdom, get underſtanding: forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forſake her not, and ſhe ſhall preſerve thee: love her, and ſhe ſhall keep thee.

7 Wiſdom is the principal thing, therefore get wiſdom: and with all thy getting get underſtanding.

8 Exalt her, and ſhe ſhall promote thee: ſhe ſhall bring thee to honour, when thou doſt embrace her.

9 She ſhall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory ſhall ſhe deliver to thee.

10 Hear, O my ſon, and receive my ſayings: and the years of thy life ſhall be many.

11 I have taught thee in the way of wiſdom: I have led thee in right paths.

12 When thou goeſt, thy ſteps ſhall not be ſtraitned, and when thou runneſt, thou ſhalt not ſtumble.

13 Take faſt hold of inſtruction, let her not go; keep her, for ſhe is thy life.

14 ¶ Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.

15 Avoid it, paſs not by it, turn from it, and paſs away.

16 For they ſleep not except they have done miſchief: and their ſleep is taken away unleſs they cauſe ſome to fall.

17 For they eat the bread of wickedneſs, and drink the wine of violence.

18 But the path of the juſt is as the ſhining light, that ſhineth more and more unto the perfect day.

19 The way of the wicked is as darkneſs: they know not at what they ſtumble.

20 ¶ My ſon, attend to my words, incline thine ear unto my ſayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes: keep them in the midſt of thine heart.

22 For they are life unto thoſe that find them, and health to all their fleſh.

23 ¶ Keep thy heart with all diligence: for out of it are the iſſues of life.

24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and perverſe lips put far from thee.

25 Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eye-lids look ſtraight before thee.

26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be eſtabliſhed.

27 Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: remove thy foot from evil.

CHAP.

CHAP. II.] 6 For the Lord giveth wiſdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and underſtanding.] It is in vain to ſearch for wiſdom, unleſs we previouſly ſeek the Lord and his righteouſneſs, in whoſe gift alone it is; but there is no doubt of his beſtowing it upon thoſe who eſteem it above the poſſeſſions of all earthly things.

16 To deliver thee from the ſtrange woman, &c.] True wiſdom will not only deliver thee from the ſnares of wicked men, but alſo from the more dangerous attempts of a lewd woman.

CHAP. III.] 1 My ſon, forget not my law, &c.] Let me again intreat thee, with the affection of a father, not to be careleſs and negligent in the obſervance of theſe inſtructions; but write them upon the table of thine heart.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold to her, &c.] Wiſdom leads us to a paradiſe, and ſupplies the place of that tree of life from which our firſt parents were baniſhed.

CHAP. IV.] 1 Hear, ye children, the inſtruction of a father, &c.] Liſten all ye that are deſirous to learn unto the inſtructions which, out of a parental affection, I bring from God to you.

23 Keep thy heart with all diligence: for out of it are the iſſues of life.] Let this, above all things, be thy peculiar care, to ſet ſo ſtrict a guard upon the inward thoughts, motions, and affections of thy ſoul.

CHAP.

CHAP. V.

MY ſon, attend unto my wiſdom, and bow thine ear to my underſtanding.

2 That thou mayeſt regard diſcretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge.

3 ¶ For the lips of a ſtrange woman drop as an honey-comb, and her mouth is ſmoother than oil.

4 But her end is bitter as wormwood, ſharp as a two-edged ſword.

5 Her feet go down to death: her ſteps take hold on hell.

6 Leſt thou ſhouldſt ponder the path of life, her ways are moveable, that thou canſt not know them.

7 Hear me now, therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her houſe:

9 Leſt thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel.

10 Leſt ſtrangers be filled with thy wealth, and thy labours be in the houſe of a ſtranger.

11 And thou mourn at the laſt, when thy fleſh and thy body are conſumed, 12 And ſay, How have I hated inſtruction, and my heart deſpiſed reproof?

13 And have not obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor inclined mine ear to them that inſtructed me?

14 I was almoſt in all evil, in the midſt of the congregation and aſſembly.

15 ¶ Drink waters out of thine own ciſtern; and running waters out of thine own well.

16 Let thy fountains be diſperſed abroad, and rivers of waters in the ſtreets.

17 Let them be only thine own, and not ſtrangers with thee.

18 Let thy fountain be bleſſed: and rejoice with the wife of thy youth.

19 Let her be as the loving hind, and pleaſant roe, let her breaſts ſatisfy thee at all times, and be thou raviſhed always with her love.

20 And why wilt thou, my ſon, be raviſhed with a ſtrange woman, and embrace the boſom of a ſtranger?

21 For the ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his goings.

22 ¶ His own iniquities ſhall take the wicked himſelf, and he ſhall be holden with the cords of his ſins.

23 He ſhall die without inſtruction, and in the greatneſs of his folly he ſhall go aſtray.

CHAP. VI.

MY ſon, if thou be ſurety for thy friend, if thou haſt ſtricken thy hand with a ſtranger,

2 Thou art ſnared with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.

3 Do this now, my ſon, and deliver thyſelf, when thou art come into the hand of thy friend: go humble thyſelf, and make ſure thy friend.

4 Give not ſleep to thine eyes, nor ſlumber to thine eye-lids.

5 Deliver thyſelf, as a roe, from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 ¶ Go to the ant, thou ſluggard, conſider her ways, and be wiſe:

7 Which having no guide, overſeer, or ruler,

8 Provideth her meat in the ſummer, and gathereth her food in the harveſt.

9 How long wilt thou ſleep, O ſluggard? when wilt thou ariſe out of thy ſleep?

10 Yet a little ſleep, a little ſlumber, a little folding of the hands to ſleep.

11 So ſhall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy want as an armed man.

12 ¶ A naughty perſon, a wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

13 He winketh with his eyes, he ſpeaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his fingers.

14 Frowardneſs is in his heart, he deviſeth miſchief continually, he ſoweth diſcord.

15 Therefore ſhall his calamity come ſuddenly; ſuddenly ſhall he be broken without remedy.

16 ¶ Theſe ſix things doth the Lord hate: yea, ſeven are an abomination unto him:

17 A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that ſhed innocent blood,

18 An heart that deviſeth wicked imaginations, feet that be ſwift in running to miſchief,

19 A falſe witneſs that ſpeaketh lies, and he that ſoweth diſcord among brethren.

20 ¶ My ſon, keep thy father's commandment, and forſake not the law of thy mother.

21 Bind them continually upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck.

22 When thou goeſt, it ſhall lead thee; when thou ſleepeſt, it ſhall keep thee: and when thou awakeſt, it ſhall talk with thee.

23 For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of inſtruction are the way of life:

24 To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a ſtrange woman.

25 Luſt not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take thee with her eye-lids.

26 For by means of a whoriſh woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: and the adultreſs will hunt for the precious life.

27 Can a man take fire in his boſom, and his cloaths not be burnt?

28 Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet nor be burnt?

29 So he that goeth into his neighbour's wife: whoſoever toucheth her ſhall not be innocent.

30 Men do not deſpiſe a thief, if he ſteal to ſatisfy his ſoul, when he is hungry:

31 But if he be found, he ſhall reſtore ſeven-fold, he ſhall give all the ſubſtance of his houſe.

32 But whoſo committeth adultery with a woman, lacketh underſtanding: he that doeth it, deſtroyeth his own ſoul.

33 A wound and diſhonour ſhall he get, and his reproach ſhall not be wiped away.

34 For jealouſy is the rage of a man: therefore he will not ſpare in the day of vengeance.

35 He will not regard any ranſom; neither will he reſt content, though thou giveſt many gifts.

CHAP. VII.

MY ſon, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee.

2 Keep my commandments, and live: and my law as the apple of thine eye.

3 Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart.

4 Say unto wiſdom, Thou art my ſiſter; and call underſtanding thy kinſwoman:

5 That they may keep thee from the ſtrange woman, from the ſtranger which flattereth with her words.

6 ¶ For at the window of my houſe I looked through my caſement.

7 And behold among the ſimple ones, I diſcerned among the youths, a young man void of underſtanding,

8 Paſſing through the ſtreet near her corner, and he went the way to her houſe.

9 In the twilight in the evening, in the black and dark night:

10 And behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and ſubtil of heart.

11 (She is loud and ſtubborn, her feet abide not in her houſe.

12 Now is ſhe without, now in the ſtreets, and lieth in wait at every corner)

13 So ſhe caught him, and kiſſed him, and with an impudent face ſaid unto him,

14 I have peace-offerings with me; this day have I payed my vows.

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to ſeek thy face, and I have found thee.

16 I have deckt my bed with coverings of tapeſtry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt.

17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

18 Come let us take our fill of love until the morning, let us ſolace ourſelves with loves.

19 For the good man is not at home, he is gone a long journey;

20 He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed.

21 With her much fair ſpeech ſhe cauſed him to yield, with the flattering of her lips ſhe forced him.

22 He

CHAP. V.] 3 For the lips of a ſtrange woman drop as an honey-comb, &c.] As youth is remarkably prone to harlots, the wiſe man here adds another caution he had before given againſt this vice: and, with repeated intreaties, begs the attention of the gay and thoughtleſs to ſo weighty an argument, which he here proſecutes more at large, and preſſes with remarkable eloquence, and very powerful reaſons.

21 For the ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his goings.] If the many calamities I have mentioned will not deter thee from thy evil courſes, remember that the eye of Omnipotence beholds all thy actions.

CHAP VI.] 6, 7, 8 Go to the ant, thou ſluggard, conſider her ways, and be wiſe.] Obſerve, thou ſluggard, the provident care of the ant, who, during the ſummer, and the plenty of harveſt, lays up a ſufficient ſtock of proviſions to ſupport her during the nipping blaſts and hoary rains of winter; and ſurely ſo ſtriking an inſtance of labour, induſtry, and conſummate policy, exhibited by one of the inſect race, muſt make thee aſhamed of thy indolence, and animate thee to imitate her provident care.

CHAP. VII.] 4 Say unto wiſdom, thou art my ſiſter, &c.] Embrace the precepts I have given thee with the moſt ardent affection; and place ſo high a value upon wiſdom, as to invite her continually to thee, 'till ſhe be as familiar with thee as an only ſiſter.

22 He goeth after her ſtraightway, as an ox goeth to the ſlaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the ſtocks:
23 Till a dart ſtrike through his liver, as a bird haſteth to the ſnare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.
24 ¶ Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth.
25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not aſtray in her paths.
26 For ſhe hath caſt down many wounded: yea, many ſtrong men have been ſlain by her.
27 Her houſe is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

CHAP. VIII.

DOTH not wiſdom cry? and underſtanding put forth her voice?
2 She ſtandeth in the top of high places, by the way in the places of the paths.
3 She crieth at the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors.
4 Unto you, O men, I call, and my voice is to the ſons of man.
5 O ye ſimple, underſtand wiſdom; and ye fools, be ye of an underſtanding heart.
6 Hear, for I will ſpeak of excellent things; and the opening of my lips ſhall be right things.
7 For my mouth ſhall ſpeak truth, and wickedneſs is an abomination to my lips.
8 All the words of my mouth are in righteouſneſs, there is nothing froward or perverſe in them.
9 They are all plain to him that underſtandeth, and right to them that find knowledge.
10 Receive my inſtruction, and not ſilver; and knowledge rather than choice gold.
11 For wiſdom is better than rubies; and all the things that may be deſired, are not to be compared to it.
12 I wiſdom dwell with prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions.
13 The fear of the Lord is to hate evil; pride and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth do I hate.
14 Counſel is mine, and ſound wiſdom: I am underſtanding, I have ſtrength.
15 By me kings reign, and princes decree juſtice.
16 By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges of the earth.
17 I love them that love me, and thoſe that ſeek me early ſhall find me.
18 Riches and honour are with me; yea, durable riches and righteouſneſs.
19 My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold; and my revenue than choice ſilver.
20 I lead in the way of righteouſneſs, in the midſt of the paths of judgment.
21 That I may cauſe thoſe that love me, to inherit ſubſtance; and I will fill their treaſures.
22 The Lord poſſeſſed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.
23 I was ſet up from everlaſting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was.
24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth: when there were no fountains abounding with water.
25 Before the mountains were ſettled; before the hills was I brought forth:
26 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the higheſt part of the duſt of the world.
27 When he prepared the heavens, I was there: when he ſet a compaſs upon the face of the depth:
28 When he eſtabliſhed the clouds above: when he ſtrengthned the fountains of the deep:
29 When he gave to the ſea his decree, that the waters ſhould not paſs his commandment, when he appointed the foundations of the earth:
30 Then I was by him, as one brought up with him: and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him:
31 Rejoicing in the habitable part of his earth, and my delights were with the ſons of men.
32 Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children: for bleſſed are they that keep my ways.
33 Hear inſtruction, and be wiſe, and refuſe it not.
34 Bleſſed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the poſts of my doors.
35 For whoſo findeth me, findeth life, and ſhall obtain favour of the Lord.
36 But he that ſinneth againſt me, wrongeth his own ſoul; all they that hate me, love death.

CHAP. IX.

WIſdom hath builded her houſe, ſhe hath hewn out her ſeven pillars.
2 She hath killed her beaſts, ſhe hath mingled her wine; ſhe hath alſo furniſhed her table.
3 She hath ſent forth her maidens, ſhe crieth upon the higheſt places of the city.
4 Whoſo is ſimple, let him turn in hither: as for him that wanteth underſtanding, ſhe ſaith to him,
5 Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled.
6 Forſake the fooliſh, and live; and go in the way of underſtanding.
7 He that reproveth a ſcorner, getteth to himſelf ſhame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man, getteth himſelf a blot.
8 Reprove not a ſcorner, leſt he hate thee: rebuke a wiſe man, and he will love thee.
9 Give inſtruction to a wiſe man, and he will be yet wiſer: teach a juſt man, and he will increaſe in learning.
10 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wiſdom: and the knowledge of the holy is underſtanding.
11 For by me thy days ſhall be multiplied, and the years of thy life ſhall be increaſed.
12 If thou be wiſe, thou ſhalt be wiſe for thyſelf: but if thou ſcorneſt, thou alone ſhalt bear it.
13 ¶ A fooliſh woman is clamorous; ſhe is ſimple, and knoweth nothing.
14 For ſhe ſitteth at the door of her houſe, on a ſeat in the high places of the city,
15 To call paſſengers who go right on their ways.
16 Whoſo is ſimple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that wanteth underſtanding, ſhe ſaith to him,
17 Stolen waters are ſweet, and bread eaten in ſecret is pleaſant.
18 But he knoweth not that the dead are there; and that her gueſts are in the depths of hell.

CHAP. X.

THE proverbs of Solomon. A wiſe ſon maketh a glad father; but a fooliſh ſon is the heavineſs of his mother.
2 Treaſures of wickedneſs profit nothing: but righteouſneſs delivereth from death.
3 The Lord will not ſuffer the ſoul of the righteous to famiſh: but he caſteth away the ſubſtance of the wicked.
4 He becometh poor that dealeth with a ſlack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.
5 He that gathereth in ſummer, is a wiſe ſon: but he that ſleepeth in harveſt, is a ſon that cauſeth ſhame.
6 Bleſſings are upon the head of the juſt: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.
7 The memory of the juſt is bleſſed: but the name of the wicked ſhall rot.
8 The wiſe in heart will receive commandments: but a prating fool ſhall fall.
9 He that walketh uprightly, walketh ſurely: but he that perverteth his ways, ſhall be known.
10 He that winketh with the eye cauſeth ſorrow: but a prating fool ſhall fall.
11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.
12 Hatred ſtirreth up ſtrifes, but love covereth all ſins.
13 In the lips of him that hath underſtanding, wiſdom is found: but a rod is for the back of him that is void of underſtanding.
14 Wiſe men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the fooliſh is near deſtruction.
15 The rich man's wealth is his ſtrong city: the deſtruction of the poor is their poverty.
16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life; the fruit of the wicked to ſin.
17 He is in the way of life that keepeth inſtruction: but he that refuſeth reproof, erreth.
18 He

CHAP. VIII.] 1 Doth not wiſdom cry? and underſtanding put forth her voice?] Can any pretend ignorance, or ſay they were never cautioned againſt theſe ſnares? Or, rather, is not there the greateſt reaſon to chide you for your ſtupidity, in hearkening to thoſe ſecret allurements to the deeds of darkneſs, when their conſequences are ſo apparent?

23 I was ſet up from everlaſting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was.] My ſovereignty and dominion is from everlaſting, nor hath it any ſuperior: all antiquity comes infinitely ſhort of mine, who was before even the earth itſelf had any exiſtence, and therefore before all mankind.

30, 31 Then I was by him, as one brought up with him, &c.] Then was I conſtantly with him; was daily his delight, rejoicing in the lovely work of creation. The perſon who here ſpeaks in the character of wiſdom is generally ſuppoſed to be the ſon of God, who was in the boſom of his father before this world had exiſtence.

CHAP. IX.] 6 Forſake the fooliſh, and live; and go in the way of underſtanding.] Be perſuaded to make trial of theſe precepts; forſake the company of wicked men, and abandon all childiſh and ſenſeleſs actions.

CHAP. X.] 19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not ſin: but he that refraineth his lips is wiſe.] Nor are calumny and flattery the only vices of the tongue; many words are rarely innocent: he therefore that is ſparing of ſpeech, and conſiders well what he is going to utter, is truly prudent.

18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a ſlander, is a fool.

19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not ſin: but he that refraineth his lips, is wiſe.

20 The tongue of the juſt is as choice ſilver: the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous feed many: but fools die for want of wiſdom.

22 The bleſſing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no ſorrow with it.

23 It is a ſport to a fool to do miſchief: but a man of underſtanding hath wiſdom.

24 The fear of the wicked, it ſhall come upon him: but the deſire of the righteous ſhall be granted.

25 As the whirlwind paſſeth, ſo is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlaſting foundation.

26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as ſmoak to the eyes, ſo is the ſluggard to them that ſend him.

27 The fear of the Lord prolongeth days: but the years of the wicked ſhall be ſhortned.

28 The hope of the righteous ſhall be gladneſs: but the expectation of the wicked ſhall periſh.

29 The way of the Lord is ſtrength to the upright: but deſtruction ſhall be to the workers of iniquity

30 The righteous ſhall never be removed: but the wicked ſhall not inhabit the earth.

31 The mouth of the juſt bringeth forth wiſdom: but the froward tongue ſhall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable; but the mouth of the wicked ſpeaketh frowardneſs.

CHAP. XI.

A Falſe balance is abomination to the Lord: but a juſt weight is his delight.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh ſhame: but with the lowly is wiſdom.

3 The integrity of the upright ſhall guide them: but the perverſeneſs of tranſgreſſors ſhall deſtroy them.

4 Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but righteouſneſs delivereth from death.

5 The righteouſneſs of the perfect ſhall direct his way: but the wicked ſhall fall by his own wickedneſs.

6 The righteouſneſs of the upright ſhall deliver them: but tranſgreſſors ſhall be taken in their own naughtineſs.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation ſhall periſh: and the hope of unjuſt men periſheth.

8 The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his ſtead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth deſtroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge ſhall the juſt be delivered.

10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth: and when the wicked periſh, there is ſhouting.

11 By the bleſſing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that is void of wiſdom, deſpiſeth his neighbour: but a man of underſtanding holdeth his peace.

13 A tale-bearer revealeth ſecrets: but he that is of a faithful ſpirit concealeth the matter.

14 Where no counſel is, the people fall: but in the multitude of counſellors there is ſafety.

15 He that is ſurety for a ſtranger, ſhall ſmart for it: and he that hateth ſuretiſhip, is ſure.

16 A gracious woman retaineth honour: and ſtrong men retain riches.

17 The merciful man doeth good to his own ſoul: but he that is cruel, troubleth his own fleſh.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitful work: but to him that ſoweth righteouſneſs, ſhall be a ſure reward.

19 As righteouſneſs tendeth to life: ſo he that purſueth evil, purſueth it to his own death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but ſuch as are upright in their way, are his delight.

21 Though hand join in hand, the wicked ſhall not be unpuniſhed: but the ſeed of the righteous ſhall be delivered.

22 As a jewel of gold in a ſwine's ſnout, ſo is a fair woman which is without diſcretion.

23 The deſire of the righteous is only good: but the expectation of the wicked is wrath.

24 There is that ſcattereth, and yet increaſeth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty.

25 The liberal ſoul ſhall be made fat: and he that watereth, ſhall be watered alſo himſelf.

26 He that withholdeth corn, the people ſhall curſe him: but bleſſing ſhall be upon the head of him that ſelleth it.

27 He that diligently ſeeketh good, procureth favour: but he that ſeeketh miſchief, it ſhall come unto him.

28 He that truſteth in his riches ſhall fall: but the righteous ſhall flouriſh as a branch.

29 He that troubleth his own houſe, ſhall inherit the wind: and the fool ſhall be ſervant to the wiſe of heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth ſouls, is wiſe.

31 Behold the righteous ſhall be recompenſed in the earth: much more the wicked and the ſinner.

CHAP. XII.

WHoſo loveth inſtruction, loveth knowledge: but he that hateth reproof, is bruti ſh.

2 A good man obtaineth favour of the Lord: but a man of wicked devices will he condemn.

3 A man ſhall not be eſtabliſhed by wickedneſs: but the root of the righteous ſhall not be moved.

4 A virtuous woman is a crown to her huſband: but ſhe that maketh aſhamed, is as rottenneſs in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counſels of the wicked are deceit.

6 The words of the wicked are to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the upright ſhall deliver them.

7 The wicked are overthrown, and are not: but the houſe of the righteous ſhall ſtand.

8 A man ſhall be commended according to his wiſdom: but he that is of a perverſe heart ſhall be deſpiſed.

9 He that is deſpiſed, and hath a ſervant, is better than he that honoureth himſelf, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beaſt: but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 He that tilleth his land, ſhall be ſatisfied with bread: but he that followeth vain perſons, is void of underſtanding.

12 The wicked deſireth the net of evil men: but the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.

13 The wicked is ſnared by the tranſgreſſion of his lips: but the juſt ſhall come out of trouble.

14 A man ſhall be ſatisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth, and the recompenſe of a man's hands ſhall be rendered unto him.

15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes: but he that hearkeneth unto counſel, is wiſe.

16 A fool's wrath is preſently known: but a prudent man covereth ſhame.

17 He that ſpeaketh truth, ſheweth forth righteouſneſs; but a falſe witneſs, deceit.

18 There is that ſpeaketh like the piercings of a ſword: but the tongue of the wiſe is health.

19 The lip of truth ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

20 Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil: but to the counſellers of peace is joy.

21 There ſhall no evil happen to the juſt: but the wicked ſhall be filled with miſchief.

22 Lying lips are abomination to the Lord: but they that deal truly are his delight.

23 A prudent man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of fools proclaimeth fooliſhneſs.

24 The hand of the diligent ſhall bear rule: but the ſlothful ſhall be under tribute.

25 Heavineſs in the heart of man maketh it ſtoop: but a good word maketh it glad.

26 The righteous is more excellent than his neighbour: but the way of the wicked ſeduceth them.

27 The ſlothful man roaſteth not that which he took in hunting: but the ſubſtance of a diligent man is precious.

28 In the way of righteouſneſs is life, and in the path-way thereof there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wiſe ſon heareth his father's inſtruction: but a ſcorner heareth not rebuke.

2 A man ſhall eat good by the fruit of his mouth: but the ſoul of the tranſgreſſors ſhall eat violence.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips, ſhall have deſtruction.

4 The

CHAP. XI.] 1 A falſe balance is an abomination to the Lord, &c.] The Lord deteſteth thoſe who endeavour to defraud their neighbour of his juſt weight; whilſt thoſe, who are honeſt in their dealings, are his favourites.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth ſouls, is wiſe.] The benefit ſociety receives from a juſt and charitable man may be compared to the fruit of the tree of life, which keeps the ſon of man from miſery.

CHAP. XII.] 1 Whoſo loveth inſtruction, loveth knowledge, &c.] It is a certain indication of a wiſe and good man, to liſten with attention and patience to thoſe who tell him of his faults, and who is thankful for reproof, 28 In the way of righteouſneſs is life, and in the path-way thereof is no death.] True goodneſs leads unto endleſs proſperity and happineſs; nor is there any one action of virtue that tends to make a man miſerable.

CHAP. XIII.] 1 A wiſe ſon heareth his father's inſtruction; but a ſcorner heareth not rebuke.] A good child will kindly receive and obey both the inſtruction and the reprehenſion of his father: but there is not the leaſt hope of him that laughs at admonition, and is ſul en when corrected.

4 The ſoul of the ſluggard deſireth, and hath nothing: but the ſoul of the diligent ſhall be made fat.

5 A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is loathſome, and cometh to ſhame.

6 Righteouſneſs keepeth him that is upright in the way: but wickedneſs overthroweth the ſinner.

7 There is that maketh himſelf rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himſelf poor, yet hath great riches.

8 The ranſom of a man's life are his riches: but the poor heareth not rebuke.

9 The light of the righteous rejoiceth: but the lamp of the wicked ſhall be put out

10 Only by pride cometh contention: but with the well-adviſed is wiſdom.

11 Wealth gotten by vanity ſhall be diminiſhed: but he that gathereth by labour, ſhall encreaſe.

12 Hope deferred maketh the heart ſick: but when the deſire cometh, it is a tree of life.

13 Whoſo deſpiſeth the word, ſhall be deſtroyed: but he that feareth the commandment, ſhall be rewarded.

14 The law of the wiſe is a fountain of life, to depart from the ſnares of death.

15 Good underſtanding giveth favour: but the way of tranſgreſſors is hard.

16 Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge: but a fool layeth open his folly.

17 A wicked meſſenger falleth into miſchief: but a faithful ambaſſador is health.

18 Poverty and ſhame ſhall be to him that refuſeth inſtruction: but he that regardeth reproof, ſhall be honoured.

19 The deſire accompliſhed is ſweet to the ſoul: but it is abomination to fools to depart from evil.

20 He that walketh with wiſe men, ſhall be wiſe: but a companion of fools ſhall be deſtroyed.

21 Evil purſueth ſinners: but to the righteous good ſhall be repayed.

22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children: and the wealth of the ſinner is laid up for the juſt.

23 Much food is in the tillage of the poor: but there is that is deſtroyed for want of judgment.

24 He that ſpareth his rod, hateth his ſon: but he that loveth him chaſteneth him betimes.

25 The righteous eateth to the ſatisfying of his ſoul: but the belly of the wicked ſhall want.

CHAP. XIV.

EVERY wiſe woman buildeth her houſe: but the fooliſh plucketh it down with her hands.

2 He that walketh in his uprightneſs, feareth the Lord: but he that is perverſe in his ways, deſpiſeth him.

3 In the mouth of the fooliſh is a rod of pride: but the lips of the wiſe ſhall preſerve them.

4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increaſe is by the ſtrength of the ox.

5 A faithful witneſs will not lie: but a falſe witneſs will utter lies.

6 A ſcorner ſeeketh wiſdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is eaſy unto him that underſtandeth.

7 Go from the preſence of a fooliſh man, when thou perceiveſt not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wiſdom of the prudent is to underſtand his way: but the folly of fools is deceit.

9 Fools make a mock at ſin: but among the righteous there is favour.

10 The heart knoweth his own bitterneſs; and a ſtranger doth not intermeddle with his joy.

11 The houſe of the wicked ſhall be overthrown: but the tabernacle of the upright ſhall flouriſh.

12 There is a way which ſeemeth right unto a man; but the end thereof are the ways of death.

13 Even in laughter the heart is ſorrowful; and the end of that mirth is heavineſs.

14 The backſlider in heart ſhall be filled with his own ways: and a good man ſhall be ſatisfied from himſelf.

15 The ſimple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going.

16 A wiſe man feareth and departeth from evil: but the fool rageth and is confident.

17 He that is ſoon angry dealeth fooliſhly: and a man of wicked devices is hated.

18 The ſimple inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The evil bow before the good: and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

20 The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: but the rich hath many friends.

21 He that deſpiſeth his neighbour ſinneth: but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he.

22 Do they not err that deviſe evil? but mercy and truth ſhall be to them that deviſe good.

23 In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.

24 The crown of the wiſe is their riches: but the fooliſhneſs of fools is folly.

25 A true witneſs delivereth ſouls, but a deceitful witneſs ſpeaketh lies.

26 In the fear of the Lord is ſtrong confidence: and his children ſhall have a place of refuge.

27 The fear of the Lord is a fountain of life, to depart from the ſnares of death.

28 In the multitude of people is the king's honour: but in the want of people is the deſtruction of the prince.

29 He that is ſlow to wrath is of great underſtanding; t he that is haſty of ſpirit exalteth folly.

30 A ſound heart is the life of the fleſh: but envy the rottenneſs of the bones.

31 He that oppreſſeth the poor, reproacheth his maker: but he that honoureth him, hath mercy on the poor.

32 The wicked is driven away in his wickedneſs: but the righteous hath hope in death.

33 Wiſdom reſteth in the heart of him that hath underſtanding: but that which is in the midſt of fools is made known.

34 Righteouſneſs exalteth a nation: but ſin is a reproach to any people.

35 The king's favour is toward a wiſe ſervant: but his wrath is againſt him that cauſeth ſhame.

CHAP. XV.

A Soft anſwer turneth away wrath: but grievous words ſtir up anger.

2 The tongue of the wiſe uſeth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools poureth out fooliſhneſs.

3 The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.

4 A wholeſome tongue is a tree of life: but perverſeneſs therein is a breach in the ſpirit.

5 A fool deſpiſeth his father's inſtruction: but he that regardeth reproof is prudent.

6 In the houſe of the righteous is much treaſure: but in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.

7 The lips of the wiſe diſperſe knowledge: but the heart of the fooliſh doth not ſo.

8 The ſacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the upright is his delight.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the Lord: but he loveth him that followeth after righteouſneſs.

10 Correction is grievous unto him that forſaketh the way: and he that hateth reproof ſhall die.

11 Hell and deſtruction are before the Lord: how much more than the hearts of the children of men?

12 A ſcorner loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wiſe.

13 A merry heart maketh a chearful countenance: but by ſorrow of the heart the ſpirit is broken.

14 The heart of him that hath underſtanding, ſeeketh knowledge: but the mouth of fools feedeth on fooliſhneſs.

15 All the days of the afflicted are evil: but he that is of a merry heart, hath a continual feaſt.

16 Better is little with the fear of the Lord, than great treaſure, and trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner of herbs, where love is, than a ſtalled ox, and hatred therewith.

18 A wrathful man ſtirreth up ſtrife: but he that is ſlow to anger, appeaſeth ſtrife.

19 The way of the ſlothful man is as an hedge of thorns: but the way of the righteous is made plain.

20 A wiſe ſon maketh a glad father: but a fooliſh man deſpiſeth his mother.

21 Folly is joy to him that is deſtitute of wiſdom: but a man of underſtanding walketh uprightly.

22 With-

20 He that walketh with wiſe men, ſhall be wiſe: but a companion of fools ſhall be deſtroyed.] He that keeps company with wiſe and good men is likely to be himſelf wiſe and good: but he who aſſociates with the wicked will unavoidably be infected with their wickedneſs.

CHAP. XIV.] 1 Every wiſe woman buildeth her houſe.] He hath a valuable treaſure who hath a wiſe and virtuous wife; for ſhe alone, by her diligent and prudent adminiſtration, is capable of raiſing the riches of her family, and increaſing its reputation.

23 In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.] Solomon here diſtinguiſhes between the labour of the tongue, and the labour of the hands; conſidering want as the reward of one, and wealth as that of the other. For it is commonly found, that thoſe who talk liberally, boaſt highly, and promiſe mighty things, are beggars, and receive no benefit from their idle talk.

CHAP. XV.] 11 Hell and deſtruction are before the Lord: how much more than the children of men?] The Lord is perfectly acquainted with the moſt ſecret tranſactions; neither the chambers of the grave, nor the depths of hell can conceal any thing from him: how then can the thoughts of the human heart eſcape his notice, or the ſinner hope to form his wicked ſchemes in ſecret?

CHAP.

22 Without counſel, purpoſes are diſappointed: but in the multitude of counſellors they are eſtabliſhed.

23 A man hath joy by the anſwer of his mouth: and a word ſpoken in due ſeaſon, how good is it?

24 The way of life is above to the wiſe, that he may depart from hell beneath.

25 The Lord will deſtroy the houſe of the proud: but he will eſtabliſh the border of the widow.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the Lord: but the words of the pure are pleaſant words.

27 He that is greedy of gain, troubleth his own houſe: but he that hateth gifts ſhall live.

28 The heart of the righteous ſtudieth to anſwer: but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.

29 The Lord is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart: and a good report maketh the bones fat.

31 The ear that heareth the reproof of life, abideth among the wiſe.

32 He that refuſeth inſtruction, deſpiſeth his own ſoul: but he that heareth reproof, getteth underſtanding.

33 The fear of the Lord is the inſtruction of wiſdom; and before honour is humility.

CHAP. XVI.

THE preparations of the heart in man, and the anſwer of the tongue is from the Lord.

2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes: but the Lord weigheth the ſpirits.

3 Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts ſhall be eſtabliſhed.

4 The Lord hath made all things for himſelf: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.

5 Every one that is proud in heart, is an abomination to the Lord: though hand join in hand, he ſhall not be unpuniſhed.

6 By mercy and truth iniquity is purged; and by the fear of the Lord, men depart from evil.

7 When a man's ways pleaſe the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.

8 Better is a little with righteouſneſs, than great revenues without right.

9 A man's heart deviſeth his way: but the Lord directeth his ſteps.

10 A divine ſentence is in the lips of the king: his mouth tranſgreſſeth not in judgment.

11 A juſt weight and balance are the Lord's: all the weights of the bag are his work.

12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedneſs: for the throne is eſtabliſhed by righteouſneſs.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings: and they love him that ſpeaketh right.

14 The wrath of a king is as meſſengers of death, but a wiſe man will pacify it.

15 In the light of the king's countenance is life, and his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.

16 How much better is it to get wiſdom than gold? and to get underſtanding, rather to be choſen than ſilver?

17 The high-way of the upright is to depart from evil: he that keepeth his way preſerveth his ſoul.

18 Pride goeth before deſtruction: and an haughty ſpirit before a fall.

19 Better it is to be of an humble ſpirit with the lowly, than to divide the ſpoil with the proud.

20 He that handleth a matter wiſely, ſhall find good: and whoſo truſteth in the Lord, happy is he.

21 The wiſe in heart ſhall be called prudent, and the ſweetneſs of the lips increaſeth learning.

22 Underſtanding is a well-ſpring of life unto him that hath it: but the inſtruction of fools is folly.

23 The heart of the wiſe teacheth his mouth, and addeth learning to his lips.

24 Pleaſant words are as an honey-comb, ſweet to the ſoul, and health to the bones.

25 There is a way that ſeemeth right unto a man: but the end thereof are the ways of death.

26 He that laboureth, laboureth for himſelf; for his mouth craveth it of him.

27 An ungodly man diggeth up evil: and in his lips there is as a burning fire.

28 A froward man ſoweth ſtrife, and a whiſperer ſeparateth chief friends.

29 A violent man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

30 He ſhutteth his eyes to deviſe froward things: moving his lips he bringeth evil to paſs.

31 The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteouſneſs.

32 He that is ſlow to anger, is better than the mighty: and he that ruleth his ſpirit, than he that taketh a city.

33 The lot is caſt into the lap: but the whole diſpoſing thereof is of the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

BETTER is a dry morſel, and quietneſs therewith, than a houſe full of ſacrifices with ſtrife.

2 A wiſe ſervant ſhall have rule over a ſon that cauſeth ſhame: and ſhall have part of the inheritance among the brethren.

3 The fining-pot is for ſilver, and the furnace for gold; but the Lord trieth the hearts.

4 A wicked doer giveth heed to falſe lips: and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue.

5 Whoſo mocketh the poor, reproacheth his maker: and he that is glad at calamities, ſhall not be unpuniſhed.

6 Children's children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers.

7 Excellent ſpeech becometh not a fool; much leſs do lying lips a prince.

8 A gift is as a precious ſtone in the eyes of him that hath it: whitherſoever it turneth, it proſpereth.

9 He that covereth a tranſgreſſion, ſeeketh love; but he that repeateth a matter, ſeparateth very friends.

10 A reproof entereth more into a wiſe man, than an hundred ſtripes into a fool.

11 An evil man ſeeketh only rebellion: therefore a cruel meſſenger ſhall be ſent againſt him.

12 Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly.

13 Whoſo rewardeth evil for good, evil ſhall not depart from his houſe.

14 The beginning of ſtrife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention, before it be meddled with.

15 He that juſtifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the juſt, even they both are abomination to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool, to get wiſdom, ſeeing he hath no heart to it?

17 A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adverſity.

18 A man void of underſtanding ſtriketh hands, and becometh ſurety in the preſence of his friend.

19 He loveth tranſgreſſion, that loveth ſtrife: and he that exalteth his gate, ſeeketh deſtruction.

20 He that hath a froward heart, findeth no good: and he that hath a perverſe tongue, falleth into miſchief.

21 He that begetteth a fool, doth it to his ſorrow: and the father of a fool hath no joy.

22 A merry heart doth good like a medicine: but a broken ſpirit drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the boſom, to pervert the ways of judgment.

24 Wiſdom is before him that hath underſtanding; but the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.

25 A fooliſh ſon is a grief to his father, and bitterneſs to her that bare him.

26 Alſo to puniſh the juſt is not good, nor to ſtrike princes for equity.

27 He that hath knowledge ſpareth his words: and a man of underſtanding is of an excellent ſpirit.

28 Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wiſe: and he that ſhutteth his lips, is eſteemed a man of underſtanding.

CHAP. XVIII.

THROUGH deſire a man having ſeparated himſelf, ſeeketh and intermeddleth with all wiſdom.

2 A fool hath no delight in underſtanding, but that his heart may diſcover itſelf.

3 When the wicked cometh, then cometh alſo contempt, and with ignominy reproach.

4 The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters, and the well-ſpring of wiſdom as a flowing brook.

5 It is not good to accept the perſon of the wicked, to overthrow the righteous in judgment.

6 A fool's lips enter into contention, and his mouth calleth for ſtrokes.

7 A fool's

CHAP. XVI.] 33 The lot is caſt into the lap: but the whole diſpoſing thereof is of the Lord.] Acknowledge the divine providence in all things, even in thoſe which ſeem moſt caſual: for though men caſt the lot, it is the Lord who directs in what order they ſhall be drawn, and thence determines the doubtful matter according to his own pleaſure.

CHAP. XVII.] 9 He that covereth a tranſgreſſion, ſeeketh love; but he that repeateth a matter ſeparateth very friends.] He that paſſes by and buries in oblivion a fault which hath been committed againſt him, takes the beſt courſe to preſerve friendſhip, and to render himſelf univerſally beloved: but he who publiſhes a fault when it was forgotten, breaks the ſtricteſt bands of amity, and makes an irreconcilable ſeparation.

17 A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adverſity.] Time is the true touch-ſtone of a friend: for, if his profeſſions are ſincere, no change of condition will alter his ſentiments; but, in adverſity as well as proſperity, he will continue ſtedfaſt.

7 A fool's mouth is his deſtruction, and his lips are the ſnare of his ſoul.

8 The words of a tale-bearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermoſt parts of the belly.

9 He alſo that his ſlothful in his work, is brother to him that is a great waſter.

10 The name of the Lord is a ſtrong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is ſafe.

11 The rich man's wealth is his ſtrong city, and as an high wall in his own conceit.

12 Before deſtruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humility.

13 He that anſwereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and ſhame unto him.

14 The ſpirit of a man will ſuſtain his infirmity; but a wounded ſpirit who can bear?

15 The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge; and the ear of the wiſe ſeeketh knowledge.

16 A man's gift maketh room for him, and bringeth him before great men.

17 He that is firſt in his own cauſe ſeemeth juſt; but his neighbour cometh, and ſearcheth him.

18 The lot cauſeth contentions to ceaſe, and parteth between the mighty.

19 A brother offended is harder to be won than a ſtrong city: and their contentions are like the bars of a caſtle.

20 A man's belly ſhall be ſatisfied with the fruit of his mouth; and with the increaſe of his lips ſhall he be filled.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue; and they that love it, ſhall eat the fruit thereof.

22 Whoſo findeth a wife, findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favour of the Lord.

23 The poor uſeth intreaties; but the rich anſwereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends, muſt ſhew himſelf friendly: and there is a friend that ſticketh cloſer than a brother.

CHAP. XIX.

BETTER is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverſe in his lips, and is a fool.

2 Alſo, that the ſoul be without knowledge, it is not good; and he that haſteth with his feet, ſinneth.

3 The fooliſhneſs of man perverteth his way; and his heart fretteth againſt the Lord.

4 Wealth maketh many friends; but the poor is ſeparated from his neighbour.

5 A falſe witneſs ſhall not be unpuniſhed, and he that ſpeaketh lies ſhall not eſcape.

6 Many will intreat the favour of the prince; and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poor do hate him: how much more do his friends go far from him; he purſueth them with words, yet they are wanting to him.

8 He that getteth wiſdom, loveth his own ſoul: he that keepeth underſtanding ſhall find good.

9 A falſe witneſs ſhall not be unpuniſhed, and he that ſpeaketh lies ſhall periſh.

10 Delight is not ſeemly for a fool: much leſs for a ſervant to have rule over princes.

11 The diſcretion of a man deferreth his anger, and it is his glory to paſs over a tranſgreſſion.

12 The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion; but his favour is as dew upon the graſs.

13 A fooliſh ſon is the calamity of his father; and the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

14 Houſe and riches are the inheritance of fathers; and a prudent wife is from the Lord.

15 Slothfulneſs caſteth into a deep ſleep; and an idle ſoul ſhall ſuffer hunger.

16 He that keepeth the commandment, keepeth his own ſoul; but he that deſpiſeth his ways, ſhall die.

17 He that hath pity upon the poor, lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given, will he pay him again.

18 Chaſten thy ſon while there is hope, and let not thy ſoul ſpare for his crying.

19 A man of great wrath ſhall ſuffer puniſhment: for if thou deliver him, yet thou muſt do it again.

20 Hear counſel, and receive inſtruction, that thou mayeſt be wiſe in the latter end.

21 There are many devices in a man's heart; nevertheleſs, the counſel of the Lord, that ſhall ſtand.

22 The deſire of a man is his kindneſs: and a poor man is better than a liar.

23 The fear of the Lord tendeth to life, and he that hath it ſhall abide ſatisfied: he ſhall not be viſited with evil.

24 A ſlothful man hideth his hand in his boſom, and will not ſo much as bring it to his mouth again.

25 Smite a ſcorner, and the ſimple will beware; and reprove one that hath underſtanding, and he will underſtand knowledge.

26 He that waſteth his father, and chaſeth away his mother, is a ſon that cauſeth ſhame, and bringeth reproach.

27 Ceaſe, my ſon, to hear the inſtruction that cauſeth to err from the words of knowledge.

28 An ungodly witneſs ſcorneth judgment: and the mouth of the wicked devoureth iniquity.

29 Judgments are prepared for ſcorners, and ſtripes for the back of fools.

CHAP. XX.

WINE is a mocker, ſtrong drink is raging: and whoſoever is deceived thereby is not wiſe.

2 The fear of a king is as the roaring of a lion: whoſo provoketh him to anger, ſinneth againſt his own ſoul.

3 It is an honour for a man to ceaſe from ſtrife: but every fool will be meddling.

4 The ſluggard will not plow by reaſon of the cold; therefore ſhall he beg in harveſt, and have nothing.

5 Counſel in the heart of man is like deep water; but a man of underſtanding will draw it out.

6 Moſt men will proclaim every one his own goodneſs; but a faithful man who can find?

7 The juſt man walketh in his integrity: his children are bleſſed after him.

8 A king that ſitteth in the throne of judgment, ſcattereth away all evil with his eyes.

9 Who can ſay, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my ſin?

10 Divers weights and divers meaſures, both of them are alike abomination to the Lord.

11 Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.

12 The hearing ear, and the ſeeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them.

13 Love not ſleep, leſt thou come to poverty; open thine eyes, and thou ſhalt be ſatisfied with bread.

14 It is nought, it is nought, ſaith the buyer: but when he is gone his way, then he boaſteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of rubies: but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

16 Take his garment that is ſurety for a ſtranger: and take a pledge of him for a ſtrange woman.

17 Bread of deceit is ſweet to a man: but afterwards his mouth ſhall be filled with gravel.

18 Every purpoſe is eſtabliſhed by counſel: and with good advice make war.

19 He that goeth about as a tale-bearer, revealeth ſecrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips.

20 Whoſo curſeth his father or his mother, his lamp ſhall be put out in obſcure darkneſs.

21 An inheritance may be gotten haſtily at the beginning: but the end thereof ſhall not be bleſſed.

22 Say not thou, I will recompenſe evil: but wait on the Lord, and he ſhall ſave thee.

23 Divers weights are an abomination unto the Lord: and a falſe balance is not good.

24 Man's goings are of the Lord, how can a man then underſtand his own way?

25 It is a ſnare to the man who devoureth that which is holy: and after vows to make enquiry.

26 A wiſe king ſcattereth the wicked, and bringeth the wheel over them.

27 The ſpirit of man is the candle of the Lord, ſearching all the inward parts of the belly.

28 Mercy and truth preſerve the king: and his throne is upholden by mercy.

29 The glory of young men is their ſtrength: and the beauty of old men is the gray head.

30 The bluneſs of a wound cleanſeth away evil; ſo do ſtripes the inward parts of the belly.

CHAP. XXI.

THE king's heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whitherſoever he will.

2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

CHAP. XVIII.] 19 A brother offended is harder to be won than a ſtrong city, &c.] No contentions are ſo ſharp and obſtinate as thoſe between brethren, who grow ſo inveterate when they have tranſgreſſed againſt each other, that it is eaſier to take a ſtrong city, or break the bars of a caſtle, than compoſe their differences.

CHAP. XIX.] 10 Delight is not ſeemly for a fool, &c.] Pleaſure doth not become a man void of underſtanding, who is never more ridiculous than when he is without reſtraint.

17 He that hath pity upon the poor, lendeth unto the Lord, &c.] He that compaſſionates and relieves the neceſſities of the poor, inſtead of impoveriſhing, enricheth himſelf; for the Lord conſiders what is given to the poor as lent unto him, and he will not fail to make him a full compenſation.

CHAP. XX.] 27 The ſpirit of man is the candle of the Lord, ſearching all the inward parts of the belly.] The active ſpirit which the Almighty has breathed into man, is like a torch lighted at the divine underſtanding, to guide and direct him in all his actions.

CHAP.

3 To do juſtice and judgment is more acceptable to the Lord than ſacrifice.

4 An high look, and a proud heart, and the plowing of the wicked is ſin.

5 The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteouſneſs; but of every one that is haſty, only to want.

6 The getting of treaſures by a lying tongue is a vanity toſſed to and fro of them that ſeek death.

7 The robbery of the wicked ſhall deſtroy them; becauſe they refuſe to do judgment.

8 The way of man is froward and ſtrange: but as for the pure, his work is right.

9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the houſe-top, than with a brawling woman in a wide houſe.

10 The ſoul of the wicked deſireth evil: his neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes.

11 When the ſcorner is puniſhed, the ſimple is made wiſe: and when the wiſe is inſtructed, he receiveth knowledge.

12 The righteous man wiſely conſidereth the houſe of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked for their wickedneſs.

13 Whoſo ſtoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he alſo ſhall cry himſelf, and ſhall not be heard.

14 A gift in ſecret pacifieth anger: and a reward in the boſom, ſtrong wrath.

15 It is joy to the juſt to do judgment: but deſtruction ſhall be to the workers of iniquity.

16 The man that wandereth out of the way of underſtanding, ſhall remain in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loveth pleaſure ſhall be a poor man: he that loveth wine and oil ſhall not be rich.

18 The wicked ſhall be a ranſom for the righteous; and the tranſgreſſor for the upright.

19 It is better to dwell in the wilderneſs, than with a contentious and an angry woman.

20 There is treaſure to be deſired, and oil in the dwelling of the wiſe: but a fooliſh man ſpendeth it up.

21 He that followeth after righteouſneſs and mercy, findeth life, righteouſneſs, and honour.

22 A wiſe man ſcaleth the city of the mighty, and caſteth down the ſtrength of the confidence thereof.

23 Whoſo keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his ſoul from troubles.

24 Proud and haughty ſcorner is his name, who dealeth in proud wrath.

25 The deſire of the ſlothful killeth him: for his hands refuſe to labour.

26 He coveteth greedily all the day long: but the righteous giveth, and ſpareth not.

27 The ſacrifice of the wicked is abomination: how much more, when he bringeth it with a wicked mind?

28 A falſe witneſs ſhall periſh: but the man that heareth, ſpeaketh conſtantly.

29 A wicked man hardneth his face: but as for the upright, he directeth his way.

30 There is no wiſdom nor underſtanding, nor counſel againſt the Lord.

31 The horſe is prepared againſt the day of battle: but ſafety is of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

A Good name is rather to be choſen than great riches, and loving favour rather than ſilver and gold.

2 The rich and poor meet together: the Lord is the maker of them all.

3 A prudent man foreſeeth the evil, and hideth himſelf: but the ſimple paſs on, and are puniſhed.

4 By humility and the fear of the Lord, are riches, and honour, and life.

5 Thorns and ſnares are in the way of the froward: he that doth keep his ſoul ſhall be far from them.

6 Train up a child in the way he ſhould go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

7 The rich ruleth over the poor, and the borrower is ſervant to the lender.

8 He that ſoweth iniquity, ſhall reap vanity: and the rod of his anger ſhall fail.

9 He that hath a bountiful eye ſhall be bleſſed: for he giveth of his bread to the poor.

10 Caſt out the ſcorner, and contention ſhall go out; yea, ſtrife and reproach ſhall ceaſe.

11 He that loveth pureneſs of heart, for the grace of his lips, the king ſhall be his friend.

12 The eyes of the Lord preſerve knowledge, and he overthroweth the words of the tranſgreſſor.

13 The ſlothful man ſaith, There is a lion without, I ſhall be ſlain in the ſtreets.

14 The mouth of ſtrange women is a deep pit: he that is abhorred of the Lord ſhall fall therein.

15 Fooliſhneſs is bound in the heart of a child, but the rod of correction ſhall drive it far from him.

16 He that oppreſſeth the poor to increaſe his riches, and he that giveth to the rich ſhall ſurely come to want.

17 Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wiſe, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it is a pleaſant thing, if thou keep them within thee; they ſhall withal be fitted in thy lips.

19 That thy truſt may be in the Lord, I have made known to thee this day, even to thee.

20 Have not I written to thee excellent things in counſels and knowledge?

21 That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mighteſt anſwer the words of truth to them that ſend unto thee?

22 Rob not the poor becauſe he is poor: neither oppreſs the afflicted in the gate.

23 For the Lord will plead their cauſe, and ſpoil the ſoul of thoſe that ſpoiled them.

24 Make no friendſhip with an angry man: and with a furious man thou ſhalt not go:

25 Leſt thou learn his ways, and get a ſnare to thy ſoul.

26 Be not thou one of them that ſtrike hands, or of them that are ſureties for debts.

27 If thou haſt nothing to pay, why ſhould he take away thy bed from under thee?

28 Remove not the antient land-mark, which thy fathers have ſet.

29 Seeſt thou a man diligent in his buſineſs? he ſhall ſtand before kings, he ſhall not ſtand before mean men.

CHAP. XXIII.

WHEN thou ſitteſt to eat with a ruler, conſider diligently what is before thee.

2 And put a knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite.

3 Be not deſirous of his dainties; for they are deceitful meat.

4 Labour not to be rich: ceaſe from thine own wiſdom.

5 Wilt thou ſet thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themſelves wings, they fly away as an eagle towards heaven.

6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, neither deſire thou his dainty meats.

7 For as he thinketh in his heart, ſo is he: Eat and drink, ſaith he to thee, but his heart is not with thee.

8 The morſel which thou haſt eaten, ſhalt thou vomit up, and loſe thy ſweet words.

9 Speak not in the ears of a fool; for he will deſpiſe the wiſdom of thy words.

10 Remove not the old land-mark; and enter not into the fields of the fatherleſs.

11 For their redeemer is mighty; he ſhall plead their cauſe with thee.

12 Apply thine heart unto inſtruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge.

13 Withhold not correction from the child: for if thou beateſt him with the rod, he ſhall not die.

14 Thou ſhalt beat him with the rod, and ſhalt deliver his ſoul from hell.

15 My ſon, if thine heart be wiſe, my heart ſhall rejoice, even mine.

16 Yea, my reins ſhall rejoice, when thy lips ſpeak right things.

17 Let not thine heart envy ſinners: but be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long.

18 For ſurely there is an end, and thine expectation ſhall not be cut off.

19 Hear thou, my ſon, and be wiſe, and guide thine heart in the way.

20 Be not among wine-bibbers; amongſt riotous eaters of fleſh.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton ſhall come to poverty: and drowſineſs ſhall cloath a man with rags.

22 Hearken

Chap XXI.] 4 An high look, and a proud heart, and the plowing of the wicked is ſin.] The pride, the inſolence, the ambition; nay even the vaſt deſigns of wicked, togther with all their ſucceſs, plunge them ſtill deeper into ſin, and afterwards into miſeries, both here and hereafter.

30 There is no wiſdom, nor underſtanding, nor counſel againſt the Lord.] It is the higheſt pitch of folly to attempt any thing that the Almighty diſapproves; for, whatever ſkill, ſagacity, ſtudy, and experience, are uſed in the execution, they are of no conſequence when oppoſed to the counſels and decrees of heaven.

Chap. XXII.] 6 Train up a child in the way he ſhould go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it.] Be early in giving proper inſtructions to a child, and ſeaſon his mind with the precepts of virtue before he hath received any other impreſſions: for then, in all probability, he will never forſake the path of goodneſs, but continue to walk in it to the laſt moments of his life.

Chap. XXIII.] Labour not to be rich: ceaſe from thine own wiſdom.] Do not weary thyſelf with laborious toil to amaſs a large eſtate; let not thy breaſt be filled with anxious cares about ſuch tranſitory enjoyments: nor depend on thy own prudent management for the ſucceſs of thy honeſt endeavours, but on the bleſſing of the Almighty.

22 Hearken unto thy father that begat thee, and deſpiſe not thy mother when ſhe is old.

23 Buy the truth, and ſell it not; alſo wiſdom, and inſtruction, and underſtanding.

24 The father of the righteous ſhall greatly rejoice: and he that begetteth a wiſe child, ſhall have joy of him.

25 Thy father and thy mother ſhall be glad, and ſhe that bare thee ſhall rejoice.

26 My ſon, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes obſerve my ways.

27 For an whore is a deep ditch; and a ſtrange woman is a narrow pit.

28 She alſo lieth in wait as for a prey, and increaſeth the tranſgreſſors among men.

29 Who hath woe? who hath ſorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cauſe? who hath redneſs of eyes?

30 They that tarry long at the wine, they that go to ſeek mixt wine.

31 Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itſelf aright.

32 At the laſt it biteth liketh a ſerpent, and ſtingeth like an adder.

33 Thine eyes ſhall behold ſtrange women, and thine heart ſhall utter perverſe things.

34 Yea, thou ſhalt be as he that lieth down in the midſt of the ſea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a maſt.

34 They have ſtricken me, ſhalt thou ſay, and I was not ſick; they have beaten me, and I felt it not: when ſhall I awake; I will ſeek it yet again.

CHAP. XXIV.

BE not thou envious againſt evil men, neither deſire to be with them.

2 For their heart ſtudieth deſtruction, and their lips talk of miſchief.

3 Through wiſdom is an houſe builded, and by underſtanding it is eſtabliſhed:

4 And by knowledge ſhall the chambers be filled with all precious and pleaſant riches.

5 A wiſe man is ſtrong, yea, a man of knowledge increaſeth ſtrength.

6 For by wiſe counſel thou ſhalt make thy war: and in multitude of counſellors there is ſafety.

7 Wiſdom is too high for a fool: he openeth not his mouth in the gate.

8 He that deviſeth to do evil, ſhall be called a miſchievous perſon.

9 The thought of fooliſhneſs is ſin: and the ſcorner is an abomination to men.

10 If thou faint in the day of adverſity, thy ſtrength is ſmall.

11 If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and thoſe that are ready to be ſlain:

12 If thou ſayeſt, Behold, we knew it not: doth not he that pondereth the heart conſider it? and he that keepeth thy ſoul, doth not he know it? and ſhall not he render to every man according to his works?

13 My ſon, eat thou honey, becauſe it is good; and the honeycomb, which is ſweet to thy taſte:

14 So ſhall the knowledge of wiſdom be unto thy ſoul; when thou haſt found it, then there ſhall be a reward, and thy expectation ſhall not be cut off.

15 Lay not wait, O wicked man, againſt the dwelling of the righteous: ſpoil not his reſting-place.

16 For a juſt man falleth ſeven times, and riſeth up again: but the wicked ſhall fall into miſchief.

17 Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he ſtumbleth:

18 Leſt the Lord ſee it, and it diſpleaſe him, and he turn away his wrath from him.

19 Fret not thyſelf becauſe of evil men, neither be thou envious at the wicked.

20 For there ſhall be no reward to the evil man, the candle of the wicked ſhall be put out.

21 My ſon, fear thou the Lord, and the king: and meddle not with them that are given to change.

22 For their calamity ſhall riſe ſuddenly, and who knoweth the ruin of them both.

23 Theſe things alſo belong to the wiſe. It is not good to have reſpect of perſons in judgment.

24 He that ſaith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous; him ſhall the people curſe, nations ſhall abhor him.

25 But to them that rebuke him ſhall be delight, and a good bleſſing ſhall come upon them.

26 Every man ſhall kiſs his lips that giveth a right anſwer.

27 Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thyſelf in the field; and afterwards build thine houſe.

28 Be not a witneſs againſt thy neighbour without cauſe: and deceive not with thy lips.

29 Say not I will do ſo to him as he hath done to me: I will render to the man according to his work.

30 I went by the field of the ſlothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of underſtanding:

31 And lo, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face thereof, and the ſtone-wall thereof was broken down.

32 Then I ſaw and conſidered it well: I looked upon it, and received inſtruction.

33 Yet a little ſleep, a little ſlumber, a little folding of the hands to ſleep.

34 So ſhall thy poverty come, as one that travelleth; and thy want as an armed man.

CHAP. XXV.

THESE are alſo proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Jupah copied out.

2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing: but the honour of kings is to ſearch out a matter.

3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings is unſearchable.

4 Take away the droſs from the ſilver, aud there ſhall come forth a veſſel for the finer.

5 Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne ſhall be eſtabliſhed in righteouſneſs.

6 Put not forth thyſelf in the preſence of the king, and ſtand not in the place of great men.

7 For better it is that it be ſaid unto chee, Come up hither: than that thou ſhouldeſt be put lower in the preſence of the prince whom thine eyes have ſeen.

8 Go not forth haſtily to ſtrive, leſt thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to ſhame.

9 Debate thy cauſe with thy neighbour himſelf; and diſcover not a ſecret to another:

10 Leſt he that heareth it, put thee to ſhame, and thine infamy turn not away.

11 A word fitly ſpoken is like apples of gold in pictures of ſilver.

12 As an ear-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, ſo is a wiſe reprover upon an obedient ear.

13 As the cold of ſnow in the time of harveſt, ſo is a faithful meſſenger to them that ſend him: for he refreſheth the ſoul of his maſters.

14 Whoſo boaſteth himſelf of a falſe gift, is like clouds and wind without rain.

15 By long forbearing is a prince perſuaded, and a ſoft tongue breaketh the bone.

16 Haſt thou found honey? eat ſo much as is ſufficient for thee, leſt thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.

17 Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbour's houſe: leſt he be weary of thee, and ſo hate thee.

18 A man that beareth falſe witneſs againſt his neighbour, is a maul, and a ſword, and a ſharp arrow.

19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth and a foot out of joint.

20 As he that taketh away a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon nitre: ſo is he that ſingeth ſongs to an heavy heart.

21 If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat: and if he be thirſty, give him water to drink.

22 For thou ſhalt heap coals of fire upon his head, and the Lord ſhall reward thee.

23 The north-wind driveth away rain: ſo doth an angry countenance a backbiting tongue.

24 It is better to dwell in a corner of the houſe-top, than with a brawling woman, and in a wide houſe.

25 As cold waters to a thirſty ſoul: ſo is good news from a far country.

26 A righteous man falling down before the wicked, is as a troubled fountain, and a corrupt ſpring.

27 It is not good to eat much honey: ſo for men to ſearch their own glory, is not glory.

28 He that hath no rule over his own ſpirit, is like a city that is broken down, and without walls.

CHAP.

23 Buy the truth, and ſell it not; alſo wiſdom, and inſtruction, and underſtanding.] Let no pains or coſt deter thee from acquiring the knowledge of what is true and falſe, good and evil: neglect not this neceſſary ſtudy, whatever honours or riches thou mayeſt loſe by purſuing it; but prefer wiſdom and virtue to all the pleaſures and advantages of this life.

CHAP. XXIV.] 21 My ſon, fear thou the Lord, and the king, &c.] Be very careful, my ſon, to obey the precepts of religion, and conſider the king as God's vicegerent upon earth: nor have any connection with thoſe diſcontented mortals.

CHAP. XXV.] 2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing, &c.] The Almighty Creator and Sovereign of the world, declares his glorious ſuperintendency of authority and wiſdom, by concealing the reaſons of his decrees, and the motives of his judgments: but earthly princes, acquire the greateſt honour by making the minuteſt ſcrutiny into every particular, before they deliver their judgment.

CHAP.

CHAP. XXVI.

AS ſnow in ſummer, and as rain in harveſt; ſo honour is not ſeemly for a fool.

2 As the bird by wandering, as the ſwallow by flying, ſo the curſe cauſeleſs ſhall not come.

3 A whip for the horſe, a bridle for the aſs, and a rod for the fool's back.

4 Anſwer not a fool according to his folly, leſt thou alſo be like unto him.

5 Anſwer a fool according to his folly, leſt he be wiſe in his own conceit.

6 He that ſendeth a meſſage by the hand of a fool, cutteth off the feet, and drinketh damage.

7 The legs of the lame are not equal: ſo is a parable in the mouth of fools.

8 As he that bindeth a ſtone in a ſling: ſo is he that giveth honour to a fool.

9 As a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, ſo is a parable in the mouth of fools.

10 The great God that formed all things, both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth tranſgreſſors.

11 As a dog returneth to his vomit; ſo a fool returneth to his folly.

12 Seeſt thou a man wiſe in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him.

13 The ſlothful man ſaith, There is a lion in the way, a lion is in the ſtreets.

14 As the door turneth upon his hinges, ſo doth the ſlothful upon his bed.

15 The ſlothful hideth his hand in his boſom, it grieveth him to bring it again to his mouth.

16 The ſluggard is wiſer in his own conceit, than ſeven men that can render a reaſon.

17 He that paſſeth by, and meddleth with ſtrife belonging not to him, is like once that taketh a dog by the ears.

18 As a mad man who caſteth fire-brands, arrows, and death:

19 So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, and ſaith, Am not I in ſport?

20 Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: ſo where there is no tale-bearer, the ſtrife ceaſeth.

21 As coals are to burning-coals, and wood to fire? ſo is a contentious man to kindle ſtrife.

22 The words of a tale-bearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermoſt parts of the belly.

23 Burning lips, and a wicked heart are like a potſherd covered with ſilver droſs.

24 He that hateth, diſſembleth with his lips, and layeth up deceit within him.

25 When he ſpeaketh fair, believe him not: for there are ſeven abominations in his heart.

26 Whoſe hatred is covered by deceit, his wickedneſs ſhall be ſhewed before the whole congregation.

27 Whoſo diggeth a pit ſhall fall therein: and he that rolleth a ſtone, it will return upon him.

28 A lying tongue hateth thoſe that are afflicted by it, and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

CHAP. XXVII.

BOAST not thyſelf of to-morrow; for thou knoweſt not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praiſe thee, and not thine own mouth; a ſtranger, and not thine own lips.

3 A ſtone is heavy, and the ſand weighty; but a fool's wrath is heavier than them both.

4 Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous; but who is able to ſtand before envy?

5 Open rebuke is better than ſecret love.

6 Faithful are the wounds of a friend; but the kiſſes of an enemy are deceitful.

7 The full ſoul loathed an honey-comb; but to the hungry ſoul every bitter thing is ſweet.

8 As a bird that wandereth from her neſt: ſo is a man that wandereth from his place.

9 Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart: ſo doth the ſweetneſs of a man's friend by hearty counſel.

10 Thine own friend and thy father's friend forſake not; neither go into thy brother's houſe in the day of thy calamity: for better is a neighbour that is near, than a brother far off.

11 My ſon, be wiſe, and make my heart glad, that I may anſwer him that reproacheth me.

12 A prudent man foreſeeth the evil, and hideth himſelf: but the ſimple paſs on, and are puniſhed.

13 Take his garment that is ſurety for a ſtranger, and take a pledge of him for a ſtrange woman.

14 He that bleſſeth his friend with a loud voice, riſing early in the morning, it ſhall be counted a curſe to him.

15 A continual dropping in a very rainy day, and a contentious woman are alike.

16 Whoſoever hideth her, hideth the wind, and the ointment of his right hand which bewrayeth itſelf.

17 Iron ſharpeneth iron, ſo a man ſharpeneth the countenance of his friend.

18 Whoſo keepeth the fig-tree, ſhall eat the fruit thereof: ſo he that waiteth on his maſter ſhall be honoured.

19 As in water face anſwereth to face: ſo the heart of man to man.

20 Hell and deſtruction are never full; ſo the eyes of man are never ſatisfied.

21 As the fining pot for ſilver, and the furnace for gold; ſo is a man to his praiſe.

22 Though thou ſhouldſt bray a fool in a mortar among wheat with a peſtle, yet will not his fooliſhneſs depart from him.

23 Be thou diligent to know the ſtate of thy flocks, and look well to thy herds.

24 For riches are not for ever: and doth the crown endure to every generation?

25 The hay appeareth, and the tender graſs ſheweth itſelf, and herbs of the mountains are gathered.

26 The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.

27 And thou ſhalt have goats milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy houſhold and for the maintenance for thy maidens.

CHAP. XXVIII.

THE wicked flee when no man purſueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.

2 For the tranſgreſſion of a land many are the princes thereof: but by a man of underſtanding and knowledge the ſtate thereof ſhall be prolonged.

3 A poor man that oppreſſeth the poor, is like a ſweeping rain which leaveth no food.

4 They that forſake the law, praiſe the wicked: but ſuch as keep the law, contend with them.

5 Evil men underſtand not judgment: but they that ſeek the Lord, underſtand all things.

6 Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightneſs, than he that is perverſe in his ways, though he be rich.

7 Whoſo keepeth the law, is a wiſe ſon: but he that is a companion of riotous men, ſhameth his father.

8 He that by uſury and unjuſt gain increaſeth his ſubſtance, he ſhall gather it for him that will pity the poor.

9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer ſhall be abomination.

10 Whoſo cauſeth the righteous to go aſtray in an evil way, he ſhall fall himſelf into his own pit: but the upright ſhall have good things in poſſeſſion.

11 The rich man is wiſe in his own conceit: but the poor that hath underſtanding ſearcheth him out.

12 When righteous men do rejoice, there is great glory: but when the wicked riſe, a man is hidden.

13 He that covereth his ſins, ſhall not proſper: but whoſo confeſſeth and forſaketh them ſhall have mercy.

14 Happy is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, ſhall fall into miſchief.

15 As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear: ſo is a wicked ruler over the poor people.

16 The prince that wanteth underſtanding, is alſo a great oppreſſor: but he that hateth covetouſneſs, ſhall prolong his days.

17 A man that doth violence to the blood of any perſon, ſhall flee to the pit, let no man ſtay him.

18 Whoſo walketh uprightly, ſhall be ſaved: but he that is perverſe in his ways, ſhall fall at once.

19 He that tilleth his land, ſhall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain perſons, ſhall have poverty enough.

20 A faithful man ſhall abound with bleſſings: but he that maketh haſte to be rich, ſhall not be innocent.

21 To have reſpect of perſons, is not good: for, for a piece of bread that man will tranſgreſs.

22 He that haſteth to be rich, hath an evil eye, and conſidereth not that poverty ſhall come upon him.

23 He

CHAP. XXVI.] 18, 19 As a madman who caſteth firebrands, arrows and death, &c.] As he that throws abroad flames, darts, and other deſtructive things, and conceals his malice by feigning himſelf mad, is far more dangerous than he who is mad in reality: ſo he is much worſe than an open enemy, who artfully abuſes his neighbour, and under the faireſt pretences, cheats him in the fouleſt manner; and then pretends he did it only in ſport.

CHAP. XXVII.] 1 Boaſt not thyſelf of to-morrow; for thou knoweſt not what a day may bring forth.] Be not ſo confident of thy preſent riches or power, as to boaſt what thou will do or enjoy hereafter; for thou canſt not be ſecure of this very day, which may produce ſomething, for ought thou knoweſt, that may fruſtrate all the expectations thou haſt for to-morrow.

CHAP. XXVIII.] 1 The wicked flee when no man purſueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.] A guilty conſcience renders men timorous and fearful, like a cowardly ſoldier, who flies at the very firſt appearance of an enemy: but men of virtue and integrity are not eaſily terrified.

14 Happy is the man that feareth alway, &c.] That man is truly happy, who, fearing to offend the Almighty, is cautious and circumſpect in all his actions.

23 He that rebuketh a man, afterwasds ſhall find more favour than he that flattereth with the tongue.

24 Whoſo robbeth his father or his mother, and ſaith, It is no tranſgreſſion; the ſame is the companion of a deſtroyer.

25 He that is of a proud heart, ſtirreth up ſtrife: but he that putteth his truſt in the Lord ſhall be made fat.

26 He that truſteth in his own heart, is a fool: but whoſo walketh wiſely, he ſhall be delivered.

27 He that giveth unto the poor, ſhall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes, ſhall have many a curſe.

28 When the wicked riſe, men hide themſelves: but when they periſh, the righteous increaſe.

CHAP. XXIX.

HE that being of often reproved hardneth his neck, ſhall ſuddenly be deſtroyed, and that without remedy.

2 When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.

3 Whoſo loveth wiſdom, rejoiceth his father: but he that keepeth company with harlots, ſpendeth his ſubſtance.

4 The king by judgment eſtabliſheth the land: but he that receiveth gifts, overthroweth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, ſpreadeth a net for his feet.

6 In the tranſgreſſion of an evil man there is a ſnare: but the righteous doth ſing and rejoice.

7 The righteous conſidereth the cauſe of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it.

8 Scornful men bring a city in a ſnare: but wiſe men turn away wrath.

9 If a wiſe man contendeth with a fooliſh man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no reſt.

10 The blood-thirſty hate the upright: but the juſt ſeek his ſoul.

11 A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wiſe man keepeth it in 'till afterwards.

12 If a ruler hearken to lies, all his ſervants are wicked.

13 The poor and the deceitful man meet together: the Lord lighteneth both their eyes.

14 The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne ſhall be eſtabliſheth for ever.

15 The rod and reproof give wiſdom: but a child left to himſelf, bringeth his mother to ſhame.

16 When the wicked are multiplied, tranſgreſſion increaſeth: but the righteous ſhall ſee their fall.

17 Correct thy ſon, and he ſhall give thee reſt: yea, he ſhall give delight unto thy ſoul.

18 Where there is no viſion, the people periſh: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

19 A ſervant will not be corrected by words: for though he underſtand, he will not anſwer.

20 Seeſt thou a man that is haſty in his words? there is more hope of a fool than of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his ſervant from a child, ſhall have him become his ſon at the length.

22 An angry man ſtirreth up ſtrife, and a furious man aboundeth in tranſgreſſion.

23 A man's pride ſhall bring him low: but honour ſhall uphold the humble in ſpirit.

24 Whoſo is partner with a thief, hateth his own ſoul: he heareth curſing, and bewrayeth it not.

25 The fear of man bringeth a ſnare: but whoſo putteth his truſt in the Lord, ſhall be ſafe.

26 Many ſeek the ruler's favour, but every man's judgment cometh from the Lord.

27 An unjuſt man is an abomination to the juſt, and he that is upright in the way is abomination to the wicked.

CHAP. XXX.

THE words of Agur the ſon of Jakeh, even the propheſy: the man ſpake unto Ithiel, even unto Ithiel and Ucal.

2 Surely I am more brutiſh than any man, and have not the underſtanding of a man.

3 I neither learned wiſdom, nor have the knowledge of the holy.

4 Who hath aſcended up into heaven, or deſcended? who hath gathered the wind in his fiſts? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath eſtabliſhed all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his ſon's name, if thou canſt tell?

5 Every word of God is pure: he is a ſhield unto them that put their truſt in him.

6 Add thou not unto his words, leſt he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things have I required of thee, deny me them not before I die.

8 Remove far from me vanity and lies; give me neither poverty nor riches, feed me with food convenient for me:

9 Leſt I be full, and deny thee, and ſay, Who is the Lord? or leſt I be poor, and ſteal, and take the name of my God in vain.

10 Accuſe not a ſervant unto his maſter, leſt he curſe thee, and thou be found guilty.

11 There is a generation that curſeth their father, and doth not bleſs their mother.

12 Their is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not waſhed from their filthineſs.

13 There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! and their eye-lids are lifted up.

14 Their is a generation whoſe teeth are as ſwords, and their jaw-teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.

15 The horſe-leach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give, There are three things that are never ſatisfied, yea, four things ſay not, It is enough.

16 The grave, and the barren womb, the earth that is not filled with water, and the fire that ſaith, not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh at his father, and deſpiſeth to obey his father, the ravens of the valley ſhall pick it out, and the young eagles ſhall eat it.

18 There be three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the air, the way of a ſerpent upon a rock, the way of a ſhip in the midſt of the ſea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way of an adulterous woman; ſhe eateth, and wipeth her mouth, and ſaith, I have done no wickedneſs.

21 For three things the earth is diſquieted, and for four which it cannot bear:

22 For a ſervant when he reigneth, and a fool when he is filled with meat,

23 For an odious woman when ſhe is married, and an handmaid that is heir to her miſtreſs.

24 There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wiſe:

25 The ants are a people not ſtrong, yet they prepare their meat in the ſummer;

26 The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houſes in the rocks:

27 The locuſts have no king, yet go they forth all of them by bands;

28 The ſpider taketh hold with her hands, and is in king's palaces.

29 There be three things which go well, yea, four are comely in going:

30 A lion which is ſtrongeſt among beaſts and turneth not away for any.

31 A grey-hound, an he-goat alſo, and a king, againſt whom there is no riſing up.

32 If thou haſt done fooliſhly in lifting up thyſelf, or if thou haſt thought evil, lay thine hand upon thy mouth.

33 Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the noſe bringeth forth blood: ſo the forcing of wrath bringeth forth ſtrife.

CHAP. XXXI.

THE words of king Lemuel, the prophecy that his mother taught him.

2 What, my ſon? and what, the ſon of my womb? and what, the ſon of my vows?

3 Give not thy ſtrength unto women, nor thy ways to that which deſtroyeth kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for princes ſtrong drink:

5 Leſt they drink and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted.

6 Give ſtrong drink unto him that is ready to periſh, and wine to thoſe that be of heavy hearts.

7 Let him drink and forget his poverty, and remember his miſery no more.

26 He that truſteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoſo walketh wiſely, he ſhall be delivered.] He that relies entirely on his own judgment, will often miſcarry; but he that diſtruſting his own wiſdom, ſeeks and follows good advice, ſhall eſcape many misfortunes.

CHAP. XXIX.] 10 The blood-thirſty hate the upright: but the juſt ſeek his ſoul.] Men enormouſly wicked hate the upright, who exerts his power to puniſh their egregious crimes; but all virtuous men love him the more ſincerely, and heartily labour to defend him from the attacks of ſuch miſcreants.

CHAP. XXX.] 1 The words of Agur the ſon of Jakeh, &c.] This chapter contains a fragment of ſome wiſe ſentences, delivered by one whoſe name was Agur. They are called Maſſa, which we tranſlate prophecy, either to denote the weight of the ſentences, or that they were ſelected from ſome works of his then remaining in the public records.

15, 16 The horſe-leach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give, &c.] This ſeems to be an anſwer to the following queſtion propoſed to Agur by his ſcholars: What creature is moſt unſatiable? To this the wiſe man anſwers, the horſe-leach; which ſucks the blood of other creatures 'till it burſts; as thoſe wicked men do the livelihood of the poor, 'till they ruin themſelves.

CHAP. XXXI.] 1 The words of king Lemuel, the prophecy that his mother taught him.] It is generally agreed, both by Hebrew and Chriſtian writers, that king Lemuel was Solomon; and that the precepts contained in this chapter were taught him by his mother Bethſheba, whom ſome imagine to have been divinely inſpired. But all this is founded wholly on conjecture: and it ſeems far more reaſonable to conclude, that this Lemuel was ſome foreign prince of great wiſdom, who had collected theſe weighty ſentences from the inſtruction of his mother.

9 Open thy mouth, judge righteouſly, and plead the cauſe of the poor and needy.

10 ¶ Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies.

11 The heart of her huſband doth ſafely truſt in her, ſo that he ſhall have no need of ſpoil.

12 She will do him good, and not evil, all the days of her life.

13 She ſeeketh wool, and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.

14 She is like the merchants ſhips, ſhe bringeth her food from afar.

15 She riſeth alſo while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her houſhold, and a portion to her maidens.

16 She conſidereth a field, and buyeth it: with the fruit of her hands ſhe planteth a vineyard.

17 She girdeth her loins with ſtrength, and ſtrengtheneth her arms.

18 She perceiveth that her merchandiſe is good: her candle goeth not out by night.

19 She layeth her hands to the ſpindle, and her hands hold the diſtaff.

20 She ſtretcheth out her hand to the poor; yea, ſhe reacheth forth her hands to the needy.

21 She is not afraid of the ſnow for the houſhold: for all her houſhold are clothed with ſcarlet.

22 She maketh herſelf coverings of tapeſtry, her clothing is ſilk and purple.

23 Her huſband is known in the gates, when he ſitteth among the elders of the land.

24 She maketh fine linen, and ſelleth it, and delivereth girdles unto the merchant.

25 Strength and honour are her clothing, and ſhe ſhall rejoice in time to come.

26 She openeth her mouth with wiſdom, and in her tongue is the law of kindneſs.

27 She looketh well to the ways of her houſhold, and eateth not the bread of idleneſs.

28 Her children ariſe up, and call her bleſſed; her huſband alſo, and he praiſeth her:

29 Many daughters have done virtuouſly, but thou excelleſt them all.

30 Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the Lord, ſhe ſhall be praiſed.

31 Give her of the fruit of her hands, and let her own works praiſe her in the gates.

10 Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies.] From this verſe, to the end of the chapter, containing the deſcription of a virtuous woman, is a ſhort poem, and, according to St. Jerom, conſiſts of a ſort of Iambic verſes, each of which begins with a new letter of the Hebrew Alphabet; the tenth with Aleph, the eleventh with Beth, &c. to the end. This was conſidered among the ancients as an elegant ſpecies of compoſition, and at the ſame time, as a great help to the memory.

Eccleſiaſtes; or the PREACHER.

The ARGUMENT.

That Solomon was the author of this book is evident from the firſt line of it. The words of the Preacher, the ſon of David, king of Jeruſalem. And the deſign of it is to ſhew the vanity of all ſublunary things: in order to which the author enumerates the ſeveral objects on which men place their happineſs in this life, and then diſcovers the emptineſs and inſufficiency of all wordly enjoyments, by many curious reflections on the evils of human life.

The word Eccleſiaſtes is Greek, and ſignifies the Preacher. The Hebrews call it Coheleth, which literally ſignifies a Collector, becauſe it is ſuppoſed to be a ſermon or diſcourſe delivered to an aſſembly.

CHAP. I.

THE words of the Preacher, the ſon of David king of Jeruſalem.

2 Vanity of vanities, ſaith the Preacher, vanity of vanities; all is vanity.

3 What profit hath a man of all his labour, which he taketh under the ſun;

4 One generation paſſeth away, and another generation cometh: but the earth abideth for ever.

5 The ſun alſo ariſeth, and the ſun goeth down, and haſteth to his place where he aroſe.

6 The wind goeth toward the ſouth, and turneth about unto the north; it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.

7 All the rivers run into the ſea; yet the ſea is not full: unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again.

8 All things are full of labour; man cannot utter it: the eye is not ſatisfied with ſeeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 The

Commentary on the Book of Eccleſiaſtes.

CHAP. I.] 1 The words of the preacher, the ſon of David, king of Jeruſalem.] Theſe are the words of him who thought the name of a preacher, or public inſtructor of God's people, no leſs honourable than that of the ſon of king David.

2 Vanity of vanities, ſaith the preacher, vanity of vanities, all is vanity.] This is the ſubject of the preacher's diſcourſe, to ſhew how ridiculous it is to place our happineſs in the frail and inconſtant things we enjoy in this tranſitory life.

9 The thing that hath been, it is that which ſhall be; and that which is done, is that which ſhall be done: and there is no new thing under the ſun.

10 Is there any thing whereof it may be ſaid, See, this is new? it hath been already of old time, which was before us.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither ſhall there be any remembrance of things that are to come, with thoſe that ſhall come after.

12 ¶ I the Preacher was king over Iſrael in Jeruſalem.

13 And I gave my heart to ſeek and ſearch out by wiſdom, concerning all things that are done under heaven: this ſore travel hath God given to the ſons of man, to be exerciſed therewith.

14 I have ſeen all the works that are done under the ſun; and, behold, all is vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

15 That which is crooked, cannot be made ſtraight: and that which is wanting, cannot be numbered.

16 I communed with mine own heart, ſaying, lo, I am come to great eſtate, and have gotten more wiſdom than all they that have been before me in Jeruſalem: yea, my heart had great experience of wiſdom and knowledge.

17 And I gave my heart to know wiſdom, and to know madneſs and folly: I perceived that this alſo is vexation of ſpirit.

18 For in much wiſdom is much grief: and he that increaſeth knowledge, increaſeth ſorrow.

CHAP. II.

I ſaid in mine heart Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleaſure: and behold, this alſo is vanity.

2 I ſaid of laughter, it is mad: and of mirth, What doeth it?

3 I ſought in mine heart to give myſelf unto wine; (yet acquainting mine heart wth wiſdom) and to lay hold on folly, till I might ſee what was that good for the ſons of men, which they ſhould do under the heaven, all the days of their life.

4 I made me great works; I builded me houſes; I planted me vineyards;

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kind of fruits:

6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees:

7 I got me ſervants and maidens, and had ſervants born in my houſe; alſo I had great poſſeſſions of great and ſmall cattle, above all that were in Jeruſalem before me:

8 I gathered me alſo ſilver and gold, and the peculiar treaſure of kings and of the provinces: I gat me men ſingers and women ſingers, and the delights of the ſons of men, as muſical inſtruments, and that of all ſorts.

9 So I was great, and increaſed more than all that were before me in Jeruſalem: alſo my wiſdom remained with me.

10 And whatſoever mine eyes deſired, I kept not from them; I withheld not my heart from any joy: for my heart rejoiced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my labour.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and behold, all was vanity and vexation of ſpirit, and there was no profit under the ſun.

12 And I turned myſelf to behold wiſdom, and madneſs, and folly: for what can the man do that cometh after the king? even that which hath been already done.

13 Then I ſaw that wiſdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkneſs.

14 The wiſe man's eyes are in his head; but the fool walketh in darkneſs: and I myſelf perceived alſo, that one event happeneth to them all.

15 Then ſaid I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, ſo it happeneth even to me; and why was I then more wiſe? Then I ſaid in my heart, that this alſo is vanity.

16 For there is no remembrance of the wiſe more than of the fool for ever; ſeeing that which now is, in the days to come ſhall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wiſe man? as the fool.

17 Therefore I hated life; becauſe the work that is wrought under the ſun is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

18 ¶ Yea, I hated all my labour which I had taken under the ſun: becauſe I ſhould leave it unto the man that ſhall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he ſhall be a wiſe man, or a fool? yet ſhall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have ſhewed myſelf wiſe under the ſun. This is alſo vanity.

20 Therefore I went about to cauſe my heart to deſpair of all the labour which I took under the ſun.

21 For there is a man whoſe labour is in wiſdom, and in knowledge, and in equity; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein ſhall he leave it for his portion. This alſo is vanity and a great evil.

22 For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart wherein he hath laboured under the ſun?

23 For all his days are ſorrows, and his travel grief: yea, his heart taketh not reſt in the night. This is alſo vanity.

24 ¶ There is nothing better for a man than that he ſhould eat and drink, and that he ſhould make his ſoul enjoy good in his labour. This alſo I ſaw, that it was from the hand of God.

25 For who can eat, or who elſe can haſten hereunto more than I?

26 For God giveth to a man that is good in his ſight, wiſdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the ſinner he giveth travel, to gather, and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God. This alſo is vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

CHAP. III.

TO every thing there is a ſeaſon, and a time to every purpoſe under the heaven:

2 A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted,

3 A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

5 A time to caſt away ſtones, and a time to gather ſtones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

6 A time to get, and a time to looſe; a time to keep, and a time to caſt away;

7 A time to rent, and a time to ſew; a time to keep ſilence, and a time to ſpeak;

8 A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.

9 What profit hath he that worketh, in that wherein he laboureth?

10 I have ſeen the travel which God hath given to the ſons of men to be exerciſed in it.

11 He hath made every thing beautiful in his time: alſo he hath ſet the world in their heart, ſo that no man can find out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.

12 I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life.

13 And alſo that every man ſhould eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labour, it is the gift of God.

14 I know that whatſoever God doeth, it ſhall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men ſhould fear before him.

15 That which hath been is now; and that which is to be, hath already been; and God requireth that which is paſt.

16 ¶ And moreover, I ſaw under the ſun the place of judgment, that wickedneſs was there; and the place of righteouſneſs, that iniquity was there.

17 I ſaid in mine heart, God ſhall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every purpoſe, and for every work.

18 I ſaid in mine heart concerning the eſtate of the ſons of men, that God might manifeſt them, and that they might ſee that they themſelves are beaſts.

19 For that which befalleth the ſons of men, befalleth beaſts; even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, ſo dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath; ſo that a man hath no pre-eminence above a beaſt: for all is vanity.

20 All go unto one place; all are of the duſt, and all turn to duſt again.

21 Who knoweth the ſpirit of man that goeth upward, and the ſpirit of the beaſt that goeth downward to the earth?

22 Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, than that a man ſhould rejoice in his own works: for that is his portion: for who ſhall bring him to ſee what ſhall be after him.

CHAP. IV.

SO I returned, and conſidered all the oppreſſions that are done under the ſun: and behold the tears of ſuch as were oppreſſed, and they had no comforter; and on the ſide of their oppreſſors there was power, but they had no comforter.

2 Wherefor

17, 18. And I gave my heart to know wiſdom, and to know madneſs, and folly, &c.] This cenſure is not abſolutely paſſed upon wiſdom and knowledge conſidered in themſelves, but with regard to the true limits in which the human underſtanding is circumſcribed; and which, if we forget to obſerve, will prove troubleſome to ourſelves and others. And theſe limits are three in number. Firſt, That we do not entirely place our happineſs in knowledge, and forget our own mortality. Secondly, That we do not make our knowledge the parent of anxiety, and contentment of mind. Thirdly, That we do not preſume, by contemplating nature, to think ourſelves able to comprehend the myſteries of Omnipotence.

CHAP. II.] 8 I gathered me alſo ſilver and gold, and the peculiar treaſure of kings, &c.] The word Segullah, which we render peculiar treaſure, ſignifies either the precious things themſelves, or the place where they are depoſited.

CHAP. III.] 1 To every thing there is a ſeaſon, &c.] The Hebrews obſerve that Solomon here reckons ſeven different ſeaſons, as a complete demonſtration by induction, of the general propoſition in this verſe, which holds good even of virtue itſelf, which is only proper in its place.

21 Who knoweth the ſpirit of a man that goeth upward, &c.] The ſpirit which makes the only difference between man and beaſt, is inviſible, and aſcends to its maker; but where ſhall we find a man in this thoughtleſs age, who ſeriouſly conſiders this, and believes that the ſouls of men repair to God, and that the ſouls of beaſts periſh with them.

CHAP. IV.] 1 So I returned and conſidered all the oppreſſions that are done under the ſun.] But I have not yet finiſhed my obſervations on the miſeries of the ſons of men, for, reflecting again on this melancholy ſubject, I found that inno-

2 Wherefore I praiſed the dead which are already dead, more than the living which are yet alive.

3 Yea, better is he than both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not ſeen the evil work that is done under the ſun.

4 ¶ Again I conſidered all travel, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This is alſo vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

5 The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own fleſh.

6 Better is an handful with quietneſs, than both the hands full with travel and vexation of ſpirit.

7 ¶ Then I returned, and I ſaw vanity under the ſun.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a ſecond; yea, he hath neither child nor brother, yet is there no end of all his labour; neither is his eye ſatisfied with riches; neither ſaith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my ſoul of good? This is alſo vanity, yea, it is a ſore travel.

9 ¶ Two are better than one, becauſe they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up.

11 Again, if two lie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warm alone?

12 And if one prevail againſt him, two ſhall withſtand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 Better is a poor and a wiſe child, than an old and fooliſh king, who will no more be admoniſhed.

14 For out of priſon he cometh to reign; whereas alſo he that is born in his kingdom becometh poor.

15 I conſidered all the living which walk under the ſun, with the ſecond child that ſhall ſtand up in his ſtead.

16 There is no end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they alſo that come after ſhall not rejoice in him. Surely this alſo is vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

CHAP. V.

KEEP thy foot when thou goeſt to the houſe of God, and be more ready to hear, than to give the ſacrifice of fools: for they conſider not that they do evil.

2 Be not raſh with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be haſty to utter any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of buſineſs, and a fool's voice is known by multitude of words.

4 When thou voweſt a vow unto God, defer not to pay it: for he hath no pleaſure in fools: pay that which thou haſt vowed.

5 Better is it that thou ſhouldeſt not vow, than that thou ſhouldeſt vow, and not pay.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cauſe thy fleſh to ſin; neither ſay thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore ſhould God be angry at thy voice, and deſtroy the work of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words there are alſo divers vanities: but fear thou God.

8 If thou ſeeſt the oppreſſion of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and juſtice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for he that is higher than the higheſt regardeth, and there be higher than they.

9 ¶ Moreover, the profit of the earth is for all: the king himſelf is ſerved by the field.

10 He that loveth ſilver, ſhall not be ſatisfied with ſilver; nor he that loveth abundance with increaſe: this is alſo vanity.

11 When goods increaſe, they are increaſed that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof ſaving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 The ſleep of a labouring man is ſweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not ſuffer him to ſleep.

13 There is a ſore evil which I have ſeen under the ſun, namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

14 But thoſe riches periſh by evil travel: and he begetteth a ſon, and there is nothing in his hand.

15 As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked ſhall he return to go as he came, and ſhall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this alſo is a ſore evil, that in all points as he came, ſo ſhall he go: and what profit hath he that hath laboured for the wind?

17 All his days alſo he eateth in darkneſs, and he hath much ſorrow, and wrath with his ſickneſs.

18 ¶ Behold that which I have ſeen: it is good and comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the ſun, all the days of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

19 Every man alſo to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God.

20 For he ſhall not much remember the days of his life: becauſe God anſwereth him in the joy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

THERE is an evil which I have ſeen under the ſun, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, ſo that he wanteth nothing for his ſoul of all that he deſireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a ſtranger eateth it: this is vanity, and it is an evil diſeaſe.

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, ſo that the days of his years be many, and his ſoul be not filled with good, and alſo that he have no burial, I ſay, that an untimely birth is better than he.

4 For he cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkneſs, and his name ſhall be covered with darkneſs.

5 Moreover, he hath not ſeen the ſun, nor known any thing: this hath more reſt than the other.

6 ¶ Yea though he live a thouſand years twice told, yet he hath ſeen no good: do not all go to one place.

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled.

8 For what hath the wiſe more than the fool? what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?

9 ¶ Better is the ſight of the eyes, than the wandering of the deſire: this is alſo vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

10 That which hath been, is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is mightier than he.

11 ¶ Seeing there be many things that increaſe vanity, what is man the better?

12 For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, all the days of his vain life which he ſpendeth as a ſhadow? for who can tell a man what ſhall be after him under the ſun?

CHAP. VII.

A Good name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death, than the day of one's birth.

2 ¶ It is better to go to the houſe of mourning, than to the houſe of feaſting: for that is the end of all men, and the living will lay it to his heart.

3 Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the ſadneſs of the countenance the heart is made better.

4 The heart of the wiſe is in the houſe of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the houſe of mirth.

5 It is better to hear the rebuke of the wiſe, than for a man to hear the ſong of fools.

6 For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, ſo is the laughter of the fool: this alſo is vanity.

7 ¶ Surely oppreſſion maketh a wiſe man mad, and a gift deſtroyeth the heart.

8 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: and the patient in ſpirit is better than the proud in ſpirit.

9 Be not haſty in thy ſpirit to be angry: for anger reſteth in the boſom of fools.

10 Say not thou, What is the cauſe that the former days were better than theſe? for thou doſt not enquire wiſely concerning this.

11 ¶ Wiſdom is good with an inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that ſee the ſun.

12 For wiſdom is a defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wiſdom giveth life to them that have it.

13 Conſider the work of God: for who can make that ſtrait, which he hath made crooked?

14 In the day of proſperity be joyful, but in the day of adverſity conſider: God alſo hath ſet the one over againſt the other, to the end that man ſhould find nothing after him.

15 All things have I ſeen in the days of my vanity: there is a juſt man that periſheth in his righteouſneſs, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickedneſs.

16 Be not righteous overmuch, neither make thyſelf over-wiſe: why ſhouldſt thou deſtroy thyſelf?

merable ways were practiſed in this word for the ruin of others; violence, exactions, fraud, and calumnies, together with unjuſt ſentences from corrupt judges, were often made uſe of to cruſh the innocent, and deſtroy the juſt.

2 Wherefore I praiſed the dead which are already dead, more than the living that are yet alive.] Theſe melancholy obſervations made me think, that the dead, who were happily eſcaped from all theſe calamities, are in a much better condition than thoſe who are ſtill alive.

CHAP. V.] 1 Keep thy foot, when thou goeſt to the houſe of God, &c.] Be very careful to avoid that negligence obſervable in too many people, who viſit the temple of the Lord in a thoughtleſs manner; but approach the place of his preſence with the utmoſt reverence both of body and mind.

CHAP. VII.] 1 A good name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death, than the day of one's birth.] Among all the maxims of true wiſdom and piety, for ſettling our mind in peace and tranquility, notwithſtanding the vanity of all things, Solomon, in the firſt place, recommends to us, the care of that which men fooliſhly exchange for the pleaſures and profits of the world, a good name. For this, which can only be acquired by a virtuous uſe of all things, will be productive of the higheſt pleaſure, while we continue in this preſent world and embalm our memory when we are laid in the chambers of the duſt. This valuable acquiſition Solomon compares to precious ointment, becauſe nothing was more grateful and refreſhing in thoſe Eaſtern countries.

2 It is better to go to the houſe of mourning, than to go to the houſe of feaſting, &c.] The wiſe man well knowing that nothing animates us more powerfully to a religious life than a frequent remembrance of our own mortality, adviſes every perſon, who is deſirous of being happy, to embrace all occaſions of viſiting places where the objects that preſent themſelves to us put us in mind of the ſhortneſs of human life.

CHAP

17 Be not overmuch wicked, neither be thou fooliſh: why ſhouldeſt thou die before thy time?

18 It is good that thou ſhouldeſt take hold of this, yea, alſo from this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God, ſhall come forth of them all.

19 Wiſdom ſtrengtheneth the wiſe, more than ten mighty men which are in the city.

20 For there is not a juſt man upon earth that doeth good, and ſinneth not.

21 Alſo take no heed unto all words that are ſpoken; leſt thou hear thy ſervnat curſe thee.

22 For oftentimes alſo thine own heart knoweth that thou thyſelf likewiſe haſt curſed others.

23 ¶ All this have I proved by wiſdom: I ſaid, I will be wiſe, but it was far from me.

24 That which is far off, and exceeding deep, who can find it out?

25 I applied mine heart to know, and to ſearch, and to ſeek out wiſdom, and the reaſon of things, and to know the wickedneſs of folly, even of fooliſhneſs and madneſs:

26 And I find more bitter than death the woman whoſe heart is ſnares and nets, and her hands as bands: whoſo pleaſeth God, ſhall eſcape from her, but the ſinner ſhall be taken by her.

27 Behold, this have I found (ſaith the preacher) counting one by one, to find out the account:

28 Which yet my ſoul ſeeketh, but I find not: one man among a thouſand have I found, but a woman among all thoſe have I not found.

29 Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have ſought out many inventions.

CHAP. VIII.

WHO is as the wiſe man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? a man's wiſdom maketh his face to ſhine, and the boldneſs of his face ſhall be changed.

2 I counſel thee to keep the king's commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God.

3 Be not haſty to go out of his ſight: ſtand not in an evil thing: for he doeth whatſoever pleaſeth him.

4 Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may ſay unto him, What doeſt thou?

5 Whoſo keepeth the commandment ſhall feel no evil thing: and a wiſe man's heart diſcerneth both time and judgment.

6 ¶ Becauſe to every purpoſe there is time and judgment; therefore the miſery of man is great upon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which ſhall be: for who can tell him when it ſhall be?

8 There is no man that hath power over the ſpirit to retain the ſpirit; neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no diſcharge in that war: neither ſhall wickedneſs deliver thoſe that are given to it.

9 All this have I ſeen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the ſun: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt.

10 And ſo I ſaw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the Holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had ſo done. This is alſo vanity.

11 Becauſe ſentence againſt an evil work is not executed ſpeedily, therefore the heart of the ſons of men is fully ſet in them to do evil.

12 ¶ Though a ſinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet ſurely I know that it ſhall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him.

13 But it ſhall not be well with the wicked, neither ſhall he prolong his days which are as a ſhadow; becauſe he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth, that there be juſt men, unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked; again, there be wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous. I ſaid, that this alſo is vanity.

15 Then I commended mirth, becauſe a man hath no better thing under the ſun, than to eat and to drink, and to be merry: for that ſhall abide with him of his labour, the days of his life, which God giveth him under the ſun.

16 ¶ When I applied mine heart to know wiſdom, and to ſee the buſineſs that is done upon the earth: (for alſo there is that neither day nor night ſeeth ſleep with his eyes.)

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the ſun: becauſe though a man labour to ſeek it out, yet he ſhall not find it; yea further, though a wiſe man think to know it, yet ſhall he not be able to find it.

CHAP. IX.

FOR all this I conſidered in my heart even to declare all this, that the righteous and the wiſe, and their works are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either love or hatred by all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him that ſacrificeth, and to him that ſacrificeth not: as is the good, ſo is the ſinner; and he that ſweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is an evil among all things that are done under the ſun, that there is one event unto all: yea, alſo the heart of the ſons of men is full of evil, and madneſs is in their heart while they live, and after that, they go to the dead.

4 ¶ For to him that is joined to all the living, there is hope: for a living dog is better than a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they ſhall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten.

6 Alſo their love, and their hatred, and their envy is now periſhed; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the ſun.

7 ¶ Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart: for God now accepteth thy works.

8 Let thy garments be always white; and let thy head lack no ointment.

9 Live joyfully with the wife whom thou loveſt, all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the ſun, all the days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takeſt under the ſun.

10 Whatſoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might: for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wiſdom in the grave whither thou goeſt.

11 ¶ I returned, and ſaw under the ſun that the race is not to the ſwift, nor the battle to the ſtrong, neither yet bread to the wiſe, nor yet riches to men of underſtanding, nor yet favour to men of ſkill; but time and chance happeneth to them all.

12 For man alſo knoweth not his time; as the fiſhes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the ſnare; ſo are the ſons of men ſnared in an evil time, when it falleth ſuddenly upon them.

13 ¶ This wiſdom have I ſeen alſo under the ſun, and it ſeemed great unto me:

14 There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king againſt it, and beſieged it, and built great bulwarks againſt it:

15 Now there was found in it a poor wiſe man, and he by his wiſdom delivered the city: yet no man remembered that ſame poor man

16 Then ſaid I, Wiſdom is better than ſtrength: nevertheleſs, the poor man's wiſdom is deſpiſed, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of wiſe men are heard in quiet, more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Wiſdom is better than weapons of war: but one ſinner deſtroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

DEAD flies cauſe the ointment of the apothecary to ſend forth a ſtinking ſavour; ſo doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wiſdom and honour.

2 A wiſe man's heart is at his right hand; but a fool's heart at his left.

3 Yea, alſo when he that is a fool walketh by the way, his wiſdom faileth him, and he ſaith to every one that he is a fool.

4 If the ſpirit of the ruler riſe up againſt thee, leave not thy place: for yielding pacifieth great offences.

5 There is an evil which I have ſeen under the ſun, as an error which proceedeth from the ruler.

6 Folly is ſet in great dignity, and the rich ſit in low place.

7 I have ſeen ſervants upon horſes, and princes walking as ſervants upon the earth.

8 He that diggeth a pit ſhall fall into it: and whoſo breaketh an hedge a ſerpent ſhall bite him.

9 Whoſo

CHAP. VIII.] 1 Who is as the wiſe man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing?] Solomon now adds to the advices he had given in the foregoing chapter, ſeveral others; the firſt of which is contained in this verſe, where he obſerves, that the wiſdom which will render us happy in this world ſhould not make us moroſe and ſupercilious, ſevere and rigorous, but kind and benign, gentle and eaſy.

CHAP. IX.] 4 All things come alike to all, there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked, &c.] There is no certain and conſtant diſtinction made between one man and another in the diſtribution of things in this world; but they all have the ſame fate, eſpecially in public calamities:

10 Whatſoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might.] Remember to act with vigour, and improve every moment in doing every good action that offers itſelf to thee; for now is the time of action, both with regard to the employments of the body and thoſe of the mind; now is the ſeaſon for ſtudying the principles of wiſdom and virtue, for which thou wilt have no opportunity in the place whither thou art going; that is the place where we ſhall reſt from all our labours, and receive the reward of them.

CHAP. X.] 2 A wiſe man's heart is at his right hand; but a fool's heart is at his left.] A wiſe man's judgment never fails him, even in the greateſt difficulties, nor does he ever fail to manage all his affairs with dexterity; whereas a fool both miſtakes in planning and executing his intentions.

CHAP.

9 Whoſo removeth ſtones ſhall be hurt therewith; and he that cleaveth wood ſhall be endangered thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then muſt he put to more ſtrength: but wiſdom is profitable to direct.

11 Surely the ſerpent will bite without enchantment, and a babbler is no better.

12 The words of a wiſe man's mouth are gracious: but the lips of a fool will ſwallow up himſelf.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is fooliſhneſs: and the end of his talk is miſchievous madneſs.

14 A fool alſo is full of words: a man cannot tell what ſhall be; and what ſhall be after him, who can tell him?

15 The labour of the fooliſh wearieth every one of them, becauſe he knoweth not how to go to the city.

16 ¶ Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 Bleſſed art thou, O land, when thy king is the ſon of nobles, and thy princes eat in due ſeaſon, for ſtrength, and not for drunkenneſs.

18 ¶ By much ſlothfulneſs the building decayeth, and through idleneſs of the hands the houſe droppeth through.

19 ¶ A feaſt is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry: but money anſwereth all things.

20 Curſe not the king, no not in thy thought: and curſe not the rich in thy bed-chamber: for a bird of the air ſhall carry the voice, and that which hath wings ſhall tell the matter.

CHAP. XI.

CAST thy bread upon the waters: for thou ſhalt find it after many days.

2 Give a portion to ſeven, and alſo to eight: for thou knoweſt not what evil ſhall be upon the earth.

3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themſelves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the ſouth, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it ſhall be.

4 He that obſerveth the wind ſhall not ſow; and he that regardeth the clouds ſhall not reap.

5 As thou knoweſt not what is the way of the ſpirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child; even ſo thou knoweſt not the works of God who maketh all.

6 In the morning ſow thy ſeed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knoweſt not whether ſhall proſper, either this or that, or whether they both ſhall be alike good.

7 ¶ Truly the light is ſweet, and a pleaſant thing it is for the eyes to behold the ſun:

8 But if a man live many years, and rejoice in them all; yet let him remember the days of darkneſs; for they ſhall be many. All that cometh is vanity.

9 ¶ Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the ſight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all theſe things God will bring thee into judgment.

10 Therefore remove ſorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy fleſh: for childhood and youth are vanity.

CHAP. XII.

REMEMBER now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou ſhalt ſay, I have no pleaſure in them;

2 While the ſun, or the light, or the moon, or the ſtars be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain.

3 In the day when the keepers of the houſe ſhall tremble, and the ſtrong men ſhall bow themſelves, and the grinders ceaſe, becauſe they are few, and thoſe that look out of the windows be darkened,

4 And the doors ſhall be ſhut in the ſtreets, when the ſound of the grinding is low, and he ſhall riſe up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of muſick ſhall be brought low;

5 Alſo when they ſhall be afraid of that which is high, and fears ſhall be in the way, and the almond-tree ſhall flouriſh, and the graſhopper ſhall be a burden, and deſire ſhall fail: becauſe man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the ſtreets.

6 Or ever the ſilver cord be looſed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the ciſtern.

7 Then ſhall the duſt return to the earth as it was: and the ſpirit ſhall return unto God who gave it.

8 ¶ Vanity of vanities, ſaith the preacher; all his vanity.

9 And moreover, becauſe the preacher was wiſe, he ſtill taught the people knowledge; yea, he gave good heed, and ſought out, and ſet in order many proverbs.

10 The preacher ſought to find out acceptable words, and that which was written was upright, even words of truth.

11 The words of the wiſe are as goads, and as nails faſtened by the maſters of aſſemblies, which are given from one ſhepherd.

12 And further, by theſe, my ſon, be admoniſhed: of making many books there is no end, and much ſtudy is a wearineſs of the fleſh.

13 ¶ Let us hear the concluſion of the whole matter, Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.

14 For God ſhall ſhall bring every work into judgment, with every ſecret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

Chap. XI.] Caſt thy bread upon the waters: for thou ſhalt find it after many days.] Be charitable to thy poor diſtreſſed brethren, though perhaps they may ungratefully forget all thy benefits, or at leaſt, are never likely to make thee any return: let not that diſcourage thee; for there may come a time, when ſome of thoſe whoſe hearts have been rejoiced by the benevolence of thine hand, may do thee the greateſt ſervice; but if not, God will ſurely remember all thy kind ſervices, and abundantly reward thee either in this world, or in that which is to come.

Chap. XII.] 1 Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, &c.] This maxim ought to be ſtrongly inculcated, and even written with the point of a diamond on the hearts of young perſons; namely, that they would reflect ſo far as to conſider who gave them their being; and what they owe to their great Creator, who, as he is the ſole author of all things that can give any delight to the children of men, ſo he is likewiſe of all the faculties and attainments which render us capable of taking pleaſure in them, as well as the ſole diſpoſer of all opportunities for enjoying theſe delights.

8 Vanity of vanities, ſaith the preacher; all his vanity.] If this be the end of all our labours, I have certainly ſufficient reaſon to conclude this book as I begun it; liſten therefore, I again beſeech you, to him, who proclaims nothing but what he hath ſufficiently proved in this diſcourſe, namely, that no ſolid ſatisfaction can be found in any thing here below; where all things are attended with care and trouble, and at the ſame time uncertain and periſhing: it is therefore the height of folly to ſpend our whole time in providing for the fleeting and unſubſtantial joys of this mortal life, and take no care to lay up treaſures in the happy manſions of the heavenly Jeruſalem.

THE SONG of SOLOMON.

The ARGUMENT.

This book is, by the joint consent of the learned, ascribed to Solomon; and accordingly his name is prefixed to it, both in the title of the Hebrew text and in the ancient Greek version.

The time that this sacred eclogue was written cannot be absolutely determined: but it is very natural to think that Solomon composed it soon after his being seated on the throne of Israel, when the prophecy of his father David was fresh in his mind, and he himself strongly affected with the love of God towards him. For we read that he then was filled with incomparable wisdom from above; such wisdom as brought the queen of Sheba from the uttermost parts of the east; because she understood, that it was not merely natural, like that of the philosophers and Oriental sages, but divine and heavenly, by a special inspiration from above, whereby he was enabled to answer the hardest questions.

CHAP. I.

THE song of songs, which is Solomon's.

2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.

3 Because of the savour of thy good ointments, thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the virgins love thee.

4 Draw me, we will run after thee. The king hath brought me into his chambers: we will be glad and rejoice in thee; we will remember thy love more than wine: the upright love thee.

5 I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomon.

6 Look not upon me, because I am black, because the sun hath looked upon me: my mother's children were angry with me, they made me keeper of the vineyards; but mine own vineyard have I not kept.

7 Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon: for why should I be as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy companions?

8 ¶ If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds tents.

9 I have compared theee, O my love, to a company of horses in Pharaoh's chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.

11 We will make thee borders of gold, with studs of silver.

12 ¶ While the king sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof.

13 A bundle of myrrh is my well beloved unto me: he shall lie all night betwixt my breasts.

14 My beloved is unto me as a cluster of camphire in the vineyards of En-gedi.

15 Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thou hast doves eyes.

16 Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant: also our bed is green.

17 The beams of our house are cedar, and our rafters of fir.

CHAP. II.

I Am the rose of Sharon, and the lily of the vallies.

2 As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters.

3 As the apple-tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons, I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste.

4 He brought me to the banqueting-house, and his banner over me was love.

5 Stay me with flaggons, comfort me with apples: for I am sick of love.

6 His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

8 ¶ The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.

9 My beloved is like a roe, or a young hart: behold, he standeth behind our wall, he looketh forth at the windows, shewing himself through the lattice.

10 My beloved spake, and said unto me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone.

12 The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The fig tree putteth forth her green figs, and the vines with the tender grape give a good smell. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.

14 ¶ O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice: for sweet is thy voice, and thou countenance is comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes that spoil the vines: for our vines have tender grapes.

16 ¶ My beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies.

17 Until the day break, and the shadows flee away: turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe, or a young hart upon the mountains of Bether

CHAP. III.

BY night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise now, and go about the city in the streets, and in the broad ways I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that go about the city, found me: to whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

4 It was but a little that I passed from them, but I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love till he please.

6 ¶ Who is this that cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoak, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold, his bed which is Solomon's, threescore valiant men are about it, of the valiant of Israel.

8 They all hold swords, being expert in war: every man hath his sword upon his thigh, because of fear in the night.

9 King Solomon made himself a chariot of the wood of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottom thereof of gold, the covering of it of purple; the midst thereof being paved with love, for the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

CHAP. IV.

BEhold, thou art fair, my love, behold, thou art fair, thou hast doves eyes within thy locks: thy hair is as a flock of goats, that appear from mount Gilead.

2 Thy

Commentary on the Song of Solomon.

1 The Song of songs, which is Solomon's] The most excellent song that ever Solomon himself composed; representing his ardent desire of enjoying the great blessing of the promised Messiah. The expression song of songs is an Hebraism, and signifies the most excellent song, as the holy of holies is the most holy, and king of kings the greatest king.

2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.] This speech is delivered by Solomon in the person of the virgin daughter of Sion, that is, the church; whom he here introduces, wishing, in the most passionate strain, for some token of the love of her great bridegroom, the prince of peace, which he has expressed under the metaphor of a kiss.

CHAP II.] 1 I am the rose of Sharon, and the lily of the vallies.] The bridegroom now replies to the praises bestowed upon him by the bride in the foregoing chapter. I am indeed the fountain of all true delight and pleasure: the rose of Sharon not being more grateful to the smell, nor the lily of the vallies to the sight, than the knowledge of me is to the minds of those who are acquainted with me.

CHAP. III.] 1 By night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.] I have long searched for him, who, from the descriptions given of him by the prophets, is become the beloved of my soul. But tho' I have sought him with the most anxious attention, in the closest retirements, and searched all the sacred volumes for information; yet after all my care and search, all I can find are predictions and shadows of him, which assure me he will come, but are insufficient to convey an adequate idea of him.

CHAP. IV.] 1 Behold, thou art fair, my love, behold thou art fair, &c.] The spouse of the church is here introduced, describing the beautiful state of it, under the person of a lovely virgin, whose elegant features are particularly represented, to raise admiration and love in others, and to comfort the church, by assuring her of being so amiable in the eyes of him, whom no beauty can please but that which is divine.

CHAP.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep that are even shorn, which came up from the washing: whereof every one bear twins, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy locks.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David builded for an armoury, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men.

5 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies.

6 Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.

7 Thou art all fair, my love, there is no spot in thee.

8 ¶ Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, with me from Lebanon: look from the top of Amana, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the lions dens, from the mountains of the leopards.

9 Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my spouse; thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck.

10 How fair is thy love, my sister, my spouse! how much better is thy love than wine! and the smell of thine ointments than all spices!

11 Thy lips, O my spouse, drop as the honeycomb: honey and milk are under thy tongue, and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

12 A garden inclosed is my sister, my spouse: a spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

13 Thy plants are an orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits, camphire, with spikenard.

14 Spikenard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense, myrrh, and aloes, with all the chief spices.

15 A fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and streams from Lebanon.

16 ¶ Awake, O north-wind, and come thou south, blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out: let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits.

CHAP. V.

I Am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse; I have gathered my myrrh with my spice, I have eaten my honey-comb with my honey, I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, O friends, drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved.

2 ¶ I sleep, but my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night.

3 I have put off my coat, how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet, how shall I defile them?

4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my bowels were moved for him.

5 I rose up to open to my beloved, and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with sweet-smelling myrrh, upon the handles of the lock.

6 I opened to my beloved, but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone: my soul failed when he spake: I sought him, but I could not find him; I called him, but he gave me no answer.

7 The watchmen that went about the city, found me, they smote me, they wounded me; the keepers of the walls took away my veil from me.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him, that I am sick of love.

9 ¶ What is thy beloved, more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? what is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so charge us?

10 My beloved is white and ruddy, the chiefest among ten thousand.

11 His head is as the most fine gold, his locks are bushy, and black as a raven.

12 His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the rivers of waters, washed with milk, and fitly set.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as sweet flowers: his lips like lilies, dropping sweet-smelling myrrh.

14 His hands are as gold-rings set with the beryl: his belly is as bright ivory overlaid with sapphires.

15 His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold: his countenance is as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is most sweet: yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

CHAP. VI.

WHither is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women? whither is thy beloved turned aside? that we may seek him with thee.

2 My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

3 I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.

4 ¶ Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tirza, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.

5 Turn away thine eyes from me, for they have overcome me: thy hair is as a flock of goats that appear from Gilead.

6 Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereof every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.

7 As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.

8 There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, and virgins without number.

9 My dove, my undefiled is but one; she is the only one of her mother, she is the choice one of her that bear her: the daughters saw her, and blessed her; yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10 ¶ Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners?

11 I went down into the garden of nuts to see the fruits of the valley, and to see whether the vine flourished, and the pomegranates budded.

12 Or ever I was aware, my soul made me like the chariots of Ammi-nadib.

13 Return, return, O Shulamite, return, return, that we may look upon thee: what will ye see in the Shulamite? as it were the company of two armies.

CHAP. VII.

HOW beautiful are thy feet with shoes, O prince's daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navel is like a round goblet, which wanteth not liquor: thy belly is like an heap of wheat, set about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins.

4 Thy neck is as a tower of ivory, thine eyes like the fish-pools in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Lebanon, which looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine head upon thee is like Carmel, and the hair of thine head like purple; the king is held in the galleries.

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights!

7 This thy stature is like to a palm-tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

8 I said I will go up to the palm-tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof: now also thy breasts shall be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy nose like apples;

9 And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine, for my beloved that goeth down sweetly, causing the lips of those that are asleep to speak.

10 ¶ I am my beloved's, and his desire is towards me.

11 Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field: let us lodge in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vineyards, let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape appear, and the pomegranates bud forth: there will I give thee my loves.

13 The mandrakes give a smell, and at our gates are all manner of pleasant fruits, new and old, which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

CHAP. VIII.

O That thou wert as my brother that sucked the breasts of my mother; when I should find thee without, I would kiss thee; yea I should not be despised.

2 I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, who would instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine of the juice of my pomegranate.

3 His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me.

4 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love until he please.

5 (Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved?) I raised thee up under the apple-tree: there thy mother brought thee forth, there she brought thee forth that bare thee.

6 ¶ Set

CHAP. V.] 10 My beloved is white and ruddy, the chiefest among ten thousand.] My beloved is that great Son of David, of whom you have so often heard: who is of a princely form, his beauty and sweetness being equally blended with majesty and brightness; dazzling the eyes of all who behold him; chosen by God to do the greatest things, and bring all nations to his obedience.

CHAP. VI.] 2 My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.] To the question of the daughters of Jerusalem, the bride thus replies: I heard my beloved say, that he was gone to that beautiful garden he himself hath planted. There he delights to reside among those pious souls whose virtues render them like the garden-beds that are full of spices: he is always present in every part of this happy company; hath fellowship with them, and is daily adding more and more pure and sincere souls unto this happy, this pious society.

CHAP. VII.] How beautiful are thy feet with shoes, O prince's daughter! &c.] They who so earnestly solicited the return of the spouse, in the conclusion of the former chapter, seem now again to have a view of her; and again praise her perfections in a new method, beginning at the feet, because they saw her in motion, as she went, and as she returned.

6 ¶ Set me as a ſeal upon thine heart, as a ſeal upon thine arm: for love is ſtrong as death, jealouſy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a moſt vehement flame.

7 Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the ſubſtance of his houſe for love, it would utterly be contemned.

8 ¶ We have a little ſiſter, and ſhe hath no breaſts: what ſhall we do for our ſiſter, in the day when ſhe ſhall be ſpoken for?

9 If ſhe be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of ſilver: and if ſhe be a door we will encloſe her with boards of cedar.

10 I am a wall, and my breaſts like towers: then was I in his eyes, as one that found favour.

11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon, he let out the vineyard unto keepers: every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thouſand pieces of ſilver.

12 My vineyard which is mine, is before me: thou, O Solomon, muſt have a thouſand, and thoſe that keep the fruit thereof, two hundred.

13 Thou that dwelleſt in the gardens, the companions hearken to thy voice: cauſe me to hear it.

14 ¶ Make haſte, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe, or to a young hart upon the mountains of ſpices.

14 Make haſte, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe, or to a young hart upon the mountain of ſpices,] I have this requeſt only to be made, that thou, who art my only beloved, wouldeſt come and accompliſh all things: make all poſſible ſpeed to ſave us, and perfect thy loving kindneſs towards us; ſuch ſpeed as the ſwifteſt creatures make to ſave themſelves from danger: let nothing hinder this; but, by thy love, which renders all things ſweet and eaſy, remove every difficulty that hinders our approach to thee, thou kind Redeemer of the ſons of men.

THE Book of the Prophet ISAIAH.

The ARGUMENT.

Iſaiah is the firſt of the four greater prophets; the others being Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Daniel. He was deſcended from the ſon of Amos, brother to Azariah king of Judah; and propheſied from the end of the reign of Uzziah, to the time of Manaſſeh, by whoſe order, according to a Jewiſh tradition, he was ſawn aſunder with a wooden ſaw; and to this tranſaction, the apoſtle to the Hebrews is thought to alude, chap. xi. 37.

He delivered his predictions under the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah.

The ſtile of this prophet is noble, ſublime and florid. Grotius calls him the Demoſthenes of the Hebrews. He had the advantage above all other prophets of improving his diction, by converſing with men of the greateſt parts and elocution. This added a gravity, force, and ſtrength to what he ſaid. He impartially reproved the vices and diſorders of the age he lived in, and openly diſplayed the judgments of God, which were hanging over the Jewiſh nation.

CHAP. I.

THE viſion of Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz, which he ſaw concerning Judah and Jeruſalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 Hear O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the Lord hath ſpoken, I have nouriſhed and brought up children, and they have rebelled againſt me.

3 The ox knoweth his owner, and the aſs his maſter's crib: but Iſrael doth not know, my people doth not conſider.

4 A ſinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a ſeed of evil doers, children that are corrupters, they have forſaken the Lord, they have provoked the holy one of Iſrael unto anger, they are gone away backward.

5 ¶ Why ſhould ye be ſtricken any more? ye will revolt more and more: the whole head is ſick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the ſole of the foot even unto the head, there is no ſoundneſs in it; but wounds and bruiſes, and putrifying ſores: they have not been cloſed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.

7 Your country is deſolate, your cities are burnt with fire: your land ſtrangers devour it in your preſence, and it is deſolate as overthrown by ſtrangers.

8 And

Commentary on the Book of the Prophet Iſaiah.

CHAP. I.] 1 The viſion of Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz.] God made uſe of two general methods of communicating his will to his ſervants, the prophets, namely by dreams and viſions. In the latter the perſon was awake, but his external ſenſes were locked up, and as it were laid in a trance. It is called a viſion, not from any uſe made of corporeal ſight, or that the perſon was entertained with external objects, but from the clearneſs and evidence of the things revealed, and the conformity this kind of inſpiration bears to the intelligence the mind receives from corporeal ſenſation.

10 Hear

8 And the daughter of Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.

9 Except the Lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 ¶ Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah.

11 To what purpose is the multitude of you sacrifices unto me? saith the Lord: I am full of the burnt-offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts, and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats.

12 When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more vain oblations, incense is an abomination unto me, the new-moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies, I cannot away with, it is iniquity, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your new moons, and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a trouble unto me, I am weary to bear them.

15 And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood.

16 ¶ Wash you, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes, cease to do evil.

17 Learn to do well, seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow: though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

21 ¶ How is the faithful city become an harlot! it was full of judgment, righteousness lodged in it; but now murderers.

22 Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies.

25 ¶ And I will turn my hand upon thee, and purely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy tin.

26 And I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called, The city of righteousness, the faithful city.

27 Zion shall be redeemed with judgment, and her converts with righteousness.

28 ¶ And the destruction of the transgressors, and of the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the Lord shall be consumed.

29 For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen.

30 For ye shall be as an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be as tow, and the maker of it as a spark, and they shall both burn together and none shall quench them.

CHAP. II.

THE word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw, concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be, established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills: and all nations shall flow unto it:

3 And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths; for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

4 And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plow-shares, and their spears into pruning hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord.

6 ¶ Therefore thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be replenished from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they please themselves in the children of strangers.

7 Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land is also full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots.

8 Their land also is full of idols: they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made.

9 And the mean man boweth down, and the great man humbleth himself: therefore forgive them not.

10 ¶ Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty.

11 The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of host shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up, and he shall be brought low;

13 And upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan,

14 And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up,

15 And upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall,

16 And upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low: and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols he shall utterly abolish.

19 And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

20 In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made, each one for himself to worship, to the moles, and to the bats.

21 To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

22 Cease ye from man whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

CHAP. III.

FOR behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts doth take away from Jerusalem, and from Judah, the stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water,

2 The mighty man, and the man of war, the judge, and the prophet, and the prudent, and the ancient,

3 The captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counseller, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent orator.

4 And I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable.

6 When a man shall take hold of his brother of the house of his father, saying, Thou hast clothing, be thou our ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand:

7 In that day shall he swear, saying, I will not be an healer; for in my house is neither bread nor clothing; make me not a ruler of the people.

8 For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 ¶ The shew of their countenance doth witness against them, and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not: woe unto their soul, for they have rewarded evil unto themselves.

10 Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings.

11 Woe unto the wicked, it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him.

12 ¶ As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them: O my people, they which lead thee, cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the people.

14 The Lord will enter into judgment with the ancients of his people, and the princes thereof: for ye have eaten up the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

15 What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor? saith the Lord God of hosts.

16 ¶ Moreover the Lord saith, Because the daughters of Zion

---

10 Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom.] The prophet here calls the rulers of Jerusalem the rulers of Sodom; because of their abominable crimes, in which they resembled the inhabitants of that ancient city.

CHAP. II.] 2 And it shall come to pass in the last days.] By the last days are here meant the times of the Messiah; for the Jews commonly divided the times or successions of the world into three ages, or periods: the first before the law; the second under the law; and the third under the Messiah.

4 They shall beat their swords into plough-shares, and their spears into pruning hooks, &c.] Peace is mentioned as the distinguishing character of the Messiah's kingdom; and he is himself called the prince of peace, chap. ix. 6.

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord.] This address of the prophet is directed to the Jews of the last times, those who should live when the glad tidings of the gospel were published.

CHAP. III.] 10, 11 Say ye to the righteous, it shall be well with him, &c.] The prophet here gives us to understand, that God hath appointed a time when he will put a difference between the righteous and the wicked, and reward every man according to his works.

are haughty, and walk with ſtretched-forth necks, and wanton eyes, walking, and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet:

17 Therefore the Lord will ſmite with a ſcab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the Lord will diſcover their ſecret parts.

18 In that day the Lord will take away the bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet, and their cauls, and their round tires like the moon,

19 The chains, and the bracelets, and the mufflers,

20 The bonnets, and the ornaments of the legs, and the head-bands, and the tablets, and the ear-rings.

21 The rings, and noſe-jewels,

22 The changeable ſuits of apparel, and the mantles, and the wimples, and the criſping-pins,

23 The glaſſes, and the fine linen, and the hoods, and the veils.

24 And it ſhall come to paſs, that inſtead of ſweet ſmell, there ſhall be ſtink; and inſtead of a girdle, a rent; and inſtead of well ſet hair, baldneſs; and inſtead of a ſtomacher, a girding of ſack-cloth; and burning inſtead of beauty.

25 Thy men ſhall fall by the ſword, and thy mighty in the war.

26 And her gates ſhall lament and mourn, and ſhe being deſolate, ſhall ſit upon the ground.

CHAP. IV.

AND in that day ſeven women ſhall take hold of one man, ſaying, We will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparel: only let us be called by thy name, to take away our reproach.

2 In that day ſhall the branch of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth ſhall be excellent and comely for them that are eſcaped of Iſrael.

3 And it ſhall come to paſs, that he that it left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jeruſalem, ſhall be called holy, even every one that is written among the living in Jeruſalem.

4 When the Lord ſhall have waſhed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and ſhall have purged the blood of Jeruſalem from the midſt thereof, by the ſpirit of judgment, and by the ſpirit of burning.

5 And the Lord will create upon every dwelling-place of mount Zion, and upon her aſſemblies a cloud, and ſmoak by day, and the ſhining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory ſhall be a defence.

6 And there ſhall be a tabernacle for a ſhadow in the day-time from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from ſtorm and from rain.

CHAP. V.

NOW will I ſing to my well-beloved, a ſong of my beloved touching his vineyard: my well-beloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill.

2 And he fenced it, and gathered out the ſtones thereof, and planted it with the choiceſt vine, and built a tower in the midſt of it, and alſo made a wine-preſs therein: and he looked that it ſhould bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes.

3 And now, O inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard.

4 What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore when I looked that it ſhould bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes?

5 And now go to; I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard; I will take away the hedge thereof, and it ſhall be eaten up: and break down the wall thereof, and it ſhall be trodden down.

6 And I will lay it waſte: it ſhall not be pruned, nor digged, but there ſhall come up briers and thorns: I will alſo command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

7 For the vineyard of the Lord of hoſts is the houſe of Iſrael, and the men of Judah his pleaſant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppreſſion, for righteouſneſs, but behold a cry.

8 ¶ Woe unto them that join houſe to houſe, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midſt of the earth.

9 In mine ears ſaid the Lord of hoſts, Of a truth many houſes ſhall be deſolate, even great and fair without inhabitant.

10 Yea, ten acres of vineyard ſhall yield one bath, and the ſeed of an homer ſhall yield an ephah.

11 ¶ Woe unto them that riſe up early in the morning, that they may follow ſtrong drink, that continue until night, till wine inflame them.

12 And the harp and the viol, the tabret and pipe, and wine are in their feaſts: but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither conſider the operation of his hands.

13 ¶ Therefore my people are gone into captivity, becauſe they have no knowledge: and their honourable men are famiſhed, and their multitude dried up with thirſt.

14 Therefore hell hath enlarged herſelf, and opened her mouth without meaſure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth ſhall deſcend into it.

15 And the mean man ſhall be brought down, and the mighty man ſhall be humbled, and the eyes of the lofty ſhall be humbled.

16 But the Lord of hoſts ſhall be exalted in judgment, and God that is holy, ſhall be ſanctified in righteouſneſs.

17 Then ſhall the lambs feed after their manner, and the waſte places of the fat ones ſhall ſtrangers eat.

18 Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and ſin as it were with a cart-rope;

19 That ſay, Let him make ſpeed, and haſten his work, that we may ſee it: and let the counſel of the holy One of Iſrael draw nigh, and come, that we may know it.

20 ¶ Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkneſs for light, and light for darkneſs; that put bitter for ſweet, and ſweet for bitter.

21 Woe unto them that are wiſe in their own eyes, and prudent in their own ſight.

22 Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of ſtrength to mingle ſtrong drink:

23 Which juſtify the wicked for reward, and take away the righteouſneſs of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the fire devoureth the ſtubble, and the flame conſumeth the chaff, ſo their root ſhall be as rottenneſs, and their bloſſom ſhall go up as duſt: becauſe they have caſt away the law of the Lord of hoſts, and deſpiſed the word of the holy One of Iſrael.

25 Therefore is the anger of the Lord kindled againſt his people, and he hath ſtretched forth his hand againſt them, and hath ſmitten them: and the hills did tremble, and their carcaſes were torn in the midſt of the ſtreets: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

26 ¶ And he will lift up an enſign to the nations from far, and will hiſs unto them from the end of the earth: and behold, they ſhall come with ſpeed ſwiftly.

27 None ſhall be weary nor ſtumble amongſt them: none ſhall ſlumber nor ſleep: neither ſhall the girdle of their loins be looſed, nor the latchet of their ſhoes be broken.

28 Whoſe arrows are ſharp, and all their bows bent, their horſes hoofs ſhall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind.

29 Their roaring ſhall be like a lion, they ſhall roar like young lions: yea, they ſhall roar and lay hold of the prey, and ſhall carry it away ſafe, and none ſhall deliver it.

30 And in that day they ſhall roar againſt them, like the roaring of the ſea: and if one look unto the land, behold darkneſs and ſorrow, and the light is darkened in the heavens thereof.

CHAP. VI.

IN the year that king Uzziah died, I ſaw alſo the Lord ſitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple.

2 Above it ſtood the ſeraphims: each one had ſix wings; with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly.

3 And one cried unto another, and ſaid, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hoſts, the whole earth is full of his glory.

4 And the poſts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the houſe was filled with ſmoke.

5 ¶ Then ſaid I, Woe is me, for I am undone, becauſe I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midſt of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have ſeen the king, the Lord of hoſts.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims unto me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar.

7 And he laid it upon my mouth, and ſaid, Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy ſin purged.

8 Alſo I heard the voice of the Lord, ſaying, Whom ſhall I ſend, and who will go for us? Then ſaid I, Here am I, ſend me.

9 ¶ And he ſaid, Go and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but underſtand not; and ſee ye indeed, but perceive not.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and ſhut their eyes: leſt they ſee with their eyes, and hear with their

26 Her gates ſhall lament and mourn, and ſhe being deſolate ſhall ſit upon the ground.] The gates are ſaid, in the prophetic ſtile, to lament and mourn, when no man paſſes through them, and the courts of juſtice that uſed to be kept there are ſhut up. And ſitting upon the ground is a token of the deepeſt mourning and lamentation; ſo that Jeruſalem is here deſcribed as a woman bereaved of her children, and lamenting over them in this melancholy poſture.

CHAP. IV.] 2 In the day ſhall the branch of the Lord be beautiful and glorious.] The Meſſiah is often called the branch in the prophecies of the Old Teſtament, and the church the branch of God's planting. See chap. lx. 21.

CHAP. V.] 1 Now will I ſing to my well-beloved, a ſong of my beloved, &c.] The Hebrew words Jedidi and Dadi, which we render beloved and well-beloved, are here ſpoken of the ſame perſon, the Meſſiah.

26 And he ſhall lift up an enſign to the nation from far, &c.] It was the cuſtom of the Eaſt at this time, to ſet up a ſtandard as a ſign for armies to aſſemble. And in this, the prophet foretels that God would gather the nations that live afar off to fight againſt Jeruſalem: a threatening that was fulfilled by the armies of Nebuchadnezzar.

CHAP. VI.] 1 I ſaw alſo the Lord ſitting upon a throne, &c.] That is, I ſaw the divine Shekinah, or glory of the Lord, as St. John explains it, John xii. 41. who alſo aſſures us, that this was the Logos, or ſecond perſon in the bleſſed Trinity who now appeared, the viſion having a particular relation to the times of the goſpel.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, &c.] In the oriental languages, a fat heart is a metaphorical expreſſion, denoting a proud, ſenſual, ſtubborn diſpoſition.

CHA

their ears, and underſtand with their heart, and convert, and be healed.

11 Then ſaid I, Lord, how long? And he anſwered, Until the cities be waſted without inhabitant, and the houſes without man, and the land be utterly deſolate, 12 And the Lord have removed men far away, and there be a great forſaking in the midſt of the land.

13 ¶ But yet in it ſhall be a tenth, and it ſhall return, and ſhall be eaten: as a teil-tree, and as an oak whoſe ſubſtance is in them, when they caſt their leaves: ſo the holy ſeed ſhall be the ſubſtance thereof.

CHAP. VII.

AND it came to paſs in the days of Ahaz the ſon of Jotham, the ſon of Uzziah king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the ſon of Remaliah, king of Iſrael, went up toward Jeruſalem to war againſt it, but could not prevail againſt it.

2 And it was told the houſe of David, ſaying, Syria is confederate with Ephraim. And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people as the trees of the wood are moved with the wind.

3 Then ſaid the Lord unto Iſaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and Shearjaſhub thy ſon, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool in the high way of the fuller's field:

4 And ſay unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither be faint-hearted for the two tails of theſe ſmoaking fire-brands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the ſon of Remaliah:

5 Becauſe Syria, Ephraim, and the ſon of Remaliah have taken evil counſel againſt thee, ſaying,

6 Let us go up againſt Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and ſet a king in the midſt of it, even the ſon of Tabeal.

7 Thus ſaith the Lord God, It ſhall not ſtand, neither ſhall it come to paſs.

8 For the head of Syria is Damaſcus, and the head of Damaſcus is Rezin; and within threeſcore and five years ſhall Ephraim be broken, that it be not a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's ſon: If ye will not believe, ſurely ye ſhall not be eſtabliſhed.

10 ¶ Moreover, the Lord ſpake again unto Ahaz, ſaying,

11 Aſk thee a ſign of the Lord thy God, aſk it either in the depth, or in the height above.

12 But Ahaz ſaid, I will not aſk, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 And he ſaid, Hear ye now, O houſe of David, Is it a ſmall thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God alſo?

14 Therefore the Lord himſelf ſhall give you a ſign, Behold, a virgin ſhall conceive and bear a ſon, and ſhall call his name Immanuel.

15 Butter and honey ſhall he eat, that he may know to refuſe the evil, and chooſe the good.

16 For before the child ſhall know to refuſe the evil, and chooſe the good, the land that thou abhorreſt ſhall be forſaken of both her kings.

17 ¶ The Lord ſhall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's houſe, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Aſſyria.

18 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the Lord ſhall hiſs for the fly, that is in the uttermoſt part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Aſſyria.

19 And they ſhall come, and ſhall reſt all of them in the deſolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all buſhes.

20 In the ſame day ſhall the Lord ſhave with a razor that is hired, namely, by them beyond the river, by the king of Aſſyria, the head, and the hair of the feet: and it ſhall alſo conſume the beard.

21 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that a man ſhall nouriſh a young cow, and two ſheep:

22 And it ſhall come to paſs for the abundance of milk that they ſhall give, that he ſhall eat butter: for butter and honey ſhall every one eat that is left in the land.

23 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that every place ſhall be, where there were a thouſand vines, at a thouſand ſilverlings, it ſhall even be for briers and thorns.

24 With arrows and with bows ſhall men come thither; becauſe all the land ſhall become briers and thorns.

25 And on all hills, that ſhall be digged with the mattock, there ſhall not come thither the fear of briers and thorns: but it ſhall be for the ſending forth of oxen, and for the treading of leſſer cattle.

CHAP. VIII.

MOreover, the Lord ſaid unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen, concerning Maher-ſhalal-haſh-baz.

2 And I took unto me faithful witneſſes to record, Uriah the prieſt, and Zechariah the ſon of Jeberechiah.

3 And I went unto the propheteſs, and ſhe conceived and bare a ſon; then ſaid the Lord to me, Call his name Maher-ſhalal-haſh-baz.

4 For before the child ſhall have knowledge to cry, My father and my mother, the riches of Damaſcus, and the ſpoil of Samaria ſhall be taken away before the king of Aſſyria.

5 ¶ The Lord ſpake alſo unto me again, ſaying,

6 Foraſmuch as this people refuſeth the waters of Shiloah that go ſoftly, and rejoice in Rezin, and Remaliah's ſon:

7 Now therefore behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the river, ſtrong and many, even the king of Aſſyria, and all his glory: and he ſhall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks.

8 And he ſhall paſs through Judah, he ſhall overflow and go over, he ſhall reach even to the neck, and the ſtretching out of his wings ſhall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.

9 ¶ Aſſociate yourſelves, O ye people, and ye ſhall be broken in pieces: and give ear all ye of far countries: gird yourſelves, and ye ſhall be broken in pieces; gird yourſelves, and ye ſhall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counſel together, and it ſhall come to nought; ſpeak the word, and it ſhall not ſtand: for God is with us.

11 ¶ For the Lord ſpake thus to me with a ſtrong hand, and inſtructed me that I ſhould not walk in the way of this people, ſaying, 12 Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people ſhall ſay, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.

13 Sanctify the Lord of hoſts himſelf, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And he ſhall be for a ſanctuary; but for a ſtone of ſtumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houſes of Iſrael, for a gin, and for a ſnare to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

15 And many among them ſhall ſtumble and fall, and be broken, and be ſnared, and be taken.

16 Bind up the teſtimony, ſeal the law among my diſciples.

17 And I will wait upon the Lord that hideth his face from the houſe of Jacob, and I will look for him.

18 Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me, are for ſigns, and for wonders in Iſrael; from the Lord of hoſts which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 ¶ And when they ſhall ſay unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar ſpirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: ſhould not a people ſeek unto their God? for the living, to the dead?

20 To the law and to the teſtimony: if they ſpeak not according to this word, it is becauſe there is no light in them.

21 And they ſhall paſs through it, hardly beſtead and hungry: and it ſhall come to paſs, that when they ſhall be hungry, they ſhall fret themſelves, and curſe their king, and their God, and look upward.

22 And they ſhall look unto the earth: and behold, trouble and darkneſs, dimneſs of anguiſh; and they ſhall be driven to darkneſs.

CHAP. IX.

NEvertheleſs, the dimneſs ſhall not be ſuch as was in her vexation, when at the firſt he lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, and afterward did more grievouſly afflict her by the way of the ſea, beyond Jordan in Galilee of the nations.

2 The people that walked in darkneſs, have ſeen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the ſhadow of death, upon them hath the light ſhined.

3 Thou haſt multiplied the nation, and not increaſed the joy: they joy before thee, according to the joy in harveſt, and as men rejoice when they divide the ſpoil.

4 For thou haſt broken the yoke of his burden, and the ſtaff of his ſhoulder, the rod of his oppreſſor, as in the day of Midian.

5 For every battle of the warrior is with confuſed noiſe, and garments rolled in blood, but this ſhall be with burning and fuel of fire.

6 For unto us a child is born, unto us a ſon is given, and the government ſhall be upon his ſhoulder: and his name ſhall be called,

---

CHAP. VII.] 14 Behold a virgin ſhall conceive and bear a ſon.] Chriſt is called the ſeed of the woman by way of diſtinction, Gen. iii. 14. as he was not to be born according to the ordinary method of generation.

20 In the ſame day ſhall the Lord ſhave with a razor, that is hired, &c.] It was a cuſtom among the inhabitants of the Eaſt to ſhave their heads on any mournful occaſion, and is thence uſed metaphorically to ſignify any great calamity.

CHAP. VIII.] 1 Maher-ſhalal-haſh-baz.] This compound word ſignifies to run ſwiftly to the ſpoil, and make haſte to the prey; denoting the ſpeedy deſtruction of the confederate kings of Samaria and Damaſcus.

18 Behold, I and the children, whom the Lord hath given me, are for ſigns, and for wonders in Iſrael, from the Lord of hoſts.] Theſe words are ſpoken by the prophet in the perſon of Chriſt, whom he here repreſents; and ſignify, that he and his children were remarkable for being viſible pledges of God's promiſes, and remembrancers of his veracity and the people's duty.

CHAP. IX.] 1 By the way of the ſea, beyond Jordan in Galilee of the nations.] By the ſea is meant the ſea of Galilee, or ſea of Tiberias, great lakes being called ſeas in the Hebrew.

6 For unto us a child is born.] This prophecy is, by the beſt interpreters, applied to Chriſt; and, indeed, it cannot, with any ſhew of propriety, be aſcribed to any other, the titles given to this child being proper only for the Great Son of David, who was to ſave his people from their ſins.

Coun-

led, Wonderful, Counſellor, The mighty God, The Everlaſting Father, The Prince of peace.

7 Of the increaſe of his government and peace there ſhall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom to order it, and to eſtabliſh it with judgment and with juſtice, from henceforth even for ever: the zeal of the Lord of hoſts will perform this.

8 The Lord ſent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Iſrael.

9 And all the people ſhall know even Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria, that ſay in the pride and ſtoutneſs of heart,

10 The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn ſtones: the ſycomores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Therefore the Lord ſhall ſet up the adverſaries of Rezin againſt him, and join his enemies together.

12 The Syrians before, and the Philiſtines behind, and they ſhall devour Iſrael with open mouth: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

13 ¶ For the people turneth not unto him that ſmiteth them, neither do they ſeek the Lord of hoſts.

14 Therefore the Lord will cut off from Iſrael head and tail, branch and ruſh in one day.

15 The antient and honourable, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.

16 For the leaders of this people cauſe them to err, and they that are led of them are deſtroyed.

17 Therefore the Lord ſhall have no joy in their young men, neither ſhall have mercy on their fatherleſs and widows: for every one is an hypocrite, and an evil doer, and every mouth ſpeaketh folly: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

18 ¶ For wickedneſs burneth as the fire: it ſhall devour the briers and thorns, and ſhall kindle in the thickets of the foreſt, and they ſhall mount up like the lifting up of ſmoke.

19 Through the wrath of the Lord of hoſts is the land darkened, and the people ſhall be as the fuel of the fire: no man ſhall ſpare his brother.

20 And he ſhall ſnatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he ſhall eat on the left hand, and they ſhall not be ſatisfied: they ſhall eat every man the fleſh of his own arm.

21 Manaſſeh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manaſſeh: and they together ſhall be againſt Judah: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

CHAP. X.

WOE unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and that write grievouſneſs which they have preſcribed:

2 To turn aſide the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherleſs.

3 And what will ye do in the day of viſitation, and in the deſolation which ſhall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory?

4 Without me they ſhall bow down under the priſoners, and they ſhall fall under the ſlain: for all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

5 ¶ O Aſſyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the ſtaff in their hand is mine indignation.

6 I will ſend him againſt an hypocritical nation; and againſt the people of my wrath will I give him a charge to take the ſpoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the ſtreets.

7 Howbeit, he meaneth not ſo, neither doth his heart think ſo, but it is in his heart to deſtroy, and cut off nations not a few.

8 For he ſaith, Are not my princes altogether kings?

9 Is not Calno, as Carchemiſh? is not Hamath, as Arpad? is not Samaria, as Damaſcus?

10 As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, and whoſe graven images did excel them of Jeruſalem, and of Samaria:

11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, ſo do to Jeruſalem and her idols?

12 Wherefore it ſhall come to paſs, that when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion, and on Jeruſalem, I will puniſh the fruit of the ſtout heart of the king of Aſſyria, and the glory of his high looks.

13 For he ſaith, By the ſtrength of my hand I have done it, and by my wiſdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treaſures, and I have put down the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And my hand hath found as a neſt the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth, and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.

15 Shall the axe boaſt itſelf againſt him that heweth therewith? or ſhall the ſaw magnify itſelf againſt him that ſhaketh it? as if the rod ſhould ſhake itſelf againſt them that liſt it up, or as if the ſtaff ſhould lift up itſelf, as if it were no wood.

16 Therefore ſhall the Lord, the Lord of hoſts, ſend among his fat ones, leanneſs, and under his glory he ſhall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.

17 And the light of Iſrael ſhall be for a fire, and his holy One for a flame: and it ſhall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day;

18 And ſhall conſume the glory of his foreſt, and of his fruitful field, both ſoul and body: and they ſhall be as when a ſtandard-bearer fainteth.

19 And the reſt of the trees of his foreſt ſhall be few, that a child may write them.

20 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the remnant of Iſrael, and ſuch as are eſcaped of the houſe of Jacob, ſhall no more again ſtay upon him that ſmote them: but ſhall ſtay upon the Lord, the holy One of Iſrael, in truth.

21 The remnant ſhall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God.

22 For though thy people Iſrael be as the ſand of the ſea, yet a remnant of them ſhall return: the conſumption decreed ſhall overflow with righteouſneſs.

23 For the Lord God of hoſts ſhall make a conſumption, even determined in the midſt of all the land.

24 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God of hoſts, O my people that dwelleſt in Zion, be not afraid of the Aſſyrian: he ſhall ſmite thee with a rod, and ſhall lift up his ſtaff againſt thee, after the manner of Egypt.

25 For yet a very little while, and the indignation ſhall ceaſe, and mine anger in their deſtruction.

26 And the Lord of hoſts ſhall ſtir up a ſcourge for him, according to the ſlaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb: and as his rod was upon the ſea, ſo ſhall he lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

27 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that his burden ſhall be taken away from off thy ſhoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke ſhall be deſtroyed becauſe of the anointing.

28 He is come to Aiath, he is paſſed to Migron: at Michmaſh he hath laid up his carriages.

29 They are gone over the paſſage: they have taken up their lodging at Geba, Ramah is afraid, Gibeah of Saul is fled.

30 Lift up thy voicee, O daughter of Gallim: cauſe it to be heard unto, Laiſh, O poor Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is removed, the inhabitants of Gebim gather themſelves to flee.

32 As yet ſhall he remain at Nob that day: he ſhall ſhake his hand againſt the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jeruſalem.

33 Behold, the Lord, the Lord of hoſts ſhall lop the bow with terror: and the high ones of ſtature ſhall be hewn down, and the haughty ſhall be humbled.

34 And he ſhall cut down the thickets of the foreſts with iron, and Lebanon ſhall fall by a mighty one.

CHAP. XI.

AND there ſhall come forth a rod out of the ſtem of Jeſſe, and a branch ſhall grow out of his roots.

2 And the ſpirit of the Lord ſhall reſt upon him, the ſpirit of wiſdom and underſtanding, the ſpirit of counſel and might, the ſpirit of knowledge, and of the fear of the Lord:

3 And ſhall make him of quick underſtanding in the fear of the Lord, and he ſhall not judge after the ſight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears.

4 But with righteouſneſs ſhall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he ſhall ſmite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips ſhall he ſlay the wicked.

5 And righteouſneſs ſhall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulneſs the girdle of his reins.

6 The wolf alſo ſhall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard ſhall lie down with the kid: and the calf, and the young lion, and the fatling together, and a little child ſhall lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear ſhall feed, their young ones ſhall lie down together: and the lion ſhall eat ſtraw like the ox.

8 And the ſucking child ſhall play on the hole of the aſp, and the weaned child ſhall put his hand on the cockatrice den.

9 They ſhall not hurt nor deſtroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth ſhall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the ſea.

10 ¶ And

Counſellor.] That is, acquainted with all the councils and decrees of Omnipotence, thoſe eternal purpoſes which he purpoſed in Chriſt our Lord, Eph. iii. 10.

The mighty God.] The very ſame expreſſion is uſed of the God of Iſrael, chap. x. 21. Chriſt is alſo ſtiled the Almighty, Rev. i. 8.

The everlaſting Father.] Or, to uſe the expreſſion of St. Paul, The author of eternal ſalvation, Heb. v. 9.

The prince of peace.] This title, in a peculiar manner, belongs to Chriſt, who laid down his life to procure the peace of all the ſons of Adam, which they, by their enormous crimes had forfeited with their Great Creator.

10 ¶ And in that day there ſhall be a root of Jeſſe, which ſhall ſtand for an enſign of the people; to it ſhall the Gentiles ſeek, and his reſt ſhall be glorious.

11 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the Lord ſhall ſet his hand again the ſecond time, to recover the remnant of his people which ſhall be left, from Aſſyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cuſh, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the iſlands of the ſea.

12 And he ſhall ſet up an enſign for the nations, and ſhall aſſemble the outcaſts of Iſrael, and gather together the diſperſed of Judah, from the four corners of the earth.

13 The envy alſo of Ephraim ſhall depart, and the adverſaries of Judah ſhall be cut off: Ephraim ſhall not envy Judah, and Judah ſhall not vex Ephraim.

14 But they ſhall fly upon the ſhoulders of the Philiſtines toward the weſt, they ſhall ſpoil them of the eaſt together: they ſhall lay their hand upon Edom and Moab, and the children of Ammon ſhall obey them.

15 And the Lord ſhall utterly deſtroy the tongue of the Egyptian ſea, and with his mighty wind ſhall he ſhake his hand over the river, and ſhall ſmite it in the ſeven ſtreams, and make men go over dry-ſhod.

16 And there ſhall be an high-way for the remnant of his people, which ſhall be left from Aſſyria, like as it was to Iſrael in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

AND in that day thou ſhalt ſay, O Lord, I will praiſe thee: though thou waſt angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and comfortedſt me.

2 Behold, God is my ſalvation: I will truſt, and not be afraid; for the Lord Jehova is my ſtrength and my ſong, he alſo is become my ſalvation.

3 Therefore with joy ſhall ye draw water out of the wells of ſalvation.

4 And in that day ſhall ye ſay, Praiſe the Lord, call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the Lord; for he hath done excellent things; this is known in all the earth.

6 Cry out and ſhout, thou inhabitant of Zion: for great is the holy One of Iſrael in the midſt of thee.

CHAP. XIII.

THE burden of Babylon, which Iſaiah the ſon Amoz did ſee.

2 Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountain, exalt the voice unto them, ſhake the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded my ſanctified ones, I have alſo called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them that rejoice in my highneſs.

4 The noiſe of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people: a tumultuous noiſe of the kingdoms of nations gathered together: the Lord of hoſts muſtereth the hoſt of the battle.

5 They come from a far country, from the end of heaven, even the Lord, and the weapons of his indignation, to deſtroy the whole land.

6 Howl ye, for the day of the Lord is at hand; it ſhall come as a deſtruction from the Almighty.

7 Therefore ſhall all hands be faint, and every man's heart ſhall melt:

8 And they ſhall be afraid: pangs and ſorrows ſhall take hold of them, they ſhall be in pain as a woman that travaileth: they ſhall be amazed one at another, their faces ſhall be as flames.

9 Behold the day of the Lord cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land deſolate; and he ſhall deſtroy the ſinners thereof out of it.

10 For the ſtars of heaven, and the conſtellations thereof ſhall not give their light: the ſun ſhall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon ſhall not cauſe her light to ſhine.

11 And I will puniſh the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cauſe the arrogancy of the proud to ceaſe, and will lay low the haughtineſs of the terrible.

12 I will make a man more precious than fine gold; even a man than the golden wedge of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will ſhake the heavens, and the earth ſhall remove out of her place, in the wrath of the Lord of hoſts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it ſhall be as the chaſed roe, and as a ſheep that no man taketh up: they ſhall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.

15 Every one that is found ſhall be thruſt through; and every one that is joined unto them, ſhall fall by the ſword.

16 Their children alſo ſhall be daſhed to pieces before their eyes; their houſes ſhall be ſpoiled, and their wives raviſhed.

17 Behold, I will ſtir up the Medes againſt them, which ſhall not regard ſilver, and as for gold they ſhall not delight in it.

18 Their bows alſo ſhall daſh the young men to pieces, and they ſhall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye ſhall not ſpare children.

19 ¶ And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees excellency, ſhall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It ſhall never be inhabited, neither ſhall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither ſhall the Arabian pitch tent there, neither ſhall the ſhepherds make their fold there.

21 But wild beaſts of the deſert ſhall lie there; and their houſes ſhall be full of doleful creatures, and owls ſhall dwell there, and ſatyrs ſhall dance there.

22 And the wild beaſts of the iſlands ſhall cry in their deſolate houſes, and dragons in their pleaſant palaces: and her time is near to come, and her days ſhall not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIV.

FOR the Lord will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet chooſe Iſrael, and ſet them in their own land: and the ſtrangers ſhall be joined with them, and they ſhall cleave to the houſe of Jacob.

2 And the people ſhall take them, and bring them to their place: and the houſe of Iſrael ſhall poſſeſs them in the land of the Lord, for ſervants and handmaids: and they ſhall take them captives, whoſe captives they were; and they ſhall rule over their oppreſſors.

3 And it ſhall come to paſs in the day that the Lord ſhall give thee reſt from thy ſorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou waſt made to ſerve,

4 ¶ That thou ſhalt take up this proverb againſt the king of Babylon, and ſay, How hath the oppreſſor ceaſed! the golden city ceaſed!

5 The Lord hath broken the ſtaff of the wicked, and the ſceptre of the rulers.

6 He who ſmote the people in wrath with a continual ſtroke; he that ruled the nations in anger, is perſecuted, and none hindereth.

7 The whole earth is at reſt and is quiet: they break forth into ſinging.

8 Yea, the fir-trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, ſaying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up againſt us.

9 Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming: it ſtirreth up the dead for thee, even all the chief ones of the earth; it hath raiſed up from their thrones all the kings of the nations.

10 All they ſhall ſpeak and ſay unto thee, Art thou alſo become weak as we? art thou become like unto us?

11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noiſe of thy viols: the worm is ſpread under thee, and the worms cover thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, ſon of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didſt weaken the nations!

13 For thou haſt ſaid in thine heart, I will aſcend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the ſtars of God: I will ſit alſo upon the mount of the congregation, in the ſides of the north.

14 I will aſcend above the heights of the clouds, I will be like the moſt High.

15 Yet thou ſhalt be brought down to hell, to the ſides of the pit.

16 They that ſee thee, ſhall narrowly look upon thee, and conſider thee, ſaying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did ſhake kingdoms?

17 That made the world as a wilderneſs, and deſtroyed the cities thereof, that opened not the houſe of his priſoners?

18 All the kings of the nations, even all of them lie in glory, every one in his own houſe.

19 But thou art caſt out of thy grave, like an abominable branch: and as the raiment of thoſe that are ſlain, thruſt through with a ſword, that go down to the ſtones of the pit, as a carcaſe trodden under feet.

20 Thou

10 And in that day there ſhall be a root of Jeſſe.] The Hebrew word ſhoreſh ſignifies both a root and a branch growing out of a root, and ſhould rather have been here tranſlated a branch or tender plant.

CHAP. XII.] 3 Therefore with joy ſhall ye draw water out of the wells of ſalvation.] The ancient Jews uſed to repeat this verſe when, with a great deal of joy and ceremony, they drew water out of the river Shiloah, upon the laſt day of the feaſt of tabernacles.

CHAP. XIII.] 1 The burden of Babylon.] A burden in the languages of the eaſt, ſignifies a burdenſome prophecy, threatening ruin and deſtruction: ſo 10 For the ſtars of heaven, and the conſtellations thereof ſhall not give their light, &c.] Expreſſions of this kind in ſcripture, always denote great calamity and particularly the downfal of ſtates and kingdoms; princes and rulers being often repreſented by the ſun, the moon, and the ſtars.

19 And Babylon the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees excellency, &c.] Babylon according to the account of prophane writers, was of amazing extent, the moſt moderate accounts making the walls forty-five miles in circuit.

CHAP. XIV.] 9 Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming, The &c.] Hebrew word ſhoel, here rendered hell, ſignifies the ſtate of the dead in general, and is indifferently applied to the good and bad. Here it is uſed in the worſt ſenſe, and denotes the infernal manſions of deceaſed tyrants.

13 I will ſit alſo upon the mount of the congregation, in the ſides of the north.] I will ſit in the temple of God, which was built on mount Moriah, and on the north ſide of Jeruſalem.

20 Thou ſhalt not be joined with them in burial, becauſe thou haſt deſtroyed thy land, and ſlain thy people: the ſeed of evil doers ſhall never be renowned.

21 Prepare ſlaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers; that they do not riſe, nor poſſeſs the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities.

22 For I will riſe up againſt them, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and cut off from Babylon the name, and remnant, and ſon, and nephew, ſaith the Lord.

23 I will alſo make it a poſſeſſion for the bittern, and pools of water: and I will ſweep it with the beſom of deſtruction, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

24 ¶ The Lord of hoſts hath ſworn, ſaying, Surely as I have thought, ſo ſhall it come to paſs; and as I have purpoſed, ſo ſhall it ſtand:

25 That I will break the Aſſyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then ſhall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their ſhoulders.

26 This is the purpoſe that is purpoſed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is ſtretched out upon all the nations.

27 For the Lord of hoſts hath purpoſed, and who ſhall diſannul it? and his hand is ſtretched out, and who ſhall turn it back?

28 In the year that king Ahaz died, was this burden.

29 Rejoice not thou, whole Paleſtina, becauſe the rod of him that ſmote thee is broken: for out of the ſerpents root ſhall come forth a cockatrice, and his fruit ſhall be a fiery flying ſerpent.

30 And the firſt-born of the poor ſhall feed, and the needy ſhall lie down in ſafety: and I will kill thy root with famine: and he ſhall ſlay thy remnant.

31 Howl, O gate; cry, O city, thou whole Paleſtina art diſſolved: for there ſhall come from the north a ſmoke, and none ſhall be alone in his appointed times.

32 What ſhall one then anſwer the meſſengers of the nation? That the Lord hath founded Zion, and the poor of his people ſhall truſt in it.

CHAP. XV.

THE burden of Moab. Becauſe in the night Ar of Moab is laid waſte, and brought to ſilence; becauſe in the night Kir of Moab is laid waſte, and brought to ſilence:

2 He is gone up to Bajith, and to Dibon, the high places, to weep: Moab ſhall howl over Nebo, and over Medeba, on all their heads ſhall be baldneſs, and every beard cut off.

3 In their ſtreets they ſhall gird themſelves with ſackcloth: on the tops of their houſes, and in their ſtreets every one ſhall howl, weeping abundantly.

4 And Heſhbon ſhall cry, and Elealeh: their voice ſhall be heard even unto Jahaz: therefore the armed ſoldiers of Moab ſhall cry out, his life ſhall be grievous unto him.

5 My heart ſhall cry out for Moab, his fugitives ſhall flee unto unto Zoar, an heifer of three years old: for by the mounting up of Luhith, with weeping ſhall they go it up: for in the way of Horonaim they ſhall raiſe up a cry of deſtruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim ſhall be deſolate: for the hay is withered away, the graſs faileth, there is no green thing.

7 Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, ſhall they carry away to the brook of the willows.

8 For the cry is gone round about the borders of Moab; the howling thereof unto Eglaim, and the howling thereof unto Beer-elim.

9 For the waters of Dimon ſhall be full of blood: for I will bring more upon Dimon, lions upon him that eſcapeth of Moab, and upon the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

SEND ye the lamb to the ruler of the land from Sela to the wilderneſs, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion.

2 For it ſhall be that as a wandring bird caſt out of the neſt: ſo the daughters of Moab ſhall be at the fords of Arnon.

3 Take counſel, execute judgment, make thy ſhadow as the night in the midſt of the noon-day, hide the outcaſts, bewray not him that wandreth.

4 Let mine outcaſts dwell with thee, Moab, be thou a covert to them from the face of the ſpoiler: for the extortioner is at an end, the ſpoiler ceaſeth, the oppreſſors are conſumed out of the land.

5 And in mercy ſhall the throne be eſtabliſhed, and he ſhall ſit upon it in truth, in the tabernacle of David, judging, and ſeeking judgment, and haſting righteouſneſs.

6 ¶ We have heard of the pride of Moab (he is very proud) even of his haughtineſs and his pride, and his wrath: but his lyes ſhall not be ſo.

7 Therefore ſhall Moab howl for Moab, every one ſhall howl: for the foundations of Kir-hareſeth ſhall ye mourn, ſurely they are ſtricken.

8 For the fields of Heſhbon languiſh, and the vine of Sibmah, the lords of the heathen have broken down the principal plants thereof, they are come even unto Jazer, they wandered through the wilderneſs, her branches are ſtretched out, they are gone over the ſea.

9 ¶ Therefore I will bewail with the weeping of Jazer, the vine of Sibmah: I will water thee with my tears, O Heſhbon, and Elealeth: for the ſhouting of thy ſummer-fruits, and for thy harveſt, is fallen.

10 And gladneſs is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field, and in the vineyards there ſhall be no ſinging, neither ſhall there be ſhouting: the treaders ſhall tread out no wine in their preſſes; I have made their vintage-ſhouting to ceaſe.

11 Wherefore my bowels ſhall ſound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-hareſh.

12 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſs, when it is ſeen that Moab is weary on the high place, that he ſhall come to his ſanctuary to pray, but he ſhall not prevail.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath ſpoken concerning Moab ſince that time.

14 But now the Lord hath ſpoken, ſaying, Within three years, as the years of an hireling, and the glory of Moab ſhall be contemned, with all that great multitude; and the remnant ſhall be very ſmall and feeble.

CHAP. XVII.

THE burden of Damaſcus. Behold, Damaſcus is taken away from being a city, and it ſhall be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of Aroer are forſaken; they ſhall be for flocks which ſhall lie down, and none ſhall make them afraid.

3 The fortreſs alſo ſhall ceaſe from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damaſcus, and the remnant of Syria: they ſhall be as the glory of the children of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

4 And in that day it ſhall come to paſs, that the glory of Jacob ſhall be made thin, and the fatneſs of his fleſh ſhall wax lean.

5 And it ſhall be as when the harveſt-man gathereth the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm; and it ſhall be as he that gathereth the ears in the valley of Rephaim.

6 ¶ Yet gleaning grapes ſhall be left in it, as the ſhaking of an olive-tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermoſt bough, four or five in the outmoſt fruitful branches thereof, ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael.

7 At that day ſhall a man look to his maker, and his eyes ſhall have reſpect to the holy One of Iſrael.

8 And he ſhall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither ſhall reſpect that which his fingers have made, either the groves or the images.

9 ¶ In that day ſhall his ſtrong cities be as a forſaken bough, and an uppermoſt branch which they left, becauſe of the children of Iſrael: and there ſhall be deſolation.

10 Becauſe thou haſt forgotten the God of thy ſalvation, and haſt not been mindful of the rock of thy ſtrength: therefore ſhalt thou plant pleaſant plants, and ſhalt ſet it with ſtrange ſlips:

11 In the day ſhalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning ſhalt thou make thy ſeed to flouriſh: but the harveſt ſhall be a heap in the day of grief, and of deſperate ſorrow.

12 ¶ Wo to the multitude of many people, which make a noiſe like the noiſe of the ſeas; and to the ruſhing of nations, that make a ruſhing like the ruſhing of mighty waters.

13 The nations ſhall ruſh like the ruſhing of many waters: but God ſhall rebuke them, and they ſhall flee far off, and ſhall be chaſed as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like a rolling thing before the whirlwind.

14 And behold, at evening-tide trouble, and before the morning he is not: this is the portion of them that ſpoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

CHAP. XVIII.

WO to the land ſhadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia:

2 That ſendeth ambaſſadors by the ſea, even in veſſels of bulruſhes upon the waters, ſaying, Go ye ſwift meſſengers to a nation ſcattered and peeled, to a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden down, whoſe land the rivers have ſpoiled.

CHAP. XV.] 6 For the waters of Nimrim ſhall be deſolate: for the hay is withered away, &c.] Nimrim was noted for good paſture, and meadows well watered, Num. xxxii. 3. 36. but ſhall now be trodden down and deſtroyed, as if burnt up by a dry ſeaſon.

CHAP. XVI.] 4 For the extortioner is at an end, the ſpoiler ceaſeth, the oppreſſors are conſumed out of the land.] This ſhews the foregoing expreſſions to be ironical, as if the prophet had ſaid, to have ſhewed ſuch kindneſs to us in the time of our diſtreſs would have been thankfully accepted, but now, by the favour of the Almighty, we have no farther need of your aſſiſtance.

CHAP. XVII.] 4 The glory of Jacob ſhall be made thin, and the fatneſs of his fleſh ſhall wax lean.] Jacob here ſignifies Iſrael, and is uſed to denote the ten tribes. God's judgments are often denoted by leanneſs; becauſe, like a conſumption they waſte the ſtrength.

CHAP. XVIII.] 1 Wo unto the land ſhadowing with wings, &c.] This deſcription is generally allowed to ſignify Egypt. But the word Tſiltſil, which we render ſhadowing, properly ſignifies a ſort of timbrel, called in Latin ſiſtrum, an inſtrument of muſic peculiar to the Egyptians in their ſacrifices to Iſis.

3 All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers on the earth, ſee ye, when he lifteth up an enſign on the mountains; and when he bloweth a trumpet, hear ye.

4 For ſo the Lord ſaid unto me, I will take my reſt, and I will conſider in my dwelling-place like a clear heat upon herbs, and like a cloud of dew in the heat of harveſt.

5 For afore the harveſt, when the bud is perfect, and the ſour grape is ripening in the flower; he ſhall both cut off the ſprigs with pruning-hooks, and take away and cut down the branches.

6 They ſhall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the beaſts of the earth: and the fowls ſhall ſummer upon them, and all the beaſts of the earth ſhall winter upon them.

7 ¶ In that time ſhall the preſent be brought unto the Lord of hoſts, of a people ſcattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden under foot, whoſe land the rivers have ſpoiled, to the place of the name of the Lord of hoſts, the mount Zion.

CHAP. XIX.

THE burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord rideth upon a ſwift cloud, and ſhall come into Egypt, and the idols of Egypt ſhall be moved at his preſence, and the heart of Egypt ſhall melt in the midſt of it.

2 And I will ſet the Egyptians againſt the Egyptians: and they ſhall fight every one againſt his brother, and every one againſt his neighbour; city againſt city, and kingdom againſt kingdom.

3 And the ſpirit of Egypt ſhall fail in the midſt thereof, and I will deſtroy the counſel thereof: and they ſhall ſeek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar ſpirits, and to the wizards.

4 And the Egyptians will I give over into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king ſhall rule over them, ſaith the Lord, the Lord of hoſts.

5 And the waters ſhall fail from the ſea, and the rivers ſhall be waſted and dried up.

6 And they ſhall turn the rivers far away, and the brooks of defence ſhall be emptied and dried up: the reeds and flags ſhall wither.

7 The paper-reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks and every thing ſown by the brooks ſhall wither, be driven away, and be no more.

8 The fiſhers alſo ſhall mourn, and all they that caſt angle into the brooks ſhall lament, and they that ſpread nets upon the waters ſhall languiſh.

9 Moreover, they that work in fine flax, and they that weave net-works, ſhall be confounded.

10 And they ſhall be broken in the purpoſes thereof, all that make ſluices and ponds for fiſh.

11 ¶ Surely the princes of Zoan are fools, the counſel of the wiſe counſellors of Pharaoh is become brutiſh: how ſay ye unto Pharaoh, I am the ſon of the wiſe, the ſon of ancient kings?

12 Where are they? where are thy wiſe men? and let them tell thee now, and let them know what the Lord of hoſts hath purpoſed upon Egypt.

13 The princes of Zoan are become fools, the princes of Noph are deceived, they have alſo ſeduced Egypt, even they that are the ſtay of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled a perverſe ſpirit in the midſt thereof: and they have cauſed Egypt to err in every work thereof, as a drunken man ſtaggereth in his vomit.

15 Neither ſhall there be any work for Egypt, which the head or tail, branch or ruſh may do.

16 In that day ſhall Egypt be like unto women: and it ſhall be afraid and fear, becauſe of the ſhaking of the hand of the Lord of hoſts, which he ſhaketh over it.

17 And the land of Judah ſhall be a terror unto Egypt, every one that maketh mention thereof, ſhall be afraid in himſelf; becauſe of the counſel of the Lord of hoſts, which he hath determined againſt it.

18 ¶ In that day ſhall five cities in the land of Egypt ſpeak the language of Canaan, and ſwear to the Lord of hoſts: one ſhall be called the city of deſtruction.

19 In that day ſhall there be an altar to the Lord in the midſt of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the Lord.

20 And it ſhall be for a ſign and for a witneſs unto the Lord of hoſts in the land of Egypt: for they ſhall cry unto the Lord becauſe of the oppreſſors, and he ſhall ſend them a ſaviour, and a great one, and he ſhall deliver them.

21 And the Lord ſhall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians ſhall know the Lord in that day, and ſhall do ſacrifice and oblation, yea, they ſhall vow a vow unto the Lord, and perform it.

22 And the Lord ſhall ſmite Egypt, he ſhall ſmite and heal it, and they ſhall return even to the Lord, and he ſhall be intreated of them, and ſhall heal them.

23 ¶ In that day ſhall there be a highway out of Egypt to Aſſyria, and the Aſſyrian ſhall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Aſſyria, and the Egyptians ſhall ſerve with the Aſſyrians.

24 In that day ſhall Iſrael be the third with Egypt, and with Aſſyria, even a bleſſing in the midſt of the land:

25 Whom the Lord of hoſts ſhall bleſs, ſaying, Bleſſed be Egypt my people, and Aſſyria the work of my hands, and Iſrael mine inheritance.

CHAP. XX.

IN the year that Tartan came unto Aſhdod (when Sargon the king of Aſſyria ſent him) and fought againſt Aſhdod, and took it:

2 At the ſame time ſpake the Lord by Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz, ſaying, Go, and looſe the ſackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy ſhoe from thy foot: and he did ſo, walking naked and bare-foot.

3 And the Lord ſaid, Like as my ſervant Iſaiah hath walked naked and bare-foot three years, for a ſign and wonder upon Egypt, and upon Ethiopia:

4 So ſhall the king of Aſſyria lead away the Egyptians priſoners, and the Ethiopians captives, young and old, naked and bare-foot, even with their buttocks uncovered, to the ſhame of Egypt.

5 And they ſhall be afraid and aſhamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory.

6 And the inhabitants of this iſle ſhall ſay in that day, Behold, ſuch is our expectation, whither we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Aſſyria: and how ſhall we eſcape?

CHAP. XXI.

THE burden of the deſart ſea. As whirlwinds in the ſouth paſs through: ſo it cometh from the deſart, from a terrible land.

2 A grievous viſion is declared unto me, the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherouſly, and the ſpoiler ſpoileth: go up, O Elam: beſiege, O Media: all the ſighing thereof have I made to ceaſe.

3 Therefore are my loins filled with pain; pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down at the hearing of it, I was diſmayed at the ſeeing of it.

4 My heart panted, fearfulneſs affrighted me: the night of my pleaſure hath he turned into fear unto me.

5 Prepare the table, watch in the watch-tower, eat, drink: ariſe, ye princes, and anoint the ſhield.

6 For thus hath the Lord ſaid unto me, Go, ſet a watchman, let him declare what he ſeeth.

7 And he ſaw a chariot with a couple of horſemen, a chariot of aſſes, and a chariot of camels; and he hearkened diligently with much heed.

8 And he cried, a lion: my lord, I ſtand continually upon the watch-tower in the day-time, and I am ſet in my ward whole nights.

9 And behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horſemen: and he anſwered and ſaid, Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground.

10 O my threſhing, and the corn of my floor: that which I have heard of the Lord of hoſts the God of Iſrael, have I declared unto you.

11 ¶ The burden of Dumah. He calleth to me out of Seir, Watchman, what of the night? watchman, what of the night?

12 The watchman ſaid, The morning cometh, and alſo the night: if ye will enquire, enquire ye: return, come.

13 ¶ The burden upon Arabia. In the foreſt in Arabia ſhall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedanim.

14 The inhabitants of the land of Tema brought water to him that was thirſty, they prevented with their bread him that fled.

15 For they fled from the ſwords, from the drawn ſword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievouſneſs of war.

16 For thus hath the Lord ſaid unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar ſhall fail.

17 And the reſidue of the number of archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar ſhall be diminiſhed: for the Lord God of Iſrael hath ſpoken it.

CHAP.

CHAP. XIX.] 5 And the waters ſhall fail from the ſea, and the river ſhall be waſted and dried up.] Tremellius ſhews out of Herodotus, that this was literally fulfilled under the government of the twelve pretty tyrants, who ruled Egypt after Sethon.

20 For they ſhall cry unto the Lord becauſe of the oppreſſors, and he ſhall ſend them a Saviour, and a great one, and he ſhall deliver them.] Theſe words may very properly be applied to that tyranny which the devil exerciſes over the heathen world, who are led captive by him at his will; from whence they can only be redeemed by the great Saviour of the world.

CHAP. XX.] 1 In the year that Tartan came to Aſhdod, &c.] It is evident from ver. 5, 6, that this expedition was made while the Jews were under the apprehenſion of Sennacherib's invaſion; when, in order to ſtrengthen themſelves, they entered into a confederacy with Egypt and Ethiopia.

CHAP. XXI.] 12 The watchman ſaid, the morning cometh, and alſo the night, &c.] This verſe has proved a ſtumbling block to the generality of interpreters; but the ſenſe of it ſeems to be this: "You enquire every night what tidings, but the morning may be as dangerous as the night."

CHAP

CHAP. XXII.

THE burden of the valley of vision. What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the house-tops?

2 Thou that art full of stirs, a tumultuous city, a joyous city: thy slain men are not slain with the sword, nor dead in battle.

3 All thy rulers are fled together, they are bound by the archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from far.

4 Therefore, said I, Look away from me, I will weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me; because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity by the Lord God of hosts in the valley of vision, of breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountains,

6 And Elam bare the quiver with chariots of men and horsemen, and Kir uncovered the shield.

7 And it shall come to pass that thy choicest valleys shall be full of chariots, and the horsemen shall set themselves in array at the gate

8 ¶ And he discovered the covering of Judah, and thou didst look in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

9 Ye have seen also the breaches of the city of David, that they are many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye have numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses have ye broken down to fortify the wall.

11 Ye made also a ditch between the two walls, for the water of the old pool; but ye have not looked unto the maker thereof, neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hosts call to weeping and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girdling with sackcloth:

13 And behold, joy and gladness, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine; let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we shall die.

14 And it was revealed in mine ears by the Lord of hosts, Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you, till ye die, saith the Lord God of hosts.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Go get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shebna, which is over the house, and say, 16 What hast thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast hewed thee out a sepulchre here, as he that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, and that graveth an habitation for himself in a rock?

17 Behold, the Lord will carry thee away with a mighty captivity, and will surely cover thee.

18 He will surely violently turn and toss thee, like a ball into a large country: there shalt thou die, and there the chariots of thy glory shall be the shame of thy Lord's house.

19 And I will drive thee from thy station, and from thy state shall he pull thee down.

20 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah:

21 And I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand, and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah.

22 And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder: so he shall open and none shall shut, and he shall shut and none shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a glorious throne to his father's house.

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, all vessels of small quantity; from the vessels of cups, even to all the vessels of flaggons.

25 In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall the nail that is fastened in the sure place, be removed, and be cut down, and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off; for the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXIII.

THE burden of Tyre. Howl, ye ships of Tarshish; for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in: from the land of Chittim it is revealed to them.

2 Be still, ye inhabitants of the isle, thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished.

3 And by great waters the seed of Sihor, the harvest of the river is her revenue, and she is a mart of nations.

4 Be thou ashamed, O Zidon; for the sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I travail not, nor bring forth children, neither do I nourish up young men, nor bring up virgins.

5 As at the report concerning Egypt, so shall they be sorely pained at the report of Tyre.

6 Pass ye over to Tarshish, howl ye inhabitants of the isle.

7 Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days? her own feet shall carry her afar off to sojourn.

8 Who hath taken this counsel against Tyre, the crowning city, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth?

9 The Lord of hosts hath purposed it, to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth.

10 Pass through thy land as a river, O daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand over the sea, he shook the kingdoms: the Lord hath given a commandment against the merchant city, to destroy the strong holds thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin, daughter of Zidon: arise, pass over to Chittim, there also shalt thou have no rest.

13 Behold, the land of the Chaldeans; this people was not till the Assyrians founded it for them that dwell in the wilderness: they set up the towers thereof, they raised up the palaces thereof, and he brought it to ruin.

14 Howl, ye ships of Tarshish: for your strength is laid waste.

15 And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of seventy years shall Tyre sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten, make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the Lord will visit Tyre, and she shall turn to her hire, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.

18 And her merchandise, and her hire shall be holiness to the Lord: it shall not be treasured nor laid up: for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

CHAP. XXIV.

BEhold, the Lord maketh the earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him.

3 The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this word.

4 The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the haughty people of the earth do languish.

5 The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof: because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant.

6 Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left.

7 The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merry hearted do sigh.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth.

9 They shall not drink wine with a song, strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it.

10 The city of confusion is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets, all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 ¶ When thus it shall be in the midst of the land among the people, there shall be as the shaking of an olive-tree, and as the gleaning-grapes when the vintage is done.

14 They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majesty of the Lord, they shall cry aloud from the sea.

15 Wherefore glorify ye the Lord in the fires, even the name of the Lord God of Israel in the isles of the sea.

16 ¶ From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, even glory to the righteous: but I said, My leanness, my leanness, woe unto me: the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously, yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously.

17 Fear, and the pit, and the snare are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear, shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the CHAP. XXII.] 1 The burden of the valley of vision, &c.] By the valley of vision is meant Jerusalem, which was surrounded by mountains, and is called by that name, because this and many other prophecies are directed to it,

CHAP. XXIII.] 12 Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin, daughter of Zidon.] Tyre was in all probability, a colony of Zidonians, and thence called by the prophet the daughter of Zidon. It is certain that the latter was much the eldest city, being mentioned by Moses as the peopling the world after the flood, Gen. x. 19.

CHAP. XXIV.] 14 They shall cry aloud from the sea.] Or, as it is expressed in the following verse, from the isles of the sea, and signifies the western parts of the earth.

the midſt of the pit, ſhall be taken in the ſnare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do ſhake.

19 The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean diſſolved, the earth is moved exceedingly.

20 The earth ſhall reel to and fro like a drunkard, and ſhall be removed like a cottage, and the tranſgreſſion thereof ſhall be heavy upon it, and it ſhall fall, and not riſe again.

21 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the Lord ſhall puniſh the hoſt of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.

22 And they ſhall be gathered together as priſoners are gathe red in the pit, and ſhall be ſhut up in the priſon, and after many days ſhall they be viſited.

23 Then the moon ſhall be confounded, and the ſun aſhamed, when the Lord of hoſts ſhall reign in mount Zion and in Jeruſalem, and before his ancients gloriouſly.

CHAP. XXV.

O Lord, thou art my God, I will exalt thee, I will praiſe thy name; for thou haſt done wonderful things, thy counſels of old are faithfulneſs and truth.

2 For thou haſt made of a city, an heap; of a defenced city, a ruin: a palace of ſtrangers to be no city, it ſhall never be built.

3 Therefore ſhall the ſtrong people glorify thee, the city of the terrible nations ſhall fear thee.

4 For thou haſt been a ſtrength to the poor, a ſtrength to the needy in his diſtreſs, a refuge from the ſtorm, a ſhadow from the heat, when the blaſt of the terrible ones is a ſtorm againſt the wall.

5 Thou ſhalt bring down the noiſe of ſtrangers, as the heat in a dry place; even the heat with the ſhadow of a cloud: the branch of the terrible ones ſhall be brought low.

6 ¶ And in this mountain ſhall the Lord of hoſts make unto all people a feaſt of fat things, a feaſt of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.

7 And he will deſtroy in this mountain the face of the covering caſt over all people, and the veil that is ſpread over all nations.

8 He will ſwallow up death in victory, and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces, and the rebuke of his people ſhall he take away from off all the earth: for the Lord hath ſpoken it.

9 ¶ And it ſhall be ſaid in that day, Lo, this is our God, we have waited for him, and he will ſave us: this is the Lord, we have waited for him, we will be glad, and rejoice in his ſalvation.

10 For in this mountain ſhall the hand of the Lord reſt, and Moab ſhall be trodden down under him, even as ſtraw is trodden down for the dung-hill.

11 And he ſhall ſpread forth his hands in the midſt of them, as he that ſwimmeth ſpreadeth forth his hands to ſwim: and he ſhall bring down their pride together with the ſpoils of their hands.

12 And the fortreſs of the high fort of thy walls ſhall he bring down, lay low, and bring down to the ground, even to the duſt.

CHAP. XXVI.

IN that day ſhall this ſong be ſung in the land of Judah, We have a ſtrong city, ſalvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truth, may enter in 3 Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whoſe mind is ſtayed on thee: becauſe he truſteth in thee.

4 Truſt ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord Jehovah is everlaſting ſtrength.

5 ¶ For he bringeth down them that dwell on high, the lofty city, he layeth it low, he layeth it low, even to the ground, he bringeth it even to the duſt.

6 The foot ſhall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the ſteps of the needy.

7 The way of the juſt is uprightneſs: thou moſt upright, doſt weigh the path of the juſt.

8 Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the deſire of our ſoul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my ſoul have I deſired thee in the night, yea, with my ſpirit within me will I ſeek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteouſneſs.

10 Let favour be ſhewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteouſneſs: in the land of uprightneſs will he deal unjuſtly, and will not behold the majeſty of the Lord.

11 Lord, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not ſee: but they ſhall ſee and be aſhamed for their envy at the people, yea, the fire of thine enemies ſhall devour them.

12 ¶ Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou alſo haſt wrought all our works in us.

13 O Lord our God, other lords beſides thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name.

14 They are dead, they ſhall not live; they are deceaſed, they ſhall not riſe; therefore haſt thou viſited and deſtroyed them, and made all their memory to periſh.

15 Thou haſt increaſed the nation, O Lord, thou haſt increaſed the nation, thon art glorified; thou haſt removed it far unto all the ends of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble have they viſited thee, they poured out a prayer when thy chaſtening was upon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain, and crieth out in her pangs; ſo have we been in thy ſight, O Lord.

18 We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind, we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth, neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen.

19 Thy dead men ſhall live, together with my dead body ſhall they ariſe: awake and ſing, ye that dwell in duſt: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth ſhall caſt out the dead.

20 ¶ Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and ſhut thy doors about thee? hide thyſelf as it were for a little moment, until the indignation be overpaſt.

21 For behold, the Lord cometh out of his place to puniſh the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth alſo ſhall diſcloſe her blood, and ſhall no more cover her ſlain.

CHAP. XXVII.

IN that day the Lord with his ſore, and great, and ſtrong ſword ſhall puniſh leviathan the piercing ſerpent, even leviathan that crooked ſerpent, and he ſhall ſlay the dragon that is in the ſea.

2 In that day ſing ye unto her, A vineyard of red wine.

3 I the Lord do keep it, I will water it every moment; leſt any hurt it, I will keep it night and day.

4 Fury is not in me: who would ſet the briers and thorns againſt me in battle? I would go through them, I would burn them together.

5 Or let him take hold of my ſtrength, that he may make peace with me, and he ſhall make peace with me.

6 He ſhall cauſe them that come of Jacob to take root: Iſrael ſhall bloſſom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit.

7 Hath he ſmitten him, as he ſmote thoſe that ſmote him? or is he ſlain according to the ſlaughter of them that are ſlain by him?

8 In meaſure when it ſhooteth forth, thou wilt debate with it; he ſtayeth his rough wind in the day of the eaſt-wind.

9 By this therefore ſhall the iniquity of Jacob be purged, and this is alſo the fruit to take away his ſin; when he maketh all the ſtones of the altar as chalk-ſtones that are beaten in ſunder, the groves and images ſhall not ſtand up.

10 Yet the defenced city ſhall be deſolate, and the habitation forſaken, and left like a wilderneſs: there ſhall the calf feed, and there ſhall he lie down, and conſume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs thereof are withered, they ſhall be broken off: the women come and ſet them on fire: for it is a people of no underſtanding: therefore he that made them will not have mercy on them, and he that formed them will ſhew them no favour.

12 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the Lord ſhall beat off from the channel of the river unto the ſtream of Egypt, and ye ſhall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Iſrael.

13 And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the great trumpet ſhall be blown, and they ſhall come which were ready to periſh in the land of Aſſyria, and the outcaſts in the land of Egypt, and ſhall worſhip the Lord in the holy mount of Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XXVIII.

WOE to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whoſe glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat vallies of them that are overcome with wine.

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and ſtrong one, which as a tempeſt of hail, and a deſtroying ſtorm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, ſhall caſt down to the earth with the hand.

3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim ſhall be trodden under feet.

4 And

23 Then ſhall the moon be confounded, and the ſun aſhamed, when the Lord of hoſts ſhall reign in mount Zion.] If we underſtand theſe expreſſions literally, the ſenſe muſt be, that the ſun and moon ſhall be darkened; a circumſtance that will certainly attend the laſt day.

Chap. XXV.] 8 He will ſwallow up death in victory, &c.] St. Paul juſtly expounds this text of the general reſurrection, and tells us this will not be fulfilled till that tremendous hour.

Chap. XXVI.] 2 Open ye the gates.] This expreſſion implies the enlarging the numbers of believers, and bringing into the church daily ſuch as ſhould be ſaved.

19 Thy dead men ſhall live.] This and the following verſes contain God's anſwer to the foregoing complaints of his people; wherein he promiſes them a reviral and new life after all their miſeries.

Chap. XXVII.] 1 In that day the Lord with his ſore, and great, and ſtrong ſword ſhall puniſh Leviathan.] Tyrants andoppreſſors are often compared to the monſters of the deep.

8 He ſtayeth his rough wind in the day of the eaſt-wind.] That is, in the midſt of juſtice he remembers mercy.

12 From the channel of the river to the ſtream of Egypt.] That is, from the river Euphrates, which is on the borders of Aſſyria, to the Nile, which is the boundary of Egypt.

Chap. XXVIII.] 1 Woe unto the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim.] Woe to that proud kingdom of Iſrael, of which Ephraim is the head; Samaria, the royal ſeat of the kingdom being ſituated in that tribe.

4 And the glorious beauty which is on the head of the fat valley, ſhall be a fading flower, and as the haſty fruit before the ſummer: which when he that looketh upon it, ſeeth it, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.

5 ¶ In that day ſhall the Lord of hoſts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty unto the reſidue of his people:

6 And for a ſpirit of judgment to him that ſitteth in judgment, and for ſtrength to them that turn the battle to the gate.

7 ¶ But they alſo have erred through wine: and through ſtrong drink are out of the way: the prieſt and the prophet have erred through ſtrong drink, they are ſwallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through ſtrong drink, they err in viſion, they ſtumble in judgment.

8 For all tables are full of vomit, and filthineſs, ſo that there is no place clean.

9 ¶ Whom ſhall he teach knowledge? and whom ſhall he make to underſtand doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk and drawn from the breaſts.

10 For precept muſt be upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little and there a little.

11 For with ſtammering lips and another tongue will he ſpeak to this people.

12 To whom he ſaid, This is the reſt wherewith ye may cauſe the weary to reſt, and this is the refreſhing: yet they would not hear.

13 But the word of the Lord was unto them, precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little and there a little; that they might go and fall backward, and be broken, and ſnared, and taken.

14 ¶ Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye ſcornful men that rule this people which is in Jeruſalem.

15 Becauſe ye have ſaid, We have made a covenant with death and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing ſcourge ſhall paſs through, it ſhall not come unto us; for we have made lyes our refuge, and under falſehood have we hid ourſelves:

16 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation, a ſtone, a tried ſtone, a precious corner-ſtone, a ſure foundation: he that believeth, ſhall not make haſte.

17 Judgment alſo will I lay to the line, and righteouſneſs to the plummet, and the hail ſhall ſweep away the refuge of lyes, and the waters ſhall overflow the hiding-place.

18 ¶ And your covenant with death, ſhall be diſannulled, and your agreement with hell ſhall not ſtand: when the overflowing ſcourge ſhall paſs through, then ye ſhall be trodden down by it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it ſhall take you: for morning by morning ſhall it paſs over, by day and by night, and it ſhall be a vexation, only to underſtand the report.

20 For the bed is ſhorter, than that a man can ſtretch himſelf on it: and the covering narrower, than that he can wrap himſelf in it.

21 For the Lord ſhall riſe up as in mount Perazim, he ſhall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his ſtrange work; and bring to paſs his act, his ſtrange act.

22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, leſt your bands be made ſtrong: for I have heard from the Lord God of hoſts a conſumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

23 ¶ Give ye ear, and hear my voice, hearken, and hear my ſpeech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all day to ſow? doth he open and break the clods of his ground?

25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not caſt abroad the fitches, and ſcatter the cummin, and caſt in the principal wheat, and the appointed barley, and the rye in their place?

26 For his God doth inſtruct him to diſcretion, and doth teach him.

27 For the fitches are not threſhed with a threſhing-inſtrument, neither is a cart-wheel turned about upon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a ſtaff, and the cummin with a rod.

28 Bread-corn is bruiſed; becauſe he will not ever be threſhing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruiſe it with his horſemen.

29 This alſo cometh forth from the Lord of hoſts, which is wonderful in counſel, and excellent in working.

CHAP. XXIX.

WOE to Ariel, to Ariel, the city where David dwelt: add ye year to year; let them kill ſacrifices.

2 Yet I will diſtreſs Ariel, and there ſhall be heavineſs and ſorrow: and it ſhall be unto me as Ariel.

3 And I will camp againſt thee round about, and will lay ſiege againſt thee with a mount, and I will raiſe forts againſt thee.

4 And thou ſhalt be brought down, and ſhalt ſpeak out of the ground, and thy ſpeech ſhall be low out of the duſt, and thy voice ſhall be as of one that hath a familiar ſpirit, out of the ground, and thy ſpeech ſhall whiſper out of the duſt.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy ſtrangers ſhall be like ſmall duſt, and the multitude of the terrible ones ſhall be as chaff that paſſeth away: yea, it ſhall be at an inſtant ſuddenly.

6 Thou ſhalt be viſited of the Lord of hoſts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noiſe, with ſtorm and tempeſt, and the flame of devouring fire.

7 ¶ And the multitude of all the nations that fight againſt Ariel, even all that fight againſt her and her munition, and that diſtreſs her, ſhall be as a dream of a night-viſion.

8 It ſhall even be as when a hungry man dreameth, and behold, he eateth; but he awaketh, and his ſoul is empty: or as when a thirſty man dreameth, and behold, he drinketh; but he awaketh, and behold, he is faint, and his ſoul hath appetite: ſo ſhall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight againſt mount Zion.

9 ¶ Stay yourſelves and wonder, cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine; they ſtagger, but not with ſtrong drink.

10 For the Lord hath poured out upon you the ſpirit of deep ſleep, and hath cloſed your eyes: the prophets and your rulers the ſeers hath he covered.

11 And the viſion of all is become unto you, as the words of a book that is ſealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, ſaying, Read this, I pray thee; and he ſaith, I cannot, for it is ſealed.

12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, ſaying, Read this I pray thee; and he ſaith, I am not learned.

13 ¶ Wherefore the Lord ſaid, Foraſmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear towards me is taught by the precept of men.

14 Therefore behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work amongſt this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: for the wiſdom of their wiſe men ſhall periſh, and the underſtanding of their prudent men ſhall be hid.

15 Woe unto them that ſeek deep to hide their counſel from the Lord, and their works are in the dark, and they ſay, Who ſeeth us? and who knoweth us?

16 Surely your turning of things upſide down ſhall be eſteemed as the potter's clay: for ſhall the work ſay of him that made it, He made me not? or ſhall the thing framed ſay of him that framed it, He had no underſtanding?

17 Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon ſhall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful tree ſhall be eſteemed as a foreſt.

18 ¶ And in that day ſhall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind ſhall ſee out of obſcurity, and out of darkneſs.

19 The meek alſo ſhall increaſe their joy in the Lord, and the poor among men ſhall rejoice in the holy One of Iſrael.

20 For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the ſcorner is conſumed, and all that watch for iniquity are cut off:

21 That make a man an offender for a word, and lay a ſnare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aſide the juſt for a thing of nought.

22 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the houſe of Jacob, Jacob ſhall not now be aſhamed, neither ſhall his face now wax pale.

23 But when he ſeeth his children, the work of mine hands in the midſt of him, they ſhall ſanctify my name, and ſanctify the holy One of Jacob, and ſhall fear the God of Iſrael.

24 They alſo that erred in ſpirit ſhall come to underſtanding, and they that murmured, ſhall learn doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

WOE to the rebellious children, ſaith the Lord, that take counſel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my ſpirit, that they may add ſin to ſin.

2 That walk to go down into Egypt, (and have not aſked at my mouth) to ſtrengthen themſelves in the ſtrength of Pharaoh, and to truſt in the ſhadow of Egypt.

3 Therefore ſhall the ſtrength of Pharaoh be your ſhame, and the truſt in the ſhadow of Egypt your confuſion.

4 For his princes were at Zoan, and his ambaſſadors came to Hanes.

5 They were all aſhamed of a people that could not profit them, nor be an help, nor profit, but a ſhame and alſo a reproach.

6 The burden of the beaſts of the ſouth: into the land of trou-

16 Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation, a ſtone, a tried ſtone, &c.] This propheçy can belong only to Chriſt, to whom it is often applied in the New Teſtament.

CHAP. XXIX.] 17 Lebanon ſhall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field ſhall be eſteemed as a foreſt.] A proverbial expreſſion, uſed to indicate the remarkable changes that ſhould enſue, when the proud and lofty ſhall be abaſed, and the meek exalted.

bſe and anguiſh, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying ſerpent, they will carry their riches upon the ſhoulders of young aſſes, and their treaſures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that ſhall not profit them.

7 For the Egyptians ſhall help in vain, and to no purpoſe: therefore have I cried concerning this, Their ſtrength is to ſit ſtill.

8 ¶ Now go write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for the time to come for ever and ever:

9 That this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the Lord:

10 Which ſay to the ſeers, See not; and to the prophets, prophecy not unto us right things, ſpeak unto us ſmooth things, prophecy deceits:

11 Get you out of the way, turn aſide out of the path, cauſe the holy One of Iſrael to ceaſe from before us.

12 Wherefore thus ſaith the holy One of Iſrael, Becauſe ye deſpiſe this word, and truſt in oppreſſion and perverſeneſs, and ſtay thereon:

13 Therefore this iniquity ſhall be to you as a breach ready to fall, ſwelling out in a high wall, whoſe breaking cometh ſuddenly at an inſtant.

14 And he ſhall break it as the breaking of the potter's veſſel, that is broken in pieces, he ſhall not ſpare; ſo that there ſhall not be found in the burſting of it, a ſhred to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the pit.

15 For thus ſaith the Lord God, the holy One of Iſrael, In returning and reſt ſhall ye be ſaved, in quietneſs and in confidence ſhall be your ſtrength; and ye would not.

16 But ye ſaid, No, for we will flee upon horſes: therefore ſhall ye flee: and we will ride upon the ſwift: therefore ſhall they that purſue you, be ſwift.

17 One thouſand ſhall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five ſhall ye flee, till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an enſign on an hill.

18 And therefore will the Lord wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the Lord is a God of judgment; bleſſed are all they that wait for him.

19 For the people ſhall dwell in Zion at Jeruſalem: thou ſhalt weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee, at the voice of thy cry; when he ſhall hear it, he will anſwer thee.

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adverſity, and the water of affliction, yet ſhall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes ſhall ſee thy teachers:

21 And thine ears ſhall hear a word behind thee, ſaying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

22 Ye ſhall defile alſo the covering of thy graven images of ſilver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou ſhalt caſt them away as a menſtruous cloth; thou ſhalt ſay unto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then ſhall he give the rain of thy ſeed that thou ſhalt ſow the ground withal, and bread of the increaſe of the earth, and it ſhall be fat and plenteous: in that day ſhall thy cattle feed in large paſtures.

24 The oxen likewiſe and the young aſſes that ear the ground, ſhall eat clean provender which hath been winnowed with the ſhovel and with the fan.

25 And there ſhall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and ſtreams of waters, in the day of the great ſlaughter, when the towers fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the moon ſhall be as the light of the ſun, and the light of the ſun ſhall be ſeven-fold, as the light of ſeven days, in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the ſtroke of their wound.

27 ¶ Behold, the name of the Lord cometh from far, burning with his anger, and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire.

28 And his breath, as an overflowing ſtream, ſhall reach to the midſt of the neck, to ſift the nations with the ſieve of vanity: and there ſhall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, cauſing them to err.

29 Ye ſhall have a ſong as in the night, when a holy ſolemnity is kept, and gladneſs of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the Lord, to the mighty One of Iſrael.

30 And the Lord ſhall cauſe his glorious voice to be heard, and ſhall ſhew the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with ſcattering, and tempeſt, and hailſtones.

31 For through the voice of the Lord ſhall the Aſſyrian be beaten down, which ſmote with a rod.

32 And in every place where the grounded ſtaff ſhall paſs, which the Lord ſhall lay upon him, it ſhall be with tabrets and harps; and in battles of ſhaking will he fight with it.

33 For Tophet is ordained of old: yea, for the king it is prepared, he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood, the breath of the Lord, like a ſtream of brimſtone doth kindle it.

CHAP. XXXI.

WOE to them that go down to Egypt for help, and ſtay on horſes, and truſt in chariots, becauſe they are many; and in horſemen, becauſe they are very ſtrong: but they look not unto the holy One of Iſrael, neither ſeek the Lord.

2 Yet he alſo is wiſe, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will ariſe againſt the houſe of the evil doers, and againſt the help of them that work iniquity.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horſes fleſh, and not ſpirit; when the Lord ſhall ſtretch out his hand, both he that helpeth ſhall fall, and he that is holpen ſhall fall down, and they all ſhall fail together.

4 For thus hath the Lord ſpoken unto me, Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of ſhepherds is called forth againſt him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abaſe himſelf for the noiſe of them: ſo ſhall the Lord of hoſt come down to fight to mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds flying, ſo will the Lord of hoſts defend Jeruſalem, defending alſo he will deliver it, and paſſing over he will preſerve it.

6 ¶ Turn ye unto him from whom the children of Iſrael have deeply revolted.

7 For in that day every man ſhall caſt away his idols of ſilver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a ſin.

8 ¶ Then ſhall the Aſſyrian fall with the ſword, not of a mighty man; and the ſword, not of a mean man, ſhall devour him: but he ſhall flee from the ſword, and his young men ſhall be diſcomfited.

9 And he ſhall paſs over to his ſtrong hold for fear, and his princes ſhall be afraid of the enſign, ſaith the Lord, whoſe fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XXXII.

BEhold, a king ſhall reign in righteouſneſs, and princes ſhall rule in judgment.

2 And a man ſhall be as an hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the tempeſt: as rivers of water in a dry place, as the ſhadow of a great rock in a weary land.

3 And the eyes of them that ſee, ſhall not be dim; and the ears of them that hear, ſhall hearken.

4 The heart alſo of the raſh ſhall underſtand knowledge, and the tongue of the ſtammerers ſhall be ready to ſpeak plainly.

5 The vile perſon ſhall be no more called liberal, nor the churl ſaid to be bountiful.

6 For the vile perſon will ſpeak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practiſe hypocriſy, and to utter error againſt the Lord, to make empty the ſoul of the hungry, and he will cauſe the drink of the thirſty to fail.

7 The inſtruments alſo of the churl are evil: he deviſeth wicked devices to deſtroy the poor with lying words, even when the needy ſpeaketh right.

8 But the liberal deviſeth liberal things, and by liberal things ſhall he ſtand.

9 ¶ Riſe up ye women that are at eaſe, hear my voice ye careleſs daughters, give ear unto my ſpeech.

10 Many days and years ſhall ye be troubled, ye careleſs women: for the vintage ſhall fail, the gathering ſhall not come.

11 Tremble ye women that are at eaſe: be troubled ye careleſs ones: ſtrip ye and make ye bare, and gird ſackcloth upon your loins.

12 They ſhall lament for the teats, for the pleaſant fields, for the fruitful vine.

13 Upon the land of my people ſhall come up thorns and briers, yea, upon all the houſes of joy in the joyous city:

14 Becauſe the palaces ſhall be forſaken, the multitude of the city ſhall be left, the forts and towers ſhall be for dens for ever, a joy of wild aſſes, a paſture of flocks:

15 Until the ſpirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderneſs be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a foreſt.

16 Then

CHAP. XXX.] 18 And therefore will the Lord wait, &c.] This might have been better tranſlated in the following manner; nevertheleſs the Lord will wait, or, yet ſurely the Lord will wait.

25 And there ſhall be upon every high mountain, and every high hill, rivers and ſtreams of waters.] God's bleſſings are often repreſented under the metaphor of a well-watered ground, which is the moſt fruitful: and here the prophet promiſes ſuch fertility, that the barren and mountainous land ſhall yield as plentiful an harveſt as if it were watered with ſtreams and rivers.

CHAP. XXXI.] 4 Like as a lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, &c.] This is an elegant ſimilitude, repreſenting the Almighty's power, which no human ſtrength is able to withſtand.

CHAP. XXXIII.] 2 And a man ſhall be as an hiding-place from the wind.] And this prince ſhall be a refuge to us, when the ſtorms of calamities overtake us, or the oppreſſions of our enemies, like exceſſive heat, ſcorch and conſume it.

CHAP.

16 Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field.

17 And the work of righteousness shall be peace, and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever.

18 And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting-places:

19 When it shall hail, coming down on the forest; and the city shall be low in a low place.

20 Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the feet of the ox and the ass.

CHAP. XXXIII.

WOE to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee: when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee.

2 O Lord, be gracious unto us, we have waited for thee: be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult the people fled: at the lifting up of thyself the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoil shall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpillar: as the running to and fro of locusts shall he run upon them.

5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on high, he hath filled Zion with judgment and righteousness.

6 And wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the Lord is his treasure.

7 Behold, their valiant ones shall cry without: the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.

8 The high-ways lie waste, the way-faring man ceaseth, he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth no man.

9 The earth mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is ashamed and hewn down: Sharon is like a wilderness, and Bashan and Carmel shake off their fruits.

10 Now will I rise, saith the Lord: now will I be exalted, now will I lift up myself.

11 Ye shall conceive chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath as fire shall devour you.

12 And the people shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut up shall they be burnt in the fire.

13 ¶ Hear ye that are far off, what I have done: and ye that are near, acknowledge my might.

14 The sinners in Zion are afraid, fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites: who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who amongst us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?

15 He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly, he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil:

16 He shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks, bread shall be given him, his waters shall be sure.

17 Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold the land that is very far off.

18 Thine heart shall meditate terror: where is the scribe? where is the receiver? where is he that counted the towers?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a deeper speech than thou canst perceive: of a stammering tongue, that thou canst not understand.

20 Look upon Zion the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down, not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.

21 But there the glorious Lord will be unto us a place of broad rivers and streams; wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ships pass thereby.

22 For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our law-giver, the Lord is our king, he will save us.

23 Thy tacklings are loosed, they could not well strengthen their mast, they could not spread the sail: then is the prey of a great spoil divided, the lame take the prey.

24 And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

CHAP. XXXIV.

COME near, ye nations, to hear, and hearken, ye people: let the earth hear, and all that is therein; the world, and all things that come forth of it.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is upon all nations, and his fury upon all their armies: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their carcases, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.

4 And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fall down as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a falling fig from the fig-tree.

5 For my sword shall be bathed in heaven: behold it shall come down upon Idumea, and upon the people of my curse to judgment.

6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.

7 And the unicorn shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls, and their land shall be soaked with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness.

8 For it is the day of the Lord's vengeance, and the year of recompenses for the controversy of Zion.

9 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day, the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste, none shall pass through it for ever and ever.

11 ¶ But the cormorant and the bittern shall possess it, the owl also and the raven shall dwell in it, and he shall stretch out upon it the line of confusion, and the stones of emptiness.

12 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there, and all her princes shall be nothing.

13 And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in the fortresses thereof, and it shall be an habitation of dragons, and a court for owls.

14 The wild beasts of the desart shall also meet with the wild beasts of the island, and the satyr shall cry to his fellow, the screech-owl also shall rest there, and find out herself a place of rest.

15 There shall the great owl make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate.

16 ¶ Seek ye out of the book of the Lord, and read: no one of these shall fail, none shall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit it hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possess it for ever, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

CHAP. XXXV.

THE wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them: and the desart shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.

2 It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing; the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon: they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.

3 ¶ Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees.

4 Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense, he will come and save you.

5 Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.

6 Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desart.

7 And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.

8 And an high-way shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness, the unclean shall not pass over it, but it

CHAP. XXXIII.] 9 The earth mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is ashamed and hewn down, &c.] The whole land is under the greatest consternation and the most beautiful parts of the country seem to languish and wither at the approach of the enemy, and look upon themselves as already destroyed.

20 Look upon Zion the city of our solemnities, &c.] You may now view Zion in perfect peace, and freed from all the fears of an hostile invasion. God hath chosen it to be the place set apart for his solemn worship, and the temple of his own residence; and therefore no part of it shall be damaged by an enemy.

CHAP. XXXIV.] 1 Come near, ye nations, and hear, &c.] A summons to all the inhabitants of the earth to the following description of the general judgment, which concerns them all.

9 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, &c.] This alludes to the destruction of the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, an emblem of the everlasting destruction of the wicked at the last day.

CHAP. XXXV.] 2 It shall blossom abundantly, &c.] Spiritual blessings are often displayed under the emblems of fruitfulness and plenty.

Mr. Pope has beautifully paraphrased this verse in the following manner:

See nature hastes her earliest wreaths to bring,
With all the incense of the breathing spring:
See lofty Lebanon his head advance,
See nodding forests on the mountains dance,
See spicy clouds from lowly Sharon rise,
And Carmel's flow'ry top perfumes the skies!

7 In the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.] By dragons is meant a species of serpents, never found but in barren and arid places.

CHAP.

it shall be for those: the way-faring men, though fools, shall not err therein.

9 No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon; it shall not be found there: but the redeemed shall walk there.

10 And the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

CHAP. XXXVI.

NOW it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the defenced cities of Judah, and took them.

2 And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh, from Lachish to Jerusalem, unto king Hezekiah, with a great army: and he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the high-way of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim Hilkiah's son, which was over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah Asaph's son the recorder.

4 ¶ And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, sayest thou (but they are but vain words) I have counsel and strength for war: now, on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in the staff of this broken reed, on Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the Lord our God: is it not he, whose high places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore give pledges, I pray thee, to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come up without the Lord against his land to destroy it? the Lord said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim, and Shebna, and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language; for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

12 ¶ But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piss with you?

13 Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

14 Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver us, this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me: and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig-tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern:

17 Until I come and take you away to a land, like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The Lord will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 Where are the gods of Hamath, and Arphad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they amongst all the gods of these lands, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

21 But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

22 ¶ Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

AND it came to pass when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz.

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth and there is not strength to bring forth.

4 It may be the Lord thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the Lord thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left.

5 So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 ¶ And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say unto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a rumour, and return to his own land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come forth to make war with thee: and when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest, deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly, and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as Gozan and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Telassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Henah, and Ivah?

14 ¶ And Hezekah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the Lord, and spread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed unto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth, thou hast made heaven and earth.

17 Incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear; open thine eyes, O Lord, and see: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God.

18 Of a truth, Lord, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the nations, and their countries.

19 And have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou art the Lord, even thou only.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, thus saith the Lord God of Israel, whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria:

22 This is the word which the Lord hath spoken concerning him, The virgin, the daughter of Zion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn, the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes, on high? even against the holy One of Israel.

24 By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains to the sides of Lebanon, and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir-trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and the forest of his Carmel.

25 I have digged and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of the besieged places.

26 Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times, that I have formed it? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldst be to lay waste defenced cities into ruinous heaps.

27 Therefore

CHAP. XXXVI.] 16 The Lord hath said unto me, go up against this land, and destroy it.] He seems to mean that some oracle or idol, in request among the Assyrians, had promised him success; and this pretended deity he impiously calls by the name of the true God.

CHAP. XXXVII.] 3 The children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.] A proverbial expression denoting present death, or the utmost extremity of danger.

7 I will send a blast upon him, &c.] A blast of God's displeasure.

16 Thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth, &c.] Hezekiah here asserts God's sovereignty, in opposition to the blasphemies of Rabshakeh and his master, who considered the God of Israel, only as the tutelar genius of the country of Judea, and placed him on a level with the pretended gods of other nations.

25 With the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of the besieged places.] I have rendered rivers fordable, by turning their streams from their ancient beds, and deprived the besieged of the benefit of those waters.

27 Therefore their inhabitants were of ſmall power, they were diſmayed and confounded: they were as the graſs of the field, and as the green herb, as the graſs on the houſe-tops, and as corn blaſted before it be grown up.

28 But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage againſt me.

29 Becauſe thy rage againſt me, and thy tumult is come up into mine ears: therefore will I put my hook in thy noſe, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou cameſt.

30 And this ſhall be a ſign unto thee, Ye ſhall eat this year ſuch as groweth of itſelf: and the ſecond year that which ſpringeth of the ſame: and in the third year ſow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And the remnant that is eſcaped of the houſe of Judah, ſhall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.

32 For out of Jeruſalem ſhall go forth a remnant, and they that eſcape out of mount Zion: the zeal of the Lord of hoſts ſhall do this.

33 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord concerning the king of Aſſyria, He ſhall not come into this city, nor ſhoot an arrow there, nor come before it with ſhields, nor caſt a bank againſt it.

34 By the way that he came, by the ſame ſhall he return, and ſhall not come into this city, ſaith the Lord.

35 For I will defend this city to ſave it, for mine own ſake, and for my ſervant David's ſake.

36 Then the angel of the Lord went forth, and ſmote in the camp of the Aſſyrians a hundred and fourſcore and five thouſand: and when they aroſe early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpſes.

37 ¶ So Sennacherib king of Aſſyria departed, and went, and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

38 And it came to paſs as he was worſhipping in the houſe of Niſroch his god, that Addrammelech and Sharezer his ſons ſmote him with the ſword; and they eſcaped into the land of Armenia: and Eſar-haddon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

IN thoſe days was Hezekiah ſick unto death: and Iſaiah the prophet the ſon of Amoz came unto him, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Set thine houſe in order, for thou ſhalt die, and not live.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed unto the Lord.

3 And ſaid, Remember now, O Lord, I beſeech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy ſight: and Hezekiah wept ſore.

4 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to Iſaiah, ſaying,

5 Go and ſay to Hezekiah, Thus ſaith the Lord the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have ſeen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver thee, and this city, out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria: and I will defend this city.

7 And this ſhall be a ſign unto thee from the Lord, that the Lord will do this thing that he hath ſpoken.

8 Behold, I will bring again the ſhadow of the degrees which is gone down in the ſun-dial of Ahaz, ten degrees backward. So the ſun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.

9 ¶ The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah when he had been ſick, and was recovered of his ſickneſs:

10 I ſaid in the cutting off of my days, I ſhall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the reſidue of my years.

11 I ſaid, I ſhall not ſee the Lord, even the Lord in the land of the living: I ſhall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a ſhepherd's tent: I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off with pining ſickneſs: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

13 I reckoned till morning, that as a lion, ſo will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a ſwallow, ſo did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O Lord, I am oppreſſed, undertake for me.

15 What ſhall I ſay? he hath both ſpoken unto me, and himſelf hath done it: I ſhall go ſoftly all my years in the bitterneſs of my ſoul.

16 O Lord, by theſe things men live, and in all theſe things is the life of my ſpirit: ſo wilt thou recover me, and make me to live.

17 Behold, for peace I had great bitterneſs; but thou haſt in love to my ſoul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou haſt caſt all my ſins behind thy back.

18 For the grave cannot praiſe thee, death cannot celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

19 The living, the living, he ſhall praiſe thee, as I do this day: the father to the children ſhall make known thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to ſave me: therefore we will ſing my ſongs to the ſtringed inſtruments, all the days of our life, in the houſe of the Lord.

21 For Iſaiah had ſaid, Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaiſter upon the boil, and he ſhall recover.

22 Hezekiah alſo had ſaid, What is the ſign that I ſhall go up to the houſe of the Lord?

CHAP. XXXIX.

AT that time Merodach-baladad the ſon of Baladan king of Babylon, ſent letters and a preſent to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been ſick, and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and ſhewed them the houſe of his precious things, the ſilver, and the gold, and the ſpices, and the precious ointment, and all the houſe of his armour, and all that was found in his treaſures: there was nothing in his houſe, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah ſhewed them not.

3 ¶ Then came Iſaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and ſaid unto him, What ſaid theſe men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah ſaid, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon.

4 Then ſaid he, What have they ſeen in thine houſe? And Hezekiah anſwered, All that is in mine houſe have they ſeen: there is nothing among my treaſures that I have not ſhewed them.

5 Then ſaid Iſaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hoſts.

6 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine houſe, and that which thy fathers have laid up in ſtore until this day, ſhall be carried to Babylon: nothing ſhall be left, ſaith the Lord.

7 And of thy ſons that ſhall iſſue from thee, which thou ſhalt beget, ſhall they take away; and they ſhall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

8 Then ſaid Hezekiah to Iſaiah, Good is the word of the Lord which thou haſt ſpoken: he ſaid moreover, For there ſhall be peace and truth in my days.

CHAP. XL.

COmfort ye, comfort ye, my people, ſaith your God.

2 Speak ye comfortably to Jeruſalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accompliſhed, that her iniquity is pardoned: for ſhe hath received of the Lord's hand double for all her ſins.

3 ¶ The voice of him that crieth in the wilderneſs, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make ſtraight in the deſart a high-way for our God.

4 Every valley ſhall be exalted, and every mountain and hill ſhall be made low: and the crooked ſhall be made ſtraight, and the rough places plain.

5 And the glory of the Lord ſhall be revealed, and all fleſh ſhall ſee it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath ſpoken it.

6 The voice ſaid, Cry. And he ſaid, What ſhall I cry? All fleſh is graſs, and all the goodlineſs thereof is as the flower of the field.

7 The graſs withereth, the flower fadeth; becauſe the ſpirit of the Lord bloweth upon it: ſurely the people is graſs.

8 The graſs withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God ſhall ſtand for ever.

9 ¶ O Zion, that bringeſt good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain: O Jeruſalem, that bringeſt good tidings, lift up thy voice with ſtrength: Lift it up, be not afraid: ſay unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God.

10 Behold, the Lord God will come with ſtrong hand, and his arm ſhall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

11 He ſhall feed his flock like a ſhepherd: he ſhall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his boſom, and ſhall gently lead thoſe that are with young.

CHAP. XXXVIII.] 12 I have cut off like a weaver my life, &c.] My ſins have cut off the thread of my life, like that of a weaver's ſhuttle.

14 Like a crane or a ſwallow, ſo did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove.] My pains were ſometimes ſo violent, that they forced me to cry aloud: at other times my ſtrength was ſo exhauſted, that I could only groan inwardly, and bemoan my unhappy condition in ſilence.

18 For the grave cannot praiſe thee, death cannot celebrate thee, &c.] The dead cannot be inſtruments of promoting thy glory here; nor can they that are laid in the chambers of the duſt proclaim thy goodneſs to the children of men.

CHAP. XXXIX.] 1 At that time Merodach-baladan, ſon of Baladan.] Merodach was the name of an idol worſhipped by the Babyloniens, and Bell, another: and theſe two idols, with the addition of Adan or Adon, which ſignifies Lord, gave name to this king of Babylon.

CHAP. XL.] 3 The voice of him that crieth in the wilderneſs.] The prophet calls the way by which the Jews were to return from captivity into their own country, by the name of the wilderneſs, alluding to their paſſage through the deſart, in their way from Egypt to Canaan.

3 Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make ſtraight in the deſart a high-way for our God.] This expreſſion alludes to the cuſtom of princes in ſending harbingers before them, to make the roads eaſy and commodious for their paſſage. And it muſt be added, that the very words exactly deſcribe the office of John the Baptiſt, who prepared the way of the great Redeemer of mankind, by preaching in the wilderneſs.

11 He ſhall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his boſom, &c.] As a careful ſhepherd gathereth his lambs together, that none of them be loſt, carries thoſe in his boſom that are not able to walk, and gently drives the ewes th the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, d the hills in a balance?

13 Who hath directed the spirit of the Lord, or being his coun- lor hath taught him?
14 With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and ught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, d shewed to him the way of understanding?
15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are count- as the small dust of the balance: behold he taketh up the isles a very little thing.
16 And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts there- sufficient for a burnt-offering.
17 All nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted him less than nothing, and vanity.
18 ¶ To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will compare unto him?
19 The workman melteth a graven image, and the goldsmith readeth it over with gold, and casteth silver chains.
20 He that is so impoverished that he hath no oblation, chooseth tree that will not rot; he seeketh unto him a cunning workman prepare a graven image that shall not be moved.
21 Have ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been ld you from the beginning? have ye not understood from the undations of the earth?
22 It is he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the in- abitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that stretcheth out the hea- ens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in:
23 That bringeth the princes to nothing; he maketh the judges f the earth as vanity.
24 Yea, they shall not be planted, yea, they shall not be sown, ea, their stock shall not take root in the earth: and he shall also low upon them, and they shall wither, and the whirlwind shall ake them away as stubble.
25 To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith he holy One.
26 Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these hings, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all y names, by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in ower, not one faileth.
27 Why sayst thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way hid from the Lord, and my judgment is passed over from my God?
28 ¶ Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the verlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth ainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his un- derstanding.
29 He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no ight, he increaseth strength.
30 Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall.
31 But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength: hey shall mount up with wings as eagles, they shall run and not be weary, and they shall walk and not faint.

CHAP. XLI.

KEEP silence before me, O islands, and let the people renew their strength: let them come near, then let them speak: let us come near together to judgment.
2 Who raised up the righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? he gave them as the dust to his sword, and as driven stub- ble to his bow.
3 He pursued them, and passed safely; even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.
4 Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the Lord, the first, and with the last, I am he.
5 The isles saw it, and feared, the ends of the earth were a- fraid, drew near, and came.
6 They helped every one his neighbour, and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage.
7 So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer, him that smote the anvil, saying, It is ready for the sodering: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.
8 But thou, Israel, art my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend.
9 Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away.
10 ¶ Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not dismayed, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, yea, I will help thee, yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.
11 Behold, all they that were incensed against thee, shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and they that strive with thee shall perish.
12 Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contended with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.
13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not, I will help thee.
14 Fear not thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel: I will help thee, saith the Lord, and thy redeemer, the holy One of Israel.
15 Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing-instrument, having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff.
16 Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the Lord, and shalt glory in the holy One of Israel.
17 When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the Lord will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them.
18 I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the vallies: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.
19 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittah-tree, and the myrtle, and the oyl-tree: I will set in the desart the fir- tree, and the pine, and the box-tree together:
20 That they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the Lord hath done this, and the holy One of Israel hath created it.
21 Produce your cause, saith the Lord; bring forth your strong reasons, saith the king of Jacob.
22 Let them bring them forth, and shew us what shall happen: let them shew the former things what they be, that we may con- sider them, and know the latter end of them; or declare us things for to come.
23 Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together.
24 Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you.
25 I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come: from the rising of the sun shall he call upon my name, and he shall come upon princes as upon morter, and as the potter treadeth clay.
26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? and before-time, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that heareth your words.
27 The first shall say to Zion, Behold, behold them, and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good tidings.
28 For I beheld, and there was no man even among them, and there was no counsellor, that when I asked of them, could answer a word.
29 Behold, they are all vanity, their works are nothing: their molten images are wind and confusion.

CHAP. XLII.

BEhold my servant whom I uphold, mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth: I have put my spirit upon him, he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles.
2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.
3 A bruised reed shall he not break: and the smoaking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth.
4 He shall not fail, nor be discouraged, till he have set judg- ment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.
5 ¶ Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it, he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein:
6 I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles;
7 To open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison-house.
8 I am the Lord, that is my name, and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.

that cannot bear the fatigue of travelling fast; so will the Messiah, the great shepherd of the sheep, use the same gentleness towards the weak members of his flock, giving them instruction as they are able to bear it, and taking all possible care to reduce the stragglers into his fold.

CHAP. LXI.] 2 Who raised up the righteous man from the east? &c.] Some expositors understand this expression to mean Abraham, whom God called from the other side of the Euphrates, which lay to the east-ward of Judea; but it seems more natural to apply it to Cyrus, here typically representing Christ.

CHAP. XLII.] 1 Behold my servant whom I will uphold.] The following prophecy is, by St. Matthew, applied to Christ. Indeed it cannot, with any show of probability, be applied to any other. The holy spirit seems to have taken an occasion, from the deliverance of the Jews out of their captivity, to give the prophet a view of a more glorious redemption, which should be accomplished by the Messiah.

3 A bruised reed shall he not break: and the smoaking flax shall he not quench.] It is surely impossible for the prophet to have chosen two more delicate and expressive representations. Can any image be more significant of a very infirm and enfeebled faith, than the flexile reed that bends before every wind; which, besides its natural weakness, is made abundantly weaker by being bruised; and therefore ready to fall in pieces of itself? Nor can any thing, with a more pathetical exactness, describe the extreme imbecility of love, that other principles of

9 Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein; the isles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness, and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains.

12 Let them give glory unto the Lord, and declare his praise in the islands.

13 The Lord shall go forth as a mighty man, he shall stir up jealousy like a man of war: he shall cry; yea, roar; he shall prevail against his enemies.

14 I have long time holden my peace, I have been still and refrained myself: now will I cry like a travailing woman, I will destroy and devour at once.

15 I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs, and I will make the rivers islands, and I will dry up the pools.

16 And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not, I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.

17 ¶ They shall be turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed that trust in graven images, that say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Hear, ye deaf, and look, ye blind, that ye may see.

19 Who is blind but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I sent? who is blind as he that is perfect, and blind as the Lord's servant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou observest not; opening the ears, but he heareth not.

21 The Lord is well pleased for his righteousness sake, he will magnify the law, and make it honourable.

22 But this is a people robbed and spoiled, they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison-houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a spoil, and none saith, Restore.

23 Who among you will give ear to this? who will hearken and hear for the time to come?

24 Who gave Jabob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? did not the Lord, he against whom we have sinned? for they would not walk in his ways, neither were they obedient unto his law.

25 Therefore he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle: and it hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

CHAP. XLIII.

BUT now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee: and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burnt; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy One of Israel, thy saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

4 Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life.

5 Fear not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west.

6 I will say to the north, Give up: and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth;

7 Even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him, yea, I have made him.

8 ¶ Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew us former things? let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear and say, It is truth.

10 Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no god formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, even I am the Lord, and beside me there is no saviour.

12 I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall let it?

14 ¶ Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy One of Israel, For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and have brought down all their nobles, and the Chaldeans, whose cry is in the ships.

15 I am the Lord your holy One, the creator of Israel, your king.

16 Thus saith the Lord, which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters.

17 Which bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the power: they shall lie down together, they shall not rise: they are extinct, they are quenched as tow.

18 ¶ Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old.

19 Behold, I will do a new thing: now it shall spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desart.

20 The beast of the field shall honour me, the dragons and the owls: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desart, to give drink to my people, my chosen

21 This people have I formed for myself, they shall shew forth my praise.

22 ¶ But thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob, but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel.

23 Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thy sins, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins.

26 Put me in remembrance: let us plead together: declare thou that thou mayest be justified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I have profaned the princes of the sanctuary, and have given Jacob to the curse, and Israel to reproaches.

CHAP. XLIV.

YET now hear, O Jacob my servant, and Israel whom I have chosen.

2 Thus saith the Lord that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, which will help thee, Fear not, O Jacob, my servant; and thou Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.

3 For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring:

4 And they shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the water-courses.

5 One shall say, I am the Lord's: and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob: and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the Lord, and surname himself by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the Lord the king of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts, I am the first, and I am the last, and besides me there is no God.

7 And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people; the things that are coming and shall come? let them shew unto them.

8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it: ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God besides me? yea, there is no God, I know not any.

9 ¶ They that make a graven image are all of them vanity, and their delectable things shall not profit, and they are their own witnesses, they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed.

10 Who hath formed a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his fellows shall be ashamed: and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up; yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together.

12 The smith with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth; he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out his rule: he marketh it out with a line: he fitteth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the the divine life, than the state of flax, which is but just beginning to burn, and consequently liable to be put out by the least blast?

10, 11, 12 Sing unto the Lord a new song, &c.] An exhortation to all the inhabitants of the earth to give glory to God for his wonderful mercy in making himself known to the Gentile world by the gospel: a mercy so great, that even the inanimate parts of the creation are considered as affected by it, and exhorted to join in the general chorus of praise.

CHAP. XLIII.] 5. 6 I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west.] This prophecy was partly fulfilled in the return of the Jews from Babylon, and other countries under that monarchy; but the entire completion will be at the time when the Jews shall embrace the gospel, and be gathered to their own land.

CHAP. XLIV.] 2 And thou Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.] Jeshurun is a name given to the Jews by Moses; it signifies upright, because they were called to be an holy people to the Lord.

the compass; and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man; that it may remain in the house.

14 He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the cypress, and the oak, which he strengtheneth for himself among the trees of the forest: he planteth an ash, and the rain doth nourish it.

15 Then shall it be for a man to burn: for he will take thereof, and warm himself; yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread: yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it: he maketh it a graven image, and falleth down thereto.

16 He burneth part thereof in the fire: with part thereof he eateth flesh. he roasteth roast, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire.

17 And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it, and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me, for thou art my god.

18 They have not known nor understood: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand.

19 And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burnt part of it in the fire, yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof: I have roasted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree?

20 He feedeth on ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lye in my right hand?

21 ¶ Remember these, O Jacob and Israel; for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant; O Israel, thou shalt not be forgotten of me.

22 I have blotted out as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me, for I have redeemed thee.

23 Sing, O ye heavens; for the Lord hath done it: shout, ye lower parts of the earth: break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb, I am the Lord that maketh all things, that stretcheth forth the heavens alone, that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself:

25 That frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad, that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish:

26 That confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited; and to the cities of Judah, Ye shall be built, and I will raise up the decayed places thereof:

27 That saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers.

28 That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure, even saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

CHAP. XLV.

THUS saith the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him: and I will loose the loins of kings, to open before him the two-leaved gates, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron.

3 And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I the Lord, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel.

4 For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 ¶ I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God besides me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me:

6 That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none besides me, I am the Lord, and there is none else.

7 I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the Lord do all these things.

8 Drop down, ye heavens from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together: I the Lord have created it.

9 Woe unto him that striveth with his maker: let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands?

10 Woe unto him that saith unto his father, What begettest thou? or to the woman, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the holy One of Israel, and his maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.

12 I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.

13 I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let go my captives, not for price or reward, saith the Lord of hosts.

14 Thus saith the Lord, the labour of Egypt, and merchandize of Ethiopia, and of the Sabeans, men of stature shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine, they shall come after thee; in chains shall they come over: and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none else, there is no God.

15 Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel the saviour.

16 They shall be ashamed, and also confounded all of them: they shall go to confusion together that are makers of idols.

17 But Israel shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded, world without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens, God himself that formed the earth, and made it, he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited, I am the Lord, and there is none else.

19 I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: I the Lord speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

20 ¶ Assemble yourselves and come: draw near together ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save.

21 Tell ye, and bring them near, yea, let them take counsel together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the Lord? and there is no God else beside me, a just God and a saviour, there is none beside me.

22 Look unto me, and be ye saved all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else.

23 I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, that unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear.

24 Surely shall one say, In the Lord have I righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come, and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.

25 In the Lord shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

CHAP. XLVI.

BEL boweth down, Nebo stoopeth, their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle; your carriages were heavy laden, they are a burden to the weary beast.

2 They stoop, they bow down together, they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.

3 ¶ Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which are born by me from the belly, which are carried from the womb.

4 And even to your old age I am he, and even to hoary hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear, even I will carry and will deliver you.

5 ¶ To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like?

6 They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea they worship.

7 They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

8 Remember this, and shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors.

9 Remember the former things of old, for I am God, and there is none else, I am God, and there is none like me.

10 Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure.

11 Calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man that executeth my counsel from a far country: yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed it, I will also do it.

12 ¶ Hearken unto me ye stout-hearted, that are far from righteousness.

28 That saith of Cyrus, he is my shepherd, &c.] I will make him my instrument of gathering my people together, and leading them home, as a shepherd does his flock. This is one of the most remarkable prophecies in scripture, where Cyrus is called by his name, as the prophet expresses it, chap. xlv. 4. above an hundred years before he was born.

CHAP. XLV.] 8 Drop down ye heavens, from above, &c.] A passionate wish of the people to see those happy times, in which heaven and earth should conspire to display the righteousness of God, and promote the happiness of men.

15 Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself.] This passage alludes to the unsearchableness of God's counsels.

CHAP. XLVI.] 1 Bel boweth down, Nebo stoopeth.] Two principal idols of the Babylonians.

11 Calling a ravenous bird from the east.] By the ravenous bird is meant Cyrus, whom God is said to have raised up from the east. Conquerors who have over-run and ravaged whole countries, are often compared to birds of prey.

13 I bring near my righteousness: it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry; and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

CHAP. XLVII.

COME down and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate.

2 Take the millstones and grind meal, uncover thy locks, make bare the leg, uncover the thigh, pass over the rivers.

3 Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man.

4 As for our redeemer, the Lord of hosts is his name, the holy One of Israel.

5 Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called the lady of kingdoms.

6 ¶ I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy; upon the ancient hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke.

7 ¶ And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

8 Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart, I am, and none else besides me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children.

9 But these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day: the loss of children and widowhood; they shall come upon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine inchantments.

10 ¶ For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness, thou hast said, None seeth me: thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else besides me.

11 Therefore shall evil come upon thee, thou shalt not know from whence it riseth: and mischief shall fall upon thee, thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

12 Stand now with thine inchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the star-gazers, the monthly prognosticators stand up and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble: the fire shall burn them: they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants from thy youth, they shall wander every one to his quarter, none shall save thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

HEAR ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah; which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness.

2 For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel, the Lord of hosts is his name.

3 I have declared the former things from the beginning; and they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them, I did them suddenly, and they came to pass.

4 Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass:

5 I have even from the beginning declared it to thee; before it came to pass I shewed it thee: lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, see all this; and will not ye declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, and thou didst not know them.

7 They are created now, and not from the beginning, even before the day when thou heardest them not: lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them.

8 Yea, thou heardest not, yea, thou knewest not, yea, from that time that thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou wouldest deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressor from the womb.

9 ¶ For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine own sake, even for mine own sake will I do it; for how should my name be polluted? and I will not give my glory unto another.

12 ¶ Hearken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel, my called, I am he, I am the first, I also am the last.

13 Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together.

14 All ye assemble yourselves and hear: which among them hath declared these things? the Lord hath loved him: he will do his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Chaldeans.

15 I, even I have spoken, yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

16 ¶ Come ye near unto me, hear ye this, I have not spoken in secret from the beginning, from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord God, and his spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, the holy One of Israel, I am the Lord thy God which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

18 O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea:

19 Thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the gravel thereof; his name should not have been cut off, nor destroyed from before me.

20 ¶ Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his servant Jacob.

21 And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out.

22 There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.

CHAP. XLIX.

LISTEN, O isles, unto me, and hearken, ye people from far, The Lord hath called me from the womb, from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft, in his quiver hath he hid me.

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified.

4 Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain, yet surely my judgment is with the Lord, and my work with my God.

5 ¶ And now, saith the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God shall be my strength.

6 And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

7 Thus saith the Lord, the redeemer of Israel, and his holy One, to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers, Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the Lord that is faithful, and the holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9 That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves: they shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places.

10 They shall not hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them.

11 And I will make all my mountains a way, and my high-ways shall be exalted.

12 Behold, these shall come from far: and lo, these from the north and from the west, and these from the land of Sinim.

13 ¶ Sing, O heavens, and be joyful, O earth, and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But

CHAP. XLVII.] 1 Come down and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground, &c.] Sit in a mournful and disconsolate posture. The prophet calls her the virgin daughter of Babylon, as she had never been conquered.

2 Take millstones and grind meal, &c.] Thou shalt be reduced from thy lofty seat as mistress of kingdoms, to the lowest situation of a slave; thy captives shall be forced to grind at the mill, the lowest and most abject degree of drudgery.

CHAP. XLVIII.] 10 I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.] Or, as the passage may be rendered, I have tried thee in the furnace of affliction.

16 From the time that it was, there am I.] That is, I have not delivered my predictions in ambiguous terms, because I am from all eternity, and being present to all the successions of time, can clearly foresee those distant events which my providence bringeth to pass.

CHAP. XLIX.] 1 The Lord hath called me from the womb, &c.] These words are, in an eminent manner, true of Christ, whom God hath, in a peculiar manner sanctified, or set apart for his offices of king, priest, and prophet, and sent him into the world to put them in execution.

7 Thus saith the Lord, the Redeemer of Israel, and his holy one, to him whom man despiseth, &c.] These words describe the wonderful progress of the gospel, from small beginnings; that the author of it, from being the contempt of all the great men of the world, should at last be the object of their adoration.

15 Can

14 But Zion ſaid, The Lord hath forſaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her ſucking child, that ſhe ſhould not have compaſſion on the ſon of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands, thy walls are continually before me.

17 Thy children ſhall make haſte; thy deſtroyers, and they that made thee waſte, ſhall go forth of thee.

18 ¶ Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all theſe gather themſelves together, and come to thee: as I live, ſaith the Lord, thou ſhalt ſurely cloath thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee as a bride doth.

19 For thy waſte and thy deſolate places, and the land of thy deſtruction ſhall even now be too narrow by reaſon of the inhabitants, and they that ſwallowed thee up ſhall be far away.

20 The children which thou ſhalt have, after thou haſt loſt the other, ſhall ſay again in thine ears, The place is too ſtrait for me: give place to me, that I may dwell.

21 Then ſhalt thou ſay in thine heart, Who hath begotten me theſe, ſeeing I have loſt my children, and am deſolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up theſe? Behold, I was left alone, theſe, where had they been?

22 Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the Gentiles, and ſet up my ſtandard to the people: and they ſhall bring thy ſons in their arms, and thy daughters ſhall be carried upon their ſhoulders.

23 And kings ſhall be thy nurſing-fathers, and their queens thy nurſing-mothers: they ſhall bow down to thee with their face toward the earth, and lick up the duſt of thy feet, and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord: for they ſhall not be aſhamed that wait for me.

24 ¶ Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive delivered?

25 But thus ſaith the Lord, even the captives of the mighty ſhall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible ſhall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will ſave thy children.

26 And I will feed them that oppreſs thee with their own fleſh, and they ſhall be drunken with their own blood, as with ſweet wine: and all fleſh ſhall know that I the Lord am thy ſaviour and thy redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

CHAP. L.

THUS ſaith the Lord, Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement whom I have put away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have ſold you? Behold, for your iniquities have you ſold yourſelves, and for your tranſgreſſions is your mother put away.

2 Wherefore when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to anſwer? Is my hand ſhortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the ſea: I make the rivers a wilderneſs: their fiſh ſtinketh, becauſe there is no water, and dieth for thirſt.

3 I cloath the heavens with blackneſs, and I make ſackcloth their covering.

4 The Lord God hath given me the tongue of the learned that I ſhould know how to ſpeak a word in ſeaſon to him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning: he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned.

5 ¶ The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away back.

6 I gave my back to the ſmiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from ſhame and ſpitting.

7 ¶ For the Lord God will help me, therefore ſhall I not be confounded: therefore have I ſet my face like a flint, and I know that I ſhall not be aſhamed.

8 He is near that juſtifieth me, who will contend with me? let us ſtand together: who is mine adverſary? let him come near to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God will help me, who is he that ſhall condemn me? lo, they all ſhall wax old as a garment: the moth ſhall eat them up.

10 ¶ Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his ſervant, that walketh in darkneſs, and hath no light? let him truſt in the name of the Lord, and ſtay upon his God.

11 Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compaſs yourſelves about with ſparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the ſparks that ye have kindled. This ſhall ye have of mine hand, ye ſhall lie down in ſorrow.

CHAP. LI.

HEarken to me, ye that follow after righteouſneſs, ye that ſeek the Lord: look into the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you; for I called him alone, and bleſſed him, and increaſed him.

3 For the Lord ſhall comfort Zion: he will comfort all her waſte places, and he will make her wilderneſs like Eden, and her deſart like the garden of the Lord; joy and gladneſs ſhall be found therein, thankſgiving, and the voice of melody.

4 ¶ Hearken unto me, my people, and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law ſhall proceed from me, and I will make my judgment to reſt for a light of the people.

5 My righteouſneſs is near: my ſalvation is gone forth, and mine arms ſhall judge the people: the iſles ſhall wait upon me, and on mine arm ſhall they truſt.

6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens ſhall vaniſh away like ſmoke, and the earth ſhall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein ſhall die in like manner: but my ſalvation ſhall be for ever, and my righteouſneſs ſhall not be aboliſhed.

7 ¶ Hearken unto me, ye that know righteouſneſs, the people in whoſe heart is my law, fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings.

8 For the moth ſhall eat them up like a garment, and the worm ſhall eat them like wool: but my righteouſneſs ſhall be for ever, and my ſalvation from generation to generation.

9 ¶ Awake, awake, put on ſtrength, O arm of the Lord; awake as in the ancient days, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art thou not it which hath dried the ſea, the waters of the great deep, that hath made the depths of the ſea a way for the ranſomed to paſs over?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord ſhall return, and come with ſinging unto Zion, and everlaſting joy ſhall be upon their head: they ſhall obtain gladneſs and joy, and ſorrow and mourning ſhall flee away.

12 I, even I am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou ſhouldeſt be afraid of a man that ſhall die, and of the ſon of man, which ſhall be made as graſs?

13 And forgetteſt the Lord thy maker, that hath ſtretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth? and haſt feared continually every day, becauſe of the fury of the oppreſſor, as if he were ready to deſtroy? and where is the fury of the oppreſſor?

14 The captive exile haſteneth that he may be looſed, and that he ſhould not die in the pit, nor that his bread ſhould fail.

15 But I am the Lord thy God, that divided the ſea, whoſe waves roared: the Lord of hoſts is his name.

16 And I have put my words in thy mouth, and have covered thee in the ſhadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and ſay unto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 ¶ Awake, awake, ſtand up, O Jeruſalem, which haſt drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury; thou haſt drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the ſons whom ſhe hath brought forth: neither is there any that taketh her by the hand, of all the ſons that ſhe hath brought up.

19 Theſe two things are come unto thee: who ſhall be ſorry for thee? deſolation, and deſtruction, and the famine, and the ſword: by whom ſhall I comfort thee?

20 Thy ſons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the ſtreets, as a wild bull in a net: they are full of the fury of the Lord, the rebuke of thy God.

21 ¶ Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus ſaith thy Lord, the Lord, and thy God that pleadeth the cauſe of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury, thou ſhalt no more drink it again.

23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee: which have ſaid to thy ſoul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou haſt laid thy body as the ground, and as the ſtreet to them that went over.

15 Can a woman forget her ſucking child, &c.] God is often deſcribed as bearing a fatherly affection towards his people; but here the compariſon is raiſed higher, and he ſpeaks of himſelf as having the ſame tenderneſs as a mother has for the fruit of her womb.

CHAP. L.] 1 Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement whom I have put away? &c.] The covenant which God made with his people is commonly repreſented by a marriage-contract. And, in alluſion to this notion, God demands of the captives, who deſpaired of his mercy, to produce the bill of divorce which he had given to their mother; being himſelf ready to receive her, whenever ſhe would return from her idolatries.

4 He wakeneth morning by morning: he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned.] Every morning he putteth me in mind of diſcharging mine office, as maſters rouſe up their ſcholars betimes to ſtudy.

CHAP. LI.] 2 Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you, &c.] Remember your origin: you ſprung from Abraham and Sarah, when they were paſt the age of having children. It is therefore no difficulty to God to multiply their poſterity, however ſmall their number may be.

5 Mine arm ſhall ju ge the people, &c.] That is, the power of the moſt High ſhall accompany the preaching of the goſpel.

19 Who ſhall be ſorry for thee? &c.] Who is there left to take pity on thee, ſince thy children are all involved in the ſame degree of miſery?

CHAP. LII.

AWAKE, awake, put on thy ſtrength, O Zion, put on thy beautiful garments, O Jeruſalem the holy city: for henceforth there ſhall no more come into thee the uncircumciſed and the unclean.

2 Shake thyſelf from the duſt: ariſe, and ſit down, O Jeruſalem: looſe thyſelf from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus ſaith the Lord, Ye have ſold yourſelves for nought: and ye ſhall be redeemed without money.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord God, My people went down aforetime into Egypt to ſojourn there, and the Aſſyrian oppreſſed them without cauſe.

5 Now therefore, what have I here, ſaith the Lord, that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them, make them to howl, ſaith the Lord, and my name continually every day is blaſphemed.

6 Therefore my people ſhall know my name: therefore they ſhall know in that day, that I am he that doth ſpeak, behold, it is I.

7 ¶ How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publiſheth peace, that bringeth good tidings of good, that publiſheth ſalvation, that ſaith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 Thy watchmen ſhall lift up the voice, with the voice together ſhall they ſing: for they ſhall ſee eye to eye, when the Lord ſhall bring again Zion.

9 ¶ Break forth into joy, ſing together, ye waſte places of Jeruſalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jeruſalem.

10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth ſhall ſee the ſalvation of our God.

11 ¶ Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing, go ye out of the midſt of her; be ye clean, that bear the veſſels of the Lord.

12 For ye ſhall not go out with haſte, nor go by flight: for the Lord will go before you: and the God of Iſrael will be your rere-ward.

13 ¶ Behold, my ſervant ſhall deal prudently, he ſhall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.

14 As many were aſtoniſhed at thee; (his viſage was ſo marred more than any man, and his form more than the ſons of men)

15 So ſhall he ſprinkle many nations, the kings ſhall ſhut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them ſhall they ſee; and that which they had not heard, ſhall they conſider.

CHAP. LIII.

WHO hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

2 For he ſhall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comelineſs: and when we ſhall ſee him, there is no beauty that we ſhould deſire him.

3 He is deſpiſed and rejected of men, a man of ſorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was deſpiſed, and we eſteemed him not.

4 ¶ Surely he hath born our griefs, and carried our ſorrows: yet we did eſteem him ſtricken, ſmitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But he was wounded for our tranſgreſſions, he was bruiſed for our iniquities: the chaſtiſement of our peace was upon him, and with his ſtripes we are healed.

6 All we like ſheep have gone aſtray: we have turned every one to his own way, and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppreſſed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the ſlaughter, and as a ſheep before the ſhearers is dumb, ſo he openeth not his mouth.

8 He was taken from priſon and from judgment: and who ſhall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the tranſgreſſion of my people was he ſtricken.

9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, becauſe he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 ¶ Yet it pleaſed the Lord to bruiſe him, he hath put him to grief: when thou ſhalt make his ſoul an offering for ſin, he ſhall ſee his ſeed, he ſhall prolong his days, and the pleaſure of the Lord ſhall proſper in his hand.

11 He ſhall ſee of the travel of his ſoul, and ſhall be ſatisfied: by his knowledge ſhall my righteous ſervant juſtify many: for he ſhall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he ſhall divide the ſpoil with the ſtrong: becauſe he hath poured out his ſoul unto death: and he was numbered with the tranſgreſſors, and he bare the ſin of many, and made interceſſion for the tranſgreſſors.

CHAP. LIV.

SING, O barren, thou that didſt not bear; break forth into ſinging and cry aloud, thou that didſt not travail with child: for more are the children of the deſolate, than the children of the married wife, ſaith the Lord.

3 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them ſtretch forth the curtains of thine habitations: ſpare not, lengthen thy cords, and ſtrengthen thy ſtakes.

3 For thou ſhalt break forth on the right hand and on the left: and thy ſeed ſhall inherit the Gentiles, and make the deſolate cities to be inhabited.

4 Fear not, for thou ſhalt not be aſhamed: neither be thou confounded, for thou ſhalt not be put to ſhame: for thou ſhalt forget the ſhame of thy youth, and ſhalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more.

5 For thy maker is thine huſband (the Lord of hoſts is his name;) and thy redeemer the holy One of Iſrael, the God of the whole earth ſhall he be called.

6 For the Lord hath called thee as a woman forſaken and grieved in ſpirit, and a wife of youth, when thou waſt refuſed, ſaith thy God.

7 For a ſmall moment have I forſaken thee, but with great mercies will I gather thee.

8 In a little wrath I hid my face from thee, for a moment; but with everlaſting kindneſs will I have mercy on thee, ſaith the Lord thy redeemer.

9 For this is as the waters of Noah unto me: for as I have ſworn that the waters of Noah ſhould no more go over the earth; ſo have I ſworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountains ſhall depart, and the hills be removed, but my kindneſs ſhall not depart from thee, neither ſhall the covenant of my peace be removed, ſaith the Lord, that hath mercy on thee.

11 ¶ O thou afflicted, toſſed with tempeſt, and not comforted, behold, I will lay thy ſtones with fair colours, and lay thy foundations with ſapphires.

12 And I will make thy windows of agates, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy borders of pleaſant ſtones.

13 And all thy children ſhall be taught of the Lord, and great ſhall be the peace of thy children.

14 In righteouſneſs ſhalt thou be eſtabliſhed: thou ſhall be far from the oppreſſion, for thou ſhalt not fear; and from terror, for it ſhall not come near thee.

15 Behold they ſhall ſurely gather together, but not by me: whoſoever ſhall gather together againſt thee, ſhall fall for thy ſake, 16 Behold, I have created the ſmith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an inſtrument for his work, and I have created the waſter to deſtroy.

17 ¶ No weapon that is formed againſt thee, ſhall proſper; and every tongue that ſhall riſe againſt thee in judgment, thou ſhalt condemn. This is the heritage of the ſervants of the Lord, and their righteouſneſs is of me, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. LV.

HO, every one that thirſteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.

2 Wherefore do ye ſpend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which ſatisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your ſoul delight in fatneſs.

3 Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your ſoul ſhall live, and I will make an everlaſting covenant with you, even the ſure mercies of David.

4 Behold, I have given him for a witneſs to the people, a leader and commander to the people.

5 Behold, thou ſhalt call a nation that thou kneweſt not, and nations

CHAP. LII.] 10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arm.] He hath given evident tokens of his power and holineſs.

10 All the ends of the earth ſhall ſee the ſalvation of our God.] Theſe words can only be underſtood of the revelation of the goſpel being preached in every part of the world.

15 So ſhall he ſprinkle many nations.] But however deſpicable his ſufferings may render him for the preſent, yet they ſhall be productive of the greateſt benefit to others, and, in the end, redound to his own glory; he ſhall purify whole nations by his blood, and preſent them holy to God.

CHAP. LIII.] 3 A man of ſorrows, and acquainted with grief.] The bleſſed Jeſus endured the continual contradiction of ſinners; and all the ill treatment which the malice of men or devils could ſuggeſt.

5 The chaſtiſement of our peace was upon him, &c.] He ſuffered thoſe chaſtiſements, by which our peace with the Almighty was wrought, and ſatisfaction made to the divine juſtice.

7 He is brought as a lamb to the ſlaughter, &c.] Meekly ſubmitting to the violence of his perſecutors, not offering to make the leaſt reſiſtance.

CHAP. LIV.] 5 For thy maker is thy huſband.] Though God had caſt thee off for ſome time, yet he ſtill owns the relation of a huſband towards thee, and will give thee abundant marks of his conjugal affection.

7 For a ſmall moment have I forſaken thee, &c.] God's anger towards his ſervants is ſhort, when compared with that everlaſting kindneſs he will ſhew towards them.

CHAP. LV.] 4 Behold, I have given him for a witneſs to the people, &c.] The prophets often put David for Chriſt; becauſe, in the latter, all the promiſes made to the former of eſtabliſhing his throne for ever, were to be fulfilled. And as all the prophets were God's witneſſes, ſo that title does, in an eminent manner belong to the Meſſiah, who was the great prophet foretold by Moſes.

tions that knew not thee ſhall run unto thee becauſe of the Lord y God, and for the holy One of Iſrael: for he hath glorified ee.

6 ¶ Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him hile he is near.

7 Let the wicked forſake his ways and the unrighteous man his oughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have ercy upon him, and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

8 ¶ For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ays my ways ſaith the Lord.

9 For as the heavens are higher than the earth, ſo are my ways gher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

10 For as the rain cometh down, and the ſnow from heaven, and turneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring rth and bud, that it may give ſeed to the ſower, and bread to the ter:

11 So ſhall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it all not return unto me void, but it ſhall accompliſh that which pleaſe, and it ſhall proſper in the thing whereto I ſent it.

12 For ye ſhall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: e mountains and the hills ſhall break forth before you into ſing- g, and all the trees of the field ſhall clap their hands.

13 Inſtead of the thorn ſhall come up the fir-tree, and inſtead the brier ſhall come up the myrtle-tree: and it ſhall be to the ord for a name for an everlaſting ſign that ſhall not be cut off.

CHAP. LVI.

THUS ſaith the Lord, Keep ye judgment, and do juſtice: for my ſalvation is near to come, and my righteouſneſs to be evealed.

2 Bleſſed is the man that doeth this, and the ſon of man that ayeth hold on it: that keepeth the ſabbath from polluting it, and eepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3 ¶ Neither let the ſon of the ſtranger, that hath joined him- elf to the Lord, ſpeak, ſaying, The Lord hath utterly ſeparated e from his people: neither let the eunuch ſay, Behold I am a ry tree.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord unto the eunuchs that keep my ſab- aths, and chooſe the things that pleaſe me, and take hold of my ovenant:

5 Even unto them will I give in mine houſe, and within my alls, a place and a name better than of ſons and of daughters: I ill give them an everlaſting name, that ſhall not be cut off.

6 Alſo the ſons of the ſtranger that join themſelves to the Lord o ſerve him, and to love the name of the Lord, to be his ſervants, very one that keepeth the ſabbath from polluting it, and taketh old of my covenant:

7 Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them oyful in my houſe of prayer: their burnt-offerings and their ſa- rifices ſhall be accepted upon mine altar; for mine houſe ſhall be alled an houſe of prayer for all people.

8 The Lord God, which gathereth the outcaſts of Iſrael, ſaith, Yet, will I gather others to him, beſides thoſe that are gathered nto him.

9 ¶ All ye beaſts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beaſts n the foreſt.

10 His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all umb dogs, they cannot bark; ſleeping, lying down, loving to lumber.

11 Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and hey are ſhepherds that cannot underſtand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain from his quarter.

12 Come ye, ſay they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill our- elves with ſtrong drink; and to-morrow ſhall be as this day, and much more abundant.

CHAP. LVII.

THE righteous periſheth, and no man layeth it to heart; and merciful men are taken away, none conſidering that the ighteous is taken away from the evil to come.

2 He ſhall enter into peace: they ſhall reſt in their beds, each ne walking in his uprightneſs.

3 ¶ But draw near hither, ye ſons of the ſorcereſs, the ſeed of he adulterer, and the whore.

4 Againſt whom do ye ſport yourſelves? againſt whom make e a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of ranſgreſſion, a ſeed of falſhood?

5 Enflaming yourſelves with idols under every green tree, ſlay- ng the children in the vallies under the clefts of the rocks?

6 Among the ſmooth ſtones of the ſtream is thy portion; they, hey are thy lot: even to them haſt thou poured a drink-offering, thou haſt offered a meat-offering. Should I receive comfort in theſe?

7 Upon a lofty and high mountain haſt thou ſet thy bed: even thither wenteſt thou up to offer ſacrifice.

8 Behind the doors alſo and the poſts haſt thou ſet up thy remembrance: for thou haſt diſcovered thyſelf to another than me, and art gone up: thou haſt enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them; thou lovedſt their bed where thou ſaweſt it.

9 And thou wenteſt to the king with ointment, and didſt increaſe thy perfumes, and didſt ſend thy meſſengers far off, and didſt debaſe thyſelf even unto hell.

10 Thou art wearied in the greatneſs of thy way; yet ſaideſt thou not, There is no hope: thou haſt found the life of thine hand; therefore thou waſt not grieved.

11 And of whom haſt thou been afraid or feared, that thou haſt lyed, and haſt not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? have not I held my peace even of old, and thou feareſt me not?

12 I will declare thy righteouſneſs, and thy works, for they ſhall not profit thee.

13 ¶ When thou crieſt, let thy companies deliver thee: but the wind ſhall carry them all away; vanity ſhall take them: but he that putteth his truſt in me, ſhall poſſeſs the land, and ſhall inherit my holy mountain.

14 And ſhall ſay, Caſt ye up, caſt ye up, prepare the way, take up the ſtumbling-block out of the way of my people.

15 For thus ſaith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whoſe name is Holy, I dwell in the high and holy place; with him alſo that is of a contrite and humble ſpirit, to revive the ſpirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

16 For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the ſpirit ſhould fail before me, and the ſouls which I have made.

17 For the iniquity of his covetouſneſs was I wroth, and ſmote him: I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart.

18 I have ſeen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him alſo, and reſtore comforts unto him and to his mourners.

19 I create the fruit of the lips; peace, peace to him that is far off, and to him that is near, ſaith the Lord, and I will heal him.

20 But the wicked are like the troubled ſea, when it cannot reſt, whoſe waters caſt up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, ſaith my God, to the wicked.

CHAP. LVIII.

CRY aloud, ſpare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and ſhew my people their tranſgreſſion, and the houſe of Jacob their ſins.

2 Yet they ſeek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did righteouſneſs, and forſook not the ordinance of their God: they aſk of me the ordinances of juſtice: they take delight in approaching to God.

3 ¶ Wherefore have we faſted, ſay they, and thou ſeeſt not? wherefore have we afflicted our ſoul, and thou takeſt no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your faſt you find pleaſure, and exact all your labours.

4 Behold, ye faſt for ſtrife and debate, and to ſmite with the fiſt of wickedneſs; ye ſhall not faſt as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high.

5 Is it ſuch a faſt that I have choſen? a day for a man to afflict his ſoul? is it to bow down his head as a bulruſh, and to ſpread ſackcloth and aſhes under him? wilt thou call this a faſt, and an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the faſt that I have choſen? to looſe the bands of wickedneſs, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppreſſed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

7 Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are caſt out to thy houſe? when thou ſeeſt the naked, that thou cover him, and that thou hide not thyſelf from thine own fleſh?

8 ¶ Then ſhall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health ſhall ſpring forth ſpeedily: and thy righteouſneſs ſhall go before thee, the glory of the Lord ſhall be thy rearward.

9 Then ſhalt thou call, and the Lord ſhall anſwer; thou ſhalt cry, and he ſhall ſay, Here I am: if thou take away from the midſt of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and ſpeaking vanity.

10 And if thou draw out thy ſoul to the hungry, and ſatiſfy the afflicted ſoul; then ſhall thy light riſe in obſcurity, and thy darkneſs be as the noon-day.

11 And

CHAP. LVI.] 9 All ye beaſts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beaſts in the foreſt.] This paſſage ſhould have begun a new chapter, as it begins another prophecy, diſplaying the ſins and miſeries which began with the invaſion of Pharaoh Necho, and ended with the Babyloniſh captivity.

10 His watchmen are blind---they are all dumb dogs, &c.] The cauſe of theſe miſeries is imputed here to the ignorance and careleſſneſs of their governors, whom the prophet compares to dumb dogs, that give no warning of approaching enemies, that abandon themſelves to ſloth and idleneſs.

CHAP. LVII.] 1 The righteous periſheth.] This may either be underſtood of Hezekiah or Joſiah. The former had a promiſe that peace ſhould continue in his days; and the latter of dying in peace, and not ſeeing the evil which God would bring upon Jeruſalem.

2 They ſhall reſt in their beds, &c.] As death is compared to ſleep, ſo the grave is reſembled to lying down in a bed.

5 Slaying the children in the valies under the clefts of the rocks?] Offering them in ſacrifice to Moloch: a ſin ſeverely prohibited, Lev. xx. 2.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

12 And they that shall be of thee, shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations: and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.

13 ¶ If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord honourable, and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words:

14 Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord, and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

BEhold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear.

2 But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

3 For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity, your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseness.

4 None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

5 They hatch cockatrice-eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed, breaketh out into a viper.

6 Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.

7 Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity, wasting and destruction are in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 ¶ Therefore is judgment far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscurity; for brightness, but we walk in darkness.

10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope, as if we had no eyes: we stumble at noon-day as in the night: we are in desolate places as dead men.

11 We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgment, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us.

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know them:

13 In transgressing and lying against the Lord, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falshood.

14 And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth, and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the Lord saw it, and it displeased him that there was no judgment.

16 ¶ And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his arm brought salvation unto him, and his righteousness, it sustained him.

17 For he put on righteousness as a breast-plate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head: and he put on the garments of vengeance for cloathing, and was clad with zeal as a cloak.

18 According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay fury to his adversaries, recompense to his enemies, to the islands he will repay recompense.

19 So shall they fear the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun: when the enemy shall come in like a flood, the spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him.

20 ¶ And the redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord.

21 As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the Lord, My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord from henceforth and for ever.

CHAP. LX.

ARISE, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

2 For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and see; all they gather themselves together, they come to thee, thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and flow together, and thine heart shall fear and be enlarged, because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee: the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah: all they from Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense, and they shall shew forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee, the rams of Nebaioth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will glorify the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?

9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of the Lord thy God: and to the holy One of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually, they shall not be shut day nor night, that men may bring unto thee the forces of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee, shall perish: yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir-tree, the pine-tree, and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary, and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee, shall come bending unto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee, The city of the Lord, the Zion of the holy One of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of kings, and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy saviour, and thy redeemer the mighty One of Jacob.

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousness.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls salvation, and thy gates praise.

19 The sun shall be no more thy light by day, neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20 Thy sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in his time.

CHAP. LXI.

THE spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek, he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound;

2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourn:

CHAP. LVIII.] 11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, &c.] Drought is used to signify any sort of want; because dry ground is barren, and destitute of all convenience for the support of life.

CHAP. LIX.] 1, 2 Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save: neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear.] The reason of the continuance of your calamities is not want either of power in God to deliver you, or of goodness to hear your prayers.

CHAP. LX.] 1 Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.] It is common for the prophets to describe happiness under the metaphor of light, and affliction under that of darkness. The prophet in this chapter has described the glories of Christ's kingdom, which began upon the first publication of the gospel, but will not be completed till the fulness of the Jews and Gentiles are come into the church.

19, 20 The sun shall be no more thy light.] The favour of the Almighty, the light of thy countenance, shall give thee greater comfort, and shine upon thee with a greater lustre, than the light of the sun and moon: a promise that will be fulfilled in the new Jerusalem, where there shall be no vicissitude of day and night, for the glory of God and of the Lamb are the light thereof, Rev. xxi. xxii. 16.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous, &c.] This character can belong only to the new Jerusalem.

CHAP. LXI.] 1 He hath sent me to bind up the broken hearted.] That is, to give ease to those who are wearied with the burden of their sins.

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for aſhes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praiſe for the ſpirit of heavineſs, that they might be called trees of righteouſneſs, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 ¶ And they ſhall build the old waſtes, they ſhall raiſe up the former deſolations, and they ſhall repair the waſte cities, the deſolations of many generations.

5 And ſtrangers ſhall ſtand and feed your flocks, and the ſons of the alien ſhall be your plowmen, and your vine-dreſſers.

6 But ye ſhall be named the prieſts of the Lord: men ſhall call you the miniſters of our God: ye ſhall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory ſhall you boaſt yourſelves.

7 ¶ For your ſhame ye ſhall have double; and for confuſion they ſhall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they ſhall poſſeſs the double: everlaſting joy ſhall be unto them.

8 For I the Lord love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt-offering, and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlaſting covenant with them.

9 And their ſeed ſhall be known among the Gentiles, and their offſpring among the people: all that ſee them ſhall acknowledge them, that they are the ſeed which the Lord hath bleſſed.

10 I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my ſoul ſhall be joyful in my God, for he hath cloathed me with the garments of ſalvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteouſneſs, as a bridegroom decketh himſelf with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herſelf with her jewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden cauſeth the things that are ſown in it to ſpring forth: ſo the Lord God will cauſe righteouſneſs and praiſe to ſpring forth before all the nations.

CHAP. LXII.

FOR Zion's ſake will I not hold my peace, and for Jeruſalem's ſake I will not reſt, until the righteouſneſs thereof go forth as brightneſs, and the ſalvation thereof as a lamp that burneth.

2 And the Gentiles ſhall ſee thy righteouſneſs, and all kings thy glory: and thou ſhalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord ſhall name.

3 Thou ſhalt alſo be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.

4 Thou ſhalt no more be termed, Forſaken; neither ſhall thy land any more be termed, Deſolate: but thou ſhalt be called Hephzi-bah, and thy land, Beulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land ſhall be married.

5 For as a young man marrieth a virgin, ſo ſhall thy ſons marry thee: and as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, ſo ſhall thy God rejoice over thee.

6 I have ſet watchmen upon thy walls, O Jeruſalem, which ſhall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the Lord, keep not ſilence;

7 And give him no reſt till he eſtabliſh, and till he make Jeruſalem a praiſe in the earth.

8 The Lord hath ſworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his ſtrength, Surely, I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies, and the ſons of the ſtranger ſhall not drink thy wine, for the which thou haſt laboured:

9 But they that have gathered it, ſhall eat it, and praiſe the Lord; and they that have brought it together, ſhall drink it in the courts of my holineſs.

10 ¶ Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people, caſt up, caſt up the high-ways, gather out the ſtones, liſt up a ſtandard for the people.

11 Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy ſalvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.

12 And they ſhall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the Lord: and thou ſhalt be called, Sought out, A city not forſaken.

CHAP. LXIII.

WHO is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatneſs of his ſtrength? I that ſpeak in righteouſneſs, mighty to ſave.

2 Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine-fat?

3 I have trodden the wine-preſs alone, and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury, and their blood ſhall be ſprinkled upon my garments, and I will ſtain all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to help: And I wondered that there was none to uphold; therefore mine own arm brought ſalvation unto me, and my fury it upheld me.

6 And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their ſtrength to the earth.

7 ¶ I will mention the loving kindneſſes of the Lord, and the praiſes of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath beſtowed on us, and the great goodneſs towards the houſe of Iſrael, which he hath beſtowed on them, according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving kindneſſes.

8 For he ſaid, Surely they are my people, children that will not lye: ſo he was their ſaviour.

9 ¶ In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his preſence ſaved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old.

10 ¶ But they rebelled, and vexed his holy ſpirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought againſt them.

11 Then he remembered the days of old, Moſes and his people, ſaying, Where is he that brought them up out of the ſea, with the ſhepherd of his flock? where is he that put his holy ſpirit within him?

12 That led them by the right hand of Moſes, with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himſelf an everlaſting name?

13 That led them through the deep, as an horſe in the wilderneſs, that they ſhould not ſtumble?

14 As a beaſt goeth down into the valley, the ſpirit of the Lord cauſed him to reſt: ſo didſt thou lead thy people, to make thyſelf a glorious name.

15 ¶ Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holineſs, and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy ſtrength, the ſounding of thy bowels, and of thy mercies towards me? are they reſtrained?

16 Doubtleſs thou art our father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Iſrael acknowledge us not: thou, O Lord, art our father, our redeemer, thy name is from everlaſting.

17 ¶ O Lord, why haſt thou made us to err from thy ways? and hardened our heart from thy fear? Return, for thy ſervant's ſake, the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thy holineſs have poſſeſſed it but a little while: our adverſaries have trodden down thy ſanctuary.

19 We are thine, thou never bareſt rule over them, they were not called by thy name.

CHAP. LXIV.

OH that thou wouldeſt rent the heavens, that thou wouldeſt come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy preſence,

2 As when the melting fire burneth, the fire cauſeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adverſaries, that the nations may tremble at thy preſence.

3 When thou didſt terrible things which we looked not for, thou cameſt down, the mountains flowed down at thy preſence.

4 For ſince the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye ſeen, O God, beſides thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou meeteſt him that rejoiceth and worketh righteouſneſs, thoſe that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou art wroth, for we have ſinned: in thoſe is continuance, and we ſhall be ſaved.

6 But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteouſneſſes are as filthy rags, and we all do fade as a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away.

7 And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that ſtirreth up himſelf to take hold of thee: for thou haſt hid thy face from us, and haſt conſumed us becauſe of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our father: we are the clay, and thou our potter, and we all are the work of thy hand.

9 ¶ Be not wroth very ſore, O Lord, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, ſee, we beſeech thee, we are all thy people.

3 That they might be called trees of righteouſneſs.] It is a common metaphor in the prophetical writings to reſemble the righteous to trees.

CHAP. LXII.] 6 I have ſet watchmen upon thy walls, O Jeruſalem, which ſhall never hold their peace day nor night.] The word ſhomerim properly ſignifies thoſe prieſts and Levites who kept watch day and night about the temple.

CHAP. LXIII.] 1 I that ſpeak in righteouſneſs, mighty to ſave.] The anſwer made by Chriſt to the foregoing queſtion, I am now come to fulfil all my promiſes, and deliver you from your enemies. Several parts of the prophetic writing are written in the form of a dramatic poem, where different perſons are introduced, ſpeaking by turns, and anſwering one another. This obſervation will eaſily account for the altering the prophet's ſtile from the firſt to the ſecond or third perſon.

9 And the angel of his preſence ſaved them, &c.] The angel who conducted them by the cloud and a pillar of fire, was no other than the Logos, or ſecond perſon of the Bleſſed Trinity.

17 O Lord why haſt thou made us to err from thy ways?] The words might have been better rendered, Why haſt thou ſuffered us to err from thy ways?

CHAP. LXIV.] 10 Thy holy cities are a wilderneſs, &c.] By holy cities, in the plural number, may be meant Zion and Jeruſalem, as they are ſometimes divided into the upper and lower city. And grammarians obſerve that the word Jeruſalem is in the dual number in the Hebrew, becauſe it was divided into two parts.

10 Thy holy cities are a wilderneſs, Zion is a wilderneſs, Jeruſalem a deſolation.

11 Our holy and our beautiful houſe where our fathers praiſed thee, is burnt up with fire: and all our pleaſant things are laid waſte.

12 Wilt thou refrain thyſelf for theſe things, O Lord? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very ſore?

CHAP. LXV.

I AM ſought of them that aſked not for me: I am found of them that ſought me not: I ſaid, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name.

2 I have ſpread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own thoughts:

3 A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face, that ſacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incenſe upon altars of brick:

4 Which remain among the graves and lodge in the monuments, which eat ſwines fleſh, and broth of abominable things is in their veſſels;

5 Which ſay, Stand by thyſelf, come not near to me, for I am holier than thou: theſe are a ſmoke in my noſe, a fire that burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is written before me, I will not keep ſilence, but will recompenſe, even recompenſe into their boſom:

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together (ſaith the Lord) which have burnt incenſe upon the mountains, and blaſphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I meaſure their former work into their boſom.

8 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord, As the new wine is found in the cluſter, and one ſaith, Deſtroy it not, for a bleſſing is in it: ſo will I do for my ſervants ſakes, that I may not deſtroy them all.

9 And I will bring forth a ſeed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains: and mine elect ſhall inherit it, and my ſervant ſhall dwell there.

10 And Sharon ſhall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have ſought me.

11 ¶ But ye are they that forſake the Lord, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furniſh the drink-offering unto that number.

12 Therefore will I number you to the ſword, and ye ſhall all bow down to the ſlaughter: becauſe when I called, ye did not anſwer; when I ſpake, ye did not hear, but did evil before mine eyes, and did chooſe that wherein I delighted not.

13 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, my ſervants ſhall eat, but ye ſhall be hungry: behold, my ſervants ſhall drink, but ye ſhall be thirſty: behold, my ſervants ſhall rejoice, but ye ſhall be aſhamed:

14 Behold, my ſervants ſhall ſing for joy of heart, but ye ſhall cry for ſorrow of heart, and ſhall howl for vexation of ſpirit.

15 And ye ſhall leave your name for a curſe unto my choſen: for the Lord God ſhall ſlay thee, and call his ſervants by another name:

16 That he who bleſſeth himſelf in the earth, ſhall bleſs himſelf in the God of truth, and he that ſweareth in the earth, ſhall ſwear by the God of truth; becauſe the former troubles are forgotten, and becauſe they are hid from mine eyes.

17 ¶ For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former ſhall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

18 But be you glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for behold, I create Jeruſalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Jeruſalem, and joy in my people, and the voice of weeping ſhall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There ſhall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child ſhall die an hundred years old, but the ſinner being an hundred years old ſhall be accurſed.

21 And they ſhall build houſes, and inhabit them: and they ſhall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They ſhall not build, and another inhabit; they ſhall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree, are the days of my people, and mine elect ſhall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They ſhall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble: for they are the ſeed of the bleſſed of the Lord, and their offſpring with them.

24 And it ſhall come to paſs, that before they call, I will anſwer, and while they are yet ſpeaking, I will hear.

25 The wolf and the lamb ſhall feed together, and the lion ſhall eat ſtraw like the bullock: and duſt ſhall be the ſerpent's meat. They ſhall not hurt nor deſtroy in all my holy mountain, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. LXVI.

THUS ſaith the Lord, The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my foot-ſtool: where is the houſe that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my reſt?

2 For all thoſe things hath mine hand made, and all thoſe things have been, ſaith the Lord: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite ſpirit, and trembleth at my word.

3 He that killeth an ox, is as if he ſlew a man: he that ſacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered ſwines blood: he that burneth incenſe, as if he bleſſed an idol: yea, they have choſen their own ways, and their ſoul delighteth in their abominations.

4 I alſo will chooſe their deluſions, and will bring their fears upon them; becauſe when I called, none did anſwer; when I ſpake they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and choſe that in which I delighted not.

5 ¶ Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word; Your brethren that hated you, and caſt you out for my name's ſake, ſaid, let the Lord be glorified: but he ſhall appear to your joy, and they ſhall be aſhamed.

6 A voice of noiſe from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the Lord that rendereth recompenſe to his enemies.

7 Before ſhe travailed, ſhe brought forth: before her pain came ſhe was delivered of a man child.

8 Who hath heard ſuch a thing? who hath ſeen ſuch things? ſhall the earth be made to bring forth in one day, or ſhall a nation be born at once? for as ſoon as Zion travailed, ſhe brought forth her children.

9 Shall I bring to the birth, and not cauſe to bring forth? ſaith the Lord: ſhall I cauſe to bring forth, and ſhut the womb? ſaith thy God.

10 Rejoice ye with Jeruſalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her:

11 That ye may ſuck, and be ſatisfied with the breaſts of her conſolations: that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory.

12 For thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing ſtream: then ſhall ye ſuck, ye ſhall be born upon her ſides, and be dandled upon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, ſo will I comfort you: and ye ſhall be comforted in Jeruſalem.

14 And when ye ſee this, your heart ſhall rejoice, and your bones ſhall flouriſh like an herb: and the hand of the Lord ſhall be known towards his ſervants and his indignation towards his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.

16 For by fire, and by his ſword, will the Lord plead with all fleſh: and the ſlain of the Lord ſhall be many.

17 They that ſanctify themſelves, and purify themſelves in the gardens, behind one tree in the midſt, eating ſwines fleſh, and the abomination, and the mouſe; ſhall be conſumed together, ſaith the Lord.

18 For I know their works and their thoughts: it ſhall come, that I will gather all nations and tongues, and they ſhall come and ſee my glory.

19 And I will ſet a ſign among them, and I will ſend of thoſe that eſcape them, unto the nations, to Tarſhiſh, Pul, and Lud, that draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to the iſles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have ſeen my glory; and they ſhall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they ſhall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the Lord, out of all nations, upon horſes and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon ſwift beaſts, to my holy mountain Jeruſalem, ſaith the Lord, as the children of Iſrael bring an offering in a clean veſſel, into the houſe of the Lord.

21 And I will alſo take of them for prieſts, and for Levites, ſaith the Lord.

22 For as the new heavens, and the new earth which I will make, ſhall remain before me, ſaith the Lord, ſo ſhall your ſeed and your name remain.

23 And it ſhall come to paſs that from one new-moon to another, and from one ſabbath to another, ſhall all fleſh come to worſhip before me, ſaith the Lord.

24 And they ſhall go forth and look upon the carcaſes of the men that have tranſgreſſed againſt me: for their worm ſhall not die, neither ſhall their fire be quenched, and they ſhall be an abhorring unto all fleſh.

Commentary

THE

Book of the Prophet JEREMIAH.

The ARGUMENT.

This prophet Jeremiah was of the race of the priests, the son of Hilkiah, of Anathoth, in the tribe of Benjamin. He was called to the prophetic office when he was very young, about the thirteenth year of Josiah, and continued in the discharge of it above forty years. He was not carried captive to Babylon with the other Jews, but remained in Judea to lament the desolation of his country. He was afterwards a prisoner in Egypt, with his disciple Baruch, where it is supposed he died in a very advanced age. Some of the fathers tell us he was stoned to death by the Jews, for preaching against their idolatry; and some say he was put to death by Pharaoh Hophra, for his prophecy against him.

Part of the prophecy of Jeremiah relates to the time after the captivity of Israel, and before that of Judah, from the first chapter of the forty-fourth; and part of it, namely from the forty-fourth chapter to the end, to the time of the latter captivity.

CHAP. I.

THE words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin:

2 To whom the word of the Lord came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.

3 It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah king of Judah, unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month.

4 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

5 Before I formed thee in the belly, I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb, I sanctified thee, and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations.

6 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, behold, I cannot speak, for I am a child.

7 ¶ But the Lord said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee, thou shalt speak.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord put forth his hand, and touched my mouth, and the Lord said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.

10 See, I have this day set thee over the nations, and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.

11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond-tree.

12 Then said the Lord unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will hasten my word to perform it.

13 And the word of the Lord came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? and I said I see a seething-pot, and the face thereof was towards the north.

14 Then the Lord said unto me, Out of the north an evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah.

16 And I will utter my judgments against them, touching all their wickedness, who have forsaken me, and have burnt incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

17 ¶ Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them, all that I command thee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I confound thee before them.

18 For behold, I have made thee this day a defenced city, and an iron pillar, and brazen walls against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 And they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, saith the Lord, to deliver thee.

CHAP. II.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2 Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown.

3 Israel was holiness unto the Lord, and the first-fruits of his increase: all that devour him shall offend: evil shall come upon them, saith the Lord.

4 Hear ye the word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?

6 Neither said they, Where is the Lord that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, that led us through the wilderness, through a land

Commentary on the Book of the Prophet Jeremiah.

CHAP. I.] 1 The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth, &c.] Anothoth was one of the cities allotted to the priests. St. Jerom tells us it was situated in the tribe of Benjamin, about three miles from Jerusalem.

4 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying.] This seems to have been a visible appearance of the divine majesty, performed by the second person in the Holy Trinity, who appeared in a human shape, as a prelude to the incarnation, first to Adam, then to Abraham, afterwards to Joshua, to Ezekiel, and to Daniel.

a land of deſarts, and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the ſhadow of death, through a land that no man paſſed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodneſs thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The prieſts ſaid not, Where is the Lord? and they that handle the law knew me not: the paſtors alſo tranſgreſſed againſt me, and the prophets prophecied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.

9 ¶ Wherefore I will yet plead with you, ſaith the Lord, and with your children's children will I plead.

10 For paſs over the iſles of Chittim, and ſee; and ſend unto Kedar, and conſider diligently, and ſee if there be ſuch a thing.

11 Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.

12 Be aſtoniſhed, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very deſolate, ſaith the Lord.

13 For my people have committed two evils: they have forſaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out ciſterns, broken ciſterns that can hold no water.

14 ¶ Is Iſrael a ſervant? is he a home-born ſlave? why is he ſpoiled?

15 The young lions roared upon him, and yelled, and they made his land waſte: his cities are burnt without inhabitant.

16 Alſo the children of Noph and Tahapanes have broken the crown of thy head.

17 Haſt thou not procured this unto thyſelf, in that thou haſt forſaken the Lord thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And now what haſt thou to do in the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Sihor? or what haſt to do in the way of Aſſyria, to drink the waters of the river?

19 Thine own wickedneſs ſhall correct thee, and thy backſlidings ſhall reprove thee: know therefore, and ſee, that it is an evil thing, and bitter, that thou haſt forſaken the Lord thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, ſaith the Lord God of hoſts.

20 ¶ For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burſt thy bands, and thou ſaidſt, I will not tranſgreſs: when upon every high hill, and under every green tree thou wandereſt, playing the harlot.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right ſeed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a ſtrange vine unto me?

22 For though thou waſh thee with nitre, and take thee much ſope, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, ſaith the Lord God.

23 How canſt thou ſay, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Baalim? ſee thy way in the valley, know what thou haſt done: thou art a ſwift dromedary traverſing her ways.

24 A wild aſs uſed to the wilderneſs, that ſnuffeth up the wind at her pleaſure, in her occaſion who can turn her away? all they that ſeek her will not weary themſelves, in her month they ſhall find her.

25 With-hold thy foot from being unſhod, and thy throat from thirſt: but thou ſaidſt, There is no hope, No, for I have loved ſtrangers, and after them will I go.

26 As the thief is aſhamed, when he is found: ſo is the houſe of Iſrael aſhamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their prieſts, and their prophets,

27 Saying to a ſtock, Thou art my father; and to a ſtone, Thou haſt brought me forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face; but in the time of their trouble they will ſay, Ariſe, and ſave us.

28 But where are thy gods that thou haſt made thee? let them ariſe, if they can ſave thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Judah.

29 Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have tranſgreſſed againſt me, ſaith the Lord.

30 In vain have I ſmitten your children, they received no correction: your own ſword hath devoured your prophets, like a deſtroying lion.

31 ¶ O generation, ſee ye the word of the Lord: have I been a wilderneſs unto Iſrael? a land of darkneſs? wherefore ſay my people, We are lords, we will come no more unto thee?

32 Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me, days without number.

33 Why trimmeſt thou thy way to ſeek love? therefore haſt thou alſo taught the wicked ones thy ways.

34 Alſo in thy ſkirts is found the blood of the ſouls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by ſecret ſearch, but upon all theſe.

35 Yet thou ſayeſt, Becauſe I am innocent, ſurely, his anger ſhall turn from me: behold, I will plead with thee, becauſe thou ſayeſt, I have not ſinned.

36 Why gaddeſt thou about ſo much to change thy way? thou alſo ſhalt be aſhamed of Egypt, as thou waſt aſhamed of Aſſyria.

37 Yea, thou ſhalt go forth from him, and thine hands upon thine head: for the Lord hath rejected thy confidences, and thou ſhalt not proſper in them.

CHAP. III.

THEY ſay, If a man put away his wife, and ſhe go from him, and become another man's, ſhall he return unto her again? ſhall not that land be greatly polluted? but thou haſt played the harlot with many lovers; yet return again to me, ſaith the Lord.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and ſee where thou haſt not been lien with: in the ways haſt thou ſat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderneſs, and thou haſt polluted the land with thy whoredoms, and with thy wickedneſs.

3 Therefore the ſhowers have been with-holden, and there hath been no latter rain, and thou hadſt a whore's forehead, thou refuſedſt to be aſhamed.

4 Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?

5 Will he reſerve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou haſt ſpoken and done evil things as thou couldeſt.

6 ¶ The Lord ſaid alſo unto me in the days of Joſiah the king, Haſt thou ſeen that which back-ſliding Iſrael hath done? ſhe is gone up upon every high mountain, and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

7 And I ſaid, after ſhe had done all theſe things, Turn thou unto me; but ſhe returned not: and her treacherous ſiſter Judah ſaw it.

8 And I ſaw, when for all the cauſes whereby back-ſliding Iſrael committed adultery, I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce: yet her treacherous ſiſter Judah feared not, but went and played the harlot alſo.

9 And it came to paſs through the lightneſs of her whoredom, that ſhe defiled the land, and committed adultery with ſtones and with ſtocks.

10 And yet for all this, her treacherous ſiſter Judah hath not turned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, ſaith the Lord.

11 And the Lord ſaid unto me, The back-ſliding Iſrael hath juſtified herſelf more than treacherous Judah.

12 ¶ Go, and proclaim theſe words towards the north, and ſay, Return, thou back-ſliding Iſrael ſaith the Lord, and I will not cauſe mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, ſaith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever.

13 Only acknowledge thine iniquity that thou haſt tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord thy God, and haſt ſcattered thy ways to the ſtrangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, ſaith the Lord.

14 Turn, O backſliding children, ſaith the Lord, for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion.

15 And I will give you paſtors according to mine heart, which ſhall feed you with knowledge and underſtanding.

16 And it ſhall come to paſs when ye be multiplied and increaſed in the land: in thoſe days, ſaith the Lord, they ſhall ſay no more, The ark of the covenant of the Lord: neither ſhall it come to mind, neither ſhall they remember it, neither ſhall they viſit it, neither ſhall that be done any more.

17 At that time they ſhall call Jeruſalem the throne of the Lord, and all the nations ſhall be gathered unto it, to the name of the Lord, to Jeruſalem: neither ſhall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart.

18 In thoſe days the houſe of Judah ſhall walk with the houſe of Iſrael, and they ſhall come together out of the land of the north, to the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 But I ſaid, How ſhall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleaſant land, a goodly heritage of the hoſts of nations? And I ſaid, Thou ſhalt call me, My father, and ſhalt not turn away from me.

20 ¶ Surely, as a wife treacherouſly departeth from her huſband: ſo have ye dealt treacherouſly with me, O houſe of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord.

21 A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and ſupplications

CHAP. II.] 12 Be aſtoniſhed, O ye heavens, at this, &c.] God is the author of all bleſſings, both ſpiritual and temporal, from whom all good gifts are derived, as from an inexhauſtible fountain.

18 And now what haſt thou to do in the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Sihor? &c.] The kings of Egypt and Aſſyria were the moſt potent monarchs in the neighbourhood of Judea; and according as either of theſe was the ſtronger, the Jews made their court to him, and deſired his aſſiſtance. This is expreſſed by drinking the water of Sihor, or the Nile, and of Euphrates, called here the river, by way of eminence. The expreſſions allude to verſe 13, where human aſſiſtances are ſtiled broken ciſterns. And oppoſed to God, who by reaſon of his omnipotence, is called the Fountain of living waters.

CHAP. III.] 15 And I will give you paſtors according to mine heart, &c.] This is an evangelical promiſe; implying, that under the happy times, here foretold, all governors, both in church and ſtate, ſhould faithfully diſcharge their truſt.

17 At that time they ſhall call Jeruſalem the throne of the Lord, and all the nations ſhall be gathered unto it.] Jeruſalem is often called the city of God; and is therefore a proper type or figure of the church of the moſt high, which the text tells us, ſhall be called the throne of the Lord.

CHA

plications of the children of Israel: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the Lord their God.

22 Return, ye back-sliding children, and I will heal your backslidings: behold, we come unto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel.

24 For shame hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us: for we have sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God.

CHAP. IV.

IF thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the Lord, return unto me: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove.

2 And thou shalt swear, The Lord liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.

3 ¶ For thus saith the Lord to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, Break up your fallow-ground, and sow not among thorns.

4 Circumcise yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem: lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

5 Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem, and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities.

6 Set up the standard toward Zion: retire, stay not; for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.

7 The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate, and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.

8 For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the Lord is not turned back from us.

9 And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the Lord, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes: and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast greatly deceived this people, and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people, and to Jerusalem, A dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse.

12 Even a full wind from those places shall come unto me: now also will I give sentence against them.

13 Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as a whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles: woe unto us, for we are spoiled.

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved: how long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention to the nations, behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah.

17 As keepers of a field are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the Lord.

18 Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee, this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 ¶ My bowels, my bowels, I am pained at my very heart, my heart maketh a noise in me, I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried, for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me, they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and lo, it was without form and void: and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate; yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole city shall flee for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen, they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair, thy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, that bewaileth herself, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now, for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

CHAP. V.

RUN ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth, and I will pardon it.

2 And though they say, The Lord liveth, surely they swear falsly.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock, they have refused to return.

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poor, they are foolish: for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they have known the way of the Lord, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, and a wolf of the evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their back-slidings are increased.

7 ¶ How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots houses.

8 They were as fed horses in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 ¶ Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy, but make not a full end: take away her battlements, for they are not the Lord's.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Judah, have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the Lord.

12 They have belied the Lord, and said, It is not he, neither shall evil come upon us, neither shall we see sword nor famine:

13 And the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the Lord: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

16 Their quiver is as an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.

17 And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds; they shall eat up thy vines, and thy fig-trees: they shall impoverish thy fenced cities wherein thou trustedst, with the sword.

18 Nevertheless in those days, saith the Lord, I will not make a full end with you.

19 ¶ And it shall come to pass when ye shall say, Wherefore doth the Lord our God all these things unto us? then shalt thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land; so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare

CHAP. IV.] 2 And the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.] A prediction of the gospel-times, when the heathen should join with the Israelites in paying all solemn acts of worship and devotion, to the true God alone, and in ascribing all honour and glory to him, and to his only Son the Messiah, in whom all the nations were to be blessed.

7 The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gentiles, is on his way, &c.] The prophet here means Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, whose monarchy is represented by a lion.

11 A dry wind, &c.] That is, a destroying or hot pestilential wind, which sweeps away multitudes in a moment.

CHAP. V.] 7 How shall I pardon thee for this? &c.] God appeals to themselves, whether they can think it consistent with his justice to let such enormous offences as these go unpunished?

20 Declare this in the houſe of Jacob, and publiſh it in Judah, ſaying,

21 Hear now this, O fooliſh people, and without underſtanding, which have eyes and ſee not, which have ears and hear not:

22 Fear ye not me? ſaith the Lord: will ye not tremble at my preſence, which have placed the ſand for the bound of the ſea, by a perpetual decree that it cannot paſs it; and though the waves thereof toſs themſelves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not paſs over it?

23 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart: they are revolted and gone.

24 Neither ſay they in their heart, Let us now fear the Lord our God that giveth rain, both the former and the latter in his ſeaſon: he reſerveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harveſt.

25 ¶ Your iniquities have turned away theſe things, and your ſins have with-holden good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked men: they lay wait as he that ſetteth ſnares, they ſet a trap, they catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, ſo are their houſes full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat, they ſhine: yea, they overpaſs the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the cauſe, the cauſe of the fatherleſs, yet they proſper: and the right of the needy do they not judge.

29 Shall I not viſit for theſe things? ſaith the Lord: ſhall not my ſoul be avenged on ſuch a nation as this?

30 ¶ A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land;

31 The prophets prophecy falſly, and the prieſts bare rule by their means, and my people love to have it ſo: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

O YE children of Benjamin, gather yourſelves to flee out of the midſt of Jeruſalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa: and ſet up a ſign of fire in Beth-haccerem: for evil appeareth out of the north, and great deſtruction.

2 I have likened the daughter of Zion to a comely and delicate woman.

3 The ſhepherds with their flocks ſhall come unto her: they ſhall pitch their tents againſt her round about: they ſhall feed every one in his place.

4 Prepare ye war againſt her: ariſe, and let us go up at noon: woe unto us, for the day goeth away, for the ſhadows of the evening are ſtretched out.

5 Ariſe, and let us go by night, and let us deſtroy her palaces.

6 ¶ For thus hath the Lord of hoſts ſaid, Hew ye down trees, and caſt a mount againſt Jeruſalem: this is the city to be viſited, ſhe is wholly oppreſſion in the midſt of her.

7 As a fountain caſteth out her waters, ſo ſhe caſteth out her wickedneſs: violence and ſpoil is heard in her, before me continually is grief and wounds.

8 Be thou inſtructed, O Jeruſalem, leſt my ſoul depart from thee: leſt I make thee deſolate, a land not inhabited.

9 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, they ſhall throughly glean the remnant of Iſrael as a vine: turn back thine hand as a grape-gatherer into the baſkets.

10 To whom ſhall I ſpeak and give warning, that they may hear? Behold, their ear is uncircumciſed, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach: they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the Lord: I am weary with holding in: I will pour it out upon the children abroad, and upon the aſſembly of young men together: for even the huſband with the wife ſhall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days.

12 And their houſes ſhall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together: for I will ſtretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, ſaith the Lord.

13 For from the leaſt of them even unto the greateſt of them, every one is given to covetouſneſs; and from the prophet even unto the prieſt, every one dealeth falſly.

14 They have healed alſo the hurt of the daughter of my people ſlightly, ſaying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they aſhamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all aſhamed, neither could they bluſh; therefore they ſhall fall among them that fall: at the time that I viſit them, they ſhall be caſt down, ſaith the Lord.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord, Stand ye in the ways and ſee, and aſk for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye ſhall find reſt for your ſouls: but they ſaid, We will not walk therein.

17 Alſo I ſet watchmen over you, ſaying, Hearken to the ſound of the trumpet: but they ſaid, We will not hearken.

18 ¶ Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them.

19 Hear, O earth, behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, becauſe they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

20 To what purpoſe cometh there to me incenſe from Sheba? and the ſweet cane from a far country? your burnt-offerings are not acceptable, nor your ſacrifices ſweet unto me.

21 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will lay ſtumbling-blocks before this people, and the fathers and the ſons together ſhall fall upon them: the neighbour and his friend ſhall periſh.

22 Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, a people cometh from the north-country, and a great nation ſhall be raiſed from the ſides of the earth.

23 They ſhall lay hold on bow and ſpear: they are cruel, and have no mercy: their voice roareth like the ſea, and they ride upon horſes, ſet in array as men for war againſt thee, O daughter of Zion.

24 We have heard the fame thereof: our hands wax feeble: anguiſh hath taken hold of us, and pain, as of a woman in travail.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for the ſword of the enemy, and fear is on every ſide.

26 ¶ O daughter of my people, gird thee with ſackcloth, and wallow thyſelf in aſhes: make thee mourning as for an only ſon, moſt bitter lamentation: for the ſpoiler ſhall ſuddenly come upon us.

27 I have ſet thee for a tower, and a fortreſs among my people, that thou mayeſt know and try their way.

28 They are all grievous revolters, walking with ſlanders: they are braſs and iron, they are all corrupters.

29 The bellows are burnt, the lead is conſumed of the fire, the founder melteth in vain; for the wicked are not plucked away.

30 Reprobate ſilver ſhall men call them, becauſe the Lord hath rejected them.

CHAP. VII.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Stand in the gate of the Lord's houſe, and proclaim there this word, and ſay, Hear the word of the Lord, all ye of Judah, that enter in at theſe gates to worſhip the Lord.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Amend your ways, and your doings, and I will cauſe you to dwell in this place.

4 Truſt ye not in lying words, ſaying, The temple of the Lord, the temple of the Lord, the temple of the Lord are theſe.

5 For if ye thoroughly amend your ways, and your doings; if ye thoroughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbour;

6 If ye oppreſs not the ſtranger, the fatherleſs, and the widow, and ſhed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt:

7 Then will I cauſe you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8 ¶ Behold ye truſt in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will ye ſteal, murder, and commit adultery, and ſwear falſly, and burn incenſe unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not;

10 And come and ſtand before me in this houſe, which is called by my name, and ſay, we are delivered to do all theſe abominations?

11 Is this houſe, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? behold, even I have ſeen it, ſaith the Lord.

12 But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I ſet my name at the firſt, and ſee what I did to it, for the wickedneſs of my people Iſrael.

13 And now, becauſe ye have done all theſe works, ſaith the Lord, and I ſpake unto you, riſing up early, and ſpeaking, but ye heard not; and I called you, but ye anſwered not:

14 Therefore will I do unto this houſe which is called by my name, wherein ye truſt, and unto the place which I gave to you, and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh.

15 And I will caſt you out of my ſight, as I have caſt out all your brethren, even the whole ſeed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make interceſſion to me; for I will not hear thee.

17 ¶ Seeſt

24 Let us now fear the Lord our God that giveth rain.] The viciſſitude of ſeaſons, of cold, and heat, of drought and moiſture, ſo wiſely fitted for the growth of the fruits of the earth, and other uſes of human life, is ſo remarkable a proof of the being of a God and his providence, that it is obvious to the meaneſt capacity; and on this account it is frequently inſiſted on by the inſpired writers.

CHAP. VI.] 7 Violence and ſpoil is heard in her, before me continually is grief and wounds.] I hear the continual complaints of thoſe that groan under the oppreſſions they ſuffer, and are cruelly and unjuſtly put to death.

16 Stand ye in the ways and ſee, and ask for the old paths, &c.] Imitate the traveller, when at a loſs which way to direct his ſteps; enquire what way the patriarchs of old, kings, and prophets of former times walked in: imitate their practices, wherein ye will find true comfort and ſatisfaction.

20 To what purpoſe cometh there to me incenſe from Sheba?] Sheba was part of Arabia Felix, and famous for its incenſe and perfumes. The prophet here reproves the hypocriſy of the Jews, who endeavoured to cover their inward corruption by the external appearances of religion.

30 Reprobate ſilver ſhall men call them, becauſe the Lord hath rejected them.] As baſe money is refuſed by every one, becauſe it cannot bear the touch-ſtone, ſo ſhall theſe hypocrites and evil-doers be rejected.

CHAP. VII.] 2 Stand in the gate of the Lord's houſe, &c.] This, moſt commentators underſtand of the eaſt-gate of the temple, which led directly to it.

31 And

17 ¶ Seeſt thou not what they do in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.

19 Do they provoke me to anger? ſaith the Lord: do they not provoke themſelves to the confuſion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, behold, mine anger and my fury ſhall be poured out upon this place, upon man and upon beaſt, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it ſhall burn, and ſhall not be quenched.

21 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Put your burnt-offerings unto your ſacrifices, and eat fleſh.

22 For I ſpake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or ſacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, ſaying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye ſhall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.

24 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in the counſels and in the imagination of their evil heart, and went backward, and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt, unto this day, I have even ſent unto you all my ſervants the prophets daily riſing up early, and ſending them.

26 Yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but hardened their neck, they did worſe than their fathers.

27 Therefore thou ſhalt ſpeak all theſe words unto them, but they will not hearken to thee: thou ſhalt alſo call unto them, but they will not anſwer thee.

28 But thou ſhalt ſay unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiveth correction: truth is periſhed, and is cut off from their mouth.

29 ¶ Cut off thine hair, O Jeruſalem, and caſt it away, and take up a lamentation on high places; for the Lord hath rejected and forſaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Judah have done evil in my ſight, ſaith the Lord: they have ſet their abominations in the houſe which is called by my name to pollute it.

31 And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, to burn their ſons and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.

32 ¶ Therefore behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that it ſhall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, but the valley of ſlaughter: for they ſhall bury in Tophet, till there be no place.

33 And the carcaſes of this people ſhall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beaſts of the earth, and none ſhall fray them away.

34 Then will I cauſe to ceaſe from the cities of Judah, and from the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladneſs, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for the land ſhall be deſolate.

CHAP. VIII.

AT that time, ſaith the Lord, they ſhall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the prieſts, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jeruſalem out of their graves.

2 And they ſhall ſpread them before the ſun, and the moon, and all the hoſt of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have ſerved, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have ſought, and whom they have worſhipped: they ſhall not be gathered, nor be buried, they ſhall be for dung upon the face of the earth.

3 And death ſhall be choſen rather than life, by all the reſidue of them that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

4 ¶ Moreover, thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord, Shall they fall, and not ariſe? ſhall he turn away, and not return?

5 Why then is this people of Jeruſalem ſlidden back, by a perpetual back-ſliding? they hold faſt deceit, they refuſe to return.

6 I hearkened, and heard, but they ſpake not aright: no man repented him of his wickedneſs, ſaying, What have I done? every one turned to his courſe, as the horſe ruſheth into the battle.

7 Yea, the ſtork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle, and the crane, and the ſwallow obſerve the time of their coming, but my people know not the judgment of the Lord.

8 How do ye ſay, We are wiſe, and the law of the Lord is with us? lo, certainly in vain made he it, the pen of the ſcribes is in vain.

9 The wiſe men are aſhamed, they are diſmayed and taken; lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord, and what wiſdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that ſhall inherit them: for every one from the leaſt even unto the greateſt is given to covetouſneſs, from the prophet even unto the prieſt, every one dealeth falſly.

11 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people ſlightly, ſaying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they aſhamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all aſhamed, neither could they bluſh: therefore ſhall they fall among them that fall, in the time of their viſitation they ſhall be caſt down, ſaith the Lord.

13 ¶ I will ſurely conſume them, ſaith the Lord; there ſhall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig-tree, and the leaf ſhall fade, and the things that I have given them ſhall paſs away from them.

14 Why do we ſit ſtill? aſſemble yourſelves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us be ſilent there: for the Lord our God hath put us to ſilence, and given us water of gall to drink, becauſe we have ſinned againſt the Lord.

15 We looked for peace, but no good came: and for a time of health, and behold trouble.

16 The ſnorting of his horſes was heard from Dan: the whole land trembled at the ſound of the neighing of his ſtrong ones, for they are come and have devoured the land and all that is in it, the city and thoſe that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will ſend ſerpents, cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they ſhall bite you, ſaith the Lord.

18 ¶ When I would comfort myſelf againſt ſorrow my heart is faint in me.

19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people, becauſe of them that dwell in a far country: Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her king in her? why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with ſtrange vanities?

20 The harveſt is paſt, the ſummer is ended, and we are not ſaved.

21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt, I am black: aſtoniſhment hath taken hold on me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no phyſician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

CHAP. IX.

OH that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the ſlain of the daughter of my people!

2 Oh that I had in the wilderneſs a lodging-place of way-faring men, that I might leave my people, and go from them: for they be all adulterers, an aſſembly of treacherous men.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil, and they know not me, ſaith the Lord.

4 Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and truſt ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly ſupplant, and every neighbour will walk with ſlanders.

5 And they will deceive every one his neighbour, and will not ſpeak the truth: they have taught their tongue to ſpeak lies, and weary themſelves to commit iniquity.

6 Their habitation is in the midſt of deceit; through deceit they refuſe to know me, ſaith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how ſhall I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow ſhot out, it ſpeaketh deceit: one ſpeaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait.

9 ¶ Shall I not viſit them for theſe things? ſaith the Lord: ſhall not my ſoul be avenged on ſuch a nation as this?

10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the habitations of the wilderneſs a lamentation, becauſe they are burnt up, ſo that none can paſs through them, neither can men hear the voice of the cattle, both the fowl of the heavens and the beaſts are fled, they are gone.

---

31 And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, to burn their ſons and their daughters in the fire, &c.] This unnatural cuſtom of burning their children by way of ſacrifice to Moloch, was derived from the Canaanites. The place where they performed this inhuman rite was called Tophet, from the tabrets which ſounded there to drown the cries of the children thus cruelly murdered.

CHAP. VIII.] 22 Is there no balm in Gilead? &c.] Gilead was famous for balm, and other healing drugs; the prophet therefore applies this metaphorically to the ſtate of the Jews, and aſks whether there have been no methods uſed to heal theſe mortal wounds and diſtempers, and if there have, why are they attended with ſo little ſucceſs?

CHAP. IX.] 1 O that my head were waters, &c.] The prophet ſympathiſes with the calamities of his people, in order to excite them to a ſenſe of their own misfortunes, and prevail upon them to humble themſelves under the afflicting hand of the Almighty.

11 And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Judah desolate, without an inhabitant.

12 ¶ Who is the wise man that may understand this, and who is he to whom the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burnt up like a wilderness that none passeth through?

13 And the Lord saith, because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein;

14 But have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after Baalim which their fathers taught them:

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known; and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

17 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the mourning-women, that they may come, and send for cunning women, that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eye-lids gush out with waters.

19 For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoiled! we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because our dwellings have cast us out.

20 Yet hear the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.

21 For death is come up into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets.

22 Speak, Thus saith the Lord, Even the carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the harvest-man, and none shall gather them.

23 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches.

24 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise loving-kindness, judgment, and righteousness in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord.

25 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will punish all them which are circumcised;

26 Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that are in the outmost corners, that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.

CHAP. X.

HEAR ye the word which the Lord speaketh unto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven, for the heathen are dismayed at them.

3 For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (the work of the hands of the workman) with the ax.

4 They deck it with silver and with gold, they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.

5 They are upright as the palm-tree, but speak not: they must needs be borne, because they cannot go: be not afraid of them, for they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good.

6 Forasmuch as there is none like unto thee, O Lord, thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 Who would not fear thee, O king of nations? for to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms there is none like unto thee.

8 But they are altogether brutish and foolish: the stock is a doctrine of vanities.

9 Silver spread into plates is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, the work of the workman, and of the hands of the founder: blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation.

11 Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.

12 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.

13 When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth: he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

14 Every man is brutish in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

15 They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the former of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance; the Lord of hosts is his name.

17 ¶ Gather up thy wares out of the land, O inhabitants of the fortress 18 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this once, and will distress them, that they may find it so.

19 ¶ Woe is me for my hurt, my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is a grief, and I must bear it.

20 My tabernacle is spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the Lord: therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of the bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the north-country, to make the cities of Judah desolate, and a den of dragons.

23 ¶ O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with judgment; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.

CHAP. XI.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

3 And say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,

4 Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do them according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 That I may perform the oath which I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day: Then answered I, and said, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them.

7 For I earnestly protested unto your fathers, in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, rising early, and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.

8 Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did them not.

9 And the Lord said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; and they went after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.

11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon them which they shall not be able to escape; and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them.

12 Then shall the cities of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense; but they they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem, have ye set up altars to that shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Baal.

14 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry

15 I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.] I will turn their plenty into scarcity, and their joy into mourning.

CHAP. X.] 2 Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven, &c.] Do not follow the fond opinions of the heathen, among whom you are to sojourn during your captivity. Both the Chaldeans and Egyptians were famous for their skill in astrology; and therefore the prophet means, that when the Jews were to live among those people, they should pay no regard to the predictions they might make from the heavenly bodies, by the aspects of which they pretended to foretel wars, the death of great men, and other calamities; whereby they terrified the people with the apprehension of impending evils.

CHAP. XI.] 4 Out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, &c.] An iron furnace is used to melt and purify metals, and is a very proper representation of any sore affliction, wherein God tries his servants in order to purge them from their dross.

15 What cry or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble.

15 What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing, she hath wrought lewdness with many? and the holy flesh is passed from thee: when thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A green olive-tree, fair and of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hosts that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger in offering incense unto Baal.

18 ¶ And the Lord hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it: then thou shewedst me their doings.

19 But I was like a lamb, or an ox that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

20 But, O Lord of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord of the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Prophecy not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hand:

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword, their sons and their daughters shall die by famine:

23 And there shall be no remnant of them, for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

CHAP. XII.

RIghteous art thou, O Lord, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments: wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously?

2 Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root: they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit, thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins.

3 But thou, O Lord, knowest me; thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart towards thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds, because they said, He shall not see our last end.

5 ¶ If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace wherein thou trustedst they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of Jordan?

6 For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee, yea, they have called a multitude after thee; believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.

7 ¶ I have forsaken mine house, I have left mine heritage, I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the forest, it crieth out against me: therefore have I hated it.

9 Mine heritage is unto me as a speckled bird, the birds round about are against her; come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to devour.

10 Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

11 They have made it desolate, and being desolate it mourneth unto me; the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart.

12 The spoilers are come upon all high places through the wilderness: for the sword of the Lord shall devour from the one end of the land, even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.

13 They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns: they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit: and they shall be ashamed of your revenues, because of the fierce anger of the Lord.

14 ¶ Thus saith the Lord against all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit, Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.

15 And it shall come to pass after that I have plucked them out, I will return and have compassion on them, and will bring them again every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.

16 And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, The Lord liveth (as they taught my people to swear by Baal) then shall they be built in the midst of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, I will utterly pluck up, and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

THUS saith the Lord unto me, Go and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water.

2 So I got a girdle, according to the word of the Lord, and put it on my loins.

3 And the word of the Lord came unto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.

5 So I went and hid it by Euphrates, as the Lord commanded me.

6 And it came to pass after many days, that the Lord said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then I went to Euphrates and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it; and behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.

10 This evil people which refuse to hear my words, which walk in the imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man; so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Judah, saith the Lord; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear.

12 ¶ Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not certainly know, that every bottle shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with drunkenness.

14 And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the Lord: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy but destroy them.

15 ¶ Hear ye, and give ear, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken.

16 Give glory to the Lord your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains, and while ye look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness.

17 But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride, and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the Lord's flock is carried away captive.

18 Say unto the king, and to the queen, Humble yourselves, sit down; for your principalities shall come down, even the crown of your glory.

19 The cities of the south shall be shut up, and none shall open them; Judah shall be carried away captive all of it, it shall be wholly carried away captive.

20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?

21 What wilt thou say when he shall punish thee? (for thou hast taught them to be captains, and as chief over thee) shall not sorrows take thee, as a woman in travail?

22 ¶ And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare.

23 Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil.

24 Therefore will I scatter them as the stubble that passeth away by the wind of the wilderness.

25 This is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, saith the Lord; because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falshood.

26 Therefore

15 What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many?] Why doth this my chosen and peculiar people, as they love to call themselves, make their appearance before me in my house, since they have gone a whoring after several idols of the nations round about them, and therefore have disowned me?

CHAP. XII.] 1 Righteous art thou, O Lord, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments, &c.] Though I have not the least doubt of thy justice and holiness, yet suffer me to argue with thee concerning the prosperity of the wicked, and the afflictions of the righteous: a dispensation which hath, in all ages, been made an objection against providence, and on that account a stumbling-block even to good men.

11 Being desolate, it mourneth unto me.] It lies in a neglected and doleful condition, and makes a sort of silent complaint, and begs to be restored to its former prosperity.

CHAP. XIII.] 16 Give glory to the Lord your God before he cause darkness.] Confess your faults, and humble yourselves under his mighty hand, before he bring upon you the night of affliction.

23 Can the Ethiopian change his skin, &c.] This passage imports the extreme difficulty of overcoming bad habits; custom being a second nature.

CHAP.

26 Therefore will I discover thy skirts upon thy face, that thy shame may appear.

27 I have seen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy whoredom, and thine abominations on the hills in the fields: woe unto thee, O Jerusalem, wilt thou not be made clean? when shall it once be?

CHAP. XIV.

THE word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah concerning the dearth.

2 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they are black unto the ground, and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up.

3 And their nobles have sent their little ones to the waters, they came to the pits, and found no water, they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

4 Because the ground is chapt, for there was no rain in the earth, the plowmen were ashamed, they covered their heads.

5 Yea, the hind also calved in the field, and forsook it, because there was no grass.

6 And the wild asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the wind like dragons: their eyes did fail because there was no grass.

7 ¶ O Lord, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy name's sake: for our back-slidings are many, we have sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a way-faring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night?

9 Why shouldest thou be as a man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O Lord, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name, leave us not.

10 ¶ Thus saith the Lord unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet, therefore the Lord doth not accept them; he will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.

11 Then said the Lord unto me, Pray not for this people for their good.

12 When they fast, I will not hear their cry, and when they offer burnt-offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 ¶ Then said I, Ah Lord God, behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine, but I will give you assured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said unto me, The prophets prophecy lies in my name, I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophecy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that prophecy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land, By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom they prophecy, shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem, because of the famine, and the sword, and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them.

17 ¶ Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them, Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword; and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine; yea, both the prophet and the priest go about into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? we looked for peace, and there is no good; and for the time of healing, and behold trouble.

20 We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake, do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O Lord our God? therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

CHAP. XV.

THEN said the Lord unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth.

2 And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the Lord; Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword: and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.

3 And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the Lord; the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy.

4 And I will cause them to be removed into all kingdoms of the earth; because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem.

5 For who shall have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall go aside to ask how thou doest?

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee? I am weary with repenting.

7 And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land; I will bereave them of children, I will destroy my people, since they return not from their ways.

8 Their widows are increased to me above the sands of the seas: I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noon-day: I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city.

9 She that hath borne seven, languisheth: she hath given up the ghost, her sun is gone down while it was yet day: she hath been ashamed and confounded, and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

10 ¶ Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife, and a man of contention to the whole earth: I have neither lent on usury, nor men have lent to me on usury, yet every one of them doth curse me.

11 The Lord said, Verily it shall be well with thy remnant; verily I will cause the enemy to entreat thee well in the time of evil, and in the time of affliction.

12 Shall iron break the northern iron, and the steel?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies, into a land which thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.

15 ¶ O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and visit me, and revenge me of my persecutors, take me not away in thy long-suffering: know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them, and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart, for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts.

17 I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced: I sat alone because of thy hand: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is my pain perpetual? and my wound incurable which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar, and as waters that fail?

19 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord, if thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: let them return unto thee, but return not thou unto them.

20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brazen wall, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee, and to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

CHAP. XVI.

THE word of the Lord came also unto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sons, and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning the mothers that bare them, and concerning the fathers that begat them in this land.

4 They shall die of grievous deaths, they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried: but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine.

CHAP. XIV.] 2 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they are black unto the ground, &c. By the gates of Judah are meant the cities thereof, together with their inhabitants, who have left their cities desolate, to seek for sustenance. The people look black and ghastly, and cast themselves down upon the ground through grief and despair.

21 Do not disgrace the throne of thy glory, &c.] Jerusalem is often called the city of God, as he was, in a peculiar manner, the king of the Jews, and this was his royal city, or chief seat of his kingdom.

CHAP. XV.] 1 Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people, &c.] As God had before forbid Jeremiah to intercede for them, because it was to no purpose; so he here declares, that he would not hearken to the prayers of any other, though the most eminent favourites of God, in their behalf.

16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them, &c.] As soon as I perceived and understood thy words, and the messages thou deliveredst unto me, I treasured them in my memory; I meditated upon them, and inwardly digested them.

CHAP. XVI.] 2 Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons nor daughters in this place.] Fruitfulness was promised as a blessing under the Jewish law, but ceased to be so in such difficult times as were coming upon the Jewish nation: for parents could not promise themselves any comfort in their children, who must be exposed to the many miseries that attend an hostile invasion, and a conquering army.

16 Behold

famine, and their carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, nor bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people saith the Lord, even loving-kindness and mercies.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 Neither shall men tear themselves for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead, neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, The God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your days, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.

10 ¶ And it shall come to pass when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the Lord, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law:

12 And ye have done worse than your fathers (for behold, ye walk every one after the imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me)

13 Therefore will I cast you out of this land, into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers, and there shall ye serve other gods day and night, where I will not shew you favour.

14 ¶ Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be said, The Lord liveth that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

15 But, the Lord liveth that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 ¶ Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the Lord, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquity, and their sin double; because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carcases of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O Lord, my strength and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?

21 Therefore behold, I will this once cause them to know mine hand and my might, and they shall know that my name is the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

THE sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond; it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars:

2 Whilst their children remember their altars and their groves, by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high places for sin throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou, even thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee, and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger: which shall burn for ever.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the desart, and shall not see when good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green, and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 ¶ The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked, who can know it?

10 I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways; and according to the fruit of his doings.

11 As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not: so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 ¶ A glorious high throne from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 ¶ Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 As for me, I have not hastened from being a pastor to follow thee, neither have I desired the woful day, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not a terror unto me, thou art my hope in the day of evil.

18 Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 ¶ Thus saith the Lord unto me, Go, and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem;

20 And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the Lord, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath-day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem.

22 Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath-day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath-day, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear nor receive instruction.

24 And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the Lord, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city, on the sabbath-day, but hallow the sabbath-day, to do no work therein:

25 Then shall there enter into the gates of this city, kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots, and on horses, they and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and this city shall remain for ever.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the south, bringing burnt-offerings, and sacrifices, and meat-offerings, and incense, and bringing sacrifices of praise unto the house of the Lord.

27 But if you will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath-day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath-day: then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

THE word which came to Jeremiah, from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there will I cause thee to hear my words.

3 Then I went down to the potter's house, and behold, he wrought a work on the wheels.

4 And the vessel that he made of clay, was marred in the hand of the potter, so he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

6 O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the Lord. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom to pluck up, and to pull down, and to destroy it:

8 If

16 Behold, I will send for many fishers---and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them, &c.] It is common for the sacred writers to represent enemies and oppressors under the metaphors of fishers and hunters; because they use all the methods of open force and secret stratagem, in order to make men their prey.

CHAP. XVII. 1 The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond, &c.] The sin of Judah is written in indelible characters, like things engraven on tables of stone, to preserve the memory of them to posterity.

10 I the Lord, search the heart, &c.] Since there are so many corrupt inclinations lurking in the heart, it is very difficult for men, without the strictest examination of themselves, to know the sincerity of their own hearts, it being the property of God alone to know perfectly the whole bent and frame of the dispositions of the human race.

8 If that nation againſt whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at what inſtant I ſhall ſpeak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom to build and to plant it:

10 If it do evil in my ſight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good wherewith I ſaid I would benefit them.

11 ¶ Now therefore go to, ſpeak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I frame evil againſt you, and deviſe a device againſt you: return ye now every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your doings good.

12 And they ſaid, There is no hope, but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart.

13 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Aſk ye now among the heathen, who hath heard ſuch things? the virgin of Iſrael hath done a very horrible thing.

14 Will a man leave the ſnow of Lebanon which cometh from the rock of the field? or ſhall the cold flowing waters that come from another place, be forſaken?

15 Becauſe my people hath forgotten me, they have burnt incenſe to vanity, and they have cauſed them to ſtumble in their ways from the ancient paths, to walk in paths, in a way not caſt up;

16 To make their land deſolate, and a perpetual hiſſing: every one that paſſeth thereby ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and wag his head.

17 I will ſcatter them as with an eaſt-wind before the enemy: I will ſhew them the back and not the face in the day of their calamity.

18 ¶ Then ſaid they, Come, and let us deviſe devices againſt Jeremiah: for the law ſhall not periſh from the prieſt, nor counſel from the wiſe, nor the word from the prophet: come, and let us ſmite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19 Give heed to me, O Lord, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall evil be recompenſed for good? for they have digged a pit for my ſoul: remember that I ſtood before thee to ſpeak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and pour out their blood by the force of the ſword, and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows, and let their men be put to death, let their young men be ſlain by the ſword in battle.

22 Let a cry be heard from their houſes, when thou ſhalt bring a troop ſuddenly upon them, for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid ſnares for my feet.

23 Yet, Lord, thou knoweſt all their counſel againſt me to ſlay me: forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their ſin from thy ſight, but let them be overthrown before thee; deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

THUS ſaith the Lord, Go and get a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the prieſts.

2 And go forth into the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the eaſt-gate, and proclaim there the words that I ſhall tell thee:

3 And ſay, Hear ye the word of the Lord, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jeruſalem, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whoſoever heareth, his ears ſhall tingle.

4 Becauſe they have forſaken me, and have eſtranged this place, and have burnt incenſe in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the blood of innocents;

5 They have built alſo the high places of Baal, to burn their ſons with fire for burnt offerings unto Baal, which I commanded not, nor ſpake it, neither came it into my mind:

6 Therefore behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that this place ſhall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the ſon of Hinnom, but the valley of ſlaughter.

7 And I will make void the counſel of Judah and Jeruſalem in this place, and I will cauſe them to fall by the ſword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that ſeek their lives: and their carcaſes will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beaſts of the earth.

8 And I will make this city deſolate, and an hiſſing: every one that paſſeth thereby ſhall be aſtoniſhed and hiſs, becauſe of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will cauſe them to eat the fleſh of their ſons, and the fleſh of their daughters, and they ſhall eat every one the fleſh of his friend in the ſiege and ſtraitneſs, wherewith their enemies, and they that ſeek their lives, ſhall ſtraiten them.

10 Then ſhalt thou break the bottle in the ſight of the men that go with thee,

11 And ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, Even ſo will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's veſſel that cannot be made whole again, and they ſhall bury them in Tophet, till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, ſaith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this city a Tophet.

13 And the houſes of Jeruſalem, and the houſes of the kings of Judah ſhall be defiled as the place of Tophet, becauſe of all the houſes upon whoſe roofs they have burnt incenſe unto all the hoſt of heaven, and have poured out drink-offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Tophet, whither the Lord had ſent him to prophecy, and he ſtood in the court of the Lord's houſe, and ſaid to all the people,

15 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will bring upon this city, and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced againſt it; becauſe they have hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

CHAP. XX.

NOW Paſhur the ſon of Immer the prieſt, who was alſo chief governor of the houſe of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah prophecied theſe things.

2 Then Paſhur ſmote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the ſtocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the houſe of the Lord.

3 And it came to paſs on the morrow, that Paſhur brought forth Jeremiah out of the ſtocks. Then ſaid Jeremiah unto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Paſhur, but Magor-miſſabib.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyſelf, and to all thy friends, and they ſhall fall by the ſword of their enemies, and thine eyes ſhall behold it, and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon; and he ſhall carry them captive into Babylon, and ſhall ſlay them with the ſword.

5 Moreover, I will deliver all the ſtrength of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treaſures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which ſhall ſpoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon.

6 And thou, Paſhur, and all that dwell in thine houſe, ſhall go into captivity, and thou ſhalt come to Babylon, and there thou ſhalt die, and ſhall be buried there, thou and all thy friends, to whom thou haſt prophecied lies.

7 ¶ O Lord, thou haſt deceived me, and I was deceived: thou art ſtronger than I, and haſt prevailed: I am in deriſion daily, every one mocketh me.

8 For ſince I ſpake, I cried out, I cried violence and ſpoil; becauſe the word of the Lord was made a reproach unto me, and a deriſion daily.

9 Then I ſaid, I will not make mention of him, nor ſpeak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire ſhut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not ſtay.

10 ¶ For I heard the defaming of many, fear on every ſide: Report, ſay they, and we will report it: all my familiars watched for my halting, ſaying, Peradventure he will be enticed, and we ſhall prevail againſt him, and we ſhall take our revenge on him.

11 But the Lord is with me as a mighty terrible one: therefore my perſecutors ſhall ſtumble, and they ſhall not prevail, they ſhall be greatly aſhamed; for they ſhall not proſper, their everlaſting confuſion ſhall never be forgotten.

12 But, O Lord of hoſts, that trieſt the righteous, and ſeeſt the reins and the heart, let me ſee thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cauſe.

13 Sing unto the Lord, praiſe ye the Lord: for he hath delivered the ſoul of the poor from the hand of evil doers.

14 ¶ Curſed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be bleſſed.

CHAP. XVIII.] 8 I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them, &c.] If we take repentance in a ſtrict and proper ſenſe, for a change of the inward purpoſes and reſolutions, it cannot be applied to God, according to the ſaying of Baalam, God is not a man that he ſhould repent. Whenever therefore repentance is aſcribed to God, it muſt be meant only of a change with regard to the outward adminiſtrations of his providence, and his dealing with men otherwiſe than he did before.

CHAP. XIX.] 1 Go and get a potter's earthen bottle, &c.] An earthen pitcher with a narrow neck to drink out of, called in the Hebrew backbuk. By this emblem, the prophet ſignified that the city and people might be as eaſily deſtroyed as an earthen veſſel could be broken, if the Almighty pleaſed.

5 To burn their ſons with fire for burnt-offerings unto Baal, &c.] The idol to which theſe inhuman ſacrifices were offered is elſewhere called Moloch; and it ſhould be obſerved, that Baal and Moloch are equivalent words, both ſignifying lord or king.

CHAP. XX.] 1 Now Paſhur the ſon of Immer the prieſt, who was alſo chief governor of the houſe of the Lord, &c.] The family of Immer was the ſixteenth in order of the four-and-twenty courſes of prieſts; and this Paſhur, by being head of his family, had a principal authority in directing the affairs of the temple; and therefore is here called chief governor, or a chief governor of the houſe of the Lord.

15 Curſed

15 Curſed be the man who brought tidings to my father, ſaying, A man-child is born unto thee, making him very glad.
16 And let that man be as the cities which the Lord overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the ſhouting at noon-tide:
17 Becauſe he ſlew me not from the womb; or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb to be always great with me.
18 Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to ſee labour and ſorrow, that my days ſhould be conſumed with ſhame?

CHAP. XXI.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah ſent unto him Paſhur the ſon of Malchiah, and Zephaniah the ſon of Maaſeiah the prieſt, ſaying,
2 Enquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for us (for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh war againſt us) if ſo be that the Lord will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.
3 ¶ Then ſaid Jeremiah unto them, Thus ſhall ye ſay to Zedekiah,
4 Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight againſt the king of Babylon, and againſt the Chaldeans, which beſiege you without the walls, and I will aſſemble them into the midſt of this city.
5 And I myſelf will fight againſt you with an outſtretched hand, and with a ſtrong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.
6 And I will ſmite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beaſt: they ſhall die of a great peſtilence.
7 And afterwards, ſaith the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his ſervants, and the people, and ſuch as are left in this city, from the peſtilence, from the ſword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of thoſe that ſeek their life. and he ſhall ſmite them with the edge of the ſword: he ſhall not ſpare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.
8 ¶ And unto this people thou ſhalt ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I ſet before you the way of life, and the way of death.
9 He that abideth in this city ſhall die by the ſword, and by the famine, and by the peſtilence: but he that goeth out and falleth to the Chaldeans that beſiege you, he ſhall live, and his life ſhall be unto him for a prey.
10 For I have ſet my face againſt this city for evil, and not for good, ſaith the Lord; it ſhall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he ſhall burn it with fire.
11 ¶ And touching the houſe of the king of Judah, ſay, Hear ye the word of the Lord.
12 O houſe of David, thus ſaith the Lord, Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him that is ſpoiled out of the hand of the oppreſſor, leſt my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, becauſe of the evil of your doings.
13 Behold, I am againſt thee, O inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, ſaith the Lord; which ſay, Who ſhall come down againſt us? or who ſhall enter into our habitations?
14 But I will puniſh you according to the fruit of your doings, ſaith the Lord: and I will kindle a fire in the foreſt thereof, and it ſhall devour all things round about it.

CHAP. XXII.

THUS ſaith the Lord, go down to the houſe of the king of Judah, and ſpeak there this word,
2 And ſay, Hear the word of the Lord, O king of Judah, that ſitteſt upon the throne of David, thou, and thy ſervants, and thy people that enter in by theſe gates;
3 Thus ſaith the Lord, Execute ye judgment and righteouſneſs, and deliver the ſpoiled out of the hand of the oppreſſor: and do no wrong, do no violence to the ſtranger, the fatherleſs, nor the widow, neither ſhed innocent blood in this place.
4 For if ye do this thing indeed, then ſhall there enter in by the gates of this houſe, kings ſitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots, and on horſes, he, and his ſervants, and his people.
5 But if ye will not hear theſe words, I ſwear by myſelf, ſaith the Lord, that this houſe ſhall become a deſolation.
6 For thus ſaith the Lord unto the king's houſe of Judah, Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet ſurely I will make thee a wilderneſs, and cities which are not inhabited.
7 And I will prepare deſtroyers againſt thee, every one with his weapons, and they ſhall cut down thy choice cedars, and caſt them into the fire.
8 And many nations ſhall paſs by this city, and they ſhall ſay every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this great city?
9 Then they ſhall anſwer, Becauſe they have forſaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worſhipped other gods, and ſerved them.
10 ¶ Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him, but weep ſore for him that goeth away: for he ſhall return no more, nor ſee his native country.
11 For thus ſaith the Lord touching Shallum, the ſon of Joſiah king of Judah, which reigned inſtead of Joſiah his father, which went forth out of this place, He ſhall not return thither any more:
12 But he ſhall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and ſhall ſee this land no more.
13 ¶ Woe unto him that buildeth his houſe by unrighteouſneſs, and his chambers by wrong; that uſeth his neighbours ſervice without wages, and giveth him not for his work:
14 That ſaith, I will build me a wide houſe, and large chambers, and cutteth him out windows, and it is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion.
15 Shalt thou reign becauſe thou cloſeſt thyſelf in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgment and juſtice, and then it was well with him?
16 He judged the cauſe of the poor and needy, then it was well with him: was not this to know me? ſaith the Lord.
17 But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetouſneſs, and for to ſhed innocent blood, and for oppreſſion, and for violence to do it.
18 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord concerning Jehoiakim the ſon of Joſiah king of Judah, They ſhall not lament for him, ſaying, Ah, my brother, or ah, ſiſter: they ſhall not lament for him, ſaying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.
19 He ſhall be buried with the burial of an aſs, drawn and caſt forth beyond the gates of Jeruſalem.
20 ¶ Go up to Lebanon, and cry, and lift up thy voice in Baſhan, and cry from the paſſages: for all thy lovers are deſtroyed.
21 I ſpake unto thee in thy proſperity, but thou ſaidſt, I will not hear: this hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedſt not my voice.
22 The wind ſhall eat up all thy paſtors, and thy lovers ſhall go into captivity, ſurely then ſhalt thou be aſhamed and confounded for all thy wickedneſs.
23 O inhabitant of Lebanon, that makeſt thy neſt in the cedars, how gracious ſhalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail?
24 As I live, ſaith the Lord, though Coniah the ſon of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the ſignet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence,
25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that ſeek thy life, and into the hand of them whoſe face thou feareſt, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.
26 And I will caſt thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born, and there ſhall ye die.
27 But to the land whereunto they deſire to return, thither ſhall they not return.
28 Is this man Coniah a deſpiſed broken idol? is he a veſſel wherein is no pleaſure? wherefore are they caſt out, he and his ſeed, and are caſt into a land which they know not?
29 O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the Lord.
30 Thus ſaith the Lord, Write ye this man childleſs, a man that ſhall not proſper in his days: for no man of his ſeed ſhall proſper, ſitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

CHAP. XXIII.

WOE be unto the paſtors that deſtroy and ſcatter the ſheep of my paſture, ſaith the Lord.
2 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael againſt the paſtors that feed my people, Ye have ſcattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not viſited them; behold, I will viſit upon you the evil of your doings, ſaith the Lord.
3 And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds, and they ſhall be fruitful and increaſe.

---

15 Curſed be the man who brought tidings to my father, &c.] I have already obſerved, that this lamentation is written in poetical figures, like the ancient funeral ſongs, in which every circumſtance, proper to raiſe the paſſions, is mentioned; and therefore not to be conſidered as ſo many expreſſions of indignation or malice, but rather of mourning and ſorrow.

CHAP. XXI.] 14 I will kindle a fire in the foreſt thereof, &c.] The word foreſt is often uſed metaphorically by the prophets to ſignify a city; becauſe its ſtately buildings, or its principal inhabitants reſemble tall cedars, ſtanding in ſeveral ranks.

CHAP. XXII.] 6 For thus ſaith the Lord unto the king's houſe of Judah, Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon, &c.] Though thou wert never ſo precious in my ſight, and thy buildings as ſtately as the tall cedars of Lebanon, yet, unleſs thy princes and people reform, they ſhall become nothing but ruin and deſolation.

18 They ſhall not lament for him, ſaying, Ah, my brother, or ah, ſiſter, &c.] The prophet here repeats part of the funeral ſong, which the public mourners uſed to ſing at funerals.

CHAP.

4 And I will set up shepherds over them, which shall feed them and they fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous branch, and a king shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth.

6 In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely; and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.

7 Therefore behold, the days come saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The Lord liveth which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt:

8 But, The Lord liveth which brought up, and which led, the seed of the house of Israel out of the north-conntry, and from all countries whither I had driven them, they shall dwell in their own land.

9 ¶ Mine heart within me is broken, because of the prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome: because of the Lord, and because of the words of his holiness.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, for because of swearing the land mourneth: the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their course is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For both prophet and priest are profane, yea, in my house have I found their wickedness saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness: they shall be driven on and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria; they prophecied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to err.

14 I have seen also in the prophets of Jerusalem an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of evil doers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophecy unto you: they make you vain: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still unto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye shall have peace; and they say unto every one that walketh after the imagination of his own heart, No evil shall come upon you.

18 For who hath stood in the counsel of the Lord, and hath perceived and heard his word? who hath marked his word, and heard it?

19 Behold, a whirlwind of the Lord is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwind, it shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it perfectly.

21 I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran: I have not spoken to them, yet they prophecied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsel, and had caused my people to hear my words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

23 Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God afar off?

24 Can any hide himself in secret places, that I shall not see him? saith the Lord: do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the Lord.

25 I have heard what the prophets said, that prophecy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26 How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophecy lies? yea, they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart;

27 Which think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams, which they tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers have forgotten my name, for Baal.

28 The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully: what is the chaff to the wheat? saith the Lord.

29 Is not my word like as a fire? saith the Lord: and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

30 Therefore behold, I am against the prophets, saith the Lord, that steal my words every one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the Lord, that use their tongues, and say, He saith.

32 Behold, I am against them that prophecy false dreams, saith the Lord, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies and by their lightness, yet I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they shall not profit this people at all, saith the Lord.

33 ¶ And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest shall ask thee saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say unto them, What burden? I will even forsake you, saiththe Lord.

34 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people that shall say, The burden of the Lord, I will even punish that man and his house.

35 Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the Lord answered, and what hath the Lord spoken?

36 And the burden of the Lord shall ye mention no more: for every man's word shall be his burden: for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of the Lord of hosts our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath the Lord answered thee? and, What hath the Lord spoken?

38 But sith ye say, The burden of the Lord; therefore thus saith the Lord, Because you say this word, The burden of the Lord, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the Lord:

39 Therefore behold, I, even I will utterly forget you, and I will forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence.

40 And I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

CHAP. XXIV.

THE Lord shewed me, and behold, two baskets of figs were set before the temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the carpenters and smiths from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon.

2 One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad.

3 Then said the Lord unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? and I said, Figs: the good figs very good; and the evil, very evil, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.

4 ¶ Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, Like these good figs, so will I acknowledge them that are carried away captive of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans for their good.

6 For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land, and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up.

7 And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.

8 ¶ And as the evil figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so evil: (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I give Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt.

9 And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse in all places whither I shall drive them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed from off the land, that I gave unto them, and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, that was the first year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon:

2 That which Jeremiah the prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, even unto this day (that is the three and twentieth year) the word of the Lord hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking, but ye have not hearkened.

4 And the Lord hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising

CHAP. XXIII.] 5 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous branch.] The Messiah is often called the branch, to denote his descent from the stock of David.

13, 14 I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria, &c.] He compares the sins of the prophets of Samaria and Jerusalem together; and pronounces those of the latter to be more enormous, because they pronounced their false prophecies in the name of the true God, and pretended that he was the author of all their impostures.

CHAP. XXIV.] 1 Behold, two baskets of figs were set before the temple of the Lord. &c.] The vision represented two such baskets of figs as used to be offered up for first-fruits at the temple.

7 And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the Lord, &c.] The captives, who returned from Babylon, were the peculiar objects of these blessings, which principally consisted in the knowledge, and fear of the Almighty, and grace to live in obedience to his commands.

CHAP. XXV.] 4 And the Lord hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, &c.] There seems to have been several prophets, cotemporary with Jeremiah, though only two of them are mentioned in scripture, namely, Zephaniah, and Urijah, the son of Shemaiah.

rising early, and sending them, but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear.

5 They said, Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land, that the Lord hath given unto you and to your fathers, for ever and ever:

6 And go not after other gods, to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will do you no hurt.

7 Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the Lord; that ye might provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, to your own hurt.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Because ye have not heard my words,

9 Behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the Lord, and Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetual desolations.

10 Moreover, I will take from them the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

12 And it shall come to pass when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans, and will make it perpetual desolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophecied against all the nations.

14 For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them also: and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.

15 ¶ For thus saith the Lord God of Israel unto me, Take the wine-cup of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it.

16 And they shall drink and be moved, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then took I the cup at the Lord's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 To wit, Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the king's thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse as it is this day.

19 Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people,

20 And all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod,

21 Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon,

22 And all the kings of Tyrus, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the isles which are beyond the sea,

23 Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that are in the utmost corners,

24 And all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the desart,

25 And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes.

26 And all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth; and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.

27 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Drink ye, and be drunken, and spue and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you.

28 And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Ye shall certainly drink.

29 For lo, I begin to bring evil on the city which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hosts.

30 Therefore prophecy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The Lord shall roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation, he shall mightily roar upon his habitation, he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 A noise shall come even to the ends of the earth; for the Lord hath a controversy with the nations: he will plead with all flesh, he will give them that are wicked to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

33 And the slain of the Lord shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried, they shall be dung upon the ground.

34 ¶ Howl, ye shepherds, and cry, and wallow yourselves in the ashes, ye principal of the flock: for the days of your slaughter, and of your dispersions are accomplished, and ye shall fall like a pleasant vessel.

35 And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the principal of the flock to escape.

36 A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and an howling of the principal of the flock shall be heard: for the Lord hath spoiled their pasture.

37 And the peaceable habitations are cut down, because of the fierce anger of the Lord.

38 He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is desolate, because of the fierceness of the oppressor, and because of his fierce anger.

CHAP XXVI.

IN the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lord's house, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the Lord's house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them; diminish not a word:

3 If so be he will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way, that I may repent me of the evil which I purpose to do unto them, because of the evil of their doings.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you,

5 To hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I sent unto you, both rising up early and sending them, but ye have not hearkened,

6 Then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the priests and the prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the Lord.

8 ¶ Now it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests, and the prophets, and all the people took him, saying, Thou shalt surely die.

9 Why hast thou prophecied in the name of the Lord, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate without an inhabitant? And all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the Lord.

10 ¶ When the princes of Judah heard these things, then they came up from the king's house unto the house of the Lord, and sat down in the entry of the new gate of the Lord's house.

11 Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes, and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die, for he hath prophecied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.

12 ¶ Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord sent me to prophecy against this house, and against this city, all the words that ye have heard.

13 Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the Lord your God, and the Lord will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as seemeth good and meet unto you.

15 But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth, the Lord hath sent me unto you, to speak all these words in your ears.

16 ¶ Then said the princes, and all the people unto the priests, and to the prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken to us in the name of the Lord our God.

17 Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Micah the Morasthite prophecied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Zion shall be plowed like a field, and

---

10 And all the mingled people.] The Hebrew word, which we render mingled, is Erin, and properly signifies a mixture of several nations, and is supposed to allude to the trading countries, situated on the coast of the Mediterranean and Red Sea.

14 Howl, ye shepherds, and cry, and wallow yourselves in the ashes, ye principal of the flock, &c.] By shepherds are here meant princes and governors; and, so pursuing the same metaphor, the principal of the flock signifies the great and wealthy men of each nation against whom these judgments are denounced.

CHAP. XXVI.] 10 When the princes of Judah heard these things, &c.] That is, the king's counsellors, or chief officers of state, who were also members of the Sanhedrim.

18 Zion shall be plowed like a field, &c.] The Jews supposed this prophecy to have been fulfilled in the utter destruction of the second temple by Titus, when Terentius razed the very foundations of the city and temple; and by that means fulfilled the prediction of our blessed Saviour, that there should not be left one stone upon another.

and Jeruſalem ſhall become heaps, and the mountain of the houſe, as the high places of the foreſt.

19 Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the Lord, and beſought the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the evil which he had pronounced againſt them? Thus might we procure great evil againſt our ſouls.

20 And there was alſo a man that prophecied in the name of the Lord, Urijah the ſon of Shemaiah of Kirjath-jearim, who prophecied againſt this city, and againſt this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 And when Jehoiakim the king with all his mighty men, and all the princes heard his words, the king ſought to put him to death; but when Urijah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 And Jehoiakim the king ſent men into Egypt, namely, Elnathan the ſon of Achbor, and certain men with him into Egypt.

23 And they fetched forth Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king, who ſlew him with the ſword, and caſt his dead body into the graves of the common people.

24 Nevertheleſs, the hand of Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan, was with Jeremiah, that they ſhould not give him into the hand of the people, to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

IN the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the ſon of Joſiah king of Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord to me, Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them upon thy neck,

3 And ſend them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyrus, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the meſſengers which come to Jeruſalem unto Zedekiah king of Judah;

4 And command them to ſay unto their maſters, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Thus ſhall ye ſay unto your maſters,

5 I have made the earth, the man and the beaſt that are upon the ground, by my great power, and by my outſtretched arm, and have given it unto whom it ſeemed meet unto me.

6 And now have I given all theſe lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon my ſervant, and the beaſts of the field have I given him alſo to ſerve him.

7 And all nations ſhall ſerve him, and his ſon, and his ſon's ſon until the very time of his land come; and then many nations and great kings ſhall ſerve themſelves of him.

8 And it ſhall come to paſs, that the nation and kingdom which will not ſerve the ſame Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I puniſh, ſaith the Lord, with the ſword, and with the famine, and with the peſtilence, until I have conſumed them by his hand.

9 Therefore hearken not ye to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreamers, nor to your enchanters, nor to your ſorcerers, which ſpeak unto you, ſaying, Ye ſhall not ſerve the king of Babylon:

10 For they prophecy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land, and that I ſhould drive you out, and ye ſhall periſh.

11 But the nations that bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and ſerve him, thoſe will I let remain ſtill in their own land, ſaith the Lord, and they ſhall till it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I ſpake alſo to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all theſe words, ſaying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and ſerve him and his people, and live.

13 Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, as the Lord hath ſpoken againſt the nation that will not ſerve the king of Babylon?

14 Therefore hearken not unto the words of the prophets that ſpake unto you, ſaying, Ye ſhall not ſerve the king of Babylon: for they prophecy a lie unto you.

15 For I have not ſent them, ſaith the Lord, yet they prophecy a lie in my name, that I might drive you out, and that ye might periſh, ye and the prophets that prophecy unto you.

16 Alſo I ſpake to the prieſts, and to all this people, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Hearken not to the words of your prophets, that prophecy unto you, ſaying, Behold, the veſſels of the Lord's houſe ſhall now ſhortly be brought again from Babylon; for they prophecy a lie unto you.

17 Hearken not unto them, ſerve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore ſhould this city be laid waſte?

18 But if they be prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them now make interceſſion to the Lord of hoſts, that the veſſels which are left in the houſe of the Lord, and in the houſe of the king of Judah, and at Jeruſalem, go not to Babylon.

19 ¶ For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts concerning the pillars, and concerning the ſea, and concerning the baſes, and concerning the reſidue of the veſſels that remain in this city,

20 Which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the ſon of Jehoiakim king of Judah, from Jeruſalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jeruſalem:

21 Yet, thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, concerning the veſſels that remain in the houſe of the Lord, and in the houſe of the king of Judah and of Jeruſalem, 22 They ſhall be carried to Babylon, and there ſhall they be until the day that I viſit them, ſaith the Lord: then will I bring them up and reſtore them to this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

AND it came to paſs the ſame year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, and in the fifth month, that Hananiah the ſon of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, ſpake unto me in the houſe of the Lord in the preſence of the prieſts, and of all the people, ſaying,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, ſaying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

3 Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the veſſels of the Lord's houſe, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon.

4 And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the ſon of Jehoiakim king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went into Babylon, ſaith the Lord; for I will brake the yoke of the king of Babylon.

5 ¶ Then the prophet Jeremiah ſaid unto the prophet Hananiah in the preſence of the prieſts, and in the preſence of all the people that ſtood in the houſe of the Lord,

6 Even the prophet Jeremiah ſaid, Amen: the Lord do ſo, the Lord perform thy words which thou haſt prophecied, to bring again the veſſels of the Lord's houſe, and all that is carried away captive from Babylon, into this place.

7 Nevertheleſs, hear thou now this word that I ſpeak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people,

8 The prophets that have been before me, and before thee of old, prophecied both againſt many countries, and againſt great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of peſtilence.

9 The prophet which prophecieth of peace, when the word of the prophet ſhall come to paſs, then ſhall the prophet be known, that the Lord hath truly ſent him.

10 ¶ Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah ſpake in the preſence of all the people, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Even ſo will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzer king of Babylon from the neck of all nations, within the ſpace of two full years. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the prophet (after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah) ſaying, 13 Go, and tell Hananiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Thou haſt broken the yokes of wood, but thou ſhalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all theſe nations, that they may ſerve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and they ſhall ſerve him; and I have given him the beaſts of the field alſo.

15 ¶ Then ſaid the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah, The Lord hath not ſent thee, but thou makeſt this people to truſt in a lie.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will caſt thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou ſhalt die, becauſe thou haſt taught rebellion againſt the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died the ſame year in the ſeventh month.

CHAP. XXIX.

NOW theſe are the words of the letter, that Jeremiah the prophet ſent from Jeruſalem unto the reſidue of the elders which were carried away captives, and to the prieſts, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jeruſalem to Babylon

2 (After that Jeconiah the king, and the queen, and the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jeruſalem, and the carpenters, and the ſmiths were departed from Jeruſalem)

3 By the hand of Elaſah the ſon of Shaphan, and Gemariah the ſon of Hilkiah (whom Zedekiah king of Judah ſent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon) ſaying,

4 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, unto all that

CHAP. XXVII.] 9 Therefore hearken not ye to your prophets, nor to your diviners, &c.] The Jews learned, together with the idolatrous rites of their neighbours, their arts of divination, and foretelling future events, the uſe of which was expreſsly forbidden by the law of Moſes.

CHAP. XXVIII.] 4 And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah, &c.] This was joyful news to the people, who looked upon Zedekiah only as a deputy or viceroy under Nebuchadnezzar.

16 This year thou ſhalt die, &c.] As Hananiah had limited the accompliſhment of his prophecy to the ſpace of two years, in order to gain credit with the people, by ſo punctual a prediction; ſo Jeremiah confines the proof of his veracity to a much ſhorter time: the event being exactly conformable, evidently ſhewed the falſehood of the other's pretences.

hat are carried away captives, whom I have caused to be carried way from Jerusalem unto Babylon.

5 Build ye houses, and dwell in them, and plant gardens, and eat he fruit of them.

6 Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters, and take wives or your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may ear sons and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not iminished.

7 And seek the peace of the city, whither I have caused you to e carried away captives, and pray unto the Lord for it: for in he peace thereof shall ye have peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Let ot your prophets and your diviners that be in the midst of you, eceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be reamed.

9 For they prophecy falsely unto you in my name; I have not ent them, saith the Lord.

10 ¶ For thus saith the Lord, That after seventy years be accomplished at Babylon, I will visit you, and perform my good word towards you, in causing you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think towards you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end.

12 Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.

13 And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the Lord, and I will bring you again into the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive.

15 ¶ Because ye have said, The Lord hath raised us up prophets in Babylon:

16 Know that thus saith the Lord, of the king that sitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwelleth in this city, and of your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity;

17 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be removed to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach among all the nations whither I have driven them.

19 Because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the Lord, which I sent unto them by my servants the prophets, rising up early, and sending them; but ye would not hear, saith the Lord.

20 ¶ Hear ye therefore the word of the Lord, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon:

21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, of Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesy a lie unto you in my name; Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Judah which are in Babylon, saying, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah, and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire.

23 Because they have committed villainy in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours wives, and have spoken lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them; even I know, and am a witness, saith the Lord.

24 ¶ Thus shalt thou also speak to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the Lord, for every man that is mad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldest put him in prison, and in the stocks:

27 Now therefore why hast thou not reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himself a prophet to you?

28 For therefore he sent unto us in Babylon, saying, This captivity is long: build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

29 And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet.

30 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity saying, Thus saith the Lord, concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite; Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie:

32 Therefore thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people; neither shall he behold the good that I will do for my people, saith the Lord; because he hath taught rebellion against the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book.

3 For lo, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the Lord: and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

4 ¶ And these are the words that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Judah.

5 For thus saith the Lord; We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace.

6 Ask ye now, and see, whether a man doth travail with child? wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness?

7 Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble; but he shall be saved out of it.

8 For it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him,

9 But they shall serve the Lord their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up unto them.

10 ¶ Therefore fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the Lord; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest and quiet, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to save thee: though I make a full end of all nations whither I have scattered thee, yet will I not make a full end of thee: but I will correct thee in measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruise is incurable, and thy wound is grievous.

13 There is none to plead thy cause, that thou mayest be bound up: thou hast no healing medicines.

14 All thy lovers have forgotten thee: they seek thee not; for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the multitude of thine iniquity: because thy sins were increased.

15 Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquity: because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

16 Therefore all they that devour thee, shall be devoured: and all thine adversaries, every one of them shall go into captivity; and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey.

17 For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord; because they called thee an Outcast, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

18 ¶ Thus saith the Lord; Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have mercy on his dwelling-places; and the city shall be builded upon her own heap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceed thanksgiving, and the voice of them that make merry: and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few; I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small.

20 Their children also shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall be established before me, and I will punish all that oppress them.

21 And their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall proceed from the midst of them; and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me; for who is this that engaged his heart to approach unto me? saith the Lord.

22 And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, the whirlwind of the Lord goeth forth with fury, a continuing whirlwind; it shall fall with pain upon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce anger of the Lord shall not return, until he have done it, and until he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it.

CHAP. XXXI.

AT the same time saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

CHAP. XXIX.] 14 And will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, &c.] This prediction was directly spoken to those that were carried captives with Jeconiah, and fulfilled in their restoration under Cyrus.

CHAP. XXX.] 2 Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee, in a book.] The following words contain a promise of the Jews restoration from their captivity; and therefore God commands them to be written for the use of posterity, to be a support to the Jews, and a proof of God's presence and overruling providence, when the event should be brought about.

6 Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child?] All men seem to carry that concern in their countenances, and discover that uneasiness in their behaviour, from the apprehension of approaching evils, as is common to women when they draw near the time of their travail.

found grace in the wilderness; even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving-kindness have I drawn thee.

4 Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel: thou shalt again be adorned with thy tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of Samaria: the planters shall plant, and shall eat them as common things.

6 For there shall be a day, that the watchmen upon the mount Ephraim shall cry, Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion, unto the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord; Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout among the chief of the nations: publish ye, praise ye, and say, O Lord, save thy people the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the coasts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child, and her that travaileth with child together: a great company shall return thither.

9 They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters, in a straight way wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first-born.

10 ¶ Hear the word of the Lord, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he.

12 Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodness of the Lord, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not sorrow any more at all.

13 Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow.

14 And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the Lord.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation, and bitter weeping; Rachael weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord; Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears; for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the Lord; and they shall come again from the land of the enemy.

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come again to their own border.

18 ¶ I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus; Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I shall be turned: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim my dear son? is he a pleasant child? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my bowels are troubled for him; I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the Lord.

21 Set thee up way-marks, make thee high heaps; set thine heart toward the high-way, even the way which thou wentest: turn again, O virgin of Israel, turn again to these thy cities.

22 ¶ How long wilt thou go about, O thou back-sliding daughter? for the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman shall compass a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; As yet they shall use this speech in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity; The Lord bless thee, O habitation of justice, and mountain of holiness.

24 And there shall dwell in Judah itself, and in all the cities thereof together, husbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks.

25 For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.

26 Upon this I awaked and beheld; and my sleep was sweet unto me.

27 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will sow the house of Israel, and the house of Judah, with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.

28 And it shall come to pass, that like as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict, so will I watch over them, to build, and to plant, saith the Lord.

29 In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah;

32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt (which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the Lord:)

33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel: After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

35 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, which giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which divideth the sea when the waves thereof roar; The Lord of hosts is his name.

36 If those ordinances depart from before me, saith the Lord, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever.

37 Thus saith the Lord, if heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they have done, saith the Lord.

38 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the city shall be built to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel unto the gate of the corner.

39 And the measuring-line shall yet go forth over against it upon the hill Gareb, and shall compass about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook of Kidron, unto the corner of the horse-gate towards the east, shall be holy unto the Lord, it shall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

CHAP. XXXII.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar.

2 For then the king of Babylon's army besieged Jerusalem: and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the prison which was in the king of Judah's house.

3 For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophecy, and say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it;

4 And Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the land of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes;

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the Lord: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 ¶ And Jeremiah said, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanameel the son of Shallum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth: for the right of redemption is thine to buy it.

8 So Hanameel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the country of Benjamin: for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine; buy it for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hanameel my uncle's son, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the money, even seventeen shekels of silver.

10 And I subscribed the evidence, and sealed it, and took witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances.

11 So I took the evidence of the purchase, both that which was sealed according to the law and custom, and that which was open:

12 And I gave the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the book of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.

13 ¶ And I charged Baruch before them, saying, 14 Thus

CHAP. XXXI.] 8 And with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child, and her that travaileth with child together, &c.] God will conduct them with all imaginary care and tenderness, and furnish the most feeble and indigent with suitable accommodations. The words allude to God's conducting his people of all ages and conditions through the wilderness, compared to the care with which a parent or a nurse carries a tender child.

19 Surely after that I was turned, I repented.] As soon as the grace of God touched my heart, and gave me a due sense of my duty, and the many deviations from it I had been guilty of, I immediately became a true penitent, and expressed my repentance by all the external and internal signs of unfeigned sorrow.

Because I did bear the reproach of my youth.] The burden of my sins lay heavy upon my mind, and I became sensible, that all the reproaches of any calamities I had undergone were no more than what my offences justly merited.

CHAP.

14 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Take these evidences, this evidence of the purchase, both which is sealed, and this evidence which is open; and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue many days.

15 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Houses, and fields, and vineyards, shall be possessed again in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the Lord, saying,

17 Ah, Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched-out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee:

18 Thou shewest loving-kindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the Great, the Mighty God, the Lord of hosts is his name,

19 Great in counsel, and mighty in work, (for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men, to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings:)

20 Which hast set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, and in Israel, and amongst other men; and hast made thee a name, as at this day.

21 And hast brought forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt, with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched-out arm, and with great terror.

22 And hast given them this land which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey.

23 And they came in and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law, they have done nothing of all that thou cammandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them.

24 Behold the mounts, they are come unto the city to take it, and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence; and what thou hast spoken is come to pass, and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord God, Buy thee the field for money, and take witnesses: for the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh: Is there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it.

29 And the Chaldeans that fight against this city, shall come and set fire on this city, and burn it, with the houses upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink-offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Judah have only done evil before me from their youth: for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 For this city hath been to me, as a provocation of mine anger, and of my fury, from the day that they built it, even unto this day: that I should remove it from before my face:

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Israel, and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33 And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face; though I taught them, rising up early, and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction.

34 But they set their abominations in the house (which is called by my name) to defile it.

35 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination to cause Judah to sin.

36 ¶ And now therefore thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence:

37 Behold, I will gather them out of all countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly, with my whole heart, and with my whole soul.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them.

43 And fields shall be bought in this land whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast, it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

44 Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe evidences, and seal them, and take witnesses in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIII.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the second time (while he was yet shut up in the court of the prison) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord the maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, to establish it, the Lord is his name.

3 Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are thrown down by the mounts, and by the sword.

5 They come to fight with the Chaldeans, but it is to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger, and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid my face from this city.

6 Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.

7 And I will cause the captivity of Judah, and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me, and I will pardon all their iniquities whereby they have transgressed against me.

9 ¶ And it shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them: and they shall fear and tremble for all the goodness, and for all the prosperity that I procure unto it.

10 Thus saith the Lord, Again there shall be heard in this place (which ye say shall be desolate without man, and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast)

11 The voice of joy, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that shall say, Praise the Lord of hosts, for the Lord is good, for his mercy endureth for ever, and of them that shall bring the sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord; for I will cause to return the captivity of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Again in this place which is desolate without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, shall be an habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down.

13 In the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the vale, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah shall the flocks pass again under the hands of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will perform that good thing which I have promised unto the house of Israel, and to the house of Judah.

15 ¶ In those days, and at that time will I cause the branch of righteousness to grow up unto David, and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.

16 In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell

CHAP. XXXII.] 17 Ah, Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth.] This prayer begins with an acknowledgment of God's infinite power, which is sufficiently manifest, both in the works of creation and providence, wher by he shews himself wonderful in his mercies, and terrible in his judgments.

And there is nothing too hard for thee.] Or, hidden from thee, as the Hebrew word literally imports, that is, there is nothing but that thy wisdom can reach, and bring to pass.

19 Great in counsel, and mighty in works, &c.] Who art infinitely wise in ordering all events, and as powerful in putting thy decrees in execution.

27 Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh; is any thing too hard for me.] The difficulties which thou thinkest impossible to be surmounted are easy to me, who can do all things, and have the lives and actions of all men at my disposal.

39 And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, &c.] This must be understood, at least with regard to its ultimate completion, of the re-union of Judah and Israel after their general restoration.

CHAP. XXXIII.] 4 Which are thrown down by the mounts, &c.] That is, by the battering engines, placed in the mounts upon the walls of the city.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, &c.] I will not impute their sins any longer to them, but remit the punishments I have inflicted on them for their iniquities. This verse contains that general promise of pardon of sins often mentioned in the prophets, as the peculiar blessing of the gospel.

dwell safely: and this is the name wherewith she shall be called, The Lord our righteousness.

17 ¶ For thus saith the Lord, David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Neither shall the priests, the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt-offerings, and to kindle meat-offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, and that there should not be day and night in their season:

21 Then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne, and with the Levites the priests, my ministers.

22 As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.

23 Moreover, the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the Lord hath chosen, he hath even cast them off? Thus they have despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth:

26 Then will I cast away the seed of Jacob and David my servant, so that I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and have mercy on them.

CHAP. XXXIV.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord (when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army and all the kingdoms of the earth of his dominion, and all the people fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, Go, and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon.

4 Yet hear the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah king of Judah, Thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword;

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and with the burnings of thy fathers the former kings which were before thee, so shall they burn odours for thee, and they will lament thee, saying, Ah lord! for I have pronounced the word, saith the Lord.

6 Then Jeremiah the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem.

7 When the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these defenced cities remained of the cities of Judah.

8 ¶ This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty unto them;

9 That every man should let his man-servant, and every one his maid-servant, being an Hebrew, or an Hebrewess, go free, that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had entered into the covenant, heard that every one should let his man-servant, and every one his maid-servant go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more, then they obeyed, and let them go.

11 But afterwards they turned and caused the servants, and the hand-maids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants, and for hand-maids.

12 ¶ Therefore the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bond-men, saying,

14 At the end of seven years, let ye go every man his brother an Hebrew which hath been sold unto thee: and when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour, and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name.

16 But ye turned and polluted my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his hand-maid, whom he had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for hand-maids.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ye have not hearkened unto me, in proclaiming liberty every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim a liberty for you, saith the Lord, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

18 And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, when they cut the calf in twain, and passed between the parts thereof.

19 The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf.

20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life; and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Judah, and his princes, will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are gone up from you.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to return to this city, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire, and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,

2 Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.

3 Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habaziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites;

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the door.

5 And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink ye wine.

6 But they said, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever.

7 Neither shall ye build a house, nor sow seed, nor plant a vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may dwell many days in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters:

9 Nor to build houses for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed.

10 But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

11 But it came to pass, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians: so we dwell at Jerusalem.

12 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Go and tell the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the Lord.

14 The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons not to drink wine, are performed; for unto this day they drink none, but obey their fathers commandment: notwithstanding, I have spoken unto you, rising early, and speaking, but ye hearkened not unto me.

15 I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early, and sending them, saying, Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you, and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me.

16 Because the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed

AND it came to paſs in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the ſon of Joſiah king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have ſpoken unto thee againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, and againſt all the nations, from the day I ſpake unto thee, from the days of Joſiah, even unto this day.

3 It may be that the houſe of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpoſe to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way, that I may forgive their iniquity, and their ſin.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the ſon of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had ſpoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, ſaying, I am ſhut up, I cannot go into the houſe of the Lord:

6 Therefore go thou and read in the roll, which thou haſt written from my mouth, the words of the Lord in the ears of the people, in the Lord's houſe upon the faſting-day: and alſo thou ſhalt read them in the ears of all Judah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be, they will preſent their ſupplication before the Lord, and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the Lord hath pronounced againſt this people.

8 And Baruch the ſon of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the Lord in the Lord's houſe.

9 And it came to paſs in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the ſon of Joſiah king of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a faſt before the Lord to all the people in Jeruſalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jeruſalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the book, the words of Jeremiah in the houſe of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah, the ſon of Shaphan the ſcribe, in the higher court, at the entry of the new gate of the Lord's houſe, in the ears of all the people.

11 ¶ When Michaiah the ſon of Gemariah, the ſon of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the Lord,

12 Then he went down into the king's houſe, into the ſcribe's chamber, and lo, all the princes ſat there, even Eliſhama the ſcribe, and Delaiah the ſon of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the ſon of Achbor, and Gemariah the ſon of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the ſon of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes ſent Jehudi the ſon of Nethaniah, the ſon of Shelemiah, the ſon of Cuſhi, unto Baruch, ſaying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou haſt read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the ſon of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they ſaid unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears.

16 Now it came to paſs when they had heard all the words, they were afraid, both one and other, and ſaid unto Baruch, We will ſurely tell the king of all theſe words.

17 And they aſked Baruch, ſaying, Tell us now, How didſt thou write all theſe words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch anſwered them, He pronounced all theſe words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

19 Then ſaid the princes unto Baruch, Go hide thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the king into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Eliſhama the ſcribe, and told all the words in the ears of the king.

21 So the king ſent Jehudi to fetch the roll, and he took it out of Eliſhama the ſcribe's chamber, and Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes which ſtood beſide the king.

22 Now the king ſat in the winter-houſe, in the ninth month; and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.

23 And it came to paſs that when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with the pen-knife, and caſt it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was conſumed in the fire that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his ſervants that heard all theſe words.

25 Nevertheleſs, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had made interceſſion to the king, that he would not burn the roll, but he would not hear them.

26 But the king commanded Jerahmeel the ſon of Hammelech, and Seraiah the ſon of Azriel, and Shelemiah the ſon of Abdeel, to take Baruch the ſcribe, and Jeremiah the prophet: but the Lord hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah (after that the king had burnt the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) ſaying, 28 Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the firſt roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burnt.

29 And thou ſhalt ſay to Jehoiakim king of Judah, Thus ſaith the Lord, Thou haſt burnt this roll, ſaying, Why haſt thou written therein, ſaying, The king of Babylon ſhall certainly come and deſtroy this land, and ſhall cauſe to ceaſe from thence man and beaſt?

30 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of Jehoiakim king of Judah, He ſhall have none to ſit upon the throne of David, and his dead body ſhall be caſt out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the froſt.

31 And I will puniſh him, and his ſeed, and his ſervants, for their iniquity, and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced againſt them, but they hearkened not.

32 ¶ Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the ſcribe the ſon of Neriah, who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book, which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burnt in the fire, and there were added beſides unto them many like words.

CHAP. XXXVII

AND king Zedekiah, the ſon of Joſiah, reigned inſtead of Coniah, the ſon of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah.

2 But neither he, nor his ſervants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the Lord, which he ſpake by the prophet Jeremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king ſent Jehucal the ſon of Shelamiah, and Zephaniah the ſon of Maaſeiah the prieſt to the prophet Jeremiah, ſaying, Pray now unto the Lord our God for us.

4 Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people: for they had not put him into priſon.

5 Then Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that beſieged Jeruſalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Jeruſalem.

6 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto the prophet Jeremiah, ſaying,

7 Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſrael, Thus ſhall ye ſay to the king of Judah, that ſent you unto me to enquire of me, Behold, Pharaoh's army which is come forth to help you, ſhall return to Egypt into their own land.

8 And the Chaldeans ſhall come again, and fight againſt this city, and take it, and burn it with fire.

9 Thus ſaith the Lord, Deceive not yourſelves, ſaying, The Chaldeans ſhall ſurely depart from us: for they ſhall not depart;

10 For though ye had ſmitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight againſt you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet ſhould they riſe up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

11 ¶ And it came to paſs that when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jeruſalem for fear of Pharaoh's army, 12 Then Jeremiah went forth out of Jeruſalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to ſeparate himſelf thence in the midſt of the people.

13 And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whoſe name was Irijah, the ſon of Shelemiah, the ſon of Hananiah, and he took Jeremiah the prophet, ſaying, Thou falleſt away to the Chaldeans.

14 Then ſaid Jeremiah, It is falſe, I fall not away to the Chaldeans: but he hearkened not to him: ſo Irijah took Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes.

15 Where-

CHAP. XXXVI.] 2 Take thee a roll of a book, &c.] The ancient manner of writing was upon long ſlips of parchment, which they afterwards rolled upon ſticks.

9 In the fifth year of Jehoiakim--in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a faſt, &c.] It was cuſtomary among the Jews to proclaim anniverſary faſts upon certain days, in memory of ſome great calamity which had befallen them at that time. Of this kind were the faſts of the fourth, fifth, ſeventh, and tenth months, mentioned by the prophet Zechariah.

CHAP. XXXVII.] 5 Then Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt, &c.] Zedekiah, contrary to the oath he had taken to Nebuchadnezzar, made an alliance with the king of Egypt, and contracted with him for aſſiſtance againſt the king of Babylon. Accordingly the king of Egypt ſent an army to his relief, which obliged the Chaldeans to raiſe the ſiege of Jeruſalem, in order to fight this Egyptian army.

15 Wherefore the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and ſmote him, and put him in priſon in the houſe of Jonathan the ſcribe; for they had made that the priſon.

16 ¶ When Jeremiah was entered into the dungeon, and into the cabins, and Jeremiah had remained there many days:

17 Then Zedekiah the king ſent, and took him out; and the king aſked him ſecretly in his houſe, and ſaid, Is there any word from the Lord? And Jeremiah ſaid, There is: for, ſaid he, thou ſhalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.

18 Moreover, Jeremiah ſaid unto king Zedekiah, What have I offended againſt thee, or againſt thy ſervants, or againſt this people, that ye have put me in priſon?

19 Where are now your prophets which prophecied unto you, ſaying, The king of Babylon ſhall not come againſt you, nor againſt this land?

20 Therefore, hear now, I pray thee, O my Lord the king, let my ſupplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cauſe me not to return to the houſe of Jonathan the ſcribe, leſt I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they ſhould commit Jeremiah into the court of the priſon, and that they ſhould give him daily a piece of bread out of the baker's ſtreet, until all the bread in the city were ſpent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the priſon.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

THEN Shephatiah the ſon of Mattan, and Gedaliah the ſon of Paſhur, and Jucal the ſon of Shelemiah, and Paſhur the ſon of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had ſpoken unto all the people, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, He that remaineth in this city, ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans, ſhall live; for he ſhall have his life for a prey, and ſhall live.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord, This city ſhall ſurely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which ſhall take it.

4 Therefore the princes ſaid unto the king, We beſeech thee, let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in ſpeaking ſuch words unto them: for this man ſeeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king ſaid, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing againſt you.

6 Then took they Jeremiah, and caſt him into the dungeon of Malchiah the ſon of Hammelech, that was in the court of the priſon: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire, ſo Jeremiah ſunk in the mire.

7 ¶ Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs which was in the king's houſe, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon (the king then ſitting in the gate of Benjamin)

8 Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's houſe, and ſpake to the king, ſaying,

9 My lord the king, theſe men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have caſt into the dungeon, and he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is, for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, ſaying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the houſe of the king under the treaſury, and took thence old caſt clouts, and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian ſaid unto Jeremiah, Put now theſe old caſt clouts and rotten rags under thine arm-holes, under the cords. And Jeremiah did ſo.

13 So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon, and Jeremiah remained in the court of the priſon.

14 Then Zedekiah the king ſent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the houſe of the Lord: and the king ſaid unto Jeremiah, I will aſk thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah ſaid unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not ſurely put me to death? and if I give thee counſel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

16 So Zedekiah the king ſware ſecretly unto Jeremiah, ſaying, As the Lord liveth, that made us this ſoul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of theſe men that ſeek thy life.

17 Then ſaid Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, If thou wilt aſſuredly go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then thy ſoul ſhall live, and this city ſhall not be burnt with fire, and thou ſhalt live, and thine houſe.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then ſhall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they ſhall burn it with fire, and thou ſhalt not eſcape out of their hand.

19 And Zedekiah the king ſaid unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Chaldeans, leſt they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me.

20 But Jeremiah ſaid, They ſhall not deliver thee: obey, I beſeech thee, the voice of the Lord, which I ſpeak unto thee: ſo it ſhall be well unto thee, and thy ſoul ſhall live.

21 But if thou refuſe to go forth, this is the word that the Lord hath ſhewed me:

22 And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's houſe, ſhall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and thoſe women ſhall ſay, Thy friends have ſet thee on, and have prevailed againſt thee: thy feet are ſunk in the mire, and they are turned away back.

23 So they ſhall bring out all thy wives, and thy children to the Chaldeans, and thou ſhalt not eſcape out of their hand, but ſhalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and thou ſhalt cauſe this city to be burnt with fire.

24 ¶ Then ſaid Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of theſe words, and thou ſhalt not die.

25 But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and ſay unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou haſt ſaid unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; alſo what the king ſaid unto thee:

26 Then thou ſhalt ſay unto them, I preſented my ſupplication before the king, that he would not cauſe me to return to Jonathan's houſe to die there.

27 Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and aſked him, and he told them according to all theſe words that the king had commanded: ſo they left off ſpeaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode in the court of the priſon, until the day that Jeruſalem was taken and he was there when Jeruſalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

IN the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and all his army againſt Jeruſalem, and they beſieged it.

2 And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was broken up.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and ſat in the middle gate, even Nergal-ſharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarſechim, Rab-ſaris, Nergal-ſharezer, Rab-mag, with all the reſidue of the princes of the king of Babylon.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs, that when Zedekiah the king of Judah ſaw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls, and he went out the way of the plain.

5 But the Chaldeans army purſued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment upon him.

6 Then the king of Babylon ſlew the ſons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: alſo the king of Babylon ſlew all the nobles of Judah.

7 Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with chains to carry him to Babylon.

8 ¶ And the Chaldeans burnt the king's houſe, and the houſes of the people with fire, and brake down the walls of Jeruſalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and thoſe that fell away, that fell to him, with the reſt of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the ſame time.

11 ¶ Now

CHAP. XXXVIII.] 15 Then Jeremiah ſaid unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not ſurely put me to death? &c.] The prophet had ſo often experienced the unſteadineſs of the king's temper, his backwardneſs in following good counſel, and his want of courage to ſupport thoſe who dared to give him proper advice, that he might very reaſonably determine not to venture his life to ſerve a man, who was, in ſome meaſure, incapable of being directed. And although God had ſhewed the prophet what would be the effect of his advice, if it were followed, yet it doth not appear that he had commanded him to make this known to Zedekiah.

7 He put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with chains to carry him to Babylon.] It is added, chap. lii. 11. that he put him in priſon till the day of his death. And thus two prophecies, which ſeemed at firſt to contradict each other, were fulfilled. The firſt was that of Jeremiah, namely, that Zedekiah's eyes ſhould behold the king of Babylon, xxxii. 4. And the ſecond, that of the prophet Ezekiel, who foretold that he ſhould not ſee Babylon, though he ſhould die there, Ezekiel xii. 14.

CHAP.

11 ¶ Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard, saying,
12 Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm, but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.
13 So Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushasban, Rab-saris, and Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babylon's princes:
14 Even they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.
15 ¶ Now the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,
16 Go and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.
17 But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid.
18 For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, after that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him, being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon.
2 And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this evil upon this place.
3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye have sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.
4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand: if it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee: but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.
5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he said, Go back also to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or go whersoever it seemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a reward, and let him go.
6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.
7 ¶ Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men and women, and children, and of the poor of the land of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon.
8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of a Maachathite, they and their men.
9 And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, sware unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.
10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah to serve the Chaldeans, which will come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine and summer-fruits, and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.
11 Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan;
12 Even all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer-fruits, very much.
13 ¶ Moreover, Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah.
14 And said unto him, Dost thou certainly know that Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not.
15 Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah, secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he slay thee, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish?
16 But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing, for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

CHAP. XLI.

NOW it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah the son of Elishama of the seed royal, and the princes of the king, even ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.
2 Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land.
3 Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, and the men of war.
4 And it came to pass the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it,
5 That there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the Lord.
6 And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to pass as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam.
7 And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him.
8 But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbare, and slew them not among their brethren.
9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast all the dead bodies of the men (whom he had slain because of Gedaliah) was it, which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel; and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain.
10 Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people, that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.
11 ¶ But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done,
12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.
13 Now it came to pass, that when all the people which were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.
14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah, cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah.
15 But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.
16 Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah (after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam) even mighty men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs whom he had brought again from Gibeon.
17 And they departed and dwelt in the habitation of Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt,
18 Because of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor in the land.

CHAP. XLII

THEN all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near,
2 And said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let, we beseech thee, our our ſupplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the Lord thy God, even for all this remnant (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us)

3 That the Lord thy God may ſhew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may do.

4 Then Jeremiah the prophet ſaid unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the Lord your God according to your words, and it ſhall come to paſs, that whatſoever thing the Lord ſhall anſwer you, I will declare it unto you: I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they ſaid to Jeremiah, The Lord be a true and faithful witneſs between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the Lord thy God ſhall ſend thee to us.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord our God, to whom we ſend thee; that it may be well with us when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ And it came to paſs after ten days, that the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people, from the leaſt even to the greateſt,

9 And ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſrael, unto whom ye ſent me to preſent your ſupplication before him,

10 If ye will ſtill abide in this land, then I will build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

11 Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, ſaith the Lord: for I am with you to ſave you, and to deliver you from his hand.

12 And I will ſhew mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cauſe you to return to your own land.

13 ¶ But if ye ſay, We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the Lord our God,

14 Saying, No, but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we ſhall ſee no war, nor hear the ſound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread, and there will we dwell:

15 (And now therefore hear the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Judah, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, If ye wholly ſet your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to ſojourn there)

16 Then it ſhall come to paſs, that the ſword which ye feared, ſhall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine whereof ye were afraid, ſhall follow cloſe after you there in Egypt, and there ye ſhall die.

17 So ſhall it be with all the men that ſet their faces to go into Egypt to ſojourn there, they ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence: and none of them ſhall remain or eſcape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

18 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jeruſalem; ſo ſhall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye ſhall enter into Egypt: and ye ſhall be an execration, and an aſtoniſhment, and a curſe, and a reproach, and ye ſhall ſee this place no more.

19 ¶ The Lord hath ſaid concerning you, O ye remnant of Judah, Go ye not into Egypt: know certainly that I have admoniſhed you this day.

20 For ye diſſembled in your hearts, when ye ſent me unto the Lord your God, ſaying, Pray for us unto the Lord our God, and according unto all that the Lord our God ſhall ſay, ſo declare unto us, and we will do it.

21 And now I have this day declared it to you, but ye have not obeyed the voice of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which he hath ſent me unto you.

22 Now therefore know certainly, that ye ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, in the place whither ye deſire to go, and to ſojourn.

CHAP. XLIII.

AND it came to paſs, that when Jeremiah had made an end of ſpeaking unto all the people, all the words of the Lord their God, for the which the Lord their God had ſent him to them, even all theſe words,

2 Then ſpake Azariah the ſon of Hoſhaiah, and Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the proud men, ſaying unto Jeremiah, Thou ſpeakeſt falſely: the Lord our God hath not ſent thee to ſay, Go not into Egypt to ſojourn there.

3 But Baruch the ſon of Neriah ſetteth thee on againſt us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Babylon.

4 So Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Judah.

5 But Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all nations whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Judah;

6 Even men and women, and children, and the king's daughters, and every perſon that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the ſon of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the Lord; thus came they even to Tahpanhes.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, ſaying,

9 Take great ſtones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brick-kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's houſe in Tahpanhes, in the ſight of the men of Judah:

10 And ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will ſend and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon my ſervant, and will ſet his throne upon theſe ſtones that I have hid, and he ſhall ſpread his royal pavilion over them.

11 And when he cometh, he ſhall ſmite the land of Egypt, and deliver ſuch as are for death, to death; and ſuch as are for captivity, to captivity; and ſuch as are for the ſword, to the ſword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houſes of the gods of Egypt, and he ſhall burn them, and carry them away captives, and he ſhall array himſelf with the land of Egypt, as a ſhepherd putteth on his garment, and he ſhall go forth from thence in peace.

13 He ſhall break alſo the images of Beth ſhemeſh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houſes of the gods of the Egyptians ſhall be burn with fire.

CHAP. XLIV.

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews which dwell in the land of Egypt, which dwell at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Ye have ſeen all the evil that I have brought upon Jeruſalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and behold, this day they are a deſolation, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Becauſe of their wickedneſs which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incenſe, and to ſerve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, you, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit, I ſent unto you all my ſervants the prophets, riſing early and ſending them, ſaying, Oh do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedneſs, to burn no incenſe unto other gods.

6 Wherefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, and they are waſted and deſolate, as at this day.

7 Therefore now thus ſaith the Lord, the God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Wherefore commit ye this great evil againſt your ſouls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and ſuckling out of Judah, to leave you none to remain;

8 In that ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incenſe unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to dwell, that ye might cut yourſelves off, and that ye might be a curſe, and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?

9 Have ye forgotten the wickedneſs of your fathers, and the wickedneſs of the kings of Judah, and the wickedneſs of their wives, and your own wickedneſs, and the wickedneſs of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem?

10 They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my ſtatutes that I ſet before you, and before your fathers.

11 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will ſet my face againſt you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.

12 And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have ſet their faces to go into the land of Egypt to ſojourn there, and they ſhall all be conſumed, and fall in the land of Egypt: they ſhall even be conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine: they ſhall die, from the leaſt even unto the greateſt, by the ſword, and by the CHAP. XLII.] 10 For I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.] God is ſaid in ſcripture to repent, when he alters the common method of his providence. The expreſſion therefore implies a declaration from God, that the puniſhment the Jews had already undergone, had made ſatisfaction to his juſtice, as far as concerns this world; and that he would not continue the ſame ſeverity towards them, unleſs they gave him freſh provocation.

12. And I will ſhew mercies unto you, &c.] I will incline the heart of the king of Babylon to take pity on you, and will again ſettle you in your own country, from whence ye were driven by the late wars and diſtractions.

CHAP. XLIII.] 2 All the proud men, &c.] That is, all thoſe who refuſed to obey the commands of the Almighty, when they croſſed their own inclinations.

11 And deliver ſuch as are for death, to death, &c.] Death here ſignifies peſtilence, which the prophet foretels will overſpread the country of Egypt by reaſon of the famine, occaſioned by ſieges and other deſolations of war.

e famine: and they shall be an execration, and an astonishment, d a curse, and a reproach.

13 For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by e pestilence:

14 So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone to the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, at they should return into the land of Judah, to the which they ve a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return but ch as shall escape.

15 ¶ Then all the men which knew that their wives had burnt ncense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great ultitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying,

16 As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name the Lord, we will not hearken unto thee.

17 But we will certainly do whatsoever thing goeth forth out our own mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven, d to pour out drink-offerings unto her, as we have done, we d our fathers, our kings, and our princes, in the cities of Juh, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of victuals, and were well, and saw no evil.

18 But since we le t off to burn incense to the queen of hea-n, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, we have wanted l things, and have been consumed by the sword, and by the faine.

19 And when we burnt incense to the queen of heaven, and oured out drink-offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to orship her, and pour out drink-offerings unto her without our en?

20 ¶ Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men and the women, and to all the people which had given him that nswer, saying,

21 The incense that ye burnt in the cities of Judah, and in e streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and our princes, and the people of the land, did not the Lord remember them, and came it not into his mind?

22 So that the Lord could no longer bear, because of the evil your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have mmitted: therefore is your land a desolation, and an astonishent, and a curse, without an inhabitant, as at this day.

23 Because ye have burnt incense, and because ye have sinned ainst the Lord, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor alked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies: erefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.

24 Moreover, Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the omen, Hear the word of the Lord, all Judah that are in the land Egypt.

25 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Ye d your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled ith your hand, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we ve vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour t drink-offerings unto her: ye will surely accomplish your vows, d surely perform your vows.

26 Therefore hear ye the word of the Lord, all Judah that well in the land of Egypt; Behold, I have sworn by my great me, saith the Lord, that my name shall no more be named in e mouth of any man of Judah, in all the land of Egypt, saying, e Lord God liveth.

27 Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good, d all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be nsumed by the sword, and by the famine, until there be an end them.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall return out the land of Egypt into the land of Judah; and all the remnant Judah that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, all know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 ¶ And this shall be a sign unto you, saith the Lord, that I ill punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words all surely stand against you for evil.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give Pharaoh-hophra ng of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of m that seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the nd of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon his enemy, and that ught his life.

CHAP. XLV.

THE word that Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, unto thee, O Baruch;

3 Thou didst say, Woe is me now, for the Lord hath added grief to my sorrow; I fainted in my sighing, and I find no rest.

4 ¶ Thus shalt thou say unto him, The Lord saith thus, Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted, I will pluck up, even this whole land.

5 And seekest thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

CHAP. XLVI.

THE word of the Lord which came to Jeremiah the prophet against the Gentiles;

2 Against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh-necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoikim the son of Josiah king of Judah.

3 Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle.

4 Harness the horses, and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets, furbish the spears, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore have I seen them dismayed, and turned away back? and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: for fear was round about, saith the Lord.

6 Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; they shall stumble, and fall toward the north by the river Euphrates.

7 Who is this that cometh up as a flood, whose waters are moved as the rivers?

8 Egypt riseth up like a flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers, and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth, I will destroy the city, and the inhabitants thereof.

9 Come up, ye horses, and rage, ye chariots, and let the mighty men come forth, the Ethiopians, and the Lybians, that handle the shield, and the Lydians, that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is the day of the Lord God of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate, and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord God of hosts hath a sacrifice in the north-country by the river Euphrates.

11 Go up into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin, daughter of Egypt: in vain shalt thou use many medicines: for thou shalt not be cured.

12 The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the Lord spake to Jeremiah the prophet, how Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph, and in Tahpanhes; say ye, stand fast, and prepare thee; for the sword shall devour round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men swept away? they stood not, because the Lord did drive them.

16 He made many to fall, yea, one fell upon another, and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword.

17 They did cry there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise, he hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I live, saith the king, whose name is the Lord of hosts, Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel by the sea, so shall he come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, furnish thyself to go into captivity: for Noph shall be waste and desolate without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a very fair heifer, but destruction cometh: it cometh out of the north.

21 Also her hired men are in the midst of her, like fatted bullocks, for they also are turned back, and are fled away together; they did not stand, because the day of their calamity was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go like a serpent, for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down her forest, saith the Lord, though it cannot be searched, because they are more than the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded, she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The

CHAP. XLIV.] 14 For none shall return but such as shall escape.] None shall return but the remnant mentioned, verse 28, to whom I will grant that peculiar favour of being saved, or escaping from the common destruction.

19 And when we burnt incense to the queen of heaven, &c.] These are the words of the women, who were the most zealous promoters of this idolatry. By the queen of heaven is meant the moon.

CHAP. XLV.] 3 The Lord hath added grief to my sorrow, &c.] The sorrow which I felt for thy threatenings denounced against my country and religion, are increased by my own troubles, being sought after by the king's command in order to be put to death.

CHAP. XLVI.] 11 Go up into Gilead, and take balm.] Gilead was famous for producing the celebrated balsam called balm of Gilead; and, in allusion to the practice of going thither for relief in dangerous cases, the prophet ironically advises the Egyptians to try all methods in their power to prevent the destruction with which they were threatened: but all their endeavours would be vain.

O virgin, daughter of Egypt, &c.] Those countries or cities are called virgins which were never conquered.

22 The voice thereof shall go like a serpent, &c.] They shall not shout like conquerors, but make a feeble noise like the hissing of a serpent when it is pursued.

25 The Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael ſaith, Behold, I will puniſh the multitude of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods, and their kings, even Pharaoh, and all them that truſt in him.

26 And I will deliver them into the hand of thoſe that ſeek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his ſervants: and afterwards it ſhall be inhabited, as in the days of old, ſaith the Lord.

27 ¶ But fear not thou, O my ſervant Jacob, and be not diſmayed, O Iſrael; for behold, I will ſave thee from afar off, and thy ſeed from the land of their captivity, and Jacob ſhall return, and be in reſt and at eaſe, and none ſhall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jacob, my ſervant, ſaith the Lord, for I am with thee, for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in meaſure, yet will I not leave thee wholly unpuniſhed.

CHAP. XLVII.

THE word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the prophet againſt the Philiſtines, before that Pharaoh ſmote Gaza.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, waters riſe up out of the north, and ſhall be an overflowing flood, and ſhall overflow the land, and all that is therein, the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men ſhall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land ſhall howl.

3 At the noiſe of the ſtamping of the hoofs of his ſtrong horſes, at the ruſhing of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers ſhall not look back to their children for feebleneſs of hands:

4 Becauſe of the day that cometh to ſpoil all the Philiſtines, and to cut off from Tyrus and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the Lord will ſpoil the Philiſtines, the remnant of the country of Caphtor.

5 Baldneſs is come upon Gaza, Aſhkelon is cut off with the remnant of their valley: how long wilt thou cut thyſelf?

6 O thou ſword of the Lord, how long will it be ere thou be quiet: put up thyſelf into thy ſcabbard, reſt, and be ſtill.

7 How can it be quiet, ſeeing the Lord hath given it a charge againſt Aſhkelon, and againſt the ſea-ſhore? there hath he appointed it.

CHAP. XLVIII.

AGAINST Moab thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Woe unto Nebo, for it is ſpoiled: Kiriathaim is confounded and taken, Miſgab is confounded and diſmayed

2 There ſhall be no more praiſe of Moab: in Heſhbon they have deviſed evil againſt it; come, and let us cut it off from being a nation: alſo thou ſhalt be cut down, O madmen; the ſword ſhall purſue thee.

3 A voice of crying ſhall be from Horonaim, ſpoiling and great deſtruction.

4 Moab is deſtroyed, her little ones have cauſed a cry to be heard.

5 For in the going up of Luhith continual weeping ſhall go up; for in the going down of Horonaim the enemies have heard a cry of deſtruction.

6 Flee, ſave your lives, and be like the heath in the wilderneſs.

7 ¶ For becauſe thou haſt truſted in thy works and in thy treaſures, thou ſhalt alſo be taken, and Chemoſh ſhall go forth into captivity with his prieſts and his princes together.

8 And the ſpoiler ſhall come upon every city, and no city ſhall eſcape: the valley alſo ſhall periſh, and the plain ſhall be deſtroyed, as the Lord hath ſpoken.

9 Give wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof ſhall be deſolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Curſed be he that doeth the work of the Lord deceitfully, and curſed be he that keepeth back his ſword from blood.

11 ¶ Moab hath been at eaſe from his youth, and he hath ſettled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from veſſel to veſſel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taſte remained in him, and his ſcent is not changed.

12 Therefore behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that I will ſend unto him wanderers that ſhall cauſe him to wander, and ſhall empty his veſſels, and break their bottles.

13 And Moab ſhall be aſhamed of Chemoſh, as the houſe of Iſrael was aſhamed of Beth-el their confidence.

14 ¶ How ſay ye, We are mighty and ſtrong men for the war?

15 Moab is ſpoiled, and gone up out of her cities, and his choſen young men are gone down to the ſlaughter, ſaith the king, whoſe name is the Lord of hoſts.

16 The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction haſteth faſt.

17 All ye that are about him bemoan him, and all ye that know his name, ſay, How is the ſtrong ſtaff broken, and the beautiful rod!

18 Thou daughter that doſt inhabit Dibon, come down from thy glory, and ſit in thirſt; for the ſpoiler of Moab ſhall come on thee, and he ſhall deſtroy thy ſtrong holds.

19 O inhabitant of Aroer, ſtand by the way, and eſpy, aſk h that fleeth, and her that eſcapeth, and ſay, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded, for it is broken down: howl, and c tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is ſpoiled,

21 And judgment is come upon the plain country; upon H lon, and upon Jahazah, and upon Mephaath, 22 And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-dib thaim.

23 And upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and up Beth-meon,

24 And upon Kirioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the ties of the land of Moab, far or near.

25 The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, ſa the Lord.

26 ¶ Make ye him drunken: for he magnified himſelf agai the Lord: Moab alſo ſhall wallow in his vomit, and he ſhall a be in deriſion.

27 For was not Iſrael a deriſion unto thee? was he found mong thieves? for ſince thou ſpakeſt of him, thou ſkippedſt joy.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in rock, and be like the dove that maketh her neſt in the ſides of hole's mouth.

29 We have heard the pride of Moab (he is exceeding pro his loftineſs and his arrogancy, and his pride, and the haughti of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, ſaith the Lord, but it ſhall not be ſo, lies ſhall not ſo effect it.

31 Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for Moab, mine heart ſhall mourn for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee, with the weepin Jazer; thy plants are gone over the ſea, they reach even to the of Jazer, the ſpoiler is fallen upon thy ſummer-fruits, and u thy vintage.

33 And joy and gladneſs is taken from the plentiful field, from the land of Moab, and I have cauſed wine to fail from wine-preſſes, none ſhall treat with ſhouting, their ſhouting ſha no ſhouting.

34 From the cry of Heſhbon even unto Elealeh, and even u Jahaz have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even unto Ho naim, as an heifer of three years old; for the waters alſo of N rim ſhall be deſolate.

35 Moreover, I will cauſe to ceaſe in Moab, ſaith the L him that offereth in the high-places, and him that burneth inc to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart ſhall ſound for Moab like pipes, mine heart ſhall ſound like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: bec the riches that he hath gotten are periſhed.

37 For every head ſhall be bald, and every beard clipt: upo the hands ſhall be cuttings, and upon the loins ſackcloth.

38 There ſhall be lamentation generally upon all the houſe- of Moab, and in the ſtreets thereof: for I have broken Moab a veſſel, wherein is no pleaſure, ſaith the Lord.

39 They ſhall howl, ſaying, How is it broken down! how h Moab turned the back with ſhame! ſo ſhall Moab be a deriſ and a diſmaying to all them about him.

40 For thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, he ſhall fly as an eagle, ſhall ſpread his wings over Moab.

41 Kirioth is taken, and the ſtrong holds are ſurprized, and mighty men's hearts in Moab at that day ſhall be as the heart woman in her pangs.

42 And Moab ſhall be deſtroyed from being a people, bec he hath magnified himſelf againſt the Lord.

43 Fear, and the pit, and the ſnare ſhall be upon thee, O i bitant of Moab, ſaith the Lord.

44 He that fleeth from the fear, ſhall fall into the pit, an that getteth up out of the pit, ſhall be taken in the ſnare: f will bring upon it, even upon Moab, the year of their viſitat ſaith the Lord.

45 They that fled, ſtood under the ſhadow of Heſhbon, bec of the force: but a fire ſhall come forth out of Heſhbon, and a fl from the midſt of Sihon, and ſhall devour the corner of Moab, the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones.

46 Woe be unto thee, O Moab, the people of Chemoſh pe eth: for thy ſons are taken captives, and thy daughters captive

47 ¶ Yet will I bring again the captivity of Moab in the l days, ſaith the Lord. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

CHAP. XLVII.] 6 O thou ſword of the Lord, &c.] When God devotes a nation to deſtruction, he is ſaid to give commiſſion to a ſword to paſs through the land. How long will it be ere thou be quiet? &c.] The prophet here either repeats the words of the Philiſtines when they ſaw themſelves devoted to deſtruction, or ſympathizes with their calamities.

CHAP. XLIX.

CONcerning the Ammonites, thus ſaith the Lord, Hath Iſrael no ſons? hath he no heir? why then doth their king inherit Gad, and his people dwell in his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that I will cauſe an alarm of war to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it ſhall be a deſolate heap, and her daughters ſhall be burnt with fire: then ſhall Iſrael be heir unto them that were his heirs, ſaith the Lord.

3 Howl, O Heſhbon, for Ai is ſpoiled: cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird ye with ſackcloth: lament and run to and fro by the hedges, for their king ſhall go into captivity, and his prieſts and his princes together.

4 Wherefore gloriеſt thou in the vallies, thy flowing valley, O back-ſliding daughter? that truſted in her treaſures, ſaying, Who ſhall come unto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, ſaith the Lord God of hoſts, from all thoſe that be about thee, and ye ſhall be driven out every man right forth, and none ſhall gather up him that wandereth.

6 And afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, ſaith the Lord.

7 ¶ Concerning Edom, thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, Is wiſdom no more in Teman? is counſel periſhed from the prudent? is their wiſdom vaniſhed?

8 Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan, for I will bring the calamity of Eſau upon him, the time that I will viſit him.

9 If grape-gatherers come to thee, would they not leave ſome gleaning-grapes? if thieves by night, they will deſtroy till they have enough.

10 But I have made Eſau bare, I have uncovered his ſecret places, and he ſhall not be able to hide himſelf: his ſeed is ſpoiled, and his brethren and his neighbours, and he is not.

11 Leave thy fatherleſs children, I will preſerve them alive, and let thy widows truſt in me.

12 For thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, they whoſe judgment was not to drink of the cup, have aſſuredly drunken, and art thou he that ſhalt altogether go unpuniſhed? thou ſhalt not go unpuniſhed, but thou ſhalt ſurely drink of it.

13 For I have ſworn by myſelf, ſaith the Lord, that Bozrah ſhall become a deſolation, a reproach, a waſte, and a curſe, and all the cities thereof ſhall be perpetual waſtes.

14 I have heard a rumour from the Lord, and an ambaſſador is ſent unto the heathen, ſaying, Gather ye together, and come againſt her, and riſe up to the battle.

15 For lo, I will make thee ſmall among the heathen, and deſpiſed among men.

16 Thy terribleneſs hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwelleſt in the clifts of the rock, that holdeſt the height of the hill: though thou ſhouldeſt make thy neſt as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, ſaith the Lord.

17 Alſo Edom ſhall be a deſolation: every one that goeth by it, ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and ſhall hiſs at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, and the neighbour cities thereof, ſaith the Lord: no man ſhall abide there, neither ſhall a ſon of man dwell in it.

19 Behold, he ſhall come up like a lion, from the ſwelling of Jordan againſt the habitation of the ſtrong: but I will ſuddenly make him run away from her, and who is a choſen man, that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is that ſhepherd that will ſtand before me?

20 Therefore hear the counſel of the Lord, that he hath taken againſt Edom, and his purpoſes that he hath purpoſed againſt the inhabitants of Teman: ſurely the leaſt of the flock ſhall draw them out; ſurely he ſhall make their habitations deſolate with them.

21 The earth is moved at the noiſe of their fall: at the cry, the noiſe thereof was heard in the Red-ſea.

22 Behold, he ſhall come up and fly as the eagle, and ſpread his wings over Bozrah: and at that day ſhall the heart of the mighty men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

23 ¶ Concerning Damaſcus. Hamath is confounded, and Arpad: for they have heard evil-tidings, they are faint-hearted, there is ſorrow on the ſea, it cannot be quiet.

24 Damaſcus is waxed feeble, and turneth herſelf to flee, and fear hath ſeized on her: anguiſh and ſorrows have taken her as a woman in travail.

25 How is the city of praiſe not left, the city of my joy!

26 Therefore her young men ſhall fall in her ſtreets, and all the men of war ſhall be cut off in that day, ſaith the Lord of hoſts.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damaſcus, and it ſhall conſume the palaces of Benhadad.

28 ¶ Concerning Kedar, and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon ſhall ſmite, thus ſaith the Lord, Ariſe ye, go up to Kedar, and ſpoil the men of the eaſt.

29 Their tents and their flocks ſhall they take away, they ſhall take to themſelves their curtains, and all their veſſels, and their camels, and they ſhall cry unto them, Fear is on every ſide.

30 ¶ Flee, get you far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, ſaith the Lord; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counſel againſt you, and hath conceived a purpoſe againſt you.

31 Ariſe, get you up into the wealthy nation that dwelleth without care, ſaith the Lord, which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone.

32 And their camels ſhall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a ſpoil, and I will ſcatter into all winds them that are in the outmoſt corners, and I will bring their calamity from all ſides thereof, ſaith the Lord.

33 And Hazor ſhall be a dwelling for dragons, and a deſolation for ever; there ſhall no man abide there, nor any ſon of man dwell in it.

34 ¶ The word of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the prophet againſt Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, ſaying, 35 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might.

36 And upon Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will ſcatter them towards all thoſe winds, and there ſhall be no nation whither the out-caſts of Elam ſhall not come.

37 For I will cauſe Elam to be diſmayed before their enemies, and before them that ſeek their life: and I will bring evil unto them, even my fierce anger, ſaith the Lord, and I will ſend the ſword after them, till I have conſumed them.

38 And I well ſet my throne in Elam, and will deſtroy from thence the king and the princes, ſaith the Lord.

39 ¶ But it ſhall come to paſs in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Elam, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. L.

THE word that the Lord ſpake againſt Babylon, and againſt the land of the Chaldeans by Jeremiah the prophet.

2 Declare ye among the nations, and publiſh, and ſet up a ſtandard, publiſh, and conceal not: ſay, Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken in pieces, her idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces.

3 For out of the north there cometh up a nation againſt her, which will make her land deſolate, and none ſhall dwell therein: they ſhall remove, they ſhall depart both man and beaſt.

4 ¶ In thoſe days, and in that time, ſaith the Lord, the children of Iſrael ſhall come, they and the children of Judah together, going and weeping: they ſhall go, and ſeek the Lord their God.

5 They ſhall aſk the way to Zion with their faces thitherward, ſaying, Come, and let us join ourſelves to the Lord, in a perpetual covenant that ſhall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath been loſt ſheep: their ſhepherds have cauſed them to go aſtray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their reſting-place.

7 All that found them have devoured them, and their adverſaries ſaid, We offend not, becauſe they have ſinned againſt the Lord, the habitation of juſtice, even the Lord, the hope of their fathers.

8 Remove out of the midſt of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as he-goats before the flocks.

9 ¶ For lo, I will raiſe and cauſe to come up againſt Babylon, an aſſembly of great nations from the north-country, and they ſhall ſet themſelves in array againſt her, from thence ſhe ſhall be taken: their arrows ſhall be as of a mighty expert man: none ſhall return in vain.

10 And Chaldea ſhall be a ſpoil: all that ſpoil her ſhall be ſatisfied, ſaith the Lord.

11 Becauſe ye were glad, becauſe ye rejoiced, O ye deſtroyers of mine heritage, becauſe ye are grown fat, as the heifer at graſs, and bellow as bulls:

12 Your

CHAP. XLIX.] 3 Howl, O Heſhbon, for Ai is ſpoiled, &c.] When Ai, a city of the Ammonites, is deſtroyed, it is time for Heſhbon, the chief city of Moab, to lament her danger.

16 O thou that dwelleſt in the clifts of the rocks. &c.] St. Jerom, who lived in the neighbourhood, tells us, that Idumea was a rocky mountainous country, and that the inhabitants dwelt in caves dug in the rocks and hills.

34 The word---that came to Jeremiah the prophet againſt Elam, &c.] The province of Elam, which, together with Suſiana, Nebuchadnezzar ſubdued and took from Aſtyages king of Media. The prophet Daniel, chap. viii. 1, 2, mentions his reſiding in Shuſhan the palace, in the province of Elam.

CHAP. L.] 2 Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken in pieces, &c.] When the Almighty puniſhes an idolatrous nation, he aſſerts his own authority to the confuſion of all idols and their worſhippers. Bel is the ſame with Baal, a name common to the idols of the Eaſt, and, at firſt, properly that of ſome of the heavenly bodies, perhaps the ſun. Merodach ſeems to have been the name of one of their kings, who was afterwards deified by his ſubjects.

12 Your mother shall be sore confounded, she that bare you shall be ashamed: behold, the hindermost of the nations shall be a wilderness, a dry land and a desart.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord, it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.

14 Put yourselves in array against Babylon round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Shout against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, do unto her.

16 Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him that handled the sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword, they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.

17 ¶ Israel is a scattered sheep, the lions have driven him away: first, the king of Assyria hath devoured him and last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have punished the king of Assyria.

19 And I will bring Israel again to his habitation, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those days, and in that time, saith the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reserve.

21 ¶ Go up against the land of Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants of Pekod: waste and utterly destroy after them, saith the Lord, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.

22 A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! how is Babylon become a desolation among the nations!

24 I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for this is the work of the Lord God of hosts, in the land of the Chaldeans.

26 Come against her from the utmost border, open her storehouses: cast her up as heaps, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Slay all her bullocks: let them go down to the slaughter: woe unto them, for their day is come, the time of their visitation.

28 The voice of them that flee, and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, the vengeance of his temple.

29 Call together the archers against Babylon: all ye that bend the bow, camp against it round about; let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work; according to all that she hath done unto her: for she hath been proud against the Lord, against the holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Behold, I am against thee, O thou most proud, saith the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee.

32 And the most proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.

33 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together, and all that took them captives held them fast, they refused to let them go.

34 Their redeemer is strong, the Lord of hosts is his name, he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.

35 ¶ A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the Lord, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.

36 A sword is upon the liars, and they shall dote: a sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed.

37 A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed.

38 A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they are mad upon their idols.

39 Therefore the wild beasts of the desart, with the wild beasts of the islands, shall dwell there, and the owls shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever: neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

40 As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the Lord: so shall no man abide there, neither shall any son of man dwell therein.

41 Behold, a people shall come from the north, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bow and the lance: they are cruel, and will not shew mercy: their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, every one put in array like a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Babylon.

43 The king of Babylon hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: anguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail.

44 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan unto the habitation of the strong: but I will make them suddenly run away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint over her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?

45 Therefore hear ye the counsel of the Lord, that he hath taken against Babylon, and his purposes that he hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAP. LI.

THUS saith the Lord, Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them that dwell in the midst of them that rise up against me, a destroying wind;

2 And will send unto Babylon fanners, that shall fan her, and shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

3 Against him that bendeth, let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his brigandine; and spare ye not her young men, destroy ye utterly all her host.

4 Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

5 For Israel hath not been forsaken, nor Judah of his God, of the Lord of hosts; though their land was filled with sin against the holy One of Israel.

6 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquity: for this is the time of the Lord's vengeance: he will render unto her a recompense.

7 Babylon hath been a golden cup in the Lord's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine, therefore the nations are mad.

8 Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her, take balm for her pain, if so be she may healed.

9 We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrows: gather the shields: the Lord hath raised up the spirit of the kings of the Medes: for his device is against Babylon, to destroy it; because it is the vengeance of the Lord, the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set up the standard upon the walls of Babylon, make the watch strong, set up the watchmen, prepare the ambushes: for the Lord hath both devised, and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babylon.

13 O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, and the measure of thy covetousness.

14 The Lord of hosts hath sworn by himself, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillars; and they shall lift up a shout against thee.

15 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding.

16 When he uttereth his voice there is a multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of

---

18 I have punished the king of Assyria.] This probably relates to the destruction of Nineveh, the capital of the Assyrian empire, where the last king of the Assyrian race was slain, and the seat of the empire removed to Babylon.

23 How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! &c.] How is that oppressive empire that smote the whole earth with a continual stroke, destroyed and laid waste!

34 Their Redeemer is strong, the Lord of hosts is his name, &c.] God, who created all the children of men, and even called the universe from its chaos by the word of his power, will himself plead the cause of his injured truth and people.

CHAP. LI.] 7 Babylon hath been a golden cup in the Lord's hand, that made all the earth drunken, &c.] She hath recommended her idolatries to the whole world by several specious pretences, as well as by her authority and example: so that they have resembled poison decorated with a golden cup, which have induced men to drink without being aware of the danger; and all this by the permission of the Almighty, in order to accomplish some great end of his providence.

15 O thou that dwellest upon many waters, &c.] Upon the river Euphrates, which encompassed Babylon, and was thought to render the city impregnable. The expression many waters, signifies also the multitudes of people over whom this was the reigning city.

CHAP.

of the earth, he maketh lightenings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treaſures.

17 Every man is brutiſh by his knowledge, every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falſehood, and there is no breath in them.

18 They are vanity, the work of errors: in the time of their viſitation they ſhall periſh.

19 The portion of Jacob is not like them, for he is the former of all things, and Iſrael is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hoſts is his name.

20 Thou art my battle-ax and weapons of war: for with thee will I break in pieces the nations, and with thee will I deſtroy kingdoms:

21 And with thee will I break in pieces the horſe and his rider, and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and his rider:

22 With thee alſo will I break in pieces man and woman, and with thee will I break in pieces old and young, and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid:

23 I will alſo break in pieces with thee, the ſhepherd and his flock, and with thee will I break in pieces the huſbandman and his yoke of oxen, and with thee will I break in pieces captains and rulers.

24 And I will render unto Babylon, and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea, all their evil that they have done in Zion in your ſight, ſaith the Lord.

25 Behold, I am againſt thee, O deſtroying mountain, ſaith the Lord, which deſtroyeth all the earth, and I will ſtretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain.

26 And they ſhall not take of thee a ſtone for a corner, nor a ſtone for foundations, but thou ſhalt be deſolate for ever, ſaith the Lord.

27 Set ye up a ſtandard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations againſt her, call together againſt her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Aſhchenaz, appoint a captain againſt her, cauſe the horſes to come up as the rough caterpillars.

28 Prepare againſt her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the captains thereof, and all the rulers thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land ſhall tremble and ſorrow: for every purpoſe of the Lord ſhall be performed againſt Babylon, to make the land of Babylon a deſolation without an inhabitant.

30 The mighty men of Babylon have forborn to fight, they have remained in their holds, their might hath failed, they became as women: they have burnt her dwelling-places, her bars are broken.

31 One poſt ſhall run to meet another, and one meſſenger to meet another, to ſhew the king of Babylon that his city is taken at one end, 32 And that the paſſages are ſtopped, and the reeds they have burnt with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.

33 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, The daughter of Babylon is like a threſhing-floor, it is time to threſh her: yet a little while, and the time of her harveſt ſhall come.

34 Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, he hath cruſhed me, he hath made me an empty veſſel, he hath ſwallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his belly with my delicates, he hath caſt me out.

35 The violence done to me and to my fleſh, be upon Babylon, ſhall the inhabitant of Zion ſay; and my blood upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, ſhall Jeruſalem ſay.

36 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will plead thy cauſe, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dry up her ſea, and make her ſprings dry.

37 And Babylon ſhall become heaps, a dwelling-place for dragons, an aſtoniſhment and an hiſſing without an inhabitant.

38 They ſhall roar together like lions: they ſhall yell as lions whelps.

39 In their heat I will make their feaſts, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and ſleep a perpetual ſleep, and not wake, ſaith the Lord.

40 I will bring them down like lambs to the ſlaughter, like rams with he-goats.

41 How is Sheſhach taken! and how is the praiſe of the whole earth ſurpriſed! how is Babylon become an aſtoniſhment among the nations!

42 The ſea is come up upon Babylon: ſhe is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.

43 Her cities are a deſolation, a dry land, and a wilderneſs, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any ſon of man paſs thereby.

44 And I will puniſh Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath ſwallowed up, and the nations ſhall not flow together any more unto him, yea, the wall of Babylon ſhall fall.

45 My people, go ye out of the midſt of her, and deliver ye every man his ſoul from the fierce anger of the Lord.

46 And leſt your heart faint, and ye fear for the rumour that ſhall be heard in the land: a rumour ſhall both come one year, and after that in another year ſhall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler againſt ruler.

47 Therefore behold, the days come that I will do judgment upon the graven images of Babylon, and her whole land ſhall be confounded, and all her ſlain ſhall fall in the midſt of her.

48 Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, ſhall ſing for Babylon: for the ſpoilers ſhall come unto her from the north, ſaith the Lord.

49 As Babylon hath cauſed the ſlain of Iſrael to fall: ſo at Babylon ſhall fall the ſlain of all the earth.

50 Ye that have eſcaped the ſword, go away, ſtand not ſtill: remember the Lord afar off, and let Jeruſalem come into your mind.

51 We are confounded, becauſe we have heard reproach, ſhame hath covered our faces: for ſtrangers are come into the ſanctuaries of the Lord's houſe.

52 Wherefore behold, the days come, ſaith the Lord, that I will do judgment upon her graven images, and through all her land the wounded ſhall groan.

53 Though Babylon ſhall mount up to heaven, and though ſhe ſhould fortify the height of her ſtrength, yet from me ſhall ſpoilers come unto her, ſaith the Lord.

54 A ſound of a cry cometh from Babylon, and great deſtruction from the land of the Chaldeans.

55 Becauſe the Lord hath ſpoiled Babylon, and deſtroyed out of her the great voice, when her waves do roar like great waters, a noiſe of their voice is uttered.

56 Becauſe the ſpoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and their mighty men are taken, every one of their bows is broken, for the Lord God of recompenſes ſhall ſurely requite.

57 And I will make drunk her princes, and her wiſe men, her captains, and her rulers, and her mighty men: and they ſhall ſleep a perpetual ſleep, and not wake, ſaith the King, whoſe name is the Lord of hoſts.

58 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts, The broad walls of Babylon ſhall be utterly broken, and her high gates ſhall be burnt with fire, and the people ſhall labour in vain, and the folk in the fire, and they ſhall be weary.

59 ¶ The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the ſon of Neriah, the ſon of Maaſeiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah into Babylon, in the fourth year of his reign; and this Seraiah was a quiet prince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that ſhould come upon Babylon, even all theſe words that are written againſt Babylon.

61 And Jeremiah ſaid unto Seraiah, When thou comeſt to Babylon, and ſhalt ſee, and ſhalt read all theſe words.

62 Then ſhalt thou ſay, O Lord, thou haſt ſpoken againſt this place, to cut it off, that none ſhall remain in it, neither man nor beaſt, but that it ſhall be deſolate for ever.

63 And it ſhall be when thou haſt made an end of reading this book, that thou ſhalt bind a ſtone to it, and caſt it into the midſt of Euphrates:

64 And thou ſhalt ſay, Thus ſhall Babylon ſink, and ſhall not riſe from the evil that I will bring upon her: and they ſhall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

CHAP. LII.

ZEdekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jeruſalem; and his mother's name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

3 For through the anger of the Lord it came to paſs in Jeruſalem and Judah, till he had caſt them out from his preſence, that Zedekiah rebelled againſt the king of Babylon.

4 ¶ And it came to paſs in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he, and all his army againſt Jeruſalem, and pitched againſt it, and built forts againſt it round about.

5 So the city was beſieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.

---

31 One poſt ſhall run to meet another, &c.] Babylon was taken by ſurprize; for Cyrus, having turned the current of the Euphrates, entered the city by the channel of that river. In order to put this ſtratagem into execution, Cyrus embraced the opportunity of a public feſtival, when the whole night was uſually ſpent in revellings, and all manner of diſorders.

39 In their heat I will make their feaſts, and I will make them drunken, &c.] While they are feaſting themſelves, I will provide them another cup to drink, namely, that of my fury and indignation. This prophecy was literally fulfilled; for Babylon was taken in the night of a public feſtival.

63 Thou ſhalt bind a ſtone to it, and caſt it into the midſt of Euphrates.] The prophets often gave ſenſible repreſentations of the judgments they foretold. This was a ſignificant emblem of Babylon's ſinking irrecoverably under the judgments here denounced againſt her.

CHAP.

6 And in the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was ſore in the city, ſo that there was no bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden (now the Chaldeans were by the city round about) and they went by the way of the plain.

8 ¶ But the army of the Chaldeans purſued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains ot Jericho, and all his army was ſcattered from him.

9 Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; where he gave judgment upon him.

10 And the king of Babylon ſlew the ſons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he ſlew alſo all the princes of Judah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babylon bound him in chains, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in priſon till the day of his death.

12 ¶ Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month (which was the nineteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon) came Nebuzar-adan, captain of the guard, which ſerved the king of Babylon, into Jeruſalem, 13 And burnt the houſe of the Lord, and the king's houſe; and all the houſes of Jeruſalem, and all the houſes of the great men burnt he with fire.

14 And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jeruſalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the reſidue of the people that remained in the city, and thoſe that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the reſt of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, left certain of the poor of the land for vine-dreſſers, and for huſbandmen.

17 Alſo the pillars of braſs, that were in the houſe of the Lord, and the baſes, and the brazen ſea that was in the houſe of the Lord, the Chaldeans brake, and carried all the braſs of them to Babylon.

18 The caldrons alſo, and the ſhovels, and the ſnuffers, and the bowls, and the ſpoons, and all the veſſels of braſs wherewith they miniſtered, took they away.

19 And the baſons, and the fire pans, and the bowls, and the caldrons, and the candleſticks, and the ſpoons, and the cups; that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of ſilver in ſilver, took the captain of the guard away.

20 The two pillars, one ſea, and twelve brazen bulls that were under the baſes, which king Solomon had made in the houſe of the Lord: the braſs of all theſe veſſels was without weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, and a fillet of twelve cubits did compaſs it, and the thickneſs thereof was four fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapiter of braſs was upon it, and the height of one chapiter was five cubits, with net-work, and pomegranates upon the chapiters round about, all of braſs; the ſecond pillar alſo and the pomegranates were like unto theſe.

23 And there were ninety and ſix pomegranates on a ſide, and all the pomegranates upon the net-work, were an hundred round about.

24 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief prieſt, and Zephaniah the ſecond prieſt, and the three keepers of the door.

25 He took alſo out of the city an eunuch, which had the charge of the men of war, and ſeven men of them that were near the king's perſon, which were found in the city, and the principal ſcribe of the hoſt, who muſtered the people of the land, and threeſcore men of the people of the land that were found in the midſt of the city.

26 So Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babylon ſmote them, and put them to death in Riblah, in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.

28 This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive; in the ſeventh year, three thouſand Jews and three and twenty:

29 In the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jeruſalem eight hundred thirty and two perſons:

30 In the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar, Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews ſeven hundred forty and five perſons: all the perſons were four thouſand and ſix hundred.

31 ¶ And it came to paſs in the ſeven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the firſt year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of priſon,

32 And ſpake kindly unto him, and ſet his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon,

33 And changed his priſon-garments: and he did continually eat bread before him all the days of his life.

34 And for his diet, there was a continual diet given him of the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

CHAP. LII.] 13 And burnt the houſe of the Lord, &c.] After it had ſtood, according to Joſephus, four hundred and ſeventy years.

28 This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive, &c.] Archbiſhop Uſher ſuppoſes, that this, and the two following verſes, give an account of the leſſer captivities which the Jews ſuffered under Nebuchadrezzar; whereas there were three others, in which many more perſons were carried away.

THE

Lamentations of JEREMIAH.

The ARGUMENT.

This book is a kind of funeral elegy on the death of the good king Joſiah, as ſufficiently appears from what is recorded in 2 Chron. xxxv. 25. St. Jerom is of opinion that the prophet laments the loſs of Joſiah, as the beginning of thoſe calamities that followed: accordingly he prophetically bewails the miſerable ſtate of the Jews, and the deſtruction of Jeruſalem.

The ſtile of theſe Lamentations is lively, pathetic, and affecting: the ſubject of the moſt moving kind: Sorrow never flowed in ſo natural, ſo tender, ſo prevailing a pathos, as in theſe mournful elegies.

CHAP. I.

HOW doth the city ſit ſolitary, that was full of people! how is ſhe become as a widow! ſhe that was great among the nations, and princeſs among the provinces, how is ſhe become tributary!

2 She weepeth ſore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her lovers ſhe hath none to comfort her, all her friends have dealt treacherouſly with her, they are become her enemies.

3 Judah is gone into captivity, becauſe of affliction, and becauſe of great ſervitude: ſhe dwelleth among the heathen, ſhe findeth no reſt: all her perſecutors overtook her between the ſtraits.

4 The ways of Zion do mourn, becauſe none come to the ſolemn feaſts: all her gates are deſolate: her prieſts ſigh, her virgins are afflicted, and ſhe is in bitterneſs.

5 Her adverſaries are the chief, her enemies proſper: for the Lord hath afflicted her; for the multitude of her tranſgreſſions, her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

8 And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her princes are become like harts that find no paſture, and they are gone without ſtrength before the purſuer.

7 Jeruſalem remembered in the days of her affliction, and of her miſeries, all her pleaſant things that ſhe had in the days of old, when

CHAP. I.] 1 How doth the city ſit ſolitary, that was full of people! how is ſhe become as a widow! &c.] Cities are commonly deſcribed as the mothers of their inhabitants, and their kings and princes as their huſbands and children. When, therefore, they are bereaved of theſe, they are ſaid to be widows and childleſs. Under theſe affecting circumſtances, Jeruſalem is deſcribed as ſitting alone, and in a penſive condition, the multitude of her inhabitants being diſperſed and deſtroyed.

when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her, the adverſaries ſaw her, and did mock at her ſabbaths.

8 Jeruſalem hath grievouſly ſinned: therefore ſhe is removed: all that honoured her deſpiſe her, becauſe they have ſeen her nakedneſs: yea, ſhe ſigheth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthineſs is in her ſkirts, ſhe remembereth not her laſt end; therefore ſhe came down wonderfully: ſhe had no comforter: O Lord, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himſelf.

10 The adverſary hath ſpread out his hand upon all her pleaſant things: for ſhe hath ſeen that the heathen entered into her ſanctuary, whom thou didſt command that they ſhould not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people ſigh, they ſeek bread, they have given their pleaſant things for meat to relieve the ſoul: ſee, O Lord, and conſider, for I am become vile.

12 ¶ Is it nothing to you, all ye that paſs by? behold, and ſee, if there be any ſorrow like unto my ſorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the Lord hath afflicted me, in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From above hath he ſent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth againſt them: he hath ſpread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me deſolate, and faint all the day.

14 The yoke of my tranſgreſſions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my ſtrength to fall, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to riſe up.

15 The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midſt of me: he hath called an aſſembly againſt me, to cruſh my young men: the Lord hath trodden the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in a wine-preſs.

16 For theſe things I weep, mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, becauſe the comforter that ſhould relieve my ſoul, is far from me: my children are deſolate, becauſe the enemy prevailed.

17 Zion ſpreadeth forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath commanded concerning Jacob, that his adverſaries ſhould be round about him: Jeruſalem is as a menſtruous woman among them.

18 ¶ The Lord is righteous, for I have rebelled againſt his commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my ſorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me; my prieſts and mine elders gave up the ghoſt in the city, while they ſought their meat to relieve their ſouls.

20 Behold, O Lord, for I am in diſtreſs; my bowels are troubled; mine heart is turned within me, for I have grievouſly rebelled: abroad the ſword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I ſigh, there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble, they are glad that thou haſt done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou haſt called, and they ſhall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickedneſs come before thee: and do unto them, as thou haſt done unto me, for all my tranſgreſſions: for my ſighs are many, and my heart is faint.

CHAP. II.

HOW hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger, and caſt down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Iſrael, and remembered not his footſtool in the day of his anger!

2 The Lord hath ſwallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied: he has thrown down in his wrath the ſtrong holds of the daughter of Judah: he hath brought them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdom, and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the horn of Iſrael: he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, and he burned againſt Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy: he ſtood with his right hand as an adverſary, and ſlew all that were pleaſant to the eye, in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his fury like fire.

5 The Lord was an enemy: he hath ſwallowed up Iſrael, he hath ſwallowed up all her palaces: he hath deſtroyed his ſtrong holds, and hath increaſed in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently taken away his tabernacle, as if it were of a garden, he hath deſtroyed his places of the aſſembly: the Lord hath cauſed the ſolemn feaſts and ſabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath deſpiſed in the indignation of his anger the king and the prieſt.

7 The Lord hath caſt off his altar: he hath abhorred his ſanctuary: he hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces; they have made a noiſe in the houſe of the Lord, as in the day of a ſolemn feaſt.

8 The Lord hath purpoſed to deſtroy the wall of the daughter of Zion; he hath ſtretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from deſtroying: therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lament; they languiſhed together.

9 Her gates are ſunk into the ground: he hath deſtroyed and broken her bars; her king and her princes are among the Gentiles; the law is no more, her prophets alſo find no viſion from the Lord.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion ſit upon the ground, and keep ſilence: they have caſt up duſt upon their heads; they have girded themſelves with ſackcloth; the virgins of Jeruſalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with tears; my bowels are troubled; my liver is poured upon the earth, for the deſtruction of the daughter of my people, becauſe the children and the ſucklings ſwoon in the ſtreets of the city.

12 They ſay to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they ſwooned as the wounded in the ſtreets of the city, when their ſoul was poured out into their mother's boſom.

13 What thing ſhall I take to witneſs for thee? what thing ſhall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jeruſalem? what ſhall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the ſea; who can heal thee?

14 Thy prophets have ſeen vain and fooliſh things for thee, and they have not diſcovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity; but have ſeen for thee falſe burdens and cauſes of baniſhment.

15 All that paſs by clap their hands at thee; they hiſs and wag their head at the daughter of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Is this the city that men call the perfection of beauty, the joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth againſt thee: they hiſs and gnaſh the teeth: they ſay, We have ſwallowed her up: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we have found, we have ſeen it.

17 The Lord hath done that which he had deviſed: he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the days of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath cauſed thine enemy to rejoice over thee, he hath ſet up the horn of thine adverſaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night: give thyſelf no reſt, let not the apple of thine eyes ceaſe.

19 Ariſe, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands towards him, for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the top of every ſtreet.

20 ¶ Behold, O Lord, and conſider to whom thou haſt done this: ſhall the women eat their fruit, and children of a ſpan long? ſhall the prieſt and the prophet be ſlain in the ſanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young and the old lie on the ground in the ſtreets, my virgins and my young men are fallen by the ſword: thou haſt ſlain them in the day of thy anger, thou haſt killed, and not pitied.

22 Thou haſt called as in a ſolemn day my terrors round about, ſo that in the day of the Lord's anger none eſcaped nor remained: thoſe that I have ſwaddled and brought of, hath mine enemy conſumed.

CHAP. III.

I AM the man that hath ſeen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darkneſs, but not into light.

3 Surely againſt me is he turned, he turneth his hand againſt me all the day.

4 My fleſh and my ſkin hath he made old, he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded againſt me, and compaſſed me with gall and travail.

6 He hath ſet me in dark places, as they that be dead of old.

7 He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chain heavy.

8 Alſo when I cry and ſhout, he ſhutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath incloſed my ways with hewn ſtone: he hath made my paths crooked.

10 He was unto me as a bear lying in wait, and as a lion in ſecret places.

11 He

---

14 The yoke of my tranſgreſſion is bound by his hand, &c.] He hath laid upon me the burden of mine iniquities, and inflicted ſuch heavy puniſhments on me, that I muſt ſink under them.

Chap. II.] 1 And remembered not his footſtool in the day of his anger!] And even ſpared not the ark itſelf, the footſtool of the Shekinah, which ſat between the cherubims as on a throne.

7 They have made a noiſe in the houſe of the Lord, as in the day of a ſolemn feaſt.] Inſtead of the joyful ſound of praiſes and thankſgivings to God, nothing was heard there but the noiſe of ſoldiers, and the rude vociferations of infidels profaning that ſacred place, and inſulting over God who was worſhipped there.

15 Is this the city that men call the perfection of beauty, the joy of the whole earth?] Jeruſalem was the the metropolis of the Jewiſh nation, and highly valued by them for the magnificence of their temple, and the preſence of the true God there.

11 He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

13 He hath caused the arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a derision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, he hath made me drunken with wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with gravel-stones, he hath covered me with ashes.

17 And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace: I forgat prosperity.

18 And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lord,

19 Remembring mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall.

20 My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 This I recal to my mind, therefore have I hope.

22 ¶ It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

23 They are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord is my portion, saith my soul, therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.

26 It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.

28 He sitteth alone and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it upon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust, if so be there may be hope.

30 He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him, he is filled full with reproach.

31 For the Lord will not cast off for ever.

32 But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve the children of men.

34 To crush under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,

35 To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the most High,

36 To subvert a man in his cause, the Lord approveth not.

37 ¶ Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good?

39 Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?

40 Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord.

41 Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens.

42 We have transgressed and have rebelled, thou hast not pardoned.

43 Thou hast covered with anger, and persecuted us: thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.

44 Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that our prayer should not pass through.

45 Thou hast made us as the off-scouring and refuse in the midst of the people.

46 All our enemies have opened their mouths against us.

47 Fear and a snare is come upon us, desolation and destruction.

48 Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye trickleth down, and ceaseth not, without any intermission:

50 Till the Lord look down, and behold from heaven.

51 Mine eye affecteth mine heart, because of all the daughters of my city.

52 Mine enemies chased me sore like a bird, without cause.

53 They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and cast a stone upon me.

54 Waters flowed over mine head, then I said, I am cut off.

55 ¶ I called upon thy name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.

56 Thou hast heard my voice, hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.

57 Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not.

58 O Lord, thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul, thou hast redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou hast seen my wrong, judge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance, and all their imaginations against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O Lord, and all their imaginations against me;

62 The lips of those that rose up against me, and their device against me all the day.

63 Behold, their sitting down and their rising up, I am their music.

64 ¶ Render unto them a recompense, O Lord, according to the work of their hands.

65 Give them sorrow of heart, thy curse unto them.

66 Persecute and destroy them in anger, from under the heavens of the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

HOW is the gold become dim! how is the most fine gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary are poured out in the top of every street.

2 The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter?

3 Even the sea-monsters draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.

5 They that did feed delicately, are desolate in the streets: they that were brought up in scarlet, embrace dunghills.

6 For the punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people, is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sodom, that was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands stayed on her.

7 Her Nazarites were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in the body than rubies, their polishing was of sapphire.

8 Their visage is blacker than a coal: they are not known in the streets: their skin cleaveth to their bones: it is withered, it is become like a stick.

9 They that be slain with the sword, are better than they that be slain with hunger: for these pine away, stricken through for want of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children, they were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his fury, he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not have believed, that the adversary and the enemy should have entered into the gates of Jerusalem.

13 ¶ For the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, that have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her;

14 They have wandered as blind men in the streets, they have polluted themselves with blood, so that men could not touch their garments.

15 They cried unto them, Depart ye, it is unclean, depart, depart, touch not, when they fled away and wandered: they said among the heathen, They shall no more sojourn there.

16 The anger of the Lord hath divided them, he will no more regard them: they respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders.

17 As for us, our eyes as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save us.

18 They hunt our steps that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecutors are swifter than the eagles of the heaven: they pursued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.

20 The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the Lord was taken in their pits, of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the heathen.

21 Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz; the cup also shall pass through unto thee: thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.

22 ¶ The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion, he will no more carry thee away into captivity: he will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom, he will discover thy sins.

CHAP. V.

REmember, O Lord, what is come upon us: consider, and behold our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

3 We

CHAP. III.] 28 He sitteth alone, and keepeth silence, &c.] The discipline of affliction renders a man serious and thoughtful; it disposes him to reflect upon himself and his ways, and instructs him to acquiesce in the designs of providence.

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good?] Do not calamities, as well as prosperity, come by the will and disposal of the Almighty?

CHAP. IV.] 1 How is the gold become dim!] How is the glory of the temple obscured! The sanctuary, which was overlaid with gold, now lies in ruins, and the stones of it blended with the rubbish in one common heap of confusion.

19 Our persecuters are swifter than the eagles of the heaven.] God had brought upon us the judgment he threatened by Moses, of bringing a nation against us as swift as the eagle fleeth; for such are the horsemen in the Chaldean army.

CHAP.

3 We are orphans and fatherleſs, our mothers are as widows.
4 We have drunken our water for money, our wood is ſold unto us.
5 Our necks are under perſecution: we labour, and have no reſt.
6 We have given the hand to the Egyptians, and to the Aſſyrians, to be ſatisfied with bread.
7 Our fathers have ſinned, and are not, and we have borne their iniquities.
8 Servants have ruled over us: there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.
9 We gat our bread with the peril of our lives, becauſe of the ſword of the wilderneſs.
10 Our ſkin was black like an oven, becauſe of the terrible famine.
11 They raviſhed the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.
12 Princes are hanged up by their hand: the faces of elders were not honoured.
13 They took the young men to grind, and the children fell under the wood.
14 The elders have ceaſed from the gate, the young men from their muſic.
15 The joy of our heart is ceaſed, our dance is turned into mourning.
16 The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us that we have ſinned.
17 For this our heart is faint, for theſe things our eyes are dim.
18 Becauſe of the mountain of Zion, which is deſolate, the foxes walk upon it.
19 Thou, O Lord, remaineſt for ever; thy throne from generation to generation.
20 Wherefore doſt thou forget us for ever, and forſake us ſo long time?
21 Turn thou us unto thee, O Lord, and we ſhall be turned: renew our days as of old.
22 But thou haſt utterly rejected us: thou art very wroth againſt us.

CHAP. V.] 16 The crown is fallen from our head, &c.] All our glory is at an end, together with the advantages of being thy people, and enjoying thy preſence among us, by which we were diſtinguiſhed from the reſt of the world.

THE Book of the Prophet EZEKIEL.

The ARGUMENT.

Ezekiel was the ſon of Buzi, of the houſe of Aaron. He was carried captive to Babylon with Jeconiah, and began to prophecy in the fifth year of that captivity, which is the æra he uſes in all his predictions. He continued to prophecy during twenty years; and was cotemporary with Jeremiah, who prophecied at the ſame time in Judea. He foretold a great number of events, particularly the deſtruction of the temple; the fatal cataſtrophe of thoſe who revolted from Babylon to Egypt; and, at laſt, the happy return of the Jews to their own land.

CHAP. I.

NOW it came to paſs in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month (as I was among the captives the river of Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I ſaw ons of God.
2 In the fifth day of the month (which was the fifth year of king oiachin's captivity.)
3 The word of the Lord came expreſsly unto Ezekiel the prieſt, ſon of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Che- and the hand of the Lord was there upon him.
4 ¶ And I looked, and behold, a whirlwind came out of the h, a great cloud, and a fire infolding itſelf, and a brightneſs about it, and out of the midſt thereof as the colour of amber, of the midſt of the fire.
5 Alſo out of the midſt thereof came the likeneſs of four living creatures. And this was their appearance; They had the likeneſs of a man.
6 And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.
7 And their feet were ſtraight feet, and the ſole of their feet was like the ſole of a calf's foot, and they ſparkled like the colour of burniſhed braſs.
8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four ſides, and they four had their faces and their wings.
9 Their wings were joined one to another; they turned not when they went, they went every one ſtraight forward.
10 As for the likeneſs of their faces, they four had the face of a man, and the face of a lion on the right ſide, and they four had the

AP. I.] 5 Out of the midſt thereof came the likeneſs of four living creatures, Theſe living creatures were four cherubims, that ſupported the throne of Almighty in the following viſion.

6 And every one of them had four faces, &c.] Theſe faces were of a man, of a lion, of an ox, and of an eagle, verſe 10, each of them reſembling the cherubims which overſhadowed the mercy-ſeat in the temple.

18 And

the face of an ox on the left side: they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were stretched upward, two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit was to go, they went: and they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures ran, and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold, one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures with his four faces.

16 The appearance of the wheels, and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness, and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides: and they returned not when they went.

18 As for their rings, they were so high that they were dreadful, and their rings were full of eyes round about them four.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go, and the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

21 When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

22 And the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creatures, was as the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other; every one had two, which covered on this side, and every one had two, which covered on that side their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament, that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 ¶ And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire-stone, and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.

27 And I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire round about within it: from the appearance of his loins even upward, and from the appearance of his loins even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.

28 As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord: and when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

CHAP. II.

AND he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

2 And the spirit entered into me, when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me; they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.

4 For they are impudent children, and stiff-hearted: I do send thee unto them, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear (for they are a rebellious house) yet shall know that there hath been a prophet among them.

6 ¶ And thou, Son of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though briers and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

7 And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, for they are most rebellious.

8 But thou, Son of man, hear what I say unto thee, Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give thee.

9 ¶ And when I looked, behold, an hand was sent unto me; and lo, a roll of a book was therein;

10 And he spread it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

CHAP. III.

MOreover he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest; eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it, and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

4 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of a strange speech, and of an hard language, but to the house of Israel:

6 Not to many people of a strange speech, and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand: surely, had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are impudent and hard-hearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

9 As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

10 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee, receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

11 And go get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 Then the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the noise of the wheels over against them, and a noise of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong upon me.

15 ¶ Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river of Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven days.

16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life: the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

20 Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumbling-block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin; he shall surely live, because he is warned: also thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 ¶ And the hand of the Lord was there upon me, and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

23 Then I arose, and went forth into the plain, and behold, the glory of the Lord stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river of Chebar: and I fell on my face.

24 Then the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet, and

18 And their rings were full of eyes round about them four.] The living creatures were also full of eyes, to signify, that all the nations of providence are directed by a consummate wisdom and foresight.

28 This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord, &c.] This is a description of that glorious vision wherein God appeared, and whereby he manifested his attributes of glory and perfections.

CHAP. II.] 1 And he said unto me, Son of man, &c.] This expression is commonly understood to signify the same with a common and ordinary man, as it is usually expounded in the following text of the Psalmist, What is man that thou art mindful of him, or the son of man that thou visitest him? Psal. viii. 4. So here most commentators understand it as applied to the prophet, to remind him of his frailty and mortality, and of the infinite distance between God and man. In which sense it is supposed to be taken when applied to Christ in the New Testament, signifying his great humility in assuming our nature, and appearing no otherwise than as an ordinary man.

CHAP. III.] 17 I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel, &c.] Prophets have the title of watchmen given them, because, like watchmen placed on a tower, they saw, by their prophetic spirit, the evils coming on the ungodly, and were bound to give the people timely notice, that they might avoid them by a sincere repentance.

and ſpake with me, and ſaid unto me, Go, ſhut thyſelf within thine houſe.

25 But thou, O ſon of man, behold, they ſhall put bands upon thee, and ſhall bind thee with them, and thou ſhalt not go out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou ſhalt be dumb, and ſhalt not be to them a reprover; for they are a rebellious houſe.

27 But when I ſpeak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious houſe.

CHAP. IV.

THOU alſo, ſon of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it the city, even Jeruſalem;

2 And lay ſiege againſt it, and build a fort againſt it, and caſt a mount againſt it: ſet the camp alſo againſt it, and ſet battering rams againſt it round about.

3 Moreover, take thou unto thee an iron pan, and ſet it for a wall of iron between thee and the city, and ſet thy face againſt it: and it ſhall be beſieged, and thou ſhalt lay ſiege againſt it, this ſhall be a ſign to the houſe of Iſrael.

4 Lie thou alſo upon thy left ſide, and lay the iniquity of the houſe of Iſrael upon it: according to the number of the days that thou ſhalt lie upon it, thou ſhalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: ſo ſhalt thou bear the iniquity of the houſe of Iſrael.

6 And when thou haſt accompliſhed them, lie again on thy right ſide, and thou ſhalt bear the iniquity of the houſe of Judah forty days: I have appointed thee each day for a year.

7 Therefore thou ſhalt ſet thy face toward the ſiege of Jeruſalem, and thine arm ſhall be uncovered, and thou ſhalt prophecy againſt it.

8 And behold, I will lay bands upon thee, and thou ſhalt not turn thee from one ſide to another, till thou haſt ended the days of thy ſiege.

9 ¶ Take thou alſo unto thee, wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and fitches, and put them in one veſſel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou ſhalt lie upon thy ſide; three hundred and ninety days ſhalt thou eat thereof.

10 And thy meat which thou ſhalt eat, ſhall be by weight, twenty ſhekels a day: from time to time ſhalt thou eat it.

11 Thou ſhalt drink alſo water by meaſure, the ſixth part of an hin: from time to time ſhalt thou drink.

12 And thou ſhalt eat it as barley-cakes, and thou ſhalt bake it with dung that cometh out of man, in their ſight.

13 And the Lord ſaid, Even thus ſhall the children of Iſrael eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.

14 Then ſaid I, Ah Lord God, behold, my ſoul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up, even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itſelf, or is torn in pieces, neither came there abominable fleſh into my mouth.

15 Then he ſaid unto me, Lo, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou ſhalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover, he ſaid unto me, Son of man, behold I will break the ſtaff of bread in Jeruſalem, and they ſhall eat bread by weight, and with care, and they ſhall drink water by meaſure, and with aſtoniſhment.

17 That they may want bread and water, and be aſtoniſhed one with another, and conſume away for their iniquity.

CHAP. V.

AND thou Son of man, take thee a ſharp knife, take thee a barber's razor, and cauſe it to paſs upon thine head, and upon thy beard; then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair.

2 Thou ſhalt burn with fire a third part in the midſt of the city, when the days of the ſiege are fulfilled; and thou ſhalt take a third part, and ſmite about it with a knife; and a third part thou ſhalt ſcatter in the wind, and I will draw out a ſword after them.

3 Thou ſhalt alſo take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy ſkirts.

4 Then take of them again, and caſt them into the midſt of the fire, and burn them in the fire; for thereof ſhall a fire come forth into all the houſe of Iſrael.

5 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God, This is Jeruſalem: I have ſet it in the midſt of the nations and countries that are round about her.

6 And ſhe hath changed my judgments into wickedneſs more than the nations, and my ſtatutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have refuſed my judgments, and my ſtatutes, they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe ye multiplied more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my ſtatutes, neither have kept my judgments, neither have done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you:

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold I, even I am againſt thee, and will execute judgments in the midſt of thee, in the ſight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like; becauſe of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers ſhall eat the ſons in the midſt of thee, and the ſons ſhall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I ſcatter into all the winds.

11 Wherefore, as I live, ſaith the Lord God, Surely becauſe thou haſt defiled my ſanctuary with all thy deteſtable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I alſo diminiſh thee, neither ſhall mine eye ſpare, neither will I have any pity.

12 ¶ A third part of thee ſhall die with the peſtilence, and with famine ſhall they be conſumed in the midſt of thee; and a third part ſhall fall by the ſword round about thee; and I will ſcatter a third part into all the winds, and I will draw out a ſword after them.

13 Thus ſhall mine anger be accompliſhed, and I will cauſe my fury to reſt upon them, and I will be comforted: and they ſhall know that I the Lord have ſpoken it in my zeal, when I have accompliſhed my fury in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waſte, and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the ſight of all that paſs by.

15 So it ſhall be a reproach and a taunt, an inſtruction and an aſtoniſhment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I ſhall execute judgments in thee in anger and in fury, and in furious rebukes: I the Lord have ſpoken it.

16 When I ſhall ſend upon them the evil arrows of famine, which ſhall be for their deſtruction, and which I will ſend to deſtroy you: and I will increaſe the famine upon you, and will break your ſtaff of bread.

17 So will I ſend upon you famine, and evil beaſts, and they ſhall bereave thee; and peſtilence and blood ſhall paſs through thee, and I will bring the ſword upon thee: I the Lord have ſpoken it.

CHAP. VI.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſet thy face towards the mountains of Iſrael, and prophecy againſt them,

3 And ſay, Ye mountains of Iſrael, hear the word of the Lord God, Thus ſaith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the vallies, Behold, I, even I will bring a ſword upon you, and I will deſtroy your high places.

4 And your altars ſhall be deſolate, and your images ſhall be broken: and I will caſt down your ſlain men before your idols.

5 And I will lay the dead carcaſes of the children of Iſrael before their idols, and I will ſcatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling-places the cities ſhall be laid waſte, and the high places ſhall be deſolate; that your altars may be laid waſte and made deſolate, and your idols may be broken and ceaſe, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be aboliſhed.

7 And the ſlain ſhall fall in the midſt of you, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

8 ¶ Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have ſome that ſhall eſcape the ſword among the nations, when ye ſhall be ſcattered through the countries.

9 And they that eſcape of you ſhall remember me among the nations, whither they ſhall be carried captives, becauſe I am broken with their whoriſh heart which hath departed from me, and with their eyes which go a whoring after their idols: and they ſhall loath themſelves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, and that I have not ſaid in vain that I will do this evil unto them.

11 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God, Smite with thine hand, and ſtamp with thy foot, and ſay, Alas, for all the evil abominations of the houſe of Iſrael: for they ſhall fall by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence.

12 He that is far off ſhall die of the peſtilence, and he that is near ſhall fall by the ſword, and he that remaineth and is beſieged

CHAP. IV.] 9 Take thou alſo unto thee wheat and barley, &c.] It is common in a time of ſcarcity to mix a great deal of the coarſer grains with a little of the better ſort, to make their proviſion laſt the longer. Accordingly Ezekiel was commanded to do this, to ſignify the ſcarcity the inhabitants ſhould ſuffer during the ſiege.

CHAP. V.] 10 Therefore the fathers ſhall eat the ſons in the midſt of thee.] A terrible judgment threatened by Moſes, and afterwards by Jeremiah, and actually fulfilled in the ſiege of Jeruſalem.

17 So will I ſend upon you famine, and evil beaſts.] Wild beaſts multiply in a land when it is depopulated; and is one of the puniſhments threatened by Moſes againſt the Jews.

CHAP. VI.] 7 And ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.] An epiphonema, or concluſion of a ſevere denunciation, often repeated by the prophet; importing, that the judgments God intended to bring upon the Jews would convince the moſt hardened and ſtupid ſinners, that it was the hand of the Almighty.

sieged shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

13 Then shall ye know that I am the Lord, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.

14 So will I stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate; yea, more desolate than the wilderness towards Diblath, in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Also thou, Son of man, thus saith the Lord God unto the land of Israel, An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense upon thee all thine abominations.

4 And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will recompense thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, An evil, an only evil, behold, is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it watcheth for thee, behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come upon thee, O thou that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is near, and not the sounding again of the mountains.

8 Now will I shortly pour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger upon thee: and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense thee for all thine abominations.

9 And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will recompense thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations that are in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold, it is come, the morning is gone forth, the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded.

11 Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness: none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there be wailing for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth near, let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

13 For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, which shall not return: neither shall any strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life.

14 They have blown the trumpet, even to make all ready, but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword: and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

16 ¶ But they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the vallies, all of them mourning, every one for his iniquity.

17 All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water.

18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them, and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be removed: their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: because it is the stumbling-block of their iniquity.

20 ¶ As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: but they made the images of their abominations, and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I set it far from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the robbers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 ¶ Make a chain: for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.

24 Wherefore I will bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pomp of the strong to cease, and their holy places shall be defiled.

25 Destruction cometh, and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none.

26 Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour, then shall they seek a vision of the prophet: but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the ancients.

27 The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

AND it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, a likeness as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins even downward, fire: and from his loins even upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of amber.

3 And he put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head, and the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate, that looketh toward the north, where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I saw in the plain.

5 ¶ Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way towards the north: so I lifted up mine eyes the way towards the north, and behold, northward at the gate of the altar, this image of jealousy in the entry.

6 He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold, a hole in the wall.

8 Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold, a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and saw, and behold, every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel pourtrayed upon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seventy men of the ancients of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand, and a thick cloud of incense went up.

12 Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, The Lord seeth us not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 ¶ He said also unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the Lord's house, which was towards the north, and behold, there sat women weeping for Tammuz.

15 ¶ Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the east, and they worshipped the sun toward the east.

17 ¶ Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah, that they commit the abominations, which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger; and lo, they put the branch to their nose.

18 Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

CHAP. VII.] 2 Unto the land of Israel, &c.] That is, upon the whole country inhabited by the descendants of Jacob.

12 Let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn, &c.] The buyer will have no reason to rejoice, because he will not enjoy what he hath purchased; nor the seller cause to mourn for the loss of his possessions, which the approaching captivity will for ever deprive him of.

18 Shame shall be upon all faces, &c.] The works and confusion of misery covering their face.

24 Wherefore I will bring the worst of the heathen.] The Chaldeans, who were at that time the great oppressors of the world, and a terror to all the countries round about them.

CHAP. VIII.] 14 And behold, there sat women weeping for Tammuz.] This deity is supposed to be the same with the Egyptian Osyris, or the god which they supposed to preside over the fruits of the earth, which were then cut and gathered in; and this being called the death of Osyris, was celebrated with mourning and lamentations. Hence we see the reason why this solemnity was kept in the month Tammuz, because the harvest was then finished.

CHAP. IX.

HE cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause them that have charge over the city, to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, six men came from the way of the higher gate, which lieth toward the north, and every man a slaughter-weapon in his hand; and one man among them was cloathed with linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side, and they went in, and stood beside the brasen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house, and he called to the man cloathed with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side;

4 And the Lord said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh, and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.

5 ¶ And to the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity.

6 Slay utterly old and young, both maids and little children, and women; but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary: then they began at the ancient men which were before the house.

7 And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain, go ye forth: and they went forth and slew in the city.

8 ¶ And it came to pass while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah, Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem?

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of perverseness: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth not.

10 And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will recompense their way upon their head.

11 And behold, the man cloathed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

THEN I looked, and behold, in the firmament that was above the head of the cherubims, there appeared over them, as it were a sapphire-stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

2 And he spake unto the man cloathed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill thine hand with coals of fire from between the cherubims, and scatter them over the city. And he went in, in my sight.

3 Now the cherubims stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the Lord went up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the Lord's glory.

5 And the sound of the cherubims wings was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man cloathed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubims; then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubims, unto the fire that was between the cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was cloathed with linen: who took it, and went out.

8 ¶ And there appeared in the cherubims the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked, behold, the four wheels by the cherubims, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a beryl-stone.

10 And as for their appearances, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked, they followed it; they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As for the wheels, it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

14 And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the cherubims were lifted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.

16 And when the cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubims lifted up their wings, to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When they stood, these stood; and when they were lifted up, these lifted up themselves also: for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.

19 And the cherubims lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were besides them, and every one stood at the door of the east-gate of the Lord's house, and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

20 This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel, by the river of Chebar, and I knew that they were the cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings, and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

CHAP. XI.

MOreover, the spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east-gate of the Lord's house, which looketh east-ward: and behold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise mischief, and give wicked counsel in this city:

3 Which say, It is not near, let us build houses: this city is the caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 ¶ Therefore prophecy against them, prophecy, O Son of man.

5 And the spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak, Thus saith the Lord, Thus have ye said, O house of Israel: for I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

6 Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midst of it.

8 Ye have feared the sword, and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, I will judge you in the border of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

11 This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; but I will judge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgments, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

13 ¶ And it came to pass when I prophecied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died: then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah, Lord God, wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?

14 Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel wholly are they, unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get ye far from the Lord: unto us is this land given in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little sanctuary in the countries where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, I will even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 And

CHAP. IX.] 1 Cause them that have a charge over the city, to draw near, &c.] Cause the angels who have the charge of executing God's judgments upon the city to approach.

7 Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain, &c.] God declares he will no longer own the temple for the place of his residence, as having been polluted with idolatry; he therefore delivers it up with its inner and outward courts, to be polluted with blood.

CHAP. X.] 2 Fill thine hand with coals of fire, &c.] This part of the vision represented the burning of the city, which was accordingly done by the Chaldeans.

CHAP. XI.] 3 Which say, it is not near, let us build houses.] These were those who put the evil day far from them; not being willing to believe, that the judgments threatened would soon overtake them.

This city is the caldron, and we be the flesh.] Jeremiah foretold the destruction of Jerusalem, under the metaphor of a seething-pot, and Ezekiel himself here uses the same figure of speech.

15 I will

19 And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new ſpirit within you; and I will take the ſtony heart out of their fleſh, and will give them an heart of fleſh:

20 That they may walk in my ſtatutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whoſe heart walketh after the heart of their deteſtable things, and their abominations, I will recompenſe their way upon their own heads, ſaith the Lord God.

22 ¶ Then did the cherubins lift up their wings, and the wheels beſide them; and the glory of the God of Iſrael was over them above.

23 And the glory of the Lord went up from the midſt of the city, and ſtood upon the mountain, which is on the eaſt-ſide of the city.

24 ¶ Afterwards the ſpirit took me up, and brought me in viſion by the ſpirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity: ſo the viſion that I had ſeen, went up from me.

25 Then I ſpake unto them of the captivity, all the things that the Lord had ſhewed me.

CHAP. XII.

THE word of the Lord alſo came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, thou dwelleſt in the midſt of a rebellious houſe, which have eyes to ſee, and ſee not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious houſe.

3 Therefore thou Son of man, prepare thee ſtuff for removing, and remove by day in their ſight, and thou ſhalt remove from thy place to another place in their ſight; it may be they will conſider, though they be a rebellious houſe.

4 Then ſhalt thou bring forth thy ſtuff by day in their ſight, as ſtuff for removing: and thou ſhalt go forth at even in their ſight, as they that go forth into captivity.

5 Dig thou through the wall in their ſight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their ſight ſhalt thou bear it upon thy ſhoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou ſhalt cover thy face that thou ſee not the ground: for I have ſet thee for a ſign unto the houſe of Iſrael.

7 And I did ſo as I was commanded: I brought forth my ſtuff by day, as ſtuff for captivity, and in the even I digged through the wall with mine hand, I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my ſhoulder in their ſight.

8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of the Lord unto me ſaying,

9 Son of man, hath not the houſe of Iſrael, the rebellious houſe, ſaid unto thee, What doeſt thou?

10 Say thou unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, This burden concerneth the prince in Jeruſalem, and all the houſe of Iſrael that are among them.

11 Say, I am your ſign: like as I have done, ſo ſhall it be done unto them: they ſhall remove and go into captivity.

12 And the prince that is among them ſhall bear upon his ſhoulder in the twilight, and ſhall go forth: they ſhall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he ſhall cover his face that he ſee not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net alſo will I ſpread upon him, and he ſhall be taken in my ſnare; and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans, yet ſhall he not ſee it, though he ſhall die there.

14 And I will ſcatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands, and I will draw out the ſword after them.

15 And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall ſcatter them among the nations, and diſperſe them in the countries.

16 But I will leave a few men of them from the ſword, from the famine, and from the peſtilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came to me, ſaying,

18 Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling, and with carefulneſs,

19 And ſay unto the people of the land, Thus ſaith the Lord God of the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and of the land of Iſrael, They ſhall eat their bread with carefulneſs, and drink their water with aſtoniſhment, that her land may be deſolate from all that is therein, becauſe of the violence of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, ſhall be laid waſte, and the land ſhall be deſolate, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

21 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

22 Son of man, what is that proverb, that ye have in the land of Iſrael, ſaying, The days are prolonged, and every viſion faileth?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will make this proverb to ceaſe, and they ſhall no more uſe it as a proverb in Iſrael: but ſay unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every viſion.

24 For there ſhall be no more any vain viſion, nor flattering divination within the houſe of Iſrael.

25 For I am the Lord: I will ſpeak, and the word that I ſhall ſpeak ſhall come to paſs: it ſhall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious houſe, will I ſay the word, and will perform it, ſaith the Lord God.

26 ¶ Again the word of the Lord came to me, ſaying,

27 Son of man, behold, they of the houſe of Iſrael ſay, The viſion that he ſeeth is for many days to come, and he prophecieth of the times that are far off.

28 Therefore ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, There ſhall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have ſpoken ſhall be done, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, prophecy againſt the prophets of Iſrael that prophecy, and ſay thou unto them that prophecy out of their own hearts, Hear ye the word of the Lord.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord God, Woe unto the fooliſh prophets, that follow their own ſpirit, and have ſeen nothing.

4 O Iſrael, thy prophets are like the foxes in the deſarts.

5 Ye have not gone up into the gaps, neither made up the hedge for the houſe of Iſrael, to ſtand in the battle in the day of the Lord.

6 They have ſeen vanity, and lying divination, ſaying, The Lord ſaith; and the Lord hath not ſent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word.

7 Have ye not ſeen a vain viſion, and have ye not ſpoken a lying divination, whereas ye ſay, the Lord ſaith it, albeit I have not ſpoken?

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe ye have ſpoken vanity, and ſeen lyes, therefore behold, I am againſt you, ſaith the Lord God.

9 And mine hand ſhall be upon the prophets that ſee vanity, and that divine lyes: they ſhall not be in the aſſembly of my people, neither ſhall they be written in the writing of the houſe of Iſrael, neither ſhall they enter into the land of Iſrael, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord God.

10 ¶ Becauſe, even becauſe they have ſeduced my people, ſaying, Peace, and there was no peace; and one built up a wall, and lo, others daubed it with untempered mortar:

11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it ſhall fall: there ſhall be an overflowing ſhower, and ye, O great hailſtones, ſhall fall, and a ſtormy wind ſhall rent it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, ſhall it not be ſaid unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, I will even rent it with a ſtormy wind in my fury: and there ſhall be an overflowing ſhower in mine anger, and great hailſtones in my fury to conſume it.

14 So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, ſo that the foundation thereof ſhall be diſcovered, and it ſhall fall, and ye ſhall be conſumed in the midſt thereof: and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accompliſh my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar, and will ſay unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it;

16 To wit, the prophets of Iſrael which prophecy concerning Jeruſalem, and which ſee viſions of peace for her, and there is no peace, ſaith the Lord God.

17 ¶ Likewiſe thou, Son of man, ſet thy face againſt the daughters of thy people which prophecy out of their own heart; and prophecy thou againſt them,

18 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Woe to the women that ſow pillows to all arm-holes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every ſtature to hunt ſouls: Will ye hunt the ſouls of my people, and will ye ſave the ſouls alive that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley, and for pieces of bread, to ſlay the ſouls that ſhould not die, and to ſave the ſouls alive that ſhould not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lyes?

20 Wherefore

19 I will put a new ſpirit within you.] Theſe promiſes chiefly relate to the general converſion of the Jews, when God ſhall pour out his ſpirit of grace upon them, in order to their converſion.

CHAP. XII.] 5 Prepare thee ſtuff for removing, &c.] Get all thy goods together, and pack them up, as thoſe do who remove from one houſe to another. Do this openly at noon-day, that they may ſee and take notice of it. The prophets frequently prophecied by ſigns, as being of greater force and efficacy than words.

13 Yet ſhall he not ſee it, though he ſhall die there.] That is, his eyes ſhall be put out before he arrives at Babylon, in which city he ſhall die.

CHAP. XIII.] 9 They ſhall not be in the aſſembly of my people, &c.] They ſhall neither be members of the church here, nor partake of the communion of the righteous in heaven.

13 I will even rent it with a ſtormy wind in my fury, &c.] In all probability the prophet intended to foretel, under theſe metaphors, the deſtruction of Jeruſalem by the Chaldean army.

17 Set thy face againſt the daughters of thy people, which prophecy.] Direct thy diſcourſe againſt thoſe female pretenders to prophecy. Deborah and others were favoured with this gift, which made other women pretend to be inſpired in the ſame manner.

CHAP.

20 Wherefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I am againſt ur pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the ſouls, to make them
, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the ſouls go,
m the ſouls that ye hunt to make them fly.
21 Your kerchiefs alſo will I tear, and deliver my people out of ur hand, and they ſhall be no more in your hand to be hunted, d ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.
22 Becauſe with lyes ye have made the heart of the righteous ſad, hom I have not made ſad; and ſtrengthened the hands of the icked, that he ſhould not return from his wicked way, by proiſing him life:
23 Therefore ye ſhall ſee no more vanity, nor divine divin-ions, for I will deliver my people out of your hand, and ye ſhall now that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XIV.

THEN came certain of the elders of Iſrael unto me, and ſat before me.
2 And the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
3 Son of man, theſe men have ſet up their idols in their heart,
d put the ſtumbling-block of their iniquity before their face:
ould I be enquired of at all by them?
4 Therefore ſpeak unto them, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith e Lord God, Every man of the houſe of Iſrael that ſetteth up is idols in his heart, and putteth the ſtumbling-block of his ini-uity before his face, and cometh to the prophet, I the Lord will nſwer him that cometh, according to the multitude of his idols, 5 That I may take the houſe of Iſrael in their own heart, beauſe they are all eſtranged from me through their idols.
6 ¶ Therefore ſay unto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Repent, and turn yourſelves from your idols, and turn way your faces from all your abominations.
7 For every one of the houſe of Iſrael, or of the ſtranger that ojourneth in Iſrael, which ſeparateth himſelf from me, and ſeteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the ſtumbling-block of is iniquity before his face, and cometh to a prophet to enquire f him concerning me; I the Lord will anſwer him by my myſelf.
8 And I will ſet my face againſt that man, and will make him ſign, and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midſt of y people, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.
9 And if the prophet be deceived when he hath ſpoken a thing, the Lord have deceived that prophet, and I will ſtretch out my and upon him, and will deſtroy him from the midſt of my peole Iſrael.
10 And they ſhall bear the puniſhment of their iniquity: the uniſhment of the prophet ſhall be even as the puniſhment of im that ſeeketh unto him:
11 That the houſe of Iſrael may go no more aſtray from me, either be polluted any more with all their tranſgreſſions: but that hey may be my people, and I may be their God, ſaith the Lord God.
12 ¶ The word of the Lord came again to me, ſaying,
13 Son of man, when the land ſinneth againſt me by treſpaſing grievouſly, then will I ſtretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the ſtaff of the bread thereof, and will ſend famine upon t, and will cut off man and beaſt from it.
14 Though theſe three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job were in t, they ſhould deliver but their own ſouls by their righteouſneſs, ſaith the Lord God.
15 ¶ If I cauſe noiſome beaſts to paſs through the land, and hey ſpoil it, ſo that it be deſolate, that no man may paſs through ecauſe of the beaſts:
16 Though theſe three men were in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord
God, they ſhall deliver neither ſons nor daughters; they only hall be delivered, but the land ſhall be deſolate.
17 ¶ Or if I bring a ſword upon that land, and ſay, Sword, go through the land; ſo that I cut off man and beaſt from it:
18 Though theſe three men were in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord God, they ſhall deliver neither ſons nor daughters, but they only hall be delivered themſelves.
19 ¶ Or if I ſend a peſtilence into that land, and pour out my ury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beaſt:
20 Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live, ſaith he Lord God, they ſhall deliver neither ſon nor daughter; they hall but deliver their own ſouls by their righteouſneſs.
21 For thus ſaith the Lord God, How much more when I ſend my four ſore judgments upon Jeruſalem, the ſword, and the famine, nd the noiſome beaſt, and the peſtilence, to cut off from it man nd beaſt?
22 ¶ Yet behold, therein ſhall be left a remnant that ſhall be brought forth, both ſons and daughters: behold, they ſhall come forth unto you, and ye ſhall ſee their way, and their doings: and ye ſhall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jeruſalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.
23 And they ſhall comfort you when ye ſee their ways and their doings: and ye ſhall know that I have not done without cauſe, all that I have done in it, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
2 Son of man, What is the vine-tree more than any tree, or than a branch which a is among the trees of the foreſt?
3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any veſſel thereon?
4 Behold, it is caſt into the fire for fewel; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midſt of it is burnt: is it meet for any work?
5 Behold, when it was whole it was meet for no work: how much leſs ſhall it be meet yet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?
6 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, As the vine-tree among the trees of the foreſt, which I have given to the fire for fewel, ſo will I give the inhabitants of Jeruſalem.
7 And I will ſet my face againſt them, they ſhall go out from one fire, and another fire ſhall devour them: and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſet my face againſt them.
8 And I will make the land deſolate, becauſe they have committed a treſpaſs, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XVI.

AGAIN the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
2 Son of man, cauſe Jeruſalem to know her abominations.
3 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God unto Jeruſalem, Thy birth, and thy nativity is of the land of Canaan, thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.
4 And as for thy nativity in the day thou waſt born, thy navel was not cut, neither waſt thou waſhed in water to ſupple thee: thou waſt not ſalted at all, nor ſwaddled at all.
5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of theſe unto thee, to have compaſſion upon thee; but thou waſt caſt out in the open field, to the loathing of thy perſon, in the day that thou waſt born.
6 ¶ And when I paſſed by thee, and ſaw thee polluted in thine own blood, I ſaid unto thee when thou waſt in thy blood, Live: yea, I ſaid unto thee when thou waſt in thy blood, Live.
7 I have cauſed thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou haſt increaſed and waxen great, and thou art come to excellent ornaments: thy breaſts are faſhioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou waſt naked and bare.
8 Now when I paſſed by thee, and looked upon thee, Behold, thy time was the time of love, and I ſpread my ſkirt over thee, and covered thy nakedneſs: yea, I ſware unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, ſaith the Lord God, and thou becameſt mine.
9 Then waſhed I thee with water: yea, I thoroughly waſhed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil.
10 I cloathed thee alſo with broidered work, and ſhod thee with badgers ſkin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with ſilk.
11 I decked thee alſo with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thine hands, and a chain on thy neck.
12 And I put a jewel on thy forehead, and ear-rings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.
13 Thus waſt thou decked with gold, and ſilver, and thy raiment was of fine linen, and ſilk, and broidered work; thou didſt eat fine flour, and honey, and oil: and thou waſt exceeding beautiful, and thou didſt proſper into a kingdom.
14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my comelineſs which I had put upon thee, ſaith the Lord God.
15 ¶ But thou didſt truſt in thine own beauty, and playedſt the harlot, becauſe of thy renown, and pouredſt out thy fornications on every one that paſſed by; his it was.
16 And of thy garments thou didſt take, and deckedſt thy high places with divers colours, and playedſt the harlot thereupon: the like things ſhall not come, neither ſhall it be ſo.
17 Thou haſt alſo taken thy fair jewels of my gold, and of ſilver, which I had given thee, and madeſt to thyſelf images of men, and didſt commit whoredom with them,
18 And

CHAP. XIV.] 9 I the Lord have deceived that prophet, &c.] That is, I have ſuffered him to be deceived. I have given him up to ſtrong deluſions, as a juſt judgment upon him for going after idols, and ſetting up falſe pretences to inſpiration.
22 Yet behold, therein ſhall be left a remnant that ſhall be brought forth.] Notwithſtanding theſe ſore judgments, ſome ſhall eſcape, and be brought into Chaldea, to be your companions in captivity.
CHAP. XV.] 2 What is the vine-tree more than any tree, &c.] The Jewiſh church is often compared to a vine in the ſacred writings. The latter part of the verſe may be better rendered in the following manner; If it be as a branch which is among the trees of the foreſt. That is, if it prove unfruitful.
CHAP. XVI.] 3 Thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.] Thoſe are ſaid, in the ſcripture dialect, to be our parents whoſe manners we reſemble.
9 Then waſhed I thee with water----and I anointed thee with oil.] I added every thing that had the leaſt tendency to contribute to thy beauty and ornament. The anointing with oil was reckoned a neceſſary ingredient in a feſtival dreſs.
14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty, &c.] For the magnificence of the temple, called the beauty of holineſs, and honoured with God's eſpecial preſence.

18 And tookeſt thy broidered garments, and coveredſt them: and thou haſt ſet mine oil and mine incenſe before them.

19 My meat alſo which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou haſt even ſet it before them for a ſweet ſavour: and thus it was, ſaith the Lord God.

20 Moreover, thou haſt taken thy ſons and thy daughters, whom thou haſt born unto me, and theſe haſt thou ſacrificed unto them to be devoured: is this of thy whoredoms a ſmall matter,

21 That thou haſt ſlain thy children, and delivered them to cauſe them to paſs through the fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou haſt not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou waſt naked and bare, and waſt polluted in thy blood.

23 And it came to paſs after all thy wickedneſs (woe, woe unto thee ſaith the Lord God)

24 That thou haſt alſo built unto thee an eminent place, and haſt made thee an high place in every ſtreet.

25 Thou haſt built thy high place at every head of the way, and haſt made thy beauty to be abhorred, and haſt opened thy feet to every one that paſſed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.

26 Thou haſt alſo committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, great of fleſh, and haſt increaſed thy whoredoms, to provoke me to anger.

27 Behold, therefore I have ſtretched out my hand over thee, and have diminiſhed thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philiſtines, which are aſhamed of thy lewd way.

28 Thou haſt played the whore alſo with the Aſſyrians, becauſe thou waſt unſatiable: yea, thou haſt played the harlot with them, and yet couldeſt not be ſatisfied.

29 Thou haſt moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Canaan unto Chaldea, and yet thou waſt not ſatisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, ſaith the Lord God, ſeeing thou doſt all theſe things, the work of an imperious whoriſh woman?

31 In that thou buildeſt thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makeſt thine high place in every ſtreet, and haſt not been as an harlot (in that thou ſcorneſt hire)

32 But as a wife that committeth adultery, which taketh ſtrangers inſtead of her huſband.

33 They give gifts to all whores, but thou giveſt thy gifts to all thy lovers, and hireſt them, that they may come unto thee on every ſide for thy whoredom.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms: and in that thou giveſt a reward, and no reward is given unto thee; therefore thou art contrary.

35 ¶ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the Lord.

36 Thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe thy filthineſs was poured out, and thy nakedneſs diſcovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou didſt give unto them;

37 Behold, therefore I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou haſt taken pleaſure, and all them that thou haſt loved, with all them that thou haſt hated: I will even gather them round about againſt thee, and will diſcover thy nakedneſs unto them, that they may ſee all thy nakedneſs.

38 And I will judge thee as women that break wedlock, and ſhed blood, are judged, and I will give thee blood in fury and jealouſy.

39 And I will alſo give thee into their hand, and they ſhall throw down thine eminent place, and ſhall break down thy high places: they ſhall ſtrip thee alſo of thy cloaths, and ſhall take thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 They ſhall alſo bring up a company againſt thee, and they ſhall ſtone thee with ſtones, and thruſt thee through with their ſwords.

41 And they ſhall burn thine houſes with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the ſight of many women: and I will cauſe thee to ceaſe from playing the harlot, and thou alſo ſhalt give no hire any more.

42 So will I make my fury towards thee to reſt, and my jealouſy ſhall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Becauſe thou haſt not remembered the days of thy youth, but haſt fretted me in all theſe things; behold therefore I alſo will recompenſe thy way upon thine head, ſaith the Lord God, and thou ſhalt not commit this lewdneſs, above all thine abominations.

44 ¶ Behold, every one that uſeth proverbs, ſhall uſe this proverb againſt thee, ſaying, As is the mother, ſo is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mother's daughter, that loatheth her huſband and her children, and thou art the ſiſter of thy ſiſters, which loathed their huſbands, and their children: your mother was an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder ſiſter is Samaria, ſhe and her daughters that dwell at thy left hand: and thy younger ſiſter that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters.

47 Yet haſt thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but as if that were a very little thing, thou waſt corrupted more than they in all thy ways.

48 As I live, ſaith the Lord God, Sodom thy ſiſter hath not done, ſhe nor her daughters, as thou haſt done, thou and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy ſiſter Sodom, Pride, fulneſs of bread, and abundance of idleneſs was in her, and in her daughters, neither did ſhe ſtrengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I ſaw good.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy ſins; but thou haſt multiplied thine abominations more than they, and haſt juſtified thy ſiſters in all thine abominations which thou haſt done.

52 Thou alſo which haſt judged thy ſiſters, bear thine own ſhame for thy ſins that thou haſt committed more abominable than they: they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou confounded alſo, and bear thy ſhame, in that thou haſt juſtified thy ſiſters.

53 When I ſhall bring again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midſt of them:

54 That thou mayeſt bear thine own ſhame, and mayeſt be confounded in all that thou haſt done, in that thou art a comfort unto them

55 When thy ſiſters, Sodom and her daughters ſhall return to their former eſtate, and Samaria and her daughters ſhall return to their former eſtate, then thou and thy daughters ſhall return to your former eſtate.

56 For thy ſiſter Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride:

57 Before thy wickedneſs was diſcovered, as at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria, and all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philiſtines which deſpiſe thee round about.

58 Thou haſt borne thy lewdneſs, and thine abominations, ſaith the Lord.

59 For thus ſaith the Lord God, I will even deal with thee as thou haſt done, which haſt deſpiſed the oath in breaking the covenant.

60 ¶ Nevertheleſs, I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will eſtabliſh unto thee an everlaſting covenant.

61 Then thou ſhalt remember thy ways, and be aſhamed, when thou ſhalt receive thy ſiſters, thine elder and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62 And I will eſtabliſh my covenant with thee, and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord:

63 That thou mayeſt remember and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more, becauſe of thy ſhame, when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou haſt done, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XVII.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, put forth a riddle, and ſpeak a parable unto the houſe of Iſrael;

3 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, A great eagle with great wings, long-winged, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the higheſt branch of the cedar:

4 He cropt off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffick; he ſet it in a city of merchants.

5 He took alſo of the ſeed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field, he placed it by great waters, and ſet it as a willow-tree.

6 And it grew, and became a ſpreading vine of low ſtature, whoſe branches turned toward him, and roots thereof were under him: ſo it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and ſhot forth ſprigs.

7 There was alſo another great eagle, with great wings and many feathers: and behold, this vine did bend her roots toward him, and ſhot forth her branches towards him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good ſoil by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

22 Thou haſt not remembered the days of thy youth, &c.] Thou haſt forgot the miſerable condition from which I reſcued thee, when I firſt took thee under my protection, and ſet thee apart for mine own inheritance.

46 And thine elder ſiſter is Samaria, ſhe and her daughters that dwell at thy left hand, &c.] Samaria is called the elder ſiſter of Jeruſalem, as being the capital city of the ten tribes, a much larger kingdom than that of Judah, of which Jeruſalem was the metropolis.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed half thy ſins, &c.] The ingratitude of Jeruſalem was greater than that of Samaria, becauſe God had placed his name there, whoſe worſhip they forſook, and profaned the temple by placing idols in 62 And thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord.] I will then be as conſpicuous my mercies as I was before in my judgments.

CHAP. XVII.] 2 Put forth a riddle, &c. That is, a continued metaph or figurative ſpeech.

3 A great eagle with great wings, &c.] That is, the king of Babylon. Co querors are, in other parts of ſcripture, reſembled to eagles, which are birds prey, and remarkable for their ſwiftneſs.

10 Sh

9 Say thou, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Shall it proſper? ſhall not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that withers? it ſhall wither in all the leaves of her ſpring, even with-t great power, or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.
10 Yea, behold, being planted, ſhall it proſper? ſhall it not terly wither, when the eaſt-wind toucheth it? it ſhall wither the furrows where it grew.
11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
12 Say now to the rebellious houſe, Know ye not what theſe ings mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to eruſalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes there-
, and led them with him to Babylon;
13 And hath taken of the king's ſeed, and made a covenant ith him, and hath taken an oath of him: he hath alſo taken the ighty of the land:
14 That the kingdom might be baſe, that it might not lift itſelf
p, but that by keeping of his covenant it might ſtand.
15 But he rebelled againſt him in ſending his ambaſſadors into gypt, that they might give him horſes and much people: ſhall e proſper? ſhall he eſcape that doth ſuch things? or ſhall he break he covenant, and be delivered?
16 As I live, ſaith the Lord God, ſurely in the place where the ing dwelleth that made him king, whoſe oath he deſpiſed, and whoſe covenant he brake, even with him, in the midſt of Babylon, e ſhall die.
17 Neither ſhall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great comany make for him in the war by caſting up mounts, and building orts, to cut off many perſons.
18 Seeing he deſpiſed the oath, by breaking the covenant (when o, he had given his hand) and hath done all theſe things, he ſhall ot eſcape.
19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, As I live, ſurely mine oath that he hath deſpiſed, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompenſe upon his own head.
20 And I will ſpread my net upon him, and he ſhall be taken n my ſnare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with im there for his treſpaſs that he hath treſpaſſed againſt me.
21 And all his fugitives with all his bands ſhall fall by the ſword, and they that remain, ſhall be ſcattered towards all winds, and ye ſhall know that I the Lord have ſpoken it.
22 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will alſo take of the higheſt branch of the high cedar, and will ſet it, I will crop off from the top of his young twigs a tender one, and will plant it upon an high monntain and eminent.
23 In the mountain of the height of Iſrael will I plant it: and it ſhall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar:
and under it ſhall dwell all fowl of every wing, in the ſhadow of the branches thereof ſhall they dwell 24 And all the trees of the field ſhall know that I the Lord have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flouriſh: I the Lord have ſpoken and have done it.

CHAP. XVIII.

THE word of the Lord came unto me again, ſaying,
2 What mean ye, that ye uſe this proverb concerning the land of Iſrael, ſaying, The fathers have eaten ſour grapes, and the children's teeth are ſet on edge?
3 As I live, ſaith the Lord God, ye ſhall not have occaſion any more to uſe this proverb in Iſrael.
4 Behold, all ſouls are mine, as the ſoul of the father, ſo alſo the ſoul of the ſon is mine: the ſoul that ſinneth, it ſhall die.
5 ¶ But if a man be juſt, and do that which is lawful and right,
6 And hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the houſe of Iſrael, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a menſtruous woman, 7 And hath not oppreſſed any, but hath reſtored to the debtor his pledge, hath ſpoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment, 8 He that hath not given forth upon uſury, neither hath taken any increaſe, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgment between man and man, 9 Hath walked in my ſtatutes, and hath kept my judgments to deal truly; he is juſt, he ſhall ſurely live, ſaith the Lord God.
10 ¶ If he beget a ſon that is a robber, a ſhedder of blood, and that doth the like to any one of theſe things, 11 And that doth not any of theſe duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife, 12 Hath oppreſſed the poor and needy, hath ſpoiled by violence, hath not reſtored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination, 13 Hath given forth upon uſury, and hath taken increaſe:
ſhall he then live? he ſhall not live: he hath done all theſe abominations, he ſhall ſurely die, his blood ſhall be upon him.
14 ¶ Now lo, if he beget a ſon that ſeeth all his fathers ſins which he hath done, and conſidereth, and doth not ſuch like, 15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the houſe of Iſrael, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,
16 Neither hath oppreſſed any, hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath ſpoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment, 17 That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received uſury nor increaſe, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my ſtatutes; he ſhall not die for the iniquity of his father, he ſhall ſurely live.
18 As for his father, becauſe he cruelly oppreſſed, ſpoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even he ſhall die in his iniquity.
19 ¶ Yet ſay ye, Why? doth not the ſon bear the iniquity of the father? when the ſon hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my ſtatutes, and hath done them, he ſhall ſurely live.
20 The ſoul that ſinneth, it ſhall die: the ſon ſhall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither ſhall the father bear the iniquity of the ſon; the righteouſneſs of the righteous ſhall be upon him, and the wickedneſs of the wicked ſhall be upon him.
21 But if the wicked will turn from all his ſins that he hath committed, and keep all my ſtatutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he ſhall ſurely live, he ſhall not die.
22 All his tranſgreſſions that he hath committed, they ſhall not be mentioned unto him: in his righteouſneſs that he hath done, he ſhall live.
23 Have I any pleaſure at all that the wicked ſhould die? ſaith the Lord God: and not that he ſhould return from his ways and live?
24 ¶ But when the righteous turneth away from his righteouſneſs, and committeth iniquity, and doth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doth, ſhall he live? all his righ-teouſneſs that he hath done ſhall not be mentioned: in his treſpaſs that he hath treſpaſſed, and in his ſin that he hath ſinned, in them ſhall he die.
25 ¶ Yet ye ſay, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O houſe of Iſrael, Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?
26 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteouſneſs, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done, ſhall he die.
27 Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wick-edneſs that he hath committed, and doth that which is lawful and right, he ſhall ſave his ſoul alive.
28 Becauſe he conſidereth, and turneth away from all his tranſ-greſſions that he hath committed, he ſhall ſurely live, he ſhall not die.
29 Yet ſaith the houſe of Iſrael, the way of the Lord is not equal. O houſe of Iſrael, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?
30 Therefore I will judge you, O houſe of Iſrael, every one according to his ways, ſaith the Lord God: repent, and turn your-ſelves from all your tranſgreſſions; ſo iniquity ſhall not be your ruin.
31 ¶ Caſt away from you all your tranſgreſſions, whereby ye have tranſgreſſed, and make you a new heart, and a new ſpirit;
for why will ye die, O houſe of Iſrael?
32 For I have no pleaſure in the death of him that dieth, ſaith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourſelves, and live ye.

CHAP. XIX.

MOreover, take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Iſrael,
2 And ſay, What is thy mother? a lioneſs: ſhe lay down among young lions, ſhe nouriſhed her whelps among young lions.
3 And ſhe brought up one of her whelps: it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey, it devoured men.

10 Shall it not utterly wither, when the eaſt wind toucheth it? &c.] The prophet compares the Chaldean army to a parching wind that blaſts the fruits of the earth, withers the leaves of the trees, and makes every thing look naked and bare 23 And under it ſhall dwell all fowl of every wing, &c.] That is, of every kind. A powerful and eaſy government is a ſhelter and ſecurity to all its ſubjects. And ſuch ſhall be the kingdom of Chriſt to all who ſubmit themſelves to his law.

CHAP. XVIII.] 2 The fathers have eaten four grapes, and the children's teeth are ſet on edge.] That is, the preſent generation is puniſhed for the offences of their forefathers, particularly for the ſins committed during the reign of Manaſſeh king of Judah.

3 As I live, ſaith the Lord God, ye ſhall not have occaſion any more to uſe this proverb in Iſrael.] I will ſo viſibly diſtinguiſh between the righteous and the wicked, that you ſhall have no farther occaſion to uſe this proverb among you. God expreſsly threatens to viſit the ſins of the fathers upon the children; but this is to be underſtood only with regard to temporal, not eternal puniſhments.

4 The ſoul that ſinneth, it ſhall die.] The wages of ſin is death; and all men being ſinners, the ſentence of temporal death paſſeth equally upon them all.

13 His blood ſhall be upon him.] His deſtruction is owing wholly to himſelf.

26, 27 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteouſneſs, &c.] An opinion prevailed among the Jews, that at the day of judgment a conſiderable number of good actions would overbalance men's evil ones. In oppoſition to this doctrine, God here declares, that a righteous man's ſinning, and not repenting, ſhould die in his ſins; and the wicked man, upon repenting, ſhould ſave his ſoul alive.

CHAP. XIX.] 2 What is thy mother? a lioneſs, &c.] The land of Judah, thy native country, is become cruel and bloody, and hath taught her princes and rulers to govern by tyranny and oppreſſion.

CHAP.

4 The nations also heard of him, he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains into the land of Egypt.

5 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

6 And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

7 And he knew their desolate palaces, and he laid waste their cities, and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof by the noise of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him: he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in ward in chains, and brought him to the king of Babylon; they brought him into holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

10 ¶ Thy mother is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters, she was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters.

11 And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bear rule, and her stature was exalted among the thick branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the east-wind dried up her fruit: her strongs rods were broken and withered, the fire consumed them.

13 And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule: this is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAP. XX.

AND it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to enquire of the Lord, and sat before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I live, saith the Lord God, I will not be enquired of by you.

4 Wilt thou judge them, Son of man, wilt thou judge them? cause them to know the abominations of their fathers:

5 ¶ And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the Lord your God,

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands:

7 Then said I unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said, I will pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them. in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

10 ¶ Wherefore I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them my statutes, and shewed them my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them.

12 Moreover also, I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctify them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they despised my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them; and my sabbaths they greatly polluted; then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness to consume them.

14 But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands:

16 Because they despised my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, but polluted my sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Nevertheless, mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderness.

18 But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols.

19 I am the Lord your God; walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments and do them:

20 And hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he shall even live in them: they polluted my sabbaths: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them, in the wilderness.

22 Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries;

24 Because they had not executed my judgments, but had despised my statutes, and had polluted my sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idols.

25 Wherefore I gave them also statutes that were not good, and judgments whereby they should not live.

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass through the fire, all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end, that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 ¶ Therefore, Son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Yet in this your fathers have blasphemed me, in that they have committed a trespass against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering: there also they made their sweet savour, and poured out there their drink offerings.

29 Then I said unto them, What is the high place whereunto ye go? and the name thereof is called Bamah unto this day.

30 Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves, with all your idols, even unto this day: and shall I be enquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord God, I will not be enquired of by you.

32 And that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.

33 ¶ As I live, saith the Lord God, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched-out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you.

34 And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched-out arm, and with fury poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God

37 And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

38 And I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them forth out of the country where they sojourn, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, Go ye, serve ye every one his idols, and hereafter also if ye will not hearken unto me: but pollute ye my holy name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

40 For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them in the land serve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the first-fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept you with your sweet savour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered, and I will be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.

43 And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have been defiled, and ye shall loath yourselves in your own sight, for all your evils that ye have committed.

44 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have wrought with you for my name's sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor CHAP. XX.] 6 Flowing with milk and honey, &c.] Judea is often stiled a land flowing with milk and honey, both on account of its own fruitfulness, the seed often producing an hundred fold, and also from God's peculiar blessing on it.

39 Go ye, serve ye every one his idols, &c.] An ironical permission, full of indignation and rebuke, sharply upbraiding them for despising those many warnings God hath given them.

nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye houſe of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord God.

45 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
46 Son of man, ſet thy face toward the ſouth, and drop thy word toward the ſouth, and prophecy againſt the foreſt of the ſouth-field;
47 And ſay to the foreſt of the ſouth, Hear the word of the Lord, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it ſhall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame ſhall not be quenched, and all faces from the ſouth to the north ſhall be burnt therein.
48 And all fleſh ſhall ſee that I the Lord have kindled it: it ſhall not be quenched.
49 Then ſaid I, Ah Lord God, they ſay of me, Doth he not ſpeak parables?

CHAP. XXI.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
2 Son of man, ſet thy face toward Jeruſalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophecy againſt the land of Iſrael,
3 And ſay to the land of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord, behold, I am againſt thee, and will draw forth my ſword out of his ſheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked.
4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore ſhall my ſword go forth out of his ſheath, againſt all fleſh from the ſouth to the north:
5 That all fleſh may know that I the Lord have drawn forth my ſword out of his ſheath: it ſhall not return any more.
6 Sigh therefore, thou Son of man, with the breaking of thy loins; and with bitterneſs ſigh before their eyes.
7 And it ſhall be when they ſay unto thee, Wherefore ſigheſt thou? that thou ſhalt anſwer, For the tidings, becauſe it cometh: and every heart ſhall melt, and all hands ſhall be feeble, and every ſpirit ſhall faint, and all knees ſhall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and ſhall be brought to paſs, ſaith the Lord God.
8 ¶ Again, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
9 Son of man, prophecy and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord; ſay, A ſword, a ſword is ſharpened, and alſo furbiſhed.
10 It is ſharpened to make a ſore ſlaughter, it is furbiſhed that it may glitter: ſhould we then make mirth? it contemneth the rod of my Son, as every tree.
11 And he hath given it to be furbiſhed, that it may be handled: the ſword is ſharpened, and it is furbiſhed to give it into the hand of the ſlayer,
12 Cry and howl, Son of man, for it ſhall be upon my people, it ſhall be upon all the princes of Iſrael: terrors, by reaſon of the ſword, ſhall be upon my people: ſmite therefore upon thy thigh.
13 Becauſe it is a trial, and what if the ſword contemn even the rod? it ſhall be no more, ſaith the Lord God.
14 Thou therefore, Son of man, prophecy, and ſmite thine hands together, and let the ſword be doubled the third time, the ſword of the ſlain, it is the ſword of the great men that are ſlain, which, entereth into their privy chambers.
15 I have ſet the point of the ſword againſt all their gates, that their heart may faint, and their ruins be multiplied: ah, it is made bright, it is wrapt up for the ſlaughter.
16 Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, or on the left, whitherſoever thy face is ſet.
17 I will alſo ſmite mine hands together, and I will cauſe my fury to reſt: I the Lord have ſaid it.
18 ¶ The word of the Lord came unto me again, ſaying,
19 Alſo thou, Son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the ſword of the king of Babylon may come: both twain ſhall come forth out of one land, and chooſe thou a place, chooſe it at the head of the way to the city.
20 Appoint a way that the ſword may come to Rabbath of the Ammonites, and to Judah in Jeruſalem the defenced.
21 For the king of Babylon ſtood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to uſe divination: he made his arrows bright, he conſulted with images, he looked in the liver.
22 At his right hand was the divination for Jeruſalem to appoint captains to open the mouth in the ſlaughter, to lift up the voice with ſhouting, to appoint battering rams, againſt the gates, to caſt a mount and to build a fort.
23 And it ſhall be unto them as a falſe divination in their ſight, to them that have ſworn oaths: but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.
24 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your tranſgreſſions are diſcovered, ſo that in all your doings your ſins do appear: becauſe, I ſay, that ye are come to remembrance, ye ſhall be taken with the hand.
25 ¶ And thou, profane wicked prince of Iſrael, whoſe day is come, when iniquity ſhall have an end,
26 Thus ſaith the Lord God; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this ſhall not be the ſame; exalt him that is low, and abaſe him that is high.
27 I will overturn, overturn, overturn it, and it ſhall be no more until he come whoſe right it is, and I will give it him.
28 ¶ And thou, Son of man, prophecy and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach: even ſay thou, The ſword, the ſword is drawn: for the ſlaughter it is furbiſhed, to conſume becauſe of the glittering:
29 While they ſee vanity unto thee, while they divine a lye unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are ſlain, of the wicked whoſe day is come, when their iniquity ſhall have an end.
30 Shall I cauſe it to return into his ſheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou waſt created, in the land of thy nativity.
31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow againſt thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of brutiſh men, and ſkilful to deſtroy.
32 Thou ſhalt be for fewel to the fire: thy blood ſhall be in the midſt of the land, thou ſhalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord have ſpoken it.

CAAP. XXII.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
2 Now thou, Son of man, wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge the bloody city? yea, thou ſhalt ſhew her all her abominations.
3 Then ſay thou, Thus ſaith the Lord God, The city ſheddeth blood in the midſt of it, that her time may come, and maketh idols againſt herſelf to defile herſelf.
4 Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou haſt ſhed, and haſt defiled thyſelf in thine idols, which thou haſt made, and thou haſt cauſed thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years; therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.
5 Thoſe that be near, and thoſe that be far from thee, ſhall mock thee, which are infamous, and much vexed.
6 Behold, the princes of Iſrael, every one were in thee to their power to ſhed blood,
7 In thee have they ſet light by father and mother: in the midſt of thee have they dealt by oppreſſion with the ſtranger: in thee have they vexed the fatherleſs and the widow.
8 Thou haſt deſpiſed mine holy things, and haſt profaned my ſabbaths.
9 In thee are men that carry tales to ſhed blood: and in thee they eat upon the mountains: in the midſt of thee they commit lewdneſs.
10 In thee have they diſcovered their fathers nakedneſs: in thee have they humbled her that was ſet apart for pollution.
11 And one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife, and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law, and another in thee hath humbled his ſiſter, his father's daughter.
12 In thee have they taken gifts to ſhed blood: thou haſt taken uſury, and increaſe, and thou haſt greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and haſt forgotten me, ſaith the Lord God.
13 ¶ Behold therefore, I have ſmitten mine hand at thy diſhoneſt gain which thou haſt made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midſt of thee.
14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be ſtrong in the days that I ſhall deal with thee? I the Lord have ſpoken it, and will do it.
15 And I will ſcatter thee among the heathen, and diſperſe thee in the countries. and will conſume thy filthineſs out of thee.
16 And thou ſhalt take thine inheritance in thyſelf in the ſight of the heathen, and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord.
17 And the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
18 Son of man, the houſe of Iſrael is to me become droſs, all they are braſs, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midſt of the furnace, they are even the droſs of ſilver.
19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe ye are all become droſs, behold therefore, I will gather you into the midſt of Jeruſalem.
20 As they gather ſilver, and braſs, and iron, and lead, and tin into the midſt of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; ſo will I gather you in mine anger, and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and melt you.
21 Yea,

47 I will kindle a fire in thee, and it ſhall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree, &c.] Fire is often taken in a general ſenſe for God's ſevere judgments; but it here ſeems particularly to denote the deſtruction of Jeruſalem by fire.

Chap. XXI.] 14 And let the ſword be doubled a third time, &c.] This expreſſion ſeems to import, firſt the ſlaughter made at the ſiege, then thoſe that were ſlain at the taking of the city, and thirdly, thoſe who were ſlain with Gedaliah.

27 And it ſhall be no more until he come, whoſe right it is, and I will give it him.] After Zedekiah is deprived of his legal authority, there ſhall be no more kings of that family, till the coming of the Meſſiah.

Chap. XXII.] 9 In thee are men that carry tales to ſhed blood, &c.] Thoſe who bear falſe witneſs againſt men in capital caſes.

12 In thee have they taken gifts to ſhed blood, &c.] The judges have taken bribes, not only to pervert juſtice, but even to take away the lives of the innocent.

21 Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the Lord have poured out my fury upon you.

23 ¶ And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they have devoured souls: they have taken the treasure and precious things: they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

26 Her priests have violated my law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and profane, neither have they shewed difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, to get dishoneſt gain.

28 And her prophets have daubed them with untempered mortar, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord hath not spoken.

29 The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have oppressed the stranger wrongfully.

30 And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none.

31 Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them, I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were two women the daughters of one mother.

3 And they committed whoredom in Egypt, they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of them were, Aholah the elder, and Aholibah the sister: and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Jerusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when she was mine, and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were the chosen men of Assyria, and with all on whom she doted, with all their idols she defiled herself.

8 Neither left she her whoredoms brought from Egypt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.

9 Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians, upon whom she doted.

10 These discovered her nakedness, they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became famous among women, for they had executed judgment upon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she was more corrupt in her inordinate love than she, and in her whoredoms more than her sister in her whoredoms.

12 She doted upon the Assyrians her neighbours, captains and rulers clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way,

14 And that she increased her whoredoms: for when she saw men pourtrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans pourtrayed with vermilion,

15 Girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look to, after the manner of the Babylonians of Chaldea, the land of their nativity:

16 And as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea.

17 And the Babylonians came to her in the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her mind was alienated from them.

18 So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness: then my mind was alienated from her, like as my mind was alienated from her sister.

19 Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in bruising thy teats by the Egyptians, for the paps of thy youth.

22 ¶ Therefore, O Aholibah, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy mind is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side;

23 The Babylonians, and all the Chaldeans, Pekod, and Shoa, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: all of them desirable young men, captains and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them riding upon horses.

24 And they shall come against thee with chariots, waggons, and wheels, and with an assembly of people which shall set against thee buckler and shield, and helmet round about: and I will set judgment before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments.

25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall take away thy nose, and thine ears, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels.

27 Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy mind is alienated.

29 And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare, and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister, therefore will I give her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn, and had in derision; it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt even drink it, and suck it out, and thou shalt break the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness, and thy whoredoms.

36 ¶ The Lord said moreover unto me, Son of man, wilt thou judge Aholah and Aholibah? yea, declare unto them their abominations;

37 That they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons whom they bare unto me, to pass for them through the fire to devour them.

38 Moreover, this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

40 And furthermore, that ye have sent for men to come from far, unto whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came, for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments.

41 And satt'est upon a stately bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her, and with the men of the common sort were brought Sabeans from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then said I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit whoredoms with her, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto Aholah and unto Aholibah the lewd women.

45 ¶ Aud the righteous men, they shall judge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46 For

28 And her prophets have daubed them with untempered mortar, &c.] Have endeavoured to conceal the practices of great men, by palliating their vices.

CHAP. XXIII.] 2 There were two women, the daughters of one mother.] Countries are generally represented as mothers of their people, and the inhabitants as their children. Accordingly Samaria and Jerusalem are described in this chapter as sisters, the offspring of the same land or country.

4 And the names of them were, Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister.] Samariah is Aholah, and Jerusalem Aholibah.

25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, &c.] They shall punish thee, with which a man in the rage of jealousy shall treat a wife that hath been unfaithful to him.

41 And satt'est upon a stately bed, and a table prepared before it, &c.] The expressions denote their sitting down with idolaters, and partaking of their sacrifices.

CHAP.

46 For thus saith the Lord God, I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them to be removed and spoiled.
47 And the company shall stone them with stones, and dispatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.
48 Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness.
49 And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIV.

AGAIN in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, Write thee the name of the day, even of this same day: the king of Babylon set himself against Jerusalem this same day.
3 And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Set on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it.
4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder, fill it with the choice bones.
5 Take the choice of the flock, and burn also the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let them seethe the bones of it therein.
6 ¶ Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose scum is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it; bring it out piece by piece, let no lot fall upon it.
7 For her blood is in the midst of her, she set it upon the top of a rock, she poured it not upon the ground to cover it with dust;
8 That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance: I have set her blood upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.
9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Woe to the bloody city, I will even make the pile for fire great.
10 Heap on wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and spice it well, and let the bones be burnt.
11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the scum of it may be consumed.
12 She hath wearied herself with lyes, and her great scum went not forth out of her: her scum shall be in the fire.
13 In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.
14 I the Lord have spoken it, it shall come to pass, and I will do it, I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings shall they judge thee, saith the Lord.
15 ¶ Also the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears run down.
17 Forbear to cry, make no mourning for the dead, bind the tire of thine head upon thee, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men.
18 So I spake unto the people in the morning, and at even my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded.
19 ¶ And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou dost so?
20 Then I answered them, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
21 Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pitieth; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left, shall fall by the sword.
22 And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men.
23 And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep, but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one towards another.
24 Thus Ezekiel is unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done shall ye do: and when this cometh, ye shall know that I am the Lord God.
25 Also thou, Son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereupon they set their minds, their sons and their daughters;
26 That he that escapeth in that day, shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears?
27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak and be no more dumb, and thou shalt be a sign unto them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXV.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, set thy face against the Ammonites, and prophecy against them;
3 And say unto the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned, and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate, and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity;
4 Behold therefore, I will deliver thee to the men of the east for a possession, and they shall set their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk.
5 And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the Ammonites a couching-place for flocks: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.
6 For thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast clapped thine hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced in heart with all thy despite against the land of Israel;
7 Behold therefore, I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the heathen, and I will cut thee off from the people, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.
8 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the heathen:
9 Therefore, Behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country Beth-jesimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim,
10 Unto the men of the east with the Ammonites, and will give them in possession, that the Ammonites may not be remembered among the nations.
11 And I will execute judgments upon Moab, and they shall know that I am the Lord.
12 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance and hath greatly offended, and revenged himself upon them:
13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will also stretch out mine hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beast from it, and I will make it desolate from Teman, and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.
14 And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger and according to my fury, and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God.
15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with a despiteful heart, to destroy it for the old hatred;
16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the sea-coast.
17 And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebuke; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

CHAP. XXVI.

AND it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, because that Tyrus hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken that was the gates of the people: she is turned unto me, I shall be replenished, now she is laid waste:
3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I am against thee, O Tyrus, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up.
4 And they shall destroy the walls of Tyrus, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.
5 It shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shall become a spoil to the nations.
6 And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain by the sword, and they shall know that I am the Lord.
7 ¶ For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring upon Tyrus Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, a king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and much people.
8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he

CHAP. XXIV.] 7 She poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust, &c.] The words allude to the command of the law, that they should cover the blood of any beast, or other living creature with dust. A precept intended not only to prevent their eating blood, but also to give them a kind of horror at the sight of shedding it.
23 Ye shall not mourn nor weep, &c.] These terrible judgments shall strike you with astonishment, and fill you with such poignant grief, as is too great to be expreſt by words or actions.
CHAP. XXV.] 4 I will deliver thee to the men of the east for a possession, &c.] By the men of the east are meant the Chaldeans, which lay to the east of the country of the Ammonites.
12 Because that Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, &c.] The Idumeans being the posterity of Esau, bare an inveterate malice against the Jews, on account of their ancestor losing his birth-right, and the reduction of Edom afterwards by David.
CHAP. XXVI.] 4, 5 I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock, &c.] I will entirely destroy all her buildings; so that not so much as the dust of them shall be left, and nothing shall appear but the rocks on the sea-shore, where the city formerly stood.

he ſhall make a fort againſt thee, and caſt a mount againſt thee, and liſt up the buckler againſt thee.

9 And he ſhall ſet engines of war againſt thy walls, and with his axes he ſhall break down thy towers.

10 By reaſon of the abundance of his horſes, their duſt ſhall cover thee, thy walls ſhall ſhake at the noiſe of the horſemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he ſhall enter into thy gates, as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horſes ſhall he tread down all thy ſtreets; he ſhall ſlay thy people by the ſword, and thy ſtrong garriſons ſhall go down to the ground.

12 And they ſhall make a ſpoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandiſe, and they ſhall break down thy walls, and deſtroy thy pleaſant houſes, and they ſhall lay thy ſtones, and thy timber, and thy duſt in the midſt of the water.

13 And I will cauſe the noiſe of thy ſongs to ceaſe, and the ſound of thy harps ſhall be no more heard.

14 And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou ſhalt be a place to ſpread nets upon: thou ſhalt be built no more: for I the Lord have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord God.

15 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God to Tyrus, Shall not the iſles ſhake at the ſound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the ſlaughter is made in the midſt of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the ſea ſhall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments: they ſhall cloath themſelves with trembling, they ſhall ſit upon the ground, and ſhall tremble at every moment, and be aſtoniſhed at thee.

17 And they ſhall take up a lamentation for thee, and ſay to thee, How art thou deſtroyed that waſt inhabited of ſea-faring men, the renowned city which was ſtrong in the ſea, ſhe and her inhabitants, which cauſe their terror to be on all that haunt it?

18 Now all the iſles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the iſles that are in the ſea ſhall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus ſaith the Lord God, When I ſhall make thee a deſolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited, when I ſhall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters ſhall cover thee;

20 When I ſhall bring thee down, with them that deſcend into the pit, with the people of old time, and ſhall ſet thee in the low parts of the earth, in places deſolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited, and I ſhall ſet glory in the land of the living:

21 I will make thee a terror, and thou ſhalt be no more: though thou be ſought for, yet ſhalt thou never be found again, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXVII.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, ſaying,

2 Now thou, Son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyrus;

3 And ſay unto Tyrus, O thou that art ſituate at the entry of the ſea, which art a merchant of the people for many iſles, Thus ſaith the Lord God, O Tyrus, thou haſt ſaid, I am of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the midſt of the ſeas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They have made all thy ſhip-boards of fir-trees of Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon, to make maſts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Baſhan have they made thine oars: the company of the Aſhurites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of the iſles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with broidered work from Egypt, was that which thou ſpreadeſt forth to be thy ſail; blue and purple from the iſles of Eliſhah, was that which covered thee.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy mariners: thy wiſe men, O Tyrus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, and the wiſe men thereof were in thee thy calkers, all the ſhips of the ſea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandiſe.

10 They of Perſia, and of Lud, and of Phut were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged the ſhield and helmet in thee, they ſet forth thy comelineſs.

11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadims were in thy towers; they hanged their ſhields upon thy walls, round about; they have made thy beauty perfect.

12 Tarſhiſh was thy merchant by reaſon of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with ſilver, iron, tin, and lead they traded in thy fairs.

13 Javan, Tubal, and Meſhech, they were thy merchants: they traded the perſons of men, and veſſels of braſs in thy market.

14 They of the houſe of Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horſes, and horſemen and mules.

15 The men of Dedan were thy merchants, many iſles were the merchandiſe of thine hand: they brought thee for a preſent, horns of ivory and ebony.

16 Syria was thy merchant by reaſon of the multitude of the wares of thy making: they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and agate.

17 Judah and the land of Iſrael they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market wheat of Minnith, and Pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm.

18 Damaſcus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches: in the wine of Helbon, and white wool.

19 Dan alſo and Javan going to and fro, occupied in thy fairs: bright iron, caſſia, and calamus were in thy market.

20 Dedan was thy merchant in precious cloaths for chariots.

21 Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats: in theſe were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy merchants: they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all ſpices, and with all precious ſtones, and gold.

23 Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Aſſhur, and Chilmad were thy merchants.

24 Theſe were thy merchants in all ſorts of things, in blue cloaths, and broidered work, and in cheſts of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar among thy merchandiſe.

25 The ſhips of Tarſhiſh did ſing of thee in thy market, and thou waſt repleniſhed, and made very glorious in the midſt of the ſeas.

26 ¶ Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the eaſt-wind hath broken thee in the midſt of the ſeas.

27 Thy riches and thy fairs, thy merchandiſe, thy mariners and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandiſe, and all thy men of war that are in thee, and in all thy company, which is in the midſt of thee, ſhall fall into the midſt of the ſeas, in the day of thy ruin.

28 The ſuburbs ſhall ſhake at the ſound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the ſea, ſhall come down from their ſhips, they ſhall ſtand upon the land;

30 And ſhall cauſe their voice to be heard againſt thee, and ſhall cry bitterly, and ſhall caſt up duſt upon their heads, they ſhall wallow themſelves in the aſhes:

31 And they ſhall make themſelves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with ſackcloth, and they ſhall weep for thee with bitterneſs of heart, and bitter wailing.

32 And in their wailing they ſhall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, ſaying, What city is like Tyrus, like the deſtroyed in the midſt of the ſea?

33 When thy wares went forth out of the ſeas, thou filledſt many people, thou didſt enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches, and of thy merchandiſe.

34 In the time when thou ſhalt be broken by the ſeas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandiſe and all thy company in the midſt of thee ſhall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the iſles, ſhall be aſtoniſhed at thee, and their kings ſhall be ſore afraid, they ſhall be troubled in their countenance.

36 The merchants among the people ſhall hiſs at thee, thou ſhalt be a terror, and never ſhalt be any more.

CHAP. XXVIII.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſay unto the prince of Tyrus, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe thine heart is lifted up, and thou haſt ſaid, I am a god, I ſit in the ſeat of God, in the midſt of the ſeas; yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou ſet thine heart as the heart of God:

3 Behold, thou art wiſer than Daniel; there is no ſecret that they can hide from thee:

4 With thy wiſdom, and with thine underſtanding thou haſt gotten thee riches, and haſt gotten gold and ſilver into thy treaſures:

5 By thy great wiſdom, and by thy traffic haſt thou increaſed thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up becauſe of thy riches:

6 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe thou haſt ſet thine heart as the heart of God,

7 Behold therefore, I will bring ſtrangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they ſhall draw their ſwords againſt the beauty of thy wiſdom, and they ſhall defile thy brightneſs.

8 They ſhall bring thee down to the pit, and thou ſhalt die the deaths of them that are ſlain in the midſt of the ſeas.

9 Wilt thou yet ſay before him that ſlayeth thee, I am God? but

---

21 I will make thee a terror, and thou ſhalt be no more, &c.] Thou ſhalt be left in ruin and deſolation, as a fearful example of my vengeance.

CHAP. XXVII.] 2 Take up a lamentation for Tyrus.] This alludes to the melancholy ſongs uſed at funerals, wherein the women recounted every thing that was valuable or praiſe-worthy in the deceaſed, and then lamented his loſs.

11 The Gammadims were in thy towers, &c.] It is uncertain what people are meant by the word Gammadims. Mr. Fuller ſuppoſes them to be Phœnicians: Ludolphus, that they were Africans; the Chaldee paraphraſt takes them to be Cappadocians; but Dr. Spencer is of opinion, that they were not men but images of their tutelar gods, like the Lares among the Romans.

25 The ſhips of Tarſhiſh did ſing of thee in thy market, &c.] Ships of Tarſhiſh is a general expreſſion for any trading or merchant ſhips.

CHAP. XXVIII.] 2 I am a god, I ſit in the ſeat of God, in the midſt of the ſeas, &c.] Some princes have been ſo extravagant as to affect divine honours, and this ſeems to have been the temper of the vain prince of Tyre: the words are an inſolent boaſt of ſelf-ſufficiency.

CHAP.

but thou ſhalt be a man, and no God in the hand of him that ſlayeth thee.

10 Thou ſhalt die the deaths of the uncircumciſed, by the hand of ſtrangers: for I have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord God.

11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Thou ſealeſt up the ſum, full of wiſdom and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou haſt been in Eden the garden of God; every precious ſtone was thy covering, the ſardius, topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jaſper, the ſapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanſhip of thy tabrets, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee, in the day that thou waſt created.

14 Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth; and I have ſet thee ſo; thou waſt upon the holy mountain of God; thou haſt walked up and down in the midſt of the ſtones of fire.

15 Thou waſt perfect in thy ways from the day that thou waſt created, till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandiſe they have filled the midſt of thee with violence, and thou haſt ſinned: therefore I will caſt thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will deſtroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midſt of the ſtones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted up becauſe of thy beauty, thou haſt corrupted thy wiſdom by reaſon of thy brightneſs: I will caſt thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou haſt defiled thy ſanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffic; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midſt of thee, it ſhall devour thee, and I will bring thee to aſhes, upon the earth, in the ſight of all them that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people, ſhall be aſtoniſhed at thee: thou ſhalt be a terror, and never ſhalt thou be any more.

20 ¶ Again the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

21 Son of man, ſet thy face againſt Zidon, and prophecy againſt it.

22 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I am againſt thee, O Zidon, and I will be glorified in the midſt of thee: and they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall have executed judgments in her, and ſhall be ſanctified in her.

23 For I will ſend unto her, peſtilence, and blood into her ſtreets, and the wounded ſhall be judged in the midſt of her, by the ſword upon her on every ſide; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

24 ¶ And there ſhall be no more a pricking brier unto the houſe of Iſrael, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them that deſpiſed them, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus ſaith the Lord God, when I ſhall have gathered the houſe of Iſrael from the people among whom they are ſcattered, and ſhall be ſanctified in them in the ſight of the heathen, then ſhall they dwell in their land, that I have given to my ſervant Jacob.

26 And they ſhall dwell ſafely therein, and ſhall build houſes, and plant vineyards: yea, they ſhall dwell with confidence when I have executed judgments upon all thoſe that deſpiſe them round about them, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXIX.

IN the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſet thy face againſt Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophecy againſt him, and againſt all Egypt.

3 Speak and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I am againſt thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon that lieth in the midſt of his rivers, which hath ſaid, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myſelf.

4 But I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cauſe the fiſh of thy rivers to ſtick unto thy ſcales, and I will bring thee up out of the midſt of thy rivers, and all the fiſh of thy rivers ſhall ſtick unto thy ſcales.

5 And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderneſs, thee and all the fiſh of thy rivers: thou ſhalt fall upon the open fields, thou ſhalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beaſts of the field, and to the fowls of the heaven:

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt ſhall know that I am the Lord, becauſe they have been a ſtaff of reed to the houſe of Iſrael.

7 When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didſt break, and rent all their ſhoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakeſt, and madeſt all their loins to be at a ſtand.

8 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a ſword upon thee, and cut off man and beaſt out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt ſhall be deſolate and waſte, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord; becauſe he hath ſaid, The river is mine, and I have made it.

10 Behold therefore, I am againſt thee, and againſt thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt utterly waſte and deſolate, from the tower of Syene even unto the border of Ethiopia.

11 No foot of man ſhall paſs through it, nor foot of beaſt ſhall paſs through it, neither ſhall it be inhabited forty years.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt deſolate in the midſt of the countries that are deſolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waſte, ſhall be deſolate forty years: and I will ſcatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will diſperſe them through the countries.

13 ¶ Yet thus ſaith the Lord God, At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the people whither they were ſcattered.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cauſe them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation, and they ſhall be there a baſe kingdom.

15 It ſhall be the baſeſt of the kingdoms, neither ſhall it exalt itſelf any more above the nations: for I will diminiſh them, that they ſhall no more rule over the nations.

16 And it ſhall be no more the confidence of the houſe of Iſrael, which bringeth their iniquity to remembrance, when they ſhall look after them: but they ſhall know that I am the Lord God.

17 ¶ And it came to paſs in the ſeven and twentieth year, in the firſt month, in the firſt day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

18 Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon cauſed his army to ſerve a great ſervice againſt Tyrus: every head was made bald, and every ſhoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army for Tyrus, for the ſervice that he had ſerved againſt it.

19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he ſhall take her multitude, and take her ſpoil, and take her prey, and it ſhall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt for his labour wherewith he ſerved againſt it, becauſe they wrought for me, ſaith the Lord God.

21 ¶ In that day will I cauſe the horn of the houſe of Iſrael to bud forth, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midſt of them, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, prophecy and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Howl ye, woe worth the day!

3 For the day is near, even the day of the Lord is near, a cloudy day, it ſhall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the ſword ſhall come upon Egypt, and great pain ſhall be in Ethiopia, when the ſlain ſhall fall in Egypt, and they ſhall take away her multitude, and her foundations ſhall be broken down.

5 Ethiopia, and Libya, and Lydia, and all the mingled people, and Chub, and the men of the land that is in league, ſhall fall with them by the ſword.

6 Thus ſaith the Lord, They alſo that uphold Egypt ſhall fall, and the pride of her power ſhall come down; from the tower of Syene ſhall they fall in it by the ſword, ſaith the Lord God.

7 And they ſhall be deſolate in the midſt of the countries that are deſolate, and her cities ſhall be in the midſt of the cities that are waſted.

8 And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I have ſet a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers ſhall deſtroyed.

9 In that day ſhall meſſengers go forth from me in ſhips, to make the careleſs Ethiopians afraid, and great pain ſhall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for lo, it cometh.

10 Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will alſo make the multitude of Egypt to ceaſe by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations ſhall be brought to deſtroy the land: and they ſhall draw their ſwords againſt Egypt, and fill the land with the ſlain.

12 And I will make the rivers dry, and ſell the land into the hand of the wicked, and I will make the land waſte, and all that is therein, by the hand of ſtrangers: I the Lord have ſpoken it.

13 Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will alſo deſtroy the idols, and I will cauſe their images to ceaſe out of Noph: and there ſhall be no

CHAP. XXVIII.] 13 Thou haſt been in Eden, the garden of God.] As thy ſituation was pleaſant, ſo thou waſt plentifully ſupplied with every thing that could contribute to render thy life pleaſant and agreeable. A ſtate of paradiſe in the common acceptation denotes a condition every way complete and happy; but this expreſſion alludes to the happineſs which Adam enjoyed in paradiſe before his fall.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandiſe they have filled the midſt of thee with violence, &c.] Thy ſkill in trade hath degenerated into violence, cheating, and extortion.

CHAP. XXIX.] 3 The great dragon that lieth in the midſt of his rivers, &c.] By the dragon is here meant the crocodile.

21 In that day will I cauſe the horn of the houſe of Iſrael to bud forth, &c.] The word horn implies ſtrength, and thence is uſed to denote proſperity or a flouriſhing condition. Here it ſignifies, that the kingdom and ſtate of Iſrael ſhould again flouriſh under the Meſſiah.

CHAP. XXX.] 3 A cloudy day.] When the calamities that are coming upon Egypt ſhall make every thing look dark and diſmal.

13 And I will cauſe their images to ceaſe out of Noph.] Noph or Memphis was one of the principal cities of Egypt, a ſeat of their kings, and a place where their ſepulchres were made. This place was famous for the worſhip of Apis or Oſyris; for which reaſon the prophet, in a very peculiar manner, denounces deſtruction to the idolatry of that place.

no more a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros deſolate, and will ſet fire in Zoan, and will execute judgments in No.

15 And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the ſtrength of Egypt, and I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 And I will ſet fire in Egypt, Sin ſhall have great pain, and No ſhall be rent aſunder, and Noph ſhall have diſtreſſes daily.

17 The young men of Aven and of Phi-beſeth ſhall fall by the ſword: and theſe cities ſhall go into captivity.

18 At Tehaphnehes alſo the day ſhall be darkened, when I ſhall break there the yokes of Egypt: and the pomp of her ſtrength ſhall ceaſe in her: as for her, a cloud ſhall cover her, and her daughters ſhall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt: and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

20 ¶ And it came to paſs in the eleventh year, in the firſt month, in the ſeventh day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

21 Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and lo, it ſhall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it ſtrong to hold the ſword.

22 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I am againſt Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the ſtrong, and that which was broken; and I will cauſe the ſword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will ſcatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will diſperſe them through the countries.

24 And I will ſtrengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my ſword in his hand: but I will break Pharaoh's arms, and he ſhall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man.

25 But I will ſtrengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh ſhall fall down: and they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall put my ſword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he ſhall ſtretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will ſcatter the Egyptians among the nations, and diſperſe them among the countries, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXI.

AND it came to paſs in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the firſt day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſpeak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whom art thou like in thy greatneſs?

3 ¶ Behold, the Aſſyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a ſhadowing ſhroud, and of an high ſtature, and his top was among the thick boughs.

4 The waters made him great, the deep ſet him up on high, with her rivers running round about his plants, and ſent out her little rivers unto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long, becauſe of the multitude of waters, when he ſhot forth.

6 All the fowls of heaven made their neſts in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beaſts of the field bring forth their young, and under his ſhadow dwelt all great nations.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatneſs, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir-trees were not like his boughs, and the cheſnut-trees were not like his branches; not any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.

9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: ſo that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe thou haſt lifted up thyſelf in height, and he hath ſhot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height:

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the heathen: he ſhall ſurely deal with him, I have driven him out for his wickedneſs.

12 And ſtrangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the vallies his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the rivers of the land, and all the people of the earth are gone down from his ſhadow, and have left him.

13 Upon his ruin ſhall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beaſts of the field ſhall be upon his branches:

14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themſelves for their height, neither ſhoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees ſtand up in their height, all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death to the nether parts of the earth in the midſt of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord God, In the day when he went down to the grave, I cauſed a mourning, I covered the deep for him, and I reſtrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were ſtayed; and I cauſed Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to ſhake at the ſound of his fall, when I caſt him down to hell with them that deſcend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and beſt of Lebanon, all that drink water, ſhall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They alſo went down into hell with him, unto them that be ſlain with the ſword, and they that were his arm, that dwelt under his ſhadow in the midſt of the heathen.

18 ¶ To whom art thou thus like in glory, and in greatneſs among the trees of Eden? yet ſhalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou ſhalt lie in the midſt of the uncircumciſed, with them that be ſlain by the ſword: this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXII.

AND it came to paſs in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the firſt day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and ſay unto him, Thou art like a young lion of the nations, and thou art as a whale in the ſeas: and thou cameſt forth with thy rivers, and troubledſt the waters with thy feet, and fouledſt their rivers.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will therefore ſpread out my net over thee, with a company of many people, and they ſhall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then will I leave thee upon the land, I will caſt thee forth upon the open field, and I will cauſe all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beaſts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy fleſh upon the mountains, and fill the vallies with thy height.

6 I will alſo water with thy blood the land wherein thou ſwimmeſt, even to the mountains; and the rivers ſhall be full of thee.

7 And when I ſhall put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the ſtars thereof dark: I will cover the ſun with a cloud, and the moon ſhall not give her light.

8 All the bright lights of heaven will I make dark over thee, and ſet darkneſs upon thy land, ſaith the Lord God.

9 I will alſo vex the hearts of many people, when I ſhall bring thy deſtruction among the nations, into the countries which thou haſt not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings ſhall be horribly afraid for thee, when I ſhall brandiſh my ſword before them, and they ſhall tremble at every moment; every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ For thus ſaith the Lord God, The ſword of the king of Babylon ſhall come upon thee.

12 By the ſwords of the mighty will I cauſe thy multitude to fall, the terrible of the nations all of them; and they ſhall ſpoil the pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof ſhall be deſtroyed.

13 I will deſtroy alſo all the beaſts thereof from beſide the great waters, neither ſhall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beaſts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cauſe their rivers to run like oil, ſaith the Lord God.

15 When I ſhall make the land of Egypt deſolate, and the country ſhall be deſtitute of that whereof it was full, when I ſhall ſmite all them that dwell therein, then ſhall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the lamentation wherewith they ſhall lament her: the daughters of the nations ſhall lament her: they ſhall lament for her, even for Egypt, and for all her multitude, ſaith the Lord God.

17 ¶ It came to paſs alſo in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me ſaying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and caſt them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, under the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 Whom doſt thou paſs in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumciſed.

20 They

18 This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, ſaith the Lord God.] The judgments that befel the king of Aſſyria, here deſcribed, is an exact repreſentation of the deſtruction of Pharaoh and his people.

CHAP. XXXII.] 7, 8 I will cover the heaven, and make the ſtars thereof dark, &c.] Theſe metaphors denote the downfal of ſtates and governments, kings and rulers being figuratively expreſſed by the ſun, moon, and ſtars.

20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the ord: she is delivered to the sword; draw her and all her multudes.
21 The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the idst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they e uncircumcised, slain by the sword.
22 Asshur is there, and all her company: his graves are about im: all of them slain, fallen by the sword.
23 Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her comany is round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the word, which caused terror in the land of the living.
24 There is Elam, and all her multitude round about her rave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone own uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which aused their terror in the land of the living, yet have they borne heir shame with them that go down to the pit.
25 They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all er multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them un-ircumcised, slain by the sword: though their terror was caused n the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with hem that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that slain.
26 There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude: her raves are round about him: all of them uncircumcised, slain by he sword, though they caused their terror in the land of the iving.
27 And they shall not lie with the mighty, that are fallen of he uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell with their weaons of war: and they have laid their swords under their heads, ut their iniquities shall be upon their bones, though they were the error of the mighty in the land of the living.
28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.
29 There is Edom, her kings, and all her princes, which with heir might are laid by them that were slain by the sword: they hall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to he pit.
30 There be the princes of the north, all of them, and all the idonians which are gone down with the slain, with their terror hey are ashamed of their might, and they lie uncircumcised with em that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them hat go down to the pit.
31 Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his ultitude, even Pharaoh and all his army slain by the sword, saith
he Lord God.
32 For I have caused my terror in the land of the living: and e shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that e slain with the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith
he Lord God.

CHAP. XXXIII.

AGAIN the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and y unto them, When I bring the sword upon a land, if the peole of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him for their atchman:
3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow
e trumpet, and warn the people;
4 Then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and keth not warning; if the sword come, and take him away, his lood shall be upon his own head.
5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; s blood shall be upon him: but he that taketh warning, shall eliver his soul.
6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the rumpet, and the people be not warned: if the sword come and ke any person from among them, he is taken away in his ini-uity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.
7 ¶ So thou, O Son of man, I have set thee a watchman nto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt hear the word at y mouth, and warn them from me.
8 When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt urely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his ay, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will require at thine hand.
9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn om it: if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his ini-uity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.
10 ¶ Therefore, O thou Son of man, speak unto the house
f Israel, Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we pine away in them, how should we then live?
11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?
12 Therefore, thou Son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression: as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness; neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.
13 When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live:
if he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity; all his righteousness shall not be remembered, but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for it.
14 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die:
if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right;
15 If the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the statutes of life without committing iniquity;
he shall surely live, he shall not die.
16 None of his sins that he hath committed, shall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawful and right;
he shall surely live.
17 ¶ Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal.
18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.
19 But if the wicked turn from his wickedness, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby, 20 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal: O ye house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.
21 ¶ And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem, came unto me, saying, The city is smitten.
22 Now the hand of the Lord was upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning, and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.
23 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
24 Son of man, they that inhabit those wastes of the land of Israel, speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many, the land is given us for inheritance.
25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed blood; and shall ye possess the land?
26 Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife; and shall ye possess the land?
27 Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As I live, surely they that are in the wastes shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured: and they that be in the forts, and in the caves, shall die of the pestilence.
28 For I will lay the land most desolate, and the pomp of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through.
29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I have laid the land most desolate, because of all their abominations which they have committed.
30 ¶ Also, thou Son of man, the children of thy people still are talking against thee by the walls, and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the Lord.
31 And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness.
32 And lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument:
for they hear thy words, but they do them not.
33 And when this cometh to pass (lo, it will come) then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

CHAP. XXXIV.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, prophecy against the shepherds of Israel, prophecy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God unto the shepherds, Woe be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves: should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

3 Ye

21 The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him, &c.] The prophet has given in this and the following verses, poetical description of he infernal regions; where the ghosts of deceased tyrants, with their subjects, are represented as coming to meet the king of Egypt and his auxiliaries, upon their arrival at the same place. By the word hell is to be understood the state of the dead.

CHAP. XXXIII.] 21 In the twelfth year of our captivity, &c.] The news of the taking and burning of Jerusalem was brought to that part of the Babylonish dominions where the Jewish captives were placed, in about a year and four months after the calamity happened.

32 And lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song, &c.] They come to hear thee for their entertainment, not for their edification, as many go to hear famed and elegant preachers.

CHAP.

3 Ye eat the fat, and ye cloath you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

4 The diſeaſed have ye not ſtrengthened, neither have ye healed that which was ſick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye ſought that which was loſt; but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

5 And they were ſcattered, becauſe there is no ſhepherd: and they became meat to all the beaſts of the field, when they were ſcattered.

6 My ſheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was ſcattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did ſearch or ſeek after them.

7 ¶ Therefore, ye ſhepherds, hear the word of the Lord;

8 As I live, ſaith the Lord God, ſurely becauſe my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beaſt of the field, becauſe there was no ſhepherd, neither did my ſhepherd ſearch for my flock, but the ſhepherds fed themſelves, and fed not my flock:

9 Therefore, O ye ſhepherds, hear the word of the Lord;

10 Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I am againſt the ſhepherds, and I will require my flock at their hand, and cauſe them to ceaſe from feeding the flock, neither ſhall the ſhepherds feed themſelves any more; for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them.

11 ¶ For thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I, even I will both ſearch my ſheep, and ſeek them out.

12 As a ſhepherd ſeeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his ſheep that are ſcattered; ſo will I ſeek out my ſheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been ſcattered in the cloudy and dark day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Iſrael by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 I will feed them in a good paſture, and upon the high mountains of Iſrael ſhall their fold be: there ſhall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat paſture ſhall they feed upon the mountains of Iſrael.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cauſe them to lie down, ſaith the Lord God.

16 I will ſeek that which was loſt, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will ſtrengthen that which was ſick: but I will deſtroy the fat and the ſtrong, I will feed them with judgment.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, between the rams and the he-goats.

18 Seemeth it a ſmall thing unto you to have eaten up the good paſture, but ye muſt tread down with your feet the reſidue of your paſtures? and to have drunk of the deep waters, but you muſt foul the reſidue with your feet?

19 And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet: and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God unto them, Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle, and between the lean cattle.

21 Becauſe ye have thruſt with ſide and with ſhoulder, and puſhed all the diſeaſed with your horns, till ye have ſcattered them abroad:

22 Therefore will I ſave my flock, and they ſhall no more be a prey, and I will judge between cattle and cattle.

23 And I will ſet up one ſhepherd over them, and he ſhall feed them, even my ſervant David; he ſhall feed them, and he ſhall be their ſhepherd.

24 And I the Lord will be their God, and my ſervant David a prince among them, I the Lord have ſpoken it.

25 And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cauſe the evil beaſts to ceaſe out of the land: and they ſhall dwell ſafely in the wilderneſs, and ſleep in the woods.

26 And I will make them and the places round about my hill, a bleſſing; and I will cauſe the ſhower to come down in his ſeaſon: there ſhall be ſhowers of bleſſing.

27 And the tree of the field ſhall yield her fruit, and the earth ſhall yield her increaſe, and they ſhall be ſafe in their land, and ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of thoſe that ſerved themſelves of them.

28 And they ſhall no more be a prey to the heathen, neit ſhall the beaſts of the land devour them; but they ſhall dwell ſa ly, and none ſhall make them afraid.

29 And I will raiſe up for them a plant of renown, and th ſhall be no more conſumed with hunger in the land, neither b the ſhame of the heathen any more.

30 Thus ſhall they know that I the Lord their God am w them, and that they, even the houſe of Iſrael, are my people, ſa the Lord God.

31 And ye, my flock, the flock of my paſture, are men, an am your God, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXV.

MOreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,
2 Son of man, ſet thy face againſt mount Seir, and pr phecy againſt it.

3 And ſay unto it, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, O mou
Seir, I am againſt thee, and I will ſtretch out mine hand agai thee, and I will make thee moſt deſolate.

4 I will lay thy cities waſte, and thou ſhalt be deſolate, a thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord.

5 Becauſe thou haſt had a perpetual hatred, and haſt ſhed blood of the children of Iſrael by the force of the ſword, in time of their calamity, in the time that their iniquity had an en

6 Therefore, as I live, ſaith the Lord God, I will prepare th unto blood, and blood ſhall purſue thee: ſith thou haſt not ha blood, even blood ſhall purſue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir moſt deſolate, and cut off fr it him that paſſeth out, and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountains with his ſlain men: in thy hi and in thy vallies, and in all thy rivers ſhall they fall that are ſl with the ſword.

9 I will make thee perpetual deſolations, and thy cities ſh not return, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

10 Becauſe thou haſt ſaid, Theſe two nations, and theſe t countries ſhall be mine, and we will poſſeſs it, whereas the L

11 Therefore, as I live, ſaith the Lord God, I will even

12 And thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord, and that I ha heard all thy blaſphemies which thou haſt ſpoken againſt the mou tains of Iſrael, ſaying, They are laid deſolate, they are given to conſume.

13 Thus with your mouth ye have boaſted againſt me, and ha multiplied your words againſt me: I have heard them.

14 Thus ſaith the Lord God, When the whole earth rejoice
I will make thee deſolate.

15 As thou didſt rejoice at the inheritance of the houſe of Iſr el, becauſe it was deſolate, ſo will I do unto thee: thou ſhalt deſolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea, even all of it, and th ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CAAP. XXXVI.

ALSO thou, Son of man, prophecy unto the mountains of I rael, and ſay, Ye mountains of Iſrael, hear the word the Lord.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe the enemy hath ſaid agai you, Aha, even the ancient high places are ours in poſſeſſion:

3 Therefore prophecy and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, B cauſe they have made you deſolate, and ſwallowed you up on eve ſide, that ye might be a poſſeſſion unto the reſidue of the heath and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy the people.

4 Therefore ye mountains of Iſrael, hear the word of the Lo
God, Thus ſaith the Lord God, to the mountains and to the hil to the rivers and to the vallies, to the deſolate waſtes, and to cities that are forſaken, which became a prey and deriſion to reſidue of the heathen that are round about:

5 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Surely in the fire of jealouſy have I ſpoken againſt the reſidue of the heathen, againſt all Idumea, which have appointed my land into their p ſeſſion, with the joy of all their heart, with deſpiteful minds to c it out for a prey.

CHAP. XXXIV.] 3 Ye kill them that are fed, &c.] That is, ye take away the lives of the wealthy and ſubſtantial, that ye may enrich yourſelves with their eſtates.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, &c.] This prophecy was, in ſome degree, fulfilled in the return of the Jews from the Babyloniſh captivity: but it ſeems ſtill to look farther, even to the general reſtoration of all the ſeed of Abraham, which moſt of the prophets aſſure us ſhall happen in the latter days.

23 And I will ſet up one ſhepherd over them---even my ſervant David.] The Meſſiah is often deſcribed both in the Old and New Teſtament, under the title of a ſhepherd.

31 And ye, my flock, the flock of my paſture are men, &c.] Theſe words, at the concluſion of the chapter, explain the metaphor which runs through whole, that what was ſaid of a flock and its ſhepherd, is to be underſtood of and their governors.

CHAP. XXXV.] 14 When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee late.] When I ſhall reſtore other countries conquered by the king of Bab to their proſperity, thou ſhalt ſtill lie waſte and deſolate. The Edomites recovered their country after they were driven out of it by the Nabatheans.

CHAP. XXXVI.] 3 And ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are th famy of the heathen.] Your calamities have made you become a proverb, word, and a reproach among the heathen round about you, according t threatenings of the prophets denounced againſt you.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, I have lifted up mine hand, Surely the heathen that are about you, they ſhall bear their ſhame.

8 ¶ But ye, O mountains of Iſrael, ye ſhall ſhoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people of Iſrael, for they are at hand to come

9 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye ſhall be tilled and ſown.

10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the houſe of Iſrael, even all of it, and the cities ſhall be inhabited, and the waſtes ſhall be builded.

11 And I will multiply upon you man and beaſt, and they ſhall increaſe and bring fruit, and I will ſettle you after your old eſtates, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

12 Yea, I will cauſe men to walk upon you, even my people Iſrael, and they ſhall poſſeſs thee, and thou ſhalt be their inheritance, and thou ſhalt no more henceforth bereave them of men.

13 Thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe they ſay unto you, Thou land devoureſt up men, and haſt bereaved thy nations;

14 Therefore thou ſhalt devour men no more, neither bereave thy nations any more, ſaith the Lord God.

15 Neither will I cauſe men to hear in thee the ſhame of the heathen any more, neither ſhalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither ſhalt thou cauſe thy nations to fall any more, ſaith the Lord God.

16 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came unto me, ſaying,

17 Son of man, when the houſe of Iſrael dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own way, and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanneſs of a removed woman.

18 Wherefore I poured my fury upon them for the blood that they had ſhed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it.

19 And I ſcattered them among the heathen, and they were diſperſed through the countries: according to their way, and according to their doings I judged them.

20 And when they entered unto the heathen, whither they went, they profaned my holy name, when they ſaid to them, Theſe are the people of the Lord, and are gone forth out of his land.

21 ¶ But I had pity for mine holy name, which the houſe of Iſrael had profaned among the heathen whither they went.

22 Therefore ſay unto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God, I do not this for your ſakes, O houſe of Iſrael, but for mine holy name's ſake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will ſanctify my great name, which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midſt of them, and the heathen ſhall know that I am the Lord, ſaith the Lord God, when I ſhall be ſanctified in you, before their eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

25 ¶ Then will I ſprinkle clean water upon you, and ye ſhall be clean: from all your filthineſs, and from all your idols will I cleanſe you.

26 A new heart alſo will I give you, and a new ſpirit will I put within you, and I will take away the ſtony heart out of your fleſh, and I will give you an heart of fleſh.

27 And I will put my ſpirit within you, and cauſe you to walk in my ſtatutes, and ye ſhall keep my judgments, and do them.

28 And ye ſhall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and ye ſhall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will alſo ſave you from all your uncleanneſſes, and I will call for the corn, and will increaſe it, and lay no famine upon you.

30 And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increaſe of the field, that ye ſhall receive no more reproach of famine among the heathen.

31 Then ſhall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and ſhall loath yourſelves in your own ſight, for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Not for your ſakes do I this, ſaith the Lord God, be it known unto you: be aſhamed and confounded for your own ways, O houſe of Iſrael.

33 Thus ſaith the Lord God, In the day that I ſhall have cleanſed you from all your iniquities, I will alſo cauſe you to dwell in the cities, and the waſtes ſhall be builded.

34 And the deſolate land ſhall be tilled, whereas it lay deſolate in the ſight of all that paſſed by.

35 And they ſhall ſay, This land that was deſolate is become like the garden of Eden; and the waſte, and deſolate, and ruined cities are become fenced, and are inhabited.

36 Then the heathen that are left round about you, ſhall know that I the Lord build the ruined places, and plant that that was deſolate: I the Lord have ſpoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will yet for this be enquired of by the houſe of Iſrael, to do it for them, I will increaſe them with men like a flock.

38 As the holy flock, as the flock of Jeruſalem in her ſolemn feaſts; ſo ſhall the waſte cities be filled with flocks of men, and they ſholl know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVII.

THE hand of the Lord was upon me, and carried me out in the ſpirit of the Lord, and ſet me down in the midſt of the valley which was full of bones,

2 And cauſed me to paſs by them round about, and behold, there were very many in the open valley, and lo, they were very dry.

3 And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, can theſe bones live? And I anſwerd, O Lord God, thou knoweſt.

4 Again he ſaid unto me, Prophecy upon theſe bones, and ſay unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the Lord.

5 Thus ſaith the Lord God unto theſe bones, Behold, I will cauſe breath to enter into you, and ye ſhall live.

6 And I will lay ſinews upon you, and will bring up fleſh upon you, and cover you with ſkin, and put breath in you; and ye ſhall live, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophecied as I was commanded: and as I prophecied there was a noiſe, and behold a ſhaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the ſinews and the fleſh came up upon them, and the ſkin covered them above; but there was no breath in them.

9 Then ſaid he unto me, Prophecy unto the wind, prophecy, Son of man, and ſay to the wind, Thus ſaith the Lord God Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon theſe ſlain, that they may live.

10 So I prophecied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived and ſtood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 ¶ Then he ſaid unto me, Son of man, theſe bones are the whole houſe of Iſrael: behold, they ſay, Our bones are dried, and our hope is loſt, we are cut off for our parts.

12 Therefore prophecy, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cauſe you to come up out of your graves, and bring you into the land of Iſrael.

13 And ye ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves, 14 And ſhall put my ſpirit in you, and ye ſhall live, and I ſhall place you in your own land: then ſhall ye know that I the Lord have ſpoken it, and performed it, ſaith the Lord.

15 ¶ The word of the Lord came again unto me, ſaying,

16 Moreover, thou Son of man, take thee one ſtick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Iſrael his companions: then take another ſtick, and write upon it, For Joſeph the ſtick of Ephraim, and for all the houſe of Iſrael his companions.

17 And join them one to another into one ſtick, and they ſhall become one in thine hand.

18 ¶ And when the children of thy people ſhall ſpeak unto thee, ſaying, Wilt thou not ſhew us what thou meaneſt by theſe?

19 Say unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I will take the ſtick of Joſeph which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Iſrael his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the ſtick of Judah, and make them one ſtick, and they ſhall be one in mine hand.

20 ¶ And the ſticks whereon thou writeſt, ſhall be in thine hand before their eyes.

21 And ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I will take the children of Iſrael from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every ſide, and bring them into their own land.

22 And I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Iſrael, and one king ſhall be king to them all: and they ſhall be no more two nations, neither ſhall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all:

23 Neither ſhall they defile themſelves any more with their idols, nor with any of their deteſtable things, nor with any of their tranſgreſſions: but I will ſave them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have ſinned, and will cleanſe them: ſo ſhall they be my people, and I will be their God.

24 And David my ſervant ſhall be king over them: and they all ſhall have one ſhepherd: they ſhall alſo walk in my judgments, and obſerve my ſtatutes, and do them.

25 And they ſhall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my ſervant, wherein your fathers have dwelt, and they ſhall dwell therein, even they and their children, and their children's children for ever, and my ſervant David ſhall be their prince for ever.

26 Moreover,

23 And I will ſanctify my great name which was profaned among the heathen.] I will give illuſtrious proofs of my power and goodneſs, and vindicate my honour from the reproaches with which it has been blaſphemed among the heathen becauſe of your evil doings.

CHAP. XXXVII.] 4 O ye dry bones, hear the word of the Lord.] A prophetic and lively repreſentation of the voice of the ſon of God, which all that are in the graves ſhall hear at the laſt day, and ſhall come forth.

11 Theſe bones are the whole houſe of Iſrael, &c.] They repreſent the forlorn and deſperate condition to which the whole nation is reduced.

26 Moreover, I will make a covenant of peace with them, it shall be an everlasting covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore.

27 My tabernacle also shall be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

28 And the heathen shall know that I the Lord do sanctify Israel, when my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against Gog, the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophecy against him,

3 And say, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed with all sorts of armour, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords.

5 Persia, Ethiopia, and Libya with them; all of them with shield and helmet.

6 Gomer, and all his bands, the house of Togarmah of the north-quarters, and all his bands, and many people with thee.

7 Be thou prepared, and prepare for thyself, thou and all thy company that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

8 ¶ After many days thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, and is gathered out of many people against the mountains of Israel, which have been always waste: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall dwell safely all of them.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, It shall also come to pass, that at the same time shall things come into thy mind, and thou shalt think an evil thought.

11 And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages, I will go to them that are at rest, that dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates,

12 To take a spoil, and to take a prey, to turn thine hand upon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the midst of the land.

13 Sheba and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take a spoil? hast thou gathered thy company to take a prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take a great spoil?

14 ¶ Therefore, Son of man, prophecy and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord God, In that day when my people of Israel dwelleth safely, shalt thou not know it?

15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the north-parts, thou and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company, and a mighty army.

16 And thou shalt come up against my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land, it shall be in the latter days, and I will bring thee against my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord God, Art thou he of whom I have spoken in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophecied in those days many years, that I would bring thee against them?

18 And it shall come to pass at the same time, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, that my fury shall come up in my face.

19 For in my jealousy, and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken: surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel:

20 So that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.

21 And I will call for a sword against him throughout all my mountains, saith the Lord God: every man's sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood, and I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone.

23 Thus will I magnify myself, and sanctify myself, and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIX.

THerefore, thou Son of man, prophecy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal.

2 And I will turn thee back, and leave but the sixth part of thee, and will cause thee to come up from the north-parts, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel:

3 And I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou and all thy bands, and the people that is with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured.

5 Thou shalt fall upon the open field, for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell carelessly in the isles, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So will I make my holy name known in the midst of my people Israel, and I will not let them pollute my holy name any more; and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, the holy One in Israel.

8 ¶ Behold, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord God; this is the day whereof I have spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall set on fire and burn the weapons, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the hand-staves and the spears, and they shall burn them with fire seven years:

10 So that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests: for they shall burn the weapons with fire, and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord God.

11 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Israel, the valley of the passengers on the east of the sea; and it shall stop the noses of the passengers: and there shall they bury Gog, and all his multitude, and they shall call it, the valley of Hamon-gog.

12 And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them, and it shall be to them a renown, the day that I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 And they shall sever out men of continual employment passing through the land to bury with the passengers those that remain upon the face of the earth to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search.

15 And the passengers that pass through the land, when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog.

16 And also the name of the city shall be Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 ¶ And thou, Son of man, Thus saith the Lord God, Speak unto every feathered fowl, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come, gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

18 Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you.

20 Thus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord God.

21 And will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall know that I am the Lord their God from that day and forward.

23 ¶ And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against me, therefore hid I my face from them, and gave them into the hand of their enemies; so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their uncleanneſs, and according to their tranſ-reſſions have I done unto them, and hid my face from them.
25 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Now will I bring again e captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole houſe of rael, and will be jealous for my holy name:
26 After that they have borne their ſhame, and all their treſ-ſſes, whereby they have treſpaſſed againſt me, when they dwelt fely in their land, and none made them afraid.

ered them out of their enemies lands, and am ſanctified in them
the ſight of many nations;

ve gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of

CHAP. XL.

N the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the four-enth year after that the city was ſmitten, in the ſelf-ſame day hand of the Lord was upon me, and brought me thither.
2 In the viſions of God brought he me into the land of Iſrael, d ſet me upon a very high mountain, by which was as the frame a city on the ſouth.
3 And he brought me thither, and behold there was a man, oſe appearance was like the appearance of braſs, with a line flax in his hand, and a meaſuring-reed; and he ſtood in the gate.
4 And the man ſaid unto me, Son of man, behold with thine es, and hear with thine ears, and ſet thine heart upon all that ſhall ſhew thee; for to the intent that I might ſhew them unto ee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou ſeeſt, to the uſe of Iſrael.
5 And behold, a wall on the outſide of the houſe round about, d in the man's hand a meaſuring-reed of ſix cubits long by the bit, and an hand-breath: ſo he meaſured the breadth of the lding, one reed, and the height one reed.
6 ¶ Then came he unto the gate which looketh toward the t, and went up the ſtairs thereof, and meaſured the threſhold the gate which was one reed broad, and the other threſhold of gate, which was one reed broad.
7 And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed ad, and between the little chambers were five cubits, and the eſhold of the gate, by the porch of the gate within was one reed.
8 He meaſured alſo the porch of the gate within, one reed.
9 Then meaſured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits, and poſts thereof two cubits, and the porch of the gate was inward.
10 And the little chambers of the gate eaſt-ward, were three this ſide, and three on that ſide, they three were of one meaſure, the poſts had one meaſure on this ſide and on that ſide.
11 And he meaſured the breadth of the entry of the gate ten its, and the length of the gate thirteen cubits.
12 The ſpace alſo before the little chambers was one cubit on ſide, and the ſpace was one cubit on that ſide, and the little mbers were ſix cubits on this ſide, and ſix cubits on that ſide.
13 He meaſured then the gate from the roof of one little chamto the roof of another: the breadth was five and twenty cu-
, door againſt door.
14 He made alſo poſts of threeſcore cubits, even unto the poſt he court round about the gate.
15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance, unto the face he porch of the inner gate, were fifty cubits.
16 And there were narrow windows to the little chambers, and eir poſts within the gate round about, and likewiſe to the es: and windows were round about inward: and upon each were palm-trees.
17 Then brought he me into the outward court, and lo, there chambers and a pavement made for the court round about:
y chambers were upon the pavement.
18 And the pavement by the ſide of the gates over againſt the th of the gates was the lower pavement.
19 Then he meaſured the breadth from the fore-front of the r gate, unto the fore-front of the inner court without, an red cubits eaſt-ward and north-ward.
20 ¶ And the gate of the outward court that looked toward orth, he meaſured the length thereof, and the breadth thereof.
21 And the little chambers thereof were three on this ſide, and on that ſide, and the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof after the meaſure of the firſt gate: the length thereof was cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.
22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm-trees, were after the meaſure of the gate that looketh towards the eaſt, and they went up unto it by ſeven ſteps, and the arches thereof were before them.
23 And the gate of the inner court was over againſt the gate toward the north, and toward the eaſt, and he meaſured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.
24 ¶ After that he brought me toward the ſouth, and behold, a gate toward the ſouth, and he meaſured the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to theſe meaſures.
25 And there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like thoſe windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.
26 And there were ſeven ſteps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palm-trees, one on this ſide, and another on that ſide upon the poſts thereof.
27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the ſouth:
and he meaſured from gate to gate toward the ſouth an hundred cubits.
28 And he brought me to the inner court by the ſouth-gate:
and he meaſured the ſouth-gate according to theſe meaſures:
29 And the little chambers thereof, and the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to theſe meaſures, and there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.
30 And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad.
31 And the arches thereof were toward the outer court, and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof; and the going up to it had eight ſteps.
32 And he brought me into the inner court toward the eaſt, and he meaſured the gate according to theſe meaſures.
33 And the little chambers thereof, and the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof were according to theſe meaſures, and there were windows therein, and in the arches thereof round about; it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.
34 And the arches thereof were toward the outward court, and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof on this ſide, and on that ſide, and the going up to it had eight ſteps.
35 ¶ And he brought me to the north-gate, and meaſured it
according to theſe meaſures:
36 The little chambers thereof, the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof, and the windows to it round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.
37 And the poſts thereof were toward the outer court, and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof on this ſide, and on that ſide, and the going up to it had eight ſteps.
38 And the chambers, and the entries thereof were by the poſts of the gates, where they waſhed the burnt-offerings.
39 ¶ And the porch of the gate were two tables on this ſide, and two tables on that ſide, to ſlay thereon the burnt-offering,
and the ſin-offering, and the treſpaſs-offering.
40 And at the ſide without, as one goeth up to the entry of the north-gate, were two tables; and on the other ſide, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.
41 Four tables were on this ſide, and four tables on that ſide, by the ſide of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they ſlew their ſacrifices.
42 And the four tables were of hewn ſtone for the burnt-offering, of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon alſo they laid the inſtruments wherewith they ſlew the burnt-offering and the ſacrifice.
43 And within were hooks, an hand broad, faſtened round about; and upon the tables was the fleſh of the offering.
44 ¶ And without the inner gate were the chambers of the ſingers in the inner court, which was at the ſide of the northgate: and their proſpect was toward the ſouth, one at the ſide of the eaſt-gate, having the proſpect toward the north.
45 And he ſaid unto me, This chamber whoſe proſpect is toward the ſouth, is for the prieſts, the keepers of the charge of the houſe.
46 And the chamber, whoſe proſpect is toward the north, is for the prieſts the keepers of the charge of the altar: theſe are the ſons of Zadok among the ſons of Levi, which come near to the Lord to miniſter unto him.
47 So he meaſured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, four-ſquare, and the altar that was before the houſe.
48 ¶ And he brought me to the porch of the houſe, and mea-ſured each poſt of the porch, five cubits on this ſide, and five cubits on that ſide: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this ſide, and three cubits on that ſide.

CHAP.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, and he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAP. XLI.

AFterward he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the door was ten cubits, and the sides of the door were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof forty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

3 Then went he inward, and measured the posts of the door two cubits, and the door six cubits, and the breadth of the door seven cubits.

4 So he measured the length thereof twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits before the temple; and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After he measured the wall of the house six cubits, and the breadth of every side-chamber four cubits round about the house on every side.

6 And the side-chambers were three, one over another, and thirty in order, and they entered into the wall which was of the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the house.

7 And there was an enlarging and a winding about still upward to the side-chambers, for the winding about of the house went still upward round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house was still upward, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.

8 I saw also the height of the house round about: the foundations of the side-chambers were a full reed of six great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall which was for the side-chamber without, was five cubits, and that which was left, was the place of the side-chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

11 And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south, and the breadth of the place that was left, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place, at the end toward the west was seventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house, an hundred cubits long, and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long.

14 Also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, an hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building, over against the separate place which was behind it, and the galleries thereof on the one side, and on the other side an hundred cubits with the inner temple, and the porches of the court.

16 The door-posts, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the door cieled with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered.

17 To that above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about, within and without, by measure.

18 And it was made with cherubims and palm-trees, so that a palm-tree was between a cherub and a cherub, and every cherub had two faces:

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm-tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other side: it was made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were cherubims and palm-trees made, and on the wall of the temple.

21 The posts of the temple were squared, and the face of the sanctuary: the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the Lord.

23 And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubims and palm-trees, like as were made made upon the wall and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were made narrow windows and palm-trees on one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and upon the side-chambers of the house, and thick planks.

CHAP. XLII.

THEN he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north, and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the north.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits was the north-door and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits, which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the outer court, was gallery against gallery in three stories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit, and their doors toward the north.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries were higher than these, than the lower, and than the middlemost of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the building was straitened more than the lowest, and the middlemost from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, towards the outer court on the fore-part of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and lo, before the temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And from under these chambers was the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they, and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south, was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them.

13 ¶ Then said he unto me, The north-chambers, and the south-chambers, which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, where the priests that approach unto the Lord shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering; for the place is holy.

14 When the priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments, wherein they minister; for they are holy: and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the east-side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed round about.

17 He measured the north-side five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed round about.

18 He measured the south-side five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed.

19 ¶ He turned about to the west-side, and measured five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed.

20 He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about five hundred reeds long and five hundred broad, to make a separation between the sanctuary and the profane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

AFterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like a noise of many waters: and the earth shined with his glory.

3 And it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw, when I came to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face.

4 And the glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the east.

5 So the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house.

CHAP. XLI.] 14 Also the breadth of the face of the house, and the separate place toward the east, an hundred cubits.] The whole front of the house eastward was a hundred cubits, which some expositors thus compute: the breadth of the temple twenty cubits, the thickness of the outward walls twelve cubits, the side-chambers eight cubits, the walls of those chambers five cubits on each side, and the twenty cubits round about the house.

CHAP. XLII.] 16 He measured the east-side with the measuring-reed, five hundred reeds, &c.] This is the measure of the holy mountain, or area upon which the temple stood, described to be an exact square, consisting of five hundred reeds in measure on each side of it. We may observe, that the heavenly Jerusalem represented to St. John, Rev. xxi. 16. is likewise described a square, that figure being an emblem of solidity; and Ezekiel's vision, as well as St. John's, is designed, in its mystical sense, to represent the regular strength of Christ's kingdom.

20 It had a wall round about, &c.] To defend it from being invaded or profaned. The wall was five hundred cubits every way, as it compassed the length and breadth of the temple and its courts.

6 And I heard him ſpeaking unto me out of the houſe, and the man ſtood by me.

7 ¶ And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, the place of my throne, and the place of the ſoles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midſt of the children of Iſrael for ever, and my holy name ſhall the houſe of Iſrael no more defile, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, nor by the carcaſes of their kings in their high places.

8 In their ſetting of their threſhold by my threſholds, and their poſt by my poſts, and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have conſumed them in mine anger.

9 Now let them put away their whoredom and the carcaſes of their kings far from me, and I will dwell in the midſt of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou, Son of man, ſhew the houſe to the houſe of Iſrael, that they may be aſhamed of their iniquities, and let them meaſure the pattern.

11 And if they be aſhamed of all that they have done, ſhew them the form of the houſe, and the faſhion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their ſight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the houſe; upon the top of the mountain, the whole limit thereof round about ſhall be moſt holy: behold, this is the law of the houſe.

13 ¶ And theſe are the meaſures of the altar after the cubits; the cubit is a cubit and an hand-breadth; even the bottom ſhall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about ſhall be a ſpan, and this ſhall be the higher place of the altar.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground, even to the lower ſettle, ſhall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the leſſer ſettle even to the greater ſettle ſhall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So the altar ſhall be four cubits, and from the altar and upward ſhall be four horns.

16 And the altar ſhall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, ſquare in the four ſquares thereof.

17 And the ſettle ſhall be fourteen cubits long, and fourteen broad in the four ſquares thereof, and the border about it ſhall be half a cubit, and the bottom thereof ſhall be a cubit about, and his ſtairs ſhall look toward the eaſt.

18 ¶ And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, thus ſaith the Lord God, Theſe are the ordinances of the altar, in the day when they ſhall make it, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, and to ſprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou ſhalt give to the prieſts the Levites, that be of the ſeed of Zadok which approach unto me, to miniſter unto me, ſaith the Lord God, a young bullock for a ſin-offering.

20 And thou ſhalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the ſettle, and upon the border round about: thus ſhalt thou cleanſe and purge it.

21 Thou ſhalt take the bullock alſo of the ſin-offering, and he ſhall burn it in the appointed place of the houſe without the ſanctuary.

22 And on the ſecond day thou ſhalt offer a kid of the goats without blemiſh for a ſin-offering, and they ſhall cleanſe the altar, as they did cleanſe it with the bullock.

23 When thou haſt made an end of cleanſing it, thou ſhalt offer a young bullock without blemiſh, and a ram out of the flock, without blemiſh.

24 And thou ſhalt offer them before the Lord, and the prieſts ſhall caſt ſalt upon them, and they ſhall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto the Lord.

25 Seven days ſhalt thou prepare every day a goat for a ſin-offering: they ſhall alſo prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock without blemiſh.

26 Seven days ſhall they purge the altar, and purify it, and they ſhall conſecrate themſelves.

27 And when theſe days are expired, it ſhall be that upon the eighth day, and ſo forward, the prieſts ſhall make your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your peace-offerings; and I will accept you, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XLIV.

THEN he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward ſanctuary which looketh toward the eaſt, and it was ſhut.

2 Then ſaid the Lord unto me, This gate ſhall be ſhut, it ſhall not be opened, and no man ſhall enter in by it: becauſe the Lord, the God of Iſrael hath entered in by it, therefore it ſhall be ſhut.

3 It is for the prince; the prince, he ſhall ſit in it to eat bread before the Lord; he ſhall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and ſhall go out by the way of the ſame.

4 ¶ Then brought he me the way of the north-gate before the houſe; and I looked, and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the houſe of the Lord: and I fell upon my face.

5 And the Lord ſaid unto me, Son of man, mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I ſay unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the houſe of the Lord, and all the laws thereof, and mark well the entering in of the houſe, with every going forth of the ſanctuary.

6 And thou ſhalt ſay to the rebellious, even to the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God, O ye houſe of Iſrael, let it ſuffice you of all your abominations,

7 In that ye have brought into my ſanctuary ſtrangers uncircumciſed in heart, and uncircumciſed in fleſh, to be in my ſanctuary to pollute it, even my houſe, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant, becauſe of all your abominations.

8 And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have ſet keepers of my charge in my ſanctuary for yourſelves.

9 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God, No ſtranger uncircumciſed in heart, nor uncircumciſed in fleſh ſhall enter into my ſanctuary, of any ſtranger that is among the children of Iſrael.

10 And the Levites that are gone away far from me, when Iſrael went aſtray, which went away aſtray from me after their idols, they ſhall even bear their iniquity.

11 Yet they ſhall be miniſters in my ſanctuary, having charge at the gates of the houſe, and miniſtering to the houſe: they ſhall ſlay the burnt-offering, and the ſacrifice for the people, and they ſhall ſtand before them to miniſter unto them:

12 Becauſe they miniſtered unto them before their idols, and cauſed the houſe of Iſrael to fall into iniquity; therefore have I lifted up mine hand againſt them, ſaith the Lord God, and they ſhall bear their iniquity.

13 And they ſhall not come near unto me to do the office of a prieſt unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things in the moſt holy place: but they ſhall bear their ſhame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them keepers of the charge of the houſe for all the ſervice thereof, and for all that ſhall be done therein.

15 ¶ But the prieſts the Levites, the ſons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my ſanctuary, when the children of Iſrael went aſtray from me, they ſhall come near to me to miniſter unto me, and they ſhall ſtand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, ſaith the Lord God.

16 They ſhall enter into my ſanctuary, and they ſhall come near to my table to miniſter unto me, and they ſhall keep my charge.

17 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſs, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they ſhall be clothed with linen garments, and no wool ſhall come upon them, whiles they miniſter in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They ſhall have linen bonnets upon their heads, and ſhall have linen breeches upon their loins: they ſhall not gird themſelves with any thing that cauſeth ſweat.

19 And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they ſhall put off their garments wherein they miniſtered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they ſhall put on other garments, and they ſhall not ſanctify the people with their garments.

20 Neither ſhall they ſhave their heads, nor ſuffer their locks to grow long; they ſhall only poll their heads.

21 Neither ſhall any prieſt drink wine, when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither ſhall they take for their wives, a widow, or her that is put away: but they ſhall take maidens of the ſeed of the houſe of Iſrael, or a widow that had a prieſt before.

23 And they ſhall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cauſe them to diſcern between the unclean and the clean.

24 And in controverſy they ſhall ſtand in judgment, and they ſhall judge it according to my judgments: and they ſhall keep my laws and my ſtatutes in all mine aſſemblies, and they ſhall hallow my ſabbaths.

25 And they ſhall come at no dead perſon to defile themſelves: but for father or for mother, or for ſon, or for daughter, for brother or for ſiſter that hath no huſband, they may defile themſelves,

26 And after he is cleanſed, they ſhall reckon unto him ſeven days.

27 And in the day that he goeth into the ſanctuary, unto the inner

CHAP. XLIII.] 7 Where I will dwell in the midſt of the children of Iſrael for ever, &c.] The prophet here means the promiſe formerly made in relation to the tabernacle and temple, alluding to Chriſt, in whom all the promiſes of the Old Teſtament are to have their final accompliſhment.

CHAP. XLIV.] 20 Neither ſhall they ſhave their heads.] This ſentence may be tranſlated, Thou ſhalt not ſhave thy head with baldneſs; that is, to make baldneſs for the dead. The Jews underſtand it as an expreſſion of mourning for the dead, which agrees with the ſenſe of the parallel texts. The words in the original contain a general prohibition, including the times of mourning as well as other ſeaſons.

inner court to miniſter in the ſanctuary, he ſhall offer his ſin-offering, ſaith the Lord God.

28 And it ſhall be unto them for an inheritance; I am their inheritance: and ye ſhall give them no poſſeſſion in Iſrael; I am their poſſeſſion.

29 They ſhall eat the meat-offering, and the ſin-offering, and the treſpaſs-offering; and every dedicated thing in Iſrael ſhall be theirs.

30 And the firſt of all the firſt-fruits of all things, and every oblation of all of every ſort of your oblations ſhall be the prieſts: ye ſhall alſo give unto the prieſt the firſt of your dough, that he may cauſe the bleſſing to reſt in thine houſe.

31 The prieſt ſhall not eat of any thing that is dead of itſelf, or torn, whether it be fowl or beaſt.

CHAP. XLV.

MOreover, when ye ſhall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye ſhall offer an oblation unto the Lord, an holy portion of the land: the length ſhall be the length of five and twenty thouſand reeds, and the breadth ſhall be ten thouſand: this ſhall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there ſhall be for the ſanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, ſquare round about; and fifty cubits round about, for the ſuburbs thereof.

3 And of this meaſure ſhalt thou meaſure the length of five and twenty thouſand, and the breadth of ten thouſand: and in it ſhall be the ſanctuary, and the moſt holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land ſhall be for the prieſts, the miniſters of the ſanctuary, which ſhall come near to miniſter unto the Lord, and it ſhall be a place for their houſes, and an holy place for the ſanctuary.

5 And the five and twenty thouſand of length, and the ten thouſand of breadth ſhall alſo the Levites the miniſters of the houſe have for themſelves, for a poſſeſſion for twenty chambers.

6 ¶ And ye ſhall appoint the poſſeſſion of the city five thouſand broad, and five and twenty thouſand long, over againſt the oblation of the holy portion: it ſhall be for the whole houſe of Iſrael.

7 ¶ And a portion ſhall be for the prince on the one ſide, and on the other ſide of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the poſſeſſion of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the poſſeſſion of the city, from the weſt-ſide weſtward, and from the eaſt-ſide eaſt-ward; and the length ſhall be over againſt one of the portions, from the weſt-border unto the eaſt-border.

8 In the land ſhall be his poſſeſſion in Iſrael, and my princes ſhall no more oppreſs my people, and the reſt of the land ſhall they give to the houſe of Iſrael according to their tribes.

9 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God, Let it ſuffice you, O princes of Iſrael: remove violence and ſpoil, and execute judgment and juſtice, take away your exactions from my people, ſaith the Lord God.

10 Ye ſhall have juſt balances, and a juſt ephah, and a juſt bath.

11 The ephah and the bath ſhall be of one meaſure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the meaſure thereof ſhall be after the homer.

12 And the ſhekel ſhall be twenty gerahs: twenty ſhekels, five and twenty ſhekels, fifteen ſhekels ſhall be your maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye ſhall offer; the ſixth part of an ephah of an homer of wheat, and ye ſhall give the ſixth part of an ephah of an homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of oil, the bath of oil, ye ſhall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is an homer of ten baths: for ten baths are an homer:

15 And one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat paſtures of Iſrael for a meat-offering, and for a burnt-offering, and for peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for them, ſaith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land ſhall give this oblation for the prince in Iſrael.

17 And it ſhall be the prince's part to give burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and drink-offerings in the feaſts, and in the new-moons, and in the ſabbaths, in all ſolemnities of the houſe of Iſrael: he ſhall prepare the ſin-offering, and the meat-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for the houſe of Iſrael.

18 Thus ſaith the Lord God, In the firſt month, in the firſt day of the month, thou ſhalt take a young bullock without blemiſh, and cleanſe the ſanctuary.

19 And the prieſt ſhall take of the blood of the ſin-offering, and put it upon the poſts of the houſe, and upon the four corners of the ſettle of the altar, and upon the poſts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And ſo thou ſhalt do the ſeventh day of the month, for every one that erreth, and for him that is ſimple: ſo ſhall ye reconcile the houſe.

21 In the firſt month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye ſhall have the paſſover, a feaſt of ſeven days, unleavened bread ſhall be eaten.

22 And upon that day ſhall the prince prepare for himſelf, and for all the people of the land, a bullock for a ſin-offering.

23 And ſeven days of the feaſt he ſhall prepare a burnt-offering to the Lord, ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams without blemiſh, daily the ſeven days, and a kid of the goats daily for a ſin-offering.

24 And he ſhall prepare a meat-offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil for an ephah.

25 In the ſeventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, ſhall he do the like in the feaſt of the ſeven days, according to the ſin-offering, according to the burnt-offering, and according to the meat-offering, and according to the oil.

CHAP. XLVI.

THUS ſaith the Lord God, The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the eaſt, ſhall be ſhut the ſix working-days: but on the ſabbaths it ſhall be opened, and in the day of the new-moon it ſhall be opened.

2 And the prince ſhall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and ſhall ſtand by the poſt of the gate, and the prieſt ſhall prepare his burnt-offering, and his peace-offerings, and he ſhall worſhip at the threſhold of the gate: then he ſhall go forth, but the gate ſhall not be ſhut until the evening.

3 Likewiſe the people of the land ſhall worſhip at the door of this gate before the Lord, in the ſabbaths, and in the new-moons.

4 And the burnt-offering that the prince ſhall offer unto the Lord in the ſabbath-day, ſhall be ſix lambs without blemiſh, and a ram without blemiſh.

5 And the meat-offering ſhall be an ephah for a ram, and the meat-offering for the lambs as he ſhall be able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

6 And in the day of the new-moon it ſhall be a young bullock without blemiſh, and ſix lambs, and a ram: they ſhall be without blemiſh.

7 And he ſhall prepare a meat-offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram: and for the lambs according as his hand ſhall attain unto, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

8 And when the prince ſhall enter, he ſhall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he ſhall go forth by the way thereof.

9 ¶ But when the people of the land ſhall come before the Lord, in the ſolemn feaſts, he that entereth in by the way of the north-gate to worſhip, ſhall go out by the way of the ſouth-gate: and he that entereth by the way of the ſouth-gate, ſhall go forth by the way of the north-gate: he ſhall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but ſhall go forth over againſt it.

10 And the prince in the midſt of them, when they go in, ſhall go in; and when they go forth, ſhall go forth.

11 And in the feaſts, and in the ſolemnities, the meat-offering ſhall be an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambs as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

12 Now when the prince ſhall prepare a voluntary burnt-offering or peace-offerings, voluntarily unto the Lord, one ſhall then open him the gate that looketh toward the eaſt, and he ſhall prepare his burnt-offering, and his peace-offerings, as he did on the ſabbath-day: then he ſhall go forth, and after his going forth, one ſhall ſhut the gate.

13 Thou ſhalt daily prepare a burnt-offering unto the Lord, of a lamb of the firſt year without blemiſh; thou ſhalt prepare it every morning.

14 And thou ſhalt prepare a meat-offering for it every morning, the ſixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to temper with the fine flour; a meat-offering continually, by a perpetual ordinance unto the Lord.

15 Thus ſhall they prepare the lamb, and the meat-offering, and the oil, every morning, for a continual burnt-offering.

16 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God, If the prince give a gift unto any of his ſons, the inheritance thereof ſhall be his ſons, it ſhall be their poſſeſſion by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his ſervants, then it ſhall be his to the year of liberty; after, it ſhall return

30 Ye ſhall alſo give unto your prieſt the firſt of your dough.] The firſt dough that you bake of the new corn every year ſhall belong to the prieſts, in the ſame proportion as in other firſt-fruits, that is a ſixtieth part.

That he may cauſe a bleſſing to reſt in thine houſe.] That the prieſt, whoſe office it is to bleſs the people in God's name, may procure a bleſſing for thee and thy family.

CHAP. XLV.] 15 Out of the fat paſtures of Iſrael, &c.] Theſe lambs were to be of the beſt kind, as all other tithes and offerings to God were to be.

16 All the people of the land ſhall give this oblation for the prince.] Or, with the prince; that is, the prince ſhall join with the people in making theſe oblations; whereas the other offerings are to be at the ſole charge of the prince.

CHAP. XLVI.] 9 He that entereth in by the way of the north-gate to worſhip, ſhall go out by the way of the ſouth-gate, &c.] The words imply the reaſon why the people were not to come in at the eaſt-gate; becauſe there being no paſſage or thorough-fare out of the temple weſtward, if they had entered in at the eaſt-gate, they muſt have returned back the ſame way they came in, which would have been turning their back upon God, and the place of his reſidence.

17 It ſhall be his to the year of liberty, &c.] The year of jubilee is called the year return to the prince: but his inheritance ſhall be his ſons for them.

18 Moreover, the prince ſhall not take of the people's inheritance, by oppreſſion to thruſt them out of their poſſeſſions; but he ſhall give his ſons inheritance out of his own poſſeſſion: that my people be not ſcattered every man from his poſſeſſion.

19 ¶ After he brought me through the entry, which was at the ſide of the gate, into the holy chambers of the prieſts, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the two ſides weſt-ward.

20 Then ſaid he unto me, This is the place where the prieſts ſhall boil the treſpaſs-offering, and the ſin-offering, where they ſhall bake the meat-offering: that they bear them not out into the outer court, to ſanctify the people

21 Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and cauſed me to paſs by the four corners of the court, and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts joined of forty cubits long, and thirty broad: theſe four corners were of one meaſure.

23 And there was a row of building round about in them, round about them four, and it was made with boiling-places under the rows round about.

24 Then ſaid he unto me, Theſe are the places of them that boil, where the miniſters of the houſe ſhall boil the ſacrifice of the people.

CHAP. XLVII.

AFterward he brought me again unto the door of the houſe, and behold, waters iſſued out from under the threſhold of the houſe eaſt-ward: for the fore front of the houſe ſtood toward the eaſt, and the waters came down from under, from the right ſide of the houſe, at the ſouth-ſide of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate north-ward, and led me about the way without unto the outer gate by the way that looketh eaſt-ward, and behold, there ran out waters on the right ſide.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth eaſt-ward, he meaſured a thouſand cubits, and he brought me through the waters: the waters were to the ankles.

4 Again he meaſured a thouſand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees: again he meaſured a thouſand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loins.

5 Afterward he meaſured a thouſand, and it was a river that I could not paſs over: for the waters were riſen, waters to ſwim in, a river that could not be paſſed over.

6 ¶ And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, haſt thou ſeen this? then he brought me, and cauſed me to return to the brink of the river.

7 Now when I had returned, behold, at the bank of the river were very many trees on the one ſide and on the other.

8 Then ſaid he unto me, Theſe waters iſſue out toward the eaſt-country, and go down into the deſart, and go into the ſea: which being brought forth into the ſea, the waters ſhall be healed.

9 And it ſhall come to paſs that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whitherſoever the rivers ſhall come, ſhall live: and there ſhall be a very great multitude of fiſh, becauſe theſe waters ſhall come thither; for they ſhall be healed, and every thing ſhall live whither the river cometh.

10 And it ſhall come to paſs, that the fiſhers ſhall ſtand upon it, from En-gedi even unto En-eglaim; they ſhall be a place to ſpread forth nets, their fiſh ſhall be according to their kinds as the fiſh of the great ſea, exceeding many.

11 But the miry places thereof, and the marſhes thereof, ſhall not be healed, they ſhall be given to ſalt.

12 And by the river upon the bank thereof on this ſide and on that ſide, ſhall grow all trees for meat, whoſe leaf ſhall not fade, neither ſhall the fruit thereof be conſumed: it ſhall bring forth new fruit, according to his months, becauſe their waters they iſſued out of the ſanctuary, and the fruit thereof ſhall be for meat, and the leaf thereof for medicine.

13 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God, This ſhall be the border, whereby ye ſhall inherit the land, according to the twelve tribes of Iſrael: Joſeph ſhall have two portions.

14 And ye ſhall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning the which I lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers, and this land ſhall fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this ſhall be the border of the land toward the north-ſide, from the great ſea, the way of Hethlon, as men go to Zedad:

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damaſcus, and the border of Hamath; Hazar-hatticon, which is by the coaſt of Hauran.

17 And the border from the ſea ſhall be Hazar-enan, the border of Damaſcus, and the north north-ward, and the border of Hamath: and this is the north-ſide.

18 And the eaſt-ſide he ſhall meaſure from Hauran, and from Damaſcus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Iſrael by Jordan, from the border unto the eaſt-ſea: and this is the eaſt-ſide.

19 And the ſouth-ſide ſouth-ward from Tamar, even to the waters of ſtrife in Kadeſh, the river to the great ſea: and this is the ſouth ſide ſouth-ward.

20 The weſt-ſide alſo ſhall be the great ſea from the border, till a man come over againſt Hamath: this is the weſt-ſide.

21 So ſhall ye divide this land unto you, according to the tribes of Iſrael.

22 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſs, that ye ſhall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the ſtrangers that ſojourn among you, which ſhall beget children among you: and they ſhall be unto you as born in the country among the children of Iſrael, they ſhall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Iſrael.

23 And it ſhall come to paſs, that in what tribe the ſtranger ſojourneth, there ſhall ye give him his inheritance, ſaith the Lord God.

CHAP. XLVIII.

NOW theſe are the names of the tribes, from the north-end to the coaſt of the way of Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar-enan, the border of Damaſcus north-ward, to the coaſt of Hamath (for theſe are his ſides eaſt and weſt) a portion for Dan.

2 And by the border of Dan, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Aſher.

3 And by the border of Aſher, from the eaſt-ſide even unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Manaſſeh.

5 And by the border of Manaſſeh, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim from the eaſt-ſide even unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Judah.

8 ¶ And by the border of Judah, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, ſhall be the offering which ye ſhall offer of five and twenty thouſand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, and the ſanctuary ſhall be in the midſt of it.

9 The oblation that ye ſhall offer unto the Lord, ſhall be of five and twenty thouſand in length, and of ten thouſand in breadth.

10 And for them, even for the prieſts ſhall be this holy oblation, toward the north, five and twenty thouſand in length, and toward the weſt ten thouſand in breadth, and toward the eaſt ten thouſand in breadth, and toward the ſouth five and twenty thouſand in length, and the ſanctuary of the Lord ſhall be in the midſt thereof.

11 It ſhall be for the prieſts that are ſanctified, of the ſons of Zadok, which have kept my charge, which went not aſtray when the children of Iſrael went aſtray, as the Levites went aſtray.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered, ſhall be unto them a thing moſt holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And over againſt the border of the prieſts, the Levites ſhall have five and twenty thouſand in length, and ten thouſand in breadth: all the length ſhall be five and twenty thouſand, and the breadth ten thouſand.

14 And they ſhall not ſell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the firſt-fruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord.

15 ¶ And the five thouſand that are left in the breadth over againſt the five and twenty thouſand, ſhall be a profane place for the city, for dwelling and for ſuburbs, and the city ſhall be in the midſt thereof.

16 And theſe ſhall be the meaſures thereof, the north-ſide four thouſand and five hundred, and the ſouth-ſide four thouſand and five hundred, and on the eaſt-ſide four thouſand and five hundred, and the weſt-ſide four thouſand and five hundred.

17 And the ſuburbs of the city ſhall be toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the ſouth two hundred and fifty, and towrad the eaſt two hundred and fifty, and toward the weſt two hundred and fifty.

18 And the reſidue in length over againſt the oblation of the holy portion, ſhall be ten thouſand eaſt-ward, and ten thouſand weſt-ward: and it ſhall be over againſt the oblation of the holy portion, and year of liberty, becauſe it freed men's perſons from the ſervice of their maſters, and their eſtates from any engagements, by which the right of them was tranſferred from their owners.

CHAP. XLVII.] 3, 4, 5 He meaſured a thouſand cubits, and he brought me through the waters: the waters were to the ankles, &c.] The gradual riſe of the waters denotes the large effuſion of the ſpirit, which was very remarkable at the firſt publication of the goſpel, and its wonderful increaſe from ſmall beginnings. The ſupplies of grace are often repreſented under the metaphor of a river, and ſtreams watering a dry and thirſty earth.

8 Which being brought forth into the ſea, the waters ſhall be healed.] The obſervation of all writers who deſcribe this lake is, that nothing can live in it; and the text tells us, that theſe living ſtreams ſhall, by mixing with ſalt and brakiſh waters, be rendered wholeſome and fit for uſe; myſtically implying the healing virtue of God's grace in curing the vices of corrupt men.

CHAP. XLVIII.] 7 And by the border of Reuben---a portion for Judah.] From the firſt verſe to the ſeventh, the ſituation of ſeven of the twelve tribes is deſcribed, which were placed on the north-ſide of the holy portion, the length of Judea from north to ſouth being divided into twelve equal parts.

19 And they that ſerve the city, ſhall ſerve it out of all the tribes of Iſrael.

20 All the oblation ſhall be five and twenty thouſand by five and twenty thouſand: ye ſhall offer the holy oblation four-ſquare, with the poſſeſſion of the city.

21 ¶ And the reſidue ſhall be for the prince on the one ſide, and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the poſſeſſion of the city over againſt the five and twenty thouſand, of the oblation toward the eaſt-border, and weſt-ward over againſt the five and twenty thouſand toward the weſt-border, over againſt the portions for the prince, and it ſhall be the holy oblation, and the ſanctuary of the houſe ſhall be in the midſt thereof.

22 Moreover, from the poſſeſſion of the Levites, and from the poſſeſſion of the city, being in the midſt of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, ſhall be for the prince.

23 As for the reſt of the tribes, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, Benjamin ſhall have a portion.

24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, Simeon ſhall have a portion.

25 And by the border of Simeon, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, Iſſachar a portion.

26 And by the border of Iſſachar, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, Zebulun a portion.

27 And by the border of Zebulun, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, Gad a portion.

28 And by the border of Gad, by the ſouth-ſide ſouthward, the border ſhall be even from Tamar unto the waters of ſtriſe in Kadeſh, and to the river toward the great ſea.

29 This is the land which ye ſhall divide by lot unto the tribes of Iſrael for inheritance, and theſe are their portions ſaith the Lord God.

30 ¶ And theſe are the goings out of the city on the north-ſide, four thouſand and five hundred meaſures.

31 And the gates of the city ſhall be after the names of the tribes of Iſrael, three gates northward; one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi.

32 And at the eaſt-ſide four thouſand and five hundred: and three gates: and one gate of Joſeph, one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan.

33 And at the ſouth-ſide four thouſand and five hundred meaſures: and three gates; one gate of Simeon, one gate of Iſſachar, one gate of Zebulun.

34 At the weſt-ſide four thouſand and five hundred, with their three gates; one gate of Gad, one gate of Aſher, one gate of Naphtali.

35 It was round about eighteen thouſand meaſures: and the name of the city from that day ſhall be, The Lord is there.

35 And the name of the city from that day ſhall be, The Lord is there.] Jeruſalem was formerly called the city of God, and the city of the great King. But, in the new Jeruſalem, God ſhall dwell in a more glorious manner, and make it the place of his perpetual reſidence; ſo that every part of that city ſhall be honoured with evident tokens of the Divine Preſence.

THE BOOK of DANIEL.

The ARGUMENT.

Daniel was deſcended from the royal houſe of the kings of Judah, and was cotemporary with Ezekiel. He was of the children of the captivity, being carried to Babylon when he was but eighteen years of age. His name is not prefixed to his book, yet the many paſſages in which he ſpeaks in the firſt perſon, are a ſufficient proof that he was the author. The ſtile of Daniel is not ſo lofty or figurative as that of the other prophets: it is clear and conciſe, and his narrations and deſcriptions ſimply natural; he writes more like an hiſtorian, than a prophet. He was a very extraordinary perſon, highly favoured of God, and honoured by men beyond any that had lived in his time. His prophecies concerning the coming of the Meſſiah, and the other great events of after-times, are ſo clear and explicit, that Porphyry objected to them, that they muſt have been written after the facts were done.

Among the old prophets, ſays the great Sir Iſaac Newton, Daniel is the moſt diſtinct in the order of time, and eaſieſt to be underſtood; and therefore in thoſe things which relate to the laſt times, he is the key to the reſt.

CHAP. I.

IN the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, unto Jeruſalem, and beſieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the veſſels of the houſe of God, which he carried into the land of Shinar to the houſe of his god, and he brought the veſſels into the treaſure-houſe of his god.

3 ¶ And the king ſpake unto Aſhpenaz the maſter of his eunuchs, that he ſhould bring certain of the children of Iſrael, and of the king's ſeed, and of the princes;

4 Children in whom was no blemiſh, but well-favoured, and ſkilful in all wiſdom, and cunning in knowledge, and underſtanding ſcience, and ſuch as had ability in them to ſtand in the king's palace, and whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them a daily proviſion of the king's meat, and of the wine which he drank: ſo nouriſhing them three years, that at the end thereof they might ſtand before the king.

6 Now among theſe were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah:

7 Unto whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: for he gave unto Daniel the name of Belteſhazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Miſhael, of Meſhach; and to Azariah, of Abednego.

8 ¶ But Daniel purpoſed in his heart, that he would not defile himſelf with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requeſted of the prince of the eunuchs, that he might not defile himſelf.

9 Now God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs ſaid unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why ſhould he ſee your faces worſe liking than the children which are of your ſort? then ſhall ye make me endanger my head to the king.

11 Then ſaid Daniel to Melzar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had ſet over Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah,

12 Prove thy ſervants, I beſeech thee, ten days, and let them give us pulſe to eat, and water to drink:

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of the king's meat: and as thou ſeeſt, deal with thy ſervants.

14 So he conſented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days, their countenances appeared fairer, and fatter in fleſh than all the children which did eat the portion of the king's meat.

16 Thus

Commentary on the Book of the Prophet Daniel.

CHAP. I.] 1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jeruſalem, &c.] The prophet Jeremiah makes the firſt year of Nebuchadnezzar coincident with the fourth of Jehoiakim, and from thence begins the date of the ſeventy years captivity.

4 Children in whom was no blemiſh, &c.] He was directed to make choice of ſuch as had the beſt accompliſhments both of body and mind, as the more fit to attend at court; the word yeladim, children, does not extend to childhood, but refers to more advanced years, as we term the word manhood; nor can we ſuppoſe Daniel or his companions, to be leſs than from ſeventeen years of age to twenty at this time.

CHAP.

16 Thus Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they ſhould drink: and gave them pulſe.

17 ¶ As for theſe four children, God gave them knowledge and ſkill in all learning and wiſdom: and Daniel had underſtanding in all viſions and dreams.

18 Now at the end of the days that the king had ſaid he ſhould bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the king communed with them, and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah: therefore ſtood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of wiſdom and underſtanding that the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and aſtrologers that were in all his realm.

21 And Daniel continued even unto the firſt year of king Cyrus.

CHAP. II.

AND in the ſecond year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, wherewith his ſpirit was troubled, and his ſleep brake from him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the aſtrologers, and the ſorcerers, and the Chaldeans, for to ſhew the king his dreams: ſo they came and ſtood before the king.

3 And the king ſaid unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my ſpirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then ſpake the Chaldeans to the king in Syriac, O king, live for ever: tell thy ſervants the dream, and we will ſhew the interpretation.

5 The king anſwered and ſaid to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me; if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye ſhall be cut in pieces, and your houſes ſhall be made a dunghill.

6 But if ye ſhew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye ſhall receive of me gifts and rewards, and great honour: therefore ſhew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They anſwered again and ſaid, Let the king tell his ſervants the dream, and we will ſhew the interpretation of it.

8 The king anſwered and ſaid, I know of certainty that ye would gain the time, becauſe ye ſee the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to ſpeak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I ſhall know that ye can ſhew me the interpretation thereof.

10 ¶ The Chaldeans anſwered before the king and ſaid, There is not a man upon the earth that can ſhew the king's matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that aſked ſuch things at any magician, or aſtrologer, or Chaldean.

11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can ſhew it before the king, except the gods, whoſe dwelling is not with fleſh.

12 For this cauſe the king was angry, and very furious, and commanded to deſtroy all the wiſe-men of Babylon.

13 And the decree went forth that the wiſe-men ſhould be ſlain; and they ſought Daniel and his fellows to be ſlain.

14 ¶ Then Daniel anſwered with counſel and wiſdom to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to ſlay the wiſe-men of Babylon:

15 He anſwered and ſaid to Arioch the king's captain, Why is the decree ſo haſty from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

16 Then Daniel went in, and deſired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would ſhew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his houſe. and made the thing known to Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah his companions:

18 That they would deſire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this ſecret; that Daniel and his fellows ſhould not periſh with the reſt of the wiſe-men of Babylon.

19 ¶ Then was the ſecret revealed unto Daniel in a night-viſion: then Daniel bleſſed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel anſwered and ſaid, Bleſſed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wiſdom and might are his.

21 And he changeth the times and the ſeaſons: he removeth kings, and ſetteth up kings: he giveth wiſdom unto the wiſe, and knowledge to them that know underſtanding.

22 He revealeth the deep and ſecret things: he knoweth what is in the darkneſs, and the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee, and praiſe thee, O thou God of my fathers, who haſt given me wiſdom and might, and haſt made known unto me now what we deſired of thee: for thou haſt now made known unto us the king's matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch whom the king had ordained to deſtroy the wiſe-men of Babylon: he went and ſaid thus unto him, Deſtroy not the wiſe-men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will ſhew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haſte, and ſaid thus unto him, I have found a man of the captives of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation.

26 The king anſwered and ſaid to Daniel, whoſe name was Belteſhazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have ſeen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel anſwered in the preſence of the king, and ſaid, The ſecret which the king hath demanded, cannot the wiſe-men, he aſtrologers, the magicians, the ſooth-ſayers ſhew unto the king;

28 But there is a God in heaven that revealeth ſecrets, and maketh known to the king Nebuchadnezzar, what ſhall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the viſions of thy head upon thy bed, are theſe;

29 As for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind, upon thy bed, what ſhould come to paſs hereafter: and he that revealeth ſecrets maketh known unto thee what ſhall come to paſs.

30 But as for me, this ſecret is not revealed to me, for any wiſdom that I have more than any living, but for their ſakes that ſhall make known the interpretation to the king, and that thou mighteſt know the thoughts of thy heart.

31 ¶ Thou, O king, ſaweſt, and behold, a great image: this great image, whoſe brightneſs was excellent, ſtood before thee, and the form thereof was terrible.

32 This image's head was of fine gold, his breaſt and his arms of ſilver, his belly and his thighs of braſs, 33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron, and part of clay.

34 Thou ſaweſt till that a ſtone was cut out without hands, which ſmote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the braſs, the ſilver and the gold broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the ſummer-threſhing-floors, and the wind carried them away, and no place was found for them: and the ſtone that ſmote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 ¶ This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king.

37 Thou, O king, art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and ſtrength, and glory.

38 And whereſoever the children of men dwell, the beaſts of the field, and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art this head of gold.

39 And after thee ſhall ariſe another kingdom inferior to thee, and another third kingdom of braſs, which ſhall bear rule over all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdom ſhall be ſtrong as iron: foraſmuch as iron breaketh in pieces, and ſubdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all theſe, ſhall it break in pieces and bruiſe.

41 And whereas thou ſaweſt the feet and toes, part of potter's clay, and part of iron: the kingdom ſhall be divided, but there ſhall be in it of the ſtrength of the iron, foraſmuch as thou ſaweſt the iron mixed with miry clay.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay; ſo the kingdom ſhall be partly ſtrong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou ſaweſt iron mixt with miry clay, they ſhall mingle themſelves with the ſeed of men: but they ſhall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

44 And in the days of theſe kings ſhall the God of heaven ſet up a kingdom, which ſhall never be deſtroyed: and the kingdom ſhall not be left to other people, but it ſhall break in pieces, and conſume all theſe kingdoms, and it ſhall ſtand for ever.

45 Foraſmuch as thou ſaweſt that the ſtone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the braſs, the clay, the ſilver, and the gold: the great God hath made known to the king what ſhall come to paſs hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof ſure.

46 ¶ Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worſhipped Daniel, and commanded that they ſhould offer an oblation, and ſweet odours unto him.

47 The king anſwered unto Daniel, and ſaid, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of ſecrets, ſeeing thou couldeſt reveal this ſecret.

48 Then the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governors over all the wiſe-men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel requeſted of the king, and he ſet Shadrach, Meſhach and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel ſat in the gate of the king.

CHAP.

Chap. II.] 28 But there is a God in heaven that revealeth ſecrets, &c.] Daniel informs the king, that there is one only God, infinitely ſurpaſſing in knowledge, not only all the wiſe men of the Eaſt, but alſo the demons or falſe gods which they conſulted or worſhipped.

44 The God of heaven ſet up a kingdom, which ſhall never be deſtroyed, &c.] The kingdom of Chriſt is deſcribed in ſcripture as an everlaſting kingdom; not like the kingdoms of the world, ſubject to change and diſſolution, but like the author of it, eternal and immutable.

CHAP. III.

NEbuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits; he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governors, and the captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

3 Then the princes, the governors, and captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then an herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down, and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up.

6 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore at that time when all the people heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the people, the nations, and the languages fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

8 ¶ Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and accused the Jews.

9 They spake and said to the king Nebuchadnezzar, O king, live for ever.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image:

11 And whosoever falleth not down and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast set over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: these men, O king, have not regarded thee, they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury, commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: then they brought these men before the king.

14 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said unto them, Is it true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego? do not ye serve my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15 Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image, which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace, and who is that God that shall deliver you out of my hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we are not careful to answer thee in this matter.

17 If it be so, our God whom we serve, is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake and commanded, that they should heat the furnace one seven times more than it was wont to be heated.

20 And he commanded the most mighty men that were in his army, to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace, 21 Then these men were bound in their coats, their hosen, and their hats, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore because the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound in the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the form of the fourth is like the son of God.

26 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego came forth out of the midst of the fire.

27 And the princes, governors, and captains, and the king's counsellors being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Nebuchadnezzar spake, and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and yielded their bodies that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God.

29 Therefore I make a decree, That every people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill, because there is no other god that can deliver after this sort.

30 Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego in the province of Babylon.

CHAP. IV.

NEbuchadnezzar the king, unto all people, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth, Peace be multiplied unto you.

2 I thought it good to shew the signs and wonders that the high God hath wrought toward me.

3 How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 ¶ I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace.

5 I saw a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon upon my bed, and the visions of my head troubled me.

6 Therefore made I a decree, to bring in all the wise-men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

7 Then came in the magicians, the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the sooth-sayers: and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.

8 ¶ But at the last Daniel came in before me (whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my God, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods) and before him I told the dream, saying,

9 O Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the visions of mine head in my bed, I saw, and behold, a tree in the midst of the earth; and the height thereof was great.

11 The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth.

12 The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh was fed of it.

13 I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and behold, a watcher, an holy one came down from heaven.

14 He cried aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit; let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

15 Nevertheless, leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth.

16 Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beasts heart be given unto him, and let seven times pass over him.

17 This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may

CHAP. III.] 6 Shall the same hour, &c.] This is the first place in the Old Testament, where we meet with the division of time into hours. The Greeks ascribe the invention of hours to Anaximander, who perhaps received it from the Chaldeans.

28 Blessed be the God of Shadrach, &c.] So Darius offers up his acknowledgments to the God of Daniel, as superior to other gods and demons, but not as the only true God.

CHAP. IV.] 1 Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all people, nations, and languages, &c.] This chapter contains a recital of that edict or proclamation which Nebuchadnezzar had published after his being restored, the better to confirm the truth of the event here related.

3 His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, &c.] He exercises an uncontroulable dominion over all the world, even over the highest princes and monarchs of the earth.

16 Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him.] Let him lose his reason. Scaliger thinks this madness of Nebuchadnezzar is obscurely hinted at, in a fragment of Abydenus produced by Eusebius; wherein, having represented the king, from the Chaldean writers, to have fallen into an extasy, and to have foretold the destruction of that empire by the Medes and Persians, the author adds, that immediately after uttering this prophecy, he disappeared.

19 The

may know that the moſt High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will, and ſetteth up over it the baſeſt of men.

18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have ſeen: now thou, O Belteſhazzar, declare the interpretation thereof, foraſmuch as all the wiſe-men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the ſpirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 ¶ Then Daniel (whoſe name was Belteſhazzar) was aſtoniſhed for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him: the king ſpake and ſaid, Belteſhazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteſhazzar anſwered, and ſaid, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 The tree that thou ſaweſt, which grew, and was ſtrong, whoſe height reached unto the heaven, and the ſight thereof to all the earth;

21 Whoſe leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beaſts of the field dwelt, and upon whoſe branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 It is thou, O king, that art grown and become ſtrong: for thy greatneſs is grown and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 And whereas the king ſaw a watcher, and an holy one coming down from heaven, and ſaying, Hew the tree down and deſtroy it, yet leave the ſtump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and braſs in the tender graſs of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beaſts of the field, till ſeven times paſs over him;

24 This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the moſt High, which is come upon my lord the king:

25 That they ſhall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field, and they ſhall make thee to eat graſs as oxen, and they ſhall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and ſeven times ſhall paſs over thee, till thou know that the moſt High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

26 And whereas they commanded to leave the ſtump of the tree-roots; thy kingdom ſhall be ſure unto thee, after that thou ſhalt have known that the heavens do rule.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counſel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy ſins by righteouſneſs, and thine iniquities, by ſhewing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

28 ¶ All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar.

29 At the end of twelve months he walked in the palace of the kingdom of Babylon.

30 The king ſpake, and ſaid, Is not this great Babylon that I have built for the houſe of the kingdom, by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majeſty?

31 While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, ſaying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is ſpoken, The kingdom is departed from thee.

32 And they ſhall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field: they ſhall make thee to eat graſs as oxen, and ſeven times ſhall paſs over thee, until thou know that the moſt High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

33 The ſame hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar; and he was driven from men, and did eat graſs as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles feathers, and his nails like birds claws.

34 And at the end of the days, I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine underſtanding returned unto me, and I bleſſed the moſt High, and I praiſed and honoured him that liveth forever, whoſe dominion is an everlaſting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.

35 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can ſtay his hand, or ſay unto him, What doeſt thou?

36 At the ſame time my reaſon returned unto me, and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honour and brightneſs returned unto me; and my counſellors and my lords ſought unto me; and I was eſtabliſhed in my kingdom, and excellent majeſty was added unto me.

37 Now I Nebuchadnezzar praiſe, and extol, and honour the King of heaven, all whoſe works are truth, and his ways judgment, and thoſe that walk in pride he is able to abaſe.

CHAP. V.

BElſhazzar the king made a great feaſt to a thouſand of his lords, and drank wine before the thouſand.

2 Belſhazzar, while he taſted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and the ſilver veſſels, which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple which was in Jeruſalem, that the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines might drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden veſſels that were taken out of the temple of the houſe of God, which was at Jeruſalem; and the king and his princes, his wives, and his concubines drank in them.

4 They drank wine, and praiſed the gods of gold, and of ſilver, of braſs, of iron, of wood, and of ſtone.

5 ¶ In the ſame hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over againſt the candleſtick upon the plaiſter of the wall of the king's palace; and the king ſaw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the king's countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, ſo that the joints of his loins were looſed, and his knees ſmote one againſt another.

7 The king cried aloud to bring in the aſtrologers, the Chaldeans, and the ſooth-ſayers: and the king ſpake and ſaid to the wiſe-men of Babylon, Whoſoever ſhall read this writing, and ſhew me the interpretation thereof, ſhall be clothed with ſcarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and ſhall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then came in all the king's wiſe-men, but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was king Belſhazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his lords were aſtoniſhed.

10 ¶ Now the queen, by reaſon of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banquet-houſe; and the queen ſpake and ſaid, O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the ſpirit of the holy gods, and in the days of thy father light and underſtanding and wiſdom like the wiſdom of the gods, was found in him; whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I ſay, thy father made maſter of the magicians, aſtrologers, Chaldeans, and ſooth-ſayers;

12 Foraſmuch as an excellent ſpirit, and knowledge, and underſtanding, interpreting of dreams, and ſhewing of hard ſentences, and diſſolving of doubts were found in the ſame Daniel, whom the king named Belteſhazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will ſhew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king; and the king ſpake and ſaid unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Jewry?

14 I have even heard of thee, that the ſpirit of the gods is in thee, and that light, and underſtanding, and excellent wiſdom is found in thee.

15 And now the wiſe-men, the aſtrologers have been brought in before me, that they ſhould read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not ſhew the interpretation of the thing.

16 And I have heard of thee, that thou canſt make interpretation, and diſſolve doubts: now if thou canſt read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou ſhalt be clothed with ſcarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and ſhalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 ¶ Then Daniel anſwered and ſaid before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyſelf, and give thy rewards to another, yet I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the moſt high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majeſty, and glory, and honour.

19 And for the majeſty that he gave him, all people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he ſlew, and whom he would he kept alive, and whom he would he ſet up, and whom he would he put down.

20 But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened in pride, he was depoſed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him.

21 And he was driven from the ſons of men, and his heart was made like the beaſts, and his dwelling was with the wild aſſes: they fed him with graſs like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till he knew that the moſt high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomſoever he will.

22 And

19 Then Daniel---was aſtoniſhed for one hour, &c.] Both at the ſurpriſing circumſtance of the judgments pronounced againſt the king, and from a tender regard for his perſon, and a grateful acknowledgment of the royal favours conferred on him and his three friends.

35 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing, &c.] The greateſt monarchs, as well as perſons of inferior rank, are as nothing in his ſight.

CHAP. V.] 1 Made a great feaſt to a thouſand of his lords, and drank wine before the thouſand.] This feaſt was made at a time of public rejoicing, being an annual feſtival, when the whole night was ſpent in revelling: which ſeaſon Cyrus took the advantage of to make himſelf maſter of the city, as Herodotus and Xenophon relate, and was foretold by Jeremiah.

5 In the ſame hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, &c.] Next to murder, no ſin is ſo remarkably puniſhed in this world as that of ſacrilege, as appears by many inſtances taken from hiſtory of all ages, of heathens and infidels, as well as of Jews and Chriſtians.

13 Art thou that Daniel? &c.] Though his grandfather Nebuchadnezzar had promoted Daniel to conſiderable places of honour, yet Belſhazzar knew nothing of him, which argues his being a weak vicious prince, according to the character hiſtorians give of him, leaving the care of public buſineſs to his mother.

30 In

22 And thou his ſon, O Belſhazzar, haſt not humbled thine heart, though thou kneweſt all this:

23 But haſt lifted up thyſelf againſt the Lord of heaven, and they have brought the veſſels of his houſe before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines have drunk wine in them, and thou haſt praiſed the gods of ſilver and gold, of braſs, iron, wood, and ſtone which ſee not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whoſe hand thy breath is, and whoſe are all thy ways, haſt thou not glorified.

24 Then was the part of the hand ſent from him, and this writing was written.

25 ¶ And this is the writing that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing; MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdom and finiſhed it.

27 TEKEL, thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.

28 PERES, thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Perſians.

29 Then commanded Belſhazzar, and they clothed Daniel with ſcarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he ſhould be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 ¶ In that night was Belſhazzar the king of the Chaldeans ſlain.

31 And Darius the Median took the kingdom, being about threeſcore and two years old.

CHAP. VI.

IT pleaſed Darius to ſet over the kingdom an hundred and twenty princes, which ſhould be over the whole kingdom;

2 And over theſe, three preſidents (of whom Daniel was firſt) that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king ſhould have no damage.

3 Then this Daniel was preferred above the preſidents and princes, becauſe an excellent ſpirit was in him; and the king thought to ſet him over the whole realm.

4 ¶ Then the preſidents and princes ſought to find occaſion againſt Daniel concerning the kingdom, but they could find none occaſion nor fault: foraſmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.

5 Then ſaid theſe men, We ſhall not find any occaſion againſt this Daniel, except we find it againſt him concerning the law of his God.

6 Then theſe preſidents and princes aſſembled together to the king, and ſaid thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever.

7 All the preſidents of the kingdom, the governors, and the princes, the counſellors and the captains, have conſulted together to eſtabliſh a royal ſtatute, and to make a firm decree, that whoſoever ſhall aſk a petition of any God or man for thirty days, ſave of thee, O king, he ſhall be caſt into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, eſtabliſh the decree, and ſign the writing; that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Perſians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius ſigned the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel knew that the writing was ſigned, he went into his houſe; and his windows being open in his chamber toward Jeruſalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then theſe men aſſembled, and found Daniel praying, and making ſupplication before his God.

12 Then they came near, and ſpake before the king, concerning the king's decree, Haſt thou not ſigned a decree, that every man that ſhall aſk a petition of any God or man within thirty days, ſave of thee, O king, ſhall be caſt into the den of lions? The king anſwered and ſaid, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Perſians, which altereth not.

13 Then anſwered they and ſaid before the king, That Daniel which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou haſt ſigned, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king, when he heard theſe words, was ſore diſpleaſed with himſelf, and ſet his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the ſun, to deliver him.

15 Then theſe men aſſembled unto the king, and ſaid unto the king, Know, O king, that the law of the Medes and Perſians is, that no decree nor ſtatute which the king eſtabliſheth, may be changed.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and caſt him into the den of lions: now the king ſpake and ſaid unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou ſerveſt continually, he will deliver thee.

17 And a ſtone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den, and the king ſealed it with his own ſignet, and with the ſignet of his lords; that the purpoſe might not be changed concerning Daniel.

18 ¶ Then the king went to his palace, and paſſed the night faſting: neither were inſtruments of muſic brought before him, and his ſleep went from him.

19 Then the king aroſe very early in the morning, and went in haſte unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel, and the king ſpake and ſaid to Daniel, O Daniel, ſervant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou ſerveſt continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then ſaid Daniel unto the king, O king, live for ever.

22 My God hath ſent his angel, and hath ſhut the lions mouths that they have not hurt me: foraſmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and alſo before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they ſhould take Daniel up out of the den: ſo Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, becauſe he believed in his God.

24 ¶ And the king commanded, and they brought thoſe men which had accuſed Daniel, and they caſt them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the maſtery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 ¶ Then king Darius wrote unto all people, nations and languages that dwell in all the earth, Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 I make a decree, that in every dominion of my kingdom, men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and ſtedfaſt for ever, and his kingdom that which ſhall not be deſtroyed, and his dominion ſhall be even unto the end.

27 He delivereth and reſcueth, and he worketh ſigns and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delived Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel proſpered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Perſian.

CHAP. VII.

IN the firſt year of Belſhazzar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream, and viſions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the ſum of the matters.

2 Daniel ſpake, and ſaid, I ſaw in my viſion by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven ſtrove upon the great ſea.

3 And four great beaſts came up from the ſea, diverſe one from another.

4 The firſt was like a lion, and had eagles wings: and I beheld, till the wings thereof were pluckt, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made ſtand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it.

5 And behold, another beaſt, a ſecond like to a bear, and it raiſed up itſelf on one ſide, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it betweed the teeth of it: and they ſaid thus unto it, Ariſe, devour much fleſh.

6 After this I beheld, and lo, another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl, the beaſt had alſo four heads, and dominion was given to it.

7 After this I ſaw in the night-viſions, and behold, a fourth beaſt, dreadful and terrible, and ſtrong exceedingly: and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and ſtamped the reſidue with the feet of it, and it was diverſe, from all the beaſts that were before it, and it had ten horns.

8 ¶ I conſidered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the firſt horns pluckt up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth ſpeaking great things.

9 ¶ I behel

30 In that night was Belſhazzar king of the Chaldeans ſlain.] He and all his nobles were ſlain together in the midſt of their feaſting and revels. Xenophon relates the ſtory thus: "That two deſerters, Gadata and Gobiyas, having aſſiſted "ed ſome of the Perſian army to kill the guards, and ſeize upon the palace, they "entered into the room where the king was, whom they found in a poſture of "defence; but was ſoon diſpatched, with his attendants."

CHAP. VI.] 8 According to the law of the Medes and Perſians, which altereth not, &c.] After it is once enacted by the king, with the advice of his counſellors. So Diodorus Siculus ſays, that Darius, the laſt king of Perſia, would have pardoned Charideinus after he was condemned to death, but could not reverſe the law that had paſſed againſt him.

20 O Daniel, ſervant of the living God.] God ſometimes makes the mouths of infidels inſtrumental in ſetting forth his praiſe.

CHAP. VII.] 4 The firſt was like a lion, and had eagles wings.] Warriors, eſpecially conquerors, are compared to lions, for their ſtrength and cruelty, and to eagles for the ſwiftneſs and rapidity of their conqueſts.

5 And behold, another beaſt, a ſecond like to a bear, and it raiſed up itſelf on one ſide.] This beaſt denotes the Perſian empire, its firſt beginning to advance itſelf to arrive at empire. The margin reads, and it raiſed up one dominion, that is, it made one empire out of the joint powers of Media and Perſia.

And it had three ribs in the mouth of it, &c.] Babylon, Lydia, and Egypt were the three ribs.

6 After this I beheld, and lo, another, like a leopard, which had on the back of it, four wings of a fowl.] The third beaſt denotes the Grecian empire begun by Alexander, and continued in his four ſucceſſors. The four wings ſignify the ſwiftneſs of its conqueſts. A leopard is a creature of extraordinary ſtrength and ſwiftneſs, and jumps upon its prey.

7 Behold a fourth beaſt, dreadful, and terrible, and ſtrong exceedingly.] As for that reaſon compared unto iron: this muſt mean the Roman empire, which deſtroyed the Grecian, and became miſtreſs of the world.

24 A

In the first year of Belshazzar King of Babylon, Daniel had a dream & visions of his head upon his bed: Then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the matters. Daniel. Chap. 7. v. 1

9 ¶ I beheld till the thrones were caſt down, and the Ancient of days did ſit, whoſe garment was white as ſnow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

10 A fiery ſtream iſſued, and came forth from before him: thouſand thouſands miniſtered unto him, and ten thouſand times ten thouſand ſtood before him: the judgment was ſet, and the books were opened.

11 I beheld then, becauſe of the voice of the great words which the horn ſpake: I beheld, even till the beaſt was ſlain, and his body deſtroyed, and given to the burning flame.

12 As concerning the reſt of the beaſts, they had their dominion taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a ſeaſon and time.

13 I ſaw in the night-viſions, and behold, one like the ſon of man, came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

14 And there was given him dominion and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations and languages ſhould ſerve him: his dominion is an everlaſting dominion, which ſhall not paſs away, and his kingdom that which ſhall not be deſtroyed.

15 ¶ I Daniel was grieved in my ſpirit in the midſt of my body, and the viſions of my head troubled me.

16 I came near unto one of them that ſtood by, and aſked him the truth of all this: ſo he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 Theſe great beaſts, which are four, are four kings, which ſhall ariſe out of the earth.

18 But the ſaints of the moſt High ſhall take the kingdom, and poſſeſs the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.

19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth beaſt, which was diverſe from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whoſe teeth were of iron, and his nails of braſs, which devoured, brake in pieces, and ſtamped the reſidue with his feet;

20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell, even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that ſpake very great things, whoſe look was more ſtout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the ſame horn made war with the ſaints, and prevailed againſt them;

22 Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the ſaints of the moſt High; and the time came that the ſaints poſſeſſed the kingdom.

23 Thus he ſaid, The fourth beaſt ſhall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which ſhall be diverſe from all kingdoms, and ſhall devour the whole earth, and ſhall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that ſhall ariſe: and another ſhall ariſe after them, and he ſhall be diverſe from the firſt, and he ſhall ſubdue three kings.

25 And he ſhall ſpeak great words againſt the moſt High, and ſhall wear out the ſaints of the moſt High, and think to change times and laws: and they ſhall be given into his hand, until a time and times, and the dividing of time.

26 But the judgment ſhall ſit, and they ſhall take away his dominion, to conſume, and to deſtroy it unto the end.

27 And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatneſs of the kingdom under the whole heaven, ſhall be given to the people of the ſaints of the moſt High, whoſe kingdom is an everlaſting kingdom, and all dominions ſhall ſerve and obey him.

28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

CHAP. VIII.

IN the third year of the reign of king Belſhazzar, a viſion appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the firſt.

2 And I ſaw in a viſion (and it came to paſs when I ſaw, that I was at Shuſhan in the palace, which is in the province of Elam) and I ſaw in a viſion, and I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and ſaw, and behold there ſtood before the river, a ram which had two horns, and the two horns were high: but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up laſt.

4 I ſaw the ram puſhing weſtward, and northward, and ſouthward: ſo that no beaſt might ſtand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand, but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was conſidering, behold, an he-goat came from the weſt on the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had ſeen ſtanding before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I ſaw him come cloſe unto the ram, and he was moved with choler againſt him, and ſmote the ram, and brake his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to ſtand before him, but he caſt him down to the ground, and ſtamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8 Therefore the he-goat waxed very great, and when he was ſtrong, the great horn was broken: and for it came up four notable ones, toward the four winds of heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great toward the ſouth, and toward the eaſt, and toward the pleaſant land.

10 And it waxed great, even to the hoſt of heaven, and it caſt down ſome of the hoſt, and of the ſtars to the ground, and ſtamped upon them.

11 Yea, he magnified himſelf even to the prince of the hoſt, and by him the daily ſacrifice was taken away, and the place of his ſanctuary was caſt down.

12 And an hoſt was given him againſt the daily ſacrifice by reaſon of tranſgreſſion, and it caſt down the truth to the ground, and it practiſed and proſpered.

13 ¶ Then I heard one ſaint ſpeaking, and another ſaint ſaid unto that certain ſaint which ſpake, How long ſhall be the viſion concerning the daily ſacrifice, and the tranſgreſſion of deſolation, to give both the ſanctuary and the hoſt to be trodden under foot?

14 And he ſaid unto me, Unto two thouſand and three hundred days; then ſhall the ſanctuary be cleanſed.

15 ¶ And it came to paſs, when I, even I Daniel had ſeen the viſion, and ſought for the meaning, then behold, there ſtood before me as the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and ſaid, Gabriel, make this man to underſtand the viſion.

17 So he came near where I ſtood; and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he ſaid unto me, Underſtand, O Son of man; for at the time of the end ſhall be the viſion.

18 Now as he was ſpeaking with me, I was in a deep ſleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and ſet me upright.

19 And he ſaid, Behold, I will make thee know what ſhall be in the laſt end of the indignation: for at the time appointed the end ſhall be.

20 The ram which thou ſaweſt having two horns, are the kings of Media and Perſia.

21 And the rough goat is the king of Grecia, and the great horn that is between his eyes, is the firſt king.

22 Now that being broken, whereas four ſtood up for it, four kingdoms ſhall ſtand up out of the nation, but not in his power.

23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the tranſgreſſors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and underſtanding dark ſentences, ſhall ſtand up.

24 And his power ſhall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he ſhall deſtroy wonderfully, and ſhall proſper and practiſe, and ſhall deſtroy the mighty and the holy people.

25 And through his policy alſo he ſhall cauſe craft to proſper in his hand, and he ſhall magnify himſelf in his heart, and by peace ſhall deſtroy many: he ſhall alſo ſtand up againſt the prince of princes, but he ſhall be broken without hand.

26 And the viſion of the evening and the morning which was told, is true: wherefore ſhut thou up the viſion, for it ſhall be for many days.

27 And I Daniel fainted and was ſick certain days; afterward I roſe up and did the king's buſineſs, and I was aſtoniſhed at the viſion, but none underſtood it.

CHAP. IX.

IN the firſt year of Darius the ſon of Ahaſuerus, of the ſeed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans;

2 In the firſt year of his reign, I Daniel underſtood by books the number of the years, whereof the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah the prophet, that he would accompliſh ſeventy years in the deſolations of Jeruſalem.

3 ¶ And I ſet my face unto the Lord God to ſeek by prayer and ſupplications with faſting, and ſackcloth, and aſhes.

4 And I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my confeſſion, and ſaid, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the 24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings, that ſhall ariſe.] An horn is an emblem of ſtrength, ſo it comes to ſignify power and authority, and is thence applied to ſovereignty and dominion. Theſe ten horns or kingdoms ſhall ariſe out of the diſſolution of the Roman empire, which came to paſs about the year of Chriſt 476; when it was divided into theſe different kingdoms, 1 Britons, 2 Saxons, 3 Franks, 4 Burgundians, 5 Viſigoths, 6 Suevians and Alans, 7 Vandals, 8 Almons, 9 Oſtrogoths, 10 Greeks.

CHAP. VIII.] 3 Behold, there ſtood before the river a ram which had two horns, and the two horns were high, &c.] Horns are an emblem of power and dominion; ſo this ram denotes the kingdoms of Media and Perſia united into one government.

26 Wherefore ſhut thou up the viſion, for it ſhall be for many days.] The ſame thing is expreſſed by ſhutting up the words, and ſealing the book. It means to conceal the ſenſe of it from common underſtandings.

CHAP. IX.] 1 In the firſt year of Darius the ſon of Ahaſuerus, of the ſeed of the Medes, &c.] This is the ſame perſon who is called Cyaxares, the ſon of Aſtyages, by the heathen hiſtorians, with whom Joſephus agrees. His father Aſtyages had the name of Ahaſuerus among the Jews, as appears by a paſſage in Tobit.

the covenant, and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments:

5 We have sinned and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts, and from thy judgments.

6 Neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day: to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee.

8 O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him.

10 Neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws which he set before us, by his servants the prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even by departing that they might not obey thy voice, therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done, as hath been done upon Jerusalem.

13 As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: for we obey not his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown as at this day: we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 ¶ O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake.

18 O my God, incline thine ear, and hear: open thine eyes, and behold our desolations and the city, which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord hear, O Lord forgive, O Lord hearken and do, defer not, for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city, and thy people are called by thy name.

20 ¶ And while I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin, and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the Lord my God, for the holy mountain of my God:

21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee skill and understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment came forth, and I am come to shew thee; for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter, and consider the vision.

24 Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy.

25 Know therefore and understand that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem, unto the Messiah the prince shall be seven weeks: and threescore and two weeks the street shall be built again, and the wall, even in troublous times.

26 And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the city, and the sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined.

27 And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abominations, he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate.

CHAP. X.

IN the third year of Cyrus king of Persia, a thing was revealed unto Daniel (whose name was called Belteshazzar) and the thing was true, but the time appointed was long, and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

2 In those days I Daniel was mourning three full weeks.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh, nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel:

5 Then I lifted up mine eyes and looked, and behold, a certain man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of Uphaz:

6 His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to polished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision, for the men that were with me saw not the vision: but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his words, and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

10 ¶ And behold, an hand touched me, which set me upon my knees, and upon the palms of my hands.

11 And he said unto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but lo, Michael one of the chief princes came to help me, and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

14 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befal thy people in the latter days: for yet the vision is for many days.

15 And when he had spoken such words unto me, I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

16 And behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

17 For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me.

19 And said, O man greatly beloved, fear not, peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong, And when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shall come.

21 But I will shew thee that which is noted in the scripture of truth: and there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.

CHAP. XI.

ALSO I, in the first year of Darius the Mede, even I stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee the truth, Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and by his strength through his riches he shall stir up all against the realm of Grecia.

3 And

---

27 He shall cause the sacrifices and oblations to cease &c.] Christ, by his one oblation of himself once offered, shall put an end to all the sacrifices and oblations in the Jewish temple.

CHAP. X.] 1 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia.] Daniel must now have been above ninety years old: he could not be much less than twenty-three years before the date of this vision, which was the last Daniel saw.

5 Behold a certain man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of Uphaz.] The habit of a high-priest. The description St. John gives of Christ as high-priest of the church, Rev. i. 15. seems to be taken from this place of Daniel, which proves, that the person here described could be no other than the Son of God.

13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me, &c.] Supposed to be the guardian, or tutelar angels of those several countries.

16 One like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips.] One of human form, or the same angel who touched me before.

21 And there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.] None of the guardian or tutelary angels who have the care and presidency over other nations, join with me in defending the cause of the Jewish nation but Michael, your protector.

CHAP. XI.] 2 There shall stand up yet three kings in Persia.] After Cyrus shall succeed Cambyses, Smerdis, and Darius Hystaspes; so Ezra mentions two kings, whom he calls Ahasuerus, and Artaxerxes, who reigned between Cyrus and Darius Hystaspes.

And the fourth shall be far richer than they all, &c.] This means Xerxes, who brought together an army of four millions according to Herodotus; and of eight millions, as others say, to over-run all Greece.

3 And

3 And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.

4 And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; and not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdom shall be pluckt up, even for others besides those.

5 ¶ And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes, and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of years they shall join themselves together: for the king's daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement: but she shall not retain the power of the arm, neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in these times.

7 But out of a branch of her root shall one stand up in his estate, which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail:

8 And shall also carry captives into Egypt, their gods with their princes, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold, and he shall continue more years than the king of the north.

9 So the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

10 But his sons shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and one shall certainly come and overflow, and pass through: then shall he return, and be stirred up even to his fortress.

11 And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude, but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up, and he shall cast down many ten thousands; but he shall not be strengthened by it.

13 For the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater that the former, and shall certainly come (after certain years) with a great army, and with much riches.

14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the robbers of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take the most fenced cities, and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that cometh against him, shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the glorious land which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 He shall also set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones with him: thus shall he do, and he shall give him the daughter of women corrupting her: but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many: but a prince for his own behalf shall cause the reproach offered him, to cease; without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon him.

19 Then he shall turn his face towards the fort of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.

20 Then shall stand up in his estate a raiser of taxes in the glory of the kingdom; but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in anger nor in battle.

21 And in his estate shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And with the arms of a flood shall they be overflown from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him, he shall work deceitfully; for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.

24 He shall enter peaceably even upon the fattest places of the province, and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers fathers, he shall scatter among them the prey and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.

25 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army, and the king of the south shall be stirried up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat, shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lyes at one table; but it shall not prosper: for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he return into his land with great riches; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant: and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.

29 At the time appointed he shall return, and come toward the south, but it shall not be as the former, or as the latter.

30 ¶ For the ships of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be grieved and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant: so shall he do; he shall even return, and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall place the abomination that maketh desolate.

32 And such as do wickedly against the covenant, shall he corrupt by flatteries: but the people that do know their God, shall be strong, and do exploits.

33 And they that understand among the people, shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity and by spoil many days.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.

35 And some of them of understanding shall fall to try them, and to purge, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: because it is yet for a time appointed.

36 ¶ And the king shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished: for that that is determined, shall be done.

37 Neither shall he regard the god of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all.

38 But in his estate shall he honour the God of forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not, shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in the most strong holds with a strange god, whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for gain.

40 And at the time of the end shall the king of the south push at him, and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships, and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass over.

41 He shall enter also into the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall escape out of his hand, even Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But he shall have power over the treasures of gold, and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Lybians and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.

44 But tidings out of the east, and out of the north shall trouble him: therefore he shall go forth with great fury to destroy, and utterly to make away many.

45 And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace between the seas in the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

CHAP. XII.

AND at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of my people, and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation, even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

2 And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.

3 And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever.

4 But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 ¶ Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the bank of the river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river.

---

3 And a mighty king shall stand up and do according to his will.] Alexander the Great, whose successes no prince was able to put a stop to.

19 Then he shall turn his face towards the fort of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, &c.] Antiochus was defeated at mount Sipylus, by Lucius Scipio the Roman consul; after which Antiochus returned back to Antioch. the chief seat and fortress of his kingdom. From whence, going into the eastern provinces to raise the money he had agreed to pay the Romans, and attempting to rob the temple at Elymais for that purpose, he was slain there, and never again returned into Syria.

33 And they that understand among the people, shall instruct many, &c.] They that know their duty, and are zealous in doing it, will arm others against the temptations, whereby the wicked shall persuade them to forsake the true religion.

CHAP. XII.] 2 And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake.] A plain description of the general resurrection both of the just and unjust: the belief of which St. Paul mentions, as founded on the writing of the law and the prophets, and there is no text in the Old Testament so full to that purpose, as this before us.

7 That

6 And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand, and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever, that it shall be for a time, times, and an half: and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed, till the time of the end.

10 Many shall be purified and made white and tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand, but the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days.

13 But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the days.

7 That it shall be for a time, times and an half.] Or, as it is expressed in the Chaldee, the dividing of time, that is, three years and a half; during which time the public sacrifices and worship were discontinued by the persecution of Antiochus.

And when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.] When the Jewish dispersions shall be ended, then the most remarkable events in this prophecy shall be fulfilled.

H O S E A

The ARGUMENT.

Hosea, the son of Beeri, is the first of the lesser prophets. He lived in the kingdom of Samaria, and delivered his prophecies under the reign of Jeroboam II. and his successors, kings of Israel; and at the time when Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, filled the throne of Judah. His name is found at the head of his work, and he frequently speaks of himself in the first person; so that there is no room to doubt of his being the author of this prophecy.

CHAP. I.

THE word of the Lord came unto Hosea, the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel.

2 The beginning of the word of the Lord by Hosea: And the Lord said to Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredoms and children of whoredoms: for the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived and bare him a son.

4 And the Lord said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.

5 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

6 ¶ And she conceived again, and bare a daughter; and God said unto him, Call her name Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel; but I will utterly take them away.

7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the Lord their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 ¶ Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived and bare a son.

9 Then said God, Call his name Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

10 ¶ Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God.

11 Then shall the children of Judah and the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

CHAP. II.

SAY ye unto your brethren, Ammi, and to your sisters, Ruhamah.
